HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Thursday of next week is Independence Day—July 4th! To too many of us, perhaps, the date has lost its meaning. We have permitted ourselves to forget the historical significance of Independence Day, which should be foremost in our minds. In many instances in fact we have, in our headlong rush, isolated ourselves behind invisible walls, separated ourselves from anything noticeably patriotic—because of some unknown and unfounded fear that we might attract the attention of someone else—who themselves fear that they might show some spark of patriotic leanings. (A mysterious working of the mind.) We seem to have reached the point where we believe—and teach (or fail to teach by disregard)—that any degree of acknowledgement of patriotism is an abandonment of the belief in individualism—that the two are apart and separate. How sad!

Therefore, at no time in our history is the following more appropriate than now when civil disobedience and teachings of disobedience abound and a noisy minority holds the spotlight, scoffing at everything this country holds dear. It is a reply by S. L. DeLove in the Know Your History Hour, to a listener who wrote as follows: "Your programs are wonderful—but you are waving the flag too much."

Is it possible to wave the flag too much? Provided, of course, that you wave it with integrity? Is it possible to study Lincoln or Shakespeare too much? Is it possible to read the Bible too much?

The great, the good, the true, are inexhaustible for inspiration, example and strength. I believe that we are not waving our flag enough, not nearly enough.

It seems to me that we are developing a tendency to be timid or even apologetic about waving the stars and stripes. Walk up and down the streets on July 4th and count the flags. It is our nation's birthday, a sacred day in world history, the most important day of America. Why isn't the flag flying on every rooftop and from every home an adorning? This complacent attitude is strong evidence of cancerous patriotic decay. The flag is a symbol of our national unity. It is the spirit of our undying devotion to our country. It stands for the best that is in us . . . for loyalty, character, and faith in democracy.

Isn't our flag a synonym of the United States of America? Does it not represent man's greatest, noblest, most sublime dream? Is it not the zenith of achievement, the goal to which generations have aspired? I believe it is time for us . . . for the mad, rushing Twentieth Century American . . . to stop for a moment and think. Let us arrest our near reverential admiration of material success and return to the spiritual and ethical values. Let us imbue and rekindle in ourselves and our children the so-called old-fashioned way of patriotism, a burning devotion to the principles and ideals upon which our country was founded.

Should not every home own and proudly display the colors on holidays and other such occasions? Isn't the flag Patrick Henry, Jefferson, Franklin, Washington, Nathan Hale, Paul Revere, Gettysburg and Valley Forge, Jackson and other great men and women who have given us our heritage? When you look at the flag can't you see the Alamo, Corrigador, Pearl Harbor, The Monitor, The Merrimac, Wake Island, the Korea? Let us forget, isn't the flag Flanders Field, Bataan, Iwo Jima, Normandy, Babe Ruth and Davy Crockett? The great events of our past and present are wrapped up in our flag.

It is the symbol of this blessed nation, a giant in industry, education and commerce. Millions of fertile square miles, wheatlands, coal mines, steel plants. Our great republic, the chosen infant destined to be man's last and remaining hope for suffering humanity, a shining beacon of light, noble and glorious, the haven for the oppressed and persecuted and truly God's gift to Mankind.

That is what the flag means to me. Can we wave it too (Continued on page 8)

Sixty Archers Attended Tourney Here Sunday

About 60 archers from a wide invitational archery tournament sponsored here Sunday by the Runnels County Archers Association. Archers were present from Fort Worth, Odessa, Tahoka, Lubbock, Midland, San Angelo and Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Abilene, and other areas.

Archers competed in several divisions and classes, each shooting 56 targets. Trophies were awarded the first three places in each class.

Members of the RCAA winning trophies were Mrs. Marvin Clark, 1st, Class D, bare bow women's division; Marvin Clark Jr., 1st, Class C, barebow, youth; Jerry Whitlow, 2nd, Class B freestyle, men's division; Mrs. Jerry Whitlow, 2nd, Class B, bare bow, women's division; Don Vinson, 3rd, Class A freestyle, men's division; and Mrs. Don Vinson, 3rd, Class A, freestyle, women's division.

The RCAA served a barbecue dinner at noon. Several archers arrived Saturday and some of them camped out at the association range below the dam of Winters Lake. Others stayed in motels in town.

Bill Wheat of Odessa, president of the Texas Field Archers Association, and Mrs. Nelle Butts of Fort Worth, secretary-treasurer of the state organization, were present for the tournament, and won trophies in the shooting.

Bob Wilson, president of RCAA, said this was one of the most successful tournaments sponsored by the local organization, and number of entries was substantial considering the fact that the four-state regional meet was held in Abilene on the previous week end. Wilson said the Winters archers would sponsor another invitational tournament in August. The RCAA president also expressed thanks to all those who helped make the tournament a success, in way of donations of supplies or funds. He said out of town archers who entered the tournament were complimentary in their remarks concerning the interest of archery here, and that they considered the local archery range one of the best in the country.

Merchants Are Planning July 12 "Sidewalk Sale"

Winters merchants are already making plans for a gigantic "Sidewalk Sale," to be held Friday, July 12. The special promotion event is being sponsored by the Retail Trades Committee of the Winters Chamber of Commerce.

For the special "Sidewalk Sale," merchants will present special merchandising specials. Many of them will have displays of merchandise on the sidewalks.

Some of the merchants also will have special drawings for gifts. This phase of the sale will be on an individual basis, with each merchant conducting his own drawing.

Sale will begin at 10 a. m., and continue until 8 p. m.

Clean-Up Contest Ends This Week

The city-wide clean-up campaign, a "Clean-Up Contest" between the east side of Winters and the west side, draws to a close this week. The campaign has been sponsored by the Winters Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the City of Winters.

Judging in the contest will be conducted Monday, and a plaque will be "presented" to the "Side" considered by the judges to be most successful in the clean-up drive.

The City of Winters and County Commissioners Precinct 2 have cooperated in this drive, providing extra trucks to haul away the collected trash.

There has been considerable response to the drive, according to the sponsors of the clean-up drive, although much remains to be done. It has been difficult to have all vacant lots cleaned off and weeds and tall grass cut, however.

VISITED HEMISFAIR

Mrs. A. D. Lee returned home Tuesday from San Antonio, where she attended the HemisFair and visited relatives.

Mary Lynn Pritchard Will Play In Girls All-Star Basketball Game

Mary Lynn Pritchard, graduate of Winters High School with the Class of '68, has been selected to participate in the North-South All-Star Girls Basketball Game to be held at 8:15 p. m. Saturday, July 20, at the Duncanville High School gymnasium.

Miss Pritchard will be a guard for the South team. The All-Star game is held in conjunction with the Summer Clinic of the Texas High School Girls Basketball Coaches Association, which will be held July 18, 19, and 20 at Duncanville. This is the third consecutive year for the summer clinic and all-star game to be held at Duncanville.

Miss Pritchard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Pritchard of Wintgate. As a guard on the Winters High School Blizzardette basketball team, she was named All-District guard, first team, in 1968. Previously, she received honorable mention, for the All-District team, in 1966 and 1967. During the 1967 basketball season, Miss Pritchard was chosen All-Tournament guard in tournaments at Eula, Trent and Lakeview. She was named outstanding guard at the Lakeview tourney in 1968, and All-Tournament guard at the Trent tournament.

In high school, she was a member of the Future Teacher's of America, Future Homemakers of America, Spanish Club, Spanish Honor Society, and participated in volleyball and girls' track.

She plans to attend a beauty school in Abilene this fall, and probably will enter college after the first of the year.

Babson's Mid-Year Forecast—1968

By most standards, first-half 1968 has been a very good period for business. Numerous new records in production and shipments; a Gross National Product gain of close to $38 billion; economic strength abounding despite social, economic, political, and international crises.

Even so, it is obvious that this prosperity has not been shared by all segments of the economy. Farm income has lagged. Dollar gains in personal income have been whittled down—in some cases to the vanishing point—by heavier total tax levies and rising living costs.

Our Babson Forecast for July-December is for further overall betterment in business . . . although at a slower rate than recently.

GROSS NATIONAL PRODUCT Best estimate is that Gross National Product will average out at $488 billion for the year. This would represent a gain of $63 billion, or a little more than 8 percent. Roughly 5 percent of this boost has already been attained in the first half. Reasons for the anticipated slowdown in the upward momentum of GNP: Expected heavier taxes—possible cutbacks in federal spending, and a slowing of the upmove in capital expenditures.

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION The difficulties besetting the economy in this eight consecutive year of cyclical upturn are more fully reflected in the recent flat performance of the

Reading Program For Children At Winters Library

Winters Public Library is sponsoring a Texas Reading Program for all school-age children this summer.

Children taking part in the program will be issued Reading Program Certificates at the end of the program, provided they have met requirements. They will be required to read at least 12 books by August 17, to earn the certificates. Children and parents are urged to visit the library and sign up for the program.

The regular librarian, Miss Myra Glover, has been ill, and the library is kept open by volunteers. The library is open on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, from 2 to 6 p. m.

Social Security Man Will Visit Winters On July 10 and 24

Julius Gipson, claims representative for the San Angelo Social Security office, has scheduled his July visits to Winters. He will be at the Chamber of Commerce from 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. on Wednesday, July 10 and 24. Anyone who wants to file a claim for benefits, get information, or transact other business with the Social Security Administration may contact him at this time.

NOTICE Regular meeting of the Roy Scoggins Post American Legion will be held Monday night, it has been announced by Arthur Bates, vice-commander. Mr. Bates urges all members to be present since the organization has some unfinished business to decide.

AUTO OUTLOOK

So far, buyer interest has been well maintained and there is good reason to expect 1968 output to top 8,500,000 units. As usual, there will be a letdown during model changeovers. However, we predict that last-half output will top the strike-diminished year-earlier figure by about 10 percent.

BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION Despite high costs for land, materials, and mortgage money, we feel that home building will make nominal gains over year-ago levels, with apartment units continuing to be favored. Public construction will be hurt by cutbacks in federal spending, especially roadbuilding . . . dipping below recent levels but holding close to final-half 1967 outlays. Commercial construction prospects are likewise dim: expenditures could drop as much as 5 percent the first half though holding some 10 percent above

LABOR DEVELOPMENTS During the first six months of this year, wage increases have been the largest in the nation's history. And this trend will continue in the second half, spurred by the record raises expected in aluminum and steel. Basic patterns will likely con-

Need Thread Or Material For OEO Adult Class

Mothers of children enrolled in the Head Start program in the Winters school are receiving special instructions on cooking and sewing. Mrs. Juanita O'Connor, county home demonstration agent, is instructor for the class.

The adult class members receive instruction in making simple shirts and dresses for children 6 to 8 years old.

There is a shortage of items used in the class. George Beard, director of the summer program, has said. There is need for patterns, thread, buttons, and materials suitable for shirts and dresses.

Anyone wishing to help in this project by donating any of these items may contact the program director, or may leave them at the school cafeteria on any morning.

The adult classes are held each Tuesday morning.

Council Calls For Plans For Building Community Bldg.

Winters' City Council Monday night commissioned an architect to draw plans for a Community Center building, which the Council hopes to begin construction on within the next few weeks.

After plans are submitted to the Council and approved, the Council will call for bids on actual construction. Plans will be for a metal constructed building, 120 X 60, to cost in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Also meeting with the Council was a representative of a water tower construction and moving company of Arlington, to discuss moving the north water tower. The tower must be moved a few feet east to allow for widening of North Main Street. No action was taken.

No Decision On Norton School

The board of trustees of the Norton School District was to meet again Thursday night of this week to discuss the future of their school, and to further attempt to find a release from their dilemma.

With barely two months remaining before school is scheduled to take up, Norton is without facilities since a fire recently destroyed their building and equipment and records.

It was understood that the Norton board was to again meet with representatives of the Ballinger School District to discuss possible consolidation with that district.

The Norton board has held several meetings during the past two weeks in attempts to solve their school problem. W. E. (Buck) Elkins of Ballinger, Runnels County superintendent, has met with the Norton board to discuss possible routes which can be taken for the future education of the district's children.

Representatives of the Winters Independent School District were invited to meet with the Norton board last week, to discuss possible partial consolidation of the two districts. Winters School Superintendent Carroll Tatum, speaking for the board of trustees, extended an invitation to the Norton district to consider consolidation with the Winters district. He presented details surrounding educational advantages available along with facts concerning the financial status of the Winters school.

Supt. Tatum explained that the Winters school is modern in all respects, with modern facilities and a curriculum second to none in schools of this size. He pointed out that the Winters schools more than meet the academic standards required by the State for accreditation. He pointed out that the Winters school offers a well-rounded athletic program, in addition to the academic program.

In speaking of the financial status of the Winters School District, Supt. Tatum pointed out that the district will be free of bonded indebtedness by December, 1972, and that the district has a most favorable tax rate. Several new buildings have been added to the system within the past few years, it

Runnels S&W District Wins First In Goodyear Conservation Program

A. H. Settle, director of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company's Soil Conservation Award Program, has announced that the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District was one of their three first place winners for this program in Texas.

Settle said a committee of State agriculture and conservation authorities made the selection after reviewing accomplishments of each of the participating soil and water conservation districts throughout the State. He said each district is judged on its activities of planning, organizing, measuring and giving service to the people.

These modern facilities and the academic program available, the Winters school could easily absorb any or all of the students of the Norton district.

There are several routes which the district could take, it has been explained. The district could attempt to rebuild and provide 12 grades; provide several grades in the grade school level and apportion high school students to three adjoining districts—Winters, Ballinger or Bronte; consolidate the entire district with another district; or split the district with some students attending schools in each of the three adjoining districts.

There have been many expressions of desire on the part of district residents that the Norton School District not lose its identity, and that at least a grade school level be maintained. County Superintendent Elkins told members of the board of trustees and other district residents, at a recent meeting, that the only way that the district could keep its identity would be to operate a school. He said that if Norton builds a new twelfth grade school their taxes would be higher than the surrounding districts. "Therefore, it would be a little cheaper for students to be transferred to another district," he said.

County Superintendent Elkins has said that if Norton decides to send their students to an adjoining district, it would be up to the county school board to choose which district they would be transferred to.

Members of the County School Board are W. T. Billups of Winters, M. B. Folsom of Wintgate, Herman Price and E. E. King, both of Ballinger, and Mr. Kasberg of Miles.

Installing officer will be J. W. Chandler of Houston, Grand Master of Texas Masons. Installing marshal will be Dr. B. F. Tatum, Ballinger, deputy grand master of the 105th Masonic district.

Officers of the lodges in Ballinger, Winters, Paint Rock, Eden, Wintgate, Norton, and Miles are expected to be installed to their respective offices.

Grand Master Chandler will be honored at a "Dutch treat" dinner at 6 p. m. at the original Lockett Inn. All area Masons and their wives are invited to attend this dinner.

Installation ceremonies will be held in the Miles Baptist Church auditorium at 8 p. m. and will be followed by a reception hosted by the Miles Chapter of OES at the Masonic hall. All area Masons and their wives, together with the general public, are invited to attend.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

BREAK FOR VETERANS

Three men apply for a single government job. One is a war veteran, the other two are not. Should the first man get the job just because he is a veteran?

To some degree, veterans have been getting this kind of a break ever since Civil War days. The motive, of course, is to give them an extra reward for their service to the nation.

Still, they get this reward at the expense of non-veterans who might legitimately complain of discrimination. For the non-veterans are, in effect, penalized for something that may be in no way their fault.

To reconcile these conflicting considerations, the courts have worked out some practical guide-lines. In the first place, if a civil service law shows flagrant favoritism for veterans, it will probably be held unconstitutional. Thus, a court voided a law that allowed veterans to get on the local police force without taking any examinations. Pointing out that a veteran so hired might be totally unfit for the job, the court said:

"Public offices are created for the common good, and not the profit, honor, or private interest of any one man or class of men."

On the other hand, a court upheld a law that gave a more modest advantage to veterans seeking to be firemen. Here a veteran was given the edge only if he had shown, by competitive examinations, that he was just as qualified as other applicants. The court said it was fair to assume that his experience in the service might well make him a better fireman.

Likewise, the law may—and often does—given reasonable advantages to veterans in the matter of firing. For instance, the federal civil service law gives them extra procedural safeguards in case of discharge.

In one case a veteran employed at a federal shipyard was fired on charges that he had gotten too fresh with certain young women at a party.

But he won reinstatement when the management failed to come up with sufficient details of his alleged misconduct. The court said he had not been given the consideration to which, as a veteran, he was entitled.

WASHINGTON

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman 17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. — One of the greatest battles on tariffs and quotas since the enactment of the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act of 1930 is shaping up in the Congress. At least 50 industries touching all parts of the country are voicing complaints about foreign competition in hearings now under way in the House Ways and Means Committee.

About 25 bills, some of which have as many as 25 sponsors each, have been introduced to limit imports on specific goods, ranging all the way from steel to mink skins and strawberries.

The import situation has much to do with our imbalance of payments and the threat to the integrity of the dollar all around the world. The reasons for such conditions can be greatly oversimplified since every factor involved is complicated.

At the end of World War II the industrial nations of Western Europe and Japan were rehabilitated largely with American funds. Today in many industries their factories are more modern than are our own, enabling them to produce by the assembly line method and to fill orders on schedule. Previously, the United States could hold its markets pretty well for its dependability of delivering orders on time with higher quality products. This advantage in many industries has been lost.

We often hear that we are pricing ourselves out of the world market. This is true in many respects but the reason for it makes a long story.

Foreign produced goods in many instances have a Government export subsidy. Generally speaking, and the reason most often given, is the maintenance of the high standard of living enjoyed in the U. S. in proportion to that of any other country in the world. The high standard of living comes about for many reasons, not the least is that of a minimum wage and working hours set by law.

Another reason complicating the situation is the investments of American industries overseas. It is one thing to place quotas and tariffs on foreign owned and produced goods. It is another to limit shipment of good produced abroad by our own industries. A case in point is petroleum products. Until the late 1940s and early 1950s the United States was a net exporter of petroleum products. Commencing at about this time we became a net importer. With the opening of the vast oil fields in the Middle East; with heavy involvement by our own major oil companies; with uncontrolled production and wages at 28c a day, our independent oil operators have been in trouble ever since.

In 1957 a mandatory import oil program was passed by the Congress, limiting imports of foreign crude oil to 12.2 percent of domestic production.

The law was based on national security considerations. In time of war or disruption such as occurred in the Middle East and the lack of the use of the Suez Canal, which has since twice occurred, it has proved the proposition that we should not permit our domestic industry to deteriorate, causing dependence on foreign shipments.

Unfortunately, government policy administered by the Interior Department has permitted loopholes to occur in the law to the point that the program is becoming meaningless unless the law is amended to close opportunities for circumvention.

Along with others who are trying to find answers for mounting threats to domestic industries, those of us interested in the domestic oil produced must throw our full efforts in the fight.

The outcome is uncertain on any tightening of quotas and tariffs during this session of the Congress. The biggest battle on the over-all issue will likely occur in 1969.

Charlotte Virginia Dooley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Dooley of Christoval, became the bride of Thomas Ray Callison, when they repeated their marriage vows Saturday June 15, in the Chapel of the First Baptist Church in San Angelo. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. John T. Callison of San Angelo.

The Rev. Dr. Gordon Clinard, pastor, officiated for the ceremony.

Mrs. Herman McLaughlin, organist, furnished music and also accompanied Mrs. John McMullan, soloist.

Miss Nyla Dell Irby of Coleman was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Miss Sandra Muse, Miss Esta Dooley, Miss Linda Williams, of Littlefield, Miss Virginia Marwitz of College Park, Ga. Dena Erickson of Christoval and Bryan Erwin of Clifton were flower girl and ringbearer respectively.

David Wood was best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Johnny Callison, Larry Tester, Benny Bellamy and Fred Dooley of Christoval, Larry Dooley and Johnny Callison lighted candles.

The bride designed her floor-length A-line gown of sheer peau de soie over satin, with Empire lace bodice and sheer Watteau train.

In the houseparty for the reception in the church parlor were Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Dooley, uncle and aunt of the bride; Ray Haynes, uncle of the bridegroom; Mrs. Sidney D. Conner of Fort Worth, Mrs. Norman Jenkins, Miss Carolyn Kemp, Miss Tresa Erickson, and Miss Jan Stafford of Christoval, Mrs. Clifford Erwin of Clifton, Mrs. Bill Smith of Houston, Miss Mary Marwitz of College Park, Ga. and Miss Brenda Collins of McCamey.

A graduate of Winters High School, Mrs. Callison is a senior elementary education major at Angelo State College. She is a member of the Baptist Student Union and Student Education Association at ASC and of Christoval Chapter No. 761, Order of Eastern Star.

The bridegroom was graduated from San Angelo Central High School and is scheduled to receive the bachelor of arts degree and a teaching certificate in history and government from ASC in August. Named to the Dean's Honor Roll, and a member of SEA and BSU in college, he was active in 4-H work and served as state 4-H president in 1965. He is employed by a San Angelo food store.

The couple is on a wedding trip to HemisFair in San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. John Callison hosted the rehearsal dinner in McEver's Ranch House.

Parks and Wildlife Needs Native Animals For Traveling Exhibit

Austin—If you have a pet wildcat which is getting difficult to handle, Tom Abbott of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will take it off your hands—provided, of course, the cat is of a species native to Texas.

Abbott, wildlife exhibit supervisor for the Department, is looking primarily for an ocelot for the traveling exhibit viewed by some 775,000 persons annually. Native cats raised as pets are ideal for the wildlife exhibit, he said. A cat trapped in the wild has to adjust to the cage and the constant line of inquisitive visitors.

Tame or semi-tame animals often enjoy spectators and some have developed antics to attract attention.

Many families in the State have bought wildcats for pets, Abbott said. "They are beautiful when they are young, but often get difficult to manage at maturity. Actually, most families do not have adequate facilities for keeping cats of the ocelot size."

Animals kept in the Department's wildlife exhibit are well cared for, he said. Their diet is watched constantly and they are not taken on the road during the summer months because of the heat. During the off season, they are kept in comfortable cages in the San Antonio Zoo which furnishes wildlife for the exhibit.

Abbott is also looking for other wildlife species, which have been raised as pets, for the traveling wildlife show. For the fall season, beginning in September, he needs a coati mundi, ringtails, both adults and young, and three species of milk snakes—the Louisiana, the Western and Mexican, all of which are found in Texas.

Anyone who has a pet wildcat that has gotten too big to handle should call Tom Abbott, Area Code 512 GR 5-3251.

Fresh Line Means Fresh Fish—It is a safe idea at the start of every fishing trip to snip off a rod length of your line. This will eliminate any frayed portion and may save you a big fish.

Squirrels are Vegetarians—Red squirrels are vegetarians for the most part. They eat pine cones, tree buds, many mushrooms and pecans.

Advantage Of Flip Cast—Learning to flip cast into tight spots can be most productive on many of the new Texas lakes where underbrush has been left standing. Basically, flip casting is an opposite movement of the overhead cast, but it takes considerable practice.

Refreshments Afloat—Ever get hungry in a boat? Then take along a few hard boiled eggs. They make a good mid-morning snack. Also, a small can of tomato juice will allay both hunger and thirst.

Trouts' Fins Are Stabilizers—A trout doesn't swim with its fins, but with its entire body, using the fins as stabilizers.

Prevents Rust—Check over the tools in your tackle box. Perhaps a shot of WD-40 on your pliers or pocket knife may prevent serious rust damage. Hooks on lures also can rust.

Contact Social Security Office Before Retiring

Many people have the idea that they do not need to get in touch with the social security office until they retire. This is not true, according to Ted F. Moellering, district manager of the San Angelo Social Security office. Recent changes in the social security law make it possible for people who are still working full time to qualify for medicare, monthly cash benefits, or both.

"Upon reaching age sixty-five," Mr. Moellering said, "almost everyone can qualify for both the hospital insurance and the supplementary insurance programs of medicare, even if he is still working and earning too much money to be eligible for monthly cash benefits. Retirement is not a requirement for medicare eligibility. Therefore, it is extremely important to get in touch with the social security office during the three-month period before the month you become age sixty-five."

For additional information about medicare and social security benefits, contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue in San Angelo, Texas, or contact the representative when he is in your area.

1968 State 4-H Horse Show In Ft. Worth Aug. 7

COLLEGE STATION — The sixth annual State 4-H Horse Show will be held August 7-10 in Fort Worth's Will Rogers Coliseum.

In making the announcement, B. F. Yeates, animal husbandman (horses) for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said the invitation to come to Fort Worth and local arrangements for the show had been handled by a group of local horse enthusiasts and civic leaders. More than 1,500 4-H members, their parents and leaders are expected to attend.

Yeates said 480 4-H Club members from every section of Texas would participate in the show. Each has already won honors in county and district elimination shows and will be representing some 10,000 horse club members in the state. The horse show proper will include 20 classes with 240 contestants. The remaining 240 contestants will be vying for honors in a new activity, 4-H mounted precision drill team competition.

Interest, he said, has continued to increase in drill team activities and has reached the point where our 4-H teams and their leaders feel statewide competition is not only logical but highly desirable in expanding the project.

Yeates said the mounted drill teams would consist of from 10 to 20 members and the activity is centered around the teaching of basic horsemanship, including safety and handling horses.

The horse specialist said a recent planning meeting in Fort Worth resulted in the naming of the major committee chairmen for the event. Billy Bob Watt Jr. was named show chairman and also chairman of the steering committee. Other committees named and their chairmen include Awards—Bartow Broome; Tickets—Gary Allen; Barbecue—W. R. Watt; Party—J. W. McQuerry; Host and Hostess—Billy Moller, Tarrant County 4-H leader and Grounds and Area—Casper Tripp, also a county 4-H leader.

Yeates will serve as show manager and will be assisted by Tom Davison, assistant state 4-H Club leader. Area county agents will serve as ring stewards.

Consideration for others goes hand in hand with the speaking of courteous words.

Is selecting cantaloupe at the grocery store a guessing game? These guidelines can help select good, ripe melons nearly every time by looking at the outside of a melon.

Only a mature melon will be sweet, fine textured and have perfect flavor. The important thing then is to learn to recognize the full ripe stage.

A mature cantaloupe breaks from the vine with slight pressure leaving a slightly sunken, smooth, well-calloused scar at the stem end. Less mature melons come off less readily and leave a rough scar, with an occasional portion of the stem remaining on the melon.

Distinctive, pronounced cantaloupe fragrance goes along with a ripe melon. If it smells good, it usually is good.

The netting on the surface of a firm, mature melon will be raised, coarse, corky and stand out in bold relief over the surface of the cantaloupe. Some shoppers feel for a softening at the blossom end. Possibly, however, many other heavy-handed shoppers tried the melon too.

The softening then is caused by repeated pressure and not ripening.

A change in color from green or grey-green to yellow indicates ripeness. No one indication is infallible, but using a combination of the signs of ripeness is suggested.

For summer picnics you can increase your cooler's performance by pre-cooling with a few pounds of ice for an hour before you pack it and by refrigerating the food and drinks that will be placed in it.

When packing your cooler for a picnic put bottled and canned drinks in the ice where they'll keep coldest. Pack perishable foods such as deviled eggs, hamburger and tuna or chicken salad just over the ice. Then pack your less perishable foods, such as steaks and hot dogs, on top. If you follow this procedure for packing, your cooler should keep your food in satisfactory condition, with a minimum of ice, throughout a summer day.

After that family picnic is over be sure and wash the inside of your cooler to prevent unpleasant odors. However, don't dunk insulated coolers as water might damage the insulation or cause rust in steel models. Store the cooler in a dry place with the lid partly open so it can air out.

When doing your family's laundry you may or may not get a washing advantage by underloading your machine, but you're very likely to lose cleaning power if you overload.

Lint filters on washing machines are helpful in fighting the lint problem. However, your best defense against lint is to wash lint-givers separately from lint attractors.

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN — Arrival at the mid-way mark in the 30-day special legislative session touched off an explosion of activity in key areas of spending, taxation and liquor-by-the-drink.

—Both House and Senate passed versions of the 1969 budget and went to conference committee to work out differences.

—House passed by a narrow margin (78 votes to 67) Gov. John Connally's bill to permit liquor by the drink sales in mini-bottles under taxation and strict regulation.

—House Revenue and Tax Committee sent out for debate and full House action Connally's $119 million tax package. This controversial measure hopefully will land in conference committee this week after amendments in both houses.

Representatives voted overwhelmingly for a $474 million general revenue budget, senators for a $479.7 million general fund appropriations measure. House version would require $132.6 million in new revenue. Senate bill $137.9 million. All phases of Connally's tax liquor-by-the-drink legislation were designed to raise $127.2 million, so additional revenue must be found.

This prohibition was put into the present appropriations law in 1967. It led to a blast at the Legislature by some members of the Air Control Board. But a provision put into the air pollution control law in 1967 cannot be changed by this session of the Legislature... so it operates effectively to keep the Air Control Board out of the cotton business.

However, the ginning industry has been working with the Board and has been doing research aimed at reducing the air pollution problem caused by gin operations.

TAVERN "MONOPOLY"
Fort Worth Dist. Frank Coffey, testifying before a House committee on a bill to regulate vending machine companies under the Liquor Control Board, claimed a single coin machine concern controls hundreds of Texas taverns.

Coffey says 85 per cent of taverns in Fort Worth owe money to the concern which operates under many names. He said the same conditions exist in most other cities. Vending machine chain, the district attorney testified, started with B & B Music Company in El Paso. Former LCB Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr. recommended regulation of the vending machine operators and that they be barred from the tavern business.

DRAFT QUOTA CUT
Texas draft quota for next month has been reduced by 266 men from June order to total of only 695.

However, State Selective Service headquarters reports that more than 5,300 will be called in for pre-induction physical and mental exams in July.

May call was $28 above the July figure, since additional manpower was needed for the Marine Corps. All July inductees will be for the Army.

Margin on mini-bottles in the Senate is said to be even closer than in the House. Poll takers said 14 to 15 senators would be counted as sure supporters.

A sales tax increase to three percent is certain to figure in the final tax package. This whether the legislature votes a straight rate hike or goes along with Connally's plan to raise the rate and rebate 75 percent of the take to cities (in lieu of their present local option sales tax levy). Connally also proposes to put sales tax on many services and cigarettes.

COURTS SPEAK
U. S. Supreme Court has granted a stay of mandate in a lawsuit testing the constitutionality of Texas disturbing the peace law.

Three-judge Federal Court last April declared the law "impermissible and unconstitutional broad." Top Court said it would allow the law to remain in effect until it passes on the question.

Legislation would further permit 15-year-olds to sack beer in groceries and serve as busboys where mini-bottles are handled. It would outlaw gambling, increase punishment for permitting minors to buy or consume alcoholic beverages, raise beer dealers' license fees from $30 to $150, provide for faster sale of confiscated liquor by the state and make most of the Texas Liquor Control Board records available to public inspection.

GIN DUST
One of the differences between the Senate and House is whether the Texas Air Control Board is going to be allowed to require cotton gins to put in dust-abatement devices.

Senate voted to strike out a "rider" which would prohibit the board from spending any money on activities connected with cotton gins. But the House voted to keep it in, by a vote of 95-47.

Unusual in that the provision has never been used before in this suit for $89,000 in damages from a pipeline company. Plaintiffs contend that they had to pay 11 cents a barrel to truck their oil to the pipeline over a period of five years. Law requires a common carrier-common purchaser pipeline to connect to leases of all operators in an area. Fore's case started in 1962, with a contention that Crown Central had discriminated against the group of independent operators in Haskell County.

Miss Sherrie Lynn Fiveash and Raymond Earl Lindsey, Jr., Marry

Sherrie Lynn Fiveash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fiveash of Ballinger, and Raymond Earl Lindsey, Jr., recited their marriage vows Friday June 21, at 8:00 p. m. at the Methodist Church in Norton. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Earl Lindsey Sr. of Wingate.

The Rev. Plez Todd of Ballinger, officiated for the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with candelabra with baskets of white gladioli trimmed with yellow, on each side. An arrangement of yellow and white gladioli on the piano.

The bride wore a full length white satin gown designed with lace yoke and sleeves, featuring a detachable chapel-length lace train. Her waist length veil of tulle fell from a crown of pearls. She carried a bouquet of feathered carnations centered with white orchid, trimmed with yellow ribbon.

Traditional piano selections were played by Mrs. Harley Hilliard.

The brides only attendant was Mary Kennedy, maid of honor, of Ballinger. She wore a yellow sheath with matching gloves and pumps, and carried a yellow and white bouquet of carnations.

James Jones of Midland was best man.

Reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The house party included Mrs. Doyce Smith, Mrs. Daniel Beimer and Mrs. Gene Rice.

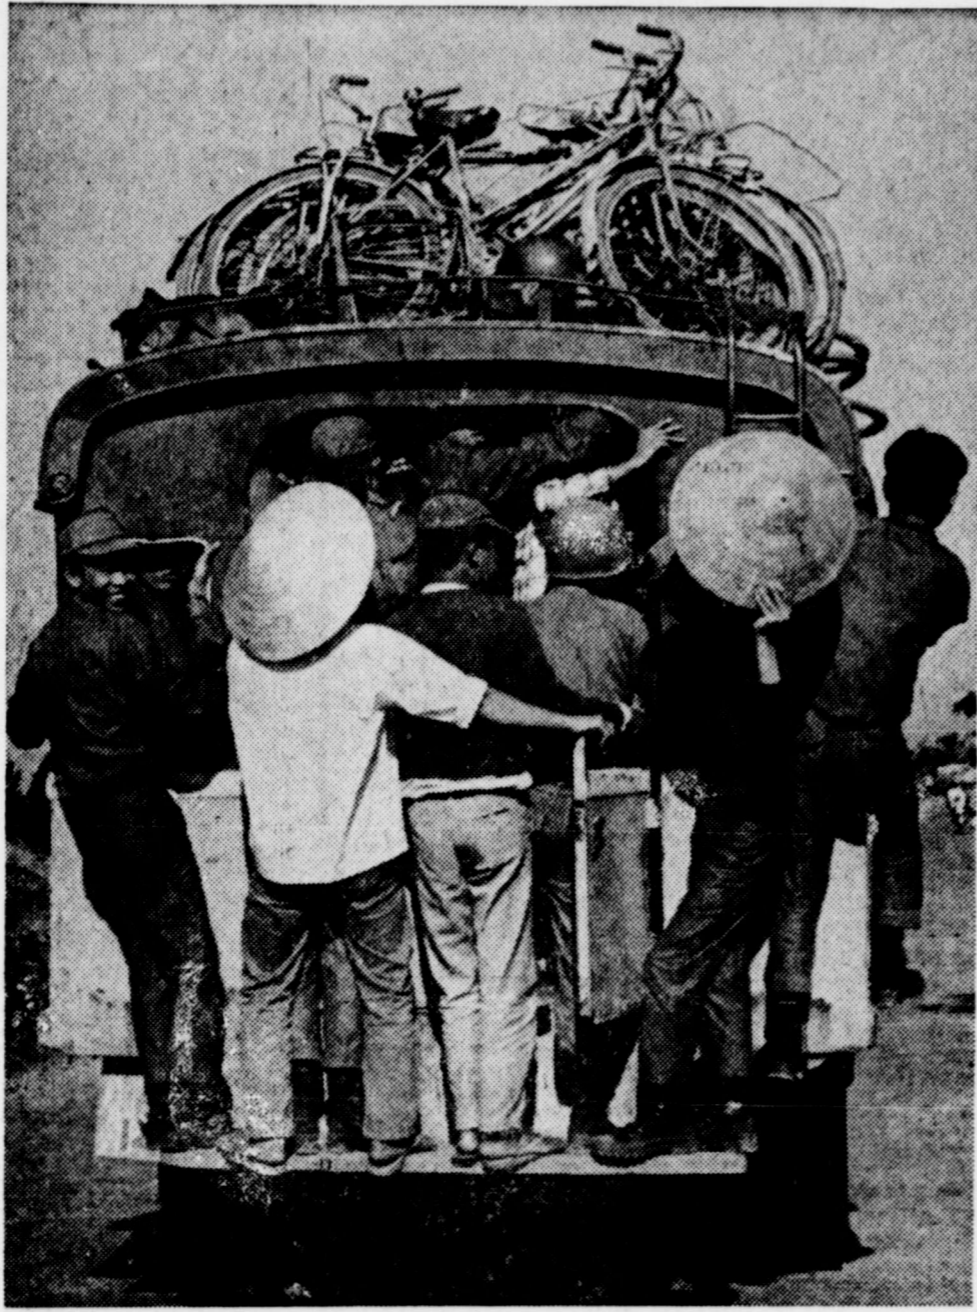

The bride is a graduate of Ballinger High School with the class of 1966 and was a member of the National Honor Society and choral club. She attended McMurry and was formally employed by the Southwestern Telephone Company in Ballinger.

Mr. Lindsey graduated from Winters High School and Barber College in Fort Worth. He spent four years in the U. S. Navy and is now engaged in farming and dairying at Wingate.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

Water fatalities have become a major concern of safety officials in Texas.

Within the past few years, as more and more outdoorsmen have migrated to the water, the toll has risen. Despite the new Water Safety Act, the trend is alarming.

Carelessness is the No. 1 reason for the mounting toll. The average person simply does not pay proper respect to water. It is far more dangerous than he realizes. He takes too many chances and the gamble isn't worth it!

Common sense is the No. 1 piece of "equipment" the boater should have aboard. Second in importance is some sort of life-saving device, or life preserver.

The common boat cushion, that has U. S. Coast Guard approval, qualifies as a legal life preserver under the Texas Water Safety Act. Yet, of all preservers available, the cushion is the least practical of the lot.

An ordinary ski belt that fits around the waist is much safer, but, curiously, the ski belt is not Coast Guard approved. If you are wearing a ski belt and have no other type of life preserver aboard your boat, you are violating the law and are subject to a ticket.

Trouble with the cushion is that rarely is it available when you need it. Since most modern pleasure boats have upholstered seats, the occupants seldom are sitting on the buoyant cushions. Chances are the preservers are stored under the deck, where they are of no value, and sometimes not ever accessible.

Should a collision occur, the occupant likely will be tossed in one direction, the cushion in another. Should the person be stunned momentarily, the cushion is of no help whatsoever.

A preserver that fits around the body is much more sensible. Anyone who can't swim should never go out in a boat without some sort of preserver on his body. Such a preserver may be a bit uncomfortable at times, but it certainly provides a sense of security to the poor swimmer or the person who cannot swim. And it could save the life of a good swimmer who is injured in the process of going overboard!

It is foolish to permit youngsters in a boat unless they are wearing life preservers. Accidents can happen suddenly. Maybe the boat is speeding down the lake when the child leans over the edge and topples into the water. Before the boat can be turned around, the youngster has sunk out of sight! A life preserver would bring him to the surface.

It surprises me that a man who takes no chances in a car will step into a boat and go berserk. He'll cut in and out of traffic, speed over rough waves, cut sharply, pass close to swimmers and skiers, and take other foolish and dangerous chances.

Date for the wedding has been set for August 16, at the St. John's Lutheran Church in Winters.

Coleman FHA Unit Made $202,590 In Loans During 1968

Credit programs of the USDA, Farmers Home Administration helped more than 80 people in the Coleman County unit improve their homes, family farms and communities during fiscal year 1968, Supervisor Foy I. Brown of the agency's county office in Coleman has said.

Farmers Home Administration loans and grants in the unit totaled $202,590 in 1968.

Brown reported that the Farmers Home Administration, which supplements all other credit available to rural people, has added $603,560 to the unit's resources with loans and grants the past two years through a range of programs.

With the turnover of funds invested by borrower families, associations and communities, the agency's work is estimated to have a $4,224,924 impact on the unit's economy during 1967 and 1968.

Brown said that $174,500 of the 1968 fiscal year lending total through his office was accounted for by Farmers Home Administration insurance of loans funded by private lenders.

A good number of people benefited from loans for construction or improvement of family homes in the unit during 1968. Other family farmers who lacked other sources of credit turned to Farmers Home Administration for loans to purchase farms. Some secured loans for operating purposes while others took advantage of the economic opportunity loan which enables low-income families to equip themselves for income-producing small enterprises—either farming, or non-farming production or services they can perform in their rural communities.

"Many of these farm families served by FHA might have been forced off the land except for this last-resort source of financing," Brown said.

Construction on the recreation projects in Callahan and Runnels Counties for which loans were made last fiscal year are nearing completion. These two projects furnished income to workmen and materialmen while under construction and will continue to be a source of revenue to various workers and suppliers within their areas.

It is almost as if he is inviting disaster.

Just the other day I noticed a man and his son in a boat. The man was sitting in the back seat. His son, perhaps 12 years old, was piloting the boat. . . . under full throttle.

This man, obviously, would never leave his child at the wheel of the family automobile. . . . to buzz wildly down a busy street. . . . but he had no qualms about letting the kid maneuver the boat through highly congested water traffic.

Sort of makes a person wonder.

ATTACK PLAN

Gov. John Connally has adopted an emergency-resources management plan for the state to be used in the event of an enemy attack. Plan was developed by a special resources organization co-ordinated by Maj. Gen. James E. Taylor.

Connally issued an executive order assigning responsibility for carrying out the plan to state officials, agencies, professional groups and private business institutions.

Overall coordination of activities under the plan is assigned to the directors of the Department of Public Safety. Col. Wilson E. Speir, acting director of Texas Department of Public Safety, played a major role in its development.

200 Pheasants Released In Brazoria County

Tyler — Approximately 200 pheasants were released in Brazoria County last week by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, according to Joe Davidson, biologist in charge of the exotic game program headquartered at the Department's Management and Research Station near here.

Part of the shipment was released on the Ramsey Prison Farm Unit near Rosharon and the remainder released on neighboring ranches in that area. The 12-week-old pheasants are crosses between Iranian black-necked and the common ring-necked.

Davidson has high hopes for the successful planting of these birds and said "our Department continues in its efforts to find an exotic game bird species which will adapt to the changing land use practices of the State. In some instances, this means trying to fill a void where the native game bird supply has been practically eliminated or severely diminished because of increasing habitat destruction."

FARMING
We are moderately optimistic about the over-all position of farmers in the next six months. Quotations for livestock should be edging up and we expect that harvest prices for some key crops will be a bit higher than they were late last summer and in the autumn. While farmers' expenses are still on the rise the climb should be at an appreciably slower pace than in the first half. Looks to us as if net farm income could rise fractionally in the July-December period.

WAR AND PEACE
All the foregoing predictions are based on our conviction that the road to peace in Vietnam will be long and rocky. So far, the Paris talks have gotten nowhere; and the conflict rages more fiercely than before we cut back our bombing of North Vietnam. If peace comes to Vietnam this year—and it will only if the U. S. makes far-reaching concessions to the Reds—it will come so late in the year as to have minimal impact on the economy. The balance between war and peace elsewhere in our troubled world has seldom been more delicate. Sentiment for resumption of the Korean War is strong in North Korea. In the Middle East it is becoming harder to hold the lid on the boiling cauldron of mutual fear and hatred between Arabs and Jews. More than any other nation Russia holds the key to peace in Korea and in the Middle East; but there is no more than a 50-50 chance that she will quell the embers now smoldering.

POLITICS
Politics will hold center stage in the U. S. right through the second half. Vietnam will continue to be a big issue politically, but Ho Chi Minh's tactics on the battlefield and at the conference table could cause anger and resentment sufficient to weaken the position of political doves running for office. Crime, civil rights, and the war on poverty will be given equal billing with Vietnam as campaign issues. We forecast also that leaders of both parties will be in general agreement as to national goals... differing only in methods of attaining them. This, as much as anything, could make for a close election... perhaps close enough to give the House of Representatives the chance to make the final decision.

Prestige, Profit Come From Pride In Community

College Station.—"Community pride and prestige," report residents of the Stag Creek Community in Comanche County, are responsible for our 15 continuous years of participation in community improvement programs.

Reagan Brown, Extension sociologist who coordinates the Texas Community Improvement Program for the Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A. & M. University, passes on this information regarding the Stag Creek activities.

It all started on a Monday morning back in 1952 when 29 families met to repair an old building which had served as a church, schoolhouse, residence, and finally as a barn. It needed a lot of redoing but the community needed a meeting place and here was their answer.

They made a list of needed materials, including lumber, windows, doors and hardware, and sent a delegation to town for the purchase which was on credit. By Thursday evening the job was done and the first meeting was held that night.

Since the center has been expanded three times, a well drilled, kitchen and rest rooms added and the one-acre site beautified. Inside, improvements have also been made but their 15 record books which tell the story of progress and achievement, resulting from hard work, planning, and the happiness which comes from working together, are their proudest exhibit. On the walls are ribbons won at area farm produce shows, including peanuts, peaches and watermelons.

Neat farmsteads, well-kept fences and good pastures are a trademark of the community. While the folks admit they aren't as young as when the program started, improvements are still going on. Homes are being remodeled, rooms added, new homes built and housewarmings for new families are a normal occurrence. Too, new farming practices are continually being introduced to improve incomes.

And why, Brown asked, does the community continue to enter a record each year? "Community pride is a general answer. It has given our community prestige and from the beginning it has been a total community effort and we know what we can do by working together. It has helped us keep pace with new things and the ever-changing agricultural picture."

"Business people in town have been generous with their support and assistance and our rural-urban relationship has profited from this mutual interest. Our Extension agents have also given us valuable assistance and advice as have program sponsors."

"We have entertained more foreign students than any community in the county and through the program many wonderful people have become our friends as a result of their visits with us."

"We have a better and more prosperous community as a result of our participation in first the Neighborhood Progress and much? I don't thing so.

Our old friend out on Bluff Creek says the claim that the proposed "gun law" would stop crime may be true. (The proposed law would require registration of all guns and licensing of owners). He says it would work this way: When one of the "10 most wanted by the FBI" came in to register his pistol, sawed-off shotgun, machine gun or rifle, the clerk could calmly say to him, "I see you're one of the 10 most wanted men. Will you please be seated while I call the police?" Or that when a mentally deranged person, planning to shoot someone, applied for a gun-owner license and explained his intentions, the clerk could quickly notify authorities. Our Bluff Creek friend calculates that under such a system, eventually there would be a complete list of dangerous gun-toters, and they could be apprehended before they used their registered guns to commit some crime.
