HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

A chamber of commerce is an organization made up of most of the business and professional people of a given community, organized to promote and sponsor for the general commercial—and even social, education and recreational—welfare of that community. It is an organization to which the commercial world hands the many needs and plans of promotion and sponsorship which must be carried to completion for the continued growth and even continued existence of the community. It would be virtually impossible for each individual, on his own, to promote his town—and thus his own business—without the help of his fellow townsmen. The desire might be present, but it would be without rhyme. The reason for the chamber of commerce.

From its own ranks, the membership of the chamber of commerce appoints a board to direct the activities of the organization. They are handed the responsibility of carrying out the wishes of the entire body. This they do, working on their own time and in a good many instances, at an inconvenience.

The board of directors of the Winters Chamber of Commerce is always working to find something to sponsor or promote for the general welfare. This is a difficult assignment, even in the best of climates. Even more so when working with a very limited budget. So the Board is always seeking advice and suggestions on ways to improve and to enlarge the scope of chamber of commerce activities. They seek the advice and suggestions of not only the business and commercial people, but also that of the average resident.

So, the board of directors of the Winters Chamber of Commerce is going to become active in seeking these suggestions. They are going to put "suggestion boxes" in several places in town and ask the membership and the people what they would like to have done. In this way, everybody can become involved. The suggestion boxes will be canvassed periodically, and the board will make a study of the suggestions which have been deposited; no item, however seemingly insignificant, will go undiscussed.

The boxes will be in place within a few days. Here is a chance for YOU to make one or a few suggestions. The board would appreciate the cooperation of everyone.

Most Lions Clubs have two members serving separately as secretary and treasurer. In the Winters club, one member serves in a dual, hyphenated capacity—secretary-treasurer. The sleepy member at the end of the table explains that this is necessary because of the fact that from all the field to choose from, only one man was available who could read and write AND count.

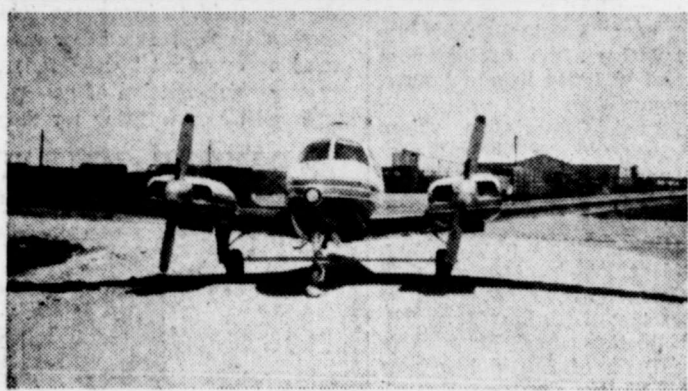

There are still a few people around who feel a real sense of pride in the achievements of our country. Certainly we have a lot more accomplishments to be proud of than all of our critics put together have.

The thing that has made our country great is the willingness of the American people to do their share in working for their community or their country, in working for better laws, better health, and better social conditions, and in being willing to die for their country or to pay their fair share of the taxes required to support their government. Of course there is a small percentage that may want to place limitations on fighting or dying for their country, but fortunately there appears to be a very large percentage that have no reservations.

Finally, every American can feel a real sense of pride that the Internal Revenue Service collects 97 percent of our federal taxes through voluntary compliance. No other nation can. As long as we have Americans who are willing to lay their hard-earned dollars on the line for their fair share of operating our government, we have not lost the "Spirit of 1776."

FROM TULIA

Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Waggoner of Tulia were weekend visitors with their parents, Mrs. Ray Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Waggoner.

FIRST TO LAND—Oscar Funderburg Jr., right, set his twin-engine Beech Baron down on Winters' new landing strip last Thursday noon, gaining the distinction of being the first pilot to land an airplane on the new strip. Funderburg is president of Pan-American Industries of Winters, manufacturers of evaporative air conditioners, special metal merchandise display shelving and other metal and wood products. With him on the wing of the airplane is Darrell Compton, comptroller for the company.

Funderburg uses this plane and a single-engine Beechcraft Bonanza to service his company's customers throughout the Southwest. He plans to build hangars to house the two airplanes at the Winters airport, and also to install landing lights and other airport facilities on the new strip.

Since Funderburg's landing last week, several other planes have landed and taken off from the new strip. It is anticipated that the strip will see a lot of use, and will be convenient for customers and suppliers of Winters' several industrial firms, who prefer to travel by airplane. Quite frequently Winters manufacturers and businessmen have had to meet clients and suppliers at Abilene because of the lack of landing facilities here. These visitors now may fly-in, "almost to the back door," as one businessman expressed it.

Although the landing strip is in condition to receive aircraft, there still is much work to be done, according to City officials. There are plans in the mill to black-top the landing strip and taxiways, and perhaps to widen these strips, and to add fuel service facilities. Other hangars may be constructed, according to some sources.

Work on leveling and filling the landing strip and taxiways was done by the City of Winters Street Department, and by Melvin Mapes, Runnels County Commissioner, and his crew. (Staff photos)

The riders will arrive in Coleman Thursday in time to join the downtown parade, and later attend the Coleman Rodeo.

Mrs. Evelyn Shull of Beaumont is visiting in the home of her mother, Mrs. J. A. Davidson. Mrs. Joe Neville of Sonora has returned home after spending a few days with her mother and visiting with her sister, Mrs. Shull.

Sidewalk Sale Is Next Friday

The transient who comes through town about 10 a. m. next Friday may get the impression that July 12 is moving day in Winters.

But Runnels County residents will know better—they'll know that most of the merchants of Winters are only moving merchandise onto the sidewalks to get ready for the gigantic Sidewalk Sale, which begins at 10 a. m. and will last until 8 p. m.

The business streets of Winters will take on a festive air, as merchants move thousands of dollars of colorful and useful and "bargainful" merchandise to their sidewalk "stalls" and begin hawking their wares.

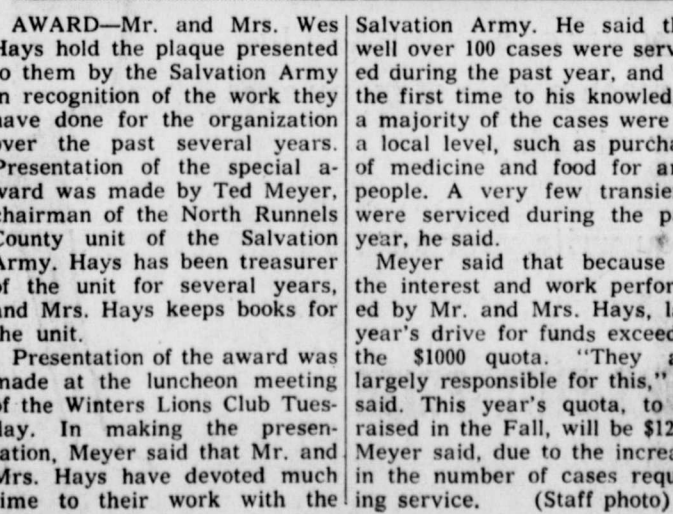

To add to the festivities, many of the merchants also are planning to hold drawings for merchandise. Customers may begin registering in most participating stores by Monday. Each individual merchant who joins in the drawing part of the Sidewalk Sale will conduct his own independent drawing. Hundreds of dollars in merchandise will be given away.

The Sidewalk Sale is being sponsored by the Retail Trades Committee of the Winters Chamber of Commerce.

Vacation Bible School Begins At Lutheran Church

All children between the ages of 3 and 12 are invited to attend.

AWARD—Mr. and Mrs. Wes Hays hold the plaque presented to them by the Salvation Army in recognition of the work they have done for the organization over the past several years. Presentation of the special award was made by Ted Meyer, chairman of the North Runnels County unit of the Salvation Army. Hays has been treasurer of the unit for several years, and Mrs. Hays keeps books for the unit.

Presentation of the award was made at the luncheon meeting of the Winters Lions Club Tuesday. In making the presentation, Meyer said that Mr. and Mrs. Hays have devoted much time to their work with the

Voters Of Two Districts Will Vote On Future Of Norton Rural School

Voters residing in the Norton and Bronte school districts will decide the future of the Norton School, probably at an election Saturday, July 27.

Petitions filed Thursday of last week with Runnels County Judge W. H. Rampey and Coke County Judge W. W. Theftford of Robert Lee, asked that election be called on the consolidation of the Norton Rural School District and the Bronte Independent School District.

Filing of the petitions prevents further action on the part of the board of trustees of the Norton school district in re-establishing the Norton School. The school's building and records were destroyed by fire Saturday, June 8.

Since the time of the fire, members of the school board have been meeting with residents of the community trying to work out a solution to the problem. They were faced with several alternatives, including an attempt to rebuild entirely; rebuilding to provide a grade school, and contracting high school students; or consolidating with an adjoining school district.

In a recent meeting, Winters School Superintendent Carroll Tatum and other representatives of the Winters school board, explained the Winters school system, pointing out important facts concerning the Norton school. Tatum said that the Norton school patrons should desire consolidation with the Winters district. He pointed out that the Winters schools would

Winters Masonic Lodge Officers Installed Monday

Officers for Winters Masonic Lodge were installed in a joint open ceremony at Miles Baptist Church Monday night. J. W. Chandler, Grand Master of Texas Masons, was the installing officer, and spoke to the new officers, their families and friends and other Masons. Dr. B. T. Tatum of Ballinger, deputy grand master of the 105th Masonic District, was installing marshal.

New officers of the Winters Lodge are O. J. Murray, worshipful master; Richard C. Thomas, senior warden; Robert Carey, junior warden; John J. Swatshue, secretary; Lindsey Pratt, chaplain; George Garrett, treasurer; Robert Fenton and H. N. Clark, senior and junior deacons, respectively; B. D. Jobe, tiler; and James Brown and A. B. Prince, stewards.

The open installation meeting was preceded by a "Dutch treat" dinner at the Original Lowake Inn, at which Grand Master Chandler was an honored guest.

In his talk to the Masons and visitors, the Texas Grand Master admonished them to work for a restoration of law and order. He said, "Restoration of respect for law and order in this land is not the sole duty of government or the courts. It is the personal responsibility of every citizen and, especially the Mason. We must use Masonry's influence to return sanity to this land experiencing lawlessness and disrespect for duly constituted authority."

Chandler further insisted that "We must let our law enforcement officers know that we want them to enforce the law. Not only that, but when they do enforce the law, we want them to know that we will be there to back them up against cries of 'police brutality,' discrimination and violation of civil rights." He went on to say that "We must use our influence to let our elected and appointed officials know that we want them to unshackle our police officers and give them the weapons and authority to stop any law violation on the spot. We must use our influence to reverse the trend toward trying the police officer in our courtrooms instead of the criminal." He pointed out that during widespread looting and burning in some of our larger cities, the policemen had orders "not to hinder or detain looters seen carrying off stolen merchandise from smashed stores," but that they did have orders to "issue 'traffic tickets if any one of the looters ran a red light in his getaway with the stolen items."

Masonic lodges participating in the open installation included Winters, Ballinger, Paint Rock, Norton, Eden and Miles.

Attended TSCA
Dr. Lois Bellis attended the Texas State Chiropractic Association in Corpus Christi last week and accompanied friends, Drs. Inez and Ollie Deaton of Abilene to Harlingen where they visited in the home of the Deaton's daughter, the Rev. and Mrs. Lester Vinson.

Bell's Cashway Sold To Foodway

Sale of Bell's Cashway Food Store to Foodway Stores was announced this week by Mrs. Bill Bell. The sale was effective July 1. Foodway Stores is a division of Kimbell Foods Company.

Spokesmen for Foodway Stores announced that there would be no change in present policy, and that present employees would remain with the store.

Cashway Food Store was acquired by the late Raymond L. (Bill) Bell in February, 1963. Mr. Bell died June 23 following an extended illness.

Mrs. Bell, in announcing the sale of the business, expressed her thanks to the people of Winters for their friendship and loyal patronage while she and the late Mr. Bell were in business here. She is sincerely appreciative of the kind deeds and expressions of friendship following Mr. Bell's death. She will continue to make her home in Winters. She said persons owing accounts to Bell's Cashway may pay them at Foodway Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell came to Winters in December, 1959, and operated a grocery store on East Truett Street, until they bought Cashway Food Store in February, 1963. Mr. Bell entered the grocery business in Ballinger with his father, the late R. L. Bell, in 1938. His father died in 1955, and he operated the business until 1958.

Mr. Bell was a former member of the board of directors of the Winters Chamber of Commerce. A daughter, Mrs. Jay Garrett Jr., lives in Temple.

"Heads up" driving can save many lives in Texas during this long July 4 holiday weekend, Texas Department of Public Safety advises.

DPS hopes to help bring about a reduction in the estimated toll of 38 expected to die in traffic tragedies during the four-day, 102-hour period.

"Operation Motorcade," designed to place special emphasis on dangers of holiday travel, began at 6 p. m. Wednesday and will continue through 11:59 p. m. Sunday. DPS will tabulate traffic fatalities during this period and release totals three times daily to news media in order to keep dangers prominently in minds of drivers.

"It is a known fact that the unusually crowded conditions of the highways on Independence Day holidays makes driving more hazardous than usual," Acting DPS Director Wilson E. (Pat) Speir reminded.

On the average, said Speir, one person will be killed in traffic every two and a half hours.

on Texas highways, streets and roads.

As part of its overall effort to lower the anticipated toll, DPS is utilizing additional personnel from other uniformed services to augment the regular Highway Patrol force during the entire weekend.

But drivers themselves must make the most important effort, cautioned Speir. Despite the mechanical defects, inadequate highways and other accident-causing factors, the vast majority of all wrecks and fatalities are traced directly to misbehavior, misjudgment, recklessness, negligence and drinking while driving.

LCB RAPPED
Former Liquor Control Board Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr. took the brunt of the blow from the report on the investigation of the LCB by Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin and the Department of Public Safety.

Attorney general found that Stevenson had not been watching the shop, had accepted expensive gifts from persons in the liquor and beer industries and had failed to see that the liquor laws were uniformly enforced.

WHALE OF A JUMP puts "Bubbles," a whale at Marineland of the Pacific at Los Angeles, Calif., high enough to snatch food from an attendant's hand.

VIEW OF ST. PETER'S Basilica in Rome has been seen from almost every angle, so why not framed under the neck of the popular tourist buggy horses?

RARE ENOUGH is the albino wallaroo, but when one has twin babies like this one near Sydney, Australia, it's cause for real amazement.

Report refused to condemn the practice of legislators practicing law before the LCB and failed to condemn the three-man liquor board for not staying atop the shoddy operations of the agency.

Investigators said that most of the difficulties of the Stevenson administration now have been overcome under Acting Administrator O. N. Humphreys Jr.

LEGISLATURE WINDING UP

Bitter debate in the Senate slowed the pace of special session. Senate finally passed a sales-franchise tax increase and sent the revenue bill back to the House, which in turn sent it to conference committee to write a final version.

While Senate mulled taxes and mini-bottled liquor-by-the-drink bill, House passed bills to extend drinking curfew in large cities to 2 a. m. (local optional in smaller towns); authorize semi-mandatory breath tests for drunk drivers; and triple out-of-state tuitions (to about $600 a semester) at state-supported colleges and universities. Resident student tuitions remain the same.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED

Gov. John Connally named Garrett Morris of Fort Worth to the State Highway Commission to succeed Hal Woodward of Coleman, a new federal district judge.

Connally selected Marion T. Key of Lubbock to replace Morris on the Public Safety Commission and named Jack Kuitgen of Waco to Woodward's chairmanship on the Highway Commission.

Other appointments by Connally include: Ford Albritton Jr. of Bryan to Texas A & M University Board of Directors; William H. Atkinson of Kenedy to Texas A & M University Board at Kingsville, reappointments to Lewis W. Maples of Kingsville and Leo J. Welder of Victoria; and Robert E. Davis of Waco to Texas Library and Historical Commission with reappointment of Fred Hartman of Baytown.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

Pinball or marble machines which show number of free games won are illegal, Attorney General Martin has ruled. In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that: Cities under civil service police systems have no authority to create a police reserve of amateur friends of the force, but special officers can be summoned in time of emergency.

A commissioners court does not have to advertise for electronic services to prepare tax rolls when the annual charge is less than $2,500 paid out of current funds.

A person cannot serve as director of Texas Turnpike Authority and political party precinct chairman (acceptance of Turnpike post would automatically vacate precinct chairmanship).

A motor carrier may not transport gravel from gravel pits to processing plants under specialized motor carrier permit.

Company which delivers metal belonging to its customers for galvanization without additional charge is not transporting property for compensation or hire in violation of law.

COURTS SPEAK

City of Midland cannot collect from the surety company of its contractor for defects in a swimming pool, but it may sue the contractor directly, Supreme Court held.

High court held four Houston attorneys and a society of lawyers can seek a court order against a Houston organization which aims to provide legal services to poor. Lawyers said they objected to Houston Legal Foundation's attorney referrals, advertising and interviewing of prisoners in jail.

Attorneys for an Austin boot-black will ask U. S. Supreme Court to review its ruling that a man can be jailed for repeated drunkenness. They argue alcoholism is a disease demanding treatment.

TORNADO DEFENSE

US Weather Bureau and Texas Department of Public Safety have initiated a program for improved public preparedness against tornadoes.

Program involves a "distant early-warning system" by the bureau, then communication of the alert by the DPS and action by trained local officials to prepare the endangered communities.

"Meetings with city and community officials, state and local law officers, disaster agencies and others will be held throughout the state in the future to work out the details necessary for the best possible protection of life and property," a DPS spokesman promised.

GRANT APPROVED

A $42,900 Federal grant has been approved for Valley View Park in the City of Dallas to provide additional outdoor recreation land for use of the general public, according to Will Odom, chairman of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

These funds will be matched by the City of Dallas in an $85,800 project to acquire 17.4 acres of land adjacent to the 8.7-acre existing park. The city park is located in the community of Northwood within the City of Dallas.

Odom said this project marks the 27th approval of funds for local, city, county and river authority parks in Texas since the Land and Water Conservation Act was passed in 1965.

SHORT SNORTS

Rep. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi has called for a 12-member committee to study the Court of Conciliation of Los Angeles County, to see if such a plan can help keep Texas families together and the divorce rate down.

Ambassador Ed Clark of Austin and Sen. John Tower of Wichita Falls have been elected board of trustee members at The Southwestern University, Georgetown.

Republican state representatives designated Rep. Charles R. Scoggins of Corpus Christi their floor leader.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith appointed Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells to Senate finance sub-committee.

Railroad Commission raised the statewide oil allowable to 46.4 per cent of potential for July, compared with 45.2 per cent for June.

Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg, president pro tempore of state senate, served as governor for a day last Saturday (June 29).

Application for Lone Star State Bank of Austin has been filed with the Banking Department.

Brilliant Future For Mobile Homes

Wellesley Hills, Mass. Mobile homes have reached an impressive position in the nation's economy during recent years. And there is every reason to expect great new gains ahead. Almost every possible combination of factors will serve to make mobile homes, of all types, more popular than ever in the immediate as well as the longer-term future.

Low-Income Housing The Key

Housing costs all up and down the scale have been skyrocketing, so that renting, building, or buying a home is more expensive than ever. Mortgage rates—while they have had their transitional ups and downs—have long been on the rise, and no early reversal of this tendency is in sight. Prices of materials and labor have leveraged construction outlays to all-time heights. So, many families—especially the young just starting out—are reluctant to strap themselves with a long-term mortgage at these greatly inflated levels.

In short, there are growing (and rapidly) numbers of people who are loath to pour their money down the drain by either renting an adequate apartment at an exaggerated cost or tying themselves down with a mortgage for 20, 25, or even 30 years. It is this set of circumstances that has helped to boom the market for mobile homes, as well as for parks where such residences may be hitched up for whatever length of time business change of personal whim may dictate.

Mobile-Unit Output Capping Predictions

In recent months, production of mobile homes has been surpassing earlier predictions—made by insiders in the field—and by a rather surprising margin. In fact, for the first four 1968 months 90,940 mobile homes were shipped out by manufacturers, compared with only 64,420 for the same span in 1967. This was an advance of 41 per cent, whereas the Mobile Homes Manufacturers Association had been expecting what they considered an optimistic increase of 20 per cent for the year.

The fact that some half of the mobile home sales go to the younger generation is a reflection of the flexibility and general mobility of today's youth. Great numbers of young couples are not inclined to attach themselves socially and culturally to one home spot, as did so many of their parents. Now is a time of industrial expansion into outlying areas, into new parts of the country, and the young workers—and even many of those within the middle-age brackets—are often willing and eager to let their ambitions lead them into fresh localities. Then, too, the immense upswing in totals of retirees means still another addition to those interested in the freedom of motion so prevalent today.

Mobile-Home Parks Spreading Fast

Recent surveys show that the number of parks for mobile homes is rising rapidly. It is interesting to note, too, that in general they are becoming steadily larger and more luxurious. Even so, a house on wheels still offers one of the most dependable forms of low-cost living now available, and more and more people are becoming aware of this. At present, the median cost of rental for a mobile homesite appears to range between $30 and $40 monthly. In many instances this includes electricity, water, and other essential sanitary facilities.

Many Disabled In Area Are Eligible For Social Security

Many disabled people in this area, especially young disabled individuals, may be missing out on potential disability benefits from social security, Ted F. Moellering, District Manager, said today.

As a result of the 1965 and 1967 Amendments to the Social Security Law, many individuals who could not have qualified previously may now be eligible, he said.

Prior to the 1965 amendments, it was necessary for an individual to be totally and permanently disabled to meet the requirements for benefits. This was changed so that a person who had been disabled for 12 months or longer could become eligible for benefits, he stated.

The 1967 amendments reduced the work requirements for young disabled workers from a minimum of five years to a year and a half, if the worker became disabled prior to age 24. If the disability began between the ages of 24 and 31, the worker must have had covered employment under social security for half the time between his 21st birthday and the date he became disabled.

Mr. Moellering explained that many young workers who became disabled and were denied benefits previously because they lacked the necessary work requirement, may now qualify for benefits, if they are still disabled.

The local official added that many workers who are disabled fail to file a claim for benefits because they continue to receive their salary from their employer and feel that they will not qualify for benefits. He said that they should file a disability claim with social security because they might qualify for benefits despite these payments.

Dr. L. E. McDonald, assistant director for correspondence study, has said: "Correspondence study instruction will reach as far as the postal service will allow."

In a few cases it reaches even farther. A woman in Java sent in her lessons via native bearer to Hong Kong where they were picked up for air mail into Austin.

High school and college credit courses are offered, and more than 5,500 students are now actively enrolled.

Individual instruction with personal contact is a goal of all university teachers, and the correspondence instructors strive toward the same goal. They try to tailor their remarks to fit the needs of their students through the exchange of letters. In some cases special projects are devised to better suit the individual student.

Two high-school-age children of a missionary in Tasmania found their biology lab kit called for specimens that were unobtainable, due to the difference in vegetation and climate. The instructor devised a new assignment, suitable to their particular location.

New students may begin correspondence courses at any time of the year. Applicants are not required to take entrance examinations or to be cleared for admission to the University.

Businessmen often enroll in one of the four management courses offered, Mrs. Doris Caldeleugh, registrar, said. Prospective teachers who need credits for teacher certification, and high school or college students whose regular school attendance has been interrupted find the courses valuable, she added.

Booklets describing the more than 50 high school credit courses and 200 college credit courses may be obtained by writing to the Extension Teaching and Field Service Bureau, Division of Extension, Austin, Texas 78712.

Mr. Moellering concluded by saying that disabled widows between the ages of 50 and 60 may now qualify for benefits too as a result of another 1967 amendment.

NATURAL-FIBERS INDUSTRY

State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has released the results of an evaluation of the natural-fibers industry in Texas. Evaluation was ordered by a legislative committee to determine the impact of cotton, wool and mohair on the state economy.

Evaluation says that the three natural fibers—their growth on the farm and related agribusinesses of transporting, processing and distribution—are of "vital importance in maintaining a balanced agricultural production, effective land utilization and support of the rural economy of society in general."

Texas leads all states in the production of each of the three natural fibers.

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman
17th District

The second amendment to the constitution of the United States says, "A well regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms, shall not be infringed."

For nearly 200 years Americans have believed that they did indeed possess such a right as guaranteed by the Second Amendment.

The first Federal gun law regulating the shipment of certain types of firearms in interstate commerce was passed in 1934. This action was the outgrowth of sentiment created by the attempted assassination of President Roosevelt in Miami, Florida in 1933.

In 1939, in a case known as the "U. S. vs. Miller" the Supreme Court upheld the conviction of Miller for possession of an "unregistered" "Sawed-off shotgun" as a violation of this Act. The Amendment did not guarantee the right to keep and bear such a firearm for the preservation and efficiency of a well-regulated militia.

More recently, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, writing in the New York University Law Review on the formation of the Declaration of Independence, had this to say:

"Despite these safeguards, the people were still troubled by the recollection of the conditions that prompted the charge of the Declaration of Independence that the King had effected to render the military independent and superior to the civil power. They were reluctant to ratify the Constitution without further assurances, and thus we find in the Bill of Rights, Amendments 2 and 3, specifically authorizing a decentralized militia, guaranteeing the right of the people to keep and bear arms, and prohibiting the quartering of troops in any house in times of peace without the consent of the owner."

In 1941, shortly before Pearl Harbor, Congress passed what is known as the Property Seizure Act. It was made clear in the Law that nothing contained in the Bill should be construed to authorize the President to requisition or require the registration of firearms possessed by an individual for his personal protection or sport, nor that registration should be required.

The Law said specifically that the President or any Board, Agency, or Officer, had no right to trespass upon the people in this respect.

The Language of the Bill further stated that "In view of the fact that certain totalitarian and dictatorial nations are now engaged in the willful and wholesale destruction of personal rights and liberties, it is appropriate for the Congress to expressly state that the Law shall not be construed to impair or infringe the Constitutional right of the people to bear arms." When a U. S. Senator, the Honorable Hubert H. Humphrey, now Vice President, had this to say in connection with the Second Amendment to the Constitution.

"Certainly, one of the chief guarantees of freedom under any government, no matter how popular or respected, is the right of citizens to keep and bear arms. . . the right of citizens to bear arms is just one more guarantee against arbitrary government, one more safeguard against a tyranny, which now appears remote in America, but which historically has proved to be always possible."

In 1963, the Congress passed PL 88-186, amending the Arms Control and Disarmament Act, Section 33 of this Law contains the following provision with respect to the individual's right to keep and bear arms for legitimate purposes:

"Nothing contained in this Act shall be construed to authorize any policy or action by any Government Agency which would interfere with, restrict, or prohibit the acquisition, possession or use of firearms by an individual for the lawful purpose of personal defense, sport, recreation, education, or training."

In recent debate in the U. S. Senate the Chief Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court was quoted as follows,

"We may happily note that the Constitution has weathered a variety of crisis. Some were as acute as those we face today. Today, as always, the people, no less than their courts, must remain vigilant to preserve the principles of our Bill of Rights, lest in our desire to be secure we lose our ability to be free."

The right of people of the United States to keep and bear arms is guaranteed not only by the Federal Constitution but by the Constitutions of thirty-five States.

Article 1, section 23 of our own Texas Constitution, says "Every citizen shall have the right to keep and bear arms in the lawful defense of himself or the State; but the legislature shall have power, by Law, to regulate the wearing of arms, with a view to prevent crime."

At the present time a majority of the States are seeking through agreements and Compacts, uniform firearm legislation. It would seem they should have time and opportunity to work their will.

Would it not be better to have local and State enforcement to keep guns out of the hands of criminals, addicts, minors and the mentally deficient, than to have Federal police knocking on our doors?

"Bandolero!" tells of two brothers — James Stewart and Dean Martin — who are reunited after years of fighting on opposing sides when Martin is about to hang for murder. Stewart portrays a veteran of the Northern army which campaigned through Georgia under General Sherman. Martin is a veteran of Quantrill's Raiders and can't seem to forget the hard-charging, "easy come, easy go" pattern of life that dominated the Southerner's guerrilla operations.

MOVIES

"Bandolero!"

20th Century-Fox's Western adventure, "Bandolero!" which shows Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre, is a film loaded with stars, action and excitement. Starring James Stewart, Dean Martin, Raquel Welch, and Academy Award winner George Kennedy, the Panavision and DeLuxe Color attraction was produced by Robert L. Jacks and directed by Andrew V. McLaglen.

The story is set in the period immediately following the Civil War, when many returning soldiers discovered their homes in ruins and the countryside in general devastation. Discouraged by these war-wrought changes, many ex-soldiers took the easy way out by seeking adventure in the West. Many were attracted to the booming state of Texas, among them some who had decided that life was easiest with a six-shooter in hand—looting and killing all in their way.
