ever is accomplished without a little-or a lot-of concentrated effort on the part of some individual or group of individuals. Nothing worthwhile "just happens" - if we depended on the "just happening" course of events, we still would be in the dark ages, so far as human progress is concerned. Things are made to happenone way or another - by the action taken by those to be effected.

This is true whether the "community benefit" is a Little League baseball field or an official "district" to control flood and flow of waters.

The bride was presented in marriage by her father, Hans F. Gerhart. For her wedding Miss Gerhart chose a coat silhouette. The sleeveless A-line dress was fashioned with a scoop neckline. The coat of Venise lace was designed with an empire bodice. Elbow sleeves were complimented by gloves. Fullness from the back of the coat flowed to a short sweep. Her shoulder veil floated from a hat of matching lace.

The reception was held in the garden area of Parc IV and Parc V, 3614 Montrose Boulevard in Houston. The bride's tables, laid with white organdy were caught at the corners with white satin bows. The threetiered wedding cake was topped with a bouquet of fresh spring flowers in shades of pink with streamers of flowers extending to the table. The tables were decorated with green garlands and silver candelabra. Mrs. Dan Brown of Winters and Bertha Phillips of Houston served the cake. Mrs. Larry Folk of Houston ladeled champagne punch from a sterling silver punch bowl. Johnnie Anderson of Houston presided at the silver service and poured coffee. Guests were registered by Shirley Ward of Austin. The couple will live at Apart ment 902, 3600 Montrose Boulevard. Houston, after a wedding trip to Acapulco, Mexico. The bridegroom is a Management Consultant with Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Company of Houston. The bride is Assistant Treasurer of Benjamin Franklin Savings Association of Houston. She is a graduate of Winters High School and of The University of Texas, where she received a bachelor of business administration degree in accounting. She was a member of Beta Alpha Psi, national honorary accounting fraternity. She was recently elected secretarytreasurer of the Gulf Coast Chapter of the National Society of Controllers and Financial Officers of Savings Institutions.

Banking service can never be standardized like a manufactured product. It must not only be adapted to the community, but also to the requirements of each depositor. The term "average man" and "average" woman defy exact definition. People are different, and this also applies to their banking needs.

Personality, age and financial status are factors to be considered. That is the reason we have made this a bank of personal service. There is no blueprint or fixed pattern, but it is our purpose to apply the soundest principles of modern banking to the individual and every day needs of depositors.

There is no substitute for real personal service in all things.
