HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Although the public school term lasts only nine months of each year, there are only about two and half months of "non-school." Because along about the middle of August each year there is a pronounced direction of energy and thought back toward the school.

It's about this time of each summer—with only a short time remaining until school takes up—that most of us suddenly realize that the summer months are about gone, and those things we had planned to do are not finished; those things we pledged last year to do earlier in the summer somehow have not been accomplished. There is so much to do to get the kids ready to answer when the bell rings. There's clothing to buy and get ready for school; school supplies to buy; car pool arrangements; etc., etc. So most of us wait until the last two weeks before school and then join the mad rush to get ready.

Where do we go to get those things needed for the kids to return to school? Do we go down to a Winters store—owned and operated by our neighbors—and get those necessary items? Or do we jump in the car and join the nerve-racking stream of traffic to another city, there to join the screaming, steaming, mad, rushing crowds in the "bigger" stores? Do we figure that we can save money by out of town to get those things? If we do, we're just kidding ourselves, over the long haul!

Most every item which can be purchased in another town can be bought right here in Winters—and for the same price. In some instances, for a lower price! And if it's a real special item, a Winters merchant can probably get it for us and save us a lot of time and headaches. (And what's more, if it doesn't fit, we won't have to make another long trip out of town to exchange it!)

Maybe there is an item or two on which we can save money by buying it out of town. But how many of us take into consideration the cost of traveling to the other town? To say "nothing of the wear and tear on our nerves!"

Then there are other angles to consider: Suppose we discount the cost of going to and from another city to shop, and go ahead and do our school shopping out of town. (Remember, the money stays out of town.) Then suppose that during the school year some group of students—the band, the football team, the FFA, the FHA or any of several others—decides to do something that takes a little money. Do you think for a minute that those out-of-town merchants are going to kick in and donate the money? Think again! The Winters merchants will do it! Do those out-of-town merchants contribute in taxes to keep our school going? They couldn't care less about our schools, so long as we continue to spend our money with them.

Why kid ourselves! What would happen if we continued spending our money out of town, and yet expect our local merchants to provide their share of the taxes to keep going? If they don't get the business, they can't stay in business! So a heavier burden of taxes is handed to others in the school district. The end result is apparent. (Or do we want to continue to send our money out of town, and eventually have to send our kids out of town to school.)

So, if we insist that we can save money by shopping out of town, and still insist that the Winters merchants support our schools, we're living in a dream world from which there is only one exit.

Let's shop at home; keep our cool and support our school!

City Council Approves Electrical Code, Will Issue Licenses To Electricians

Electrical wiring or installations in Winters in commercial or residential buildings—or additions—will have to meet certain specifications, or power will not be turned on. Too, persons installing electrical wiring or certain motors and appliances, for hire, must conform to certain regulations or they will not be permitted to do this type of work.

This is the gist of an ordinance approved and passed by the Winters City Council July 31, to become effective immediately. The ordinance was passed to adopt the electric code of the National Electric Code Standard of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, and covers all aspects of such code, including creation of the office of an electrical inspector, licensing of electricians and regulating the installation of electric wiring and apparatus.

The ordinance also establishes rules and regulations for issuance of permits to builders and homeowners installing electrical wiring.

Passage of the ordinance adopting the electric code was necessary in view of the requirements of several federal agencies which may in the future approve certain types of building or construction in the city, it was explained, without an effective code, this type of construction could not be accomplished. Also, adoption of the code will meet requirements of insurance underwriters and fire insurance rate structure, it was stated by officials.

LICENSING
The ordinance calls for licensing of all persons or firms who "engage in the business of electrical construction or the installation of wiring and apparatus for electric lights, appliances, heating or power" in the City of Winters.

Such persons shall obtain a license for such work, paying a fee of $5.00 per year. The ordinance also requires that each person, firm or corporation doing electrical business in the city shall "execute a bond with a surety bonding company in the sum of $500.00."

All persons applying for an electrician's license shall be required to give "satisfactory evidence" of his ability to do electrical work in a safe and satisfactory manner before being issued a license. A section of the ordinance permits individuals desiring to perform their own electrical work to do without a license, but they will be required to obtain permits for each job and submit each job for inspection and approval by the appointed inspector.

PERMITS
The ordinance specifies that permits for installation, alteration, or removal of electrical wiring or apparatus must be obtained from the City of Winters prior to such work. An electrical inspector will be charged with the duty of inspecting any and all such electrical work.

To Operate Both Plants

Graham Buys Davidson Gin

Ronnie Graham, who has operated Winters Gin Company for the past two years, recently purchased Davidson Gin, it was announced a few days ago.

Graham said he plans to operate both gins, in addition to handling grain through the Winters Elevator Co.

The gin purchased by Graham from J. P. (Pete) Davidson was built by Davidson last year, completed in the fall during the cotton season.

Graham said the new gin, which is located west of Winters, is a new type gin with all modern machinery. He said the two gins, together will be capable of ginning 300 bales a day in the peak season.

The Winters ginner also said there are good prospects for a "real good—better-than-average—cotton crop" this year, depending on rainfall within the next few weeks.

Davidson, who also is a farm operator and stockman, has been in the cotton ginning business in Winters for many years. His father, the late Jake Davidson, came to Winters in 1916 from Red River County, where he had run gins for several years. He operated and owned a gin adjacent to the Korneygin Gin, and acquired the Korneygin Gin in 1929. The old gin was dismantled in the early 1950s, and the Davidson Gin in northeast Winters was operated until last year when the new Davidson Gin was built on FM 53 west of Winters.

The two gins now operating in Winters are all that are left of the 10 gins which were in business here in the 1920s.

Season Football Tickets Go On Sale Aug. 21st

Sale of season tickets for the 1967 Winters High School football season will begin Monday, August 21, with a three-day option period for people who had reserved seats last year and who wish to obtain the same seats for this season. Fans who had season tickets last year may purchase more tickets, but no less (and retain same seats) during the August 21-23 option period.

Regular season ticket sales will begin August 24 and the sale will be closed August 30 for fans who did not have season tickets last year. These season tickets will be sold on a first come-first served basis.

Season tickets will be sold as a book of four tickets and will include all home games. Price per book will be $6. Tickets will be sold at the school business office between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. on the dates specified.

The first game of the season will be Saturday, Sept. 9, on Blizzard Field, with the local team meeting Lakeview.

Scrimmage Scheduled For Blizzards Friday Night, Public Is Invited

The 1967 Winters High School Blizzards will windup the first week of pre-season football practice Friday night with an intersquad scrimmage in Blizzard Stadium.

The practice scrimmage will be open to the public, and players will be introduced to fans during the evening's activities, which will begin at 8:30.

In addition to getting a first look at the Blizzards in action, football fans and school patrons will have an opportunity to visit the field house and other facilities at the stadium in an "open house" event, Coach L. G. Wilson said.

On the following Thursday night, August 24, the "B" team will go to Eden for a scrimmage. Then on Friday, August 25, the varsity squad will scrimmage Clyde at Clyde. These will be shake-down exercises for both teams, in preparation for the regular season which begins with a game with Lakeview Saturday, Sept. 9. The "B" team will travel to Coahoma for a game Sept. 7. Coach Wilson said a total of 47 boys are signed up for varsity play this year, with 26 on the freshman team.

The Blizzards have been working out twice a day this week, and will continue this schedule through next week, the coach said. Evening practice time for next week will be changed to 6:30, he said, because of the shortening daylight hours.

Roger Babson Report—
People More Likely Nowadays To Be Victims of Burglars Than Ever

Babson Park, Mass. Whether in the city or in the suburbs, people are a lot more likely nowadays to be victimized by burglars than ever before. So it is only sensible to know how best to avoid this disturbing—and often costly—circumstance. And to know, if it should happen, what to do to help recover lost possessions.

Many Breaks Could Be Prevented
Police experts on burglary pretty much agree that carelessness in locking doors and windows makes an easy in for housebreakers, most of whom are likely to be amateurs. The old adage that any burglar who wants to get in will find a way is not taken too seriously by most students of the way of thieves. If entrance is made difficult, chances are that the average felon will keep looking until he finds a house or an apartment that is an obvious easy mark.

Perhaps the "open sesame" for most breaks is the snap lock that clicks shut without the use of a key. Such a device can usually be opened in a moment or two by manipulating a thin, firm object, such as a charge card or a pocket calendar. Drop-bolt, double, and various types of "police" locks provide superior assurance against entry. Your locksmith will help on this matter, and will make certain that there are no weak sections of wood or glass around the lock that could be easily shattered by sudden force. Some reliable locks come with magnetic keys having neither teeth nor grooves so they cannot be duplicated.

Change Of Locks Sometimes Advisable
It surely should not be considered "silly"—nor is it particularly costly—to have locks changed; same is applicable when maids or other domestics are replaced, especially if theirs was short-term or temporary tenure. Any police officer will advise altering locks in a newly rented apartment, and this is only common sense in a high-rise where strangers constantly move about.

If There Should Be A Robbery...
Even with the utmost precaution, robberies do take place. Authorities make it clear that they will be grateful if the victims do not put things in order after a place is ransacked. This makes it next to impossible to find the clues that most often lead to capture of a thief and recovery of the stolen goods.

Insurance companies should be notified at once and provided with details on all valuable articles known to be missing. Both police and insurance agents are constantly appalled by people's inability to identify stolen goods. Insurers are urged to keep serial numbers of costly appliances. Women should note the furrier's mark on the skins in a luxurious fur coat, since any identification is likely to have been ripped off. In the case of expensive jewelry and such items as sculpture and paintings, color photographs should be taken and put in a secure place such as a safe deposit box. It is wise, in fact, to keep notations of all valuables together in such a repository. This will do away with the vague descriptions and forgotten details that are so discouraging to police and insurance men.

Final reminder: Police officials insist that there is an excellent chance of successfully solving a burglary... if they are summoned immediately and if everything in the rifled home is left strictly as is until they have completed their inspection.

Five years ago only 25 colleges and universities offered courses in some or all phases of Oceanography. Today there are about 100 private universities and Government laboratories concerned with the mysteries of the Ocean.

Young men and women looking for a future can find in the Sea a kind of frontier that has largely disappeared from the land.

Some phases of research now going on have the appearance of really being silly, but we already know enough about the Oceans and Seas, which cover approximately three-fourths of the Earth's face, to be aware of tremendous potentials.

The President's Commission on food supplies for the future points to disastrous circumstances for feeding the future billions of people who are shortly to inhabit the Earth. Population is expanding many times faster than our ability to produce food, even if the problem of distribution were overcome.

Mapping the bottom of the oceans, the seasonal current patterns at various levels, overcoming the main obstacles of a hostile element, will not be substantially completed during the lifetime of anyone now living, but what is learned by the scientists now busy in their explorations, may provide all the things that the land may not have in the years to come.

The Scientists suggest that land now covered by the deep waters will furnish minerals, adequate food, petroleum, medicine, and everything necessary to life in the future.

While we spend billions to put human beings on the Moon, and search for the same possibility on Mars, great advances have already been made to live and exist under the Seas.

Japan has already established "Farms" and "ranches" in waters off its shores. They have built fences in which they raise and breed sea life for food. For centuries, Ocean Fishing has been almost blind—little more than groping. Compared to future fish harvesting, present methods would be like depending on rabbit hunting in the woods to raising beef cattle as a source of meat.

Science already knows a great deal about the habits of food fish and about the minerals and oxygen content and temperatures of the water where fish are to be found. From this knowledge will spring new ways to farm sea life and even fatten it on managed "acreage" and to predict the numbers and movements of great sea schools. It is known that fish can be "herded" with electrical fields, sounds and lights. From these things come a vision of the scientific harvesting of salt water food hundreds of times greater than at present.

On the spot where fish are harvested, processing plants will be erected to produce the finished products. Packaged foods will be available to the floating towns and cities which may be built around the factory, and for market on land. Imagine apartment ships with shopping centers, having protected sea gardens between them with airport ships and the things we now have on the land. In the future we will depend on the ocean for minerals, chemicals and oil. The land is being depleted of natural resources while we permit the rivers to pour our wealth into the Oceans every day.

Grave Of Early Texas Ranger To Be Historical Site

The official Texas Historical Grave Marker for W. H. Brown, an historically significant law officer of Runnels County, has arrived from the foundry and will be dedicated Aug. 27. Rankin Pace, chairman of the Runnels County Historical Survey Committee, has announced.

The marker will be placed at the gravesite in the old cemetery one mile west of Maverick, on the county road off Highway 58.

This marker is one of a series that will record the brave deeds of Texas' most gallant lawmen from the days of the Republic to the present. The markers are sponsored through the Texas Historical Foundation by a grant given to THF by the Texas Law Enforcement and Youth Development Foundation. THF is the private affiliate of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

Inscriptions on the markers commemorate Texas Law Enforcement officers who have been killed in line of duty and/or who have contributed to the development of Texas and its history, such as Texas Rangers, Sheriffs and marshals.

The inscription on the Brown marker reads: "W. H. Brown, Oct. 21, 1853, Sept. 19, 1875. Born in Georgia. With his parents came to Texas 1857. He and a brother, John, were Texas Rangers, W. H. 'Billy' serving June-December 1874. Billy Brown was the last man killed by Indians in Runnels County, in a flight to regain stolen horses. Recorded 1967."

Frontier Texas produced a unique brand of lawmen, as it long was a border region between the U. S. and Mexico. During the years of colonization, Texas settlers rallied defensively against Indians and badmen; during the Republic, against invading Mexican troops. As a result, the Texas Rangers and other famous officers of the law rose to the challenge and worked heroically to keep the peace.

History Group Planning Placing Of Grave Markers

The Runnels County Historical Survey Committee is making plans for placement and dedication of markers on the graves of early settlers and law officers.

At a meeting at Huffman House in Winters Saturday, the committee discussed plans for dedication of the W. H. Brown marker at Maverick. Dedication has been set for Sunday, Aug. 27, at 4 p. m.

The committee also voted to erect an official marker at the grave of Alec Simmons, Confederate veteran buried by the side of the road near Content.

Also, a descriptive marker is to be placed at the Winters State Bank.

A report was heard on the progress of the Wilmeth marker fund which has now reached $110.50. This marker is being sponsored by citizens and former citizens of Wilmeth.

At the dedication service for placement of the W. H. Brown marker at Maverick, the program has been planned as a recognition and appreciation gesture for all peace officers. Ranger R. R. Rohatsch of San Angelo will be the principal speaker. Brown was a Texas Ranger and was killed by Indians in 1875.

Mrs. Clarence Lee of Norton, Mrs. Dalton Lacy of Miles, and Mrs. George Poe of Winters were appointed as a committee to arrange the program of dedication in the absence of the chairman. Mrs. Edgar Boelche of Ballinger will be in charge of publicity.

Rankin Pace of Winters is Chairman of the Runnels County Historical Survey Committee and presided at the Saturday meeting. County Commissioner Melvin Mapes was a guest.

Mrs. Roy Roper, Mrs. R. T. Copes and Mrs. Lee extended an invitation to the committee to meet at Norton in October.

ATTEND REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. John Tharp, granddaughter, Bertha Mae Yates and Mrs. Ida Casey attended the Roe Family reunion at Camp Ben McCullough at Austin last week end. They also visited relatives at Rockdale.

Children Who Were In Library Program To Get Certificates

All children who participated in the summer reading program, "Treasure Hunt," at the Winters Public Library this summer are asked to return their reading logs to the library by August 23, Miss Myra Glover said this week.

Certificates and treasures will be issued to every child who has read 12 or more books this summer.

The librarian said that this summer's reading program has been the largest reading club in the history of the local library.

In the "Treasure Hunt" program, Keava Lee Harrison, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harrison, was the first child to reach the "hidden" treasure.

Approximately 4,000 books have been checked out of the library this summer, Miss Glover said. Great interest has been shown during the summer by children and young people, she said, and now more interest is being placed on adults with new books arriving for fall and winter.

Mrs. W. S. Cooke closed the meeting with prayer.

MRS. JAMES R. BELL, JR. (Photo by Little)

Linda Ann Hill, Lt. James R. Bell, Jr. Wed At First Presbyterian Church

Marriage vows were recited at the First Presbyterian Church Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock when Linda Ann Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Hill, became the bride of Lt. James Ross Bell, Jr. The bridegroom is the son of James Ross Bell, Sr., of Charleston, West Virginia.

The Rev. James Sinclair, pastor of the church, officiated for the double ring ceremony before the altar where an arrangement of white mums and candelabras with lighted tapers formed the background for the wedding party. Baskets of white mums, gladioli and pom poms were at either side of the steps to the chancel.

Donna Sharp of Ballinger, organist, played "Because" and "Lord's Prayer."

James R. Bell, Sr., served his son as best man and ushers were Lt. James Dobbs and Lt. Dave Reiser, both of Reese Air Force Base at Lubbock, and Larry Rives, of Austin, cousin of the bride.

The bride's only attendant was her room mate at Texas Technological College the past year, Zanette Moore of Winters.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a sleeveless formal length gown of white silk linen. The empire bodice was accented with venise lace at the top of the A-line skirt. The full length coat of matching fabric was fashioned with Kabuki sleeves applied with venise lace. Her tiered veil of silk illusion fell from a cluster of satin petals edged in pearls and aurora crystals. She carried a bouquet of gardenias atop a white Bible.

The maid of honor wore a lime green street-length dress fashioned similar to that of the bride. She wore a matching headpiece and carried yellow spider mums.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Speer hosted the reception at their home, 211 Magnolia Street.

Receiving the guests at the entrance of the living room Mrs. George R. Hill introduced the bride and bridegroom, his father, James R. Bell Sr., and his sister, Susan of Charleston, West Virginia, and Zanette Moore, the maid of honor.

Teresa Moses of San Angelo and Kay Lynn Rives of Winters, cousins of the bride, presided at the register.

The tea table laid with imported cloth of linen and lace was appointed with silver and crystal. A lovely arrangement of mums, spider mums and pom poms with lemon leaves graced the table at one end and the three-tiered wedding cake at the opposite end. The cake of white confection was topped with wedding bells, and decorated with yellow roses. Miniature slippers, butterflies and wedding bells nestled at the base in ruffles of tulle.

Mrs. Ronnie Williams of San Angelo presided at the table and served the cake. She was assisted by Ginger Gardner in serving the refreshment plate.

Others in the house party were Mrs. J. P. Dry, Mrs. Roger Robinson, Mrs. John Gardner and Mrs. Speer.

For traveling the bride changed to a red and blue tent dress with matching red accessories.

The bride, a graduate of Winters High School with the class of 1965, attended Angelo State College where she pledged Eta Upsilon Gamma Sorority. She is a junior at Texas Technological College and is a member of the National Collegiate Association for Secretaries.

Mrs. Juanita O'Connor's Weekly Home Demonstration Agent's Column

Summertime living can be hard on hot weather wardrobes. So clean your clothes regularly, says Mrs. Juanita O'Connor, County Home Demonstration Agent.

She offers the following short cuts on summertime clothes care. Swish bathing suits through warm soap or detergent suds after each swim. Bright sun, sand, salt water and oily or chlorinated fresh water all constitute bathing suit hazards and plain water alone won't do the job.

THE WINTERS ENTERPRISE
Winters, Texas
Friday, August 18, 1967

It's never worthwhile to wear summer apparel "just once more," the home demonstration agent points out. Humid air makes clothes feel damp and clammy if worn more than once without laundering. Stains caused by suntan lotion, insect repellent and other seasonal cosmetics and chemicals require special attention. Rubbing the stains with thick suds before laundering will remove most of them, if treated properly. Scrub grass and foliage stains with hot water and suds.

For extremely dirty fabric gloves, rub soap or detergent into all soiled spots, rolling each glove up tightly, beginning with the finger-tips, and letting them "set" for an hour or so, so the suds can loosen the soil. Then wash in clean suds. White canvas or linen shoes are scrubbed with dense soap or detergent suds and rinsed with a cloth wrung from clean, warm water. Then apply a whitening polish intended for fabric, and allow to dry away from heat. Keep a few ice cubes handy when you press freshly-laundered cottons or linens. To prevent wrinkles, ease a cube over dried-out spots to re-dampen.

Canned pears provide a needed relief to rising food costs. Sharply reduced prices on canned pears reflect a substantially larger crop of the fruit than last year. Economical shoppers know the meaning of grades for canned pears. Grades refer to shape rather than quality. Fancy grades are perfectly shaped and labeled "Extra Heavy Syrup". Choice pears, identified by the words "Heavy Syrup," have a high percentage of perfectly shaped pears. Standard pears have the term "Light Syrup" on the label and are economical for fruit salads and desserts where the pears may have a more irregular shape. The gently curved centers of drained canned pear halves are adapted to handle a variety of fillings to transform them into interesting and delectable salads, desserts and meat accompaniments. Try filling centers with chopped prunes or dates and nuts, then swirl with a fluffy meringue and bake until golden. Or, fill with vanilla ice cream and top with red raspberry jam or chocolate sauce. To go with lamb or ham, fill the pear with currant or mint jelly. Horse-radish or mustard folded into sour cream or mayonnaise is the perfect pear topping for roast beef.

CARD OF THANKS
We want to express our thanks for the many kind deeds and sympathy shown us by our many friends and thank Doctor McCreight and the nurses for the good care given our husband and father. May God bless each of you. Mrs. L. W. Williams and family. Itp.
