HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Winters schools opened Wednesday... and Superintendent of Schools Carroll Tatom informs us that every teacher position in the system has been filled with certificated teachers, qualified and teaching in fields for which they have been trained.

The people—and the students, more importantly—of the Winters Independent School District are fortunate that this condition exists here. There are so many schools where such is not the case. There are a good many thousands of teacher positions in schools about the state which are being filled by persons not certificated or basily trained for the subjects they teach. There just are not enough teachers to go around.

It hasn't been easy to fill all the teacher positions of the Winters system with qualified personnel. It has required a lot of work, and even a lot of traveling and interviewing and sifting on the part of the superintendent and the administration. In the face of a teacher shortage, when all schools are out looking for teachers, it appears at times to be an almost impossible task. One thing has been in favor of the Winters schools, however. Our schools have maintained a position of envy, so to speak, among the ranks of like-size schools. They have been known for the progressiveness of the administration and the undying cooperation of the public. Teachers, the same as other professions or callings, gravitate toward such a climate. It's important that the public work with the administration and the teachers to keep it that way.

Item from Cricketsville: One housewife down the street says that, of course, a computer could get housework done faster than a human. It wouldn't have to jump out of the bathtub to run answer the phone.

Question of the week: If the government is going to pay certain people for doing nothing, as some vote-hungry politicians are advocating, will those more efficient at doing nothing receive higher pay than others?

Our red-necked friend out on Bluff Creek says he was attending the Democratic Convention the other night and watched as some delegates were seated and others un-seated, when suddenly he was himself unceremoniously un-seated. A rival faction—his wife—all at once decided that he should vacate his important work of assisting in the conduct of the convention, with his continuous-and-silly running commentary. She insisted that he recess for a while and stuff some tow-sacks into the cracks under the doors and around the windows to keep out the hordes of crickets who had picked convention time to demonstrate and to literally take over the household. He filed his minority report, protesting that the crickets did, too, have some rights, but his remarks were thundered down by the opposition. Having performed the task of throwing a roadblock into the path of the crickety demonstration, he returned to the convention floor to find those mouthy little men from Mars, with their antennae protruding from ear contraptions, still roaming the aisles, asking the delegates if they'd heard any good rumors lately, and if not, they'd be glad to supply some. In the confusion, having lost the skein of events, he heard the names of McCarthy, Humphrey, Nathan Hale, Kennedy, Patrick Henry, George Wallace, and others... so he will have to wait until the mailman comes with the paper next week (if the creek goes down) to find out who really was nominated as Democratic candidate for president. One thing he did find out, though: The delegates that he sent to that convention with specific instructions were told they would not be allowed to follow his orders, but would have to forget what the people back home wanted them to do and go along with "new rules we thought up last night" upon request of some people he doesn't even know.

This is one of the several holidays suggested by the Winters Chamber of Commerce for 1968. Others, for the remainder of the year, include Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's Day.

28.3 Hiway Miles Involved In County FM Road Work

The Texas Highway Commission has approved the expenditure of $94,100 for improvement of the farm to market road system and for highway safety and betterment in Runnels County during 1969.

District Engineer J. A. Snell of San Angelo said that a total of 28.3 highway miles in Runnels County will be involved in the annual program.

Work will be under supervision of R. N. Jennings, District Maintenance Engineer, and is part of the Highway Commission's combined Farm to Market Road Improvement and State Highway Safety and Betterment Program for 1969.

Winters Gin Is Ready, Expects To Run In Ten Days

It will be at least a week or ten days before any cotton is gathared in the Winters area, according to cotton men. The year's unusual weather thus far has been given for the reason for a comparative lateness in the start of picking.

The Winters Gin, located on FM 53 west of Winters, is ready to begin the season, according to E. J. Schroeder, who is now manager of the gin.

Schroeder is from Loraine, and has 18 years experience in the ginning business. The Winters Gin Co. now is owned by Charles Dodson of Big Spring.

C. of C. Board To Meet Sept. 10

The board of directors of the Winters Chamber of Commerce will hold their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, September 10, at 5:30 in the Chamber of Commerce office.

The board usually meets on the first Tuesday of each month, but because the first Tuesday in September falls immediately after a long holiday weekend, the meeting time was changed to the second Tuesday.

All board members, and other members of the Chamber of Commerce, have been urged to be present for this meeting, to discuss important business concerning projects and programs which have been planned for this year.

C. E. Sewell, Jr., Completed ROTC Camp In Georgia

Charles E. Sewell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Sewell of Winters, a student at Texas A. and M. University, College Station, has completed the nation's only basic Reserve Officers' Training Corps summer camp at Fort Benning, Georgia, July 19.

The basic summer camp provides active-duty training in lieu of two years on-campus study, allowing him to enter the advanced ROTC program at the university.

During the six-week encampment, he received intensive training in leadership, rifle marksmanship, physical condition and other military subjects.

Upon completion of the advanced ROTC program and graduation from college, he is eligible to be commissioned as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army.

Cadet Sewell is a 1964 graduate of Abilene High School.

Schools Register 992 First Day

Winters Independent School started the 1968-69 school year Wednesday, with 992 students enrolled for the first day.

Enrollment probably will increase slightly following the Labor Day holidays, and during a few days following, it was indicated. Many students from some migrant families do not enroll until after the school year is underway.

Coaches "Enjoy Working With Eager Team"

The football coaches of Winters High School have spent the better part of two weeks in close contact with the potentials of the 1968 Blizzard football team—with two-a-day workouts on several of those days—and have been "impressed by the work of the team members," and the "eagerness of the boys."

Coach Jerry Gibson spoke to the Winters Lions Club Tuesday noon, and said that all members of the coaching staff—only one of whom has ever coached Winters boys previously—is enjoying working with a group of boys "who are eager to play football, and are willing to play in any position assigned." Head Coach Gibson, and Coaches Charles (Chili) Black and Tommy Konczak are working with Blizzards for the first time. Coach Neely is serving his second year as a Winters coach.

Coach Gibson explained the system of workouts as developed by the coaching staff, a system which he says lends itself to organization and diversity, and "keeps everybody working at all times." He said that permanent position assignments have not been worked out, and probably will not be until later in the season. Even then, he indicated, assignments may be changed in order to develop potential which may become apparent as the season progresses. He said that the boys are accepting any change in assignments in good spirit, and that a competitive atmosphere provides for harder work on the part of all team members who aspire for certain positions.

The Blizzard mentor told Lions Club members that in these times when self discipline is so greatly needed, that football—and the entire area of athletics—is one of the best fields in which that characteristic can be instilled in the individual. The person who fails to develop self discipline and acceptance of some kind of responsibility cannot continue "on the team," he indicated. This is the goal, the entire coaching staff has set.

The head coach introduced members of the coaching staff. Coach Black, a Texas Tech product, and graduate of Colorado City High School, spent five years coaching at Post, and one year at Denver City. He is line coach, and will be head basketball coach.

Jerry Neely, McMurry grad is "A" team defensive end coach, coaches "B" team and freshman, and is head basketball coach.

Tommy Konczak, a spring graduate of Tarleton State College, is linebacker coach for the "A" team, and coaching freshman and "B" teams, and is junior high coach.

MRS. WILLIAM LEWIS BUTLER

Bobbie Sue Gans, William Lewis Butler Marriage Rites Read in Borger

Bobbie Sue Gans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Gans of Borger and former resident of Winters, became the bride of William Lewis Butler, III, when they repeated their marriage vows Saturday August 24, at the First Methodist Church in Borger.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Butler Jr., also of Borger.

Dr. Joe P. Self Jr., chaplain at Texas State Prison, Sugarland, uncle of the bride, officiated for the ceremony.

Traditional music was played by Tommy Geyer, organist, and Kathy Scott, vocalist.

John C. Cox of Lubbock served the groom as best man. Groomsman were Bill Wood of Bryan and Bill Gunn of Norman, Oklahoma.

Maid of honor was Sandi Gans of Borger, matron of honor was Mrs. David Miller of Fort Worth, both sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Bill Wood of Bryan, sister of the groom.

The bride's attendants wore identical dresses of sunshine yellow nylon fashioned with bateau neckline and plunging back accented with Dior bow. Their headpieces were pill boxes with halo veil. They carried bouquets of daisies and English ivy.

Presented in marriage by her father the bride wore a wedding gown of silk organza over taffeta designed with princess bodice with reembodyered chantilly lace in back and front, bateau neckline and cap sleeves. Matching lace circled the waistline and formed a wide panel down the front of the skirt. Unpressed gave fullness to the sides and back of the skirt which swept into a chapel train. Self covered buttons fastened the back of the bodice and a Dior bow finished the center back. The halo veil fell from a small satin pillbox enhanced with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of gardenias, carnations and stephanotis atop a Hebrew prayer book.

The reception in the Garden Room of the First Methodist Church, was given by the bride's parents. The grooms parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Borger Country Club.

A graduate of Borger Senior High School, the bride attended Frank Phillips College at Borger, Texas Technological College at Lubbock. She was a member of the National Honor society, honor graduate, all-star band for 3 years and is presently a sophomore student at Southwestern State College at Weatherford, Oklahoma.

The bridegroom is also a graduate of Borger High School, attended Frank Phillips College at Borger, Southwestern State College Pharmacy School and holds an ABS degree. He is a member of the Kappa Psi Professional Pharmacy Fraternity and is presently a junior student at Southwestern State College at Weatherford, Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Butler will be at home after September 5, at 712 Custer, Apartment 4, Weatherford, Oklahoma, following a wedding trip to Colorado, Springs, Colorado.

Visitors present were Lena Mae Wheat and Nellie Adcock of Wingate; Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Wheat and Debbie of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Sturgeon and Mr. and Mrs. Davis Wolf of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Oren Adcock, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilson, Florence; Sam Cernigolia, from Houston.

Wingate Gator Tops Club met August 26 for the regular meeting.

Those present were Mrs. Alpheus Hill, Mrs. Joe Bryan, Mrs. Bill Hamilton, Mrs. Wayne Owens, Mrs. Richard Beck, Mrs. Pat Pritchard, Mrs. E. F. Albro, Mrs. James Williams.

Mrs. E. F. Albro was queen this week.

Mrs. Bill Hamilton won the KOPS contest with her team scoring the most points.

Mrs. Edward Poehls won the contest on the most weight loss.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hubach Announce Approaching Marriage of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hubach are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kathy Alline, to Mr. Carl Franklin Young. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Young.

The wedding date has been set for Saturday, September 14, at the Southside Baptist Church at 7 p. m.

Miss Hubach is a 1968 graduate of Winters High School. Her fiance attended Winters High School and at present is employed with Armour Packing Company in San Angelo.

State Capital NEWS

TEXAS REPUBLICAN PARTY POLITICS

Despite the fact that only two Republican presidential nominees have ever carried Texas, Richard Nixon's chances appear to be as high as 50-50—depending largely on whom the Democrats nominate.

First successful Republican in Texas was Herbert Hoover in 1928, carrying the state by 367,000 votes to 341,000. Dwight Eisenhower was the only other GOPer to win a majority of Texans, in 1952 and 1956.

However, there are several factors which could shake up Texas' habit of going with the Democrat. One is the fact that, in 1960, Nixon missed carrying the state by a slim 46,000 votes—and with Lyndon Johnson the Democratic vice-presidential nominee.

And since Hubert Humphrey—almost certain to be the Democratic nominee—is known as being even more liberal than John F. Kennedy and Johnson, Texas' traditionally conservative-to-moderate voters could easily find Nixon more attractive.

This should be especially true since Nixon picked Maryland Gov. Spiro Agnew for the No. 2 spot on his ticket, and the two appear to be running a "law and order campaign" to offset the influence of American Party Candidate George Wallace.

Also of course, Nixon will have the challenger's advantage of being able to attack the incumbent administration on touchy issues—in this case, the war in Vietnam, the monetary crisis and the racial situation in big cities.

On the other hand, Humphrey will have several plusses in his column when Texans go to vote in November. One could be his vice-presidential pick, who many people think Governor Connally has a good shot at.

Another will be Wallace's candidacy. As an extreme right-winger, Wallace will probably draw considerably more votes away from Nixon than from Humphrey, and some estimates of Wallace's vote are as high as 50 per cent in West and East Texas and 30 per cent in Central Texas.

APPOINTMENTS

Governor Connally named Judge Tom Reavley of Austin to fill out the term of Associate Justice James R. Norvell on the Texas Supreme Court. Norvell, who did not seek re-election, resigned effective October 10, so Reavley can begin his work at the start of the new fall term. Reavley is the unopposed Democratic nominee for the high court post.

Connally appointed Abilene Attorney Tom Gordon to succeed W. D. (Bill) Noel of Odessa as chairman of the State Liquor Control Board.

William Neal Blanton Jr. of Houston is Connally's selection to serve out the unexpired term of the late Judge Ben Moorhead on the 11th district court in Harris County. Blanton is the Democratic nominee for the job and unopposed.

House Speaker Ben Barnes appointed Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria, chairman of the House State Affairs Committee, to chair an interim committee to study the relationship between vending-machine operators and taverns. Legislation may be needed to control the takeover of liquor establishments by money-lending vendors, he said.

Barnes also appointed a special committee to study the legal, ethical and moral aspects of human-organ transplants, with an eye to recommending changes in Texas law. Members are Rep. Jack Ogg of Houston, chairman; Dr. Robert D. Bloodwell of Houston; Philip R. Overton, Austin; Dr. Charles A. LeMaistre, Austin; Wyatt H. Heard, Houston; and State Reps. Lamoine Holland, San Antonio; D. C. Howard, Uvalde; Fred Orr of DeSoto and Carl A. Parker, Fort Arthur.

SEWAGE-TREATMENT GRANTS

Eighty-five Texas cities have filed applications totaling $12,235,000 for $10 million worth of federal grants to help local governments build sewage-treatment facilities.

Most of the grants will be for 33 per cent of the total project price, with the local governments furnishing the remainder of the funds.

Attended Wedding Of Granddaughter In Altus, Okla.

Mrs. D. A. Dobbins attended the wedding of her granddaughter, Mary Lou Snow, to Steven Wolfe of New York, at 3 p. m., Sunday, August 25, in Altus, Okla. She was accompanied to Altus by Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Dobbins and Mr. and Mrs. David Dobbins.

Mrs. Wolfe is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Snow of Altus, Okla. She received a Yale University fellowship in September, 1966, and now is working toward a doctorate in chemistry. She received her master's degree in the spring. Mr. Wolfe is also a student at Yale, studying chemistry.

TO ARLINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Hantsche were in Arlington and Fort Worth visiting their son Arliss and other relatives and friends Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Sunday afternoon visitors with the Hantsches were Mr. and Mrs. A. Y. Hantsche of Loraine.

VOCATIONAL ED COMMITTEE MEETS
A Senate vocational-technical education study committee heard testimony that industry needs workers who are skilled with tools but who also have sound academic education. Committee is formulating its recommendations to the next legislature. Meanwhile, Texas Research League has advised that vocational rehabilitation service and management remain in Texas Education Agency framework rather than a separate agency.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

Shortly after nightfall Lake O' the Pines comes to life. You can see evidence of it everywhere. First, the flickering flame of a lighted gasoline lantern, then the brilliant and steady glow. While lights seem to pop up like fireflies, everywhere.

Alongside these lanterns are crappie fishermen, or in North-east Texas lingo, the "white perch" anglers. They get out in the cool of night to drop their live minnows down alongside a tree or next to a submerged clump of brush. Each of those tightline holders hope that one of those broad, "white fish" attracted by the lantern light soon will give that tell-tale yank on the line.

This isn't a scene familiar only to Northeast Texas. It is repeated almost every night—spring, summer and fall—on lakes throughout the Lone Star State. It happens everywhere you find those ubiquitous crappie. And that's almost everywhere!

Crappies are basically lake fish. You'll find a few in the deep, placid pools of rivers, but mostly they favor the man made reservoirs. Soon after a new lake fills up crappie start showing up on anglers' stringers. This is true more and more as time goes by.

Why? Because the crappie is a master at multiplication. In fact, if it has one fault it is that it is too prolific.

The unfortunate thing about crappies is they have the ability to overpopulate the waters in which they live by their sheer reproductive potential," says Marion Toole, director of Inland Fisheries for the State Parks and Wildlife Commission. "The first crappies that are planted in a pond or lake are capable of rapid growth, but as subsequent spawns occur, the year becomes slower and finally a stunted crappie population is the end result."

This means, then that crappies have to be fished—hard. Which is all right with the fishermen. If there is one fish that fishermen like to catch, it is the crappie.

There's some magic about this fish that's difficult to describe. It isn't a very sporting fish, not really. It bites in a series of light tap-taps, and when hooked it battles deep in tight figure eights, surrendering after only a brief filing of energy. Perhaps the basic motivation behind its inherent popularity is that it is an epicure's delight on the dinner platter. Many fishermen claim the crappie has the best flavor of any fish, bar none. It is a kind of sweet, succulent meat. Best way to cook one, they say, is to pop off the head, gut it, and fry whole, a rich golden brown.

Two species of crappie are found in Texas—the white and black crappie. Offhand, it is almost impossible to tell them apart. A large male of the white species might be almost entirely black. Only sure - fire identification is to count the spines in the dorsal fin. If it has five or six spines, you've got yourself a white crappie; seven or eight and it belongs to the black family.

Actually, most fishermen could care less whether it is white or black. All they like to do it catch them... and the more the merrier. Fortunately for anglers, crappie have a way of cooperating quite nicely. Another good thing about the crappie is that they are school fish and where you catch one you'll likely take several.

Any kind of rod and reel can be used for crappie fishing, and if the water is shallow enough, an ordinary canoe will suffice. Tie about a No. 1 thin-shanked hook on the end of your line, add a clinch - on sinker about eight inches up and you're in business.

Crappie prefer some kind of cover. Almost always you'll find them around submerged brush. Some people even "bait" crappie holes by tying together large clumps of green brush and anchoring the brush underwater in a likely spot.

One of the best times to catch crappies is in the spring, when they migrate into the shallows to feed. This is one time of year when they readily hit artificial baits. Bass fishermen often take several while plugging along the shorelines of lakes.

Probably the best lure is the tiny white Maribou-hair jig. All you must do is cast the jig, allow it to sink deep and bring it back slowly, simply reeling in at the same speed all the time. Some people put a cork bobber about two feet above the jig and cast this around brush in the shallows, popping the cork lightly to make the jig jump up and down.

Favorite natural food of the crappie is the minnow. Ninety-nine of every 100 crappie caught are taken on this popular bait. A small minnow about two inches long is best. Hook it thru the lips or just behind the dorsal fin to make it stay alive and wiggling, to entice a wily old crappie into hitting.

1,054 Antelope Permits For Trans-Pecos Area

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department this year will issue 1,054 buck antelope permits in seven Trans-Pecos counties—a slight increase over the 985 permits issued last year, according to Project Leader Tommy Hailey.

Henry Burkett, Department regional director at San Angelo, said aerial and ground censusing reflected a nine per cent decrease in the total number of antelope on the range but this was due to a decrease in this year's fawn crop. The adult population showed an increase. Biologists said an extremely hard late winter and early spring in the Trans-Pecos caused the drop to 48 per cent fawn crop this year from a 70 per cent reported last year. There was a slight die-off in one area west of Marfa, but the population in other areas increased enough to maintain the adult count.

State Commission Sets Waterfowl Season and Limits

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission in a special called meeting Tuesday set the waterfowl seasons and bag limits for the 1968-69 season.

The duck and coot season will begin one-half hour before sunrise on Dec. 14 and extend through sunset each day through Jan. 12. Daily bag limit is four and may not include more than two wood ducks, one canvasback or one redhead; and two mallards.

Possession limit on ducks is eight and may not include more than four wood ducks and one canvasback or one redhead and four mallards. The daily bag limit on coots is 10 with a possession limit of 20.

The hunting season for geese and brant will begin one-half hour before sunrise Oct. 30 and continue each day through sunset through Jan. 12 with a bag and possession limit of five.

In that portion of Texas lying west of U. S. Highway 81, daily bag and possession limit may not include more of the following species than: one Ross's goose and in the alternative one white-fronted goose or one white-fronted goose and one Canada goose or two Canada geese.

East of U. S. Highway 81 the daily bag limit may not include more than one Ross's goose and in the alternative not more than one Canada goose or one white-fronted goose and the possession limit not more than one Ross's goose and in the alternative not more than two Canada geese or one Canada and one white-fronted.

Almost Million Fish for Amistad

If a fisherman dreamed of an angler's paradise, huge, new Amistad Reservoir nearing completion and straddling the Texas-Mexico line might emerge in technicolor.

The lake at the confluence of the Rio Grande and Devil's River is being heavily stocked by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Superintendent Wallace Clary of the No. 2 San Angelo Fish Hatchery has delivered large numbers of bass and channel catfish to the lake that will soon inundate Devil's Lake and Lake Walk.

To date Clary has stocked 787,750 bass fry, 70,000 advanced fry up to 1 1/4 inches long, 39,475 fingerling bass, as well as 16,800 fingerling catfish. Additional releases of game fish are planned.

The controversial movie "US" at the United States pavilion at the HemisFair is shown on the world's largest screen, covering one-fifth of an acre.

LEGAL NOTICE

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Sealed proposals addressed to Mr. Buford Baldwin, City Secretary, City of Winters, Texas, for the construction of Community Center will be received at the office of the City Secretary, City Hall, Winters, Texas, until 7:00 p. m., Tuesday, September 3, 1968, and then publicly opened and read aloud.

Any bids received after closing time will be returned unopened.

The proposed work provides for the construction of a 60' x 120' Community Center Building. Detailed plans and specifications of the work may be seen for examination at the following: City Hall, Winters, Texas.

A deposit of $10.00 will be required for each set of plans and specifications; all will be refunded upon return of plans and specifications in good condition not later than 48 hours after bids are opened.

A Cashier's or Certified check payable to the order of the City of Winters, Texas, or amount not less than 5 percent of the total bid must accompany the bid as a guarantee that if awarded the contract, the bidder will promptly enter into a contract, and execute bonds and forms provided and outlined in the specifications and instructions to bidders.

A performance bond in the amount of 100 percent of the contract price will be required.

The City of Winters reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to waive informalities or technicalities.

Attention is called to the fact that minimum wage rates have been established as required by law and set out in detail in the specifications, $1.60 per hour.

Traditionally Austin has been the headquarters site for Texas campaigns of presidential candidates. But George Wallace's official campaign headquarters (American Independent Party) now is located 49 miles to the south, in New Braunfels.

It was moved from the capital city to within 30 minutes' drive of the office of the state chairman, Bard Logan of San Antonio. This move is significant—especially to those 600,000 Texans who are expected to vote for Wallace in November.

When the state executive committee of the American Party decided to replace Miss Jane Sumner of Austin with Jack Zengler of New Braunfels, named Sam Rains of Austin as treasurer, replacing Mrs. Margaret Bacon of Austin; and removed Mrs. Jewell Lemons of San Antonio from the committee, charges of "Birchism" were hurled. Miss Sumner ran for Congress on the Republican ticket in 1966 and Mrs. Bacon had served as secretary to Liberal Democrat Franklin Spears of San Antonio during Spears' 1966 bid for State Attorney General.

"It's not the Birch people that are causing the trouble," Chairman Logan says. "It's the anti-Birch people. They're getting signatures to get Wallace on the ballot. Now that the job has been done, they seem to want to fight."

In a three-day Austin meeting this week, State Constitutional Revision Commission is wrapping up its final recommendations for a new Texas constitution.

The subcommittees completed their year-long studies last month.

Fireworks were anticipated on these proposals: Four year terms for governors and all other statewide officials who now have two year terms. (Recommendation would prohibit direct succession to a second term by the governor.)

Constitutional change that would also give the governor power to remove and replace appointees to boards and commissions.

A requirement that state senate closed-door sessions on appointments by the governor be abolished.

Authority for the legislature to instruct courts as to how they will handle appeals from state administrative agency actions.

Provisions for county home rule and optional plans for consolidation of political subdivisions and functions within a county.

clear of battles within the party—as the Chicago scene was sure to be. He has gained some widespread and rather unexpected support from liberal Texas Democrats because he refused to go with Gov. John Connally, then Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and Speaker Ben Barnes to head off a migrant workers' march to Austin two years ago.

Smith, however, says he is serious about wanting to meet and talk to state convention delegates because he wants to command the convention. The September state convention is known as the "governor's convention." It will be interesting to see who wins control—the man who is governor now or the man who is the Democratic nominee.

Then the Governor named Dan Eddy of Dallas to the Good Neighbor Commission to serve out the term of the late Walter McBee of Dallas. Eddy, a Salvation Army official, has been credited with establishing the Salvation Army in Mexico, and served there previously as Army field representative.

House Speaker Barnes named these committees:

To study election laws—Reps. Ben Atwell of Dallas, J. D. Weldon of Port Arthur, Gerhardt A. Schulle of San Marcos, Bill T. Swanson of Houston and Leroy Wieting of Portland.

To assist in a study to determine the feasibility of creating a Texas stock exchange—Reps. David Finney of Fort Worth, Don Cavness of Austin and Dick McKissack of Dallas.

C. R. Baskin will be new acting chief engineer of the Texas Water Development Board, succeeding John J. Vandertulip, who is joining the International Boundary and Water Commission in El Paso as principal engineer.

Texas Department of Mental Health-Mental Retardation has transferred Wichita Falls State Hospital Superintendent Dr. Willard Segerson to that post at Austin State Hospital.

WILDLIFE PLANS
Parks and Wildlife Commission adopted a $17.3 million operating budget for the next fiscal year.

Commission will ask the 1969 Legislature to appropriate money to reopen the fish and water-exchange pass between Corpus Christi Bay and the Gulf across Mustang Island.

Commission also set Texas Duck season for December 14-January 1. Daily bag limit was set at four and possession limit at eight. Goose season will be October 20-January 12, with daily bag and possession limit of five.

Studies of the ecology of prairie chickens and ways to increase their population—perhaps enough to hunt them someday—have been authorized by Commission for the year beginning Sept. 1.

Open season was set for November 16-November 21 for deer in Devil's pocket unit, Angelina Management area.

CITY WATER PRICES VARY
"Water Service in Texas Cities," new publication by the Texas Municipal League, indicates a wide spread in water prices throughout Texas.

Lowest city rate is Uvalde's $2.50 per 10,000 gallons; highest is Terrell's $10.25. League said average water prices charged by 61 cities of populations between 10,000 and 25,000 is $6.00 per 10,000 gallons.

TIDELANDS ARGUMENTS AGAIN
U. S. Supreme Court has granted Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin an Oct. 14 requested hearing on locations of Texas shoreline or the point from which Texas measures its submerged land boundaries.

Last December a decision granting Texas ownership of tidelands to 10.3 miles into Gulf of Mexico held that where the shoreline has receded, Texas cannot claim the 1845 historic boundary (which would give Texas more acreage). Federal government also would deny Texas its 10.3-mile area where the shore has built out into the Gulf.

At stake is about 36,000 acres. Since 1950 the undisputed acreage has yielded more than $100 million in oil-gas leasing for permanent school fund.

SHORT SNORTS
Texas Education Agency estimates 123,855 professional educators will be needed to instruct 2,661,454 pupils who will be reporting to classes in September; and concludes that language improvement is the most important educational need to serve children from low income families.

State Banking Commission rejected an application for new American Bank of Commerce, Harlingen.

Attorney General Martin has been in Washington studying how Texas can administer its portion of more than $100 mil-

Appeals judges by the governor from a nominating commission state of three.

Easier access to courts for taxpayers protesting assessments.

Recommendations agreed on by the revision commission must go to the legislature next year. Legislature then can submit all or any part of the recommendations to the voters—or reject them entirely.

Aside from its recommendations of minor controversial nature, commission has made a good-faith effort to tighten and streamline the constitution and chop out long-recognized dead wood.

APPOINTMENTS

Governor Connally reappointed three members of the Pan American College Board of Regents to terms expiring in 1973. They are Lou Hassell of Houston, Leonel Garza of Brownsville, and McAllen attorney Morris Atlas.

Then the Governor named Dan Eddy of Dallas to the Good Neighbor Commission to serve out the term of the late Walter McBee of Dallas. Eddy, a Salvation Army official, has been credited with establishing the Salvation Army in Mexico, and served there previously as Army field representative.

House Speaker Barnes named these committees:

ATTOENEY GENERAL RULES
Senate's failure during special session to confirm appointment of J. C. Looney, Edinburg, to the Public Safety Commission did not invalidate his appointment, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held. Martin said Looney remains a member of the body, since the Senate didn't act one way or another on the governor's selection.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that: Rio Grande City Independent School District can issue tax bonds to finance part, but not all, of a new assembly hall-library—classroom—and clinic complex with federal Economic Development Administration aid.

Property owners can't cut the fence of another to gain access to an alleged county road unused for 20 years, except where egress and ingress have been denied to one living in enclosure of fencing. Public roads remain as such although unused, unless rights of public are cut off by county commissioners court, adverse possession by land owner or common law abandonment.

Lynda Gibbs and Travis Ford Set Wedding Date For September 7

Mr. and Mrs. Connie H. Gibbs of Route 2, Winters announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lynda to Mr. Travis Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ford of Rising Star.

The wedding date has been set for Saturday, September 7, at 8 p. m. at the Crews Baptist Church.

All friends of the couple are invited to attend.

Mrs. Juanita O'Connor's Weekly Home Demonstration Agent's Column

With fruit bins overflowing with fresh, juicy peaches, it's high time to treat your family to some fresh peach desserts. Select fragrant peaches that are firm but soft and yielding to the touch. Incidentally, a rosy blush is not always a good guide to ripeness—some peaches are quite pale when at their peak.

A fresh peach shortcake shows off fresh peaches to their best advantage, especially when made with thin crisp rounds of flaky pastry. The pastry is made with all vegetable shortening, flour and water—the kind you use for pies. Roll the pastry out on a floured surface and cut into three rounds using an 8 inch plate or cake pan as a guide. Lift them onto baking sheets, sprinkle liberally with sugar and bake in a hot oven until crisp and browned. Home economists who developed this recipe, say that small rounds for individual shortcakes are equally good. Layer the pastry rounds with sliced peaches, sweetened with brown sugar for a change, and shipped cream for a really superlative dessert.

When making pastry for this shortcake or for pies, cut the shortening into the flour. You can do this with two knives or a fork or, with some practice, you can rub the shortening in with the tips of your fingers. But, by far, the easiest way to blend flour and shortening quickly and evenly is with a little gadget called a pastry blender. These are available most anywhere housewares are sold.

Donald F. Schaffrina Received Unit Citation, Vietnam

Gunners Mate Third Class Donald F. Schaffrina, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Schaffrina of 1035 N. Main, Winters, received a Meritorious Unit Commendation as a member of Landing Ship Squadron Three on board the naval landing ship USS Meeker County.

The award was presented to ships of Landing Squadron Three for meritorious service in direct combat support of Logistic Amphibious Operations in Vietnam from July 1, 1966 through March 1, 1968. During this period, the squadron transported more than 336 million pounds of cargo, 5,900 vehicles and 10,000 troops.

Carry out their assignments under adverse weather conditions and in the face of enemy action, members of the squadron were eminently successful and thereby made a significant contribution to U. S. efforts in Vietnam.

Mr. and Mrs. Middleton will live at 1525 Sayles, Abilene.

American Colleges and Universities and is employed by the Abilene Public Schools.

Maid of honor was Cathy Carl of Goree, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Janice Gregory of Van Horn and Holly Middleton of Winters, the bridegroom's sister. Beth Carl was junior bridesmaid.

Feminine attendants wore princess gowns of Nile green shantung with pearl-trimmed lace appliques. They wore pearl strands and matching picture hats of lace and tulle with Gulf trim. Their bouquets were Marguerite daisies.

Presented in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor-length gown of antique silk in candlelight, with sheath front, shallow scooped neckline, lower down the back to square shape, finished with bows topping three gathered tiers extending to the hemline. Each tier and the short sleeves were edged with Venise lace. Her candlelight veil was attached to peau de soie petals with seed pearl trim. She wore an heirloom cameo and carried a bouquet of gardenias and ivy.

Reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's table was laid with white satin and Nile green tulle swags accented with daisy clusters. Serving at the refreshment table were Mrs. Jim Moss, Mrs. Garry Land, Mrs. Don Welch, Miss Joyce Beaty, Miss Marsha Middleton.

Music was presented by Mrs. A. V. Kemletz and Miss Debbie James registered the guests.

For her wedding trip to Dallas the bride changed to a beige silk sheath dress and brown accessories with a gardenia corsage.

A graduate of Goree High School, she attended McMurry College where she was a member of Theta Chi Lambda. She was selected for Who's Who in

THE WINTERS ENTERPRISE

They're at it again! Phyllis Diller and Bob Hope, comedy team of "Boy, Did I Get a Wrong Number" and "Eight on the Lam" are responsible for the laughs of the John Beck-

NAHO Production "The Private Navy of Sgt. O'Farrell," Showing Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre in Technicolor and under release by United Artists, a Transamerica Corporation.

★ MOVIES ★

"The Private Navy of Sgt. O'Farrell"
Strange as it seems for a guy whose name is so closely linked to the American GI, and despite the fact that he has thus far made 52 motion pictures, the great Bob Hope has up to now never made a picture with a military background, unless you count the last few sequences of "Caught In The Draft."

All that is remedied in his 53rd film, the John Beck and NAHO Production "The Private Navy of Sgt. O'Farrell" which United Artists, a Transamerica Corporation, is bringing to the State Theatre Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Technicolor.

It is by far and away the most ambitious picture ever attempted by Hope. Co-starred with him are Phyllis Diller and Jeffrey Hunter. There are also five co-starring roles, an equal number of pivotal featured roles. Gina Lollobrigida plays a guest starring role and there's a special appearance by the dazzling Jylene Demongest, France's latest rising starlet.

"The Private Navy of Sgt. O'Farrell" was filmed in Puerto Rico and its harbor to simulate a typical Pacific island army post during World War II. Its main concern is the retrieving of a cargo of beer heartlessly sent to the bottom by a Japanese sub, and to do this Hope uses a captured torpedo boat and gets into jurisdictional disputes with the Navy. As Bob has indicated, you don't have to be a Pacific vet to get the full benefit of the situation but it wouldn't hurt.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to say thanks to all my relatives and friends in Winters who came to see me and also sent cards and letters. My husband and I had a car accident March 31. I am learning to walk some now with a walker. May God bless all of you. Mrs. Leona Gerhart Payne, Dallas, Texas.

Schiebel-Gunn Marriage Vows Repeated In San Antonio Sat.

Elizabeth Jo Schiebel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Schiebel of San Antonio, and Ronald L. Gunn repeated their marriage vows before Chaplain William Hensley Saturday in Chapel One, Kelly AFB in San Antonio.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Gunn of San Antonio, and the grandson of Mrs. W. J. Yates of Winters.

Mrs. John Roller, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Karen Marcinak, maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Suzanne Palmer, Diane Potter and Sara Weidner. Johnita Sowders, the bridegroom's cousin, was flower girl.

Best man was Larry Hettell and groomsmen were Michael Baldree, Donald Taubert, Donald Abel and John Sowders. Ushers were James Goff and Louis Chosed.

A reception was held in the Mahogany Room of the Officer's Club. The couple will live at 4019 Vance Jackson Road, San Antonio following a honeymoon on the Texas Coast.

Proving Pain

As the result of an auto accident, you are left with continuing pains in your shoulder.

At least, so you say. But the driver of the other car thinks you are faking. If it comes to a showdown in court, would your word alone—without supporting evidence — be enough grounds for collecting damages?

That is a difficult question. Accepting a person's unsupported claim of pain may mean throwing the door open to fraud.

On the other hand, the pain may be real enough to the victim, even though he has no way of proving it. Predictably, courts differ as to just how much weight to give to this kind of complaint.

Fortunately, however, there are usually other ways—besides the claimant's own testimony—to establish that he does have pain.

Most persuasive is medical evidence. Although a doctor cannot actually feel a patient's pain, he can find out a great deal through his instruments.

For example: Pain may speed the patient's pulse. It may affect his blood pressure, his metabolism, and his respiration. It may even put extra zigzags into his electrocardiogram.

Moreover, a doctor can learn much simply by watching a patient's expression. As one judge put it:

"There are symptoms of pain that write their story on one's countenance as clearly as lightning scribbles in the sky."

Will a court listen also to the non-scientific observations of a layman? Generally Yes, because these too may be revealing.

Thus, in one case, an accident victim's pain was proven through the testimony of a fellow patient in his hospital room. The patient vividly recalled the victim's moans, groans, and weeping.

Of course, any method of proving that pain is present may also be used to prove that it is absent. Both instruments and observation, both doctor and layman may—in proper circumstances — help to expose false complaints.

One woman, claiming injury in a bus accident, said she had severe pains in her back. But a doctor noticed that when he was touching that area, she winced far too much in some places and far too little in others.

Result: she collected nothing at all.

TO STEPHENVILLE
