HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

A few years ago, Dr. Bob Jarvis of Georgetown, a well-known and prolific traveler of the state's banquet circuit, was guest speaker at a Winters Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Not only did this after-dinner speaker make an impression on those in attendance at that banquet, but the Winters banquet made a lasting impression on the speaker. The last phrase is an understatement, in fact, because a speaker of Dr. Jarvis' caliber is subject to a wide demand. It would seem, then, that all the affairs he attends each year would tend to run together, and that it would be difficult for him to single out one particular event. Not so—in this instance, anyway.

Some time back Dr. Jarvis was addressing a convention of school lunchroom supervisors in Austin. Before he began his talk, he called for Mrs. J. B. Whitlow of Winters to stand and be recognized. He went on to explain to his audience that some time back he had attended a banquet in Winters, and that Mrs. Whitlow had been responsible for the outstanding meal served. He said that it was the most enjoyable banquet meal he had had in all his travels. He even went so far as to name each item on the menu Mrs. Whitlow had prepared.

Now most of us have attended all kinds of dinners and banquets, all over the country. And almost without exception, they are nice affairs, with well-prepared and attractive meals. After all, a banquet is a banquet—something special—and they're expected to be nice; and we all take them in stride, expecting just that. So it is stimulating—now that we're old hands at attending one of Mrs. Whitlow's banquets—to watch someone who never before has had that pleasure, enter the hall she has made ready. Mrs. Whitlow and her staff take a lot of pains in preparing for a dinner of this kind; a special way of presenting the many foods. Real nice!

The planets move in their courses with wonderful precision. Thus, while it is impossible to render more than an educated guess on what may occur in the affair of man within these next few weeks, it may be said with absolute certainty that a happy natural occurrence took place on March 20—Spring arrived. On that day, the rhythm of nature entered another cycle. Subtle changes took place. The sun rose earlier. Sun set was appreciably later than the day before. New freshness came on the land.

As Spring mellows into early summer, the thoughts of most of us will turn toward the mountains, the lakes and the seashores, where the mantle of winter has receded. The boats, the campers, water skis and motor scooters will soon flood the highways, and the human assault on nature's sensibilities will once again be underway.

The healing powers of Spring are now covering many of the scars of last season's carnage—the beer cans, the broken bottles, the garbage of last year is to some extent mercifully hidden in new growth. The parks, the seashores, the lakes are now being reborn under the magic touch of Spring. Man, if he would only do so in a humble gesture of appreciation, could help nature keep the land beautiful. He could be a little more tidy in his travels this summer. Spring might well be a time of good resolutions, as well as young men's fancies.

What? You say a cold wind was blowing, with rain and mist in the air? You say the temperature was in the lower 30s March 20—the first day of Spring? Guess we unheated too quick! (Note to typesetter: Please save this to be run some time in April.)

Duplicate Bridge Club To Be Formed At Country Club

Mrs. John Edward McAdoo, chairman of the group, urges all those who would like to join to be present.

Jerry Gibson New Coach At W.H.S.

JERRY GIBSON
... From Abilene

Jerry Gibson, assistant coach at Abilene High School, since last September, has been hired as head coach and athletic director at Winters High School.

He was selected by the Winters School Board Monday night and will report for his new assignment April 15, Superintendent of Schools Carroll Tatom said.

Gibson succeeds Coach L. G. Wilson, who is going to Floydada as head coach.

Gibson graduated from Abilene Christian College in 1964 and was quarterback for the Wildcats for almost two years. After graduation, he coached two years at Lee Junior High School, San Angelo, and was varsity backfield and defensive secondary coach at Central High School, San Angelo. He went to Abilene last year.

He was an all-state quarterback at Breckenridge where he was a student from 1956 to 1959. Also while in Breckenridge High School, he was state champion in boy's declamation in 1959, and recipient of an athletic award as a letterman with highest scholastic average. He graduated third in a class of 93 at Breckenridge High School.

In college, he was a member of Galaxy Men's Social Club, Letterman's Club, and received honorable mention as an All-Texas college quarterback.

He is married and has two sons, ages 6 and 2.

Hurry! Avoid Rush! One Week To Register Car

Up at the Winters sub-office of the Runnels County Tax Assessor Collector, they're getting ready for the last minute rush!

There is only one more week before the April 1st deadline to get new registration plates for automobiles and commercial vehicles, and Mrs. Ted Meyer, deputy tax collector in the Winters office, said she expects a last day-minute rush. She has registered 650 passenger cars so far, she said, and many commercial and farm vehicles, but there are many to be registered yet.

One reason for the slowness in car registrations has been weather conditions, it was noted. People just do not feel like doing something like registering vehicles when it is cold and raining, and the wind blowing.

Mrs. Meyer said if fleet owners would bring their titles and other necessary papers in and leave them, these could be processed during slow times.

As usual, though, a last-day rush is expected. Car owners are urged to come in before the last day so that registration can be expedited and time can be saved.

3-Month's Rain About Half of Annual Average

The first quarter of 1968 is not quite over, but the total amount of moisture received in Winters for the first three months is about half of the annual average.

Through Tuesday night of this week, the unofficial measurement has been recorded at 13.8 inches. The average for the five previous years is slightly more than 28 inches. Wettest of these five years was 1965 when 33.1 inches of rainfall was recorded. The year with the least amount of rainfall measured was 1963, with only 24.5 inches. These figures are all unofficial; there is no official weather station in Winters.

This first quarter of 1968 is the wettest like period in many years, according to many. Many people who have been in this area for as much as half a century say they can't recall when this type of weather conditions prevailed during the months of January, February and March.

Norton Students To See Safety Program Mar. 27

Students of Norton school will have an opportunity at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday, March 27, to see for themselves how the false impression and sense of security that a driver of an automobile gets, can and does often lead into the danger zone and trouble, when they participate in a series of driving tests.

The principal, John Hobaugh, said the tests will be in two parts, under the direction of Ben Fullard, assistant safety director of the Texas Farm Bureau.

The first section will be a short talk and film on traffic safety, while the second will be a demonstration on a street near the school.

High point of the demonstration will be driving tests made by various students and faculty members in a specially equipped car. An electric detonator which is mounted on the front bumper of the car will fire yellow paint bullets to indicate the distance required to stop the car in an emergency.

The driver being tested will be signalled to stop by the report of the first shell. The second will be fired automatically when the brake is applied, and the third when the car halts. Distance between the spots of paint will then be measured to determine the reaction, braking and total stopping distances.

As part of the program for safety on the highway, the Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department presented this driving demonstration 196 times for 44,000 students during the 1966-67 school year. Over 750 programs have been given since 1967.

The program is being brought to Norton under the sponsorship of the Runnels County Farm Bureau. The public is invited to attend.

Winters Schools Designate Dates For "Make-Up"

The original schedule for the 1967-68 school year set May 22 as the last day of school for Winters. But ice and snow has changed all that.

Two days of school were lost because of the bad weather, and to meet State requirements for so many days of school in a year, the administration had to extend the school year.

School will continue through May 23 and 24—Thursday and Friday—with students returning to pick up report cards, Superintendent Carroll Tatom said.

Winters Archers To Hold Open House On Sunday

The Runnels County Archery Association will hold open house at their outdoor range Sunday, March 24. The range is located below the dam south of the new Winters Lake about four miles east of Winters. The open house will begin at 9 a. m. and continue until about 5 p. m.

Access to the archery range can only be made from the Novice Highway, because the road across the spillway area west of the dam has been made impassable by the recent overflows.

An archery tournament will be held in conjunction with the open house, according to Marvin Clark, secretary of the association. Archers from over a wide area of the state are expected to be present for the tournament, and local people will be given an opportunity to watch a tournament, Clark said.

The local archery range has recently been inspected by a representative of the Texas Field Archery Association, local association officers said. Jake Bentley of Abilene, state field captain, has given a "Four-Star" rating to the Winters archery range. Bob Wilson of the local association said this rating is "high," and that the Winters range is among the best in the state.

There will be a concession stand open during the open house.

Field Exam Is Scheduled For Elm Creek Dist.

Engineers from the State Soil Conservation Commission are scheduled to conduct a field examination of the area contained in the Elm Creek Water Control District during the third week in April.

The field examination will be to determine the feasibility of construction of water retardation and flood control structures on the watersheds of Elm Creek and Coyote Creek, located in the eastern part of Runnels County and in South Taylor County, according to members of the board of directors of the District.

Members of the board of the District, local soil conservation district members, and other interested persons will accompany the field examination team in the survey of the territory. The survey will be made to determine the extent of damage done by floods in the past, and the amount of damage by erosion in so-called non-flood areas.

Woodrow Hoffman, Soil Conservation Service technician and members of his staff, met with the District board of directors Tuesday night and explained that in many instances, flood and erosion damage is much higher than is supposed by many. This is because many people tend to "forget the little instances of damage to fences, etc., during what may be termed minor flood conditions," he said. But these "minor damages" usually run much higher over a period of a few short years than people realize, he said.

Following the field examination in April, technicians will evaluate the information gathered and will hold meetings with the property owners in the district to gather further information regarding the "desire" of the public for some sort of program.

In the regular meeting of the board of directors Tuesday night at the Winters City Hall, the directors appointed The Winters State Bank as the official depository of the district. The district, which was officially formed by the last session of the State Legislature, has been operating without funds during the past several months of formal organization. However, the Winters Chamber of Commerce and the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce each pledged $50 to the district to take care of small expenses incidental to the administration of the district.

Also at the Tuesday night meeting, Hoffman and members of his staff showed a film and slides of work done in similar districts in the state, including the Valley Creek Water Control District which is located in the western section of Runnels County, South Taylor County, and Nolan County.

Guest speaker for the annual banquet meeting was Berl Huffman, freshman coach at Texas Technological College. He challenged the group to join together in service for the community. "Service to our community is the rent we pay for our space on earth," he said.

Huffman said that "the chamber of commerce movement is more in need in every community than it ever was before; the job is so much bigger than it has ever been." He said that "Chamber of Commerce people are lifters, and we need to convert more lifters."

Neal Oakes, retiring president of the chamber of commerce, introduced the other members of the board of directors who are retiring. They include E. E. Vaughan, Gene Wheat, James Spill and Oakes. Oakes thanked the entire board for their work during the past year and pledged further cooperation to the new board.

Richard C. Thomas, incoming president of the Chamber of Commerce, introduced the new directors, including Preston Barker, vice president, Mrs. Frances Campbell, treasurer; Ellis Zane Moore, Mrs. Earl Roach, and Wayne Bedford. Holdover directors are Thomas, Edward H. Otwell, Oscar Funderburg Jr., Dale Whitecotton and Robert Fenton. Mrs. Emma Marks is secretary and acting manager of the chamber of commerce.

CARD OF THANKS

Our recent sad loss of our loved one, Earl Awalt leaves us with grateful hearts toward our relatives and host of dear friends and neighbors for their acts of kindness and words of sympathy. For the beautiful floral offering, the meals that were prepared and served at the Church and at the home. A special thanks to Rev. Otwell for his wonderful words of comfort and the choir for their singing, to Ted Meyer and his staff at the funeral home, to the men of the American Legion and to Larry Cook for his blowing of taps for the service at the cemetery. We want each and every one to know that we are deeply grateful. The Family of Earl Awalt. Itp.

WASHINGTON

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman
17th District

To speculate what may happen in the November elections is about as certain as an amateur prognosticator predicting what the weather will be eight months hence.

The possibility, however, is that the election of the next President of the United States could be thrown into the House of Representatives. The case for such is no longer theoretical. Conditions which could bring it about are showing more substantially.

Should this occur, the decision would certainly not be in conformity with the "one man, one vote" rule laid down by the Supreme Court placing more political strength in the populated areas.

In such an event, each of the fifty states would have one vote. Alaska, for instance, with 272,000 citizens would have the same vote as Texas with its 11,000,000 and Delaware with one vote equal to more than 19,000,000 people of California.

Even the possibility of such a situation points up the great need to amend the Constitution abolishing the Electoral College and provide for the election of the President and Vice President by more democratic processes. It is much too late for such action to avert the possibility of the President being elected in 1968 by the House of Representatives and the Vice President by the U. S. Senate but with the splinter parties, likely to increase instead of decrease, reform should be brought about before another Presidential election.

The experience of 1948 should have been a lesson. In that election there were really four parties and four pretty important Presidential candidates. There was Mr. Truman as the Democrat, Thomas E. Dewey as the Republican, Senator Strom Thurmond of South Carolina as the "States Rights Party" candidate and Henry Wallace on the "peace" ticket.

A change of less than 0.6 per cent of the popular vote from President Truman in only two States would have shifted the election into the House of Representatives.

THE WINTERS ENTERPRISE
Winters, Texas
Friday, March 22, 1968

Henry Wallace did not carry a single State but was perhaps controlling in taking New York, Michigan and Maryland away from the Democratic candidate.

There is a feeling among some expert politicians that political opinion now dividing the Country causes the possibility to be greater in 1968 than it was twenty years ago. Some pretty astute political writers are already cautiously predicting that no Presidential candidate in this year's election will be able to get an adequate popular vote to assure a majority in the Electoral College. In this event only two things could happen—either some electors would have to defect and act contrary to the voters who selected them or have a deadlock, throwing the whole thing into the U. S. House of Representatives.

Some political analysts say there are more signs pointing to a deadlock situation this year than in the Truman-Dewey-Thurmond-Henry Wallace year. One reason given is that Thurmond's counterpart, George Wallace of Alabama, shows far more strength in that slot than was shown in 1948. In that year the combined vote of Thurmond and Henry Wallace was 4.78 per cent of the total. The polls are now giving George Wallace around 12 per cent or 2 1/2 times greater than the two splinter parties got in 1948.

Alaska, Delaware, Nevada, Vermont and Wyoming have only one Member each in the House of Representatives. Each of their votes would equal that of California with 38 Members of Texas with 23. Borderline States where political sentiment shifts from year to year are keeping close watch on these developments. It is to be assumed that the one unit vote of any State's Delegation in Congress would be cast for the controlling Party's Presidential candidate.

The 1968 elections appear to have new dimensions of importance.

All those candidates for governor got a hefty bit of pressure off them when both the state Democratic and Republican executive committees decided to put the question of liquor-by-the-drink on the May 4 ballot.

With increasing concern over liquor-law enforcement and the Texas Liquor Control Board, coupled with Gov. John Connally's push for liquor-by-the-drink, gubernatorial candidates have been pressured hard for their stand on the issue.

Now, with the question being put to the voters in a referendum, all the candidates have to say is that they will abide by the wishes of the voters.

Also on the ballot are referendums will be the question of pari-mutuel horse-race betting and the creation of a Texas dairy products commission.

Although none of the voters' answers to the three questions will be binding, the issues do assure a high turnout of the more than 4,000,000 registered voters. It will take an act of the Legislature to put any of them in effect. Ballots will merely say, "This proposition is only an expression of public opinion and has no force or effect as law."

Legislature directed the first-primary vote on local option pari-mutuel gambling. Petitions signed by 119,000 voters called for voter opinion on creating a Texas Dairy Commission with power to regulate milk prices.

Both party leaders decided the liquor-by-the-drink issue is hot enough to warrant a check on that, too. This referendum will be the first opportunity Texas voters have had to express their opinions statewide since the repeal of prohibition in the 1930s.

Campaigns already are shaping up on the high-voltage drinking and gambling issues. Opponents of a dairy commission are also organized for battle. Anti-Crime Council of Texas has formed to combat organized crime and defeat the racing proposition. Committee for Tourism and Regulated Sale of Mixed Drinks stands ready to get back into action. Dry spokesmen report they have organized to fight liquor-by-the-drink. Texas Racing Association is ready with a campaign for a wagering proposal.

Meanwhile, House committee studying liquor laws has asked for an attorney general's opinion on constitutionality of a mixed drink local option bill.

PARKS IMPROVED While finishing touches were applied to the $1,000,000 renovation of the Davis Mountains State Scenic Park near Fort Davis, new federal grants were approved for four other state parks.

Federal funds of $104,150 matched by a state appropriation of like amount will finance a 498-acre park 14 miles southwest of Cleburne.

Federal funds of $28,500, also matched by legislative appropriation, is earmarked for Mission San Francisco del Los Tejas Historic Park northwest of Crockett, a 118-acre historic park near Brownwood will get $117,150 federal money matched by the state for its 538-acre park.

Another federal grant of $99,900, matched by state funds, will create the 588-acre Bentzen-Rio Grande Valley State Scenic Park near Mission.

Dedication tentatively is set for March 28 of the Davis Mountains Park. Also slated for dedication by Governor Connally that same day at the Park is scenic Texas Mountain Trail, one of ten unveiled by Connally last January to lure tourists off the beaten path into Texas areas of outstanding beauty and historic interest.

SCREWORM CASES CUT

Texas' screwworm eradication program cut reported cases of infestation from 49,484 in 1962 to 1,219 in 1967. So reports Auditor C. H. Cavness in his audit of the Animal Health Commission.

Commission's share of the program has been turned over to the federal government except for security supervision of the Rio Grande Valley screwworm fly production plant and the required inspection force.

COURTS SPEAK

State won its $1,000 civil penalty suit against a Bellville Contractor under a water permit law. The road builder was first permanently enjoined from using public waters without permit from the Texas Water Rights Commission.

State Supreme Court denied rehearing of decision that Hillsboro cannot enforce a peddlers and vendors ordinance against an insurance company.

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a six-year probated sentence for a Houston lawyer who encouraged his client to lie on the witness stand.

Same court ordered a new trial for the man who received the death penalty for the shooting death of a potato chip salesman in Chambers County.

APPOINTMENTS

John Stokes of LuKin is the new executive director and special counsel for the Republican Party of Texas. He succeeds Al Allison of Dallas who resigned to accept a private business offer.

Gubernatorial candidate John Hill named Rep. Bob Armstrong of Austin as executive director of his statewide campaign.

Governor Connally appointed A. E. Fawcett Jr. of Houston and R. F. (Bob) Byers of Dallas to the Texas Water Well Drillers Board.

House Speaker Ben Barnes has appointed Rep. Delwin Jones of Lubbock as chairman of the House Interim Committee to study egg importation and grading.

John Peace of San Antonio, a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas System, has been appointed by Chairman Frank C. Erwin Jr. as a member of the Board for Lease of University Lands.

Rio Grande Valley cotton farmers have been given a 13-day planting extension (until April 13) because excessive rains and low soil temperatures have made planting impractical under the old schedule, says Agriculture Commissioner J. C. (John) White.

The Family Lawyer

Modest Witness

Scene: a court of law. Situation: a man is on trial for making an obscene telephone call to a young woman. Problem: must the young woman, when she takes the witness stand, repeat—word for word—what she was told on the telephone?

It can be embarrassing indeed. As one judge put it, she might have to say words "that any refined girl would blush to repeat to her most intimate friends."

Yet, the problem of modesty cannot be avoided if justice is to be done. In a case of criminal assault, the woman may be asked to describe what happened. In a case of accidental injury, a woman may be asked to reveal a part of her body not ordinarily exposed to public view.

Generally speaking, the law tries to respect a woman's modesty—not as a matter of gallantry but as a matter of encouraging women to take the witness stand in the first place. They will "testify with less reluctance," a court noted, "if relieved from the inhibitions imposed by the presence of a curiosity impelled audience."

How can the modest witness be protected? The most common method is to clear the courtroom while she is giving the embarrassing testimony. Another method, in case of bodily injury, is to have a doctor testify to the details—if necessary, with the aid of photographs.

A third possibility, when obscene language is involved, is to let the woman write the words down instead of speaking them out loud.

Unhappily, none of these methods is a perfect solution to the modesty problem. Clearing the courtroom raises questions of whether the accused person is getting the "public trial" guaranteed to him by the Constitution. Testimony by a doctor is useful in only a limited class of cases.

As for writing words down, that reduces the jury's ability to discern whether or not the witness is telling the truth. Because of these conflicting considerations, the law has usually avoided laying down any hard-and-fast rules. Instead, the trial judge is given broad discretion. After all, he is in the best position to decide which procedure, under the particular circumstances, makes the most sense.

Mrs. Cozby told of "Ministering to Language Groups." The challenge for 1,200 missionaries who work among 40 language groups number more than 30 million persons in America. We can serve and not be a "paid" worker for the Lord as being a willing worker for vacation Bible schools, in child care programs, teaching kindergarten. Being a missionary does not mean standing before a class witnessing, but become involved for service for Christ in your community.

"Good will is the disposition of a customer to return to the place of business where he has been well treated." This definition is from a high authority... the U. S. Supreme Court.

In all our dealings with depositors, we try to make it easy and pleasant for them to transact business here. Dependable service is expected by them as a matter of course. Beyond this there are many things which we may do - among them are expressions of appreciation for every confidence, keeping depositors' money safe and returning it to the rightful owners, lending money and many services which a bank can render.

The good will of our patrons is our most valuable asset. We appreciate the proven loyalty of tried and true friends and we always are ready to welcome new ones.

Runnels SC District Sponsoring National Wildlife Week

The Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District is joining with the National Wildlife Federation and other conservation groups in sponsoring Wildlife Week 1968, March 17-23. The theme, "Learn to Live With Nature," stresses the need for conservation education.

"People are sold on the idea of enjoying nature, but we must also sell them on the idea of learning to appreciate and care for all our natural resources," according to Jake Presley, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors of the local conservation district. "Conservation education," he said, "is an important part of any school program. It can also be a community project. People young and old should learn that they can help solve conservation problems such as erosion, water and air pollution, litter, endangered wildlife, and waste."

Television and motion picture star Dick Van Dyke is national honorary chairman for Wildlife Week. In announcing the observance, Van Dyke said that the amount of resources we have is limited, and every day more demands are placed upon them—that is why we must learn to live with nature—not in spite of it.

"One of the most important Wildlife Week themes we've ever had is this one of conservation education," Van Dyke said. "Everyone should learn to care for our natural resources. If we do not appreciate the value of clean water, fresh air, and a beautiful countryside, these things may disappear."

Blizzard Band

The Winters Blizzard band competed this last week end in the annual Brady Band Festival.

First, upon arrival the students were assigned homes to stay in while they were there. Then at 8:25 p. m. a concert with a Mexican influence theme was presented. After presentation of the award for best show band, the students attended a Sock Hop.

The next morning the band reassembled in a warm-up room before time to give its concert performance. Those numbers played were Pharo's March, From Foxen's Glen (an Irish rhapsody) and Toccatina for Band.

Next, came the Sight-reading portion which proved to be a difficult part. After this, the band students changed clothes and went to eat. When they returned from this, they had a quick marching rehearsal to prepare for the last phase of the Festival. Then all the bands marched in procession before the judges to be graded on style and ability to perform certain maneuvers. Last was the mass band playing before the Court House. Then came the announcing of the division winners. It was revealed that Winters had received first place (superior rating) in the Sight-reading contest, and would receive a trophy signifying that feat. Then the Festival was closed for another year and the bands dispersed. It was a very enjoyable time for the Winters band members and they all have many fond memories from that special weekend.

The story revolves around a degenerated alcoholic who sacrifices his life for the love of a young woman. It is a wonderful book with many warm and beautiful passages in it.
