HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

A desire to please woman has been a motivating factor in man's search for power—in the form of silver and gold—down through the centuries. Congressman Omar Burleson says it very well in a recent letter from Washington. . . so we're going to let him talk this week:

It is an axiom that behind most every great man there has been a great woman. Behind some men there have been many. It does not matter. What goes matter is that man has aspired to his highest potential because of a desire to please and to earn the affection and respect of women.

The rewards of these efforts have usually resulted in material possessions or in power through military might, which led to material possessions.

After a long, long period, these possessions came to be measured by a substance known as gold. This mineral had absolutely no utilitarian value, it was extremely beautiful, and extremely high spirits, great energy, imagination, courage, determination and all the attributes that we assign to greatness in man.

Throughout time and in all societies, certain types of women were prized above others. To get the most highly prized woman one had to compete with most determined and courageous men. At first it was physical force, later brain power entered into the picture so that a combination of brain power and physical force was able to triumph over force alone.

Early man, whether he acquired more caves, more hides or killed more enemies, was above his fellow in the eyes of most desirable women. Eventually, these successes became to be measured quite incidentally in terms of gold.

Where lay the power of this gold? Of what use was it? It was adored by women. Man has lost his blood for gold. He has expired on the desert and in the high mountains looking for it. But to those who succeeded gold became the symbol of existence. So gold was homage of love. As such nothing in the world had higher value—though from a practical point of view it had none. It finally came about to be universally recognized that nothing was more valuable than gold. Gold would buy what the owner wanted, it was the magic medium. Unit values developed and it became the ultimate money, its desirability increased even more. It then came to represent the objectives of the greedy, the power hungry, the vengeful, the philanthropic. Even churches wanted gold. Its base, however, still lay in its desirability, its beauty and its meaning for women. It continues to represent a meaning peculiar to itself. The gold wedding ring has been the universal symbol of love for thousands of years graciously accepted by all young women from maids to queens and eagerly offered by all men from peons to kings.

Today gold has lost none of its romantic luster. To obtain it men continue to perpetrate dastardly crimes, rise to the most heroic heights and are led to the extreme of all emotions—hate, love, fear, glee. But men will accept token money as long as they know it is as good as gold. Once they doubt that, they will not accept any more. When a government's paper money is not backed by gold, it is not backed by anything.

Trust is the foundation of all money. It is the belief that it will buy goods which are equal value of the goods which were exchanged for the money in the first place. In earlier times a shoemaker might have traded a pair of shoes for a bushel of wheat. A farmer might have given 10 bushels of wheat for a mule or 10 mules for a house.

Clumsy it was. So a medium of exchange developed—gold and silver. Thus gold and silver were not a symbol of the wealth contained in a mule or a pair of shoes. It was the same as wealth. It was wealth.

Then came currency to eliminate the cumbersome of this solid money as exchange. Paper money is not wealth. It is a symbol of gold and silver which is wealth, which was ex-

County Board Is Asked To Dissolve Norton District

A petition from a group of people in the Norton School District has been filed with the Runnels County School Board, asking that the district be dissolved and equally annexed to the Winters, Ballinger and Bronte school districts.

E. E. King, president of the County School Board, said Tuesday morning that the board has received the petition, and will consider it within the next few days. He could not at that time set a date for a meeting of the board, but said it would meet "within a few days."

The petition reportedly contained the names of more than 85 residents of the Norton School District.

It was understood that the County School Board has the authority to dissolve the district and to assign students to any one or all of the surrounding school districts, King said. He had no idea what the final action on the petition would be.

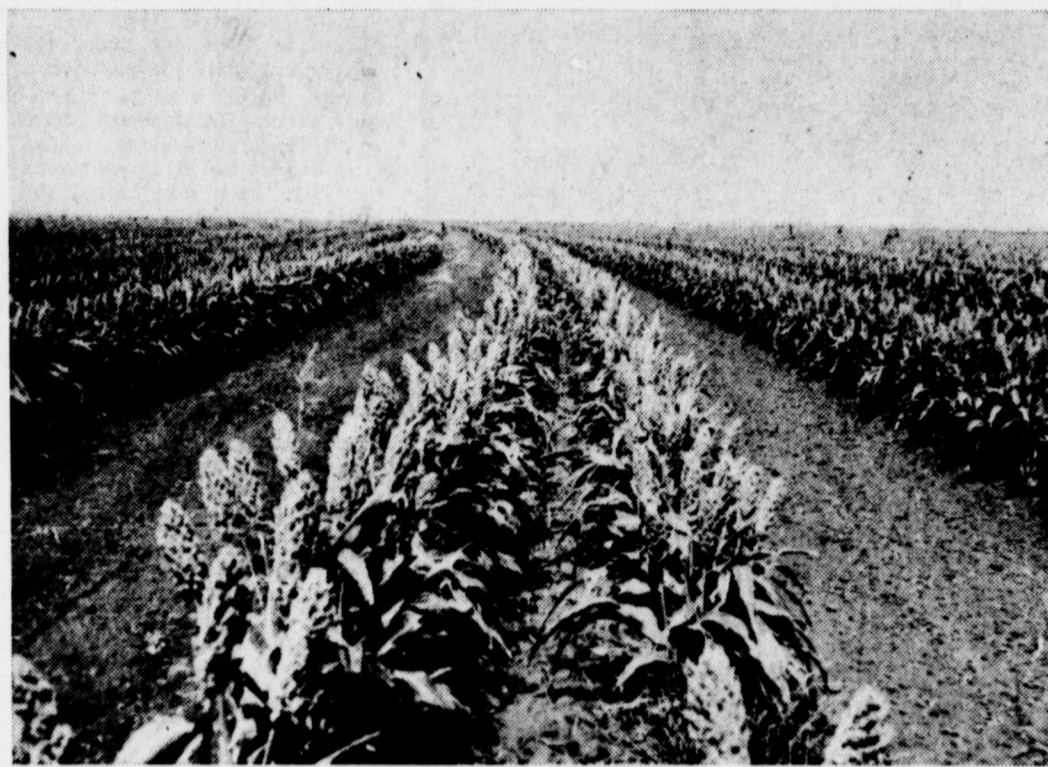

The Norton School District board recently voted to rebuild their school for an eight-grade system, and send the high school students of the district into the high schools of the surrounding districts. They were to consult with contractors with plans in mind to build a steel fabricated building for the eight-grade school. This action was taken following the defeat by the voters of the Norton and Bronte school districts of a proposal to consolidate the two districts.

If the County School Board should act in favor of the dissolution petition, the re-building action by the Norton school board would be nullified, it was stated.

The Norton School was destroyed by fire several weeks ago, and attempts have been underway all summer to either rebuild for a twelve-grade system or to rebuild for a lower-grade system and send the high school students to surrounding districts.

Winters Chamber of Commerce Will Sponsor "Teacher Recognition Day"

A special "Teacher Recognition Day" — to be observed sometime during the first week of school — is being planned by the Winters Chamber of Commerce.

The event is planned to give local merchants and businessmen an opportunity to welcome back all the teachers who are returning to the Winters school system, and also to get acquainted with those teachers who are teaching in the school for the first time.

The Retail Trades committee of the Chamber of Commerce is making all the arrangements for the special recognition day.

Although details have not been completed, the committee tentatively planned for a coffee for all the teachers, and also will urge all merchants to join in a special cooperative effort. Mrs. Frances Campbell, chairman of the Retail Trades committee, said her committee will meet with businessmen within the next few days to draw up final plans, and will make an announcement soon.

In other business at the Tuesday evening meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, Marshall Wharton, local manager of Lone Star Gas Co., was appointed to the board to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Edward Ottwell, who moved from the city.

The board also accepted the resignation of another board member, Robert Fenton, Tuesday night. No appointment has been made to fill this vacancy.

The board of directors expressed satisfaction at the number of "suggestions" which were put in the several suggestions which were put in the several suggestion boxes during the past two weeks. The boxes were placed in several places of business, and residents were asked to write their suggestions as to how the Chamber of Commerce can best serve the community.

The directors said that the number of suggestions deposited indicates that the people of the community are interested in the growth and progress of Winters. All of the suggestions have much merit, they said, and even though some of the action suggested does not come in the realm of chamber of commerce work. However, the directors said, each suggestion received will be turned over to an appropriate committee for study and recommendations for any action.

The Winters City Council Monday night issued authorization for O. O. Funderburg of Pan-American Industries of Winters, to construct hangars at the City's new air strip southwest of town.

The hangars, to be constructed of steel, will be built at least 200 feet from the highway, and 50 feet from the west boundary of the airport. It was expected that Funderburg would begin construction on the hangars within a few days.

In further action Monday night, the Council approved employment of Carl Turk in the Electric Department. He will work as an operator in the generating plant.

A group of men from Abilene and Clyde met with the Council Monday night, asking for a 90-day permit to make a survey of Winters to determine if a cable television system would be feasible here. The Council took the request under advisement.

The Council also spent time studying more plans for the proposed community center building here. They will meet with architects within a few days to take final action on plans, and then will call for bids for construction.

MILO—This is a familiar sight over much of North Runnels County, as combines are being readied to harvest what some observers say is one of the best milo crops in this area in several years. Combining could be in full swing within another week or ten days.

Milo Harvest Is Underway, In Winters Area

Harvest of the 1968 milo crop is slowly getting underway, and is expected to be in full swing within another week, depending on the weather.

A few scattered patches have been cut, but the bulk of the crop must wait a few more days, grain men said. Of those patches cut, there were reports of yields of from 2,000 to 2,800 pounds per acre.

Firemen Will Hold Barbecue Next Thursday

From a small beginning many years ago, the annual Winters Firemen's Barbecue, like Topsy, "just grewed," until it has been for the past several years one of the highlights of each year in Winters. Hundreds of people attend the annual affair, and many out-of-town people, former residents and former members of the Winters Volunteer Firemen, return for this one big get-together each summer.

This year's annual Firemen's Barbecue will be held next Thursday, August 22, in the City Park. Special invitations already have gone out for the barbecue.

Members of the Volunteer Fire Department do all the work and make all the arrangements for the barbecue. The meat always is donated by some individual or business in the community, and the cooking of the meat, potatoes and beans, is done by the firemen. This year's beef is being donated by C. J. Ward of Lubbock, who operates a stock farm north of Winters.

The annual barbecue has its beginning many years ago when members of the department and their families planned a picnic. As each year came, more and more invitations were sent out for the barbecue, until now the celebration has become more or less a community event, with many invitations extended. In addition to the meal, a short program will be presented during which individual firemen will be recognized and awarded service pins, and a report of the past year's activities will be made.

The Council also spent time studying more plans for the proposed community center building here. They will meet with architects within a few days to take final action on plans, and then will call for bids for construction.

PLANE PROBLEM at today's major airports is plain congestion, as exemplified by this crowded scene at New York's Kennedy Airport. With more and more people flying, there's less and less room for planes to maneuver on the fields.

MORE GLITTER for the already shimmering Manhattan scene was achieved by festooning the familiar old Brooklyn Bridge with a new necklace of lights.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

New Currents In Employment

Wellesley Hills, Mass. While the basic employment remains strong and continues its long-term upward trend, there are some developments emerging that will bring problems to management over the months ahead. These have nothing to do with the temporary eddies caused by such seasonal factors as summer with its vacation jobs for teen-agers that are not always easy to fill. Rather, they stem from fundamental economic trends likely to affect the longer-term job situation.

Skilled Workers Will Continue Scarce

First off, it should be noted that the call for most types of skilled employees will still be strong. There will be an especially heavy need for trained men and women for the more demanding top-echelon factory positions, plus white-collar roles in most fields. It will not only be difficult to latch onto such job prospects, but it will cost more to lure them to new placements. Wages and salaries all along the line are climbing steadily, and most pressure on the upside occurs, of course, where needs for workers are greatest.

While there is currently some nervousness about unemployment prospects for defense and aerospace industries, no great changes are likely during the immediate future. Chances of early cutbacks in defense employment are just about nil, despite the fact that some observers think such a move will result if the Paris talks lead toward a truce in Vietnam. The international situation is, at best, scarcely conducive to paring defense materiel and services in the foreseeable future. As for aerospace, the setup there will bear watching. But any government cuts will at least be highly selective.

Cutting Labor Expenditures

The steady rise in labor costs is having some effect on employment, but so far it has meant not hiring people rather than letting established personnel go. The surtax has already increased the desire on the part of management to reduce labor costs wherever possible. There is a mounting tendency to fill in with present workers rather than to hire new help when employees resign, retire, or die. Then, too, automation and other methods of upping efficiency are getting top attention, and will get even more.

Reluctance to Upgrade Permanent Working Staffs Has Led to an Enormous Reliance on Companies that Provide Part-time Manpower. So many plants have high-load periods or even unexpected times of high-production demand that the manpower agencies have become an increasingly significant part of the regular employment set-up.

An added incentive to use this temporary help lies in the fact that the agencies, for the most part, take over the responsibility for bonding, record-keeping, insurance, etc. Then, too, a firm may take on such a worker for an indefinite term, letting him go any time.

Executives Somewhat Easier To Find

The extraordinary scarcity of men adaptable to top-executive or middle-executive positions that prevailed in recent years has eased a trifle in some areas and a few important fields. With the rate of growth in defense

It is nothing new for one corporation, regardless of size, to attempt to lure experienced officials away from a rival firm. This process will be more common during the years immediately ahead, especially in companies racking up greater production totals and enjoying well-sustained profit margins. Their less triumphant competitors must expect such pirating, —and not only at the executive level.

Mrs. J. T. Parker Died Thursday, Funeral Saturday

Funeral services were held Saturday at 3 p. m. from the Winters Church of Christ for Mrs. J. T. Parker, 49. Officiating was Mr. Glen Gray, minister of the church. Burial was in Lakeview Cemetery under the direction of Spill Funeral Home.

Mrs. Parker died last Thursday evening at Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene, following an illness of three years. She had been hospitalized the past five weeks.

She was born Grace Ann Stringer, Dec. 12, 1918, at Kerens, Texas. At an early age she moved with her parents to Miles where she lived until 1954 when the family moved to Winters.

Bride-Elect Was Honored At Shower Saturday Afternoon

Judy Elaine Kettler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Kettler, and bride-elect of Ronald M. Mapes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mapes, was honored at a come-and-go miscellaneous shower at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, August 3, in the parlor of the First Methodist Church.

Greeting the guests were Mrs. Gene Virden and the bride-elect and her mother, Mrs. Melvin Mapes, and Mrs. V. E. Bowman, the prospective groom's sister. Mrs. Hazel Jordan sat at the registry while Mrs. Lillie Marks showed the gifts displayed on tables covered in pink. Vases of pink roses were on the piano and register table. A lovely arrangement of white snapdragons centered in hot pink ruffled net was the centerpiece for the table which was covered in a lighter pink.

Mrs. Bill Milliron served pink lemonade punch from a crystal bowl and a bowl of nuts and assorted colored mints. Miss Brenda Cole played the piano.

Hostesses for the shower were Mmes. Bill Milliron, A. L. Crockett, Gene Virden, E. L. Marks, Travis Jordan, R. W. Balke, Vada Babston, Rufus Smith, Beckie Poe and Lee K. Choate.

Even little fires kill little trees. Lend nature a hand, help prevent forest fires.

Like the general cost of living, the price of outdoor recreation is going up for Texans. But the outdoorsmen will be getting more for their money.

However, the decision by the Texas Parks Wildlife Commission to set entrance fees on 42 state parks did not mean an end to use fees.

In addition to a $1-per-car daily charge for entrance to 30 of the most-developed parks in the state system and 50-cent-per-car for some others, Texans and out-of-state visitors still will pay use fees for campsites, shelters, recreation halls, cabins, lodges, swimming pools and for fishing piers at Copano Bay and Port Lavaca.

But the dual fee system was designed to serve a dual purpose. The entrance fees, which are expected to draw $9 million over the 10 years beginning September 1, will be used to pay off principal and interest on the first parks improvement and acquisition bond issue by the Parks & Wildlife Commission.

Gov. John Connally, who urged the bond financing program, hailed the commission's action as the "opening step to bring a first class parks system within easy reach of every citizen of Texas." He said the 10-year land acquisition program that is contemplated will more than double the 60,000 acres of park land and bring recreation facilities within easy reach of every major metropolitan area.

Last November, voters approved an amendment to the state constitution which authorizes the Commission to issue up to $75 million in parks revenue bonds so that parks expansion can catch up with the state's population growth. Sometime after September 1 the Commission will issue $5.75 million worth of bonds, and it will take about $7.5 million to pay them off.

But the bond program can only apply to new parks lands. Initial developments with bonds funds will be in a 120-mile radius of most of the state's 10 largest metropolitan centers.

Although PWC declined to state where the first funds will be spent, sources speculated that the initial developments may be at Velasco, Matagorda Island, Grapevine Reservoir, a five-mile "wild river" stretch along the Guadalupe River, White River Reservoir and in Jefferson County.

Under the entrance-fee plan.

a family paying a $1-per-car entrance fee can go to as many $1 and 50-cent parks in that day as they can and care to attend. But they could buy what Parks & Wildlife Executive Director Robert Singleton considers a big bargain—a $12-a-year pass to all parks. Annual permits will be acceptable in all facilities charging fees except San Jose Mission in San Antonio, Varner-Hogg Plantation and Eisenhower State Park where present fee schedules will continue. Swimming pool fees also will remain unchanged.

State Highway Commission looked to better recreational facilities, too, and approved new parks roads for Atlanta State Park and Caddo Lake State Park, as well as $100,000 worth of "arbor projects" in 12 roadside parks along Texas highways.

APPOINTMENTS

Governor Connally appointed Memphis attorney Jack B. Boone district attorney of the 100th judicial district which includes Carson, Collingsworth, Childress, Donley and Hall Counties.

Connally also named Dr. Herbert C. McKee of Houston and Dr. Wendell H. Hamrick of Dickinson to the Texas Air Control Board and Ray A. Foley to the Dallas County Flood Control District board.

New assistant district supervisor positions were announced by the Liquor Control Board for John R. Bacak of Kerrville, who will be stationed in Victoria; Donnie R. Hunter of Odessa, who will transfer to Corpus Christi; and Joe McCarthy who will remain in El Paso.

Department of Public Safety selected Elmer J. Terrell Jr. of Fort Worth as acting agent-in-charge of its narcotics section. Six agents in the section are retiring, including the present Agent-in-Charge, W. P. Naylor. DPS named as new Texas Rangers L. C. White of Beaumont and Henry B. Ligon of Kerrville.

Timon Barnett of Lockhart is DPS' first Negro officer. He is assigned to the capitol security guard.

House Speaker Ben Barnes named a blue-ribbon committee to study Texas employment wages and economic problems. Callan Graham of Austin is chairman. Lay members include Gustave Falk of Dallas, Harold Kilpatrick of Austin, Dean George Kozmetsky of the University of Texas, Austin, and Dean H. O. Kunkel of Texas A&M University. Legislator members are Reps. Raul Longoria of Edinburg, Honore Ligarde of Laredo, Raul Muniz of El Paso, Ralph Wayne of Plainview and the Rev. Zan Holmes of Dallas.

Barnes picked Reps. Menton Murray of Harlingen and Bill Clayton of Springlake to represent Texas on July 31-August 1 at the Southern Water Resources Conference in Miami.

LITTLE CHANGE

A sub-committee of the 25-member committee which is working on revisions of the Texas constitution has recommended to the full committee that closed sessions of the Texas Senate be abolished.

Texas' constitution now allows the Senate to lock its doors when it considers approval or rejection of persons nominated to state offices by the governor. Sub-committee headed by Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria voted down a proposal to allow 18-year-olds to vote. Also, one to permit the Legislature to set up a permanent voter registration

A vigilant Joan Blondell steers her teen-age daughter, Quentin Dean, away from an over-amorous Elvis Presley in "Stay Away, Joe," MGM's rugged, rowdy comedy set in today's West. Burgess Meredith, Katy Jurado and Thomas Gomez also star in the all-laugh cast of the new Panavision and Metrocolor attraction.

"Stay Away, Joe"
It's a BRAND NEW Elvis Presley in MGM's rollicking comedy, "Stay Away, Joe," in which he makes a striking departure from his usual love-crooning roles to play a brawling, half-Navajo cowboy who attempts to pave a path of gold for his parents, sister and grandfather, a carefree family of indigent American Indians ranching near a reservation, but whose every effort at a good deed ends in howlingly funny contretemps.

18-21 Year Olds
Receive About $479
Million From S. S.

Social security is now paying more money to students aged 18 through 21 than all the scholarships at all U. S. Colleges and Universities, according to data just received by Ted F. Moellering, District Manager for the Social Security Administration in San Angelo, Texas. "In the 1968-69 school year," Mr. Moellering explained, "the social security program will pay about $479 million to approximately 466,000 students entitled to payments on the earnings record of a disabled, retired, or deceased parent."

The school year that begins next fall will mark the fourth year of payments under the 1965 change in the law providing for the continued payment of social security benefits past the age of 18 to unmarried, full-time students.

"Nothing in the law prevents the student from receiving his social security benefits while he is still receiving assistance from a scholarship period. If a student works during the summer months or part time during the school year, and earns $1,680 or less for the year, he can still collect all of his social security benefits. If his earnings go over $1,680, he gives up some or all of his benefits, depending upon the amount of his total earnings and how steadily he works."

Mr. Moellering added that a 1967 change in the dependency requirements for the children of women workers added about 175,000 more young persons to those eligible for payments. Any student in the 18-22 age group whose mother is deceased, disabled, or retired after earning social security coverage, should visit the social security district office as soon as possible, or see the representative when he is in your area.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended by adding a new Section 52c to read as follows:

"Section 52c. Federal Land Bank Adopts New Slogan, Serves Farmers

R. H. Emery, manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Ballinger, announced this week that the Federal Land Bank System has adopted as a permanent slogan, "Serving America's Farmers: Providers of Plenty."

The local association is a part of a national network of twelve regional banks and 695 local associations.

The Land Bank System, which last year celebrated its 50th anniversary, is moving ahead into the second half-century of operations with renewed dedication of purpose to meet the essential long term financial needs of the nation's farmers and ranchers, Emery said.

"Our system has coped with a variety of great demands made upon it during the past 50 years, all the while maintaining a dependable loan service to farmers and ranchers. As agriculture continues to increase its productive capacity through technology, it will be our purpose to continue to serve the changing credit needs of farmers and ranchers," Emery stated.

The land banks and associations comprise a system which is operated entirely on private funds and is owned by its 394,000 member-borrowers whose elected directors formulate its policies.

The board of directors of the local association are Wesley Wood, president; Paul Pruitt, vice president; Clyde Flanagan, Arnold Fuchs, Pat Pritchard and Elliott J. Kemp.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Faye Presley and the late Hollis Presley of Crews.

The Rev. Virgil James, pastor of the church, officiated for the double ring ceremony before the altar where candelabra and white gladioli arranged in large basket formed the setting for the wedding party.

Piano selections were played by Rebecca Dean who accompanied her father, Hollis Dean to sing "If I Give My Heart To You" and "He."

Candies were lighted by the ushers, Walter Morrow, Jimmy Poland, of Albuquerque, New Mexico and Joe Pritchard, brother of the bride.

Flower girl was Connie Ann Cathey of Wingate and ring bearer was James Lee Smith of Odessa, the bride's nephew.

Jimmy Seals of Winters, served his cousin as best man. Groomsmen were Skippy Sheppard, David Brock, both of Winters and Pat Pritchard, Jr. brother of the bride of San Angelo.

and embroidered with pearls. Her mantilla of Alencon lace and tulle, extended into a train. She carried an orchid with white gladioli atop a white Bible.

1 to 124 Chance Your Business Will Be Checked By IRS

There is one chance out of 124 your place of business will be field audited, you file a 1040 income tax form, according to a specialist.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue reported to the treasury secretary on its 1967 activities saying this number compares with one out of 121 chances in 1966.

For the Internal Revenue Service to audit your tax form in their office, the chances are one out of 30 compared to the previous rate of one out of 26.

It was noted that more individual returns showed mathematical errors than in fiscal 1966. Errors in favor of the taxpayer averaged $87, compared to $63 in favor of Uncle Sam. The previous year was $91 to $58.

Figures also show more taxpayers are refusing to accept examining agents' claims for additional taxes and are appealing their disputes to the Appellate Division of the Treasury. The settlements averaged about 31 percent of deficiencies claimed by the treasury.

But it doesn't seem to pay to go to court, experts say. In the Tax Court, decisions during fiscal '67, the treasury won 230 cases, while taxpayers were victorious in only 77. The won-lost ratio in the Court of Claims was about even, but in the District Court, taxpayers won only half as many cases as the treasury.

It is considerably less difficult now to appeal to successively higher authorities with a tax disagreement with Revenue agents, it was said.

The first step is an informal hearing before a District Conferee, and then, if there is no agreement, a hearing before the Appellate Division. If the dispute involves less than $2500, no formal written protest is required at either level. This is much simpler than the past system of requiring a formal protest to get a hearing at the Appellate Division.

Of course, this new procedure is not necessary, even in cases involving under $2500, if the person feels filing a formal protest will help his case, it was stated.
