The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

The phrase "no man's land" occurred first in 1320 in the chronicles of Edward I and Edward II, referring to a strip of land between opposing forces during a war.

Citizens of Oklahoma think of the phrase as having particular application to their state.

Before 1850, what is now the panhandle of Oklahoma was a part of Texas, a state where most of the people were slaveholders. At that time, no new slave state could be admitted to the Union north of 36° 30' latitude. To comply with the law, Texas surrendered all of its land north of this line. Four years later, the 37° north latitude was designated as the boundary of Kansas, leaving a narrow strip bounded on the east by the Cherokee outlet and on the west by New Mexico.

Nearly 34½ miles wide and 168 miles long, "No Man's Land" became a haven for outlaws, squatters and ambitious ranchers.

In 1877, the "101 Ranch" was established near the present town of Kenton, Okla. It was 1890 before "No Man's Land" was organized as a part of Oklahoma Territory, and opened to settlement.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

Pampered Pets

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass. When considering grown industries, most investors turn to computers, oceanography, electronics, pollution control, hospital supplies, etc. However, there are other less glamorous areas where past performance and future potential compare favorably with some of the so-called "hot" industries. One is the pet business, which has a strong growth rate and shows no sign of dwindling.

Doggie Dinners

All segments of the business—the sale of pets, medicinal aids, garments, also accessories, and toys—are doing very well. One of the largest and fastest-growing is pet foods, which account for 40 percent — 45 percent of total industry sales. This year sales are likely to reach $1 billion; dog and cat food sales alone have increased 48 percent since 1965. Because of the rapid rise in demand for pet foods, many nationally known food companies have been attracted to the business. Among them are General Foods, National Biscuit, Quaker Oats, Ralston Purina, Armour, Borden, Carnation, and John Morrell. We are currently recommending purchase of National Biscuit and Borden.

Multiplying Markets

The market for dog and cat food is expanding at least twice as fast as that for the average grocery store product. Volume has been growing like wildfire at a compound annual rate of 14 percent since 1965. Most pet foods are sold in supermarkets where the competition for shelf space is very severe. Furthermore, extensive advertising must be maintained if a particular brand is to remain in consumer favor. Lorillard and Liggett & Myers both entered this field, not only because of the benefits derived from diversification but also because the same advertising media for both cigarettes and pet foods can be used to reach the same broad spectrum of consumers.

The fastest-growing segment of the pet food business is gourmet specialties. Although it is still small relative to the entire pet food market, the results so far have been very impressive. Apparently when it comes to feeding one's pet, the affluent consumer is not balking at the high prices of such gourmet pet food items as liver pate or beef in burgundy. Owners are tending to treat their canine and feline friends as humans. This humanization aspect could explain why pets are bedecked in such sartorial splendor as expensive poodle coats and gen-studded collars. In fact, there are even specialty shops which carry complete animal wardrobes.

All this growth has interested many acquisition-minded companies — particularly the dog food business, which comprises the lion's share of the industry. The companies which appear attractive are promoting in a regional area commanding a large share of the market through a favorable price or a local flavor. It is no surprise at all that many large corporations are moving aggressively into this rapidly growing business. Although many national food and tobacco firms have gone into pet foods, the market also supports nearly 2,000 companies, many of which are tempting to the corporate investor.

K-9 Health Care

Any pet owner who has had to take his pet to a veterinarian for one thing or another knows that it can be a very expensive proposition. Shots and medicines of various kinds are all included in the broadening business of pets. This means a great deal of added business to the many drug firms that are firmly entrenched in animal health care. It has become a big and fast-growing area.

Just about anyone who is anyone in the drug industry has interests in the business of animal health. For the most part, of course, veterinary items are only a small but promising portion of the overall business of veterinary product sales, but Merck, American Cyanamid, Pfizer, and Norwich are generally recognized as leaders. Other firms are expanding rapidly, however. Currently, we are recommending retention of all of the drug companies mentioned as being involved in animal health. For purchase we favor Merck and G. D. Searle.

Bridal Shower Saturday Honors Zanette Moore

Pre-nuptial courtesies honoring Miss Zanette Moore was a bridal shower given Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Bedford, 411 South Frisco.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames H. H. McCreight, W. G. Bedford, Hudson White, Sam Cooke, Wilma Davis, Wayne Bedford, C. F. Mostad, F. F. Hamilton, and Marvin Bedford.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. Marvin Bedford, the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Ellis Zane Moore, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Jack Hammood.

The tea table, laid with white linen, was centered with an orchid and white arrangement of violets and larkspur nestled in puffs of tulle. A lovely plant of orchid mums gave emphasis to the bride's chosen colors.

Mrs. Sam Cooke presided at the tea table and ladeled punch. She was assisted by Mrs. Wayne Bedford in serving the tea plate of assorted cookies, nuts and mints.

Mrs. McCreight and Kei Bedford showed the gifts which were on display.

Approximately fifty guests registered in the bride's book.

Austin, Tex.—Texas lawmakers are nearing the halfway mark of the 61st legislative session and the pace is beginning to quicken visibly.

More than 1,200 House bills and some 700 Senate bills (plus nearly 100 proposed constitutional amendments) were filed by Friday, the deadline for free introduction of bills. A four-fifths majority now is required.

Although floor sessions are brief, a lot of legislation is getting passed—63 bills last week alone, including some of the session's major business.

And the lights burn bright at the state capitol after midnight for some committees which schedule hearings on as many as a dozen bills at a time. Other committee meetings begin as early as 9 a. m. and last until floor action starts in the House and Senate.

So far, the Senate has reversed its usual form. It is cranking out general bills far faster than the House, where the representatives are pursuing a more-metaphorical, look-'em-over-carefully procedure.

Last week, for example, the Senate banged through 34 bills on its regular calendar, some so fast there was no time allowed for explanation, let alone debate. Across the rotunda, the House passed only 13 measures on major calendars, but representatives reduced the gap considerably by cranking through 16 local bills at a single, hour-long sitting. Gov. Preston Smith signed six more into law.

One thing is sure. As the second lap of an historic legislative session begins, things will get a lot faster and a lot more hectic before early June when adjournment is scheduled.

MAJOR BILLS MOVING
Legislation has completed action on, and handed the governor, a tough new measure providing fines up to $200 and jail terms up to six months for disruptive activity on college campuses. Bill won't take effect until the start of the new school year.

Senate passed key bills to put sharp teeth in air and water pollution controls, requiring breath tests of suspected drunk drivers, require public agencies to give three days notice of their official meetings and provide tougher controls over teenage drinking.

Other Senate bills would authorize payment of up to $5,000 for moving homes and businesses displaced in highway right-of-way condemnation proceedings, remove the $8,400 salary ceiling on which teachers contribute to retirement, establish a temporary Governor's Human Relations Committee, set up a new commission to regulate credit unions and request the U. S. Congress to ease restrictions on cable television.

Both houses have passed their own version of bills to permit schools to teach in a foreign language those students who have difficulty with English in elementary grades, to lower from two years to one year the minimum time between elections to adopt or abolish city sales taxes and to close some public roads on state-owned land held for use of the Texas Department of Corrections.

House approved creation of a new Texas Technological College of Medicine at Lubbock and voted to strike down immunity of government units from lawsuits for damages. Representatives gave strong support to a bill to give the Legislature the right to set Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Columbus Day and Veterans Day holidays on Mondays to conform to the federal holidays.

Another House bill sent to the Senate would permit the state's 14 courts of civil appeals to issue writs of habeas corpus in domestic-relations cases.

Senate has adopted an amended version of a House bill to permit a statewide cooperative network of local libraries. Governor Smith now has the bill.

BILLS RUNNETH OVER
Several education bills have been filed in the last few days. Rep. Guy Floyd of San Antonio wants the Attorney General's office to assist school districts threatened with the loss of Federal Funds.

Rep. David Evans of San Antonio wants the state to contribute as much money to private school students as it does to public school students through the minimum foundation school program.

Rep. Jim Nugent filed a bill to prohibit the Legislature from enacting an individual state income tax.

Rep. Carlos Truan of Corpus Christi has a constitutional amendment to remove the ceiling on welfare payments.

Rep. Neal Solomon of Mount Vernon has a bill to allow the agriculture commissioner to prohibit the sale of any milk not meeting agriculture department standards.

Rep. David Allred of Wichita Falls introduced a one bill package prohibiting racing a car motor, sudden stops or starts, unnecessary horn-blowing, contesting speed, fighting, indecent language, throwing things, loitering or intoxication on shopping center parking lots.

TAX TIME
House Speaker Gus Mutscher has been talking with legislators to see what sort of tax program they will support to pay for the new programs which they may pass. Governor Smith's tax program was introduced by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas. It also puts a $10 "superfine" on all who violate the traffic laws where motion is involved.

COMMITTEE AT WORK
House State Affairs Committee got into the basic philosophies of rural life and business economics while considering a bill by Rep. Neal Solomon of Mt. Vernon. It would require telephone companies to maintain an office in every county seat they serve. Bill was sent to a subcommittee for further study. Rep. Jack Blanton of Carrollton chairs the subcommittee.

Senate State Affairs Committee acted favorably on Sen. Tom Creighton's bill to cut the time period between local elections on the optional City Sales tax from two years to one. It has gone on to the Senate floor.

Also reported favorably by the Senate committee and tentatively approved by the Senate, was creation of a temporary Governor's Committee on Human Relations. It was sponsored by a triumvirate of liberal senators. Sponsors, however, lacked the endorsement of Sen. Joe Bernal of San Antonio—a leading liberal. He introduced a measure calling for a permanent state organization on human relations.

Texas physicians who specialize in organ transplants teamed up to testify for two bills by Rep. Jack Ogg of Houston before a House Public Health Committee. Drs. Denton A. Cooley, Michael Dehakey and Robert Bloodwell spoke for an organ gift act which would allow donors or their next of kin to give parts of the body and another bill that would give the county medical examiner a chance to examine the organs prior to transplantation. Measures were sent to a subcommittee.

Drug bills are plentiful at committee meetings. Senate Jurisprudence Committee delayed for two more weeks Sen. Charles Herring's bill to set a mandatory five-year sentence for anyone over 21 giving narcotics to a minor.

House Public Education Committee to subcommittee Rep. Joe Golman's bill to include drug education in public school curri-

Mrs. Ed Reeves Dies of Possible Polio in Tulsa

Mrs. Ed (Barbara) Reeves, daughter of Mrs. Jewel Wheeler of Winters, died Tuesday March 11, in a hospital at Tulsa, Oklahoma where she had been unconscious for 22 days. She was hospitalized February 15, possibly with polio. She was a teacher at Frederick Douglas Elementary School in Tulsa.

Attending physicians were not sure whether or not she died of polio, but an autopsy report showed it was a viral encephalitis of which there are many types.

Funeral services were held March 13, and burial was in Roselawn Cemetery in Denton at 2 p. m., with the Rev. William Sanders, pastor of Brookside Baptist Church of Tulsa, officiating.

Barbara Wheelless Reeves was born in Winters and attended the local schools graduating from Winters High School with the class of 1950. She received her B. A. degree and her Masters at North Texas University in Denton. She taught one year in the Dallas School system and 4 years at Blackburn Elementary school at Independence, Missouri during the time her husband was in medical school. Her husband is now an intern at Oklahoma Oesterpathic Hospital.

Other survivors are two daughters, Pamela, 12, Sally, 2, and two sons David, 10 and John 19; her mother, Mrs. Jewel Wheelless, a teacher in the Winters School system and a sister, Mrs. Kay Lee of Ontario, Calif.

Senators Jurisprudence Committee approved a bill requiring appeals from Liquor Control Board orders to be heard in the county affected.

Happiness is a way station between too little and too much.

Inadequate Wiring Should be corrected—

Inadequate wiring on many farms causes voltage drops of 10 percent or more. Such drops, explains W. S. Allen, Extension agricultural engineer, means a decrease in light output from lamps of 30 percent; a decrease in the power of a motor of about 20 percent and similar drops for other electrical equipment, he says. The solution to the problem, he says, is a modernization of the wiring system.

WASHINGTON

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman
17th District

Washington, D. C. — The Social Security Act was amended in July, 1965, establishing the Medicare Program which, among other things, provides eligible individuals at age 65 or over with basic protection against the costs of services provided by hospitals which meet certain conditions of participation.

To be eligible to participate in Medicare, a hospital must meet certain conditions relating to patient health and safety.

Among requirements established by law are: A hospital (1) provide 24-hour nursing services, rendered or supervised by a registered nurse and have a licensed practical nurse or registered professional nurse on duty at all times and (2) have in effect what is called a hospital utilization review plan to see that prescribed conditions be continuously met.

Conditions established by the secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare for safeguarding the health and safety of beneficiaries require, among other things, that a hospital (1) have proper facilities for handling contaminated linens, the incineration of infectious wastes and for storing and safeguarding drugs and (2) eliminate fire hazards and maintain clean and orderly work areas in the food department and, if surgery is offered, have a properly equipped room free from hazards of explosions.

These are major requirements of a long list a hospital must provide to be eligible to serve Medicare patients.

A section of the Medicare provisions authorizes the Health, Education, and Welfare Secretary to enter into agreements with State agencies to make inspections of hospitals and certify that the services and facilities of a hospital do or do not substantially meet the required conditions.

In November, 1965, the Federal Bureau of Health Insurance agreed with the Texas State Department of Health for the State to carry out the necessary inspections and qualifications of hospitals.

By April 30, 1968, 6,847 hospitals Nation-Wide had qualified to participate in the Medicare Program. In Texas 530 hospitals had been certified. Of this total number in the United States, about 600 were awarded a special "limited access" certification. Of this total about 230 were located in Texas. A number of these are now facing serious difficulties in trying to meet the requirements. For instance, those buildings with wooden floors, with doors 30 inches wide and narrow hallways, can do little about it. Rural areas are in most in-

MR. AND MRS. HOWARD LESLIE SHRADER

Lela Mae Wright, Howard Leslie Shrader Married March 10 At Hico

Lela Mae Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Wright of Hico, and Howard Leslie Shrader were united in marriage at 8 p. m. Monday evening March 10, in the First Baptist Church in Hico, with the Rev. R. E. Tatum, officiating.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Wright of Hico, former resident of Winters, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Shrader of Hico. The altar was decorated with baskets of blue and white carnations and greenery. In the background were candelabra entwined with fern and holding tall white tapers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional wedding dress of the family, made of chantilly lace over white satin, and fashioned with an empire bodice and long sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil of lace fell from a satin bow. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations surrounding a white orchid.

Miss Jean Ann Wolfe was maid of honor. She was attired in a blue satin brocade dress styled in princess lines, and carried a nosegay of white carnations and blue melaine with white ribbon streamers. Dennis Polk served as best man. Candelighters were Glenn Wright, brother of the bride, and Tony Mayfield, Tommy Pierce, cousin of the bride, and Alan Ross were ushers. Mrs. Boyd McClure was organist, and Miss Debbie Wright, sister of the bride, was at the guest register.

The bride is a student in Hico High School, and the groom also attended the local school, but stances hardest hit. Even if available, older people are less inclined to want hospital care away from their home town but smaller towns are less able to support a hospital meeting specifications.

The second annual report to Congress on the Medicare Program has not yet been printed but one part of it will say: "The State agencies have reported that those hospitals which received special access certification, have in general made progress toward correction of original deficiencies. The nationwide shortage of registered nurses, however, is especially acute in those rural and isolated areas where no access facilities are located and has remained the single and significant obstacle for these hospitals to overcome despite their continuing recruitment efforts." The report will also say that hospitals with the limited approval have made many corrections of physical plant deficiencies.

These problems being encountered by many of our older and smaller hospitals in Texas are spread over about all parts of the State except the larger cities. In many instances no other hospital services are available and even if there were, they are usually filled and their facilities strained. Doctors and nurses are not available even if facilities were adequate. The Social Security Administration is under criticism from some other Federal Agencies involved for not having disqualified some hospitals completely before this time but the Social Security Administration, seemingly, is trying to be as lenient as possible under the law to give every hospital as much time as possible to correct deficiencies to the qualifying point.

NOTE: Those born on or before October 1, 1901, and have thus far not enrolled in the medical insurance part of Medicare are reminded that this coming March 31st is the last possible date for them to qualify. The premium rate will vary from $4.40 to $4.80 for enrollees coming in at this time. Those nearing age 65 should look into the "pros" and "cons" of the program and make their decision in the three-month period before reaching age 65 for maximum coverage.

The March 31, 1969 date is also the last opportunity for those to enroll who may have dropped their coverage in 1965.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

A new agricultural industry has been started in East Texas among the tall pines. This time it is not timber cutting, but catfish production.

For the last several years attempts have been made to produce "cultured catfish" but usually they were on the part of an individual with insufficient capital, or some landowner who just wanted to experiment. Now it is a different story.

More than 150 East Texas farmers have entered into a cooperative program which will supplement cotton, grain and rice income. They have formed the Tri-County Catfish Co-op, for Jasper, Tyler and Newton counties. They have already prepared a feasibility study. Through the Deep East Texas Development Assn., they are asking for federal assistance in getting a successful program under way.

Recently one of the original groups harvested more than 5000 catfish from a lake 50 feet wide and 900 feet long. Those that weighed more than 1 1/4 pounds were marketed and the smaller fish distributed to other lakes. There are 21 lakes already on the Stringer farm near Kirbyville.

These catfish sell for around 60 cents per pound liveweight, which puts them on a more profitable basis than poultry. Men behind the East Texas movement feel they now have a project that will surpass the gigantic East Texas broiler industry. Planting stock is produced at around 5 cents each for fingerling size. Every care is taken to produce quality channel cats. Any runts or mud cats are tossed aside.

Through the cooperative effort a processing plant will be built to provide for the proper care of the fish before reaching the market. This also will make it possible for ready markets to be established in larger metropolitan centers.

These men also are working with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the Farmer's Cooperative Service of Washington. Another effort is made to produce a fish that will not have the usual "fishy" smell. This the housewives will greatly appreciate.

So, the famous catfish and hush puppy dinners soon may become as popular as fried chicken or broilers, thanks to the men in this cooperative East Texas movement. And who knows, some of the ponds may be opened to pole and line fishermen, who can catch their own fish as they desire.

As the program develops in East Texas, like the broiler industry, it probably will spread to other parts of the state. Senator Charles Wilson of Lufkin is president of the East Texas Economic Development District, which is promoting the program.

Mrs. McWilliams Hosted Meeting of Mary Martha Circle

Mrs. August McWilliams was hostess Tuesday morning for the regular weekly meeting of the Mary Martha Circle of the First United Methodist Church WSCS. The Circle chairman, Mrs. H. O. Abbott, presided for the meeting and gave the opening prayer. The devotional, taken from the scriptures, I John 4:7-21 and I Cor. 13:12-13 verses, was given by Mrs. D. A. Dobbins.

Mrs. Glenn Bowman led the program on "Brazil." Others taking part on the program were Mesdames J. P. Dry, W. W. Parramore, W. T. Stanley, Thad Traylor, Gattis Neely and W. F. Lange.

The closing prayer was given by Mrs. Gattis Neely. Others present were Meses. E. L. Crockett and Vada Baptist.

RETURNED HOME

Mrs. W. J. Yates returned home Friday from a visit in Tulsa, Okla., with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Stehle and Jeanie and in Arlington with Mr. and Mrs. John Sowers and daughter, Johnita. She was accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Sowers and Johnita who visited in Winters over the week end.

★ MOVIES ★

"CHARRO!"

Elvis Presley rarely gets a chance for a dramatic, action-packed role in a film and in which he is not required to sing a note. He was recently given this opportunity as the star of a new, exciting western thriller.

The movie, in color, from National General Pictures is titled "Charro!" and it shows at the State Theatre on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

Elvis doesn't sing a note. Although music is his first love, the star had long indicated to friends he would like to try another picture without vocalizing. But in typical Presley style, he generally figured, "The studios know best."

"Charro!" Spanish for proud cowboy, is a rough and rugged classic western tale set in 1870 Arizona. Presley portrays a gun-man gone-straight, only to be dragged back into the outlaw world. The plot revolves around his effort to prove his innocence and preserve his new values, while trying to save a frightened town from disaster. Certainly different than his usual movie predicaments!

Elvis Presley readies rope to capture a wild horse in "Charro!" a National General Pictures release in color in which he plays a "sometimes" sheriff trying to save a frightened town from disaster. It was produced and directed by Charles Mesquiss Warren and co-stars Ina Balin.

H. D. Agent's Column

Line-Drying Dripless DP Cottons:

A new chemical finishing process may take the "drip" out of drying durable press garments on the clothes line, reports Mrs. O'Connor. The "mild-cure process" gives cotton fabrics the capacity to dry smoothly when hung on a line while damp, after the spin dry cycle on the washing machine. Usually they must be hung while dripping wet after the rinse cycle.

Wrinkles can be prevented in durable press garments by drying them in a dryer, if they are removed immediately after the drying cycle stops or if the dryer has a cool down cycle.

The process is named for the relatively low heating, or curing, temperatures employed, says Mrs. O'Connor.

Treatment involves first wetting the fabric with a chemical solution, then heating the wet fabric to 212 degrees F., for two minutes to cause a reaction between the chemicals and the cotton. Curing temperatures in conventional processes may range up to 325 degrees F.

In the last step, the treated fabric is washed and dried. Lower temperatures can be used, but the reaction time is increased proportionately, she reports. The low temperature reaction improves what the chemists call "wet wrinkle recovery."

The process has been carried out only in batch-sized steps on laboratory and semi-pilot plant scale, but chemists believe it can be carried out on a continuous basis.

Along with the ability to line dry smoothly from a damp-dry state, the treated fabric has all the good properties of cotton treated by conventional processes.

Durable creases have been put into fabric finished by the process, but only on a very limited scale. Chemists at an Agricultural Research Service laboratory in New Orleans, La., say that further research is needed to determine the best combination of processing condition on a variety of fabrics before the process is ready for commercial application.

Warm Weather Clothing:

Women consider color, style and fit when buying warm weather clothing. They also look for comfort and ease of care for summer dresses, according to Mrs. O'Connor. For between season dresses women consumers consider weight, multi-seasonal use and versatility. When buying warm weather suits and skirts, wrinkle resistance, shape retention and coolness are important.

Women reported several main problems in clothing shopping: they were proper fit at waist and hips and proper length—reports from a recent survey. About 75 percent of the 2909 women questioned nationwide said they usually checked fiber content of a garment. 15 percent said they never did.

First Workshop On Soil and Water Salinity—

A major purpose of the July 16-18 workshop at Texas A&M University is to discuss and set guidelines for recommendations for soil and water salinity standards, says Dr. Curtis Godfrey of A&M's Soil and Crop Sciences Department. About 50 leaders in soil and water conservation from California, Colorado, New Mexico and Texas are expected to attend.

YOUR REPRESENTATIVE IN AUSTIN

By REPRESENTATIVE LYNN NABERS

Public hearings were heard this week in the State Affairs Committee on House Bill 116. This bill is referred to as the Teacher's Continuing Contract Bill. Another version of this bill was passed last session but an Attorney General's opinion has since ruled that it was not compulsory for all school districts. This new bill would make it compulsory that all school districts would be required to allow teachers to have continuing contracts. It defines certain terms and provisions that would allow teacher dismissal. For example, a teacher could be dismissed by a school board for immorality, inefficiency, neglect of duties, physical or mental incapacity, or the necessary deduction of personnel. The bill is now being considered by a sub committee.

Public hearings were also held on House Bill 86. This bill provides that no person may conduct or advertise a guessing, puzzle, or matching contest in connection with the sale of goods or anything of value if the purchaser is offered a sum of money or prize or a chance to win either by drawing, chance, matching, or guessing. Conviction under this proposed law would provide not less than $25 or more than $500 penalty. Evidence presented in favor of this bill showed that the unsuspecting public was the real loser. It was shown that in most cases such contests are unfair, the chances of winning very remote, and the prices of the products are increased to compensate for publicity. It was stressed that this area of marketing is a fertile area for organized crime because of the laxness of governmental regulation.

Friday saw the end of free introduction of bills of a state wide nature. Local bills, however, may still be introduced. A local bill is defined as one that pertains to only one county. There have been approximately 1200 bills introduced in the House at the present time and it is expected that not too many more local bills will be introduced.

As we get further into the session the pace picks up steadily. Thursday the House of Representatives convened at 9 a. m., worked straight through lunch, and finally adjourned at 2:30 that afternoon, leaving legislators just enough time to rush to afternoon committee meetings. From afternoon sessions one finally got a minute to grab a sandwich and return for the evening Committee meetings which lasted until near midnight.

Social Security News

Residents of the Winters area who are receiving monthly social security checks are reminded by Ted F. Moellering, social security manager in San Angelo, to report directly to the San Angelo office any change of address or other events affecting continued receipt of their checks. Reports may be made by mail, phone, or in person. Appropriate report forms are available at the San Angelo office.

Mr. Moellering said this reporting method enables the district office to take advantage of the increased capacity of its high speed communications circuits to transmit information to record centers. Until recently, social security beneficiaries were encouraged to notify the Social Security Administration about the occurrence of these events by mailing pre-addressed postcard forms to a record center.

Events that affect receipt of monthly social security checks, in addition to changes of address, are starting or stopping work (employment), marriage or remarriage in some instances, divorce, and death.

For further information, contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area.

Guidings suggested for profitable Swine Production—Litter size at weaning time, 200 pound hogs at 154 days of age, and producing the kind of meat demanded by today's consumers are considerations, if met, which can make swine production in Texas profitable, says Donald Hudman, Extension swine specialist. Litters should average from 7 to 9 pigs at weaning time and the 300 pound market hog should be produced with no more than 375 pounds of feed per 100 pounds of gain, he says. About 90 percent of the state's market hogs should grade "Number One."

All men's gains are the fruit of venturing.

Home Town Talk--

Listening audiences in any area are split so many ways that notice on any one station at a given time would reach very few people. Cost of using ALL broadcast media to assure full coverage would be prohibitive and any other approach leaves a coverage gap. Then we would have to make a recording of the broadcast to later translate to print before we could be sure of anything.

Just suppose the information that this bill was being proposed was broadcast only, and your radio happened to be off at the time of the broadcast. It could be passed and you'd never know about it until perhaps some day when you were hauled into court to answer for something you'd never heard about in the first place.

Legislators depend on graphic transcriptions—on paper. They don't sit huddled over a radio all the time to see if you are going to broadcast your opinions to them.

New FM Road In South of County

The Texas Highway Department has announced a construction project on FM Highway 3115, a new farm to market road to be constructed from State Highway 158, 2.0 miles east of Maverick, southwest to FM 2333.

The construction will consist of a new bridge across the Colorado River, and grading, structures, base and surfacing of 6.0 miles of farm to market road.

The Texas Highway Department and the contractor, Allan Construction Company, Inc., of San Antonio, stated that construction began March 12 and will be completed by October, 1969.

W. B. Hoppe, senior resident engineer, in charge of construction on this project, stated that traffic will be routed through construction. There will be barricades and warning signs prominently displayed, but the motorist should be extremely cautious when passing through the area as it will be heavily traveled by large construction equipment. Cooperation of the public is requested in obeying all traffic signals and warning signs.

76'ers Leading In Junior League Basketball Play

After three full weeks of play in the Winters Junior League the 76'ers emerged as the un-contested leader for the first time. In Friday night's game the tall 76'ers bumped the win-less Celtics 21-16 and then nipped the Hawks 33-26 on Saturday. Meanwhile the Bullets, who had trouble winning in the early going, suddenly turned tiger with the addition of Wingate's Allen Owens, humbled the league leading Hawks 28-15 on Friday and then in Saturday's game knocked off the Lakers who had shared the lead with the Hawks and the 76'ers last week, 23-17.

In the other Friday game the Knicks lost another close one to the Lakers 26-24. Saturday the Knicks beat the Celtics by 24-14.

In the individual scoring race the Knicks' Albert Black fell well off his season's pace but still managed to score 17 points in two games. Other leading scorers in this week's play include Jerry Mack of the Lakers with 21 points in two games; Mike Fowler of the Knicks with 19 points which includes the single game high of 15 against the Celtics; Glen Owens of the Celtics, 16; Stanley Tatom of the Hawks, Joe Ray De La Cruz of the 76'ers, and Allen Owens and Jim West of the Bullets who scored 15 points each.

Season standings:

Vehicle Check Deadline Less Than Month Away

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has reminded motorists that less than one month remains before the 1969 motor vehicle inspection deadline.

To date, an estimated 2.8 million vehicles have received the inspection required by state law. The Department of Public Safety said some 3.2 million additional vehicles inspected so far required mechanical adjustments prior to issuance of an inspection sticker. The defect found most often has been mis-alignment of headlights.

The Department of Public Safety urged motorists to get the inspection soon to avoid long lines which will develop at inspection stations as the April 15 deadline approaches.

Texas has 5,466 licensed inspection stations. The required inspection fee is $1.75.

It is part of the cure to wish to be cured.
