BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

Containerized Freight Shipments

Wellesley Hills, Mass. One of the thorny points of the state-mated labor negotiations with longshoremen is the handling of containerized freight. The dock workers view this rapidly growing mode of freight transport as a threat to the jobs available to longshoremen. This is true, to some extent; but the Babson view is that — as with most major innovations — containerization is the result of the unending spiral of labor costs and of the damage and pilferage losses which have made freight transportation so costly.

Advantages Of Containerization

Under the maritime industry's new freight shipment process, cargo flow is speeded. More important, pilferage danger and handling damage are lessened. Thus, greater efficiency is effected at all cargo transfer points. Shippers are able to operate at almost the efficiency of tankers with their uniform loads of bulk goods or

ASC Students Are Making Education Survey In Winters

Distributive education students at Angelo State College are conducting surveys in the Winters School District to determine if the district can qualify for high school distributive education programs.

Survey teams were in Winters Tuesday to begin the survey, and were interviewing businessmen regarding a possible distributive education program.

Under provisions of a state education act of 1963, any public school district is authorized to organize a distributive education program provided the community has enough distributive occupations to support such a program by providing part time employment for students.

The present survey is sanctioned by the Winters School District, Carroll Tutom, superintendent of schools, said.

When a DE program is initiated, a written agreement or plan of operation between businessmen and school officials providing for part time on-the-job training forms the basis of the program and complements regular school studies. Firms which may participate are in retail, wholesale and service trades.

Winters school officials will receive the results of the survey when the study is completed.

About 15 members of the coordination techniques class at Angelo State College are participating in the survey.

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

"If you drive, don't drink; if you drink, don't drive," is a well-known safety slogan but, in spite of the danger, many friends, upon parting, take "one for the road."

This ancient social custom has been handed down from the days when men traveled on horseback and the horses knew better than to run into each other whether their dizzy mounts could steer them straight or not!

In those days, the "one for the road" was often called "stirrup cup." It was a drink of wine or other alcoholic beverage offered to a man after he had mounted his horse.

Offering the stirrup cup was an especially gracious gesture to the folk living in the highlands of Scotland. Sir Walter Scott, in his narrative poem, "Marmion," wrote: "Lord Marmion's bugles blew to horse; Then came the stirrup cup in course; Between the baron and his host No Point of Courtesy was lost."

liquids. Conventional ships may require anywhere from five to seven days in port to discharge and receive cargo. Container-ships can discharge and reload in about one day. Hence, not only can the freight be sent speedily along its way, but the container-ships can make more trips than conventional freighters.

A Mushrooming Industry
Containerized shipments of ocean freight had a humble beginning in 1956 when the first serious attempt was made by Malcolm McLean to adapt the trucking concept of handling freight to maritime shipping. He envisioned the economic advantages of combining the flexibility of truck freight forwarding (which assembles freight in less-than-truck-load lots) with the efficiencies of ships (which haul huge tonnages over long distances at extremely low cost per ton-mile).

Mr. McLean started with four old tankers and two hundred boxlike containers. Since then many major shipping companies have revamped operations to include containerized shipping. The Sea-Land Services subsidiary of McLean Industries has already made investments of $350 million toward containerization, and by mid-1969 will add another $70 million. Matson Navigation Company, another early entry, plans to double its $80 million investments in containers exceeding $1 billion.

High Stakes
The foregoing figures indicate the costly nature of containerized freight shipping. Regular containers cost at least $2,000 each, and "reefers" (refrigerated containers) as much as $12,000. Moreover, the new specially designed and fitted container-ships under construction in American yards may cost as much as $23.5 million each... compared with about $10 million for conventional freighters.

Investments must also be made in terminal facilities. Each berthing space at a modern container terminal may require an outlay of some $4.5 million. Because of the vast economies of the transport, however, Babson's considers these initial investments money well spent.

Worldwide Movement
The trend toward containerization is not confined to America. Six foreign shipping lines, representing four European nations are investing $200 million in the Atlantic Container Line, which began operations in the North Atlantic last fall. Nine British shipping lines invested $162 million to form two consortia, which in turn formed a super consortium to exploit the Australian trade. Japan's Ministry of Transport has forecast that by 1970 Japan will spend $300 million on containerization. Also, ports both here and abroad are frantically spending for new facilities to handle containerized freight. Containerized shipping is laying the groundwork for a worldwide land-sea-air transport network. Containerized freight can move by sea, railroad, highway, and air, or by any combination thereof, in the course of a single voyage. Hence the Babson staff expects this infant industry to enjoy good growth as shippers become increasingly convinced of its merits.

tions as well as seeing that this history is attractively displayed and marked for our citizens and visitors."

"The tourist trade stimulated by history-seeking travelers will materially aid the economy of the county," he said.

The RAMPS program, now in its third year, is the cooperative efforts of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, an official State Agency, the County Committees and their private affiliate, the Texas Historical Foundation.

Another legislative session is just around the corner.

Lawmakers are due back in town Tuesday (January 14) for their 61st biennial meeting, and most observers predict it will be a lively session.

Senators and representatives soon will be bickering mightily over the following, and probably hundreds of other less spectacular matters:

Spending and taxation. Nearly everybody is convinced there will be a big tax bill. But one of those who isn't is none other than Gov.-elect Preston Smith. He is hopeful that he won't have to be concerned with a tax program this year. However, there are demands for appropriations increases and school teachers want a $200 million pay raise.

Recommendations of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education, particularly those of district consolidation and tax burden equalization.

Liquor - by - the - drink legislation. What again? This time, apparently, proponents will try the constitutional amendment (let-everybody-vote-on-it) route.

Minimum wage legislation. Constitutional revision.

Increasing workmen's compensation from $35 to $49 a week maximum and broadening coverage to public employees.

Air and water pollution control measures.

Implementing the statewide water plan.

Raising the public welfare spending ceiling.

Incoming governor has indicated he will attach personal priority taxes to these major program areas: education (with emphasis on vocational and technical training), law enforcement, finance, pollution measures and water matters.

NEW BUDGET PLAN DRAWN

Legislative Budget Board has recommended $1.1 billion in general revenue spending for 1970-71—about $77 million more than the bare bones minimum level estimated by Gov. John Connally.

LBB calculated its own modest version of appropriations needs would leave $60.7 million in unexpended general revenue, but that takes into account no new major programs such as implementation of the governor's public school study or teacher pay boosts.

Board decided to order a stop to salary supplements for major college officials from private funds and to recommend the state pay whatever is needed to get top men. This would cost about $308,500 a year.

Under LBB proposals the governor would get a pay raise, too, from $40,000 to $55,000 a year. That would keep him ahead of lesser appointed officials, some of whom actually have been paid more than the chief executive considering their incomes from private sources.

Budget proposal also includes $8.2 million in state office building (to cut down on $1.5 million annual rentals paid by the state to house agencies in Austin) and an $850,000 state records storage center.

APPOINTMENTS

Hawthorne Phillips, formerly of Harlingen, has been named executive assistant attorney general. He succeeds A. J. Carubbi Jr. who joined a Houston law firm.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin also named Pat Cain of Austin to serve as his administrative assistant, replacing W. E.

Wells who will take a Houston finance job.

Martin said Odessa District Judge George Kelton will join his staff as co-chairman of the opinions division.

Robert Owen, former Crockett County attorney, will head the consumer protection division and Phil Warner will be assigned to the attorney general's insurance, banking and securities division.

Governor Connally appointed Paris attorney Henry Braswell judge of the Sixth Judicial District (Lamar and Fannin Counties).

Connally, moving fast to catch up on a backlog of appointments, also announced these selections:

William B. Blakemore II of Midland to Public Safety Commission replacing J. C. Looney of Edinburg.

James L. Luther of Burnet to the Texas Aeronautics Commission.

George Dillman of Dallas, Ed Hunter of Houston, Gene Lehmann of Kerrville and Don Russell of San Marcos to the Texas Tourist Development Agency. Reappointed to the same agency was John McCarty of Dallas.

Judge Peter M. Curry of San Antonio and Judge Raleigh Brown of Abilene, reappointed as presiding judges of the Fourth and Seventh Administrative Judicial Districts.

Paul Fulk of Wolfe City, reappointed to the Texas Aeronautics Commission.

L. P. Sturgeon is the new executive secretary of the Texas State Teachers Association. This former New Boston school superintendent succeeds the late Charles H. Tennyson, longtime head of TSTA, who died last month.

Maj. Gen. Thomas S. Bishop, adjutant general of Texas, has been reappointed a principle member of the Army Reserve Forces Policy Committee.

TECHNICAL TRAINING BOOSTED

House Education Committee has urged at least $30 million outlay during the next biennium for vocational-technical education in Texas.

HEC, which conducted study and 10 hearings, found that 16 vocational schools should be provided in 10 years to furnish 180 such facilities. It said all private technical and business schools ought to be regulated by the Texas Education Agency and that James Connally Technical Institute at Waco should be operated as a separate entity for training scarce vo-tech instructors and counselors.

WATER HYACINTH ERADICATION

A plant hormone called "2-4-

D" will be used in the Texas

Parks & Wildlife Department's campaign in the spring to eradicate water hyacinths in the Nueces, Frio and Atascosa Rivers.

Marion Toole of the P&W Department says that state workers, cooperating with the Galveston office of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, will apply the hormone when the plants are just beginning active growth. No harmful side effects are expected to result from the program, he said, since "2-4-D" is a hormone, not a poison. "We have sprayed Caddo Lake and areas around Houston and Beaumont," he said, "and never had reports of anything injured."

Toole says that the department plans to carry the program to other areas of the state after the South Texas work. He reports that the department has been getting pressure from Louisiana about the problem with the water hyacinth infestation there before Louisiana can get approval for control where the river links Texas and Louisiana.

COURTS SPEAK

Texas Supreme Court threw out orders of a Shelby County court which attempted to invalidate Department of Public Safety drivers' license suspensions of 83 who did not live in the county.

High court exonerated two Victoria doctors sued by a woman who broke her hip in a fall from a hospital bed after electric shock treatments.

Thirty-two death penalty cases were pending as of the end of the last fiscal year says the Board of Pardons and Pardon in its annual report.

INAUGURATION

During the pre-session full, secretaries and other workers in the Legislature are busy addressing invitations from Governor-elect Smith and Lt. Governor-elect Ben Barnes to the January 21 inauguration festivities.

Smith's inauguration promises to be the most public of any such event since Austin became the capital of Texas. He wants everybody to come help him celebrate his assuming the chief executive's office.

Five of the six inaugural balls scheduled will be free. The formal ball in Austin's Municipal Auditorium, featuring Henry King and His Orchestra, will be the only one for which admission will be charged.

But the "free" balls sound like more fun. Television Star Jimmy Dean, a native of Plainview, Texas, will entertain at each of them. And other famous Texans — Glen Campbell, Buck Owen, Ray Price, Charlie Pride and the Casino Brass — will play for dancing.

GUARD UNITS PRAISED

Texas' Army National Guard is at the "highest state of efficiency and readiness ever achieved." Fourth Army spokesmen commented.

Annual general inspections of 121 units reflected that more guard units were rated "superior" than last year, despite massive reorganization. Twenty-one units received distinction in Fourth Army judging.

SHORT SNORTS

All statewide elective officials (except the governor and lieutenant governor) who serve two-year terms began new terms on January 1.

More got out than in state prisons last year. A total of 5,485 inmates were released (1,921 through parole) while 4,736 were admitted.

Forty-one applications for permits to sell $29 million in securities in Texas were filed during the last two weeks with the State Securities Board.

Application has been filed for West End State Bank, Westgate City, Beaumont, with the State Banking Board. Board also heard bitter political charges in hearing on application for a new state bank at Hurst.

IN APPRECIATION

Nancy, Steve and his family join me in appreciation to all those who contributed to my comfort with flowers, cards, visits and gifts during my stay in the hospital and while recovering at my home. We'll always hope we can do something for you. —Jno W. Norman. 1tc.

LOVE IN A LIFEBOAT — James Garner and Debbie Reynolds try to find private married bliss at sea in the only sanctuary left to them aboard a student ship in "HOW SWEET IT IS!"

★ MOVIES ★

"How Sweet It Is!"

It used to be that kids dreamed of joining up with a circus. Now they'll want to join up with a motion picture company. National General may bring that about once the story of its "How Sweet It Is!" film locationing get out.

The love-generation comedy shows Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre.

For the first time in motion picture history a production company filmed aboard a cruise liner at sea during a regularly scheduled run. The specifics of the situation were that 90 members of the cast and crew of "How Sweet It Is!" (18 of them teenagers) worked before the cameras between Los Angeles and Acapulco on the 24,294 ton Holland-American S. S. Statendam.

Miss Reynolds spent most of her time between shots sunbathing and writing postcards to her friends back in the States. James Garner, with a tinge of Oklahoma in his voice, got repeated laughs from the ship's passengers by saying to director Jerry Paris: "I came here to work!" Paris would call him into a shot, the cameras would roll and Garner would walk out of the scene muttering, "You mean to say my agent's getting ten percent of THAT? Next thing you know he'll be wanting ten percent of my vacations!"

Rev. I. Lopez Died Saturday, Funeral Monday

The Rev. Isidoro M. Lopez, 91, retired minister who helped establish the Mexican Mission Baptist Church in Winters in the early 1940's, died at 6:50 p. m. Saturday in Merrill Nursing Home after several months' illness.

Funeral was held at 10:30 a. m. Monday in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Ynez Aleman, pastor of the Mexican Mission Baptist Church, and the Rev. Enefano Salazar of Lubbock, officiating. Burial was in Northview Cemetery under direction of Spill Funeral Home.

After the revolution he moved to San Marcos, Tex., where he married Tamasa Caso in 1909. She died in 1907. In 1921 he came to Winters from Las Mores.

Surviving are a daughter, Miss Maria Lopez of Laredo, Mexico; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ophelia Lopez of Winters; a brother, Andres of San Antonio; eight grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

WASHINGTON

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman
17th District

This first weekly release follows the opening of the 91st Congress on Friday of last week. Once again, please be reminded that this is not intended to be a "professional effort." Rather, it is meant to convey and reflect an attitude in Washington and to elicit reactions. It is hoped, of course, it will be of interest to readers. Any response, including opinions whether in agreement or otherwise, will be welcomed and respected. Anyone wishing to receive a personal copy of this weekly release may write me: Omar Burleson, Member of Congress, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515.

It is natural that speculation be high as to how the new Administration and the new Congress will go about its business. Doubtless, President-elect Nixon is being pulled by numerous crosscurrents to take the left of center, the right of center and the center itself, whatever that is.

Since the days of former President Roosevelt's "New Deal," all Administrations have sloganized their programs for the future in inspiring terms. "New Deal," "Fair Deal," "The Team for Peace and Prosperity," "The New Frontier" and, more recently, "The Great Society." Developed in the recent Presidential campaign was Mr. Nixon's "Bring Us Together" and "Forward Together." Whether this will continue to identify his Administration remains to be seen.

From all indications, the new Administration will be low-keyed insofar as innovations are concerned, with nothing glamorous or sensational planned for the immediate future. Presumably, efforts will be made to appraise our Country's present situation and to gear actions accordingly. This appears to be wise and is obviously needed.

The Dodo bird is supposed to fly backwards, interested only in where he has been and not caring where he is going—dumb bird they say.

On the other hand, he may be at least half right.

How can we really tell which way we are headed and what lies in front if we ignore conditions created by where we have been. We need to look to our failures and admit them. Politically, we are inclined to look at success and be blinded to all else.

Not all the past is like water over the dam. Problems created by where we have been do not dissolve and flow away, never to be recognized again. Certainly, we have got to have the forward look—the vision about which George Washington spoke. At the same time, unless we look back to profit from mistakes, and failures, chances are the same mistakes and failures will repeat themselves with greater thrust. Emerson once wrote, "We should have reached a maturity to prove that we are capable of listening not only to what the hours tell us but what the centuries whisper." It would seem that this could be pointed in both directions—for what the centuries have taught us and our responsibility to decades ahead.

It appears that fiscal affairs will hold the center of the stage in this 91st Congress. There is encouragement to be taken from the appearance of deep concern on the part of many Members of Congress for our economic well being. It is assumed that the new Administration shares this concern and will inaugurate the greater possible efforts to put our financial house in order. We must start from one simple conclusion—that we can not forever continue to spend money we do not have for purposes of doubtful worth, and that one day there must be a reckoning.
