HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

It's been how many days now since there has been any rain to speak of? How many days has the temperature hovered around the 100 degree mark? Makes no difference — we all know it's been hot and dry, and we all know that there's danger in every patch of dry grass and weeds. But we will take chances, won't we?

The fire department's been called out a number of times to extinguish grass and weed fires . . . fires which could easily have gotten out of hand in a hurry and caused a great amount of destruction, and possibly even to have cost some lives.

That's the reason firemen and others are reminding us to be extra careful during these hot and dry days . . . not to light trash fires if we can possibly avoid it, and then only when the surrounding area has been thoroughly soaked to prevent dry grass and weeds from burning; and to always have a good reliable water hose close at hand, and turned on, if we just have to have a trash fire. And to be very careful about where we throw our lighted cigarettes — one cigarette in a patch of dry grass can start something which can be very difficult to stop.

Nearly every time someone mentions the high and rising cost of living, someone else starts comparing present prices with that paid for the same items during what they term the "good old days," when a man earned a dollar a day — if lucky — and reared a family on it.

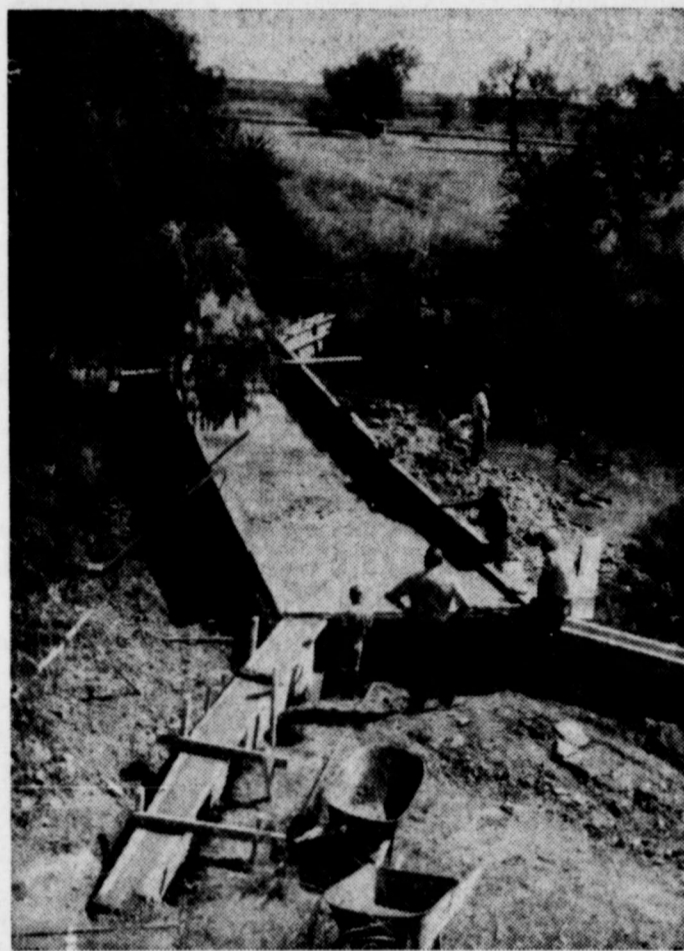

Which reminds us of a little incident which took place back in the beginning days of the Great Depression. In those days every town in West Texas had a couple of three or four more "hamburger joints," one of them had to be the Hamburger King, too. In those days, and in those hamburger heavens, a man could get a hamburger for a nickel; for a dime, he could get a little bigger hamburger. For a dime he could get a small bowl of chili; for fifteen cents, he could get a big bowl of chili.

It so happened that in one of those towns one of those eating places was blessed with what they termed a "steady customer" — for a while. He would come around noon, put down his dime and order a small bowl of chili. Crackers were kept in bowls on the counter, as was the catsup bottle, within easy reach of all chili eaters. This customer developed the habit of eating all his ten-cent bowl of chili, then crumbling up crackers in the empty bowl and dousing with catsup. If the crackers went first, he'd add more crackers; if the crackers got dry, he'd add more catsup. Sometimes — most of the time — he'd finish a whole bottle of catsup and bowl of crackers — all for the dime he'd paid for the small bowl of chili.

"Hamburger King" grew annoyed — as well as broke, trying to keep catsup and crackers on the counter. So he emptied the contents of about three bottles of tabasco hot sauce into an almost-empty catsup bottle. . . . just enough catsup to keep a good body and color. His steady customer came in, paid his dime for his bowl of chili, crumbled up his crackers in the empty chili bowl, and turned the catsup bottle up and soaked the cracker crumbs. He took one bite. . . . he took two bites. . . . then reached for the glass of water "Hamburger King" had thoughtfully failed to put on the counter. He mumbled he jumbled, and jumped. He almost

NEW BRIDGE—This picture of the new bridge crossing Bluff Creek at the Winters Country Club was taken during construction Thursday of last week. Nearest the camera is J. P. Dry, heading the bridge-building committee for the Country Club, and his son, Mike. The new bridge, which is open for traffic this week, is built atop a concrete low-water crossing which had been in use for years. It also replaces a swinging footbridge, which was a few feet downstream, to the right of the picture, which had been demolished by floodwaters. Caliche and rock were bulldozed into the approaches on either end of the bridge. (Staff Photo)

Members, Friends Build Bridge At Country Club

A new concrete bridge, crossing Bluff Creek near the club house at the Winters Country Club, has been built to replace an old low-water crossing and a swinging footbridge. It was opened for traffic this week.

The old footbridge, which had been in disrepair for some time, was swept away during spring flooding of Bluff Creek, and approaches to the low-water crossing were made impassable. These two crossings had been in use for many years, but during periods when the creek was up, it was not possible to cross the creek.

Cost of the new bridge, steel-reinforced structure, is expected to be between $3,000 and $3,500, according to James West, president of the Country Club. It is being financed through contributions from members of the club and business firms of Winters. A campaign is now being conducted to raise the necessary to pay for the bridge. Letters explaining the project, and pointing out the value of the Country Club golf course to the community, have been mailed to all members and to business firms in Winters.

Anyone who wishes to make a contribution to this fund may make checks payable to the Winters Country Club and mail to J. P. Dry, who is heading the committee building the bridge.

The new bridge has been built atop the old concrete low-water crossing, and will make accessible No. 6 green, and No. 7 fairway on the golf course. Another crossing — a swinging bridge, large enough to accommodate golf carts, is located downstream, paralleling No. 8 fairway. This bridge was built about three years ago, to replace another swinging footbridge which had been washed away.

Another project which has been underway at the Country Club is the laying of new and additional water pipe, for watering greens, fairways and trees which were set out in the spring. C. R. Pinkerton, of Winters Welding Works laid the pipe at no cost to the Country Club.

Third Monday C-C Luncheon Next Monday

The Third Monday Chamber of Commerce luncheon, for the membership of the Winters Chamber of Commerce, will be held at 12:45 p. m. next Monday, August 18, Mrs. Emma Marks, manager, has announced.

The luncheon will be held at the Fireside Restaurant, and all members of the Winters Chamber of Commerce are urged to attend. No formal program has been planned, but special committee reports may be made to inform the membership on progress of projects now underway.

Blizzards Begin Practice Monday

The Winters High School Blizzards will begin two-a-day football workouts next Monday, August 18, for a full week, which will be capped by a "Meet the Blizzards" night August 23.

Workouts will be held at 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. daily during the first week, and then regular afternoon sessions will begin on the first week of school.

On "Meet the Blizzards" night, to which the public is invited, the footballers will hold scrimmage sessions; coaches, players and cheerleaders will be introduced; and coaches will give demonstrations of teaching methods used. The scrimmage will be between a "Blue" team and a "White" team. No admission will be charged.

Also scheduled to open the 1969 football season are two scrimmage sessions with other schools. The Blizzards will travel to Eldorado Friday, August 29, for a scrimmage with the Eldorado high school football team. Then on Friday, September 5—a week before the season starts—the Blizzards will host Ranger for a scrimmage session on Blizzard Field.

No definite team patterns have been established for the 1969 football season, and probably will not be for several days, it was understood. There are only eight returning lettermen signed up on the Blizzards to see action on the field this year will be reinforced by players who saw experience on the B team last fall. That team won the last six games played.

The Blizzards will host their first encounter of the 1969 season, a non-conference affair, meeting Sonora here September 12. The remainder of the non-conference schedule reads:

Sept. 19, Coahoma, there.
Sept. 26, Clyde, here.

Sign-Up For Distributive Education, Industrial Training Set For Tuesday

Students interested in enrolling in Distributive Education or Industrial Cooperative Training for the fall term at Winters High School may contact Robert Statham, coordinator, in Room 103 of the high school Tuesday, August 19, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Distributive Education and Industrial Cooperative Training programs, which will be inaugurated in the Winters school this year, allow qualified students to train for an occupation by attending regular school classes for a half day and receiving supervised on-the-job training with pay for half a day.

Students who are participating in these programs must be 16 years of age or older and be classified as juniors or seniors. All eligible students who are interested in these programs and desire further information are urged to meet with Mr. Statham. Those unable to meet with the coordinator next Tuesday should call him at the school.

Season Football Tickets Will Go On Sale August 26; No Options This Year

Sale of reserved seat tickets for the 1969 football season will be on a first come, first served basis this year.

Tickets will go on Sale Tuesday, August 26, and will be offered through Thursday, September 4, at the school business office. The office will be open at 8 a. m.

This is the first time in several years that season tickets have not been sold on an option basis, it was stated. But it is felt that many people would like to add seats or drop reservations, or perhaps change their place of sitting, school officials said.

All reserved seats in the east bleachers—the home side—will be between the 33 yard lines. Season tickets will be sold on a book of five and will include all home games. Price per book will be $7.50.

Fans purchasing tickets for the 1969 football season will have their names placed on a seating chart which will be on file in the school business office and, if feasible, the 1970 tickets will be sold on an option basis.

Firemen's Annual Barbecue Next Thursday Night

The annual barbecue of the Winters Volunteer Fire Department will be held in the City Park at 8:30 next Thursday, August 21.

Invitations to ex-firemen of the area, former residents who were at one time firemen, and friends were sent out within the past few days, and firemen expect many of the "old-timers" to return for the special event.

As a part of the informal program, firemen will receive service pins and special recognition, and a report of activities of the fire department will be given.

The barbecue is being provided by the department, with volunteer firemen preparing the meal of barbecue, beans, potato salad, and trimmings.

School Trustees Adopt Budget

The board of trustees of the Winters Independent School District adopted a budget for the 1969-70 school year, in the amount of $611,205.00, and set a new tax rate in regular meeting Tuesday night.

The 1969-70 budget compares with last year's budget of $536,036.00. The new budget includes $26,000 earmarked for repair of hail damages, with a corresponding amount expected to be collected from insurance companies. Much of the hail damage has been paid from the 1968-69 budget.

The new tax rate has been set at $1.70 per $100 at 48 percent of actual valuation, with $1.46 marked for maintenance and .24 cents for debt service. This compares to last year's rate of $1.55 per $100 at 48 percent of actual value, broken down into $1.31 for maintenance and .24 cents for debt service.

In commenting on the budget Superintendent Carroll Tatom stated that budget items controlled locally are essentially unchanged from past years. He cited three major factors as reasons for the budget increase, necessitating a tax increase, as follows:

—Enactment of House Bill 240 by the 61st Legislature, raising teachers' salaries and the local fund assignment.

—A decrease in district values due primarily to loss of oil values.

—The general increase in costs of all labor, materials, and services.

Estimated revenue on this year's budget totals $608,202.00, with local sources accounting for $280,965.00, as compared with revenue from local sources last year in the amount of $257,631.

The budget is divided into: administrative costs, $39,361; instruction, $420,751; pupil transportation, $20,510; operation of plant, $40,366; maintenance of plant, $29,600; fixed charges, $4,500; student body activities, $4,650; capital outlay, $12,242; debt service, $39,510. These figures do not include Federal funds for special programs.

New Students Are Asked To Register Early

Students new to the community and who will be entering the Winters Public Schools for the first time this year are being asked by administrators to register prior to the first day of school. School begins August 27.

Pupils who will be in Grades 1 through 8, and who have not registered, are asked to report to the Elementary School Office during the morning hours Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 18, 19 and 20, for registration.

High school students new to the system may register anytime between 9 and 12 a. m. at the high school office.

Winters Archers Will Host Annual Invitational Meet

The Runnels County Archery Association of Winters will hold the annual Invitational Archery Meet Sunday, August 17, at the organization's course south of the Winters Lake dam.

Between 65 and 70 archers, representing about 30 clubs in this section of West Texas, are expected to participate in this year's meet. Local bowmen also expect some of the state's top archers to be present.

Competition will be held for all classes in this meet, with a youth division recognized. Trophies will be awarded to the first three places in each event, with trophies also going to husband-wife teams in freestyle, bare bow hunter divisions.

The public is invited to attend this meet. A concession stand will be in operation. W. T. (Tooter) Downine is president of the local archery association.

In other business, the board: —Amended the budget of the 1968-69 school year.

—Accepted a bid submitted from Gandy's Dairies for milk and ice cream for the school cafeteria.

—Accepted a bid from Gulf Oil Corporation in the amount of 18.34c per gallon for gasoline.

—Confirmed the appointment of Title I employees for the 1969-70 school year.

—Voted to continue participation in all phases of the Region XV Education Service Center.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

A GROWTH INDUSTRY—PRIVATE PLANES

The Business-Private Aircraft Industry—known to the trade as General Aviation—has more planes in the air, uses more air facilities, serves more places, and logs more hours than all the major airlines together. The rapid growth in the number of certified private pilots and students in training and the boom in flying clubs indicate the strong long-term potential for the industry, paced by a swing toward fleets of company-owned planes and a new trend to air-taxi-commuter line operators.

Attractive Issues

In 1968 the three leaders—Beech, Cessna, and Piper—recorded strong advances, and a well regarded aerospace marketing research firm, DMS Inc., forecasts that by 1973 there will be a 47 percent gain in unit sales of small planes over the number produced in 1967. Over 85 percent of annual unit sales and 80 percent of dollar volume are generated by the "Big Three". Of course, the Research Staff of Babson's Reports currently favors purchase of the common stock of Cessna Aircraft for near-term appreciation and growth. We maintain a hold position on Beech Aircraft. Piper is being wooed by Chris-Craft and Bangor Punta, with the outcome not yet resolved. The common stock of Narco Scientific Industries is recommended for appreciation and long-term growth. This company is a leading producer of avionics (electronic) equipment for small aircraft.

Air-Taxi-Commuter Line Market

Currently representing a minor portion of total general aviation sales is the so-called third-level airlines or "air-taxis" market, representing those air taxi operators offering scheduled flights in areas not served by the regional and national airlines. These "air taxis" increased from 12 in 1964 to 270 last year; a 69 percent gain in passenger traffic was recorded for 1967 compared to a 22 percent gain for all scheduled domestic airlines. By designing new aircraft, both for passenger and cargo operations, the Big Three are assured of a substantial share of this market.

Corporate Market

Since 80 percent of new manufacturing plant facilities are located in areas not served directly by commercial carriers, the demand for company-owned planes is creating general aviation's largest market. Only 10 percent of this market's potential of 400,000 businesses that could profitably use one or more aircraft has been penetrated.

Key indicators of the growth of this market are the 50 percent increase in the number of student pilot certificates from 1964 to 1967 and the rise in the number of flying clubs to 2,500 operating 3,500 aircraft. The manufacturers help foster this

Nematode Lab Opened At A&M

Nematodes, small hair-like roundworms which live in soil, will soon be getting a lot of special attention.

Because of the increasing importance of plant parasitic nematodes control, and the need for agricultural producers and homeowners to have information needed for control, a detection laboratory has been established at Texas A&M University.

Dr. Wendell Horne, plant pathologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said the lab would operate on much the same basis as the soil testing lab, also an Extension Service operated facility. A fee of $2.00 per sample will be charged for the detection service which will include the identification of nematodes present, infestation level, whether or not chemical or cultural control methods are justified and a listing of resistant varieties of plants.

Horne will be in charge of the laboratory. Treatment or control recommendations will be made either by Horne or another Extension plant pathologist. Recommendations, Horne said, will be based on facts other than nematode counts, including consideration for the crop to be grown, cultural practices available, variety differences, soil type and other factors. Test results should be back to the sender within 10 days from the receipt of the sample in the lab, Horne said.

The plant pathologist noted nematodes are found in every section of Texas. All, however, he noted, are not destructive to plant life. The major Texas commercial crops affected by the parasitic pests are cotton, peanuts, vegetables and ornamentals.

Horne advised farmers and homeowners to keep in touch with the local county agricultural agent for information on the official opening of the lab and especially on how to take the needed soil samples. Special plastic lined containers must be used in submitting the samples. The new facility should be able to handle up to 50 samples per day.

Triple Four Club Met In Dorsett Home Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dorsett hosted the Triple Four Club party in their home Tuesday night.

Games of 84 were enjoyed by members and guests, and a desert plate was served to Messrs. and Mesdames Wilma Davis, J. E. Smith, W. T. Billups, J. D. Vinson, and guests. The Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Tierce, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Worthington and Mrs. Patsy Ruty Knowles of Waco.

growth by offering inexpensive instruction and assistance in financing purchases of new aircraft through a substantial dealership network.

Bright Long-Term Prospects

Manufacturers of private planes have enjoyed a good but variable upward trend in the number of aircraft sold. However, over the past decade a shift to higher priced and more versatile planes by both flying enthusiasts and corporations has resulted in a faster and more even pace for revenues. This trend is expected to continue in the future as shipments rise. More extensive dealer-distributor organizations and plans for closely coordinated factory branches should also favor an acceleration of growth over the long term.

A cessation of the Vietnam conflagration would, in our opinion, also contribute importantly to the future prospects. More commercial business would be sought by many companies to replace government business; this would require more business aircraft travel. Finally, the strong and expanding export market (20 percent of sales) is growing at a faster rate than the domestic market. U. S. producers have a definite edge over foreign manufacturers, and this is expected to widen in the next decade.

Want to know the easiest way to get flounders?

Your best bet is to go after them at night with a Coleman lantern and a sharp-pointed gig. You simply wade along in knee-deep water, hold the lantern so it lights up the bottom, then when you see an oval outline with two eyes reflecting like diamonds, drive the gig home and you have a flounder.

This is an excellent way to stock the freezer with flatfish. But it isn't a very sporting way of catching flounders. That gig doesn't give the flounder any chance at all of fighting back.

A more sporting way to catch flounders is with hook and line. This takes considerable know-how and patience, but once you have experienced the fight that a hooked flounder can wage, you will admit the extra effort is worth the trouble.

A popping rod with a baitcasting, spin-cast or spinning reel is ideal for the job. You'll need a supply of treble hooks, sizes 4 and 6; some quarter-ounce, pinch-on sinkers; and a nd some floats.

Best bait to use is live mudfish or mullet, about one to two inches in length. You can also use either live or dead shrimp. Often, however, the trash fish will beat the flounder to these baits.

During the fall and winter the best flounder fishing will be in fairly deep water, around jetties and along the edges of ship channels and natural passes. In warm weather flounders move up on flats where bait fish tend to congregate. Consequently in the spring and summer you will find the best flounder action in water three to four feet deep.

Each season requires a special type of rigging and fishing. Let's consider the spring and summer fishing first. Rig your float or cork so that the baited hook will suspend a few inches off the bottom. Make your casts toward the current, then allow the current to carry the bait along. Thoroughly fish the area in this manner before moving to a new location.

Remember in flounder fishing that flatfish don't go charging after the bait like most fish do. They will take it only when it passes close overhead or nearby. They will grab a bait and then settle back down into their bed.

Keep this in mind and don't set the hook too soon. Let the fish take the bait well into its mouth... then sock it to him. At first it will feel as though you have snagged the bottom, but once the fish feels the bite of the hook, it will start to put up a fight.

In fishing for flounder in cold weather and in deep water don't bother to use a float. Instead cast out and allow the baited hook to sink to the bottom. Then slowly reel it in. Do this in the same unhurried manner as you would work a plastic worm while fishing for black bass. Again cover an area thoroughly before moving to a new spot.

Use care in getting the hook out of a flounder's mouth. This fish has very sharp teeth that can cause deep wounds.

Air Conditioner Filters Need To be Cleaned Periodically

Dirty filters hinder performance of air conditioners. Most new air conditioners have permanent filters which don't need to be replaced, but do need to be kept clean.

Mrs. Jane Berry, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist, tells how to keep a unit at top-performance. Lift the filter out, shake off loose dust, then dip it up and down in hot, sudsy water. The bath loosens and removes the greasy soot which the filter has captured.

Rinse, dry and apply a coat of special filter oil to help trap and hold additional soil, lint and air-borne grime.

Disposable filters should be cleaned in the same manner, but since they will take only a couple of cleanings a season, it is necessary to replace them occasionally.

Get Desk To Match Other Furniture

When shopping for a desk, look for one that will be a good mixer with other furnishings in living room, bedroom or study—wherever it will be used.

And keep a weather-eye out for practical features as well as good looks, reminds Bonny Lay, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist.

She says the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers reports it is a vintage year for interesting, practical desk designs.

From the swaggiest modern in wood and metal, trestle styles, pedestals, kneeholes, drop fronts, fall fronts, to table desks—authentic reproductions of Early American and traditional from Queen Anne, Louis XV to Georgian—they give purpose to a setting.

Table desks possess most of the necessary attributed without looking businesslike. Some give the campaign look; some are highly practical with vinyl tops rimmed with wood; some have drawers brightly lined in red velvet; and some have writing surfaces.

Other choices available, says the Texas A&A University specialist, are drop front styles, ones with small drawers and compartments in the desk section and storage drawers in the base, ones with many pigeon holes and small storage drawers, ones with large drawers include file drawers or ones with back galleries to hold books, lamps, etc.

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

Water development leaders already are talking about another try with the $3.5 billion water bond authorization in the wake of last week's constitutional amendments elections.

Water bonds—to finance the state's share of the $9 billion Texas water plan—were defeated by only a few thousand votes out of some 700,000 cast. Meanwhile, say water experts, the master plan is not dead. Preliminary negotiations for out-of-state water can continue, and another vote can be scheduled on the bonds in 1971. Hopefully by then, some of the major objections will be resolved.

Texans, in the amendments election, solved one of the state's pressing problems, for the time being at any rate. They voted nearly two-to-one in favor of raising the welfare aid ceiling $20 million a year, to $80 million. This will get aid to families with dependent children (AFDC) payments back to par, and stave off any more cuts in the near future.

Voters also favored issuing $200 million more in college student loan bonds to continue the Texas Opportunity Plan of aid to needy youngsters bent on higher education.

The elimination of deadwood from the state constitution met strong favor. So did payments to survivors of volunteer firemen, reserve or auxiliary police and other state or local government employees killed in line of hazardous duty.

On the other hand, voters were antagonistic toward four other proposed amendments on the August 5 ballot.

They overwhelmingly rejected pay raises for state legislators and annual sessions of the legislature. They disapproved property tax exemptions for non-profit water supply corporations by a fairly strong margin and narrowly rejected lifting the constitutional interest rate ceilings on state bonds.

Defeat of the annual sessions amendment put an end to hopes of many legislators that another single-year, no-tax state budget can be passed in the current special session and accepted by Gov. Preston Smith.

TAX BILL TO SENATE
Now it's the Senate's week to wrestle with the tax bill.

House passed its $341 million version of revenue raising to balance a biennial budget and sent it across the rotunda. From comments, it is an overstatement to say senators don't like it, but hearings are under way in an attempt to come up with an acceptable compromise—and that won't be easy.

Here is what the House bill does (all levies effective January 1):

Raises the sales tax rate from three to 3.5 per cent.

Boosts the cigarette tax five cents.

Launches a new 3.5 per cent tax on telephone and telegraph, auto repairs, appliance (except washing machines, dryers and refrigerators) and jewelry repairs, parking, laundry and dry-cleaning (except self-service coin-operated) and professional entertainment services. (Included in the latter would be admission charges to professional athletic contests, night clubs, dance halls, amusement parks and scenic attractions.)

Levies a 10 cent transactions tax on each sale or purchase of stocks, bonds, warrants and other securities, with few exceptions.

Cuts the gross receipts tax on telephone and telegraph companies from 2.5 per cent to 1.9 per cent (which would reduce the industry's direct taxes about $5.7 million per biennial fiscal period).

City officials are angry because, while new sales and services taxes would be levied at 4.5 per cent rate in those municipalities which levy local option sales tax, they would get none of added revenue.

One thing seems certain: what comes out of the Senate is unlikely to bear much resemblance to what came over from the House.

LOAN BONDS SOLD
First $14 million in new college student loan fund bonds were sold here last week (Aug. 7).

First National City Bank of New York and Associates was successful bidder at a net effective interest rate of 5.4162 per cent. Announcement came from Tom Sealy of Midland, chairman of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System Board administers the program.

Bonds will be formally authorized and awarded to the purchaser at the meeting of the Coordinating Board on September 2. Funds will be available for fall semester loans. About 36,000 needy Texas resident students have benefited from a total of nearly 100,000 loans since the program went into operation in 1966.

Texas hospitals got warning from Texas health authorities that federal building funds may be sharply curtailed under white House budget proposals.

Twenty-eight Texas applicants for Hill-Burton hospital construction aid were notified that the State Health Department received a tentative allocation indicating a "drastic reduction" in U. S. money for the state.

Tentative allotment is reportedly about $2.1 million for general construction and $689,000 for modernization of Texas hospitals in 1970. About $1 million would go to public health centers, according to health officials who said they hope Congress will raise White House recommendations. About $8 million was allotted Texas for general construction this year and $2 million for modernization.

FOOD-MEDICAL GRANT APPROVED

A $474,000 emergency food and medical services grant has been awarded Texas Office of Economic Opportunity and approved by Governor Smith.

Program will start Sept. 1 to supplement the existing commodity distribution program for 71,000 Texas families. It will operate in 26 counties with highest percentage of poor. Outreach, basic food stuffs and medical services will be used to counteract conditions of starvation and malnutrition among the poor.

These counties will benefit directly: Austin, Bureson, Caldwell, De Witt, Falls, Fayette, Freestone, Goliad, Gonzales, Grimes, Houston, Lavaca, Lee Leon, Limestone, Madison, Milam Newton, Orange, San Jacinto, Trinity, Tyler, Upshur, Walker, Waller and Washington.

'TREASURE' RETURNS
Last of the material recovered from the Spanish galleon sunk off Padre Island arrived at the Texas Memorial Museum in Austin Wednesday night from Gary, Indiana.

It may be a while before the inventory committee is completely through with its checking of the material. Gaylord Armstrong, law partner of former U. S. Rep. Joe Kilgore (one of the inventors), said that the inventory lists and the artifacts seem to tally pretty well, but the committee will have to go through step-by-step, piece-by-piece, to make sure. Nobody is sure when that check will be made, since Kilgore is on vacation—on Padre Island—and Dr. W. W. Newcomb, head of the Memorial Museum, also is vacationing, and the third committee member, Rep. Don Cavness of Austin, is likely to be tied up with the Legislature for a while yet.

Food Market Report: Meat Prices Firm

For best food values for weekend shoppers, Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist with Texas A&M University, says meat prices remain firm.

With careful comparison of featured cuts, however, a variety of meats for the outdoor grill or for indoor cooking can be found at reasonable prices. Beef chuck, steaks and various boneless roasts, ground beef and round steak are among the specials. Ham portions, fresh picnics and Wieners usually are good values, too.

Fryer prices are a bit lower with specials in some markets, especially on the cut-up pieces. Ice cream is the all American dessert so serve it often. It's easier to scoop ice cream or slice it if it is taken out of the freezer and put in the refrigerator a while to soften, the specialist suggests. Allow twenty minutes for a half gallon, ten minutes for a pint.

Mrs. Neva Carter has completed work at Hardin-Simmons University for special assignment in Special Education. She will teach the Elementary Special Education program.

Mrs. Margie Grantz has completed her degree at Angelo State College in Elementary Education. She has been teaching primary music, and will be assigned as a sixth grade teacher.

Two new vocational courses have been added to the high school curriculum, Distributive Educational Vocational Industrial Training. He finished his degree at Angelo State University this summer, and has been enrolled in special summer workshops at Corpus Christi and Texas A & M University.

H. Vogelsang To Attend FB Conference Soon

Hugo Vogelsang, president of the Runnels County Farm Bureau, will attend a statewide conference of County Farm Bureau presidents, to be held August 18 at the Terrace Motor Hotel in Austin. Also attending will be Marion Hays of Ballinger, first vice president of the organization.

Purpose of the conference is to consider recommendations of a special study committee appointed earlier this year by Texas Farm Bureau President Sidney Dean to study the state organization's structure and operating procedure. The committee completed its work last month and made its report to the Texas FB board of directors July 29 in Waco. The board accepted the report and set the August 18 meeting so that the recommendations of the six-member Study Committee could be explained in detail to county leaders.

Following the Austin meeting the county presidents are expected to take the proposals back to their home counties to be considered in the FB's policy development process which begins on the county level, Vogel-sang said. After consideration at County conventions in October, the counties' recommendations on the proposals will be submitted to the state convention which will be held in November in San Antonio. Voting delegates from county Farm Bureaus adopt policies for the Texas Farm Bureau.

In addition to the 16 faculty members who attended summer schools, 21 faculty members completed a course in Linguistics during the spring semester. This course was conducted by Professor George Carter of Abilene Christian College on the Winters School campus. The course was conducted for preparation of teachers to change to the linguistics approach to teaching language arts. New textbook adoptions incorporate this approach.

Superintendent Carroll Tatom reported that the school faculty is complete, and that the Winters Schools are staffed with a highly competent and professional staff.

VFW and Auxiliary To Sponsor Youth 'Fishorama' 16th

Winters Post 9193, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and its Ladies Auxiliary, will sponsor a community Youth "Fishorama" Saturday, August 16, at the Winters City Lake. The event will be held from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Contests for the longest fish will be held for three age groups, 4-7, 8-10, and 11-14. Youngsters must furnish their own fishing poles and equipment. The VFW and Auxiliary will provide the bait, serve hot dogs and punch at the noon hour.

One award will be presented to each winner in each age group. Adults will serve as judges and measure the fish. Weight will not be counted, it was explained.

All youngsters in the three age groups in the community are invited to participate.

Telephone Cable Job On Schedule, Some Interruption

A major project, replacing and expanding telephone cables in Winters, is progressing on schedule, Jack Goss, division manager of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, said this week.

Goss said that while every effort is made to prevent service interruptions while the work is in progress, some service interruptions have occurred, "causing inconvenience to some of our customers."

"While we are not predicting future service outages, work on this project will continue for approximately 90 days and will no doubt cause service problems for some of our customers. It is our plan to hold these to an absolute minimum and make corrections as quickly as possible," Goss said.

"BLUE"
What made the Mexican bandit of the mid-nineteenth century one of the most feared and effective highwaymen of history?

Many reasons have been offered: his horsemanship, his mobility, his discipline, the economic and psychological era in which he lived.

One element of his rigging that should not be overlooked, however, is most apparent in Paramount's "Blue," which shows Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre directed by Silvio Narizzano, produced by Judd Bernard and starring Terence Stamp. The Mexican outlaw's armament made him the Sherman tank of his day.

A typical bandit in "Blue," as authentically set out by Paramount proppan Tony Wade and his crew carries two rifles on his saddle, three or four revolvers and a collection of knives. He was proficient in the use of each. The proper weapon for any possible circumstance was usually at his fingertips.

He could overwhelm his opponent with the fierceness of his attack. He used all his weapons with verve.

Many of them had specialties, as indicated in "Blue."

"Gone With the Wind"
"Gone With the Wind," acclaimed worldwide as one of the great motion picture entertainments of all time, is now presented by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in new Wide-Screen and Metro-color splendor, giving even greater power to the unforgettable love story.

This marks the sixth re-release since David O. Selznick's production of "Gone With the Wind" made motion picture history with its world premiere in Atlanta, Georgia, in December of 1939. The picture was last released during the Civil War Centennial year, 1961. The current presentation brings the epic drama to a younger as well as older generation of motion picturegoers as a colorful and exciting new experience in sight and sound.

Starring Clark Gable, Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia de Havilland, winner of ten Academy Awards, and seen to date by a combined international audience of 295,000,000 persons, "Gone With the Wind" shows Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the State Theatre.

Melba Lewis Is Accepted At Rice University, Houston

Miss Melba Lewis of Winters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lewis, will be one of more than 600 students who have been admitted to Rice University for the fall semester of 1969, giving the University its largest entering class in its 58-year history.

More than 200 of these were accepted in November, 1968 under the University's Early Decision Plan. Miss Lewis, a graduate of Winters High School, is one of those accepted under the Early Decision Plan.

Of the more than 400 accepted at this time, some 90 are from Houston and vicinity, 160 from other Texas towns, 180 from out-of-state, and 20 from foreign countries.

Undergraduate tuition at Rice is $1800 per year. University policy assures that no student will be denied admission because of inability to pay tuition; therefore, the Board of Governors has established a fund to eventually provide more than $1 million a year for tuition grants. More than half of each freshman class could receive grants from this fund.

Rice seeks the student with a record of scholastic achievement, intellectual potential and a wide range of talents and interests. The criteria used in an attempt to predict these qualities are high school record scores on the Scholastic Aptitude and Achievement Tests administered by the College Entrance Examination Board, and evaluation made by high school teachers and counselors and University representatives in personal interviews.

Winters Housing Auth. Surveying For Home Sites

Engineers have surveyed several sites in Winters which have been tentatively approved as locations for proposed low-cost housing, which the Winters Housing Authority is seeking for the elderly and for low-income families.

Three sites have been tentatively approved by the Housing and Urban Development Administration, but that is as far as the plan to develop a low-cost housing project in Winters has progressed. B. J. (Jake) Joyce, chairman of the Winters Housing Authority, has stated. The next step will be to have the property appraised and the appraisal also approved by HUD. Then HUD would appropriate the funds for purchase of the property.

Winters Housing Authority has made plans for and applied for Federal assistance to construct 46 units, 34 to be used for elderly people and the rest for rental to low-income families. The Authority has received one small loan, or grant, $2700, to be used for preliminary planning. Purchase of the property alone would amount to a considerable sum, it was understood.

Joyce was quick to point out that although some sites have been surveyed and proposed for the project, it does not necessarily mean these sites would be the one selected in final action. There may be other sites which would be more adequate for the purpose, it was stated, and it will be some time before final decisions can be made, and final approvals obtained from HUD.

Other members of the Winters Housing Authority are J. P. Dry, Ted Meyer, Ralph Lloyd and Gattis Neely. Buford Baldwin, City Secretary, is acting secretary for the Authority.

Temperature High But Water Use Reported Normal

Although temperatures have been very high all summer, and no rain has fallen since the middle of June, water usage in Winters has not been abnormal, W. D. Waggoner, superintendent of the City of Winters Water Department, said this week.

There have been only about 10 or 12 days when water usage went over the million-gallon mark, Waggoner said, although the dry weather has forced many people to do extensive watering, and evaporative air coolers have been put to full use.

Waggoner also said that there is a plentiful supply of water in the City Lake east of town, and that the water clarifier system installed a couple of years ago has been adequate in treatment of raw water even during high-usage days.

Bud Herndons Honored On 50th Anniversary

A reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Bud Herndon of Winters was held in Anson in the Federal Community Center, 1225 Avenue J, on Sunday August 3, from 2:00 until 4:00 o'clock.

The occasion was hosted by their children, Sam Herndon, Oceanside, California, Mrs. B. A. Thomasson, La Porte and Mrs. Hollie White of Anson.

Friends and relatives registered from Stamford, Abilene, Anson, San Angelo, Lamesa, Hawley, Munday, Rockport, Hamlin and Winters.

More than 100 registered in the guest book. The registry table was covered with gold cloth trimmed in white and held an arrangement of white carnations trimmed in gold.

The serving table was laid with lace cloth over gold and centered with an arrangement of gold mums, white and gold candles. Table appointments were milk glass. Gold punch and white cake squares decorated in gold, nuts and mints were served. The napkins were inscribed "Short and Bud 1919-1969."

Others in the house party were a granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Wallace; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Sam Herndon; sons-in-law, B. A. Thomasson and Hollie White; a grandson, Steve White and a niece, Mrs. Bill White.

Mrs. Hollie White greeted guests and presented them to her parents and brother and sis-

Riding Club To Sponsor "Play Day" Tuesday

The Winters Riding Club will sponsor a "Play Day" next Tuesday, August 19, at 7:30 p. m. at the riding arena on the Old Crews Road.

Activities will include pole bending, barrel racing, trailer races, boot races, and other events as suggested.

The public is invited to attend this special event, and members are urged to be present.

Milo Coming In Stronger

Increased activity has been noted in the harvest of the 1969 milo crop, as dry, hot weather continues. This year, unlike most years, there has been no peak rush during the cutting season because of the time span in planting.

Grainmen expect the bulk of the grain to be cut during August, but much of it will be cut up into the fall. Late-planted grain is suffering from lack of moisture, farmers and grainmen say, and there is doubt that some of the latest will go to maturity.

Milo prices have been holding strong, grainmen have reported, higher than at the same time last year.

knocked the rest of the screen out of the front door. He made it to a filling station next door, turned up the radiator watering can and drank about half of the water. He even quit smoking Bull Durham for a few days.

"Hamburger King" had lost his stadiest customer!

There's been a lot of talk recently about the need of more remedial courses for underprivileged students in the nation's colleges and universities. Which provokes one to remark that what the academic world really needs is more remedial courses for administrators; a boot camp for college presidents might do. A rumor has been going the rounds that before the fall terms begin, college presidents will go on strike, demanding combat pay. A new breed of college president is needed: he should be a man who can plump the depths of human relations, withstand the stress of mass criticism and manage the pressures of group confrontation without the loss of academic serenity. In short, he should be a man with a soft heart, a tough hide and know how to run a fort under siege.
