HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

A contest is going to be conducted during the next three weeks in which every resident of Winters can take part. There'll be nothing to buy in order to enter the contest; no box tops to send in; no coupons to fill out; and you won't have to "finish this sentence in 25 words or less"...

It will not cost anyone one red cent in cash to enter this contest; the only cost entailed will be a little elbow grease and initiative.

The prize will be one of the most valuable: a feeling of pride in the cooperation of the residents of Winters, and finally a feeling of pride in living in a CLEAN town!

The contest will be a "Clean-Up" contest, with the residents of the west side of town competing against the residents of the east part of town. Main Street is the dividing line. The Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring this contest, and a nice plaque will be awarded to the winning side of town. "Block committees" will be organized to take care of their blocks; residents living in each particular block will choose one of their number to be their "director," to promote their part of the contest and to coordinate all clean-up activities.

At the end of three weeks, the Chamber of Commerce will ask some people from out-of-town to come down and inspect, and tell us which side of town is the cleanest. Then the plaque will be properly inscribed with the winning side's name, and will go on display for all to see. (If you don't win it this year, work hard and win it next year!)

Then, to wind it up, the Chamber of Commerce will hold a big free watermelon feed for everybody! At that time the winners will again be recognized, and perhaps some sort of entertainment will be provided.

So get busy now and make your plans to get your block organized. Ladies, a lot of planning and organization can be done over neighborhood coffee. There's already some talk of groups getting ready to promote heavy campaigns in an effort to win this plaque! So don't let YOUR block be the one which is left out, and the one which will hold your side of town back in the contest to win the honor!

It's time for Americans to wake up! It's time for decent Americans to make their wishes known in no uncertain terms! To make their voices slam against the eardrums and consciences of those who would purport to represent the people, in such a manner that would leave no doubt that the majority of the people in these United States demand that decency and sanity be reinstated. (And we don't mean in an irresponsible manner such as is being demonstrated in the so-called march on Washington!)

It's time that decent Americans emphatically rule that those few who would commit acts contrary to the moral, physical, financial and political well-being of everyone else—committed under the smelly pretext that the perpetrators are acting in compliance with their own conscience and are well within their "rights," no matter what—should be made to pay and to pay heavily for their actions. Further, that those who would condone and would encourage outstepping of lawful boundaries—also under the smelly pretext of "protecting" the "freedoms" of unlawful actors—be removed without grace from their places of whatever prominence, and perhaps be committed to re-learn the true definition of freedom.

To condone any act in violation of any law, no matter how trivial or non-serious it may seem at the moment, on the flimsy pretense that the violator does not suit his taste, or that the violator is only a "victim of society," is to encourage further violation of more serious laws, and a chain reaction could develop into a situation to which there could be no end but one: anarchy! Many of our high-office men, men in many other fields, and even in religious areas, have been guilty of encouragement of violation of laws under the guise of promotion of freedom. They "abhor" the actions of thugs who in violence take over universities or riot and burn and pillage whole sections of cities, and

Clean-Up Contest To Start Monday

A city-wide clean-up campaign, sponsored by the Winters Chamber of Commerce, will get underway next Monday, June 10, and continue through the next three weeks.

This will not be an ordinary clean-up campaign, according to directors of the Chamber of Commerce, but will be conducted in an atmosphere of competition, pitting the east side of Winters against the west side, with a nice plaque of recognition to be awarded to the winning side.

The clean-up campaign will be climaxed by a big free city-wide watermelon feed, at which time the winning side of town will be recognized.

The City of Winters and the County Commissioner from Precinct No. 2 will cooperate in this clean-up drive, providing trucks to haul away the collected debris, and to assist in clearing away unsightly grass and weeds.

The office of the Chamber of Commerce will be headquarters for the clean-up drive, and will coordinate efforts of residents and City departments in disposing of the rubbish.

Residents of all sections of the city are being asked by Chamber of Commerce directors to organize into "block" committees to facilitate the clean-up drive, and to appoint "block directors" to promote and coordinate activities of their particular blocks. Block Committee also are being asked to notify the Chamber of Commerce office upon organization.

The Chamber of Commerce also is asking all civic and social organizations and clubs to participate in this clean-up campaign by promoting inter-organization competition, and publicizing all efforts.

At the end of the three-week campaign, the Chamber of Commerce directors will invite out-of-town judges to tour the city and to determine which side of town is the "cleanest"—east or west.

A handsome plaque, to be engraved with the name of the section of the city declared the "cleanest," will be awarded the winning side and will be put on display. This will be a "traveling" trophy, to be awarded and properly inscribed each year.

To climax the campaign, directors of the Winters Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a free watermelon feed, to be held on the earliest possible date following the end of the drive, when melons are in season. Plans are being discussed to have some type of special program of entertainment to be held at the watermelon feed.

A large chart will be prepared, to be displayed at the office of the Chamber of Commerce or at some other location, to list the "block committees" as they are organized and as work gets underway.

Residents are asked to clear up vacant lots, trim shrubs and trees and to clear away all rubbish. They also are asked to comply with requests of the City in putting rubbish in proper containers to be picked up, and to cut tree limbs into no more than four-foot lengths to enable trucks to haul them away. Notify the Chamber of Commerce office when rubbish and tree limbs are ready to be hauled away.

Operation Head Start Will Begin For Pre-Schoolers Next Monday

The summer "Head Start" program for pre-school children will begin at the Winters Primary School, Monday, June 10. The school will continue for eight weeks and will end on August 2.

The program is being financed by a Federal Grant, with a total of $11,468.00 available for use this summer.

George M. Beard, principal of Winters Elementary School, is the director of the program, as in the past summers since the program was started about four years ago.

Preparations have been completed for the 45 children who will take part in the program, Beard said. This number is the limit which can be accommodated this summer.

The director said there still is need for additional volunteers to work in the program. They need a total of 18 volunteers, he said. Requirements are that volunteers must be at least 13 years of age, may be parents, vocational homemaking students, Future Teachers of America members, Boy Scouts, or other individuals. Those interested are asked to contact Beard and plan to attend a meeting of the volunteers scheduled for 10:30 a. m. Friday, June 7, in the Elementary school library.

Parents of children who have been notified and authorized for enrollment in the summer program have been asked to bring their children to the school at 8:30 a. m. on the opening day, June 10. A reception will be held in the school cafeteria at which time the program will be explained to the parents.

Parents of children who are eligible for enrollment, and who have not done so, are urged to contact the project director in the Winters Elementary Building or call 754-4031.

Classes will be on a five-day per week basis, beginning at 8:30 a. m. and lasting until about 1 p. m. Children will be served a mid-morning snack and a hot lunch at noon.

Requirements are that 90 percent of the children are to be from families in the low income brackets, between five and six years of age, but not necessarily starting to school in September.

information, it is suggested that seven questions on a simple form, mailed to each household, should meet the requirements. These are: Name and address; relation to head of household; sex; date of birth; race or color; marital status; and visitors in home at the time of Census.

Instead of the pre-test forms and those which may be submitted unless legislative action prohibits it, will contain more than 100 questions.

A bill now before the Congress would require this basic information on each individual but would permit the answer to numerous other questions on a voluntary basis.

One after another who have studied this question in depth feel that much more accurate and useful data would be obtained if given on a voluntary basis. Market research firms have found that any element of coercion tends to invalidate the results of survey research. Certainly, the same thing would apply to the Government's effort to pry into the private lives of every citizen.

Some Widows May Receive SS Benefits At Age of Fifty

Many widows may now be able to get social security benefits as early as age 50, according to Ted F. Moellering of the San Angelo social security office. A recent change in the law allows widows, 50 or older, who are unable to work because of severe disability, and whose husbands worked long enough under social security, to receive reduced monthly benefits.

This new change also applies to women who were divorced from their husbands at the time of his death, but had been married to him at least 20 years and were still being supported by him when he died.

Under the new law, a widow may be considered disabled, if she has an impairment so severe that it would ordinarily prevent her from working. Vocational factors such as age, education, and previous work experience are not considered.

To be eligible, Mr. Moellering said, a widow must be at least 50 years of age and have a severe disability that started either before her husband's death or within seven years after his death. An exception is made if she received benefits as a widow with children. In this case, disability may begin at any time up to seven years after her payments as a widow ended.

The amount of the benefit depends on what her husband's retirement rate would have been had he been 65 at the time of his death, and how old the widow is when she starts getting checks. A full widow's benefit payable at age 62 is 82½ percent of her deceased husband's retirement benefit. If she starts receiving disability payments at an earlier age, her monthly benefit will be permanently reduced. Payments can start for the seventh full month of disability, but the first month for which payment can be made under the new provision is February, 1968.

Mr. Moellering urges all widows who think they may be eligible to get in touch with the local social security office at 3000 West Harris Avenue in San Angelo, Texas, or contact the representative on one of his regularly scheduled visits to your area.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In 1970 a new census of an estimated 205 million people will be taken in the United States.

Pre-test questions are now being tried out in South Carolina and Wisconsin. A certain number of people in the State of Connecticut have already had all or part of the approximately 100 questions submitted to them to test reaction and response.

Some of the questions proposed for the 1970 census are too embarrassing to put in public print. Some of them compare to Dr. Kinsey's Report of a few years ago and definitely invade the privacy of the individual.

Test questions going into the states on a trial basis include: Do you share your bathtub or shower?

What is your telephone number? How much rent do you pay? How many hours did your husband work last week? How many babies has your wife had?

Do you walk to work or take a taxicab? How much money did you make last year? Over the last several years some in Congress and others outside Government have proposed that there be established a National Data Center which would use the Census Reports as a basis for a dossier file on every American.

No one argues that there should not be a census and, in fact, there are good and substantial reasons why the right kind of Census should be taken every five years instead of ten. There is a vast difference, however, in accounting for the number of people, their age, sex and occupation, and those which invade privacy and to which people should not be subjected.

The U. S. Census is authorized by the Constitution and must be conducted for certain necessary purposes. We, of course, must know what our population is and, in fact, that is what the Constitution originally provided. Originally, it was intended for the purpose of apportioning the U. S. House of Representatives. To quote the authority contained in the Constitution suggests the simplicity intended: "The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such a manner as they shall by law direct." Of course, this leaves room for an expansion of information in accordance with the times, but the times never require people to reveal intimate data about themselves which is not the Government's business. In addition, they want to impose on those who refuse to answer for any reason, a fine of $100 and a jail term of up to 60 days. The vast majority of people would probably not object to some form of compulsory requirement to respond to essential questions.

For the purposes of identifying the citizens of our Country and to serve the interest of business which needs certain

GRADUATE TO TOTAL ELECTRIC LIVING

Three lively people who love to entertain friends. "I am surprised it's so economical."—Bob

"Love that electric air conditioning, of course! WE REMODELED TO TOTAL ELECTRIC OPERATION FOR $1,300! That included insulation, electric baseboard units—the works!... and with WTU's incentive allowance we paid only about $1,000. If we ever build a larger home, it'll be total electric—with electric ceiling coils."—Bob Harrison, Stamford, Texas.

Bob Harrison retired from the San Francisco 49ers and took up farming. Barbara Harrison took up teaching at Oliver Street Elementary School, and Scott (age 2) took to whooping it up on his rocking horse. All three live in a vine-covered home in Stamford, Texas—one they remodeled to Gold Medalion operation 2 years ago. "It's such wonderful living," Barbara says. "I just couldn't do without my electric home laundry and that wonderful summer air-conditioning. When we turn it on, we never want to go outside in the heat!" Everything is clean and comfy—thanks to total electric living!

8 rooms — 1 bath ■ Cooling, heating, cooking, water heating, lighting, small appliances, washer, dryer, food storage, yard light ■ $30.15 mo. average — Remodeled 1966

Ask your building contractor or WTU about remodeling to total electric operation — it's easy and economical.

Texas' Constitutional Revision Commission has completed its series of winter and spring work sessions, rewriting the Texas charter of government.

It will not meet again until August.

Any fair analysis of the status of constitutional revision in Texas would have to be based on a note of pessimism regarding the ultimate acceptance of the committee's work to date.

Main problem for the 25 revisionists to overcome was created when the Commission was established—by a divided legislature—in the spring of 1967.

Originally the Commission was to be formed by a joint House and Senate resolution. However, the Senate refused to go along with the plan so the House acted alone. Speaker Ben Barnes named a House Committee. But Lt. Gov. Preston Smith declined to make any appointments. Gov. John Connally gave considerable moral support to the Committee, but now he is a "lame duck" and will not be governor when the Commission submits its report to the Legislature next January.

In terms of the substantive proposals for a new constitution, the Commission has been far from decisive to this point. Reports have been heard from various subcommittees on the executive branch, the judiciary, political subdivisions, taxation and other topics.

These reports have been given tentative approval by the Commission as a whole, but on all votes it was made clear that decisions made now can be reversed during the next slate of meetings this coming fall.

One of the most heated debates in the brief history of the Commission came from a recommendation for the appointment of the judges on the Texas Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals by a five-man commission. Voters would either approve or remove them. At present these judges are elected by the people.

Two members of the Commission were particularly forceful in their argument against this proposal.

H. S. (Hank) Brown of San Antonio, president of the Texas AFL-CIO, opposed the measure as being a dangerous trend for a democratic society. Brown argued that the people have a right to elect their judges.

Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria contended that such a provision in the revised constitution would insure its defeat when the matter is put to a vote.

Dr. Janice May, government professor at the University of Texas, said Cory and Brown are overlooking the realities of the current system of judicial selection.

"Right now two-thirds of all our judges are initially named by appointment from the governor. Then, as a matter of practice, they run for re-election and are almost always retained in office," she said.

Most of the members of the Commission have expressed some desire to strengthen the hand of the governor. They maintain that a majority of the state agencies are virtually free of his influence and can carry out public policy without regard to his wishes. Opponents of the proposal point out what the governor already has authority to appoint 3,000 office holders.

Commission voted 8-7 to limit the governor to a single term—a procedure which would, in effect, make every Texas governor a lame duck for some undetermined portion of his term in office. Commission also favors providing the governor with a four-year term rather than the current two-year term.

Tentatively, the group approved a provision which would require the governor to be elected during "off-years"—years without presidential elections.

Many Capitol observers recall that a constitutional revision commission created by the Legislature in 1957 submitted recommendations after several years of meetings, but no action has ever been taken on them.

CONNALLY WIN CERTAIN
Governor Connally's control of the State Democratic Convention in Dallas on June 11 apparently will be by overwhelming majority.

Will Davis, Chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, says 215 of the 254 county conventions passed resolutions endorsing Connally's favorite son candidacy, and 22 more counties are sending un-instructed delegations to the state convention.

SPECIAL SESSION
There will be a hot time in this old town... extending from the June 4 opening of the special legislative session until it ends... and that is anybody's guess.

Main business, of course, is passing a $2,500,000,000 appropriations bill to finance state government for the 1969 fiscal year beginning September 1 and approval of about $125,000,000 in new taxes.

Governor Connally has recommended general revenue spending of $465,200,000. That would require $123,800,000 in additional state taxation. Legislative Budget Board proposes a budget of $471,000,000 from the fund over which the legislature Budget Board proposes a budget of $471,000,000 from the fund over which the legislature has direct control, which would boost the tax bill to $129,600,000.

Connally's tax bill calls for an increase of the state sales tax rate from two to three per cent, with cities to get most of the additional revenue in the form of a direct rebate. Many services not now taxed also would be included in the three per cent levy. Statewide tax would do away with one per cent local sales tax now charged in more than 300 cities that contain the vast majority of Texas' population.

Session also is expected to come to grips with the explosive issue of liquor by the drink. A slight majority of the legislators live in districts which approved the May 4 mixed drink referendum by margins ranging from slight to overwhelming. But that's no assurance the measure will pass.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and House Speaker Ben Barnes also are urging Governor Connally to submit riot control bills to the legislators. They propose laws which would give cities authority to contract with each other for the exchange of police officers in the event of violent outbreaks; empower cities to enact strict curfew ordinances curbing sale of liquor, flammable materials and weapons; make it unlawful to trespass on public property with intent to interfere with public business; ban disturbances of public meetings and provide stiff penalties for interfering with police and others performing public duties in riot-hit cities.

Hold on your hats and fasten your seat belts. This could be a good one!

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES
Attorney General Martin has held that four new junior colleges can get $32,369 in state funds based on "full time student equivalents."

Opinion aids Bee County Junior College ($3,780); Central Texas College at Killeen ($21,658); Galveston Community College ($3,733) and College of the Mainland at Texas City ($3,196).

Martin also held that Comptroller Robert S. Calvert could exempt certain equipment from annual inventory requirement for Clients of the Vocational Rehabilitation Division of the Texas Education Agency.

Attorney General said a justice of the peace in an administrative hearing on driver license suspensions may not make findings or issue orders when licensee does not appear and where service is attempted by certified mail but there is no post office receipt showing delivery.

NEW COLLEGES URGED
Public hearings will be held here June 15-July 10 on major new Higher Education Coordinating Board staff recommendations for creating six new state colleges to care for expanding big city enrollments.

Proposed program would cost $201,000,000 over 1973-1977. Staff also advised enrollment restrictions for existing schools after 1972. Full coordinating board is expected to pass on recommendations at July or August meeting.

New colleges were proposed to open in 1973 in these cities: San Antonio; Midland-Odessa offering junior, senior, master's degree work only; Dallas-Fort Worth area (also upper-level work); and Houston (second campus of University of Houston).

Upper level facility was recommended for Corpus Christi in 1974. A third University of Houston campus is seen as needed by 1977.

Staff suggested an alternative would be for the state to contract with private institutions to enroll students.

COURTS SPEAK
State Supreme Court agreed with lower courts that mass applications for voter registration are illegal.

High Court in effect declared David Fuentes winner of a 1966 Presidio County commissioner's election. Decision upheld intermediate court finding that nine votes should be taken away from Frances E. Howard, a write-in candidate, because a notary public aided absentee voters by writing in his name for them.

SHORT SNORTS
Governor has named City Corporation Judge Thomas A. Curtis district attorney at Amarillo and Earl Connor judge of 91st District Court in Eastland.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith named Republican Sen. Ike Harris to the Senate finance committee.

Rep. J. A. Garcia Jr. of Raymondville was sworn in as a new member of House of Representatives, replacing Rep. Bill Rapp who resigned.

Governor John Connally asked President Johnson to declare Hill County a major disaster area due to 18 inch rains in the area May 7-10.

A planning commission grant of $698 went to the South Texas Council of Governments and a $500 grant to Victoria and Cuero Council of Governments.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

Babson Park, Mass. — Interest rates are very high. If Congress fails to pass a tax boost, probability is that rates will again be raised. Will today's high mortgage costs cripple the real estate business and dry up demand for new houses?

Pressure On Interest Rates

Not only are interest rates high, but some key rates are at top levels since 100 years ago, when the nation was reeling under the impact of crises deriving from the Civil War. Indeed, many rates are actually higher than during the credit crunch of the third and fourth quarters of 1966.

What killed cheap money? The usual answer to that question is "inflation," but there are quite a number of people who point to the Vietnam war as the chief culprit. The pressures of our deep involvement in Southeast Asia are a factor, but by no means an overriding one.

Steady Buildup of Inflationary Forces

Most of us think of inflation as being a broad rise in the prices of goods and services. Until the strong price advances which began in 1965, we weren't overly concerned about inflation. We simply failed to realize that not only did inflation exist, but also it was expanding at a steady clip. Recently, our tax policy in refusing to absorb enough of the inflationary flood has increased the pressure.

The growth of the economy during the past 7 years, together with the war, hastened the progress of this inflation from the speed of a snail to that of a rocket. This vast expansion in Gross National Product multiplied the need for money and capital funds, but the straw that broke the camel's back was the sharp rise in the general price level. A second factor, scarcely less important, has been our worsening imbalance of international payments, which has forced the Federal Reserve to restrict the availability of funds to make them more costly by upping interest rates.

Impact On Real Estate

How much further interest rates will rise depends on what steps the Administration and Congress take to cool the fires of inflation. Our guess is that the ceiling on interest rates has not yet been seen. Later on, if we have a tax boost and if some of the nation's other problems become a bit less onerous, we would expect interest rates to ease off. Even so, money will not again be cheap for a long time to come.

High mortgage rates and scarcity of mortgage money in selected areas have already hurt the real estate business. Reports from around the nation indicate that property is being moved less readily. In areas where demand itself has been holding up, transactions are delayed and sometimes fall through as prospective buyers fail to obtain mortgages either because lenders are now screening more carefully or because the would-be borrowers cannot pay the sharply upped rates.

What About New Houses?

Potential demand for new homes is large and broadly based. Quite apart from the challenges posed by poor housing in city ghettos and rural slums, population increase and continued good economic activity are continually expanding the market.

MOVIES

"Cool Hand Luke"

Warner Bros.-7 Arts' "Cool Hand Luke," filmed in Panavision and Technicolor, is the explosive story of a Southern chain-gang, and a prisoner who rebels against his jailers and any system that seeks to limit his personal freedom. Paul Newman stars as Luke in the drama showing Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre. Jo Van Fleet, George Kennedy, J. D. Cannon, Lou Antonio, Robert Drivas and Strother Martin co-star in the Jalem Production, directed by Stuart Rosenberg and produced by Gordon Carroll.

A Southern prison camp was built just north of Stockton, California, for "Cool Hand Luke." Included among the dozen buildings were a barracks, mess hall, warden's quarters, guard shack and the dog kennels. The camp over several acres, was surrounded by chain-link fencing. Dozens of oak trees on the camp's perimeter were strung with moss, a ton being shipped in from Louisiana.

Pelican Visits Meridian Park

The first release of walleye in the San Angelo area was made this past week as 800 of the scrappy pike-like exotics were placed as fry in North Concho Reservoir by biologists of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Not a pike, but a member of the perch family, walleye studies have revealed that the species prefers rough or forage fish in excess of 99 per cent of their diet and the Department is optimistic that the larger and more mature walleye will play an important role in the control of excess rough or forage species.

Biologists Leo Lewis and Larry Campbell of the West Texas region of the Department, expect more walleye available in the future as hatchery pond vegetation is removed to allow seeding of the tiny fry.

The Rev. Walter Probst, pastor of the church, officiated for the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with two candelabras in the background and baskets of gladioli at the altar.

Music was by Kay Orr, organist, who also accompanied Patrick K. Beck to sing "A Wedding Prayer" and "O Promise Me."

Candlelighters were Jesse Wustinger of Canyon and Norman Wustinger of Mansfield. Debbie Wustinger of Mansfield was flower girl. She wore a floor-length dress matching the bridesmaid and carried a basket of rose petals.

Best man was Richard Beck of Abilene. Ushers were Jesse Wustinger of Canyon and Norman Wustinger of Mansfield. Groomsman were Ronnie Mapes of Winters and Bill Catey of Wingate.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Norman Wustinger of Mansfield and brides maids were Mary Wustinger of Winters and Pamela Beck of Blackwell.

The bridesmaids wore floor-length dresses of glittered bonded crepe, empire style designed with bell sleeves. They wore short veils and carried long stemmed white carnations. The matron of honor wore a sleeveless floor-length dress of glittered bonded crepe, fashioned empire style with scoop neckline. She also wore a short veil and carried a long stemmed white carnation.

A reception at the church was hosted by the parents of the bride.

The table was laid with white linen with cake and punch at either end. Rice bags on a silver tray centered the table with candles on each side.

Mrs. Ben Tischler and Mrs. Wayne Owens served cake and punch was ladeled by Linda and Serena Tischler.

Miss Judy Kettler registered the guests.

For a short wedding trip to Fort Worth the bride changed to a two-piece yellow suit of bonded lace with white accessories and flowers from her bouquet.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 64th DISTRICT

I invite you to call upon me any time I can be of help to each of you individually and the people of the 64th Legislative District.

I congratulate Mr. Grindstaff on a race well run and invite his counsel and wisdom in performance of my duties and official functions.

Again I thank each of you and remind you that I am available day or night whenever and wherever needed.

LYNN NABERS

Hunting and fishing are becoming "bigger" businesses every year.

During 1966, licenses alone cost 42,000,000 outdoorsmen $139,000,000. This was for the period between July 1, 1965, and June 30, 1966.

Although Texas has more inland fishing waters than any of the 48 adjacent states, it ranked 11th in the total gross cost to fishermen for licenses and tags. The state sold just over 1,000,000 licenses and tags for a total of $2,035,154.

It must be remembered that Texas has a $2.15 universal license which is available to resident and non-resident alike. Other states with higher non-resident licenses had considerably more gross income from fishermen.

California topped the list with $5,565,750 from slightly under 2,000,000 license buyers. Wisconsin sold only a few thousand more licenses than Texas. But it wound up with $4,500,000 in license sales, for second place.

Hawaii was lowest, with a reported 3,743 licenses sold, including only two non-resident, for total income of $11,932. Evidently visitors to Hawaii prefer hula girls and pineapples to fishing.

Texas ranked 10th in hunting license sales with a total of 759,308 sold for $1,951,022. This included 6,542 non-resident licenses.

Pennsylvania topped all other states with its total hunting license sales of $5,824,248 to 856,169 hunters, including 56,868 non-residents. Other states going over $5,000,000 were Michigan and Colorado. Nearly half of the Colorado hunters were non-residents.

As in fishing, Hawaii was low with a total of 6,903 hunters, including 130 non-residents paying $50,275.

Alaska, which now boasts of being the largest state, had 42,881 hunters and collected $600,610.

Texas has far more deer than any other state, and with a much more liberal bag limit. It is possible for a hunter to harvest three legal deer in Texas each year, by utilizing doe permits issued in over-populated areas.

It is interesting to note that Texas sold only 6,542 non-resident licenses during this 12-month period. Wyoming sold more than half its 60,696 total to non-residents. Many Texans were among that group.

Colorado, as another example, sold 116,875 non-resident permits, or approximately 40 per cent of its total sales. Colorado deer are larger, but deer there are not as numerous as they are in Texas.

California sold a total of 700,084 licenses and tags, and only had 1,157 non-resident hunters. Yet the state took in $2,634,413. That's considerably more than the Texas receipts.

On the other hand, California sold 1,922,820 fishing licenses, including 36,756 non-resident, for $5,565,580.

As in fishing, Hawaii was low with a total of 6,903 hunters, including 130 non-residents paying $50,275.

We commend our local and state police authorities for their vigorous enforcement of the law. We denounce with equal vigor lawlessness and civil disobedience. We deplore the fact that the new Code of Criminal Procedure tends to overprotect the offender and hinder law enforcement.

We urge adoption of a criminal code which will strengthen law enforcement rather than weaken it.

They close their eyes to the fact that the chain could be a circle, and that they eventually could be hoist by their own petard.

So it is high time that decent Americans set their foot down, and proclaim that "this is as far as it shall go!" If we lack the initiative—the guts—to do just that, we can wave farewell to an orderly society, and enter once again a dog-eat-dog, God-less, lawless and rotten era!
