

HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Isn't it convenient that the anticipated visit by the Governor and many other people from over the state will come toward the end of the last week of the current Clean-Up Contest? That will give us a little time to polish up a bit to show the many visitors that Winters residents really do care about the appearance of their town, and are progressive... instead of just "setting" in the sun! (See "Forts Trail Tour").

There is a high degree of danger in the operation of power lawn mowers, even under the most ideal conditions. Most of us never give much thought to the presence of danger when we start to mow the lawn—except for a cursory glance over the area to see that there are no bicycles, tricycles, roller skates and baseball bats lying around. These we remove, and then to get on with the job at hand, yank the starting rope on a machine which can—and many times, does—become a monster capable of causing serious injury to hands, feet, eyes, or even killing.

We're right in the middle of the lawn-mowing season; to add to that, Winters also is right in the middle of a big clean-up campaign, when areas which seldom see a lawn mower may be cleaned off. This would tend to worsen the danger.

An article in a recent issue of General News, the company newspaper of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, points out some of the dangers connected with power lawn mowers, and lists a few safety pointers concerning their use. We take the liberty of clipping part of the article:

The power lawn mower is potentially hazardous and it is estimated that these efficient, time-saving devices cause over 100 fatalities and between 55,000 and 80,000 personal injuries across the country each year. Studies show that about 7 percent of the injuries and deaths result from direct contact with moving parts of the mowers and 30 percent from flying objects. The hurling of objects by the whirling blades of rotary mowers is the greatest "single cause" of injuries, with flying wire apparently the most common.

Toes and fingers are the parts of the body most frequently injured. More than 50,000 toes and 18,000 fingers were amputated by power mowers in the U. S. during a recent year.

Most power mower accidents are preventable. The following tips are offered for "keeping America beautiful" safely.

Read the instruction manual. Check mower for cracks, loose nuts or bolts and parts that need replacing. Fill the tank so you won't have to do this during the operation when the engine is hot—leave space for expansion. The heat of the sun can cause

Parents Also "Go To School" During Head Start

Parents of children enrolled in the summer Head Start program in the Winters School will also be given an opportunity to "go to school" during the weeks the program is in progress.

George Beard, Winters Elementary School principal and director of the Head Start project, said that special classes will be held for parents of the enrolled children, to be held each Tuesday. Special emphasis will be placed on food and nutrition, and on clothing.

Classes for the parents will be held in the school cafeteria. Mrs. Juanita O'Connor, Runnels County Home Demonstration Agent, will work with personnel of the school in instructing in the special classes. Mrs. Cecil Hambright, the Winters School home economics teacher, and Mrs. J. B. Whitlow, supervisor of the school cafeteria, will assist in the parents' classes.

The first class will be from 8:30 to 9:30 a. m., Tuesday, with discussion on clothing, basic selection, care and construction. The second class will be from 10 to 11 a. m., and will be on Foods, basic nutrition, good foods for less money, etc. Parents will be reminded each week of the Tuesday classes.

East-West Clean-Up Now Underway, Lasts 2 Weeks

CAMPAIGNERS — These two young citizens are campaigning for a clean town, determined that their respective "sides" win the "Cleanup Contest." The East Side is pitted against the West Side in the contest. At the end of the contest, which will continue through June 30, and which is being sponsored by the Winters Chamber of Commerce, out of town judges will determine which side of town, East or West, is the cleanest. The plaque will then be appropriately engraved with the name of the winner for this year. Presentation of the plaque will be made at a city-wide watermelon feed on a date to be announced. Cleanup Campaigners shown are Charles Wayne Rice, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rice, for the East Side, and Kimberly Wood, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Wood, for the West Side.

Coaching Staff Completed At Winters With Signing Of Two Assistants

The coaching staff for the 1968-69 school year has been completed with the naming of two coaches to replace William Grissom and Bud Buscher, who have resigned.

Named by the school board within the past few days are Charles (Chili) Black and Tommy Konczak.

Coach Black has been named line coach for the Blizzard football team.

Rev. Inez Aleman
New Pastor Of Immanuel Baptist

The Rev. Inez Aleman, pastor of a mission at Big Wells for the past three years, assumed duties as pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Mission of the First Baptist Church in Winters June 2.

The Rev. Aleman graduated from the Mexican Baptist Bible Institute in San Antonio in May. Prior to entering the ministry in 1963, he lived in Lubbock for six years where he attended the Primera Iglesia Bautista.

Born in Beville Nov. 27, 1937, the Rev. Aleman moved to Matthis when he was nine years of age. He attended school there and was married to Eva Garcia in 1954. They have one son, Robert, 13.

The family is residing at 505 N. Main.

Band Director Jim Swofford Has Resigned

Jim Swofford, who has been director of the Winters High School Blizzard Band for the past three years, has submitted his resignation to the Board of Trustees of the Winters Independent School District.

He has accepted a position in the Floydada schools as band director.

Superintendent of Schools, Carroll Tatom said the board will interview applicants for the position vacated by Swofford. In his letter of resignation, Swofford said, "My three years in Winters have been both pleasant and profitable. I have certainly learned much under the guidance of Mr. Tatom, Mr. Joyce, Mr. Beard and Mr. Christian. I consider it both an honor and blessing to have had the experience of working with the fine youngsters of Winters. I certainly want to wish them success under their new director."

Winters' East-West Clean-Up Contest is well underway, with one week gone and two to go.

Considerable interest is being shown in this clean-up campaign, and the drive is expected to gain momentum during the next two weeks. Trucks provided by the City of Winters and Commissioner's Precinct No. 2 have been kept fairly busy this week, hauling trash accumulated by residents cooperating in the clean-up effort.

Special emphasis is being put on this clean-up drive by the Winters Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the drive, with hopes that the bulk of the clean-up can be completed by Friday, June 28, in time for the visit by Governor John Connally and many other people from a wide area of the state. (See "Forts Trail Tour").

Residents who have trash and tree limbs gathered up are asked to call the office of the Chamber of Commerce or the City Hall to have it picked up.

This year's clean-up campaign has been organized as a "contest" between the East Side and the West Side, with Main Street as the dividing line. The Chamber of Commerce will have out of town judges to compare the two "sides" of town at the end of the drive. The side judged the "cleanest" will be the winner, and a plaque will be presented to that side of town, properly inscribed, and will be put on display in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Also as a part of the drive, and to climax the effort, the Chamber of Commerce plans to sponsor a watermelon feed, to be held on a date to be announced.

Norton To Decide On School Fate

Consensus of residents of the Norton School District will have an important bearing on the course to be taken regarding the future of the school, following the fire Saturday which destroyed the school building.

Several courses can be taken, according to Cecil Patton, president of the Norton School Board of Trustees, and a decision will probably be made soon after a community meeting next Monday night. The meeting has been called for 8:30 Monday, June 17, in the school gym, which was saved from the fire.

Alternatives would include rebuilding a high school; re-building for a grade school only; consolidation of the entire system with a neighboring school district; or contracting with other districts. The decision will be made following the community meeting, Patton said. He urged all school district residents to attend the meeting and to express their opinion regarding the course to be taken.

The school board met Monday night with Runnels County Superintendent, Buck Elkins, to discuss the future of the Norton School.

FIRE SATURDAY

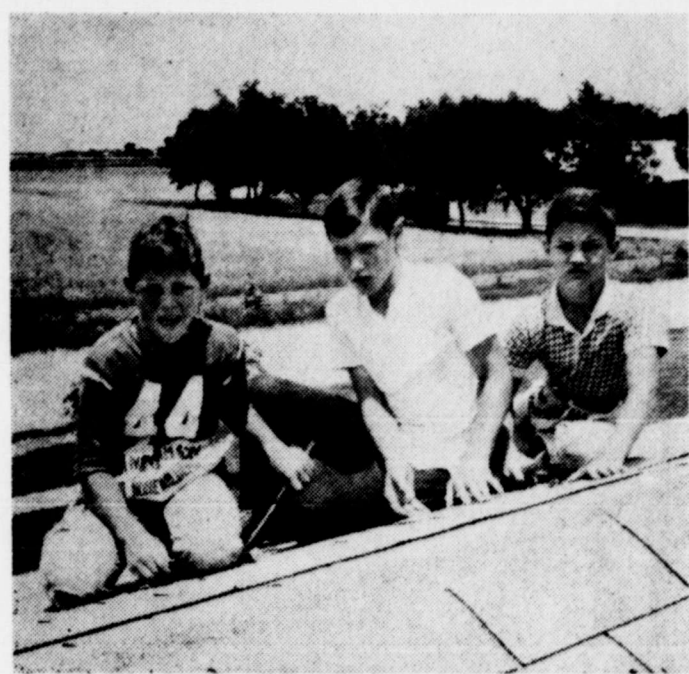

Only some of the brick walls of the 41-year-old one-story school structure were left standing following the fire Saturday morning. Fire units from Winters, Ballinger and Bronte answered the alarm, but were hampered by the lack of water.

Runnels County precinct workers and Mac Construction Co. of Winters hauled water for the fire units.

The blaze was discovered about 11 a. m. Saturday, and some observers thought the blaze was from faulty electrical wiring. Firemen were able to save the school gymnasium, vocational agriculture building and home economics building, with the help of water hauled in by truck. All school records were destroyed, according to Board President Patton, along with all equipment in the school building.

The school district serves about 100 students in 12 grades. The school plant is located several hundred yards west of the Norton post office and stores. The original Norton was established several hundred

ROOFERS — These three young men spent the first few days of their summer vacation putting a new roof on their home on West Parsonage, covering the old roof which was ruined in the hailstorm of March 10. The job took a week to complete, with sufficient time out for trips to the swimming pool and to play baseball. The work was up to professional standards, their father said. In the course of nailing about 21 squares of asphalt shingles, the boys had to lift a roof-top air conditioner and shingle under it, then refasten the air conditioner to the roof again. Left to right, they are Kevin, 9 (4th grade), Barry, 13 (8th grade), and Riley, 12 (7th grade). They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Marks. (Staff photo)

Wilmeth To Have Homecoming Fete, Marker Dedication Scheduled Sunday

Former District Judge O. L. Parish of Ballinger will be the speaker for the dedication of the official historical Mazeland-Wilmeth marker at the Wilmeth Baptist Church Sunday, June 16, at 2 p. m.

The dedication of the historical marker will be one of the highlights of the Wilmeth Community's homecoming event, and special emphasis will also be centered on recognizing and honoring old settlers of the community.

The homecoming celebration will be held in the Annex of the church, with everyone invited to attend Sunday School at 10 a. m. and worship.

A basket lunch will be spread in the church annex at noon, with everyone being asked to bring a basket lunch. Coffee and tea will be provided by the Wilmeth community.

At the dedication ceremony, Judge Parish will be introduced by Frankie Berryman, Runnels County Clerk, who is a native of Wilmeth.

The program is under the auspices of the Runnels County Historical Survey Committee, and Rankin Pace, chairman, will preside.

County Judge W. H. Rumpy will give the invocation and Sheriff Don Atkins will lead the pledges to the United States and Texas flags. Both Judge Rumpy and Sheriff Atkins grew up in Wilmeth.

The Rev. Clovis Griffin, pastor of the Wilmeth Church, will welcome the guests, and Mrs. L. B. Watkins will introduce pioneers attending. J. W. Bahlman, also a native of Wilmeth, will lead group singing. Mrs. Jack Pritchard will accompany at the piano.

The Mazeland-Wilmeth marker, which has been placed on FM 383, ten miles west of Winters, tells the story of two communities that merged. Mazeland, named for the maize that grows in the area, was founded two and a half miles southwest in 1903, when a store and post office was opened on A. B. Hutchinson's ranch. A one-room school, built one mile west in 1904, later served both places.

By 1906 the settlement had enlarged and was named in honor of Joe Wilmeth, popular Ballinger banker. Before the Wilmeth post office was established in 1907, citizens took turns bringing mail from Mazeland in horse-drawn wagons. Both post offices were discontinued in 1909.

Judge Parish served 33 years as 119th District Judge before his retirement in 1964. He was elected Runnels County Clerk in 1910 and also began the study of law. In six years he passed the bar exam and was elected Runnels County Judge in 1916. He came to Runnels from Denton County in 1904 with his parents, who settled in the Wilmeth community.

WILMETH CEMETERY
The cemetery is a big motivating factor in the building of a spirit of community relationships and community identity, and the Wilmeth Cemetery is no exception. Residents of the community are aware that a community may be judged by the way the cemetery is kept, and are trying to do something about it.

In addition to having served as pastor of churches in Meridian, Granbury, Ferris, Mart, Olney, and Asbury, and St. Paul churches in Fort Worth, he has worked and been a director at church camps at Glen Lake.

The Rev. and Mrs. Bowman have one daughter, a graduate of McMurry College, Abilene, now living in Arlington. They have a granddaughter, thirteen months old.

Wheat Harvest Now In Full Swing

Harvest of the 1968 wheat crop has "peaked out," in the opinion of some grain men, but a lot of wheat is expected to be received in Winters for some weeks to come.

Hot weather of the past few days has caused a quick-drying of the wheat, and combines have been able to make a big headway. Given a few more days of sunshine, grain men said, a large part of this year's crop will be harvested.

Quality of grain being received in Winters is a little better than that received even last week, it was stated. However, quality is not up to standards always expected of wheat in the Winters area. Protein content is low; Winters area wheat usually has a high protein content.

Hot days have succeeded in diminishing the moisture problem, and grain is testing out at No. 1 ordinary. Grain is still light, however.

Although there have been reports of good yields in this area, and run-of-the-field yields have been disappointing, according to most observers. Even in the face of low yield and a general price decline, observers predict a greater boost to the local economy from this year's wheat crop than was experienced last year, a lower-than-average year.

Three cars of a "grain train" leaving Winters Tuesday night were derailed north of town. Work was underway Wednesday to right the cars and clear the Abilene-Southern track. Extent of damage was not known. There were approximately 20 cars to the train.

Sitting in special session to approve appropriations and tax bills for the fiscal year beginning September 1, the House and Senate began deliberations on how to distribute some $2,500,000,000 in appropriations.

When that little problem is taken care of, the Legislature will worry about one that's potentially more disastrous, politically. Raising taxes or passing new ones comes next. They must raise the $125,130,000,000 difference between what the state will have and what it will need.

Gov. John Connally's special session opened on schedule June 4 in a storybook setting: The newly-elected Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, Speaker Ben Barnes, held the House controls.

Governor Connally spelled out basically this tax program:

A one-per-cent raise in the state sales tax rate to three per cent with the bulk of the increase going to cities. Sales tax would be extended to cover cigarettes, other tobacco products, and such services as haircuts and beauty treatments, laundry and dry cleaning, repairs, telephone and telegraph, and auto parking ($76,800,000). A $3,200,000 cut in taxes on the gross receipts of telephone companies was incorporated in his recommendations, and same being more than offset by the inclusion of telephone service in the three per cent sales tax.

A boost in the auto sales tax rate to three per cent ($30,600,000).

Legalization of liquor-by-the-drink in small bottles, with each bottle individually taxed, and private clubs assessed a 10 per cent gross receipts tax ($14,500,000).

Transfer of $7,500,000 from the operators and chauffeurs license fund to the general fund spending pocket.

A realty transfer stamp tax (1,000,000).

Initial reaction to the $127,200,000 package was generally cool or downright unfriendly, although many legislators were plainly waiting to see what the folks back home thought of it.

Outlook was dimmest of all for the mini-bottle bill. Even many liquor-by-the-drink advocates didn't like it, but they admitted that from their standpoint it was "better than nothing." Hearings on it were started this week by committees of both the House and the Senate.

House revenue and tax committee is considering Connally's omnibus tax bill. Speaker Barnes who is not committed to the Connally proposals, apparently will put them to a floor vote in the House next week unless something better is substituted.

Barnes warned that $140,000,000 in new revenue may be needed if a federal income tax surcharge is passed by Congress, slashing state purchasing power and thereby cutting the state's sales tax take.

After all tax items are taken care of, Connally has promised to open the legislative hopper to such other issues as the lawmakers desire—if there's time left in the 30-day special session.

the state, now have a new chance at life.

U. S. Supreme Court has ruled that the death penalty cannot be imposed by a jury from which persons opposed to capital punishment have been excluded. Under the Texas system a potential juror may be excused if he states that he is opposed to the death sentence in a capital crime. Under this new ruling, however, such persons can't be excluded, and according to State Attorney General Crawford Martin, "it will probably do away with the death penalty." A jury must unanimously agree on capital punishment in a case for it to be imposed.

It is presumed that the court's decision also will permit those people now under sentence of death to appeal in federal court. Ruling, however, did not specify whether the decision would cover persons already sentenced. "I seriously doubt," Attorney General Martin commented, "if the courts will let a man be executed until the question is decided."

COURTS SPEAK

State Supreme Court agreed with the lower court on dismissal of a suit filed by a woman who claimed she was given a contaminated drug at Good Shepherd Hospital in Gregg County.

Controversy over whether Texas or Louisiana law controls a $150,000 damage suit filed in Texas after a Louisiana was killed in a traffic accident near Eunice, La., will be reviewed by the Texas Supreme Court.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held constitutional a bill granting tax exemption for fraternal organizations on property used for charitable, benevolent, religious and educational purposes as defined by the constitution.

Purchaser who has paid sales or use taxes on a motor vehicle to another state is entitled to a credit on use tax due Texas.

EDUCATIONAL SPENDING BELOW AVERAGE

Texas spent, on the average, $127 less per child in its public schools last year than did the rest of the nation. That, according to Texas State Teachers Association, is the size of the state's "education gap."

Texas spent $492 on the average for each public school child while the national average stood at $619.

State's spending has increased 61 per cent in this area over the last ten years, but across the nation it has increased 91 per cent, says TSTA, yet Texas' population has grown one-third faster than the rest of the country.

HUNTING PROSPECTS GOOD

Parks and Wildlife Department biologists and game management officers report "exceptionally good prospects" for an excellent hunting season this year.

Heavy rainfall has greened up the countryside and insured good food and cover for wildlife. Most reporting stations said rainfall was the best in years. A few said "best since 1941."

Fort Griffin Was Rough and Tumble Frontier Outpost

ALBANY—In the saga of the wild and woolly west, it is hard to imagine a frontier outpost wilder or woollier than Fort Griffin, now a 503 acre State Historic Park, 25 miles north of Albany in Shackelford County. Established as the most strategic point in a frontier defense line to protect settlers from the Comanches, the fort attracted both the skim and the dregs of humanity. With the constant danger which any frontier outpost faces, life was cheap, and there were men who took advantage of the bargain basement prices.

First known as Camp Wilson for the late son of the U. S. Senator from Massachusetts, the fort was established July 31, 1867 by units of the Sixth U. S. Cavalry commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Samuel D. Sturgis. Temporary structures, chiefly tents and picket houses, were set up to house men, and log houses from a nearby ranch were hauled in and reconstructed to serve as headquarters for the post commander and as a hospital.

Built on a bluff overlooking the Clear Fork branches of the Brazos River, a site which came to be known as "Government Hill," Fort Griffin was in a commanding position to withstand attack, and had the added advantage of being close to a constant supply of good water.

The fort was an important supply post for buffalo hunters, trail drivers, and settlers. The Western Cattle Trail which wound through Fort Griffin brought more than 1,000,000 head of cattle driven by 2,000 cowboys through there in 1871.

Helping Returning Servicemen

Babson Park, Mass. The end of the Vietnam war is not yet in sight. But even now, thousands of servicemen (and women) are returning to civilian life each month. If you have relatives or friends due to be discharged, or if you are an employer, you should know what Uncle Sam is doing to help these veterans.

Old Job Or New

All vets who were employed before entering service have 90 days after discharge to apply for restoration to their old jobs. If you know any returning serviceman who is having trouble getting his old job back—and this is not uncommon, especially in small companies whose owners or managers just don't understand what the law requires of them—tell the vet to contact the nearest Veterans Re-employment Rights Office of the U. S. Department of Labor for assistance.

Vets who worked for Uncle Sam before going into service, or who would like to work for him now, should contact their local U. S. Civil Service Commission Office. Note that the Federal Veterans Preference Act accords former servicemen priority on government jobs for which they qualify. Many states give a similar break to vets qualifying for state civil service jobs. In addition, President Johnson has empowered federal agencies to hire vets for some government jobs without requiring competitive examinations.

Educational Benefits

All veterans who have had more than 180 days of active service, or who have been discharged for service-connected disabilities, are entitled to one month of active-duty service, for a total of no more than 36 months' schooling. Such instruction may be taken at any public or private secondary school; vocational, correspondence, or business school; junior college, normal school, or teacher's college; college or university; professional, scientific, or technical institution.

The Veterans Administration administers this program. Government help amounts to $130 per month for a single vet in a full-time educational pursuit. With one dependent, the total rises to $155, with two to $175. Assistance for each dependent after the first two is $10 monthly. Not widely known is the fact that veterans may receive a monthly allowance if they choose to take farm co-operative training comprising institutional agricultural courses plus related work on the farm. For a single vet, the allowance is $105 per month; $145 for a vet with two dependents, $7 for each additional dependent.

Life Insurance And Home

Loan Guarantees

All discharged military personnel possess a most important asset in their Servicemen's Group Life Insurance policy. This protection is continued for 120 days after they leave the service. If not converted to a commercial-type policy within that period it lapses. So, if you have a query about GI insurance, don't guess, or be content with partial answers. Get in touch directly with the Servicemen's Group Life Insurance, 212 Washington St., Newark, N. J.

Most of us are aware that vets have 10 years from discharge date to get a VA-guaranteed home or farm loan. But many do not realize that, to this 10 years, an extra year is added

Rev. S. A. Baker Retires After 42 Years In Ministry

The Rev. S. A. Baker, former resident of Winters, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Hubbard, retired from the active ministry at the annual meeting of the Central Texas Conference in Fort Worth last week.

He began his ministry more than 42 years ago, in December 1925, in the Mount View Methodist Church near Brownwood and will return to that church to preach his last sermon as a traveling minister of the church. All his ministry has been in the Central Texas Conference.

Rev. Baker is the brother of Joe Baker of Winters and the late E. H. Baker. Some of the larger towns where he served as pastor were Waco, Waxahachie, Fort Worth, Cleburne, Grandview and Hubbard.

In addition to his work as pastor, he served four years as secretary of the Conference Board of Evangelism, 8 years as chairman of the Commission on Town and Country work in the conference, 28 years as member of the Conference Statistical Staff, which he resigned to become executive secretary of the Conference Board of Pensions for two years.

He expects to continue preaching where his services are needed.

FROM EL PASO

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Korngay of El Paso, former residents of Winters, were week end visitors in the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Max Lewis.

For each three months of active duty. Loans are made by private lenders with VA guarantees. For homes, the guarantee-ceiling is now $7,500, or 60 per cent of the loan (whichever is less); for farm real estate other than acquiring a home, the top is $4,000, or 50 per cent of the loan. Legislation is now pending in Congress to raise these guarantee-ceilings.

Disability Compensation And Hospital Care

VA disburses disability compensation on a monthly basis to vets who have incurred wounds in line of duty or who have suffered injuries or contracted diseases while in service. Such payments range from $21 to $850 per month. All through life, veterans are also entitled to full care in VA hospitals at no cost for service-connected disabilities; and for treatment of non-service-connected illnesses when beds are available and they can certify they are unable to pay for hospital care elsewhere. For complete, up-to-date information on total possible benefits, contact your local VA office.

Mrs. Juanita O'Connor's Weekly Home Demonstration Agent's Column

Frozen fruits and vegetables spice your year-round menus gardenfresh flavor. But the nutritive value and quality of these fruits and vegetables depend largely on the treatment before freezing, storage temperatures and method of cooking and serving.

Most fruit can be frozen satisfactorily, according to the Home Demonstration Agent, Mrs. O'Connor.

Select sound, ripe fruit which is slightly riper than for canning but not soft or mushy. Tree or vine ripened fruits contain more vitamins and a richer flavor than fruits picked green and allowed to ripen before freezing.

In general, fruits are prepared for freezing as for eating, she says keep fruit cool until it is frozen. Wash it in cold water but do not allow it to stand in the water. Some fruit loses food value and flavor and some get water soaked. Some fruits, such as peaches, apricots, apples and pears, discolor easily. Here is a way to prevent this:

A scorbic acid (Vitamin C) is available in tablet, crystalline or powdered form. Use 1-2 teaspoon of this per quart of syrup to prevent the discoloration.

If you don't want to pack the fruit in syrup, sprinkle dissolved ascorbic acid over fruit just before adding sugar. Use 1-2 teaspoon in 1-2 cup cold water to each quart of fruit.

Mrs. O'Connor said some special commercial antidarkening preparations are on the market. These materials can be found at drug stores or where other freezing supplies are sold. Most fruits have better texture and flavor if packed in sugar or syrup. Some may be packed without sweetening for use in special diets.

The way you plan to use the fruit determines the method of packing it. Fruit packed in a syrup generally is better for dessert use; fruit packed in dry sugar or unsweetened is better for most cooking because there is less liquid in the products.

Quickly getting vegetables from the garden to the freezer is a must for top-quality frozen vegetables. During hot weather, harvest vegetables in the early morning before they absorb much heat, she advises.

Vegetables at optimum maturity will have best flavor and texture.

If you must store vegetables before freezing, she recommends spreading them out loosely in a cool, well ventilated place or packing loosely in the refrigerator.

Prepare vegetables for freezing similar to cooking them. Wash thoroughly in cold water, drain and sort; peel, trim and cut.

Blanch the vegetable in boiling water. Head leafy greens for two minutes, the time varies with the vegetable.

This kills enzyme action in the product. The enzymes help the plants grow and mature but if not deactivated the vegetables will develop off-flavors and often discolor or toughen during freezing.

Place the scalded vegetables immediately into running cold or ice water.

When the product is cool to the tongue when tested, it is cool enough to pack.

After the vegetables have been heated, cooled and drained, pack in airtight moisture-vapor-proof containers, leaving 1-2 inch headspace. Mrs. O'Connor advises. Seal according to type of container you use.

She recommends cooking all vegetables in the frozen state, except corn-on-the-cob, which should be partially defrosted. Cook them only until tender in a small amount of water.

Berries (Cold Pack)

All berries except strawberries: Wash berries and pick over carefully. Discard sour ones. Pack into clean KERR jars. Fill to within 1-2 inches of top of jar with light or medium syrup. Put on cap, screwing the band firmly tight. Process according to time table. Pressure Cooker - pints and quarts 8 minutes and 5 pound pressure.

WASHINGTON
"As it looks from here"
OMAR BURLISON
Congressman
17th District

On August 25, 1959, I introduced a Resolution in the Congress which would permit two companies of Marines to patrol the streets of Washington, which, of course, is a Federal City, in conjunction with the police.

Again on February 26, 1963 and July 14, 1965, the same Resolution was introduced and each of these was referred to the Armed Services Committee where it was opposed by the Defense Department. In fact, Departmental reports, including the District of Columbia Commissioners, were adverse to the passage of this measure.

As time went on it is common knowledge as to what happened and, finally, the Marines and Soldiers were called in to quell riots and looting.

On three different occasions the House of Representatives passed legislation which would have the effect of nullifying many of the Supreme Court's decisions affecting arrest and prosecution of criminals. The Senate did not act.

At last, they have done so, and last week a bill was passed which has as its purpose to override certain Court judgments which have handicapped law enforcement and providing assistance to police enforcement in the States.

Title I of the bill provides planning grants and action grants to State and local law enforcement agencies to develop and strengthen the total service. Title II of the Bill seeks to give authority back to the trial courts that they may not be handicapped by these decisions which have given encouragement to the criminal as against the public interest. The tendency of the Federal courts, and especially the Supreme Court, to disrupt the finality of State court decisions has eroded respect for law and diminished the fear of punishment.

Another important part of Title II says that the Supreme Court can not review the question of the voluntariness of a confession when the voluntary aspect has already been settled by the highest court of a State. Under the proposed legislation, the standard for admitting confessions as evidence will return to the time-tested standard of true voluntariness. It sets aside the inflexible and technical rules established in the so-called Mallory, Escobedo and Miranda cases.

Title III, to which much opposition developed, is concerned with permitting wiretapping in the investigation of serious Federal crimes. This section allows a court to order electronic surveillance under the "lawful search" provisions of the Fourth Amendment to the Constitution. This power will give much needed assistance in the war on organized crime. The Justice Department has identified an estimated 5,000 members of the Cosa Nostra but has succeeded in indicting only 200 and convicting only about 100 since 1961.

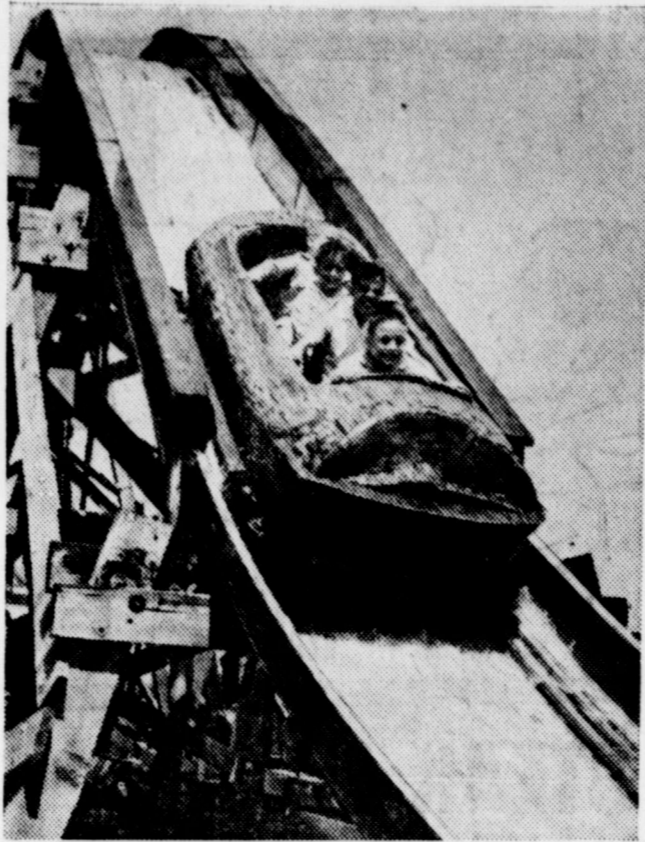

Title IV prohibits interstate mail order sale of handguns. It does not affect rifles and shotguns and does not limit the right of the person under the Constitution to keep and bear arms. It does prohibit all sales of handguns to persons under 21 and to non-residents of the State. It requires gun dealers to be licensed by the Federal Government and to keep records of acquisition and disposition of their sales.

This is a section which gives considerable concern to many of us who have been opposed to the Federal Government injecting itself into this Constitutional right of the individual but as a "take it or leave it" proposition, with the other desirable provisions of the Law, it was acceptable to the House of Representatives. Personally, I prefer not to see this sort of license power given to the Federal Government, feeling it is a "foot in the door." On the other hand, the so-called Dodd Bill in the Senate imposes far-reaching restrictions, and the action in the Bill approved by the Congress and sent to the President may stop this further infringement by the Federal Government on gun control.

The Omnibus Crime Control Act already bears the imprint of many restrictive changes and additions. If America is to be made safe for its citizens, this is a long step in the right direction.

Texas Spends Less For Schools Than Average

Texans who think they are big spenders on education should look around at other states.

For each public school pupil in average daily attendance, Texas spent an average of $492 last year in current expenditures. But that was far below the $619 average for the nation.

This is one of the striking facts found in a new Texas State Teachers Association publication, Where Texas Ranks: Vital Statistics About Our Standing in Public School Education.

Texas state government and local school districts have made great strides in support of education during the last decade. But other states have been taking larger steps, the TSTA publication shows, leaving Texas with an "education gap."

The $492 Texas now spends on each pupil is 61 percent more than ten years ago, the figures show. But the average increase for all states, during the same ten years, was 91 percent.

Texas population and school enrollment continue to grow faster than the nation as a whole, while the gap in financial support of education widens.

The statistics, gathered from a variety of official sources listed in the publication, show Texas' population has grown by 13.5 percent since 1960, compared to a national growth rate of 10.4 percent.

With almost 2.6 million pupils, Texas ranks third in school enrollment this year.

Determining whether school children have qualified teachers is "a job for people like you who pay the taxes and make education decisions," a foreword in the TSTA publication directed to the public states.

One way of measuring the quality of education, the report says, is through comparative statistics.

Another statistical fact cited is that Texas this year ranks 33rd among the states in average salary paid all public school teachers. The Texas average salary for teachers is $6,500, contrasted with the average of $7,296 in all states.

The national average teacher pay includes all states with all kinds of living standards—from Alaska with $9,444 to Mississippi with $4,611.

While Texans hear a lot about teacher salary increases, schools here haven't kept pace. Instructional staff salaries went up 48.4 percent in the last ten years, but average increase for all states was 61 percent.

Other facts about Texas revealed in the publication include the following:

Texans paid a lower percentage (4.9 percent) of their personal income as state taxes in 1967 than the national average of 5.5 percent. In this respect Texas ranked 43rd among the 50 states.

State and local governments in Texas collected an average of $219.52 in taxes from Texans during 1965-66, for a ranking of 40th.

Pupil-teacher ratio is one indication of teacher overloading and crowded classrooms. Texas last year had a ratio of 24.2 pupils per teacher, slightly worse than the 24.1 average. But 30 other states had better conditions, and South Dakota led with only 18.6 pupils per teacher. This is an average attendance figure, not the number of pupils enrolled. Dropouts and high school graduates are another indicator of the end result of education. Last year Texas ranked 42nd by graduating only 70.2 percent of the students who started the ninth grade four years earlier. This was below the national average of 77.8 percent. Minnesota led with 92 percent. Texas is improving in retention of students, however. The number of high school graduates increased 45.3 percent from 1962 to 1967, compared to a national average increase of 42.8 percent. In this category, Texas ranked 19th, one of its highest educational ratings.

saw the need of a cemetery map, and have been researching in order to make another map. Many of the people who could shed a little light on grave locations cannot be located, but efforts are being made to identify and mark as many of the graves as possible. Mrs. L. B. Watkins, Route 1, Winters, lives one mile east of Wilmeth, and has been doing research on the Wilmeth cemetery. She has conferred with Spill Funeral Home. And Mrs. A. W. Hancock assisted Mrs. Watkins in reading some of the names on markers. As these graves are located, Mrs. Watkins marks them on the map. After many hours and days of work, the cemetery map has been brought up to date, as nearly as possible. One copy of the map is kept at Spill Funeral Home, and the other at Mrs. Watkins' home, for the convenience of the public.

Mrs. Watkins says she would like to hear from people who might be able to provide additional information regarding the graves in the Wilmeth Cemetery. Her phone number is Wilmeth 743-6794. There are still many graves with no names or stones, and "we are asking the public to help us by sending any information." Mrs. Watkins said. When this information is provided, the community will try to put up markers on every grave.

Do not use electrically-powered mowers when grass is wet or when it's raining.

Stand firmly when starting the mower. Keep feet well away from the blade. Set machine on a flat, even surface so that it will not tip or roll when starting. Stop the engine and wait until it is cool if you must refuel. Stay clear of the front of self-propelled mowers. Never attempt removal of any object from the mower until motor is stopped and blades have stopped turning. If you want to work on the underside to make an adjustment, disconnect the spark plug wire or the electric plug so you won't accidentally start the mower while lifting or turning the mower. Mow to the left, away from the exit chute. If you are using an electric-powered mower, keep electric cord to the right behind you, and mow to the left, using care at all times not to run over the cord.

Winters Public Library To Open Next Weekend

The Winters Public Library, which has been closed for some time during a remodeling and enlarging program, will be open sometime next week, according to plans being made by the library board and library workers who will operate it, Friday or Saturday of next week have been set as target dates, but it may be possible to open before that time, it was explained.

Extensive remodeling has been done at the library. A partition wall has been removed, and the library proper has been extended to the back of the building, providing about double the book shelf space which has been available to now.

Many new books will be on the shelves when the library opens again, it was stated. In addition, a locked glass case will be available for display of valuable and rare books which cannot be left on the open shelves.

Due to the illness of Miss Myra Glover, librarian, the library will be operated by volunteer ladies. When open again, library hours will be the same as in the past, from 2 to 6 p. m. on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

Because of the remodeling program, a supervised children's reading program had not been planned for this summer. However, parents who would like to have their children continue a reading program this summer, or begin a program, may find all types of children's books on the shelves, and may obtain information and advice from some of the volunteer librarians who have supervised programs in the past.
