HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

From the very beginning of this country, it has been a natural thing—and many times a necessity toward survival—for boys, in their growing-up years, to gain an intimate knowledge of guns. Even after the raw frontier era had passed into history, this habit—or tradition—has clung, so that most boys, especially outside the teeming metropolitan areas, have at one time or another been introduced to the fine arts of gun-handling.

This process many times begins at an early age when a boy is presented with his first "gun"—a BB rifle. From this he graduates to something like a .22 rifle or a small gauge shotgun, then larger shotguns and rifles.

Now it seems that after going through all these "phases," many of the boys are going to return to the BB gun! A recent news report says the BB gun is the Army's new "secret weapon," and that all 12 of the Army posts that conduct basic training will start putting BB rifles in the hands of recruits. For an important reason!

According to the report, the Army thinks trainees who use BB guns have a better chance surviving face-to-face encounters with the enemy in the jungles—where our present-day wars are being fought.

In transforming civilians into effective soldiers, the Army says the job is to train men to do the right thing instinctively in a very special combat situation—the sudden appearance of an enemy at extremely close range. This happens all too often in Vietnam. A GI rounds a turn in the path and finds himself 50 yards or less from an approaching North Vietnamese. If the GI freezes in panic he'll probably be dead a moment later. If he keeps cool and takes careful aim—no matter how quick—chances are he'll still get shot.

Aimed fire is time-consuming—maybe just in milliseconds—says the Army. So in a tight spot like this the Army doesn't want the man to aim. That's where the BB gun comes in, used in training in a new combat technique called "Quick Kill."

For use in this training, the BB gun's sight is removed, and the soldier fires it without aiming; in fact, in the training, the sights are removed.

The Army says that using the BB gun, the average man, in a short time, is hitting a three-inch metal disk in midair about 10 to 15 feet away eight times out of 10. They say that with a good deal of practice, many men can hit tossed coins and aspirin tablets!

Then when the soldier is proficient with the BB gun, he is handed a regular combat rifle—and goes on from there, using the "impulse" or "snap-shooting" methods he has learned with the BB gun.

The Army says it's a lot cheaper, too, using BB guns for training rather than the regular rifles and expensive ammunition.

So the formative years of "BB gunning" will not have been for naught!

Too many cooks will not spoil broth. The best that can be done for broth isn't enough. Probably it has value only in encouraging people to get well who are sick enough to be put on a diet of it.

In the field of sports, the philosophy that "it isn't if you win or lose but how you play the game" won't hold up worth a nickel. The winners, in amateur sports, get the trophies and the chance to play on tv—and in professional sports winners get the most money. Anyway, winning is by far the most fun.

If the United States is to continue to prosper it cannot afford to have a large mass of people permanently unemployed or with low earning capacity. Yet to qualify for good jobs today, education and training are needed. Those who drop out of school before graduating are very likely headed for the pool of the unemployed. These "economic suicides" present a problem to the nation as well as to themselves.

Education is needed for many of the intangible good things of life. But education also provides dollars-and-cents advantages in terms of better jobs and higher earnings. Statistics show that

Elm Water Board Plans Field Trip To Inspect Dams

Members of the board of directors of the recently-created Elm Creek Water Control District Tuesday night made plans for a field trip to inspect water control and diversion dams now under construction in the Valley Creek Water Control District in the western section of Runnels County.

Woodrow Hoffman of the Soil Conservation Service, and other members of the SCS staff, will accompany the board members on an inspection tour of the Valley Creek project to get a first-hand look at structures which they hope to duplicate on the Elm Creek watershed.

The directors met Tuesday night in the Commissioners Courtroom in Ballinger to plan future work for the District. The board approved a constitution and by-laws to govern administration of the district, and laid plans for involvement with the State Water Control Board for a survey of the district. This survey will be made sometime next January, and recommendations made as to number of diversions and flood-control dams which will be needed in the district.

The board is working closely with the Soil Conservation Service and the Runnels County Water Authority in mapping the project.

The board scheduled regular meetings for the third Tuesday night of each month, at the Winters City Hall. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Nov. 21.

Attending Tuesday night's meeting at Ballinger were Virgil James, J. E. (Buck) Smith, Walter Spill, Clarence Ledbetter, Noble Faubion, John Purifoy and R. C. Thomas.

Blizzards Play Seymour Next

The Winters Blizzards have guests this weekend, but take to the road to do it.

The Big Blue team from Winters High School will meet the Seymour Panthers on a neutral field — Stamford Stadium—Saturday night, as the "home" team. Kickoff at 8 p.m.

Saturday night's game will be the last pre-conference tilt of the season for the so-far hard luck Blizzards before they head into conference competition.

The Winters squad has won only one game out of four thus far in the season, and trails the District 5-AA pack. Coleman has been the only team to go down before the young and inexperienced squad; their losses have been to AAA Lakeview, and to Brady and Ballinger, both high contenders in District 8-AA.

The Blizzard lineup is riddled by injuries this week, with five stringers not expected to play against Seymour. Lanny Bahlman and Jimmy Vaughan, big weights in the line, both have sprained ankles. David Torres and Bob Colburn have pulled thigh muscles. Sam Wood has a dislocated shoulder.

Seymour, a member of District 2-AA, has a season's record of 2-2. The Panthers hit Monday 36-6; won over Nocona 26-15; lost to Stamford 20-0; and lost to Haskell 43-6. Seymour has been the only team to cross the Haskell Indians' goal line this season.

This is the second year of a two-year "contract" between Winters and Seymour. Last year's game also was played at Stamford, with Seymour as the "home" team.

Sudsy Halloween Witchery: Safe and Cents-Able

Are you entertaining some "witches" or "black cats" this Halloween? As any young man-squander can tell you, these spooky creatures make ideal table companions as well as exciting costumes. So why not make pretty place cards to the dispenses worn by your guests?

It is easy and economical to use ordinary suds as an art medium. Simply pour packaged soap or detergent into a bowl with a little water, and beat until the suds resemble whipped cream—adding vegetable dye for color in "technicolor." Then stir in more of the product forming a clay-like mixture for molding; you can tell by feel when it is the right consistency. Now you are ready to become a sculptor.

An easy first try might be a cat—perhaps an orange one. Roll a "snowball" of suds and set it into a fluted paper muffin cup. Insert colorful toothpicks to represent whiskers, twists of black licorice sticks as ears, and small gumdrops for features. Then paste a place card to the cup, and presto!—a fine favor.

How about a witch? Again begin with a ball of suds, set on an inverted paper cup. Chicken corn or licorice drops will do nicely for features. To make a realistic witch's hat, attach a paper cone to a brim and perch this on the "head." Insert licorice "curls" beneath the hat, and attach a place card to the cup.

Set these fanciful favors aside to dry. They will remain solid and shapely — to serve as unusual and popular favors for the gay young ghosts and goblins around your table.

Make Solo Dining More Appealing

Are you a solitary diner? Don't skip the little dining niceties just because you're all by yourself. Try dining off a small table set with a colorful plastic place mat decorated in some gay or frivolous design. If you prefer to eat off of a tray, cover it with an attractive fabric place mat. Do use fabric napkins, and change your china often—a series of different "handed-down" family dishes, or vari-colored modern ware.

STRIPES

... run rampant across the fashion scene and any way you look at them—horizontally, vertically or diagonally—they add zest wherever they go.

MRS. MICHAEL STEPHEN HUNT

LaRoss Sheppard, Michael Stephen Hunt Recite Vows at Ballinger Sat.

LaRoss Sheppard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gene Hancock, became the bride of Michael Stephen Hunt when they recited marriage vows at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Ballinger Saturday evening at 6 o'clock. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Glenn William Hunt of San Antonio.

The Rev. Patrick Casey officiated for the double ring ceremony, before the altar flanked by the ivy-entwined candelabra and altar baskets of white gladioli.

Mrs. Sim Corlette of Ballinger, organist, played traditional wedding music.

Ricky Saunders of Abilene, cousin of the bride, lighted the candles. David Eugene Hunt Jr., of Victoria, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

David Eugene Hunt of Victoria, served his twin brother as best man. Groomsman were Glenn William Hunt Jr., and John Hale Hunt, both of San Antonio, brothers of the bridegroom, and Skip Sheppard of Winters, brother of the bride.

Ushers were Marvin Dale Haass of Devine, Richard Vance Ozen of San Antonio, Roy and Rusty Saunders of Abilene, cousins of the bride.

The maid of honor was Richla Kay Saunders of Kerrville, cousin of the bride, and the three matrons of honor were Mrs. Gary Smith, Mrs. David Langford both of Austin and Mrs. Skip Sheppard of Winters, sister-in-law of the bride.

The attendants wore A-line floor-length gowns of teal blue linen, fashioned with Victorian bodice and bell sleeves, accented with avocado velvet ribbon. Their headpieces were avocado velvet ribbon and they wore shoes of matching color.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a bridal gown of peau de soie and Alencon lace, designed and made by her aunt, Mrs. H. O. Saunders of Abilene. The Victorian bodice and A-line skirt were re-embroidered with appliques of Alencon lace and pearls. The detachable train which fell from the shoulders was enhanced by hand-appliqued lace and pearls and her lace-bordered veil of illusion fell from a pill box of lace and pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a rose.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the Ivy Room of the Texas Grill in Ballinger.

Mrs. H. O. Saunders and Mrs. John Hunt presided at the bride's table which was laid in white and centered with the candle from the 50th wedding anniversary of her grandparents. The candle arrangement featured cabbage roses at the base nestled in crushed avocado velvet and the lace covered Bible carried by the bride for her marriage. The four-tiered wedding cake was cut and served with golden punch from a crystal bowl.

The groom's table, also laid in white, was centered with an arrangement featuring a blue candle, drift wood and rolling pin set in blue crushed velvet and a German Chocolate Cake. Punch and cake were served from both tables. Mrs. Richard Saunders and Mrs. David Hunt presided at the groom's table.

The bride changed to a light blue blouse with matching accessories and wore the white rose corsage from her wedding.

She is a graduate of Winters High School and took her degree from Southwest Texas State College at San Marcos where she was a member of Delta Zeta National Sorority. She is presently teaching in the Seguin High School.

Church of Christ Sends Bus Load Of Food, Clothing

The seats were removed from the bus owned by the Winters Church of Christ last week, but for a good cause.

The space left when the seats were removed was filled with food, clothing and bedding, donated by people of the congregation and others in Winters who responded to a call for these items to help the victims of Hurricane Beulah in the Rio Grande Valley area.

The bus load of emergency goods was delivered to Brownsville Wednesday of last week, and Glenn Gray, minister of the church, said it was delivered to the people in the disaster area the next day.

Mr. Gray said the quality of the clothing and bedding donated was very good, and "showed the concern of the people of the Winters area for the welfare of the Valley people."

The minister said it would be "impossible to acknowledge each gift from individuals, businesses and churches," and the assistance of Radio Station KRUN in broadcasting the appeal. He said that he hoped that "all who helped in personal effort, in packing, loading, and bringing supplies will accept this report as an expression of gratitude for your generosity."

History Marker Dedicated Here Sunday Afternoon

The three children of Dr. Robert Cooke, and many other relatives from out of town, attended the dedication of the Texas official historical marker in his honor at the graveside in Northview cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Cooke who came to the area in 1889 and served as the town's first doctor was also first in many other areas. He assisted in organizing the first church, served as Sunday School superintendent and was one of the three first deacons. He later became pastor of the church while continuing as a doctor. A classmate of Governor Hogg, he was state health officer under his administration, also serving in this capacity for the following governor. A charter member of the University Baptist Church in Abilene, he also served there as pastor.

The Rev. Harry Grantz, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was speaker for the occasion. Rankin Pace, chairman of the Runnels County Historical Survey Committee, presided for the program. Mrs. George Poe gave a brief sketch of her grandfather's life. Great-great-grandsons, Greg and Perry Poe, placed a wreath at the grave. Mrs. C. L. Runnels FB Urges Observance of Fire Prevention Observance of National Fire Prevention Week, October 8-14, in Runnels County is being urged by both rural and city fire prevention leaders.

Marion Hays, president of the Runnels County Farm Bureau, has urged citizens of Runnels County to pay special heed to the observance this year by taking steps to prevent costly fires.

For instance, the aerosol can, which is much used today, is the cause of an undetermined number of fires each year, it was pointed out. Proper storage and handling is a must, as well as properly destroying these cans after they are empty.

How are these dangerous? One of these cans can blow up when excess heat is applied, sending them as far as 20 feet into the air, it was said. The empty, worthless can, is capable of scattering sparks for 30 feet from an open incinerator, or even one that is covered with wire.

Good housekeeping is a must, as the spray net can may be placed near a heat source, explode, sending inflammable liquid over an entire room and setting the home on fire.

How do you properly destroy these cans? It takes just three simple steps, it was stated: Hold the can near an ear, shake it, to be sure it is empty; hold the can near the face with the spout away, press the button to be certain it is empty, using fullest precaution; take a can opener, turn the can upside down and hold the head to one side so the fumes that may still remain won't reach the eyes, puncture a hole in the can, then a second hole. Then the can may be destroyed in regular trash, burned, or whatever is available.

Puncturing the can is advisable even though you bury the cans, it was warned.

The Runnels County Farm Bureau, in cooperation with the Texas Farm Bureau and other fire prevention leaders, urges everyone to help in avoiding a fire loss or disabling, or even fatal injury due to neglect.

RETURNED HOME

Winters Blizzards Lose Traditional Game To Ballinger Bearcats, 21-0

Outstanding Ballinger quarterback, Sammy McClarty, who made at least nine big third down plays, ran and passed the Bearcats past Winters to the tune of 21-0 Friday night on Blizzard Field.

The game appeared to be a defensive struggle after a scoreless first quarter. But the Bearcats began a drive early in the second quarter that both moved the ball 76 yards in 12 plays and controlled the ball, keeping it out of the hands of the Blizzards.

McClarty carried for a first down on the 29-yard line. Then he came out running to his left, reversed his field back to the right and spied halfback Benny

AROUND THE 5-AA FOOTBALL LOOP

Now four weeks out from port, District 5-AA teams have won 18 games, lost 5 and tied 1. Each team will take on an outsider this weekend, before reaching season half-time and beginning the intra-district contests.

Haskell, the leading scorer in the loop, finally was scored against last week, as Seymour crossed for 6. The Indians have marked up 88 and 101 respectively, while keeping opponents away from the line. Colorado City has an impressive score—but the Wolves dropped their game to Brady last Friday night.

Stamford has hit for 71, and now holds a 2-1-1 record for the year. The Winters Blizzards trail the pack with only one win to three losses this year.

Results of this week's games—the last pre-district contests—should give some indication of who's going to be who in 5-AA when the infighting begins.

LAST WEEK'S RESULTS
Anson 27, Cisco 7; Hamlin 22, Tahoka 7; Haskell 43, Seymour 6; Brady 36, Colorado City 6; Graham 13, Stamford 12; Ballinger 21, Winters 0.

WEEK'S SCHEDULE
Anson at Iowa Park; Colorado City at Ballinger; Hamlin at Clyde; Olney at Haskell; Stamford at Coleman; Winters vs. Seymour at Stamford (Saturday night).

First Baptists Collect Clothing, Food For Valley

The First Baptist Church of Winters, working with the Missions Commission of the Texas Baptist General Convention, is collecting food, clothing and bedding to be sent to the Rio Grande Valley for distribution to the thousands of people who lost their possessions when Hurricane Beulah struck that area, and in the consequent flooding.

The material is being assembled and sorted in the basement of the church.

ment of the church and will be taken to Ballinger to a central pool Monday. From there, it will be taken directly to Harlingen, which is the center for distribution in the Valley.

The Rev. Harry Grantz, pastor of the church, said that response to the appeal for clothing, bedding and food has been good. Many people of other congregations and denominations have helped out in the drive, he said. He also said that money will be accepted for the drive.

Winters' First Baptist is serving as a collection center for North Runnels County.

There is still a need for canned food, Rev. Grantz said. If contributions are brought to the church by noon Monday, Oct. 9, they will be taken to the Valley on this trip, he said.

Supervisor To Be Elected For Dist. 4, Soil District

Jake Presley, vice chairman of the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District, announced this week that all landowners who live in Runnels County and own land in Zone 4 of the District, will elect a supervisor to represent them on all soil and water conservation programs for the next five years.

Election will be held in the Vocational Agricultural Building of Winters High School Thursday night, Oct. 12, beginning at 7:30.

Zone 4, Presley said, is all that land in Runnels County north of the Winters-Bronte Farm to Market Road and Winters-Novice Farm to Market Road.

Incumbent supervisor from this zone is William F. (Bill) Minzenmayer. He has served as supervisor of the district since 1952.

C. T. Parker Jr., Runnels County Agent, will be in charge of the election. Qualifications for persons to be eligible to vote and hold office in the district and to vote are the same. These qualifications are that voters must be 21 years of age, own land in the zone and live in Runnels County. No voter registration slip is needed, Parker said.

Parker urged both man and wife to turn out and vote for someone to represent them in this important job. He said, "It is discouraging to me and to the one elected, to hold these elections when only four or five people show up. I hope that all the people will take just 30 minutes of their time and come and elect someone for this office and give whoever is elected a vote of confidence."

Winters Students To Attend College Night At Abilene

Representatives from thirty colleges and universities will have an opportunity to attend three different discussion groups to obtain information about three different colleges in which they are interested. The college representatives will discuss such matters as entrance requirements, application procedure, estimated yearly cost, courses of study or fields of specialization offered, type of Abilene High School and Cooper High School for the purpose of giving area students and their parents the opportunity to secure first-hand information about colleges early in the school year.

Authors Anonymous Club

By Dody Folsom
 The Executive committee of Authors Anonymous met Thursday, September 21, after school in Mrs. Grundy's room. The plans for the handbook were discussed. The cover was chosen and is a design of Bill Modisett. Also people were put on committees. The sponsors felt that it would be a bad idea to put everyone on a committee since the club is so large this year. Even though a member isn't on a committee he is still expected to work when called upon to do so. Theresa Carter was appointed to give a program for our next meeting.

The meeting was adjourned. The members are reminded to write a poem, an essay, a short story, a play, or a song for our next meeting. Give the songs to Robert Sherman and all the rest to Susan White. Also you are reminded to have a quote. If you do not you will be fined.

Eddie Littles Met Carrier America At Norfolk, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Little returned home Monday night after a several weeks vacation trip. They went to Norfolk to meet their son, Lt. Harvey Little, when the USS America arrived after a nine month tour of duty in the Mediterranean. The Homecoming Ceremony for the big aircraft carrier was quite impressive, the Littles said, with people from almost every state there to welcome their sons, husbands, or fathers home from the long stay in Europe. Bands playing, flags waving, refreshments being served, and entertainment for children all combined to make the event a festive one.

From Norfolk, the Littles, accompanied by the lieutenant, went to Washington, where he conferred with his commander in regard to his next billet. He will leave the America in February and go to that duty station.

On the way home the three Littles spent three days with their cousin A. M. Beeman, president of the Bank of Lenior City, in Tennessee. For the last several years Beeman has been listed in Who's Who in the South and Southwest. He will be remembered here as the son of the late Mrs. H. O. Jones's sister.

The family spent one night at home in Winters before going to Oklahoma City to be with the Little's other son, Bill. Eddie and Harvey attended the University of Oklahoma, Maryland game, which Bill covered for Associated Press At Norman Harvey left from there Monday for Norfolk by way of Philadelphia, where he plans a brief stay with relatives and friends.

 from the age of 25 high school graduates earn approximately $2,000 a year more than elementary school graduates and college graduates approximately the same amount more than high school graduates.

With our rapidly growing population more and more young people are entering the job market each year. By 1970, it is estimated that the number of boys and girls reaching 18 will be a third more than in 1962—3.7 million. As the youth population increases, those who lack adequate training will find it harder and harder to get a job. For their own future economic well-being, young people should stay in school and graduate.

HEIDENHEIMER'S

1492 COLUMBUS DAY 1967

Columbus sailed uncharted seas to reach the East Indies which he never found but he did discover something much greater. It was a new land which was to grow and prosper, until the whole world looked to it for leadership.

America was discovered by a man who had courage to strike out into the unknown. Others who came later to make this new land their home also had a desire for discovery which prompted them to seek new and better ways of doing things. Here they were able to live under a government which encouraged the initiative of the individual.

Future years will bring us an even higher standard of living if research, invention and discovery are not stifled by big government and bureaucratic decrees.
