HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Buford Baldwin, City Secretary, reports that several people have visited the City Hall within the past few days to examine the maps and charts prepared by the State Highway Department for the proposed widening and improvement project on Winters' Main Street, which is U. S. Highway 83.

Because it is somewhat difficult to explain in words just what is being proposed, there has been a bit of confusion in the minds of some regarding the extent of the project. This has been compounded by unfounded rumor in some instances. But the maps and charts are so prepared and so detailed in their coverage of the project that a few minutes of study can untangle a lot of loose threads and provide a complete picture of the entire proposal.

So if there is a question in the mind of anyone regarding the extent of the project, they are invited to visit the City Hall and study those maps. It can be readily seen that Winters cannot afford to pass up this chance of improving this main artery of traffic and bolstering the economy of the town.

A local couple had parked their car behind a big truck which was filled to near-overflowing with bulk bell peppers. When the wife returned to the car a few minutes later she remarked to her husband, who had remained with the car, "I wish we had some of those. Bell peppers are sure high."

"They certainly are high," the husband answered. "I almost didn't make it to the top of the sideboards to get a handful." And then he exhibited a glove compartment stuffed full of those nice bell peppers. The wife gasped, and tried to scrootch down in the seat, out of sight; she fully expected to see policemen close in at any moment.

The husband's having too much fun over the idea to tell his wife that he'd talked the truck driver out of a handful of those bell peppers.

The following item appeared in another publication, so we thought we'd clip it out and pass it on:

What is a high school coach? He is many things to many people. First, he is a man who lives in a pressure cooker.

The pressure comes from trying to compete and win. If he doesn't win, the sideline experts produce the pressure by making it hot for him. If he does win, the pressure builds as more victories are sought.

He is a man accustomed to late, and sometimes cold, suppers after a late practice.

He is a man who comes trudging home late, in the wee hours, following a long road trip.

Generally a family man, he is a husband and father who sees little of his brood during the season of his sport. They don't like his absence and (Continued on page 8)

Cong. Burleson Has Vietnam Maps For People

Congressman Omar Burleson announces that he has a limited number of 300 Vietnam and Asian Continent maps which he is desirous of distributing to families and close relatives of boys serving in Vietnam.

The Congressman advises the maps are printed in several colors and indicate the political boundaries and the topographic elevations of Asia, with enlargements of Southeast Asia including an economic map illustrating the products of the various geographic areas. The intent is to provide a useful, factual and informative document but not to include any of the military aspects.

Burleson said he felt the document would give families of servicemen a better perspective of the area, layout and location where servicemen may be, and he wishes to place them with people who do have a son, husband, father or close relative in Vietnam and will welcome such requests, on a first-come, first-served basis.

Requests should be addressed to: Congressman Omar Burleson House of Representatives Washington, D. C. 20515

CHURCH HISTORY

A Baptist Sunday School was organized at Drasco in the Spring of 1907. Prior to that time, Baptists had attended a Union Sunday School, meeting with the Methodists in the school building.

In November, 1907, on a Saturday morning, several families of the community met at the school house to organize a Baptist Church. The Rev. Hicks of Miles met with them, and was called as the first pastor of the church. On the following Sunday, the organization of the church was completed, with 24 charter members.

The roll of charter members includes: Mrs. Sarah Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Nix, Ora Nix, Webb Nix, Mr. and Mrs. A. Y. Crow, Jesse Crow, Hattie Crow, Mrs. Annie Green, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Walker, Welborne Walker, Lela Walker, Mr. and Mrs. F. Saunders, Mrs. Ollie Frater, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gordon and R. O. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Tyre and son William, and Walter Lytle.

The first church building was a one-room structure, completed in August, 1908. As the community grew, so did the church. The second building was a concrete structure, built in 1924, by Owen Ingram. The Rev. John Riddell was pastor. At that time the church had membership roll of 200, the largest it has ever had.

The church became full-time Dec. 1, 1945, when the Rev. Emmitt Brooks was pastor.

The second building burned Oct. 21, 1951. A third building was erected, and dedicated March 9, 1952, during the pastorate of the Rev. D. W. Ward.

The first Woman's Missionary Society was organized in 1913, with Mrs. Owen Ingram as the first president. Mrs. Zack West, a charter member, has been a member of the Drasco WMS more than 50 years.

Vyron Wood is the only resident member who is still living in the community, who was living in the community when the church was organized.

One such mission church is located in Ballinger, where the Rev. Bill Chavez is pastor.

750 Folks For Supper

An estimated 750 members and families of the Winters Livestock and Agricultural Association attended the annual membership barbecue of the organization at the school livestock barn Monday night.

The barbecue, an annual affair of the association, was the climax to the membership drive which has been in progress for several weeks. F. R. (Phil) Anderson, secretary-treasurer of the organization, said there now are 361 members. This is the largest membership ever, he said. He said that although the concentrated drive has been completed, anyone desiring to join the association may do so by contacting any of the officers.

Funds raised in the membership drive are used for the annual Junior Livestock Show, sponsored by the association. This year's show will be held on the first Saturday in January. All FFA and 4-H members in the Winters School District are eligible to exhibit animals in the annual show.

Membership campaign committee members were John Grohman, Weldon Mills and Raymond Schwartz. Grohman sold an even one hundred memberships, to lead sales, Anderson said.

Barbecue committee members were T. Sprinkle, Raymond Schwartz and Pat Pritchard.

Officers of the association are A. N. Crowley, president; Weldon Mills, vice president; Anderson, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Raymond Schwartz, reporter.

Daylight Time Will Go Away Saturday Night

In Texas, as in 44 other states, the hour lost when Central Daylight time came in will be regained at 2 a. m. CDT Oct. 29—when it suddenly will become 1 a. m. CST.

That is the time set by the law that was passed by Congress and approved by the Texas Legislature.

Churches of Winters contacted are reminding members that services will begin at regular hours, Central Standard Time. Offices and most other businesses will switch to CDT when they open for business Monday morning.

Civic Organizations Urge Main St. Bond Passage

The board of directors of the Winters Chamber of Commerce and the Winters Lions Club membership have gone on record favoring the proposed improvement project for U. S. Highway 83 through Winters, and are urging voters' approval of the bond issue to be decided at the election Saturday, November 11.

The City Council last week ordered the special election to seek approval by property owners of the sale of bonds to finance the City's small proportion of the cost of the proposed program.

Council members have stated that it will not be necessary to increase taxes in order for the City to redeem the bonds, and have stressed that the election will be for authority to sell bonds only, and will not be a "Tax" election.

In the November 11 election, property owners will be asked to approve sale of $120,000 worth of bonds to finance the City's part of the project. This will be used to pay one-half the cost of purchase of right-of-way and damages, with the State Highway Department to pay the other half.

It was also pointed out at the Chamber of Commerce meeting that if the highway was allowed to by-pass the town, and maintenance responsibility for Main Street returned to the City, "these maintenance costs alone would be more than the cost of paying for half the right-of-way for an improvement project—and a heavier tax burden would be felt by everyone."

The proposed project was explained to members of the Winters Lions Club during the regular noon luncheon meeting Tuesday, and the membership voted to endorse the endeavor, and urged approval of the bond issue.

Elm Creek Water Board Toured Valley Creek Sites

Members of the board of directors of Elm Creek Water Control District were joined Tuesday, Oct. 24, by the directors of Willow Creek Water Control District, which was also recently organized in the south section of Rannels County, for a field trip to inspect flood control dams on the Valley Creek District sites.

Members of the Soil Conservation Service offices of Rannels County and Taylor County also made the tour, which was to various flood control sites on Valley Creek, in the western portion of Rannels County and in Taylor County.

The trip was held to familiarize the directors of the newly organized districts with the operation of the Valley Creek Water Control District. The Valley Creek project is over half complete at the present time, and the group, about 20 men, were able to observe all stages of development of the same type projects planned for Elm Creek.

Hugo Vogelsang, chairman of the board of directors of the Valley Creek Water Control District, was host to the group on the tour.

Existence of a wide, modern highway would draw traffic from other heavily-traveled highways, adding to the economy of this area, it has been pointed out.

Dateline: "Greece"

Former Peace Corps Volunteer Writes About Visit In Greece

(Bill Pumphrey, who is acting as a special traveling correspondent for The Enterprise enroute home after a two-year stint as a Volunteer with the Peace Corps in Tanzania, this week writes of the ancient country of Greece.)

By BILL PUMPHREY
GREECE (SpI) — We sat on the Pnyx, a small hill formerly used as a Greek meeting place, while across from us rose the Acropolis. There the temples were bathed in lights as we listened to speeches of the Greek philosophers. We were witnessing "Sound and Light," a program reviewing the history of the Acropolis. When the cry went up that the Persians were landing, I almost expected to see their fleet in the distant Mediterranean. And when the Persians burned the Acropolis and it was bathed in red lights I could visualize the Athenians fleeing and I shared their grief at the loss of such beautiful works.

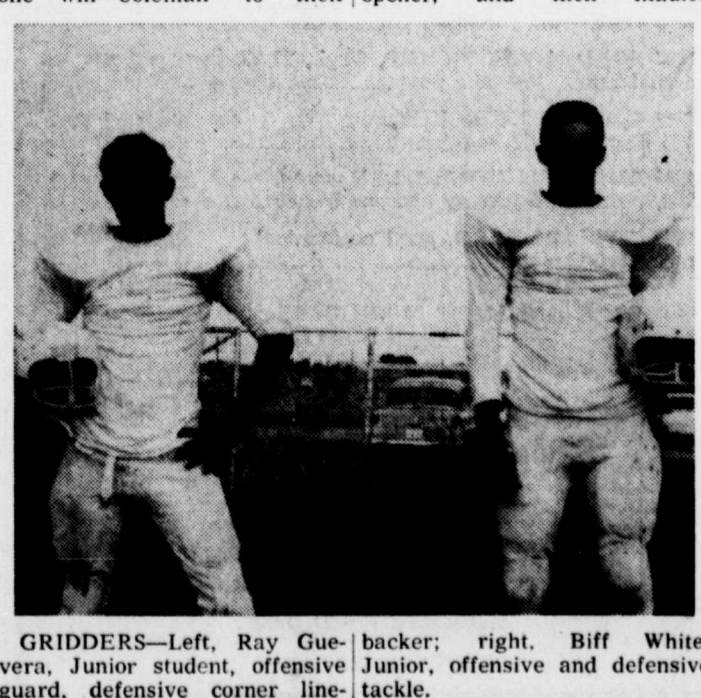

Athens is a great city full of friendly people. People there didn't seem interested in "robbing" the tourists as in other cities, but rather, they appeared proud to share with us, their guests, their great history. Democracy was born in Athens and their culture and art were highly developed. Socrates and other great philosophers were Greek.

We visited the Acropolis and ruins one morning. One market place has been rebuilt as it originally was and it gives a good idea of what the other ruins must have looked like. One temple below the Acropolis is almost intact as it was twenty centuries ago.

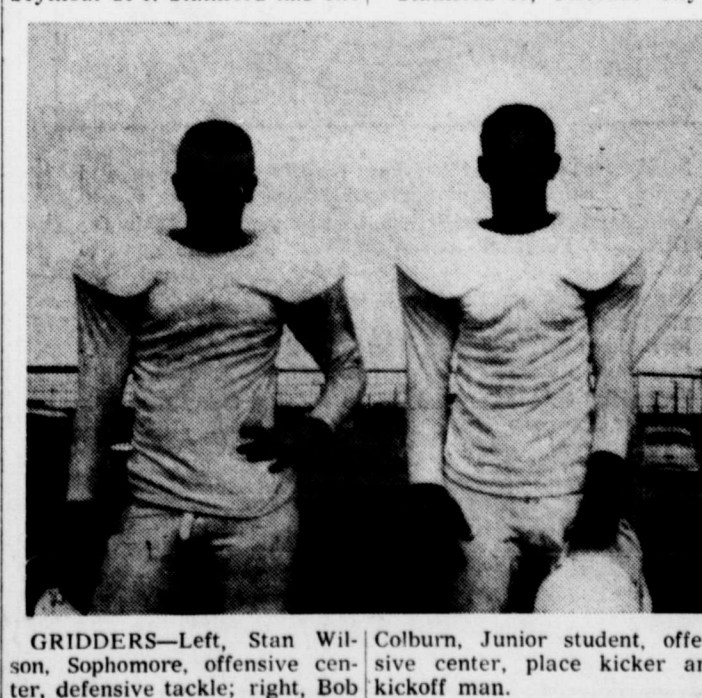

Crowning the Acropolis is the Parthenon, the most beautiful building ever built by man. Today it is only an empty shell but the columns still standing and artwork from it in a nearby museum testify to its great size and beauty.

The highlight of my Athens visit was a tour of the Athens museum. There I discovered hundreds of statues, columns and other pieces of artwork. I was amazed to find many in perfect condition despite their great age. Some of the marble heads stared at me through 2,000 years of time. It was wonderful to see what men of that day could create. I wondered what our generation would have to show for itself 2,000 years from now.

After two weeks of much walking, we took a weekend Mediterranean cruise to rest our feet. We were surprised though to find the sea so chilly that we had to wear coats when we went ashore. We visited the islands of Hydra, Mkyonos, Delos and Santarino. At the latter island we saw a town on top of a hill which went nearly straight up from the sea. We rode donkeys to the top, 700 feet above the sea, and had an excellent view of a Mediterranean sunset over the Greek islands.

As It Looks From Here

By Omar Burleson, M. C. 17th District, Texas

Those who have served in the Navy, and particularly aboard ship, will recall the saying, "if it moves, salute it; if it stands still, paint it."

Here in Washington another adage has developed. Where there is a problem, appoint a committee to study it. There are more committees and commissions making more studies and collecting more statistics than ever before. There just may be enough committees to come up with more solutions than there are problems.

Anyway, when no immediate solution is in sight the thing to do is appoint a committee or commission to look into it and file a report.

All Committees and Commissions eventually come up with some sort of finding, and it is filed—somewhere. There are a lot of them around taking up a lot of space, but it is not sure who reads them. If all these reports were placed end to end they would reach—a long way. Probably a commission should be set up to study just how far they reached. Maybe better, how big a bonfire they would make if stacked.

Studies have been made of Government paperwork; billions of pieces, occupying space needed for other reports—few are ever disposed of.

Out of these studies come statistics which, when published, become authentic references on the subject. Incidentally, some statistics are seemingly manufactured without studies, which is even more confusing. For instance, during the debate on the $40 million Rat Extermination Bill, its advocates said damage by rats came to $900 million annually and some 17,000 people are bitten each year. The figures cited in the debate on this measure came from Government witnesses before the Committee hearing the bill. After being recited and publicized a few times, they became as fact taken from Holy writ.

The individual congressman has no way of determining his own set of statistics so he is fed those from Government agencies which have conducted "studies" or estimated by the experts.

So, maybe a committee should be formed to study committees. A report might read: "It has been determined that the average committee is made up of people who have had five years of college, are married, having 1.6 children, earns $15,630 yearly, live in the suburbs, play tennis or golf on weekends and believe in a Divine being.

"The individual in the group will spend an average of 8.9

months having the report typed up by 5.6 secretaries and then it will be printed and distributed to 1206 people, of whom 5.4 percent will read it in its entirety."

Finally, the reports will be filed away and used as reference for other people who will be asked to make a future study on the same subject. This means that the real purpose of a study is not to solve a problem but to postpone the solution in the hope it will go away. If it does not go away, at least most people will have forgotten it by the time the report comes out.

In fact, there is some pretty interesting information based on certain studies. A few years ago it was determined how much space each person would have if all the people in the world were placed in the State of Texas. The answer was something like 40 x 50 feet, which really is a surprising amount for 3 billion guests.

Studies, however, have yet to be made on where the swallows come from which return to Capistrano on March 19 every year. Then too, somebody should find out how flies can find a boat when it is 30 or 40 miles from land.

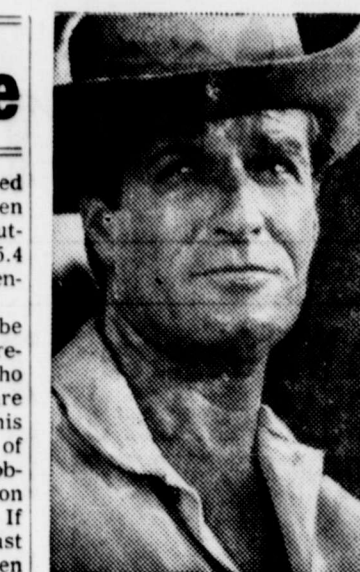

These are interesting subjects, but some time or other a study in depth would seem justified on the matter of population movements in the United States to see how a more orderly pattern of population growth could be better encouraged. The imbalance of population, by reason of opportunity, portends a more serious situation than exists today.

HUGH O'BRIAN plays Jim Sinclair, a cowboy brought to Africa to help preserve the quickly disappearing wild animals of the continent, in "Africa—Texas Style!" an Ivan Tors Production for Paramount, at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre. The film makes its point with a thrilling and action-packed story that only adds to the authentic Kenyan locations and the untamed animals used to round out the supporting cast. Filmed entirely in Kenya, the color film also stars John Mills.

Keep Boat Numbers Visible
Boaters who are in the process of refinishing their craft are reminded not to forget to repaint the registration number. Letters should be clearly separated from the numbers and the solid part of the letters and numbers should show plenty of contrast with the color of the hull.

Fish Hideaway—Cleaning some big logs off your lake front property? Don't burn them or have them hauled away. Instead attach some weights and sink them in the lake. They will form a haven and hiding place for small bait fish which in turn will lure those big lunker bass almost to your doorstep. Be sure to sink the logs in deep water where they will be no menace to boating.

Lantern Lures Fish—Try this trick for some fast crappie and perch action at night. Rig a gas-mantle lantern four or five feet above the water and about 20 feet from the shoreline. The light will attract bugs and fish. The bugs will fly against the lantern and then drop stunned on the water. These floating bugs then will stir the perch and crappie into wild feeding.

"The 25th Hour"

"The 25th Hour," Carlo Ponti's newest production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer with Anthony Quinn and Virna Lisi in the leading roles, is one of the year's outstanding motion pictures. A compelling drama marked by compassion, warmth and insight and varying in its impact from earthy humor to scenes of gripping intensity, the film is based on C. Virgil Gheorghiu's highly-praised novel of a simple Rumanian peasant, happily married to the lovely Suzanna, wanting nothing more than to be left to run his farm but made a victim of persecution and injustice when he is caught up in the vortex of war.

"Hud" winner of three Academy Awards, is an uncompromisingly realistic film about a present day ranching family on the Texas Panhandle. Starring Paul Newman and Academy Award winners Melvyn Douglas and Patricia Neal, "Hud" will probably rank as one of the outstanding dramatic achievements of American motion pictures.

The plot revolves around Hud, a brutal and selfish individual who can also turn on the charm, if he thinks it can gain him something. Hud cares nothing for the traditions of his birthplace—he would rather hot-rod over the country in his Cadillac, and carouse with other men's wives.

"Africa-Texas Style!"

Ivan Tors' Production of "Africa-Texas Style!" the Paramount Pictures Release in color Sunday and Monday at the Fiesta Theatre, takes place in Kenya, which, as far as Tors is concerned, means it had to be filmed in Kenya.

And, since the film deals with game-ranching, the capture, domestication and breeding of wild game in captivity, that's exactly what Tors insisted on for the film.

Already tamed animals were offered and promptly refused. Every animal in "Africa-Texas Styles," had to be captured specifically for the picture. Instead of a captive audience, this Tors film has a captive cast.

Camera Care—A plastic bag is ideal for protecting your camera. But remember that the inside of the bag can "sweat" as the temperature changes. So, stuff the bottom of the bag with several dry, paper towels. Then, after the camera is inserted, press out as much surplus air as possible. Lack of air will reduce "sweating." And the paper towels will absorb any reasonable amount of moisture that may form.

District 5-AA Size Increased, 3 Schools Added

Football teams from schools assigned to District 5-AA will play seven conference games next year—and the next—instead of the five which have been scheduled the past two years.

The district has grown to eight members, with three schools added and one dropped from the conference lineup.

Coming into the district from 8-AA will be Ballinger, Coleman and Merkel; reclassified as a AAA school will be Colorado City. Members of District 5-AA beginning with the football season next fall will be Ballinger, Coleman, Anson, Hamlin, Haskell, Stamford, Merkel and Winters.

District assignments were announced last week by the University Interscholastic League, and will stand for two years.

A meeting of administrators of the district was to have been held Wednesday night of this week, at which time schedules for next fall's football play were to have been drawn up.

Carroll Tatom, Winters Superintendent of Schools, said the first of the week and the school is presently negotiating with other schools outside the district for the three non-conference games which will be played during the next two years. He said that Winters will be unable to contract with either Lake View or Colorado City for games because those two schools are in District 3-AAA, a big district where all games will be conference contests.

AROUND THE 5-AA FOOTBALL LOOP

There are two undefeated, untied teams left in District 5-AA—but it won't be that way long.

Haskell and Hamlin are neck-and-neck in the league, and will meet this week at Haskell to see who's who. This will be the biggest AA contest in the area this week end.

None of the games this Friday night will be championship deciders, but they will be almost certain indications of who's going to be in the last running for the title.

Stamford also is a contender, and a strong one, third team to be undefeated in conference play in the district. Stamford took Colorado City, 35-0 last week. The Bulldogs visit Winters this week. Anson, who dropped their second conference tilt 21-11 to Haskell last week, will play the Colorado City Wolves, who are playing their last season in AA football before being kicked upstairs to AAA starting next year.

For the first time in seven years, the Hamlin Pied Pipers finally dined Winters last Friday night. They came from behind in the last 30 seconds to do it. So the Blizzards could pull some surprises on an unwary Stamford squad this week.

Blizzards Lose Squeaker To Hamlin For First Time In Seven Years

The Winters Blizzards lost a close decision to the undefeated Hamlin Pied Pipers last Friday night in district action. It was Hamlin's first victory over the Blue in seven years.

Fans who made the trip to Hamlin were treated to an exciting, hard fought game as the Blizzards' defenders did a fine job of stopping Phillip Simpson, leading scorer in the West Texas area.

Hamlin opened the scoring in the first quarter by driving 72 yards in eight plays with tailback Simpson going over from the 25. Extra point attempt was good and the pipers led 7-0.

The alert Winters defense came alive in the second quarter when Mike Kozelsky intercepted a screen pass and returned it 35 yards for a quick and surprising TD. The extra point attempt was low and the Blue trailed 7-6.

The pipers were threatening the Winters goal line when Randall Boies intercepted a flat zone pass and behind beautiful interference, sped 85 yards and into the end zone for the go-ahead score. Boies also added the two point conversion play as he circled left end and plunged over the goal. The Blizzards carried a 14-7 lead to the dressing room at half time.

Mid-way in the third quarter, Winters offense once again trailed 6-14 in first downs and 7-232 in yards gained. Winters also led in penalties.

Local Federated Clubs Tour Austin

Representatives of the Diversity, and the Literary and Service Clubs journeyed to Austin October 21.

The first stop was at the beautiful Georgian Colonial club house, of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. We were graciously received by the hostess, Mrs. Vivian McCracken, who took us on a tour of the building, after which we enjoyed coffee and snacks in the Art Gallery. We also had the privilege of viewing the art display of Jackie Zweiger, Port Arthur, artist.

The club structure was built in 1932, so that the club women would have a place to hold their own conventions, a place to foster Fine Arts, a place to carry on the details of the organization, a place to store club records, and a place for club women to have as their own.

The furnishings for the club house have come at various times and from many, many different sources — yet they are tastefully arranged and made into one of the show places of the Capitol city.

We came away from the clubhouse feeling that the welcome mat was always out for the club women of the state.

We took a chartered bus tour to many places of interest in the city. Zilker Gardens were indescribably beautiful in their Autumn hues of red, orange, yellow, brown, and green. The Swedish Frontier Cabin, with its many antiques, was very interesting; also the spot for the proposed Biblical Gardens. The highlight of this stop was the tour of the new Garden Center building. Here we saw a lovely display of more than 200 African Violet plants.

We drove through Austin's residential areas, where we saw the blend of the old and the new. Patios and picture windows keynote much of the residential architecture. Along the shores of Lake Austin we saw many split-level houses, that seemed to be hanging from the mountain side.

We were especially interested in three of the houses we saw. First, the Governor's Mansion. It is one of the best known of the old southern type buildings. The Mansion is closed on Saturday. We could only look from the outside. Another house, that attracted our attention, was the Pease Mansion. It was built in 1853, and was sold to former Gov. Pease in 1857. It is now the home of former Gov. Allen Shivers.

Luci and Pat Nugent's house was also pointed out to us.

Another interesting stop was at Laguna Gloria, a 5 1/2 acre estate on Lake Austin. This estate was donated to the Texas Fine Arts Association in 1943, by Mrs. Clara Driscoll, a well-known club woman, and civic leader.

The focal point of this scenic spot is The Spanish Villa, which is Texas Fine Arts Association headquarters. In this building we saw a Modern Art exhibit.

Another highlight of our day was the visit to the Capitol building. While visiting with the hostess in the House of Representatives we watched the Peaceniks march up Congress Avenue to the Capitol grounds.

After leaving Austin we went to Johnson City to see the president's birthplace, his boyhood home, "The Little White House" and the Johnson's family cemetery.

The drive through the Hill Country was very invigorating, and the Autumn colors were beautiful.

Blizzards Lose Squeaker To Hamlin For First Time In Seven Years

The Pied Pipers kicked a 30-yard field goal to narrow the Blizzards margin to 14-10.

The fourth quarter began with Winters recovering a Hamlin fumble and mounting their first sustained drive. Led by runs by Reese McCuiston and Robert Moore, the Blue scored from 10 yards out on a reverse by James Greer. Kick failed once again and the Blizzards had a seemingly safe 20-10 lead.

However, the lead dwindled in 20 seconds when Hamlin's Phillip Simpson took the kickoff and darted and twisted 85 yards for the touchdown. He then ran the extra point over to make it 20-18.

With 30 seconds left, the Blizzards found themselves backed up almost on their own goal on a clipping penalty. Quarterback McCuiston tried a sneak play and on a questionable call by the officials, the Hamlin players came up with the ball. This was the beginning of the end for Winters. After three tries at the goal line, Hamlin was faced with fourth down. Their field goal kicker, Hastings, booted a 25-yard field goal to put them in the lead 21-20. At this point the clock ran out.

The Blizzards' defensive unit, led by Danny Killough, Robert Moore, Mike Kozelsky, Donald Wade and Arlon Barnes, played a tough, aggressive game. Barnes led the tacklers with 12 followed by Wade and Killough with 10 each.

Winters offense once again trailed 6-14 in first downs and 7-232 in yards gained. Winters also led in penalties.

Victory Club Women Observe 40th Anniversary of Organization

The hostesses for the homecoming covered dish luncheon were Mesdames Mattie Rives, Tom Stanley, H. E. White, V. A. White and Bill Cole. The club was organized in April 1927, as one of the first home demonstration clubs in the county, under the direction of Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth, Runnels County Home Demonstration agent. The home demonstration club was one of the outstanding clubs in the county and continued to be quite active in the home demonstration program until September 2, 1952, when they voted to discontinue the HDC program, but remain as a social club to be known as the Victory Club.

At the meeting Saturday a short program was held and following the lunch a social hour was spent in reminiscing.

was appointed chairman of the meeting and conducted the business of organizing the club. The charter members were as follows: President, Mrs. Jim Eoff; vice president, Miss Viola Yeates; Secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. M. Hickson; reporter, Mrs. J. W. Adams.

Lutheran Band, which will appear in Winters Feb. 3. Plans also were made for officers to attend the workshop in Midland. These officers later will hold a workshop in Winters and plans will be made for the study and projects in 1968. Miss Helen Lisso gave the offering meditation.

Pedestrian Territory

Peddaling his bicycle along the sidewalk, a delivery boy collided with a woman shopper as she emerged from a market. Painfully injured, the woman filed a damage suit against the boy's employer.

But in court, the company denied liability.

"It is true that our boy didn't see her. Neither one was watching, so it is a standoff." However, the court ordered the company to pay the woman's claim. The judge reasoned that, since sidewalks are "pedestrian territory," and the bicycle rider had a greater duty than the woman to keep a lookout.

As a rule, the pedestrian on a sidewalk enjoys a privileged status. He is entitled to protection not only against the wayward bicyclist but also against the intruding motorist.

A motorist, backing down his driveway, kept his head out the window. But he looked straight behind him, not to either side. Nor did he sound his horn. Sure enough, his car struck an elderly pedestrian, approaching unseen on the sidewalk.

Result: the motorist was held liable for the accident.

"In the use of a public sidewalk," said the court, "a pedestrian has a superior right of way over an automobile."

In fact, the pedestrian is protected even against other pedestrians who disregard sidewalk etiquette. Thus, a man won damages after being bowled over by a youth scampering along the sidewalk without looking. The judge commented:

"Human legs, like an automobile, when used carelessly may be dangerous."

On the other hand, a pedestrian's own negligence—that is, something worse than just a moment's inattention—may count against him in court.

In one case, a woman sued the city after tripping over a slight break in the sidewalk. But it turned out that she had been walking with her gaze firmly fixed on a parade passing in the street. Holding her negligent, the court said:

"Ordinary care required the plaintiff to take some note of her own surrounds."

FROM CALIFORNIA

Oliver of Los Angeles are visiting in the home of their sister, Mrs. Lora Coupland and will leave on a tour of the east this week, making stops at Little Rock, Arkansas; Murphy, North Carolina; Athens, Georgia and Jackson, Alabama. Minnows Need Oxygen—Lack of oxygen often kills bait even in a live bait well. This can occur frequently in hot weather and even with water circulating in the well. Insure keeping your bait alive by inserting an O-Tab or two in the well. These tabs, which can be purchased in most tackle stores, release oxygen in the water and last for several hours.

The Ballinger Club had a short business meeting and closed the program with a baggy dress parade.

Tuesday, October 17, was club day in Winters High School. This week the GALE is publishing the reports of the various club and organizational meetings as written by the reporters of the several clubs.

Blue Northern Library Club

By Martha Porter

The Blue Northern Library Club met in the Gale Room second period on October 17, with Gayla Beall, president, calling the meeting to order.

A discussion of rings and pins was carried on. The motion was voted on and carried.

After this discussion the meeting was adjourned while some of the members stayed to straighten the Gale Room and the Library.

FHA

By Melba Lewis

The Winters Future Homemakers met Tuesday, Club Day, in the auditorium for a regular meeting. The program consisted of a short discussion on cheating led by panel members Linda Tischler, Zola Crowley, Linda Maas, and Melba Lewis.

Afterwards, during our business session, we elected Dick McNeill as our club sweetheart. Elected as mascots were Ketta Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Walker of Wingate, and David Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Cooper, of Winters. Mrs. John Benson will be head club mother for the year. Other club mothers will be Mrs. James R. Brown, representing a freshman member, and Mrs. Prine, the sophomore club members.

Two other club mothers will be elected later in a called meeting.

Student Council Meets

By Becky Mathis

The Student Council met Tuesday, October 17 in the auditorium. Danny Killough called the meeting to order.

The minutes were read and old and new business was discussed. A discussion was held about the District Convention, which is to be held in Winters on October 21.

The committees reported on their progress and the lunch menu was read to the members. The meeting was then adjourned.

College Night

Tuesday, October 18, approximately 27 students and parents from Winters and Wingate attended the annual college night sponsored by Ahilene and Cooper High Schools, on the AHS campus.

A short conference was held in the auditorium and visitors there attended three conferences with representatives from about 55 colleges and universities. Sessions were 30 minutes in length in which time was allowed for a short sketch of the college and a question and answer session.

Senior Class Meeting

By Gene Templeton

The Senior Class held a short meeting in the auditorium Tuesday, October 17. An election was held and five candidates were chosen for the DAR Good Citizen Award. The five candidates names will be turned over to a faculty committee. The committee will then choose the winner.

The seniors were also reminded of the class dues to be paid before report cards are issued.

Cindy Antilly then passed out the annual pictures. Many a moan and a groan was heard—except from those who were not laughing. Pictures were to be returned by Friday.

Seniors going to the College Night at Ahilene High stayed after the meeting for a short meeting with the counselor and the Principal.

Dallas State Fair

The Future Farmers of America boys and sponsors who went to the fair are as follows: David Carroll, Randy Bredemeyer, Michael O'Dell, Charles Brown, Allen Mills, Randall Sneed, Jim Morrow, Mr. Hudson White, Mr. R. T. O'Dell, Mr. J. L. Morrow and vocational agriculture teacher, Mr. James Smith.

Fifteen lambs were taken to the state fair on October 16th. The lambs showed on October 18th, started at 8:00 a. m. and ended at 6:00 p. m. Their lambs that placed are as follows: in the fine wool contest Randall Sneed placed sixth in the Dorsett crossbred class, and Jim Morrow placed fifth in the Dorsett Purebred Class. In Suffolk Crossbred contest Dick McNeill placed seventh and ninth. In the Suffolk purebred contest Charles Brown placed third, Randy Bredemeyer placed second, Randall Sneed placed third and fourth. Allen Mills placed sixth and fourthteen. In the Hampshire purebred David Carroll and Jim Morrow placed. In the Southdown crossbred contest Hudson White placed first in his class.

The Winters F.F.A. had an outstanding group of lambs this year for the state fair. Every one of the fifteen lambs placed in their respective classes. The chapter hopes to go far this year with it's lambs that are on hand.

The Alpha Chi F.T.A. is sponsoring a money making project to help finance an African student who is eager to continue his education. This project is the chapter's major activity for this year.

The project includes the selling of School Records, which are books containing pages and envelopes for each grade, kindergarten through grade 12.

Because each parent needs a safe place for keeping his child's important school-day memories, such as report cards, medical records, photos, and keepsakes, members of Alpha Chi F.T.A. believe this to be definitely a worthwhile project.

Anyone desiring to participate in this activity may secure a copy of the record by contacting a member of F.T.A. or Mrs. Charles Kruse or Mr. David Ledbetter, the local advisors of F.T.A.

neither does he. Somehow, though, the family becomes resigned to the fact that dad has a job to do; and, because of it, he won't be around much.

At some juncture in his career, however, he suddenly realizes the wife is getting grey and the kids grown up. Where did all those years go to?

As an athletic coach, the man must be rooted deeply in the fundamentals of the sport he is trying to teach. Beyond that, he must be an amateur psychologist, father, confessor, a diplomat, and often a baby-sitter.

All coaches are human, but on occasion are expected to be super-human. He must lead an exemplary life off the court or athletic field and always champion the cause of good sportsmanship.

Some coaches thrive on the pressure. Others become old fast because of it. At the high school level the coach is a teacher first and a coach after hours.

Most schools pay an extra stipend for coaching. But a man is not hired just to coach. He must be a qualified teacher first, instructing in math, chemistry or some other academic subject.

He may be a top-notch teacher with a so-so coaching record, but it is the latter he hears most about because his teams are always on display, good or bad.

Some fellow faculty members may hold him in contempt, but he soon comes to understand this is the price he pays for occasionally having a team good enough to get the headlines or attract attention of the public.

The coach discovers early that athletic fame is fleeting. Last year's championship doesn't count when a new season rolls around. This, too, must be imported to his athletes. And how do you go about telling a boy that the trophies of yesterday are already tarnished?

A bleak job? To some extent, yes. But there are rewards in coaching. Helping to develop boys is the basic challenge and worthy of the best a man has to offer. While winning the next game is the immediate goal, the real satisfaction for a coach doesn't come until later—when the athletes are out on their own. When an ex-athlete remembers something his old high school coach said or did and this helps him along the way, the pressure, long hours, and cold suppers have paid off. (WIAA Bulletin) sponsors, reminded the club that Winters Chapter will be in charge of the District XI Mr. and Miss F.T.A. contest this year. Also, Mrs. Kruse presented other information about the District Convention. The chapter members then discussed the proposal to make $100 to help an African boy continue his education. After much thought the members elected to raise the money and send it to the boy. Because of the need for more money the chapter decided to present a play. The president named the following committee to select the play: Zola Crowley, Darrell Hill, Rhone Hoppe, Bill Grantz, Rusty Nichols, and Bill Baldwin. The meeting was then adjourned.

VFW and Auxiliary To Sponsor Heart Films Locally

Winters Post 9193, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and its Ladies Auxiliary unit, have added another program to their Community Service Projects, according to Mr. W. L. Collins, community service chairman.

The local veterans organization has sponsored the Heart Fund drive locally for the past six years. Now, through the cooperation of the Texas Heart Association, —programs and films are being offered for presentation to citizens of this area.

Al Campbell of San Angelo, regional director of the Heart Association, will present a variety of programs, lasting from 15 minutes to one hour, Mrs. Collins said.

One of the films, "Smoking and Your Heart," is now being used in the Winters schools in connection with the health program. Coach L. G. Wilson is in charge of presenting the film.

Campbell recently presented a program for the District Garden Club in the home of Mrs. Floyd Sims.

Any club or group interested should contact Mrs. Collins after 5 p. m. at 754-4131, at least a week in advance of planned showing, so that a program may be scheduled.

County Historical Committee To Be Honored

They will also be guests at the Quota Buster's breakfast in the same room on Saturday morning.

Methodists To Take Offering For Beulah Victims

This Sunday, Oct. 29, Methodist throughout most of Texas will have the opportunity to give to a special offering to assist in areas where the recent Hurricane Beulah left her destruction.

The date for the offering has been announced by Bishop W. Kenneth Pope, of Dallas, in cooperation with those bishops in whose jurisdiction the damaged areas lie.

Bishop Pope stated that it is the responsibility of all Methodists to assist in this time of tragic need. This offering will be administered through a committee set up by Bishop Eugene Slater of San Antonio and Bishop Paul Martin of Houston. Bishop Martin presides over the Rio Grande Conference, a Latin-American Conference, whose churches were especially hard hit.

The offering will be used in many ways, including helping to repair damaged church property, since most of the damage was done by flooding, which insurance usually does not cover, the announcement said.
