HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

According to the U. S. Department of Commerce forecast, value added by manufacturing industry in Texas for 1968 is forecast at $12.4 billion, a 12 percent increase over 1967, and an astonishing 57 percent over 1964!

That is a whopping big figure, and beyond comprehension for the majority of us whose economic lives are limited to the provision of bread, beans, potatoes, house and car payments, and the once-in-a-while luxury of a fishing trip. But those figures are meaningful, even for us, if we take the time to study them. Because even if those figures are based on statewide conditions, by natural absorption they affect even our own personal and daily economic lives.

"Industry" is not limited to the giants such as General Motors, U. S. Steel, etc., but importantly included are the hundreds and thousands of what are classified in some instances as "small" industries. These are the ones which furnish the "backbone" for the above figures. They are so diversified and widespread there is a tendency for many of us to discount them when we see the big figures which are speared forth from the computers.

Winters is in an enviable position, compared with many cities of this size—and larger—in the state. This is because we are fortunate to have here industries which can easily be classified as "giants" in their own fields, and which are important contributing factors to the overall economic structure. And they are more than important contributors to the local situation. The products they manufacture are distributed over a wide national area, and even to foreign countries. The resultant payrolls are great strengtheners to the local economy.

One advantage of Winters' local industries, however, is that they are "home grown," so to speak, and as such are in fact, and so considered, an integral part of the community. They are not set apart as is sometimes the case when some of the "giants" establish branch plants over the country.

So it is fitting that during Texas Industrial Week, we salute our neighbors, those who make up Winters' industrial community.

In countries where the state owns and runs most business enterprises, and industries, supermarkets are about as scarce as the whooping crane. Consequently, when the government decides to build a supermarket, it is a monstrous affair and supposedly a grand exhibit of the superiority of state management.

A news story tells of such a market in Warsaw, Poland. It includes a cafeteria, coffee shop, and seemingly acres of showcases in a building that "looks like a concert hall." But, an American expecting to find a supermarket American style is due for a shock. Since there is no competition, service depends upon the magnanimity of the government.

In the case of the Warsaw monument to government in business, attempts to please the customers are somewhat limited. For example, the number of shoppers permitted in the store at any one time is restricted. To enforce the restriction, only a certain number of baskets are made available to shoppers. During busy hours, long lines of people wait for the baskets required for entry.

An American diplomat's wife said: "It's got all kinds of jam, many wines, plenty of bread but just try to find peanut butter." And, of course, consumer "confusion" is held to a minimum as many items are packed in dull brown bags. One wonders if this is the kind of merchandising system the consumer protectors have in mind for the U. S.

Winters Approved For Low-Rent Housing Project

Winters has been approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development for community improvement eligibility, according to a telegram received last week from Congressman Omar Burleson.

The City had submitted an application for approval of a program whereby 100 units of low-rent housing for the elderly could be built in Winters, using Federal loans and-or grants.

A Housing Board was appointed some months ago to work on this project. The approval by HUD is just one preliminary step toward the community program, it has been explained. No decision has been made regarding the number of units which will finally be approved and financed by the Federal Government.

Free Booklet Explains Mail For Servicemen

An illustrated pamphlet, Mail for Servicemen, outlining the expanded program for airmailing letters, packages and other military mail overseas at low postal rates is now available through Winters Post Office window clerks, Postmaster Rankin Pace has announced.

Pace said that "as a result of new legislation and action by President Johnson we are now airmailing more than 75 percent of all mail going to the military men and women stationed overseas. We hope this guide will help more American families be familiar with these services and use them."

The eight-page pamphlet illustrates three services for airmailing parcels at rates the average family can afford. The speedy service now available for newspapers and news magazines to most overseas bases, the special rates for books and similar reduction materials, and how to mail sound-recorded personal messages. The guide also provides parcel wrapping instructions, information on the time it takes parcels to reach Vietnam and other overseas bases from major U. S. Cities, and pointers on the correct way to address military mail.

A family sending a 10-pound package from Winters to Vietnam, for example, pays only $2.75 on a package marked "PAL", while the air parcel rate for the same package is $6.59, Postmaster Pace said.

On parcels weighing less than 5 pounds it might be more advantageous for a family to use the older (SAM) Space Available Mail service, which provides surface transportation to the port of embarkation and airift overseas. A four-pound SAM package to a European military post from Winters costs only $1.00.

On packages weighing under two pounds air parcel post is often the patron's "best buy" for thorough airift service, the pamphlet suggests.

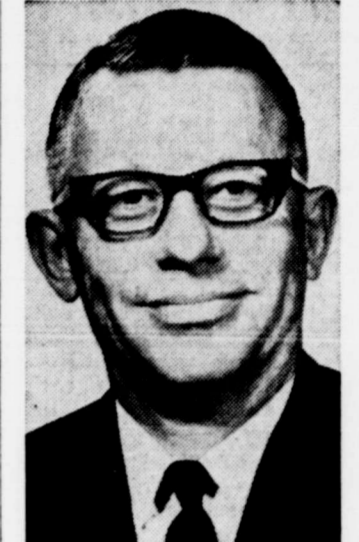

Ben Barnes Day Tuesday, Apr. 2

Tuesday, April 2, will be "Ben Barnes Appreciation Day" in Winters.

Ben Barnes of De Leon, Speaker of the House of Representatives and a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Texas Lieutenant Governor will be the honored guest at a dinner in the school cafeteria at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Winters Mayor Wade W. White has proclaimed Tuesday, April 2, as "Ben Barnes Appreciation Day."

Hal Woodward of Coleman, chairman of the Texas State Highway Commission, will be the principal speaker of the evening. Other leaders of the cities and counties of the 64th District, which Speaker Barnes represents in the State Legislature, also will have parts of the program.

HAL WOODWARD Keynote

The Rev. Edward H. Otwell of Winters will be master of ceremonies for the dinner program.

A short reception is planned for 7 p. m., to be held in the lobby of the high school gymnasium.

The special "Appreciation Day" for Speaker Barnes, the youngest legislator to hold that office since Reconstruction days, is being planned and arranged by a group of Winters citizens, assisted by people from Ballinger, Coleman and Brownwood.

Prior to his arrival at Winters for the evening program, Speaker Barnes will visit several cities in the district. A coffee in his honor will be held in Ballinger at 5 p. m. Tuesday.

Grain Elevator At Bradshaw Burned Tuesday

Fire destroyed the grain elevator at Bradshaw Tuesday afternoon. The fire was reported about 3:30, and the Winters Fire Department answered the call but firemen were unable to save the grain holding bin. The steel elevator leg was left standing, but was greatly damaged.

Workmen were in process of dismantling the elevator and grain. Scales had been removed from the pit the day before. It was thought that a spark from a cutting torch used in the dismantling dropped into the dry timbers of the holding bin. Loss was estimated at about $250.

The Bradshaw elevator, which had not been used for about two years, was the property of Kimbell Milling Co. It had been built about 30-35 years ago.

Gov. Connally Urges Starting New Industries

Governor John Connally has urged every Texan to work together toward the establishment of new industry and the expansion of local industry to maintain the state's economic growth.

The occasion was the signing of the proclamation designating April 1-7 as Texas Industrial Week, which was established by a resolution of the state Legislature in 1951. In the proclamation, the Governor pointed out that Texas' manufacturing industries created more than 20,000 new jobs in 1967, the result of 296 new plants locating in the state and the expansion of 370 existing firms.

Manufacturing is the most rapidly expanding source of income in Texas, according to figures released by the Texas Manufacturers Association. In the last five years, 1460 new plants have been established and 1976 existing facilities have been enlarged. This dramatic growth was the basis for an additional 128,000 new jobs in Texas.

TMA, an association of 3,500 member firms engaged in manufacturing throughout the state sponsors annual competition between communities who organize planned observances during TIW.

In his proclamation, the Governor pointed out that industry spends an estimated $35,000 in capital outlay per employee for tools and facilities for employment. Using this nationwide average of $35,000 per employee for tools and facilities to provide the 20,000 new jobs created in 1967, the private enterprise system invested $700,000,000 in our state's industrial growth," the Governor said.

"With this amount invested in Texas' present and future industrial expansion, it is essential that every Texan work for a favorable atmosphere in which new and established industry may invest in the economic well being of our industrial citizens," the Governor urged.

MOVIES

Romance blossoms between Sandra Dee and James Farentino as they try on the grounds of the Los Angeles Music Center in Ross Hunter's production, "Rosie!," a Universal picture in Technicolor.

"Rosie!"
Rosalind Russell portrays a vibrant, madcap millionaire grandmother of Sandra Dee in Ross Hunter's dramatic comedy, "Rosie!," a Universal picture in Technicolor showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre. Also co-starring are Brian Aherne, Miss Russell's attorney and long-time friend, Audrey Meadows and Vanessa Brown, Miss Russell's two conniving daughters who feel their inheritance is being dissipated, James Farentino, Miss Dee's romantic interest, Leslie Nielsen, the husband of Miss Brown, and Juanita Moore.

Miss Russell's role is reminiscent of her Broadway success, "Auntie Mame" and her portrayal is in the same sassy style. "Rosie!" is based on the stage hit, "A Very Rich Woman," which was adapted for the stage by Ruth Gordon from the play by Philippe Heriat and presented on Broadway by Garson Kanin. In presenting it on the screen, Samuel Taylor's screenplay takes full advantage of the scope possible in motion pictures in playing the dramatic action in many outdoor location settings.

"Electric heating is healthier—we never have colds any more... we just love it."
—Mrs. Grady Jolly

Built at the turn of the century—converted to total-electric operation 1963. No structural changes—a few partitions added plus insulation and wiring. "Decorating was the big job!"

Take a happy, lively family like Dr. and Mrs. Grady B. Jolly, Randy, David, Don and Joy, put them slap-dab in the middle of a 40-acre suburban estate, surround them with horses, pets, vines, trees and old walls and they will make it into a lovely, livable home where friends meet and enjoy the livin'!

The big country kitchen with its total-electric convenience is the heart of the home. Mrs. Jolly's eye for antiques, knack with a paint brush and skill at her electric sewing machine has re-created the look of early America that loses none of its traditional charm amid the ultra modern electrical conveniences.

- Total-electric Gold Medallion • 11 rooms—3 baths—6 in family • 40 acres electrified fence
- 2 water pumps—power tools • ALL FOR $52.80 PER MONTH AVERAGE OPERATING COST • It's easy to convert to Total-Electric Living... See WTU or your building contractor

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
First flurries of activity on the 1968 presidential campaign front remind that it is going to be a long, long political year. Entry of Sen. Robert Kennedy into the contest for the Democratic nomination set off more speculation than action.

Less than a week after Kennedy's announcement, however, a Beaumont college teacher announced he had accepted an invitation to head up his drive in Texas. Ron Platt, chairman of the small group known as Texas Liberal Democrats and a Lamar Tech assistant professor, said the Texas Committee for Kennedy soon will open an Austin office.

Dissenting Democrats of Texas reaffirmed its support of Sen. Eugene McCarthy for president despite Kennedy's emergence. Co-Chairman Don Allford said DDT welcomes efforts of the Kennedy backers and expects help from them in some areas in opposing President Johnson. DDT claims a force of about 3,000 working to organize precinct conventions for McCarthy.

On the opposite end of the political stage, supporters of former Alabama Gov. George Wallace held their state convention here and kicked off their drive for 14,259 signatures to petitions. Petitions are necessary to get Wallace's name on the November ballot as presidential candidate of the new American Party headed in Texas by former State Sen. Weaver Moore of Houston. Signers must not participate in Democratic or Republican primaries or conventions.

State Democratic Committee, meanwhile, has emphasized its support of President Johnson. Gov. John Connally has announced he intends to head a Texas delegation to the national convention committed to the president's renomination.

To date, there is little evidence of any major effort to take the Texas Democratic conventions away from Johnson.

Texas Republicans already leaning toward Richard Nixon, were left one less choice when Gov. Nelson Rockefeller announced he would not campaign for the nomination.

COURTS SPEAK

Supreme Court will hear arguments April 17 on whether Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler should be required to honor the West Texas minerals claim filed by Cobra Oil and Gas Corporation in Pecos, Culberson and Reeves Counties.

Third Court of Civil Appeals agreed with Comal County trial court that a New Braunfels used auto parts and junk dealer had no right to keep the city from fining him for violation of "beautification" ordinances.

Abolished "city" of La Grulla in Starr County can hold a new incorporation election in less than a year from the date its abolition was resolved in court (last November 15).

A school district that had issued no unlimited tax bonds can revert to limited tax status under a different statute and issue bonds subject to voter approval.

estimated at $793,000,000 and 205,000 injuries.

NURSES RECRUITED

State Board of Nurse Examiners registered 1,741 more nurses in 1967 than the 36,862 in 1966, and most of the new ones came from out of state.

Of all the new nurses, 1,494 moved to Texas from other states. Texas lost only 778 to other states. Also, 821 new RNs were registered after graduation from nursing school.

Recruitment programs by the Texas Hospital Association and the Health Careers Program were given much of the credit for the increased number of nurses. "And then a lot of people just like to move to Texas," an official said.

WASHINGTON
"As it looks from here"
OMAR BURLESON
Congressman 17th District

In view of the fact the U. S. Senate has recently passed a Civil Rights Bill, including the "open housing" provision, and the fact that a great many communications are being received on the subject, the following is a reprint of a release of July 7, 1966:

Section IV of the Civil Rights Bill of 1966 provides in substance that the owner of property for sale, rent or lease may not decline to sell, rent or lease to any person because of race, creed or color.

Other provisions of the measure make radical changes in an effort to confer "rights." In 1789 the people of America were fearful that Government might restrict their freedoms. The First Congress of the United States in that year proposed the Bill of Rights.

The Bill of Rights essentially tells the Government what it can not do and comprises the first ten Amendments to the United States Constitution. Many countries have an abundance of natural resources, vast lands and climate as good as ours, but 40 million immigrants came to this land seeking something called freedom.

They came here with the hope of security and the promise of the precious right to live as free men with equal opportunity for all.

In July 1868 a new guarantee of Freedom was ratified. Its purpose was to guard against human slavery. Its guarantees were for the further equal protection of all. It is the 14th Amendment to the Constitution, and it reads in part as follows: "No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws..."

Laws enacted during the past three or four years, and the proposal now before the Congress, erode the rights and freedoms of every American property owner.

If anything more is needed to guarantee individual rights let it be that the individual American property owner, regardless of race, color or creed, should be allowed, under law, to retain:

1. The right of privacy.
2. The right to choose his own friends.
3. The right to own and enjoy property according to his own dictates.
4. The right to occupy and dispose of property without Governmental interference in accordance with his own judgment.
5. The right of all, equally, to enjoy property without interference by Laws giving special privilege to others.
6. The right to maintain what in his opinion, are desired surroundings for tenants.
7. The right to contract with a real estate agent or other representative of his choice and to authorize him to act for him according to his instructions.
8. The right to determine the acceptability and desirability of any prospective buyer or tenant of his property.
9. The right of every American to choose whomever, in his opinion, are congenial tenants in any property he owns and to maintain the stability and security of his income.
10. The right to enjoy the freedom to accept, reject, negotiate or not to negotiate with anyone.

The prohibition against the individual to do with his property what he wishes, so long as he does not infringe upon his neighbor, is the denial of the third element of fundamental rights guaranteed under the Constitution.

When Government attempts to confer privilege by legislation upon some, and by so doing takes away the rights of others, it does grave violence to the Constitution.

Loss of these rights diminishes personal freedom and creates a springboard for the future erosion of our liberties.

READY FOR A NEW SEASON

On the farm and ranch this is a time to check machinery and equipment for needed repairs and to see that any supplies which will later be required will be available. As the season advances time will become even more valuable and things which can be given attention now will be out of the way.

The larger investment required to operate a modern farm makes the financial end more important than ever before. Farming is a business and business methods must be used, especially at this time when it is desirable to reduce costs and to devote effort to the things which are most profitable.

Farmers who are preparing for the new season are invited to discuss their plans with us. We give special attention to their banking requirements and will welcome new opportunities to serve.
