HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

It's football time again. So nothing could be more appropriate than to talk about football. To most football fans, there are two seasons: football season and non-football season. The same as with hunters: the open season and the closed season.

This is a special year for football. It is the Centennial Year for football in the United States and the Golden Anniversary for high school football under the sponsorship of the University Interscholastic League in Texas.

The first game that was recognized as a true football game was held at College Field in New Brunswick, N. J., between Rutgers and Princeton. Few fans of today would recognize that game as a football game. They used a round ball—it could be passed, carried or kicked at nearly any time; there were 25 men on each team and only one point was scored for each goal. The final score of that first game was 6-4.

The game of football originated between colleges, but it was soon to disperse down through the high schools. The first extensive organization of football in Texas, under League sponsorship, was in 1919. Prior to this time there were a few games played throughout the state by high school teams. At that time there were no eligibility rules, and very few playing rules. These schools played other high schools, commercial colleges, college freshmen and college ineligibles. Also, as might be expected, many non-school boys and men participated on these so-called high school teams.

In 1924 the University Interscholastic League had to place a rule in its Constitution that TEACHERS were ineligible to participate on high school teams. In 1926 the age limit was set at 20 years. The first year under League organization there were 109 schools participating in football in Texas. This year, 1968, there are in Texas approximately 1009 schools participating.

Texas is the first and only state to have 1000 or more high schools playing football. This number was reached during the 1968 school year. In 1919 there were two classifications—B and A. After their district or county play, which consisted of four to six games, a champion was declared. The champions of both Band A proceeded in the playoffs, but not in separate divisions. The two classes were merged together in one with an eventual single state champion.

Presently there are seven classes of football schools: Six-man, eight-man, B, A, AA, AAA and AAAA. B, six-man and eight-man football teams play to a regional championship. Classes A through AAAA play to a highly competitive state championship.

The terms, "the football team" and "the eleven" have been synonymous for many years, but team size changed many times. In the football game recognized as the first, between Rutgers and Princeton, there were 25 players on each team. In 1872 and 1873 most of the schools had dropped the number of players on a team to 20. The fifteen man team came into being in 1876. The year 1876 was important for other reasons as well; the round ball was replaced with the egg-shaped football. Backward passing and other elements of the modern day game were introduced.

Eleven-man football was first introduced in 1876, but it was 1880 before the concept of eleven-man football triumphed. After that time football was thought of as an eleven-man game.

In 1934 six-man football was (Continued on page 8)

Tenth Annual Drasco Homecoming Held Labor Day At Community Center

The Drasco Homecoming was held on Labor Day, Sept. 1, for their Tenth Annual Meeting in the Winters Community Center with a hundred people signing the register.

During the morning hours dominos and "42" were played and old friends as well as new ones had a great time talking about the "good old days at Drasco."

Rev. Roy Crawford, retired Methodist minister of Winters, gave the invocation for the noon meal.

Elmo Mayhew, vice-president, presided for the afternoon program and business session.

Miss Sue B. Mann, Ft. Worth, who was a former school teacher at Drasco, spoke of several memorable incidents that occurred while in the community.

Others who spoke of some of their experiences were: Rev. Albert Baker, Waco; James Alexander, Abilene; Rev. Loyd Mayhew, Abilene; Joe Baker, Winters; Mrs. Mollie Puckett and Mrs. Myrtle Wilbanks.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and also the names of those who had passed away since the last meeting. Those names were: Dale Buckley, Melvin (Snooks) Herrington, Mrs. Annie Herrington, Carlton Dobbins, Merle Saunders, Mrs. R. B. Bridwell, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Willingham's daughter, Henry Sanders, Barney Green and his granddaughter, Floyd (Red) Sandefer, Billy Wayne Smith, Mrs. Lit Moore, Mrs. Cora Elam, Mrs. Thomas O. Nally and Sheriff D. Woodard.

Rev. Albert Baker, Methodist minister of Waco, gave the prayer in memory of names read. Fourteen in the group stated this was the first meeting they had attended since the homecoming was organized in 1959. Seven stated they had attended every meeting.

Mrs. Mollie Massengale received a gift for the oldest person present. She was 93 years old.

C-C Board Plans Earlier Officer, Director Election

Members of the Winters Chamber of Commerce probably will receive ballots for election of new directors to the business and commercial organization a month earlier this year.

Earlier election of directors of the Chamber of Commerce was suggested and discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the board Tuesday evening. It was suggested that in electing directors — and subsequently, officers — earlier, appointment of committees could be made earlier in the year, thus getting "more mileage" from working committees.

In the past, directors have been elected and named at the first meeting in December, with officers being elected from the directors later. Committees then have been named after the new year has begun. The new system, it was thought, would allow directors and committees to begin work the first of the year, with a new budget.

Directors also discussed the annual Christmas program sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Each director was asked by the chamber president, Woodrow Watts, to give some thought to the program and make suggestions at the next meeting. Other members of the C-C are being asked to submit suggestions which could be used by the committee planning the program.

A "Harvest Moon" sale and festival, to be promoted by the Chamber of Commerce, also was discussed.

Winters Boosters Elect Robinson, Set Melon Feed

Members of the Winters Boosters elected Gayland Robinson president Tuesday night, and made plans for a watermelon feed for the football team.

John Edward McAdoo was elected secretary - treasurer of the Boosters.

Coaches were introduced during the meeting. The organization will hold a watermelon feed for members of the Winters Blizzard football team and members of the Booster Club, to be held immediately following the scrimmage with Ranger Friday night. The Ranger team will be guests at the feed.

Regular meetings of the Booster Club will be held at the City Hall each Tuesday night at 7:30, at which time films of the previous Friday night's game will be shown. The Boosters also are planning other activities during the upcoming football season, plans to be announced later.

Letters are being sent out to all prospective members, urging attendance at all Booster Club meetings and seeking support of the organization and the WHS football team.

IN LLOYD HOME

Recent visitors in the Raymon Lloyd home were their children, Mrs. Cullen Johnson, Jeffrey and Jennifer of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Lloyd, Stacy and Lana of Austin.

The Red Cross Needs Help

Thousands of persons were made homeless by the winds and waves that smashed houses to splinters when Hurricane Camille battered the Gulf Coast from Louisiana to Florida.

Many of the families for whom the night of August 17 was one of horror lack the resources to return to normal living unaided. They have lost everything through a calamity of nature which they were powerless to prevent or sidestep. They must be helped in the rebuilding of their shattered lives and homes.

The American Red Cross is the natural agent for this rebuilding, by virtue of both its experience and its readiness to help. The Red Cross is asking the American people for a minimum of $15,000,000 to provide this assistance.

The people of this community have always heeded generously humanitarian appeals like this. Since the disastrous hailstorm here on June 12 $764.50 has been contributed to the Red Cross and those who have not contributed to this fund may do so by sending a check to the Chamber of Commerce or The Winters Enterprise and it will be forwarded immediately. Checks should be made out to the American Red Cross.

This extremely worthy organization spent in the neighborhood of $3000 helping people here after the hailstorm, and now we should help others.

Blizzards To Meet Ranger Friday Night

The Winters High School Blizzards will scrimmage the Ranger High School football team here Friday night, beginning at 7 p. m. Play will be on Blizzard Field, with football fans encouraged to come out and see this year's crop of Blizzards in action.

Friday night's scrimmage will be the last "practice" exercise for the Blue Bunch before going into the regular game season Friday night of next week against Sonora.

The Blizzards traveled to El Dorado last Friday night for scrimmage action with that school's team. Coach Jerry Gibson said he was "very pleased" with the Blizzards' "aggressiveness and will to play" in that practice scrimmage.

Permanent position assignments have not been made as yet. Coach Gibson said. These will not be made until prior to the opening game with Sonora and then changes possibly will be made as the season wears on, it was indicated.

Local Archers To Hold Shoot Here Sunday

President Nixon has signed a proclamation setting aside the week of Aug. 26 through Sept. 1 as National Archery Week. Word was not received by the local club until too late to plan a shoot to coincide with these dates.

The Runnels County Archers Association will be holding a shoot all day September 8th in honor of the proclamation.

The Runnels County archery club is one of 1200 affiliated clubs belonging to the National Field Archery Association. Their headquarters is in Redlands, California and this year marks the 30th anniversary of the N. F. A. A. which has sponsored Archery events in the country and has on its roll 50 states and several foreign countries.

Archery will become a gold medal Olympic event at the 1972 meeting in Munich, Germany. There are 38,000 members at present in the NFAA.

The archery event here Sunday is for all archers and visitors in this area.

City To Provide Maintenance For Recreation Center

Winters City Council Monday night authorized the Mayor to sign agreements with the Winters Housing Authority providing that the City of Winters will maintain entertainment centers which might become a part of any housing development for the elderly and low income families.

The Housing Authority presently is working toward application to the Federal government for funds to build 46 units, 30 of which would be for the elderly and 16 for low-income families. Such housing developments, it was understood, usually provide some sort of "community" or recreation center for occupants of such developments, and the City of Winters under the resolution of Monday night would provide maintenance and janitorial service for such centers.

In other action, the Council authorized the mayor to provide deed for approximately one-half acre of land at Lakeview Cemetery to the State Highway Department. The land would come off the western edge of the cemetery, and would be used in the widening of U. S. 83. The use of the strip of land for highway widening purposes would not interfere with the use of the cemetery in any manner. City sources said.

City Secretary Buford Baldwin said appraisers have about completed their work of appraising property in Winters along Main Street in preparation for widening U. S. 83 through Winters. This work should be completed within a few days, he said, and then the City and the Highway Department can continue with plans for the extensive widening of the Highway. Extra land needed would be purchased from landowners. It has been pointed out that very little additional land will be needed for the widening project.

More Students Sought For WHS Dist. Ed Courses

Additional students and co-operators are being sought for the Distributive Education and Industrial Cooperative Training courses which have been inaugurated in Winters High School.

R. L. Statham, coordinator for the programs, said that 30 students have been signed up for the program, and placed with cooperating firms and businesses. He said attempts have been made to contact all firms in Winters which would be interested in the programs. Those which were missed are asked to contact Statham at 754-5114.

The programs are designed to help train students who wish to enter trades or businesses following graduation from high school, by placing them with cooperating firms. Students would attend a certain number of hours of regular high school classes, and work a certain number of hours, with pay, with the cooperating firms.

First day's enrollment last year was 992. Enrollment probably will increase slightly following the Labor Day holidays, and during a few days following it, it was indicated. Many students from

Dove Hunters Out In Doves On First Hunt Day

North Runnels County vibrated to semi-battlefield sounds Monday of this week, as dove hunters took advantage of the good weather to open the regular dove hunting season.

Hunters reported good and bad luck, heavy and light populations of doves, depending on locations hunted. Some who reported good hunts said the doves bagged were young this year. Recent rains multiplied watering places, thus decentralizing "stands" for hunters in the field.

Some of the hunters also reported large populations of quail, and predicted a good quail season later in the year.

Highway Dep't. Plans Work On F. M. 53

GAINS FOR FARM INCOME

At this moment in the crop season it looks as though net income going to farmers for the current year will reflect a substantial advance over the levels of 1968. This may well be true in spite of continuing increases in the cost of operations and up-trending taxes at municipal and state levels.

SHAPE OF RISE

Assessing figures for the first half of 1969, the Agriculture Department reported net farm income at an annual rate of $15.6 billion, up 7 percent from the first six months of 1968. This worked out to the highest level since 1966 and the fourth-best since that period ever recorded. The rather sharp jump was traceable to a number of key developments: Well-sustained consumer demand for almost all agricultural and meat products, higher prices for certain major items including livestock, heightened efficiency in many farm pursuits, and a generally more liberal volume of marketing.

If the annual rate of $15.6 billion should persist through the remainder of 1969, the take for farmers for the year as a whole would be one of the highest in our history. The all-time pinnacle was touched in 1947 when farm income soared to $17.1 billion. There is, of course, no assurance that this will be achieved, if only because of erratic weather conditions in many parts of the country that will have some effect on crops yet to be harvested and sold. But on the hopeful side is the fact that livestock is a huge segment of farm production, and prices have been exceedingly favorable.

Prospects For Fall

Fed cattle marketings should continue above year-ago levels as we move into the fall months—in fact, they may be extremely heavy. After the brisk price advances for meat animals in the spring came a midsummer downdrift, and over the period ahead there may be some moderate further decline. But the average is likely to hold well above that for the year before. Pork production could lag a year ago during the autumn because of an apparent drop in farrowing last spring. Hence, prices may well continue above 1968 levels, with a healthy impact on cash receipts for all kinds of livestock farmers at least through the end of this year.

Poultry and egg prices are also likely to rise slightly above the same period for 1968 despite the well-sustained output anticipated for the remainder of the year. Most dairymen have done well thus far in 1969 in terms of dollar intake, but it must be admitted that in many instances their over-1968 margins will be sliced or even entirely eliminated by the unending climb in production costs.

Chevrolet's newest entry is the
Elegant Monte Carlo Coupe for 1970

A new concept of elegance is the distinctive Monte Carlo Sport Coupe. This newest addition to the Chevrolet line is characterized by smooth flowing lines and sculptured surfaces dramatically emphasized by the longest hood ever produced by Chevrolet. The plush interior includes a simulated wood burl accent on the instrument panel and extra-thick foam cushioned front and rear seats. The Monte Carlo will be at dealerships on September 18.

Chevrolet To Feature Totally New Car, the Monte Carlo, in '70 Models

Detroit—The Monte Carlo—a totally new person luxury car—headlines Chevrolet's new models for 1970. John Z. DeLorean, General Motors vice president and Chevrolet general manager, said today.

"The 1970's will be an unparalleled decade of individual customer choice," DeLorean said. "Chevrolet will continue to set the industry pace with a variety of cars and options which allow each buyer to custom tailor his or her personal transportation."

"Monte Carlo adds a new market dimension by offering to the youthful, sophisticated buyer a superb blend of individual, high fashion styling and intermediate-size handling and performance."

DeLorean said seven distinctive Chevrolet lines will be shown in dealerships on Announcement Day, September 18. "The big Chevrolet has new styling and added power for 1970 and Chevelle has an all-new appearance," DeLorean said. "Improvements in these lines are incorporated in both sizes of Chevrolet station wagons. The fast-selling Nova has fresh appeal in its new models."

Current models of the popular Chevrolet Corvete and Camaro will be continued to the end of this year with new models in each line scheduled for introduction later in the model year. DeLorean said that among important 1970 engine changes, the base V-8 of the big Chevrolet is increased to 350 cubic inches from 327 cubic inches in 1969 to give added power for options such as air conditioning that continue to grow in customer popularity.

The base six cylinder engine of Chevelle is also increased—250 cubic inches in 1970 compared with 230 cubic inches in 1969.

"A smooth running new 400 cubic inch V-8 that burns regular fuel is introduced as an option on the big Chevrolet and also is available on Monte Carlo," DeLorean said.

"Two new high torque 454 cubic inch V-8's replace 427 cubic inch engines offered on the big Chevrolet in 1969."

He said mechanical improvements include smoother engine acceleration through the use of a transmission controlled vacuum spark advance.

There is extended use of variable-ratio power steering which gives more responsive maneuverability in turns and parking. It is now available on all 1970 models except station wagons and Nova models with four-cylinder engines.

Longer life, fiberglass-belted tires are standard on all 1970 Chevrolet models.

Every 1970 model has extensive safety features for occupant protection, accident prevention and anti-theft.

New for 1970 among Chevrolet's more than 400 options and accessories are improved electric door locks, replacing vacuum locks.

With the electric door locks is a new automatic front seat back release for coupes which unlatches when either front door is opened, for easier access to the rear seat. The latch re-locks securely when the door is closed.

Also new is an electric rear deck lid release operated from inside the glove box.

A new Headlight Delay option reminds the driver with a warning buzzer if he opens his door without turning off his headlights. After the lights are off, he may push a timer button on the instrument panel and lights will turn on for about two minutes to provide illumination after he leaves the car.

Radio antennas contained within the windshield glass will be factory installed when radios are ordered on all 1970 Chevrolets. They replace outside mast antennas used previously and are not subject to being broken or bent. A new highly compact combination AM or AM-FM stereo radio and tape player unit fits snugly in the instrument panel.

Also available is a broader than ever variety of trailering, towing and recreational vehicle accessories.

Chevrolet offers 15 colors, most of them new, for 1970. There are up to seven two-tone combinations, five vinyl top colors and two convertible top colors.

Wheat-Price Dilemma

Perhaps the wheat farmer has the least clear idea of what to expect over the period ahead. World wheat production has expanded way beyond commercial needs. Latest figures place U. S. stocks at $11 million bushels, some 50 percent above the volume held at the same time 12 months before. Both overt and hidden price cuts (Canada has made at least six cuts) by the other exporting countries—Australia, Canada, and the European Common Market—have U. S. wheat virtually non-competitive at support prices. The international grains arrangement aimed to fix minimum world prices has collapsed. So what lies ahead for our wheat farmers?

Hope is that the big producing nations will once more boost their price levels enough to make U. S. wheat again competitive. That would permit this country to get its fair share of the export market. If this is not accomplished, we may be tempted to reduce our wheat price—which would be a cumbersome process at best. And this this could be followed by further cuts on the part of the rival nations, putting this country right back where we now are. Excessively low prices can lead to the use of wheat as feed, with a consequent unfavorable repercussion on our export markets for feed corn. Admittedly, there is a bitter wheat price war on. Let us hope it will be ended with all the export countries re-establishing a sane pricing program.

Prairie Chicken Hunt Promises To Be Good

San Angelo — The October 11-12 prairie chicken hunt in the Texas Panhandle promises to be as good or better than last year's, says Jack Parsons, wildlife supervisor for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. The spring booming ground was approximately five per cent greater this year.

The season will be open in Hollingsworth, Donley, Gray, Hemphill, Ochiltree, Roberts, Lipscomb, and Wheeler counties, with a bag limit of two per day and a possession of four birds, after the first day.

Some areas of the Panhandle have been badly in need of rainfall for some time, other sections have had rain and have deep moisture. A good grasshopper crop is feeding the birds presently, and the range appears to be in fair condition with ample food to support the birds throughout the season.

STATE Capital NEWS By VERN SANFORD

With the first special session of the Legislature a failure, Gov. Preston Smith called lawmakers back for a second try at writing a biennial budget and a balancing tax bill.

Midnight gavels fell August 26 with neither task accomplished after tax conference committees were unable to break a stubborn deadlock.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes blamed the first session impasse on House refusal to place beer and liquor under the sales tax. House Speaker Gus Mutscher said that was a "smokescreen" masking other reasons for the Senate's refusal to come to terms with the Representatives.

A Senate proposal to place food under a 2.5 per cent (reduced rate) sales tax was batted down unanimously (47-0) by the House. Thereafter, negotiations never budged beyond that point.

In calling for the second session, Governor Smith laid it on the line.

"We have been treated to a spectacle of petty quarreling, jealousies between houses, obstinate and self-serving positions, demagogic rhetoric, childish personalities and undue interference from the lobby," said the Governor, "I believe the people of Texas are sick and tired of it. I know I am."

Smith warned that every function of state government would be "paralyzed or thrown into a state of uncertainty and confusion" if the new session failed to come up with a certifiable revenue appropriation by September 1.

Legislature responded by banging through emergency 60-day budget proposals which would operate the state government through October 31 while members sought to reconcile differences over long-range finances.

SAFETY PLAN RESUBMITTED-Texas failed to meet federal requirements with its traffic safety program, but a new plan now has been submitted. Highway Safety Bureau of the U. S. Department of Transportation is reviewing the second effort.

Governor Smith was notified by Robert Brenner, acting director of the bureau, that the plan presented last December, before Smith took office, was incomplete.

Comments on the new plan are encouraging, says Smith, but final action is not expected until fall.

Meanwhile, said the governor, safety efforts are continuing through the Texas Education Agency, the State Highway Department, the Department of Public Safety and the Texas Department of Public Health.

CRIME RATE UP-Col. Wilson Speir, Department of Public Safety director, says Texas' crime rate for the first six months of 1969 was 7.7 per cent higher than the comparable period in 1968.

Major crimes increased in all categories except murder and homicide, where the rate declined 8.8 per cent.

Greatest increase was in robbery...up 31.2 per cent. Aggravated assaults increased 20.9 per cent, auto theft 14.8 per cent, burglary 9.7 per cent, rapes 7.2 per cent and thefts 3.9 per cent.

Urban areas experienced the greatest increase-8.5 per cent. In rural areas, the average hike was less than one per cent. In cities over 100,000, the increase was almost nine per cent. In those from 50,000 to 100,000, increase was 7.1 per cent and in cities of 25,000 to 50,000, 18.8 per cent.

Crime clearance rates for the period was 27 per cent...the same as 1968. Clearance rates for murders was 84 per cent, for rapes 66 per cent and robbery 39 per cent.

Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi introduced the resolution (and resubmitted it to the second called session) charging that Sadler misled a House committee inquiring about his handling of salvage operations on ancient Spanish ships which sank off Padre Island more than 400 years ago.

Sadler, appearing before the House rules committee, admitted his original testimony on the issue was evasive and misleading. However, he claimed his tactics were necessary because of the delicate nature of the subject under inquiry.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL SPEAKS-Sale of any alcoholic beverage in Calhoun County Precinct 3 is prohibited under local option vote, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said in opinion requested by County Attorney William M. Day.

In an opinion for the guidance of Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar, Martin clarified securities authorized for school depository funds.

In a third opinion, Martin said that a new law does not defire the practice of psychology as a branch of the healing art.

ROAD PROGRAM APPROVED - State Highway Department has approved a $52 million highway safety and farm to market road improvement program for 1970.

Projects include construction work on 6,373 miles, to cost $51.2 million; and right of way and relocation assistance totaling $94.7 million. Some $871,000 was reserved for later assignment.

About 55 per cent of the work will be on state and U. S.-numbered highways. Forty five per cent is assigned to Texas' farm to market road system.

Most of the work will serve to increase safety on the highways, and a large portion will go to reconstruction.

SECURITIES - Truman G. Holladay, deputy securities commissioner, says the State Securities Board has issued a cease and desist order against Pace International, Inc. of Austin (known as Paceco), prohibiting the sale of securities in Texas. He charged that the company had never been registered, as is required by law, with the board.

William King, securities commissioner, also announced that Wayne C. Davison has pleaded guilty to charges that he sold unregistered securities. King was sentenced in Harris County to three years in prison and a given a probated sentence. One of the conditions of the probation is that Davison is to make full restitution to the investors.

HAULING JURISDICTION - Railroad Commission has agreed to let more than 100 oilfield haulers pool their efforts to get a broader authority for hauling. The 100 companies are asking the Railroad Commission to expand their jurisdiction to include hauling of any "iron and steel articles." If jurisdiction is granted, any oilfield hauler could carry any iron or steel material.

Common carriers, who have jurisdiction to haul anything, and oilfield haulers with side jurisdiction to haul iron and steel are opposing the application.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE - That "no transfer" rule of the University Interscholastic League will be the subject of an interim House study. During the first special session of the Legislature, Rep. Bill Swanson of Houston gained passage of a resolution calling for the study.

Swanson said the UIL thinks there should be some appeal of the one-year bar for athletes who change schools, so the committee will look for an acceptable means.

SHORT SNORTS - Agriculture Department has given Rio Grande Valley cotton farmers in Cameron, Willacy and Starr counties until September 15 to clear fields of stalks under the pink bollworm control program.

Attorney General Martin says he will go to Washington to oppose that section of tax bill now being considered by a U. S. Senate committee that would remove the exempt status of municipal bonds.

Governor Smith named Austin banker John Simeon Burns to Board of Sale of Judgments Against Insolvency.

Artificial Reef Added To Gulf

Port Aransas - Fishermen are already reporting large schools of fish near an artificial reef which was sunk just a few weeks ago, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Four old barges, each measuring 110 feet by 30 feet by seven feet, were sunk in 72 feet of water August 16.

The new reef is located at 27 degrees, 41 minutes, five seconds north latitude and 96 degrees, 58 minutes, five seconds west longitude. This is 6 1/4 nautical miles on a magnetic heading of 177 degrees of the Whistler buoy, or 9 1/4 miles on a magnetic heading of 149 degrees of the end of the Port Aransas jetty.

Appeal Made For Discarded Eye Glasses

Don't throw away old eyeglasses and sun glasses. These can be used to provide the precious gift to sight to the needy who cannot afford it in this country and areas of the free world.

Ocie Hunt of Sweetwater, Texas, is collecting eyeglasses and sun glasses to send to New Eyes for Needy, a non-profit, nonsectarian volunteer organization whose sole purpose is to help provide better vision for the poor the world over.

New Eyes is endorsed by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Fight for Sight, Inc. and the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology.

Over half a million people have been helped in this way by New Eyes. Metal framed glasses and metal scrap are sold to a refinery and the redeemed cash is used to purchase new prescription glasses and artificial eyes for the needy in the United States, such persons being screened patients to whom no other private or public funds are available.

Upon specific requests, New Eyes ships re-usable glasses to such areas of the free world as the Philippines, France, Oman, Arabia, Labrador, India, Africa and South America, through medical missions. Sun glasses are sent to leper colonies—to help those poor devils bear their afflictions.

Any individual or organization wishing to contribute to this worthwhile cause may send the glasses and other items by parcel post (best) to Ocie Hunt, 105 West 3rd, Sweetwater, Texas 79556

Wrap glasses individually, or put them in soft cases and then in a sturdy box. Please include a return address, including your zip code number, so your package can be acknowledged.

Sen. Tower Reports

Much Legislation Work Lies Ahead For Congressmen and Senators

The Senate will reconvene in the next few days and again get back to its daily work of legislation.

The pending business is still the military procurement bill but I am hopeful that passage will come with comparative speed. You will recall that this is the bill which contains funds for research and initial deployment of the Safeguard Anti-Ballistic Missile system which proved to be such a controversial issue shortly before the Congressional recess. We were able to withstand a concerted attack, although by a narrow margin, and the Safeguard system was approved. I expect the House to give its approval by a much larger vote. The bill contains authorizations for all the many defense department programs. Some of these are also somewhat controversial and that is why the bill is still under Senate consideration.

The Senate will be spending much of its time during the remainder of this year in consideration and passage of the fiscal 1970 appropriation bills which will provide the actual funds to carry on the work authorized in earlier legislation. There are at least a dozen of these bills each year and thus far the Senate has acted on only two of them.

Of vital interest to us all will be the Congressional action on recommendations for changes in our federal income tax system.

Before Congress recessed, the House passed a tax reform bill which called for reduction of the oil depletion allowance, which is so vital to the interests of all Texans, to 20 per cent. I am opposed to that reduction and when the bill comes before the Senate, I will support restoration of the full 27½ per cent depletion allowance for oil. The bill is now before the Senate's Finance Committee and is expected to be reported to the full Senate by October 31.

Other provisions of the House passed legislation include a reduction in individual taxes for most of us, a reduction in the number of tax-free foundations, a tax increase for most upper income taxpayers, and extension of the surtax from January 1 to June 30 but at a rate of only five per cent. Congress has already extended the surtax at the current 10 per cent rate through the end of this year. President Nixon had asked Congress for extension through this year at the 10 per cent rate and then another six months at five per cent. I believe it is vital that Congress provide the administration with this necessary tool in our efforts to combat inflation and keep this nation's economy healthy.

The tax bill, as passed by the House, would also affect the current tax advantage offered to purchasers of state and municipal bonds as an incentive which benefits local taxpayers. The current law provides tax free interest on state and municipal bonds. This allows state and local governments to sell their revenue bonds at interest rates which are lower than the rates offered by other competing investment possibilities.

In turn these lower interest rates help guard against increases in state and local taxes. This is why I favor continuation of the current tax-free status for interest on state and municipal bonds. The bill approved by the House would retain this tax-free interest provision but it includes language which will encourage state and local governments to issue bonds with taxable interest through provision of a federal subsidy. The language also discourages the purchase of bonds producing a total interest of more than $5,000 annually by any single individual.

Another piece of important legislation which I hope will gain passage as soon as possible

West Texas Antelope Aerial Census Complete

San Angelo — The aerial census of the adult West Texas antelope population is complete, says Jack Parsons, wildlife supervisor for the Region I area. It shows a slight increase in the Trans-Pecos and very light decreases in the Permian Basin and Panhandle.

Fawn counts are in progress and project leaders report early evidence of a good count in most areas except for a few isolated ranges affected by drought.

Tom Hailey, in the Trans-Pecos, tallied 7,523 adult animals, an increase of about 200 from last year. In the Permian Basin, George Litton estimates a slight decrease of about seven per cent for a present total of approximately 2,085.

Dick DeArment, in the Panhandle, has come up with a very slight decrease. The tally for this year was 2,760 animals, only a token change from the previous year.

"Where Eagles Dare"

Except for Elizabeth Taylor, they came to ski. Instead, visitors to Austria's famed snow resort at Ebensee recently were startled to see:

Three men fighting wildly atop an Alpine cable car as it swung precariously 1,000 feet in the air . . .

Four people leap from a cable car into a river some 70 feet below . . .

The same car, moments later, explodes and crash in pieces to the ground.

The would-be skiers found Ebensee virtually turned upside down, and no way available for them to reach the coveted high slopes above. But they found other compensating interests. In Ebensee's cosy little inn and on its narrow, icy streets they had an opportunity to mingle with stars they'd only been privileged to see before on motion picture screens.

Like them, Elizabeth Taylor was a visitor on vacation. But her husband, Richard Burton, along with Clint Eastwood, Mary Ure and a dozen featured players were on hand to work. As the stars in an unusually large motion picture troupe, sometimes numbering as many as 324, Burton, Eastwood and Miss Ure were in Ebensee and other parts of the Austrian Alps to film MGM's adventure drama, "Where Eagles Dare."

Marla Naomi Weems, Clarence Jake Young Married At Southside Church

Marla Naomi Weems became the bride of Clarence Jake Young, when they recited their marriage vows Saturday at the Southside Baptist Church at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. The bride is the daughter of Johnny Weems and Mrs. Annetta Heathcott and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Young.

The Rev. Virgil James, pastor of the church, officiated for the ceremony before the altar decorated with an arrangement of white gladiolas and pom poms in tall floor basket, flanked by candelabra holding lighted tapers.

Nuptial music was played by Randy Stevens, organist, who also accompanied David Sherman, soloist.

The bride, presented in marriage by her father, wore a gown of organza and chantilly lace trimmed with pearls. The chapel train was attached by a bow in the back and chantilly lace edged her mantilla. She carried a bouquet of white daisy poms and gamellias atop a white Bible.

Her attendants were her aunt, Shelih Kraatz, maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Gayla Foster of Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, Sandy Graves of San Angelo, Ginger Gibbs and Ginger Fairey. Flower girl was Barbara Henderson and Wayne Kraatz of Garland was ring bearer.

The maid of honor wore a jade green peau de soie with empire bodice and bell sleeves. The bridesmaids wore gowns fashioned identically of jade, green and yellow colors. They each carried a large yellow mum.

Glenn Young of Jacksboro served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Carl Young of San Angelo, brother of the bridegroom, Jerry Sudduth, Edwin Tischler, Charles Drake and Bo Killough.

The bride is a junior in Winters high school.

Mr. Young is a graduate of Winters High School and attends Angelo State University. He is employed by Dry Manufacturing Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Young will live at 712 West Roberts in Winters.

Farm Terraces Worth Millions To Economy

Parallel terraces on farms throughout the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District will be worth a million dollars to our economy, according to Woodrow Hoffman of the local Soil Conservation Service. He said the recent rains which spread from terrace to terrace will produce this much extra cotton and late maize.

Farmers this past year, he said, built almost enough—183 miles—parallel terraces, if they were in one terrace, to reach from Ballinger to Fort Worth.

Hoffman said the parallel terraces have proved to be so much better than the old contour style terrace that only 38 miles of these were built for the same period.

Why is this? Hoffman said the main reason is that parallel terraces are much easier to farm, because they have 50 to 75 percent fewer point rows than the old style terraces. And too, the water spreads out further away from a parallel terrace because no hole is dug next to it to build the terrace ridge.

Like anything that is better, Hoffman said, parallel terraces cost more to build.

New Prairie Dog Town For Palo Duro State Park

Canyon — Palo Duro State Park near here has a new tourist attraction in the form of a prairie dog town with 16 occupants, live-trapped, from MacKenzie State Park in Lubbock.

The animals are in an enclosure of 2500 square feet, one from which they should have more than a little trouble escaping. The pen is constructed of heavy-gauge, 1-inch mesh chain link fencing, bordered with treated rustic cedar posts. Regional Parks Director, Bob Hauer of San Angelo says the fence is deceptive in that four feet of it is above ground and four feet buried to contain the burrowing animals.

Construction of the pen is beside the famed Sad Monkey Railroad, the scenic train that winds its way through the rugged park canyons.

4-H'ers Have Own Way With Foods

By Margarite McNally

Special — All-American know-how is a phrase long applied to science, technology, farming, merchandising and industry. Now it's applied to 4-H. As a matter of fact it is the theme of a special cook book used by 4-H members, volunteer leaders and Extension Service home economists.

The colorful learn-to-cook manual, All-American Foods, features all-American know-how dating back to the Pilgrims. The table of contents lists "adventure" foods such as Pecos Bill burgers, Yankee snickerdoodles, Squanto's beans, Jambalaya, and Bunyan-style breakfast.

All-American Foods is the second of a series of three "learn-by-doing" books published for youngsters enrolled in the national 4-H Food-Nutrition program supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service and supported by General Foods Corporation.

The first one titled Tricks for Treats, reveals "magic tricks" that help even the beginner master kitchen tools and techniques. The third book, Meals for Today—the Easy Way—will be ready in late Fall of this year.

The three imaginative illustrated books appeal to the eye, arouse enough curiosity about the recipes to try them, and make the learning process fun and rewarding.

Each unit covers six basic facets of food consumption: nutrition, preparation techniques, selection and buying, efficient management, serving, and food science.

The youngsters learn to cook, bake, prepare and serve lip-smacking dishes loaded with nutrients needed by growing boys and girls. They'll be eating what they like, and liking foods they require.

General Foods provides more "nodies. Annual awards of six $600 scholarships go to teenage members who have completed the most outstanding food-nutrition projects in the nation. Fifty teens can look forward to a trip to Chicago and the 48th National 4-H Congress held right after Thanksgiving. Travel and other expenses will be paid by the sponsor.

Scores of beginner cooks thru out the state will be presented with the food-nutrition medal of honor. Medal winners from coast-to-coast this year are expected to reach a record 10,000, estimates a 4-H spokesman.

The foods project is one of the most popular among the 4-H national programs, having an enrollment last year of some 644,000 young chefs between the ages of 9 and 19. Thousands of volunteer adult leaders help them with their projects.

introduced. The six-man game was taken up by groups such as small schools and intramural teams. Most of these groups had been unable to field an eleven-man team due to the number of boys in their organization.

Six-man football was introduced into the Interscholastic League program in 1938. The first year the program was under League sponsorship, six teams participated in the six man program. Six-man football was followed by eight-man football, which came into the League in 1958. Forty-eight teams participated during the initial year in eight-man football. There are presently 102 schools playing six-and eight-man football.

Prior to formal acceptance of football in the League, the football schools played any sort of team they could find—social clubs, commercial colleges, college freshmen, college ineligible and second teams of colleges. After formal acceptance, incidents are noted where teachers and many other non-students participated on league teams. Until the present Transfer Rule was initiated in 1931 there was wholesale recruiting in many schools prior to 1931. The starting eleven played at other schools the preceding year.

The early football plan called for not more than six games and no less than four games in determining a district championship. Unless otherwise agreed upon, the referee and head-linesman were selected by the home school, and the umpire was selected by the visiting team.

Every state has a similar organization for football for its high schools. The membership of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, a national organization, consists of the 50 states and several provinces in Canada and Puerto Rico. Each of these states and provinces has

Wingate Gator Tops Club Met Tuesday In Humble Rec Hall

The Wingate Gator Tops held their regular meeting Tuesday, September 2, at the Humble Recreation Hall.

Mrs. Wayne Owen was this week's queen. Members present were Mrs. M. E. Donica, Mrs. Richard Beck, Mrs. Alpheus Hill, Mrs. W. O. Middleton, Mrs. Joe Bryan, Mrs. Pat Pritchard, Mrs. James Williams and Mrs. George Cave.

a well-organized football program. Each has similar eligibility rules, and playing rules differ only slightly.

Did you hear the one about the absent-minded professor. It was not that the science professor was a deliberate long-hair. He simply forgot that barbers existed until accidentally reminded. This meant that haircuts might be anywhere from three weeks to three months apart.

His students organized a betting pool. Each time his hair became long enough to need a trim, a jar and a piece of paper were placed on a table in a quarter, sign his name and guess the date for the next haircut.

The professor was greatly puzzled by the mysterious jar and list which appeared, disappeared, then reappeared a few weeks later. Reacting to his scientific training he began to keep notes and after several months the light dawned.

He walked up to the table, deposited a quarter, wrote his name and the date, went to the barbershop, and returned to collect the pot.

Miss Paula Smith and Lt. Larry Rives Married Saturday Evening in Lufkin

Marriage vows were solemnized for Miss Paula Frances Smith and Lt. Larry Hill Rives at seven o'clock Saturday evening in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church in Lufkin. The Rev. Dr. Stewart Clendenin officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony before a candlelit altar flanked by large arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and pom poms. A candelabra arch was placed in the center of the altar with an arrangement of greenery in front of the candles. The setting was complemented with three pairs of candelabra placed on either side of the altar in pyramidal form holding long white burning tapers interspersed with greenery.

A prie-dieu, covered with white satin, was placed in front of the altar. White satin bows marked the pews for the families of the bride and bridegroom. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Selden Smith of 1111 South First Street. A 1966 graduate of Lufkin Senior High School, she received a BA degree in mathematics, with very high honors, from the University of Texas in August where she was a member of Alpha Phi sorority, Freshman Council; a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, scholastic honorary and House of Delegates. Also Upperclass Dormitory Advisor; Phi Beta Kinsolving, dormitory honorary; Delta Upsilon Little Sister and Pi Lambda Theta, honorary. She was elected in her senior year to Phi Beta Kappa honorary society.

Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Rives of Winters, Texas, are parents of the bridegroom. After graduation from Winters high school in 1965, he attended the University of Texas where he received a BA degree in psychology. He was a member of Delta Upsilon Fraternity, Reserve Officers Training Corps, Praetorian Guard and Scabbard and Blade. He is a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army.

Master Robert N. Havard, Jr., of Colorado Springs, Colorado, and Master Chris Davis of Waco, nephew and cousin of the bride, served as acolytes.

The prelude and traditional wedding music was provided by Mrs. Pauline Barbay at the organ.

After pre-nuptial selections, Miss Nan Massingill, soloist, sang "The Wedding Prayer" by Dunlap and "The Greatest of These is Love" by Bitgood. Mrs. Barbay rendered "Trumpet Voluntary" by Henry Purcell as the bridesmaids advanced to the chancel. "Mendelssohn March" from "Midsummer Night's Dream" was played for the recessional.

As Lohengrin's "Wedding March" was played, the bride was escorted to the chancel by her father, who gave her in marriage. She was lovely in her gown of pale ivory silk peau de soie. Venice lace collared the high neckline and edged the short sleeves of the fitted bodice. A delightful band of lace encircled the waistline and was repeated at the hem of the semi-full skirt. Her detachable train carried wide and full to chapel length. The elbow length veil of soft ivory silk illusion fell from a tiara sprinkled with seed pearls, rhinestones and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet fashioned of white gladioli centered with a white cymbidium orchid, from which fell a shower of lilies of the valley and white satin streamers tied in love knots.

Mrs. Robert N. Havard of Colorado Springs, Colorado, attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were the bridegroom's sister, Miss Kay Lynn Rives of Winters, Miss Margaret Griffin and Mrs. D. L. Schmile of Houston.

The honor attendants were gowned alike in formal slim sleeved dresses of sea kist fantastic. The high rise waistline was underscored with a reverse self band sash marked by a French bow and featured a self ruffle around a scooped neckline. They wore matching bows of silk and tulle as headpieces.

The present bouquet carried by Mrs. Havard and the bridesmaids' nosegays were fashioned of identical champagne carnations combined with blush satin ribbons and tulle.

Mr. Terry Hill Rives of Winters served as his brother's best man. The groomsmen were Mr. Robert S. Smith, Jr., of Houston, brother of the bride, Mr. Ricky Robinson and Mr. Reid Stoecker, both of Winters. Ushers were Mr. Mike Ellis of Brownwood and Mr. Doug Bennett of Woodville.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Smith chose a gown of champagne all-over embroidery on imported cotton voile over all silk with rhinestone buttons. Matching accessories complemented her costume.

Mrs. Rives selected a princess style pale yellow imported embroidered cotton gown for her son's wedding. Her silver beaded pill-box hat with veil completed her ensemble.

Both mothers wore corsages of orchids.

Director of the wedding was Mrs. Bayo Hopper.

Mrs. Pauline Barbay provided music for the reception which was held in the church parlor immediately following the ceremony.

Guests were greeted at the door and presented to the wedding party. The bride's table was laid with a white tablecloth overlaid with white net. Silver candelabra and an arrangement of white chrysanthemums centered the table. The silver punch service and four-tiered wedding cake, crowned with the traditional bride and groom, were placed at each end of the table.

The cake was served by Mrs. Robert E. Smith, Jr., of Houston, sister-in-law of the bride. Miss Frances Thompson presided at the punch bowl.

The groom's table covered with a beige linen cloth was centered with a five-branched brass candelabra holding tall yellow tapers. The cake and a brass coffee server completed the setting at each end of the table.

Mrs. Jim Bell of Winters served the cake, and Miss Linda Moore of Dallas poured at the coffee service.

Miss Sharon Havard of Colorado Springs, Colorado, niece of the bride, registered guests at the bride's book where her bouquet adorned the table.

Rice bags were passed to guests at the reception by Misses Cindy Davidson of Austin, cousin of the bride, LeeAnn Brookshire and Karla Smithhart.

Other members of the house party who served at the reception included Mmes. W. H. Johnston, Keith Perry, Fred Griffin, Glenn Perry, Claude Smithhart, Eugene Brookshire, Robert L. Poland, C. J. Schuller, L. A. Little, John Shofner, Pitser Garrison, Lloyd Moore, and K. C. MacKenzie. Also Mmes. Finis Gibbs, Wilber Kent, Sumner Williams, Louis Renfrow, Miss Marilyn Burke, Miss Margo Miller of Midland, Mrs. Bernard Glade and Miss Llewellyn Little.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Guadalajara and Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, Mrs. Rives was wearing a navy blue wool dress with pleats falling low on the skirt. A long printed silk scarf accented her ensemble. Her accessories were blue, and she wore the white orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

They will reside in Petersburg, Virginia, where Lt. Rives will be stationed with the Quartermaster Corps at the Fort Lee Army Post.
