Freshman, Eighth Graders Win Junior Blizzard Relays Held Here Saturday

Track teams from nine area schools came to Winters Saturday morning with hopes of winning the second annual Junior Blizzard Relays, but a surprise was awaiting them.

The weather was typical—cold and windy—and set the stage for a Blizzard upset over pre-meet favorites, Coleman, Haskell and Albany.

The young Blizzards completely dominated the meet, with the Freshmen winning their division with 106 points, and the 8th Graders winning with 104 1-3 points.

For the Freshmen, Jimmy Sims was the leading point maker for the meet with a first place in the broadjump, high jump, 330-yard dash, and a second place ribbon in the 220 dash.

Sims leaped 18-5 in the broadjump which was two feet farther than he had ever jumped. This was also a new record for the Relays.

William Russell also bagged a blue ribbon with a first-place in the 660.

Fred Ortegon won a blue ribbon first in the 1320.

In the hurdles, Steve Tatom outran the big boys to win first in the 70-yard high hurdles. He also won fourth in the 120 intermediate hurdles.

Other Freshman ribbon-snatchers were David Carter, second in the pole vault; Keith Paschal, third in broadjump and fourth in the 100, plus a third place in discuss; David Grohman, third in the 1320 run; and the relay team, sixth in the 1320 relay.

8TH GRADERS In the 8th Grade Division, Winters ran away with everything, totaling 104 1-3 points, considerably ahead of the runner-up, Coleman, with 75.

In the 70-yard high hurdle event, 8th Grader Jerry Mack hit 11-0, for the first place ribbon. Scott King, also of Winters, was second, while Johnny Martinez was fourth.

Jerry Mack came back in the 100-yard dash event, at 11.3, to win first place.

In the 220-yard dash, Choate of Winters was a second place winner, at 41.1.

Jerry Mack entered the 120 intermediate hurdle event, and won first place blue ribbon there, with 16.4. Johnny Martinez, also of Winters, was second, and Scott King was fifth. Winters' 8th graders were fourth in the 1320 relays.

Martinez capped fifth place in the broadjump event, and King placed fourth in the high jump event.

On the field, Carlos Melendez of Winters got 41-8 in the shot put contest, for the first place ribbon, and Ricky Mathis was second in the discuss event. Melendez was sixth for Winters in that event.

7TH GRADERS The 7th Grade team from Winters was fourth in a field of eight in their division, with 26 points.

Joe De La Cruz was second in the 100-yard dash, and second again in the 220 dash.

The Winters 7th placed 6th in the 440 relay, and dittoed for the 880.

This was a big success for the Winters Freshmen and 8th Graders. Last year as eighth graders, this year's freshmen scored less than 10 points in the meet against the same teams, compared with 106 points this year. Coleman had beaten them two weeks prior by 15 points in another meet. The 8th Graders also gained considerably over last year's results.

SCORES BY GRADE 9th Grade Winters, 106, Haskell 86 1-2, Albany 27, Clyde 71, Coleman 64, Merkel 49, Anson 27 1-2, Ballinger 18.

8th Grade Winters 104 1-3, Coleman 75, Ballinger 56, Clyde 53, Haskell 52 1-2, Merkel 35 1-3, Anson 28 1-3, Anson 28 1-3, Albany 28 5-6, Wingate 5-6.

7th Grade Coleman 87 1-3, Anson 40, Clyde 32, Winters 26, Albany 21 1-3, Haskell 21, Wingate 14, Merkel 6 1-3.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

Explosive Growth For Plastics In Store

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass. The year 1968 will be recorded in the annals of the plastics industry not only for the 100th Anniversary celebration, but for a dramatic turn in the price structure. Production and sales were practically in balance, while prices were firm, or even higher. This was due to a deeper inroad in established sectors and the opening of several new areas. Sales reached 15.1 billion pounds last year. Plastics now exceed production of any metal except iron and steel. They account for about 20 percent of the chemical industry's sales, and are the fastest-growing and largest of the major segments.

The Major Growth Areas
Major and most widely used plastics are the thermoplastics (materials which soften with heat and harden again when cooled). Polyethylene, polyvinyl chloride (PVC), and polystyrene are the big-volume thermoplastics. Of the seven principal markets — (construction, packaging, transportation, electronics, appliances, furniture, and agriculture), the first three represent the greatest potential for growth.

Construction — About 25 percent of plastic materials produced are used in construction. . . for interior walls, partitions, floors, insulation, siding, shutters, translucent panels, and coatings. Because of a less rigid building code, use of plastic pipe is also increasing very rapidly. Currently, some 2 billion pounds of the above polymers are consumed annually. By 1970 some 7 billion pounds, and by 1980 between 10 billion and 12 billion are expected to be consumed yearly.

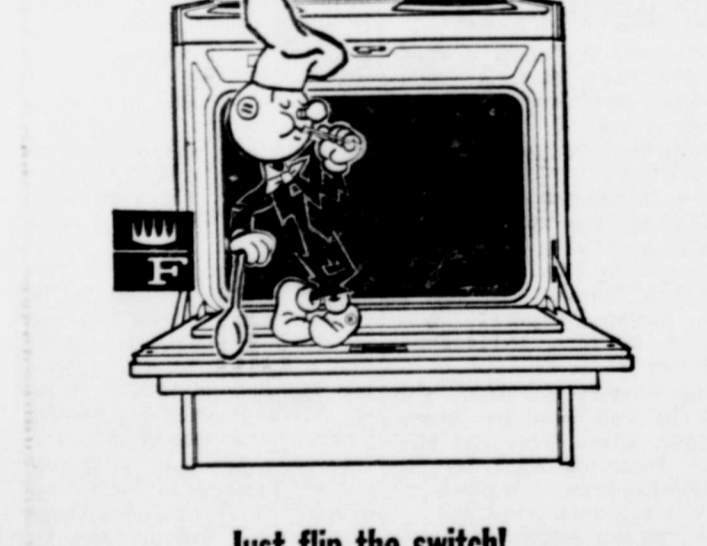

Packaging — This is the second-largest market, with volume at 2.8 billion pounds. Within a year consumption is anticipated at the 4-billion level and double that amount by 1980. One of the sizable applications is in bottles for toiletries and cosmetics. However, once the Food and Drug Administration approves the use of polyvinyl applications, its growth could be dynamic.

Transportation — Industry estimates pinpoint the use of plastics in automobiles alone at 57 pounds per car in 1967. This year 100 pounds is forecast and 300 pounds per car in the 1970's. Some 600 million pounds are expected to be produced this year, and on the order of 3 billion pounds as we enter the 1980's.

Principal Thermoplastics
As the largest-selling plastic, Polyethylene has the greatest growth rate. As a general purpose molding, it has captured the bulk of the packaging market. Sales should reach 5.4 billion pounds in 1970 and 11.2 billion in 1980 — compared with a little over 3 billion in 1965. Polyvinyl Chloride (PVC) is the second largest, saleswise, and the most versatile. Major markets include baby pants, shower curtains, wall covering, and upholstery. However, food packaging has also become a big item for PVC, as well as vinyl home siding. Sales of 3.1 billion pounds and 6.9 billion are forecast for 1970 and 1980 respectively vs. 1.8 billion in 1965. Finally, Polystyrene, a glassy and often brittle plastic used for kitchen items, containers, toys, and wall tiles, has carved out a large niche in large and small home appliances and in the burgeoning applications for furniture — simulated wood grains. Sales of over 3 billion pounds are forecast for 1970 and over 6 billion by 1980.

Conclusion And Recommendation
The production of plastics is not limited solely to chemical companies. A broad spectrum ranging from basic chemical producers to oil, gas, and rubber companies, and including even food and glass firms, is represented. Union Carbide, second largest in the chemical group, is heavily involved in all three of the major thermoplastics. It produces more than 1,000 varieties of seven basic plastic materials catering to practically every industrial and consumer need. Profits in 1967-1968 were under pressure from reduced operating rates, heavy start-up costs, and strikes. However, Babson's Reports believes 1969 could be a turnaround year in both sales and earnings. Hence, we advise purchase of the conservative-grade common for growth and income.

WASHINGTON
"As it looks from here"
OMAR BURLESON
Congressman
17th District

Washington, D. C. — In the opinion of a knowledgeable doctor in San Antonio, approximately 90 percent of the crime in that city can be traced to the use and traffic in narcotics. Expert studies conclude that if the dope trade was halted more than 50 percent of the street crime in this Country would stop.

In spite of all the talk and all the information developed on the subject, comparatively little is being done to cope with the two basic problems involved, namely, the source of supply and rehabilitation of addicts.

The challenge is not limited to the mere arrest and imprisonment of the dope addict or even the retail "pusher." If the use of narcotics increases on the scale which it has in the last 8 years, the time will come when there will not be enough enforcement, enough prisons or rehabilitation centers to accommodate those apprehended and those who seek self treatment.

Not only is the supply of drugs a problem in our own nation but it is international in scope and must be attacked world-wide if to be successful in averting a most serious threat to the future.

A campaign against organized operations of supply has been kicked off with an intensity not heretofore attempted. It is old stuff to cite statistics but dismal facts might tend to wake us up.

This is not a problem confined to one locality. It is becoming one which affects every community and everybody in it. It does no good to simply cite conditions, such as the multi-million dollar business and huge organized crime profits, the agonized enslavement of hundreds of thousands of Americans and the billion dollar appetite that drives the victim to crime but it is a shocker which may be necessary for action.

At the present time the Federal Government spends about $26 million a year trying to stem the flow of heroin, cocaine and morphine, estimated at about twenty tons annually, which pours in to this Country from foreign sources. This sum of $26 million is less than the United States Government spends to enforce tobacco and alcohol regulations. It is the smallest sum in the budget of any major crime control effort. This sum compares to the value of 250 pounds of heroin, an amount which has been confiscated in a single arrest. It is less than 1-10th the profit that organized crime makes out of importing narcotics. It is really an infinitesimal amount compared to what society as a whole pays in losses to petty crime to keep the addicts going.

Our Government has agreements with a number of foreign countries to cooperate in the control of unlawful smuggling but the profits are so high and the organization so efficient that much greater effort has to be made. Only about 10 percent of this stuff is intercepted when coming into our borders.

Our Government's record in rehabilitation is extremely weak. We only spend about $10 million a year on treatment of addicts at facilities located in Lexington, Kentucky, and in Fort Worth. This is less than one-fourth of expenditures of some of the larger States in efforts to reclaim victims of the terrible habit. The Federal Government grants some $4 million a year to State and local Government for treatment programs. Every day the uncured and the unrehabilitated addict steals many more times this amount and often times at the point of a gun.

Whatever is done is too little and too late. The fact remains that with this threat hanging over our Country, mammoth efforts must be made to prevent further serious deterioration. The appalling and sad fact that our youth is threatened beyond anything ever known, deserves a declaration of all out war on this evil. In terms of money, if what is needed is done, it will be costly but not costly in terms of human beings and in fact, not even costly as related to material losses from crime directly associated with the narcotic racket.

If you're not a bass fisherman you soon will be after reading Grits Gresham's excellent book on that subject. He will whet your appetite to try it, then tell you how to do it.

Grits is an outdoor writer and photographer of national prominence. He's a Louisianan who has fished the country over. You've seen his stories and pictures in numerous sports magazines and many, many times in Outdoor Life. Grits is not only an ace photographer but he is also tops as an angler.

So if you want a short-course in how to do it and what to do it with, from one who really knows, get a copy of the "Complete Book of Bass Fishing." Truly a "complete book"—it deals with not only the fabulous black bass but also the ever popular whites and the Kentucky spotted bass. Complete it is. . . with pix of the numerous bass catching lures and how-to-work-them instructions.

It's more than 250 pages tell how to "read the water," locate these evasive critters and take them from the lakes, rivers, ponds and streams. . . day or night.

You'll be thinking like a fish when you finish Grits Gresham's most interesting and informative book on bass fishing. Saw Grits at the National Sports Show in Houston and he happily reported that the bookstores are already sold out. But he hastened to add that he has copies at his home. So, if you are interested—and man you should be—if you don't already have a copy—write Grits Gresham at 942 Williams Avenue, Natchitoches, La. 71457. Include a check for $5.95 and if he's not out fishing somewhere, or taking some of those superb photos you will get a copy of his masterpiece by return mail.

And, you'll thank us for suggesting it, for this informative compilation of valuable tips and illustrations is something you'll read and reread time and time again.

Spring Turkey Eating:
Spring is the time of year when life looks brighter—and foods are in peak supply during the spring months and turkey is one of these foods reported plentiful now.

Once served mostly at Thanksgiving and Christmas, turkey now gets year-round attention. You may want to serve turkey as the focal point of your Easter dinner. Turkey parts are especially good for the outdoor grill—and we're approaching the season when outdoor cooking is in full swing.

Oven-Barbecued Turkey: also is a treat the family will enjoy during the spring months. Place turkey quarters or halves, skin side up, in roasting or broiling pan and add Southern Style Sauce to depth of one-half to one inch. Bake uncovered in slow 325 degree oven. Turn occasionally and baste each time, leaving sauce in rib cages when halves are turned up. As the turkey cooks, sauce will thicken into rich gravy. If sauce becomes too thick, add hot water. Cook 2 to 2 1/2 hours, depending upon size. Turn heat to 450 degrees to brown the last 2 or 3 minutes.

Colorful Corn:
Corn served as money to the ancient Indians who first raised it. Their colorful maize—sometimes blue, black or red—proved currency, as well as fuel, jewelry and, of course, food.

But Indian maize was never as tender and tasty as the golden yellow corn we find on the grocer's shelves today. Neither did the Indians know of the canning and freezing processes we have today—which preserve the delectable fresh-corn flavor the year around.

Stocks of canned corn on January 1 were estimated at 38.2 million cases—44 percent more than last year; first of the year supplies of frozen sweet corn figured to 282 million pounds, breaking all records.

So it's a fine time to include this American staple often in your cooking plans.

YOUR REPRESENTATIVE IN AUSTIN

By REPRESENTATIVE LYNN NABERS

Many people who are concerned about the ever increasing shortage of doctors in the state will be happy to know that the House passed a bill this week to create a new medical school at Houston. In public hearings before the State Affairs Committee it was pointed out that the most economical location for another medical school would be near the Houston Medical Center. Land for the new school was given to the state and with the location in the Houston Medical Center it would not be necessary to build a teaching hospital which is the most expensive part of the creation of medical schools.

A bill was passed to provide for an increase in pay to persons serving on juries in small Claims Courts and in Justice Courts. The increase was from $2 and $3 respectively to a fee of $5 and $6 per day.

Another bill was passed to strengthen our drug and narcotics laws in the state. This specific bill stiffened and increased the penalties for adults who sold or provided drugs to minors.

The House also passed a bill changing the State Bar Act. (This is the law that governs in the legal profession). Under existing law, an attorney who had been convicted of an offense could practice law while his case was on appeal to the Supreme Court. Now, however, under the new law an attorney will immediately lose his right to practice law until he has been acquitted by a higher court.

This past week saw the largest crowd of the year attending public hearings at the Capitol. The hearings had been scheduled

Soil Conservation Results In More Improved Land

Foresight is the best word that we can think of to describe our State Representative and Senators during 1941. It was the 47th Texas Legislature Regular Session of 1941 that passed the Texas Soil and Water Conservation Law. This law provided that landowners in any locality are permitted, not forced, to join together legally in a local soil and water district like the Runnels District.

An often unrecognized benefit of Soil and Water Conservation District work is when the resources on privately owned land are improved and restored, it leads to a better place to live for all of us.

Woodrow Hoffman, District Conservation Service, said few things are as ugly as an eroded field, a creek or river full of muddy water or an overgrazed brush infested pasture. The terraces, contour farming, graded waterways, reseeding of pasture, and brush control and other resource management practices that districts use to overcome these conditions do more than reclaim the land. They create new patterns of land, water and vegetation.

Hoffman said the district is working with over 950 cooperators of the Runnels S&WCD who are responsible for the resources of over one-half of the area of the district to see that they are properly using their grasslands, which includes frequent resting of their pastures and brush control; carrying out a conservation cropping system on their cropland which means they are rotating their crops, managing crop stubble, terracing and farming their land on the contour. The results: More food and cover for wildlife, more fish in the ponds, creeks, lakes and rivers.

Water development and watershed protection and flood control by the people of the district are helping all the people. Hoffman said an example of this is the Valley Creek Watershed Project with 15 of the proposed 20 planned flood control structures nearing completion. Valley Creek has been running good clear water almost continuously for the past four years.

HOT CHAMBERS
The thrust chambers used in the first stage of Project Apollo's Saturn rocket must withstand heat of 5,000 degrees F—half the temperature on the sun's surface. The fuel is used as a coolant by circulating it through tubular thrust chamber walls made of a high-temperature nickel-chromium alloy. This cooling system lowers the thrust chamber walls to a mere 1,000 degrees F.

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

Showdown time is near in the Legislature. That's when the time comes for crucial issues of spending and taxation.

Moving at a billion-dollars-a-minute clip, the Senate whipped through a record $5.8 billion 1970-71 appropriations bill which would require a minimum $63.3 million in new taxes.

Of this $5.8 billion budget, $69.7 million is recommended for support of the State Department of Public Safety, an increase of $10.2 million over the current level of spending by that agency. Difference would pay for the hiring of 150 highway patrolmen, 50 more narcotics agents and 10 additional intelligence agents, as well as $864,638 for an addition to the Homer Garrison Jr. Police Training Academy in Austin.

Despite all its heft, the Senate bill contained no funds for the anticipated $220 million teacher-pay-raise, the contemplated $30 million lift in the welfare ceiling, $16.5 million for two new medical schools, $7.5 million for a new dental school or $6 million for planning new colleges.

Include these high-priority items and you are looking at a tax bill a lot closer to $345 million than $63.3 million.

However, House Speaker Gus Mutscher has called for an appropriations bill which will require no new revenue. It would include money for new medical schools, dental school and college planning.

Major difference in the bills is in the area of higher education, where the Senate would raise general fund appropriations of 22 senior colleges and universities $106.5 million, public junior colleges $19.3 million.

First hearings on major tax bills are getting underway. Hearing on Gov. Preston Smith's supplemental revenue recommendation, to place a one-half of one percent levy on chemical producers and raise the cigarette rate to 15 cents a pack, will be set for mid-April.

House may very well pass its version of the budget next week. It would permit a $240 million increase in general revenue spending without additional taxes. Difference between lean House and fat Senate spending measures must be ironed out in conference committee during the next two months.

Tax battle, which must start in the House, will see-saw back and forth from House to Senate and vice-versa. Senators have some revenue ideas of their own.

LEGISLATURE MOVES ON

Senators stole the spotlight from the House by churning out 53 bills to 38 for their colleagues across the rotunda.

What's more, included on the Senate's things-done list were such monumental accomplishments as passage of constitutional amendments to legalize local option sale of liquor-by-the-drink and to raise the water plan. Senators further approved their $5.8 billion version of the budget and voted for a constitutional amendment to remove the welfare ceiling.

Voting date on the water bond and welfare amendment was set at August 5. Hopefully, several other constitutional amendments, including volunteer fireman's benefits, college student loans, and an increase in the interest rate on constitutional bond funds will be submitted on the same date. To get on the August ballot, measures must be finally passed by the Legislature no later than April 16, due to the 90-day advertising requirements.

House passed bills to establish a University of Texas medical school branch in Houston and authorize state payment of moving expenses to property owners displaced by highway right-of-way buying.

PRIVATE-COLLEGE SUBSIDY

Texas college students who attend private schools will have some relief from the cost of tuition if Rep. Lynn Nabers of Brownwood has his way. He has submitted three bills that would provide assistance to students of private colleges. Each of the three are different plans. HB-451 would equalize the tuition paid by a resident at state and non-state schools. HB 1153 would establish a Tuition Scholarship Program for state students who are attending private schools. HB 1153 would establish a Tuition Scholarship Program for state students attending private schools, and HB 1154 would authorize the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, to pay a private school a given amount of money for every Texas graduate.

TRAFFIC TICKET IMMUNITY SCORED

State Rep. Maurice Angly of Austin has touched some state lawmakers on a very sore spot. He wants them to renounce their immunity from traffic and parking citations in the capital city. Angly said, as an Austin lawmaker, he has participated in the practice of "taking care of" his colleagues' tickets and is ashamed of it. He introduced a resolution asking legislators to go on record as "expressing a desire to be treated without special favor or undue accord."

U.I.L. MAY GO

In the Legislature is a bill to abolish the University Inter-scholastic League, which administers all inter-high-school athletic and literary competition. Proposal by Rep. Burke Musgrove of Breckenridge—would put all UIL functions under the State Board of Education.

Musgrove says his bill is in response to complaints about strict rules, such as those prohibiting gifts to athletes and requiring a year's layoff for athletes after a change of schools.

Another bill, by Rep. Bill Swanson of Houston, would invalidate the UIL rule requiring that year's layoff. Both measures are awaiting hearing in the House Public Education Committee.

COURTS SPEAK

Third Court of Civil Appeals tossed out Fort Worth Sundaco Inc.'s suit to determine the legality of its scheme for evading the state's Sunday closing law. Court said operations, which include "buying stock" of certain stores every Saturday night, have not been challenged yet.

Meanwhile, State Supreme Court heard arguments on the constitutionality of a 1961 closing law. San Antonio discount houses claim the law is vague and indefinite and therefore invalid. Bexar County District Court held the law unconstitutional. State appealed.

High Court declared the state's new polygraph-examiners licensing law is unconstitutional. This due to a defective title which fails to size up the full extent of coverage.

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the death penalty given a Dallas County man for rape of a 74-year-old woman.

CITIES GET SALES TAX REBATE

Nearly 290 Texas cities last week received a whopping $28.2 million in allocations from the state comptroller as their share of the one percent local option municipal tax for the last quarter of 1968.

Totals ranged from $122 for little Josephine to $6.4 million for big Houston. Comptroller reported totals exceeded expectations in nearly all cases.

TAX FACTS UNCORKED

Committee on Public School Education has released its study on school district tax inequalities which admittedly may provoke legal action.

Survey found "inequities are the rule in this state rather than the exception." that 64 percent of state's school districts have an average ratio of assessed value of 20 percent or less. Ratios range from 14 percent on undeveloped land to 41 percent on banks and private homes.

COPSE Chairman Leon Jaworski of Houston said the Committee was reluctant to publish figures since they might lead to embarrassment for many local districts.

Legislators sponsoring COPSE recommendations as bills in House and Senate said that, whether legal action results or not, people "have both a right to know the facts and an obligation to take appropriate action."

COPSE bills, aired before the House Public Education Committee last week, came under heavy shelling from rural school spokesmen and property owners. Particularly repugnant to rural opponents were proposals to slash the number of school districts from 1,218 to 353 and to equalize taxes on strict market value basis.

APPOINTMENTS CONFIRMED

Senate confirmed key appointments of Joe W. Burkett Jr. of Kerrville and Tom Gordon of Abilene to Texas Liquor Control Board and Leslie R. Neal of San Antonio to the Water Rights Commission.

Appointments of Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo and William B. Blakemore II of Midland were passed over.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes named Sen. Jack Strong of Longview chairman of a special investigative committee on the use of narcotics and dangerous drugs by Texas high school and college-age youth.

A G OPINIONS

Governor Smith challenges the validity of last minute appointments to the University of Texas board of regents made in January by former Gov. John Connally.

Smith made it clear that he wasn't objecting to the individuals, he merely questioned the legality of the action.

While Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin mulled that one, he handed down these opinions: Federal reserve banks operating cafeterias are not required to remit sales taxes measured by gross receipts and not actually collected from small purchase customers.

Under SB 184, now before the Legislature, the State Board of Dental Examiners would promulgate rules prescribing services of dental assistants, including cleaning of teeth. Bill to grant Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District No. 3 South of Canadian River power to space irrigation wells is constitutional.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas Department of Welfare is offering foster care in private homes as a new service to elderly people who do not need nursing care, but need some personal services and supervision to assure their safety, comfort and well-being.

Rep. Bill Finck of San Antonio has introduced a bill giving the State Department of Health more control over the quality of the medical staff and care of patients in hospitals.

House Parks and Wildlife Committee heard strong attacks by ranchers and river authorities on a bill by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas, which asked for a study of the idea of preserving stretches of Texas rivers.

A bill by Rep. Temple Dickson of Sweetwater, to strip away some immunity from law-

Ford's New Maverick Will Be Shown By Dale's Ford Sales On April 17

Maverick by Ford challenges the United States imported car market with a $1995 suggested retail price, average gas economy of 22 1-2 miles per gallon, a peppy 105-horsepower engine, easy serviceability and the fun look of the '70s.

John Naughton, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager, said that the 1970 Maverick represents another Ford first, following in the wake of such successful car lines as Mustang, Fairlane, Falcon, Thunderbird and LTD.

The 1970 Maverick, a sporty two-door, four passenger sedan, will be introduced at Ford dealerships throughout the nation on April 17, the fifth anniversary of the Mustang.

Dale Whitecotton, of Dale's Ford Sales in Winters, will introduce the new Maverick here.

In size, Maverick takes an independent stand between the sub-compact imports and the domestic compacts. With a 103-inch wheelbase and 179.4-inch overall length, Maverick is 19 inches longer than its principal foreign competitor. It is nine inches wider and five inches lower than the import and has almost twice the trunk space.

"Never before has the American public been offered so great an automotive value at such low cost," Mr. Naughton said. "Maverick has the things most Americans want in a small car—economy of operation, low purchase price, durability, high quality workmanship and outstanding performance."

"Maverick is designed for years to come. It is proof that a small, inexpensive car can be beautiful. Maverick has virtually all of the advantages of the imported small car and none of the disadvantages," he said.

Its roomy interior provides four-passenger comfort. Maverick is 70.6 inches in overall width—nearly nine inches wider than most imported small cars. Hip room is an ample four and one-half feet in the front compartment and nearly four feet in the rear compartment.

Maverick is easy to drive and park. It has good handling characteristics and a small, 35.6-foot turning diameter—smaller by almost one-half foot than the leading import's turning diameter.

The standard 170-cubic-inch-displacement six-cylinder engine provides 105-h.p. for plenty of "go."

Maverick has a solid 12-month—12,000-mile warranty that transfers with the car, in contrast to some warranties that apply only to the first owner.

And Maverick parts and service will be readily available through the more than 6,000 Ford dealers throughout the United States.

ECONOMY OF OPERATION
As to operating economy, Mavericks equipped with the standard 170-c.i.d. engine and manual transmission averaged 22-1-2 m.p.g. on regular fuel in Ford tests under simulated city-suburban driving conditions.

In addition to good fuel economy, an important aspect of inexpensive operation is ease of maintenance and repair, plus reliability. Easy serviceability was designed and engineered into Maverick from the start.

Such features as external headlamp adjustment, an easily removable instrument cluster pod, drop-out heating and ventilation units and easy access to engine components, allow for quicker, lower cost servicing of the car.

RECEIPT BOOKS: Now at The Enterprise Office.

John Naughton, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager, stands with the 1970 Maverick, Ford's answer to the booming imported economy car market and the division's first all new car since the mighty Mustang. Maverick averages 22 1/2 miles per gallon from its peppy six-cylinder engine.

Senior Citizens Subject To Same Tax Provisions

The medical expenses of taxpayers 65 years of age or older are subject to the same rules that apply to younger taxpayers, Ellis Campbell Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas, has said.

All taxpayers who list medical expenses on their 1968 Federal tax returns may deduct only the total expenses that exceed 3 percent of their adjusted gross income. Medicine and drug expenses exceeding one percent of income should be included in the taxpayers' other medical expenses.

Campbell pointed out that one-half the cost of premiums paid for medical insurance, up to a maximum of $150, may be deducted by all taxpayers who itemize without regard to the three percent limitation. For taxpayers 65 or older, one-half the cost of supplementary medical insurance under Medicare may be deducted under the same tax law provision.

The remaining costs of insurance premiums should be added to the taxpayer's other medical expenses and reduced by three percent of adjusted gross income.

"My Church" Was Theme of WMS Program Tuesday

"My Church, Ministering," was the theme for the Women's Missionary Society program at the First Baptist Church Tuesday morning.

The needs of the mission project at Zapata, directed by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Shores, was also discussed.

Persons of special needs and circumstances within our own church, was presented by Mrs. Loyd Roberson.
