As It Looks From Here

Omar Burleson, M. C. 17th District, Texas

Washington, D. C. —The good Lord never makes mistakes and did not do so when he placed people in climes to which they were best suited.

Hot, humid climates are inhabited by people with darker skin, better to withstand the elements. The Irish, Scotch and the English seemingly were intended for those fog-bound islands and not so much for sun-favored West Texas. Those of us descended from these people have what is commonly known as a "ruddy" complexion, and the hot sun is our enemy. Doctors in the East say that people from the Southwest, and particularly West Texas, have the best teeth and the worst skin known anywhere.

Doctors say that cancer of the skin is slow-growing and it rarely spreads elsewhere in the body, but if untreated, it can destroy tissue locally and can ultimately grow down to the bone. If neglected for many years it might even penetrate far enough to cause death, but such instances nowadays are rare.

Dermatologists warn that sun and exposure are major causes of skin cancer and rarely occurs anywhere except on exposed surfaces of the body. The Surgeon's problem is to prevent tissue loss so as to prevent scarring. Better than treatment, of course, is prevention.

Farmers and people with outdoor jobs are, of course, exposed to wind and sun by necessity. The elements faced by weekend golfers, fishermen and other sportsmen are by choice, and their exposure can be more serious because they are less accustomed to it.

Working outdoors guarantees you a bonus of warm, living sun and fresh air, but that sun, when enjoyed to excess, can be a real enemy as some of us have learned the hard way. Those of us who are light complected, who never tan but only freckle and burn, are the victims.

Our office manager, Mrs. Curtis, has just returned from a week's vacation. She and her husband brought a boat from Florida to the Chesapeake Bay through the Inland Waterway. Her arms are now peeling and her lips are blistered. She is a good reminder of what not to do.

There is no complete protection from the sun, but obviously, to avoid overexposure can do much to meet the threat of injury.

Doctors have advised many of us who are susceptible to the sun to first avoid it as much as possible, second, to use protecting applications, not to wash the face with soap and water but cleanse with cream, and even in the case of men, not to use an alcoholic base shaving lotion.

State Capital Highlights—

Legislative Session Nearing End With Much Work Left To Be Done

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
Final minutes are ticking away in the biennial legislative game of "beat the clock."

Obviously, the wind-up of the 60th session will be a cliff-hanger.

As lawmakers move toward the May 29 finish line, the major jobs they came to Austin to accomplish remain unfinished.

THE BUDGET—It went to conference committee, following an unsuccessful attempt by Gov. John Connally and Speaker Ben Barnes to sell the Senate on accepting the House appropriations bill without the traditional conference to adjust differences. House Bill calls for $448,300,000 in general revenue; Senate Bill, $437,700,000.

REDISTRICTING—A Senate Congressional Redistricting Bill would save all incumbent congressmen the agony of having to run against a colleague. But the House Judicial Districts Committee has drawn different lines. So this issue must go to conference committee for an 11th hour compromise. State House of Representatives districts also must be redrawn. But the Senate has little interest in that. Judicial redistricting appears to be impossibly snarled once more.

School Teacher Pay—Both houses agree there must be a raise. Major problem is to determine the amount.

Although revenue in sight from the Comptroller's last official estimate won't cover the budgets drawn by either house, plus a teacher pay raise of the magnitude sought, legislative leaders still insist adjustments will make the money possible without a tax bill.

Speculation is widespread that the lawmakers can't finish the job on schedule but top leaders are hopeful they can avoid a special session by covering the clock for a few days.

DRIVERS LICENSING CHANGE DUE
Major changes in Texas drivers license laws have been approved by both houses.

Bill increases minimum age for license from 15 to 16 for those who complete approved driver training courses and to 18 for those without such training. Hardship licenses are permitted for 15-year-olds where there is a licensed adult driver in the front seat. Motor scooter and motorcycle operators must be at least 15, and for commercial licenses, 17.

Present licenses will be replaced by a plastic card with a color photograph of the driver. New ones will be good for four instead of two years and will cost $6 instead of $3. Drivers may be required to take a new competency examination when they apply for a new license. However, re-examination is not compulsory, as proposed in the original bill.

License suspension period for violations was increased from six to 12 months for the first offense and from 12 to 18 months for repeat offenses, subject to the court's discretion. Driving while license is suspended will be punishable by fines up to $500 and a maximum of six months in jail.

HORSE RACING
Voters will be given an opportunity to express their opinion on whether Texas should legalize horse-race betting, if the House agrees with the Senate to put the question on the ballot in the Democratic and Republican primaries in May of next year.

Senate passed the bill by Sen. V. E. Berry of San Antonio, long an advocate of horse-race betting, and sent it to the House for its concurrence. Actually the bill, as passed by the Senate, would not require the parties to put the question on the ballot but would permit and encourage them to.

AIR BASE PURCHASE O.K'D
Both houses have agreed that James Connally Air Force Base at Waco should be purchased by the state for $5,200,000. The 2-100-acre base with 1,141 buildings now is under lease for a state vocational and technical training institute.

Money for its purchase is expected to be written into the final version of the 1968 appropriations bill.

ELECTION CODE CLEANED UP
Although the Legislature approved general terms of a major election code overhaul, the two houses differed over provision to permit counties to employ low-cost electronic vote recording-counting devices.

Senate struck the electronic machine section from the original bill, but the House put it back in and returned amended measures to the Senate. Major features of the redrawn code will standardize the ballot form; change city election dates to the first Saturday in April; raise maximum pay for election judges and clerks to $125 an hour; permit new state residents to vote in presidential elections before they have resided in Texas a year; allow consolidation of election precincts for minor elections; and substitute senatorial district conventions for county conventions in counties having multiple districts extending beyond their own boundaries.

PROPERTY TAX VOTE SET
State of Texas will wipe out 37 cents of the 47 cents per $100 property tax by 1977 if Texas voters give their approval at a constitutional amendment election in November, 1968.

Proposed amendment received the necessary two-thirds vote of both houses for submission. This even though opponents warned that the $48,000,000 in lost revenue will have to be made up from other tax sources—and that local governmental units will snap up the additional leeway on property taxes.

State levy on property would begin declining in 1969. Remaining 10 cents of the present tax would be retained for college building purposes.

OIL PRODUCTION LINE HELD

The Railroad Commission set June oil production allowable at 33.8 per cent. This is the same as May although demand for Texas crude is expected to increase next month.

June allowable factor will permit a maximum production of 3,046,218 barrels daily. Factor dropped four straight months before last week's hold-the-line order. Prior to the January peak of 37.5 per cent, it was increased four successive months.

U. S. Bureau of Mines predicts that the June demand for Texas crude oil will increase 50,000 barrels. But the Commission feels that stocks throughout the U. S. are excessive now.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

Legislation providing for cancellation of permits on dredge shell or mudshell in certain areas is constitutional, says Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin in a recent opinion.

Other opinions issued by Martin include the following: Calhoun County is not prohibited by law from withdrawing surplus funds from the county depository and investing the money in authorized U. S. government bonds and securities.

A district clerk in Cass County may accept an appointment as a receiver in a civil case pending in the court which he serves as a clerk without vacating his elective office.

Mrs. Juanita O'Connor's Weekly Home Demonstration Agent's Column

The safety colors of transportation and industry can work to make potential danger areas of your home less hazardous, says Mrs. O'Connor. Nearly everyone is familiar with highway safety colors. Most of us recognize the red stop sign, the yellow caution sign near schools or the dividing lines on streets. The homeowner can use the same colors to color-code the home for safety. For example, basement steps are common safety hazards. Painting the top and bottom steps a bright red or yellow will remind the climber to be alert. In the basement itself, or in storage attics or garages, the same bright color techniques can be applied to any low overhead beam, a column, or a projection that may cause a knock on the head. Have you ever stumbled about in the dark groping for a light switch? To save annoyance and perhaps injury, why not coat the switches with reflective enamel? Reflective paint on the doorknobs of cellars, attics, stairwells, and dark hallways may help prevent accidents.

Drab hallways are made safer by light coloring. Light walls offset any lack of illumination and make corridors not only safer, but more attractive, too. Home safety equipment should be painted a color suggestive of its use. Fire extinguishers traditionally are red. Paint your first aid kit bright green or white. Where there are small children in the home, take special precautions to use a completely safe, leadfree paint on doorknob, door frames, windowsills and other spots that tiny teeth are apt to chew on. Make your home safe this spring! An expensive amount of paint may save costly medical bills—will make family members more alert.

Pruning makes the difference between an expert gardener and an amateur. Good pruning is essential to keep your property attractive and to keep ornamental plants healthy. However, you won't need to prune as much if you put plants in the best locations. Early spring—before growth begins—is the best time to prune evergreens and late flowering shrubs. Early flowering plants, blooming in March, April, May and early June, should be pruned immediately after flowering. Avoid early fall pruning. It tends to produce late, immature growth, which is less tolerant to cold weather.

Prune or remove completely any dead, diseased, broken or injured branches at any season. And prune all plants when you are transplanting. Ornamental planting plants can be pruned several different ways. Searing or clipping the ends results in a symmetrical shape which is usually very different from the plant's natural shape. These geometric outlines are usually undesirable, and shearing often results in a bushy plant with a brown or bare interior due to shading. Hedge plants are an exception; they lend themselves to this type of pruning. Most ornamental plants are pruned to keep their natural shape as much as possible. This means thinning, removing old branches at ground level, cutting back some branches, and removing dead, diseased, and broken wood. It's more difficult and time consuming than shearing, but it improves flowering, natural beauty and plant health.

stirring can break the skin. And that's when you lose some of the taste and nourishment in the bean.

To get the most nutritive value from beans, serve in the same meal some grain food like bread or some meat, cheese or other protein from an animal source. This is because proteins in foods are made up of different combinations of amino acids. Some of these proteins are more complete than others for the body's needs. So even a little protein makes a strong protein team. Neither beans nor grains provide complete protein, but when the two are eaten together the protein content of the meal is much improved. Dried beans are among the most plentiful foods available now, according to Mrs. O'Connor. You'll always find dried beans a bargain—both budgetwise and nutritionwise. In buying dried beans, you can figure that a pound will provide 7 to 9 servings. To preserve the full natural flavor and to save vitamins, always use the soaking water for cooking.

Electric payments every
in the future...

If you use WTU's Equal Payment Plan for electrical operating costs. Pay no more in August than you do in May—nor more in December than in September. Use WTU's budget plan for paying electric service bills. Here's how it works: WTU figures the amount of electricity your family would normally use in a year—then divides this figure by 12. You pay a budgeted even-dollar amount each month. Your service charge is reviewed monthly, and adjustment made either upward or downward if necessary to avoid any big lump payment. Like the idea? Then ask WTU for details... Reddy Kilowatt's people will be happy to plan Equal Payments for you.

Make a clean break with the past electrically... and budget it!
