HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

The following letter from Dr. Raymond T. Bynum, Professor of Instrumental Music, Band Director, McMurry College, Abilene, is self-explanatory.

Editor,
The Enterprise

Last week and the week preceding on the McMurry College campus, it was our pleasure to be host to some 400 young musicians on the occasion of the 20th annual McMurry Band and twirling school. A good group came from your town along with students from 72 other towns and cities of our Southwest. After dealing with these young people and noting the seriousness of purpose they have and the fine self discipline they manifest, I want to say to your school and your community, if these are samples, you can well be proud of your youth.

So much emphasis is placed on the delinquent, the derelict, the protestors, etc. (certainly I know there are many of these) it was refreshing to me as an educator and band director of many years to work with so ambitious and so cooperative a group. The excellent behavior pattern of these band students is not accidental. I hope and believe we on the McMurry campus nurtured the attitudes for right of these students but I know that these attitudes have been instilled in your community by concerned parents, by the stabilizing influence of church and by schools with teachers who care.

Specifically I believe much of the credit for the excellence of your young people who came to us is due to the discipline of band. Behind this is a band teacher who teaches respect for law (rules of conduct in playing or marching or on trips are the foundation of legal laws) and engenders pride of the band organization which may carry over to the larger loyalties to home, church, community and finally the nation. I commend you for having provided your band program (and other commensurate worthwhile outlets for the energy of our young people) and believe such programs properly taught are worth far more than they cost and are the vehicles whereby our generation can perpetuate the democratic society which is our United States of America.

Certainly all who came to us were not perfect and neither are we who teach and direct. Certainly, we had some problems but these were so few and so minor and preponderately the majority of those who learned with us were so fine the twenty great teachers who composed our faculty experienced a renewed confidence in the present and buoyant hope for the future. These youths were an oasis in the desert of unrest. We thank you for having sent them to us and hope that ALL who read this will continue and even augment our efforts to the end that the coming generations of our children will be decent, law abiding and God-fearing. Our school bands can make great contributions in more areas than music.

Sincerely,
Raymond T. Bynum

Band Practice Will Begin On Monday, Aug. 7

The Winters High School Blizzard Band will begin rehearsals Monday, August 7, the band director, Jim Swofford, has announced.

Rehearsals will be held from 6 p. m. until 9 p. m. each day, at the Band Hall.

Band Director Swofford also reminded band students that it is important that every member be present on time, with instrument and marching shoes.

Crews Reunion Set for August 13

The school and community reunion at Crews has been scheduled for Sunday, August 13, at the school gymnasium. Those who attend should bring a basket lunch. Bread, ice, drinks, cups, plates and glasses will be provided. Everyone is invited to attend.

County Agent C. T. Parker Honored By National Association of Agents

C. T. PARKER JR.

C. T. Parker, Jr., Runnels County agricultural agent and member of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service for 20 years, has been named to receive the highest award given by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents, their Distinguished Service Award for 1967.

Parker has served in Runnels County for 12 years and is being recognized for the outstanding contributions he has made to agriculture and improved rural living. The Texas Association of County Agricultural Agents nominated Parker and confirmation by the national organization was announced by Todd W. Berry, Texas Awards Committee chairman.

The award will be presented to seven Texans at the Awards program which will highlight the national meeting scheduled for Sept. 17-21 in Omaha, Neb. Parker was cited "For outstanding leadership in developing a water pollution report which state officials have said saved Runnels County $20,000 and for conducting extensive result demonstration programs which have added materially to the farm and ranch income of the county. Also for work with the county program building committee; the supervision of an outstanding 4-H livestock program which has brought recognition to the county and for his contributions to the livestock industry."

He joined the Extension Service as assistant county agent in Guadalupe County in 1945 and then went to Panola County as county agent in 1947 and served there until 1954. After

Band Beginners Will Report To Band Hall Aug. 14

All students who plan to take beginning band in the fifth grade during the 1967-68 school year are asked to report to the Band Hall from 6 to 8 p. m., Monday, August 14, the band director, Jim Swofford, has announced.

Students are asked to bring their parents with them for a few minutes instruction concerning instruments and music. Musical instruments will be on display, and beginning students may register.

Free classes for beginning students will begin August 16 if they have instruments and music books. Additional information will be available August 14 during the musical instrument display.

Historical Marker Will Recall Memory Of Winters' Brass Band From 1901

The "Winters Brass Band" was the focus of social life during Winters' early years, playing throughout the area for box suppers, old settlers reunions, and political campaigns.

An official Texas Historical Marker has been approved for Winters by the Texas Historical Survey Committee. Rankin Pace of Winters, chairman of the Runnels County Historical Survey Committee. The marker which will be 27-in. x 42-in., will be erected near the Boy Scout Hut on North Main Street in the near future, Pace said.

The Winters Brass Band was organized by Charles Grant in 1901, seven years after the town was incorporated. Grant conducted the band when it played for the coming of Winters' first railroad in 1909, and served as bandmaster for 15 years.

Sunday afternoon concerts were presented in the bandstand, then located in Tinkle working in industry for a little over one year, Parker returned to the Extension Service as county agent of Runnels County.

The 4-H Clubs in all of the counties where Parker has worked, have won events in almost all of the major livestock shows in Texas. In Runnels County, 4-H'ers have won grand champions in swine, sheep and cattle.

In 1960 Parker was named Ballinger's Outstanding Citizen. He is active in civic, church and youth organizations in the city and county, and is a member of the First Christian Church.

He led the fight against salt water pollution of fresh water both at the county and state levels. For Runnels County, he compiled a water report on the subject which is credited with saving the county $20,000 and the anti-pollution measures he started are being used throughout the state.

Parker is able to foresee farm problems well in advance of the danger period and uses every available extension technique to help farmers and ranchers solve their problems. He is especially well known for his livestock work.

He was reared on a farm in Brown County and active in the 4-H Club for six years and the FFA for four years. Parker received the highest award given by the FFA, the Lone Star Farmer Degree, and maintained a weekly newspaper column about agriculture in his home county.

Paying his own way through school, he attended John Tarleton State College and received a degree from Texas A&M University in rural sociology. He has served as a director and as chairman of important state association committees.

Several Changes In Requirements For WHS Students

High School Principal Jake Joyce has announced that there have been several changes in courses required for the new term of school, and students should check their schedules.

Winters school will begin the 1967-68 school year August 31. Students who wish to make changes in their class schedules to meet the new requirements should report to the high school office during the week of August 7-11, the principal said.

Physical education will no longer be required of junior and senior students who are not participating in athletics, the principal said. If a student is in one of these classes and is scheduled for only four solid courses, he should report to the high school to check his schedule.

Also, the principal said, junior students who signed up for mechanical drawing will need another subject as senior enrollment has filled this course. All students are reminded that if they failed a course the last semester of 1967 and did not anticipate such failure when they pre-enrolled in the spring, they must request re-schedule of the course failed.

New students who are enrolling in Winters High School should report to the high school office also on Wednesday, Thursday or Friday to select courses for the fall semester.

TO STATE — The Winters Little League All-Stars have played their way to the state finals, to be played in Fort Worth this week. Only four teams in the state will contest for the championship; other teams are from Houston, San

Mt. Carmel Catholic Church In Winters Now Separate Parish; Was Mission

The Mt. Carmel Catholic Church of Winters, which has been a mission of the St. Mary Catholic Church of Ballinger for the past 19 years, became a separate and individual parish August 1.

The Catholic Church in Bronte is now a mission of the Winters church, and will be served by the local pastor from August 1.

The Rev. Patrick J. Ryan, who has been pastor in charge of the Ballinger parish, has been assigned as the pastor of the new parish, succeeding the Rev. Charles Taylor. The Rev. Taylor has been ill for several weeks and is hospitalized in San Antonio. Upon his release from the hospital, the Rev. Taylor will retire.

The Rev. Ryan has been in Ballinger for the past 13 years, and for several years he has been pastor in charge of Winters, but the local church has always been served by his assistants.

A dedication service for the new parish and a reception for the new pastor will be held in early September.

According to a historical account of the Catholic Church in Winters, mass was served in some of the homes in the area as far back as the 1890s, but for regular services the Winters people went to church in Ballinger or Coleman. The first mass offered in Winters was on June 20, 1948, with the Rev. Francis Taylor in charge and the Rev. Edward B. Postert offering the mass. Later that year plans were made to build a church in Winters. The first mass in Mt. Carmel Church was said March 31, 1949. Dedication of the church was held the following year, April 27, 1950, when the Most Rev. A. Danglemyer, auxiliary bishop of Dallas blessed the church and had it dedicated, with the Rev. M. Slattery, OMI, assistant pastor of

Air Strip Work Expected To Begin Here Soon

Purchase of land for an airport for Winters has been completed, and work is expected to begin within two or three weeks to grade and build a runway and provide other facilities.

The landing strip will be located about a mile southwest of Winters, adjacent and south of the FM 53.

There are 31.46 acres of land in the plot for the airport, with provisions for a runway approximately 3000 feet long and 60 feet wide, as presently planned. The strip of land is approximately 402 feet wide and 3015 feet long.

City officials said it is expected that work probably will begin within two or three weeks on grading and leveling the landing area, and building ramps at each end. Plans are also made to provide electricity, telephone and water facilities at the strip, and to provide entranceway from FM 53 to the strip.

The land was purchased by the City of Winters from the C. Kornegay Estate for $9,438.

In other business Monday night, the Winters City Council approved construction of a concrete slab around the rest rooms at the new Little League baseball field adjacent to the City Park.

Pvt. Michael Hill Completes Basic Infantry Training

Army Private Michael D. Hill, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Hill, Route 4, Winters, completed eight weeks of advanced infantry training July 27 at Fort Ord, Calif.

He received specialized instruction in small unit tactics and in firing such weapons as the M-14 rifle, the M-60 machine gun and the 3.5-inch rocket launcher.

The Winters Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the Pony Show, and merchants and individuals are buying trophies.

ARCHERS—These five members of the Runnels County Archers Association took first place ribbons in their respective classes during the archery meet and contests sponsored by the association here Sunday.

Winters Lake, was attended by about twelve visiting archers from San Angelo. All classes in free style and bare bow were contested. The association plans other meets in the future. (Photo by Little)

Winters All-Stars vs. Fort Worth Thursday

LL Team To Ft. Worth Play-Off

The Winters Little League All-Star baseball team is one of four teams in Texas left to take a run at the state Little League championship.

The three other Texas towns sending Little League teams to the State finals are Houston, San Antonio, and Handley, a suburb of Fort Worth.

State playoff games were scheduled for Thursday and Friday of this week in White Settlement Bryant-Henderson Park in Fort Worth. A coin toss Wednesday afternoon paired Winters and Fort Worth, and Houston vs. San Antonio. Winters' game was to begin at 5:30 Thursday, with the Houston-San Antonio game scheduled for 8:30 p. m.

The winners of these two games will contest Friday in the finals. Winters All-Stars and managers will stay at the Western Hills Motel in Fort Worth. Guests of the Fort Worth association. Meals and transportation are being paid for by merchants and individuals of the Winters Little League area.

WON AT SEYMOUR
Rain at Seymour last Friday night stopped the action of the game—after the third inning—between the Winters All-Stars and Monday, but failed to dampen the spirits of the Winters team.

The All-Stars came back Saturday to finish the game, winning 12-9 over Monday, to gain a berth in the state playoffs.

Winters was leading 9-6 after the three innings Friday night, and maintained a lead in the final innings Saturday. Each team got three runs Saturday to leave the margin the same.

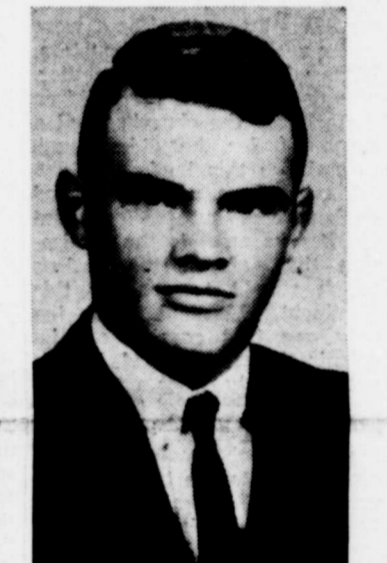

TEAM MEMBERS
Members of the Winters All-Stars, picked from the several teams of the Winters Little League Association, are:

Glenn Hall, Raul Esquivel, Jerry Dan Powers, Gary Dry, Bill Baldwin, Sam Scott, Tony Gohson, Terry Awalt, Billy Ray Grant, all of Winters; Gary Antilley, Lane Jackson, Joe Pritchard and Johnny Mack Cathey, all of Wintgate; Terry Vaughan, Lawn. —Alternates, Jimmie Sims, Winters, and Johnny Bob Pritchard, Wintgate.

Team managers and coaches are Pat Pritchard and Lynn Billups.

Three FFAers Get Lone Star Farmer Degrees Recently

Three members of the Winters Chapter of the Future Farmers of America recently were awarded coveted "Lone Star Farmer" degrees, recognition paid to only the top one percent of the State's FFA membership. Degrees were awarded during the State FFA convention in Dallas.

Winters High School FFA members receiving the Lone Star Farmer Degree were Larry Pritchard, Stephen Smith and Allen Mills.

To receive the State degree, an FFA member must have an outstanding record in leadership, scholarship and citizenship, and be committed to an outstanding project program, and meet other requirements of the National FFA Association.

Also during the State convention, the Winters livestock judging team was recognized for performance in judging shows, and was presented a check for $300 by Harry Wren, representative of the Sears Foundation. The money will be used to pay expenses to the National FFA contests in Kansas City in October.

Members of the livestock judging team are Allen Mills, Tommy Antilley and Charles Brown.

LONE STAR FARMERS

The three FFA members awarded Lone Star Farmer Degrees represent a cross-section of the student body of Winters High School. One will be a senior this year, and two have graduated and will go to college.

Larry Pritchard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pritchard of Wintgate, graduated from Winters High School this year and will enter Baylor University as a pre-medical student. For his FFA project he fed Duroc and Hampshire hogs. He was a member of the Blizzard football team.

Stephen Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Truett Smith, and an active FFA member and also registered Duroc and Hampshire breeder, and exhibited the champion Berkshire barrow at the Abilene stock show. He was a member of the Blizzard football team. Smith is enrolled for the fall semester at Texas A & M University.

Allen Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Mills, will be a senior in Winters High School in the fall. He has been an active feeder, and last year exhibited the champion fine wool lamb at Abilene, and the champion crossbred lamb at San Antonio. He was a member of the livestock judging team which won first at Houston, Sweetwater and at the State FFA contests at Texas A & M. Mills was a manager of the Blizzard football team last year at Winters High School.

Gospel Meeting Begins Sunday At Wintgate Church

Bill Gipson of Ballinger will be the speaker for a series of gospel meetings to be conducted at the Wintgate Church of Christ, beginning Sunday, August 6, and closing Sunday, August 13.

Services will be held each week day at 8 p. m. and on Sunday at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

The public is invited to attend.

As It Looks From Here

Omar Burleson, M. C.

July 4th represents a moment in history too well known to bear mention. To call attention, however, to certain phenomena in relation to its origin and its ultimate achievement—the Declaration of Independence—may enhance the day's meaning.

The Document was written in English.

Of course, everyone is aware of this fact, but the thought has just occurred at this particular time as we approach Independence Day.

"Why," we can ask ourselves.—"Why English?" Why was it not written in French, Spanish, Dutch or Portuguese instead? All of these were ahead of the British.

The Portuguese had been entrenched on the Continent over a century before John Smith was born. France had its territories for decades before Plymouth Rock was even given its name. Spain, by then owned practically all of South and Central America, plus all of Texas and large areas around it. The Dutch were sipping cocoa in New Amsterdam long before the English changed the drink to tea and the name to New York. With all that competition, how did this Country ever wind up in the English speaking column at all?

History suggests a number of reasons. The English, for example, were the only ones to bring their wives with them. Some other settlers did too, but it was the exception rather than the rule. Most of the original Latin-speaking residents were prisoners sent to the new Devils Island to satisfy their particular monarchs' lust for power and gold. They mingled with the natives and produced a kind of nameless society and impermanent family unit. They were never really their own masters. It was the free English mother, who demanded for her children the schools, the churches and a sense of order, that did so much to stabilize this land.

Maybe there are other good explanations, but the one that touches us most is the realization that, of all the nations which sought to conquer this Continent, England was the only one that carried out its colonization. It carried it out, not by kingly edict under the direct supervision of the Crown of England, but essentially civilian groups who pooled their assets to create the trading companies that privately finance their own development. Free men—risking their own capital in a venture for profit. That was the beginning.

Under this particular system came a different breed of individual with a different set of concepts of how he wanted to live.

This was the hearty, fearless, rugged individualist of days gone by. The inevitable by-product of this characterization was the emergence of a sense of ownership and the development of responsible government under Constitutional Law. When the chips were down, these were the forces that won the final victory.

These were the people who won the final victory on the night of July 4, 1776. It was the night when a young patriot named Francis Scott Key, while a prisoner of the British on a ship in Chesapeake Bay, wrote on a piece of scrap paper "by the dawn's early light" when he saw the Star and Stripes above the Harbor of Baltimore City.

To remember and appreciate these incidents of our heritage, and to recognize the system of a free government under Constitutional Law, is to exercise our patriotism.

The system which gave us these things and established our Nation was a philosophy which could not be beat then. It still can't.

Daniel Webster described this new government as "A more glorious edifice than Greece or Rome ever knew."

The Family Lawyer

ACCUSING THE WRONG MAN

Late one night a widow, living alone, heard footsteps approaching her bedroom. While she lay in terrified silence, an intruder entered the room, scooped up her jewelry, and departed.

Feeling sure she had recognized the man as a neighborhood gardener, she filed burglary charges with the police. But at the trial, the gardener produced such an airtight alibi that the jury found him innocent.

At this point he decided to switch from a defendant into a plaintiff. He filed suit against the widow for damages on grounds of "malicious prosecution."

"Since her accusation against me was a mistake," he argued in court, "she ought to pay for calling me a criminal and making me go through the ordeal of a trial."

But the court refused to hold the widow liable. The judge said a person cannot be held responsible for malicious prosecution so long as he had at least "probable cause" for making the original accusation—even if the charge did not stand up in court.

If an accuser does bring charges without having probable cause to believe they are true, then he may indeed be held liable for damages. For example: One man was held liable for malicious prosecution because he brought unfounded theft charges against a business rival—simply as a means of collecting a debt.

And another man was held liable for malicious prosecution because he brought unfounded trespassing charges against a neighbor—simply as a means of throwing a scare into other possible trespassers.

But as a rule, courts are cautious about imposing liability on an accuser. For if such liability was imposed too freely, people might be discouraged from reporting crimes to the authorities. Even the well-meaning citizen might decide to keep quiet, rather than run the risk of being sued afterward for his pains.

Law enforcement relies heavily on its lines of communication with the general public. Giving an accuser reasonable protection against claims of malicious prosecution is one way of keeping those lines of communication open.

Those good ol' news leaks are on the way out, now that Texas has a law requiring public meetings to be public. Officials will have to guard their language instead of the door.

If you think you have tough decisions to make, Mr. President, think of the plight of American women who have to decide what to wear to functions.

Governor Connally reported that Texas has 5,000,000 telephones—one for every two persons. Parents of teenagers will dispute that ratio.

Uncle Sam wants to establish police training schools over the country to teach officers how to carry limp protest beatniks for live television.

A group in North Carolina was seeking federal poverty funds to start a newspaper. Sorry, folks, New York comes first.

When we are too young our judgment is weak; when we are too old, ditto.

Middle East War Was Rekindling of Very Ancient Fires of Hatred

The Arab-Israeli War of 1967 lasted less than a week. Although Israeli casualties were amazingly low, Arab dead and wounded mounted to the tens of thousands. Israel's out-of-pocket costs are estimated at $800 million, while the cost to the Arab nations must surely be reckoned in billions. While this may still not convince us of the complete futility of war, it should at least drive home the fact that even little wars are far too expensive to tolerate.

Cost Is Prohibitive

Israel and the Arab nations are poles apart on many issues, but surely their estrangement is no greater than that between the victors and the vanquished in World War II who found a way to rise above their animosities and work together for the reconstruction of their homelands. What the Israeli and their Arab neighbors do have in common are problems of inflation, heavy defense burdens, irrigation costs, difficulties of reclaiming the desert and making it productive, and the need to lift the regional economy from the backwardness in which it is still immersed.

Both sides poorer by far than before it began. Hopefully, from the experience of this war, the great powers—the United States and the Soviet Union—have learned that even for them small wars are too costly.

Middle East

Since the very dawn of human history, the Middle East has repeatedly been an area of conflict. What we have witnessed in recent weeks was the rekindling of some very ancient enmities, with the fire fanned by extremist groups on both sides as well as by forces from outside the region. At this moment, peace in the area is no more than a cease-fire, and the world community cannot yet rest secure in the knowledge that wider war in the Middle East—involving the great and middle powers—may not still break out.

Neither the Israeli, heady with victory, nor the Arabs, still proud and vituperative in their defeat, seem ready to come to grips with the issues that divide them. But when tempers have cooled, perhaps a wider realization of the futility of war will lead to a meaningful agreement for coexistence—an agreement that will encompass Arab recognition of Israel's statehood and Israeli recognition of its obligations to help provide for resettlement of the Palestinian refugees.

Korea And Vietnam

There are lessons aplenty to be learned by the United States, the Soviet Union, and Red China from the Middle East War. In Vietnam, the United States is deeply involved in a military action that commands the presence of nearly half a million young American military personnel. Its dollar cost to us threatens to rival that of World War II on a month-to-month basis. In Korea, we still maintain a large police-keeping force to safeguard an unnatural partition.

Admittedly, there is slim prospect of an early end to the Vietnam War, much less of a more wholesome and constructive solution in Korea. But the Arab debacle could well lead to some different attitudes in coming weeks and months. At any rate, new U. S. diplomatic feelers ought to be put out if only to make sure that no chance for negotiation—and ultimate peace—is missed.

Big Powers Not Paramount

Each of us looks out upon the world from the centrality of his own position, falsely assuming that he is located at the hub of the universe. And so it is with nations, too. The fact is... we live in a polycentric world in which—for all their armed might, their manpower, and their wealth—the two great powers are not paramount. Their new awareness of the limits of their power just could convince them of the futility of war and lead them into productive co-operation.

MOVIES

"Gunfight in Abilene"

Guns blaze in the frontier Kansas town of Abilene as Bobby Darin returns from the Civil War to his job as sheriff in Universal's outdoor action drama in Technicolor, "Gunfight in Abilene," showing Friday and Saturday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre. He heads a cast which includes Emily Banks, as his romantic interest, Leslie Nielsen, Don Galloway and Donnelly Rhodes. In addition to handling the leading Darin has written the musical score for the picture, and sings the title song.

"Wild, Wild Planet"

Magnificent photography in Eastmancolor adds to the fascinating scenes of "Wild, Wild Planet," which was an original screenplay by Ivan Reiner. Joseph Fryd and Anthony Margheriti produced.

"Wild, Wild Planet" can be recommended to all Moviegoers who enjoy escapist entertainment filled with unremitting action, suspense and originality. And all devotees of science-fiction drama will eat it up!

"Eight On The Lam"

Looks like Bob Hope has come up with another formula for sure-fire success.

He found it in his recent smash "Boy, Did I Get a Wrong Number," and he's trying it again in his "Eight On The Lam" the United Artists release in Color by DeLuxe which shows Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre. Those who have seen it say he has hit the jackpot again. The formula? Simple!

Phyllis Diller as co-star; and George Marshall as director, screenplay by Albert E. Lewin & Burt Styler and Bob Fisher & Arthur Marx.

To make it guaranteed sure-fire, Hope has added Jonathan Winters, fresh from his triumph in "The Russians Are Coming," Shirley Eaton the golden girl of the James Bond "Goldfinger," and Jill St. John of radio, TV and screen fame. The original story for the new picture is by Bob Fisher and Arthur Marx and its music is by George Romans.

"Von Ryan's Express"

The film version of "Von Ryan's Express," David Westheimer's novel about a mass POW escape via railroad, stars Frank Sinatra and Trevor Howard and shows Wednesday and Thursday at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre. Filmed in CinemaScope and DeLuxe Color under the direction of Mark Robson, the production was filmed on location in Italy with a cast that includes Raffaella Carrà, Brad Dexter, Sergio Fantoni, John Leyton and Edward Mulhare.

To be capable of respect is almost as rare as to be worthy of it.

Roger Babson Report— Possibility of Teacher Strikes Intensifying Over United States

Babson Park, Mass. All across the country school budgets are skyrocketing. Funds have to be provided for new or improved buildings and facilities, for updated textbooks and visual aids, and for rising salary requirements for teachers and administrators. But in spite of all efforts, teachers by and large apparently are not satisfied. There is real danger that teachers' strikes—once unheard of, but now by no means rare—will spread and intensify.

What Do Teachers Want?

During the past decade or so, teachers have become much more fully organized than ever before. Their federations and labor unions are more aggressive and more articulate in local communities and they have stepped up their lobbying at state capitals. What are they after?

The essence of most teacher demands of late has been money. Even in cases where local school boards have (often quite reluctantly, to be sure) agreed to unprecedentedly large salary increases, greater fringe benefits, and improved working conditions, teachers are reported to be still unhappy.

Professional Recognition

They are also groping for something which their profession has lost during the past several years,—the spontaneous respect of the child and of the community. Time was when everybody understood education's general purpose. Now there is much confusion and difference of opinion between teachers, school officials, parents, and businessmen regarding educational goals.

An eminent American professor, Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke, once said: "The true object of education is to train one to think clearly and to act rightly." That and other wholesome definitions of our educational goals have been obscured in recent years as we have over-emphasized diplomas and degrees while undervaluing the development of human qualities of mind and spirit not measurable by tests and examinations.

Unclear Thinking

Most of us are sadly aware that the influence of the church upon our young people is nowhere near as pervasive as it once was. Unfortunately, too, there has been a breakdown of discipline in the home. On the one hand—alert to the competitive nature of our society—we urge our children toward diplomas and degrees that we hope will open the door to good-paying jobs. On the other hand, we give our children the bad example of rating comfort, ease, and self-indulgence much too highly.

We try too hard to insulate ourselves from tension, forgetting that tension is itself a sign of life and that some anxiety is the price we must pay for being intelligent. Is it any wonder our teachers have difficulty emphasizing and encouraging clear thinking?

New Perspectives Needed

Teachers' strikes are a mistake. They are against the public good and they do grave harm to teachers' interests. They are a wrong approach and are tantamount to an admission that teachers themselves are not thinking clearly or acting rightly. Where persistent negotiations have left teachers short of their goals, the truculence and antagonism implicit in a strike only emphasize that the strike weapon is still not the answer.

PINK LADY OF RACING is Donna Mae Mims, a comely speedster who is the only woman ever to win a national automobile racing championship.

NO FALSE PIETY in the parish of Rev. Alfred J. Wittmann of Mineral Point, Wis., if he can help it. His bulletin board may startle members, but it doesn't lower attendance.

Most school boards recognize the importance of teachers in community life. In most cases the stubbornness and recalcitrance of officials in the matter of teachers' salaries is based on cold fiscal facts rather than on indifference toward teachers' needs. Everybody loses when there is a hardening of hostility between school boards and teachers. What is needed are new perspectives on the whole question of education and how it is to be financed, and a closer relationship between our secondary schools and our colleges and universities.

Fishing The Points—When you are fishing around points it's always safe to leave your outboard motor running. That way you can avoid slamming into the bank when a gust of wind hits your boat.

Another good idea is to reverse the motor and troll backwards.

Surest Way To Catch Fish—Cast close to the bank and work out.

This is one of the surest methods of catching fish. Especially is this true when fishing rocky shorelines. Cast against the rock and let the lure fall into the water. Give it a moment to sink, then jiggle the bait.

If there is a fish around it very likely will take your lure.

What a man stands for isn't everything; what he falls for counts, too.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

About everybody with a pencil has been writing about the riots occurring in our larger cities. About every politician is talking about it. There are a-bout as many ideas as there are talkers and writers. Here is another.

It seems that one of the most singular and obvious facts in all these disturbances is that they have not been confined to the poverty stricken. There is definite proof that those in what is commonly called the middle class, and in fairly prosperous circumstances, have joined in mob action.

The President's Commission will attempt to analyze the cause and supposedly recommend remedies.

More than likely their recommendations will repeat those which have been made numerous times by other groups, the theorists and reformers. The line invariably taken by those thumping the tub on this issue is more housing, more schools, more medical care—just more of everything. There are already proposals to provide entertainment for the idle, at Government expense, to sporting events to keep them occupied. A resolution of this nature is before the Congress. Here in Washington, five movie houses are to provide free pictures in the afternoon (the Romans tried it with free circuses, but it did not work very well for them.)

What will not likely be said by the President's Commission, and not admitted in official circles, is that too many people have mistaken Civil Rights legislation as a conferment of privilege. Many of those who are supposed to be benefited by Civil Rights legislation have found that they can not eat it. They have felt that with the passage of the several measures guaranteeing "rights" they would suddenly come into the possession of all good things.

In addition to these misconceptions is another rather obvious fact not admitted by those who honestly believe they are about to cure all social ills by the passage of laws. This factor is the decline of chances of detection and punishment for crime. Fear of prison has long been a natural deterrent to criminal actions, but much of this has been removed by the Courts.

Mobs of Rioters and Pillagers in cities across the land would not take the risk against officers of the law if police had not been deprived of their principal weapons of law enforcement.

Officers of the law trained to pull no punches when they see lawlessness have had to become hesitant to act. They are accused of brutality when they do their duty. Mobs have a way of taking advantage of this situation. A minority creates instant anarchy.

The emphasis on "Freedom of Speech" allows the agitators to turn listeners into a howling, lawless mob. In past decades our highest Courts have affirmed the principle that public utterances which incite to crime are not immune from prosecution. Today the agitators receive publicity and become heroes and martyrs.

No less a person than former Associate Justice of the Supreme Court Charles E. Whitaker had this to say: "While all crime is not due to any one cause it can hardly be denied that a large part of our current rash and rapid spread of lawlessness has derived from planned and organized mass disrespect for, and defiance of, the law and the Courts, induced by the irresponsible and inflammatory preachments of some self-appointed leaders of minority groups to obey the good laws but to violate the bad ones. . . . in other words, the taking of the law into their own hands."

The responsibility is broader than the Courts alone. It is also the hesitancy of politicians in Government to use the powers of law enforcement promptly and intensively for fear of political backfires.

This brings to mind the passage in I Corinthians: "If the trumpet gives an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself for battle?" The trumpeters in high places have been giving off uncertain sounds as clear as they hoped the tone would be. The result has been the mob responding to the call of the drums.

Clean your finger, before you point at another's spots.

BRADSHAW

"The comfort and inspiration you take to others is matched by the joy you carry away." —Selected.

Visitors Sunday morning at the Bradshaw Baptist Church were O. H. Gibbs of Hobbs, N. M., Jack Gibbs of Lubbock, McBuel Gibbs of Abilene, Albert Sanders of Austin and Lee Anthony of Midland.

Visitors, away from here, at the Bradshaw Methodist Sunday School were Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Harris of Denton, John Hardy of Winters, Mr. and Mrs. Brandon Hardy of San Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace of Abilene.

For the morning special at the Moro Baptist Church Mrs. Russell Grun, Mrs. Calwyn Walters and Mrs. Bob Griffith sang His Grace Is Sufficient For Me, with Brenda Reid at the piano who also played for the other special at that night. Night visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Little of Abilene. The special: How God Made The World and Joy, sung by Glen Griffith, Gary Hicks, Marcy Grun and Ricky Walters. Must Jesus Bear The Cross Alone was sung by Mrs. Bob Griffith and Clyde Reid. The revival at the Church which was in progress last week closed Saturday night.

Morning visitors at the Drasco Baptist Church were Louis Sneed of Abilene, Mrs. Pearl Davidson and Ann of Wilson and Debra Munday of Denton who was also a night visitor.

Between 140 and 150 attended the Bradshaw home coming Sunday. After dinner, which was served in the Methodist Church, a song service was held led by Raymond Bagwell of Ballinger, with Rev. Wayne Oglesby, pastor of the Bradshaw Baptist Church, at the piano. The business session followed with the president, Billie McCasland, presiding. All officers were re-elected: Billie McCasland, president; Raymond Bagwell, secretary and Volvie Irvin treasurer. Time and place for next year's meeting—same. Following this session the Bradshaw Cemetery Association officers were re-elected: Wayne Hunt president and Malcolm Holliday treasurer. After this election a card from Travis Middleton of Fort Worth (4908 Ohio Garden Road) to Wayne Hunt was read by Mrs. H. O. Harris. The message: "Thanks for reminding me to remember, but I guess I will forego the pleasure of being with you good people Sunday, as my oldest son was seriously wounded in action in Viet Nam the 21st and is still in a rather serious condition. Hope you have a good time and nice weather. Again thanks, and breathe a prayer for our son, your friend." After the reading a moment of silent prayer was observed, concluded by Mrs. Harris praying for the son and all the men in service and for peace. The dismissal hymn was God Be With You Till We Meet Again.

Attending the funeral of Ben Leverett (brother-in-law to Mrs. McCasland), Mrs. Dock Aldridge and Vicki, Mrs. Nora Ledbetter and Mrs. Wayne Hunt.

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON
Did you ever wonder why a person dressed for horseback travel is said to have on her "riding habit"?

The expression dates back to another word, "costume," which in turn was derived from "customer."

A customer was someone who was accustomed to purchasing a certain article of clothing at a particular store. If she wore this item of dress regularly, it became her costume.

Because women who ride horses need a particular type of costume, they got into the habit of buying the same items of clothing for this particular need.

And so this habit of buying the same items of clothing became a milady's "riding habit."

The same situation evolved for the expression monk's habit, or nun's habit, but today we seldom hear anything except "riding habit."

Mrs. D. B. Thornton Died In Abilene, Rites Here Friday

Funeral service was held Friday at 4 p. m. at the First Baptist Church for Mrs. D. B. Thornton, 75. The Rev. Harry Grantz, pastor of the church, officiated, assisted by the Rev. J. S. Tierce, retired Baptist minister. Burial was in Northview Cemetery under direction of Spill Funeral Home.

Mrs. Thornton died in Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene at 10:30 Wednesday, July 26, following an illness of two years.

Mrs. Thornton was born Mary Lorraine Gill, Feb. 5, 1892, in Bell County, the daughter of the late W. H. and Laurine Gill. As a child she moved with her parents to Rannels County, settling on a farm at Bradshaw where they lived for seven years. They then moved to a farm southeast of Winters.

She was married to Mr. Thornton July 11, 1909, at Hatchell, and has made her home in the Winters area since.

Mr. Thornton preceded her in death in 1952. A son also preceded her in death.

She was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Survivors include five daughters, Mrs. Ernest Smith of Winters, Mrs. Sam Wicker of Abilene, Mrs. Jimmie Ramsey of Houston, Mrs. J. W. Mitchell of Columbus, Ohio, and Mrs. Jasper Allbright of Longview; three sisters, Mrs. Fred Parker of Hatchell, Mrs. Dee Ferguson

How Banks Aid Business...

The banks of today render service that helps business and every individual.

Banks provide the facilities which enable merchants to buy goods and sell them to the public; they benefit the farmer, the wage-earner; they stimulate the life of their communities.

Because of their mutual interests, the banks and the people should work together. We are here to serve the people of this territory.

Joanie Fuller Honored With Shower Thursday

Honoring Joanie Fuller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Fuller, a lingerie shower was a pre-nuptial social event Thursday, from 7 to 9 p. m., in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Snell.

Miss Fuller will be married August 18 to Johnny Mathis at Hopewell Baptist Church.

Hostesses were Mrs. Harold Snell, Miss Dora Snell and Miss Beverly Foster.

Miss Fuller, her mother, Mrs. Fuller, and Mrs. Pete Mathis, were presented with corsages of white carnations.

The bride's chosen colors, yellow and white, were featured in the decorations for the table.

A yellow and white floral arrangement was used for the centerpiece. Punch and cookies were served by Beverly Foster and Dora Snell.

MAN OF MONTH—Technical Sergeant Carrol W. Hall, formerly of Winters, recently was named Maintenance Man of the Month in the 72nd Bombardment Wing (SAC), at Ramey Air Force Base, Puerto Rico. He is shown being presented a certificate of award by the Wing Commander, Colonel James Keck.

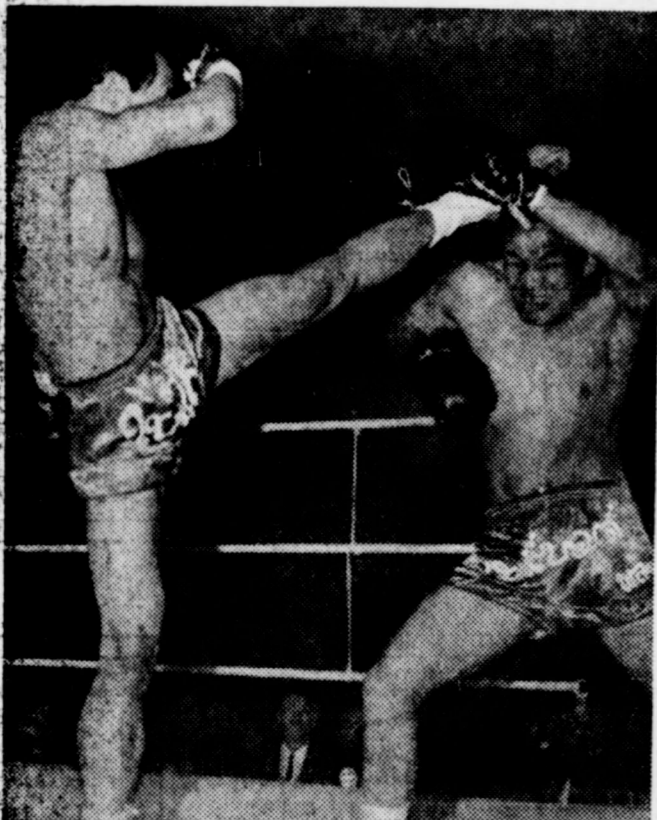

Sgt. Hall is a member of an explosive ordnance disposal team whose duties require that he render safe and dispose of all munitions items that become hazardous to life or property, or otherwise become unserviceable. He is also required to inspect, assemble, test, repair and modify all types of conventional munitions.

Sgt. Hall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hall, former residents of Winters, now living at Carlsbad, N. M. He attended Winters High School, and entered the US Air Force in 1951. He subsequently was stationed at Lackland AFB, Lowry AFB, Colorado, and Carswell AFB, Texas.

He attended NCO Prep School in 1957, and then was transferred to Guam in 1958. In 1964 he transferred to Dyess AFB, and attended Explosive Ordnance Disposal School at Indian Head, Md. Upon graduation in 1966, he returned to Dyess where he remained until he was transferred to Ramey AFB, Puerto Rico, in June, 1966. Sgt. Hall is married to the former Mary Sue Craig of Gorman, and has four children.

In qualifying for the Maintenance Man of the Month recognition, Sgt. Hall designed and fabricated an electric blasting cap test stand to be used in testing electric blasting caps prior to use. He also designed a dual reel to hold two separate reels of blasting wire. And constructed new ammunition storage bunkers on the demolition range.

While in Winters High School, Sgt. Hall participated in school athletics, specializing in basketball.

IT'S NOT CRICKET in boxing over most of the world, but in Thailand fighters are allowed to launch an attack with feet as well as fists.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deepest appreciation to the many friends in Winters who were so kind and thoughtful during our recent sorrow. To those who brought and served the food, to members of the Masonic Lodge and Eastern Star Chapter of Winters for their sympathy and help shown in so many ways, and for the lovely floral offering, we extend our heartfelt thanks. For the vigil at the funeral home and the casket bearers we also express our thanks. Sister, nieces and nephew of Aunt Mary Alexander. Itp.

Missionary From Nigeria Speaker For Baptist WMS

Dale Moore, missionary on furlough from Nigeria, spoke to the Woman's Missionary Society and their guests in Fellowship Hall at the First Baptist Church Tuesday morning.

Miss Moore showed slides of her work in Jinkrama where she taught in the Baptist school and other scenes of Africa. Articles from Africa were also exhibited.

Since 1956, she has served in the area formerly known as the Eastern Region of Nigeria, and which has declared itself an independent nation known as Biafra.

On advice of the American consul, Miss Moore was evacuated from Port Harcourt to Lagos June 5. She said that the trouble there is political. The mission work is wide spread and there have been calls recently from 105 churches for workers and only three were available to send.

She came home June 15 and will spend her furlough with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Moore, on Star Route at Blackwell.

Refreshments were served to the more than 50 who attended. Guests were from the Drasco Baptist Church, the Southside Baptist Church, Mrs. A. T. Lindley from Abilene and members of the Girls Auxiliary.

After attending Hardin-Simmons University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Miss Moore went to Nigeria, West Africa in 1953.

Sister, Niece of Mrs. C. D. Wright Drowned At Olney

Mrs. Weldon (Rita) Dodd, 35, and her daughter, Glenda Sue, 12, of Olney drowned in Lake Cooper near Olney Tuesday, July 25.

Mrs. Dodd was a sister of Mrs. C. D. Wright, formerly of Winters and now of Hico. Mr. and Mrs. Wright were in the process of moving to Hico when they heard of the mishap.

According to reports, Glenda was playing with an innertube in the water while Mrs. Dodd was on the bank watching the children. The innertube apparently floated away from Glenda and she went after it.

She began struggling in the water and Mrs. Dodd went out after her and reached her and was returning to the shore when both disappeared under the water. It is surmised that they stepped into a hole.

Weldon Dodd was fishing from the bank around a bend in the lake and was several hundred yards away when another daughter, Patsy Marie, screamed for help.

Funeral services were held in First Baptist Church in Olney Thursday, July 27.

Voter Registration Amendment Constitutional Says Supreme Court

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

State Supreme Court has ruled that the constitutional amendment requiring annual voter registration in Texas is valid.

AFL-CIO challenged the amendment. They contended that voters did not get "fair notice" that the amendment provided for annual registration.

State labor officials pledged to take the issue to the highest federal court.

State Supreme Court agreed with ruling of the Third Court of Civil Appeals that the amendment—approved by Texans last year—to abolish the poll tax as a requirement for voting and substitute annual sign-up should stand. There was no opinion. Appellate judges had reversed the trial court finding.

Austin District Judge Herman Jones agreed that the full purpose of the amendment was not adequately described in the proposition on the ballot. It stated only that the poll tax would be knocked out as a voting requirement. Last April Court of Civil Appeals said it was unlikely any voter, in view of widespread publicity given the issue, failed to understand what he was voting on.

Roy Evans, Secretary-Treasurer of Texas AFL-CIO, said the State Supreme Court will be asked for a rehearing. If that is rejected, a hearing will be requested before the U. S. Supreme Court.

Meanwhile, Texas election machinery and voter registration for the big 1968 election year will proceed under annual sign-up law as amended this year. All voters, including those who live in cities under 10,000 population, must register between October and January.

In other cases, the State Supreme Court: Left standing lower court decisions refusing cash judgments to two parties to the collapse of Billie Sol Estes' fortunes. Case originated in Pecos District Court.

Reversed Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals and sustaining district court in holding that 49 strikers against the Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation in 1964 could draw unemployment benefits due to circumstances of their joblessness. (Strikers had offered to return to work.) Upheld Third Court of Civil Appeals' ruling that State Savings and Loan Commissioner was justified in denying a branch office application for downtown Houston of the Gibraltar Savings Association.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

Oil and gas produced on federal land at Corpus Christi Naval Air Station are subject to state production and pipeline taxes (except for 18 2-3 per cent payable as royalty to the U. S.), Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

In other opinions, Martin has concluded that: A $1,500,000 appropriation to construct protective devices at railroad grade crossings is constitutional.

If a county commissioner is a director and stockholder in a bank desiring to receive bond issue funds, the county commissioners court does not have authority to designate that bank as a county depository.

HIGHWAYS

As July began, the State Highway Department had $618,899,810 worth of highway construction under contract. During June, contractors were paid $35, 802,146 for work completed. In 1919, only $273,000 was spent for road construction.

WELFARE

An audit of the State Department of Public Welfare reveals that $461,000,000 in federal and state money was used in Texas during the two years ending last August 31 on welfare programs.

Rate was $120,000,000 last year, of which $168,620,302 was in direct grants to the needy aged, blind, children and disabled, plus $41,431,797 for medical care for the needy aged. While aid to dependent children and those who are permanently disabled continues to rise, training programs are reducing the amount of aid needed by blind persons.

Distribution of surplus Commodities also is handled by this department. In two years, 45,000,000 pounds of flour, 19,000,000 pounds of corn meal and 17,000,000 pounds of dry milk were distributed to needy families from federal surpluses. However, the amount distributed is declining as the government stockpiles are used up and high employment is reducing the number of needy families.

Payroll and other administrative costs for giving away $215,000,000 came to $12,708,278.

SCREWORM REPORT

Between May 28 and July 1, some 19 cases of screwworms were confirmed in Texas.

To prevent spread of the disease, Screwworm Eradication Program planes recently released 757,790,000 sterile screw-worm flies in Texas. Some 106,144,000 were dropped over Trans-Pecos and the Valley portions of Texas.

HIGHER RATES AUTHORIZED

Texas Railroad Commission has authorized higher rates for shipments of household goods by specialized carriers. No increase was allowed in packing charges, which had been requested by the van lines.

Rate changes, based on averages of 7,600 shipments, come to 17.3 per cent higher than present rates.

However, larger shipments are actually less and smaller shipments are more. New rates will take effect on August 5.

COLEMAN PARK GRANT APPROVED

City of Coleman will receive a $124,810 federal grant to help develop a 139-acre park site at Coleman Lake, 14 miles north of the city.

Grant is under the federal land and water conservation fund program.

City will put up an equal amount to landscape the area and provide boat ramps, picnic units, camping sites, trailer units, playground, swimming beach, fishing piers, concession building, bath house, restroom and necessary utilities.

LT. JACKIE R. BRUCE

Lt. Jackie Bruce Visits Here Before Going To Vietnam

Second Lieutenant Jackie R. Bruce left Saturday, July 29, for Los Angeles, Calif., after spending a month visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Chapman of Winters.

He will leave San Francisco for Vietnam the first part of August. In Los Angeles, he will spend a few days visiting with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Overholt.

In Vietnam, Lt. Bruce will be stationed at Camp Enari near Plieque, serving with the Fourth Infantry, Special Services Division.

Lt. Bruce finished Officer Candidate School at Ft. Benning, Ga., Oct. 5, 1966, and has since been stationed at Ft. Huachuca, Ariz.

The lieutenant received a letter from his "sponsor" in Vietnam, explaining conditions in that country. The sponsor, Lt. Stephens, said they would be "moving into permanent living quarters soon, instead of the tents they now live in." He said, "The work here is hard, with long hours, seven days a week, and no week end. But you will find your work very rewarding. The people here are very friendly."

Lt. Stephens and Lt. Bruce played in the Rebel Band at Arlington State College in 1962 and 1963.

James Shook Is Safe After Carrier Fire

Third Class Petty Officer James D. Shook, who is stationed aboard the ill-fated aircraft carrier Forrester which was damaged by fires which killed many of her personnel last week, is reported to be safe and unharmed.

Shook, who is married to the former Betty Jernigan, called his wife Sunday to report that he was on a flight to the Philippine Islands when the Forrester was heavily damaged by fire while on station in the Gulf of Tonkin off Vietnam. He is a medical corpsman, and was accompanying a patient to a Philippine naval hospital when the disaster struck.

Many men were killed and others reported missing in the fire and explosions which racked the carrier, injuring many other officers and men. Shook told his family that his quarters aboard ship were directly below one of the hangar decks which was so badly damaged by the fire.

Shook left Norfolk, Va., June 17 aboard the carrier, and aircraft from the Forrester had made several strikes against the North Vietnam enemy.

He has been in the Navy since March, 1966. A graduate of Winters High School, he attended San Angelo College two years before going into the Navy.

Shook has a three-month-old daughter. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Shook of Winters; his wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Jernigan of Winters.

Former Wingate Man Named To Engineer Corps

Ernest M. Cathey, formerly of Wingate, a recent civil engineering graduate of Texas Technological College, and a former student of Winters High School, has joined the professional staff of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers at the Fort Worth District.

He has been assigned to the Corps' extensive program for young professional engineers.

Cathey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus M. Cathey of Wingate. At Tech he was active in the student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

During his internship, Cathey will carry out technical assignments both at the Fort Worth District headquarters and at field installations in the four-state Engineer District, where plans are developed for the most effective use of water resources; where major flood protection works, navigation channels, and dams for navigation, hydroelectric power generation, flood control, water supply, water quality control, recreation, and fish and wildlife enhancement are designed and operated on inland waterways; and where navigation channels and related areas are developed and maintained.

The Fort Worth District also performs major engineering and construction for Army and Air Force in the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana.

The girls learned new dance twirls for pep rallies, and several new routines for football games. They have been practicing this summer in preparation for the football season beginning in September.

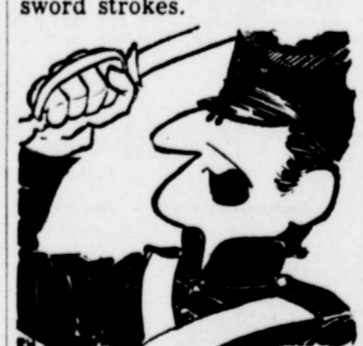

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

My son, an architecture major, has been accepted by the Marine's Officer Candidate School upon his graduation from college. Many of his friends were shocked to learn of his choice of the armed services, and they frequently ask: "Why does he want to become a leatherneck?"

The term, "leatherneck" has been used as a synonym for Marine since about 1805 when the Marines stormed the Barbary pirates' stronghold on the shores of Tripoli.

At that time, a stout leather collar was sewed on the Marine's coats to ward off enemy sword strokes.

Today, the Marine's uniform has a red band instead of leather around the neck, but the term "leatherneck" is as popular as ever.

Another old Marine term which is outdated but still heard is "boot camp."

Every Marine is required to take twelve weeks of basic training in "boot camp." This term originated because in the early days, Marines wore leather leggings which looked like boots while they underwent rigorous training to learn how to shoot, drill, obey orders, and know the traditions of the corps.
