HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Thanksgiving Day is almost here again. General observance will take place on November 27. As we sit down to our turkey or ham on this day of thanks, we should pause for a moment to visualize the first Thanksgiving of that small band of Pilgrims huddled in the forests of a bleak American wilderness on the threshold of winter. Measured by today's affluence, comfort and expectancies, their prospects were something less than hopeless. If they became ill, they died or got well. There were no health services and no medicare or Medicaid. There was no transportation. There was no handy source of supplies such as the corner supermarket. There was no benevolent board, bureau or government agency to fall back on. There were no consumer protectors. In short, there was no succor from any direction. There was only the wilderness, the Indians and a continent full of opportunities awaiting those with enough courage and initiative to face the unknown. As a glance at history will show, there were plenty of those who possessed that courage and initiative; and we are all realizing the results.

Upon second thought, the Pilgrims did indeed have much for which to be thankful. As we sit down to our Thanksgiving repast, we should not only give thanks, we should ask ourselves if we are really worthy of the heritage that began with the Pilgrims.

As this is being written, the two crewmen of Apollo 12 have re-entered their space vehicle after a couple of hours of walking on the surface of the moon and setting up experiment equipment. Unfortunately, the color television camera which they had set up failed to function, and the only description of their first walk on the moon was by word of mouth, via radio.

This is the second manned moon landing, and as such has become "old hat" in many respects, and has not carried with it the high rate of suspense, the glamour and newness as did the first in July, although the unknowns faced, and the inherent dangers of such a flight have been ever present and are just as great in this second journey as were those in the first. The first flight did, however, provide information and experience which would naturally make the second just a bit easier. Too, events and the success of previous space flights, and the tedious preparations made by NASA for these space excursions have caused us all to take for granted that all would go well.

By saying this moon landing is "old hat" is not intended to take from the event one bit of excitement and credit, and it does not mean that people are not interested. They are. But most have not been so excited as they were during the first flight—after all, it's been done before, so why get worked up about it? It simply explains the adventurous appetite of man—after eating to fill of one such adventure, man is ready for something new—it's human nature. A grade school youngster probably pinpointed this attitude when urged to "come watch the spacecraft launched," and "come see the beautiful pictures of the moon," and replied, "Oh, I've seen it before."

This attitude, of course, does not lessen the importance of this project, nor the deep unseen and unsaid interest in the moon flight on the part of most everyone—except, perhaps those who selfishly see no prompt and direct benefit to themselves.

It has been stated by many, some of whom should realize the important results of such projects, that the money spent for the space program could be better spent to help relieve the poverty pressure, could build schools, and could do no end of good things for mankind. None of us living at this time probably will ever know the total benefits which will derive from the space program. It would be next to impossible to name them, for many of them probably have never even been thought of to this time. But the benefits already realized are substantial, and are indicative

Christmas Parade Set December 6

The annual Christmas program sponsored by the Winters Chamber of Commerce will begin with a Kids' Christmas Parade Saturday, December 6. Other activities will be held later during the month, according to Mrs. Emma Marks, secretary-treasurer of the chamber.

The Kids' Christmas Parade will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday, December 6. In the afternoon of the same day, a "hay money scramble" will be held for kids through 12 years of age. The money scramble will be held on the Winters State Bank parking lot.

The Winters High School Band and the Junior High School band will march in the parade. Santa Claus also will be in the parade, riding a pony-drawn sleigh. A high school coral group also will ride in the parade, and give a performance.

A total of $95 in cash prizes will be offered for the Kids' Parade, for winners in four divisions. Age limit for entry in the parade will be 12 years old. The four parade divisions will be:

—Costume group of three or more children: First prize, $25; second prize, $15, and third, $10.

—Single child, costume: Prizes, $7.50, $5, $2.50.

—Best decorated bicycle: $7.50, $5, $2.50.

—Best decorated tricycle or wagon: $7.50, $5, $2.50.

The parade will begin promptly at 10 a.m. Saturday, December 6. Marching units will be formed on the parking lot a half-block off Main Street on West Parsonage Street.

Immediately after the parade, free sleigh rides will be given children 10 and under, in the parking lot. Members of the Junior Culture Club will supervise this event of the Christmas program.

MONEY SCRAMBLE
At 3 p.m. the "hay money scramble" will be held for children 1 to 10 years of age. This event will be divided into two groups, the first group for children through five years old, and the second for children 6 to 10. $50 in silver will be scattered in hay scattered over the parking lot, and the kids will scramble for it. Marshall Wharton and F. R. (Phil) Anderson will have charge of this event.

DECEMBER 19
The second big day of the Christmas program will be Friday, December 19. On that day,

Farm-City Week Designated By President Nixon

President Nixon has designated the week of November 21-28, 1969, as National Farm City Week, according to Woodrow Hoffman, District Conservationist, of the Soil Conservation Service.

Hoffman said, in so doing, he urged all Americans to participate in the observance as a means of better understanding the significant interdependence of urban and rural America.

The President pointed out that as our society becomes more complex, it grows more interdependent. For example, agriculture serves as a 50 billion dollar customer for our economy. The marketing and processing of food and fiber provide almost 5 million non-farm jobs and a 25 billion dollar annual payroll.

President Nixon particularly urged the Department of Agriculture and appropriate organizations to carry out programs to mark National Farm-City week.

Although there will be no contests this year for home decorations, residents are being urged by the Chamber of Commerce to decorate their homes and premises in the Christmas motif.

Also, clubs and organizations again are being urged to decorate vacant downtown store windows for the holidays.

Roy Young Sells Service Station To Virgil Awalt

Roy Young, who has owned and operated the Gulf Service station on North Main Street for 33 years, has sold the station to Virgil Awalt, he announced this week. The change-over took place Tuesday.

Change in ownership coincides with a change in oil company representation, Awalt said. Effective Tuesday, the service station no longer is a Gulf dealership, but will be an Enco station, handling Humble Oil Co. products.

Young, who was reared in Winters, became a Gulf dealer March 1, 1936, coming from San Angelo. He has had a station in the same location during all those years. The original station, built many years ago, was torn down in 1962 and a new station built to handle today's automobiles.

Awalt has operated a service station in Wingate for 10 years. During most of that time he was an Enco dealer, until the station changed to Shell several months ago.

School Trustees Name Textbook Committee

The board of trustees of Winters Independent School District in the regular board meeting Tuesday of last week named a textbook committee from the faculty of the school.

Committee members are Carroll Tatom, superintendent of schools, chairman; B. J. Joyce, high school principal; George Beard, elementary and junior high principal; and Clifford Hill, Robert Statham, Maurine Burroughs, Weldon Middleton, David Coffman, Jerry Gibson, Mary Louise Bauer, Ruthie Beard, Marthiel Russell, Doris Stocker, Betty Byrns and George Davis.

The board also saw a report of gate receipts from football games this year, and a comparison with 1968, through eight games. Receipts for 1969 were a bit below those for the same period of the previous year, $3,798.13, against $4,345.78 for 1968. These totals do not include the receipts for the Ballinger and the Coleman games; reports were not complete for the Ballinger Game at the time of the meeting, and the Coleman game was not played until Friday following the meeting.

Measles Vaccine Program Friday

An immunization clinic to vaccinate all children ages 1 through 10 against German or three-day measles (rubella) will be held at the Winters School cafeteria Friday afternoon, November 21.

The project is being sponsored by the Winters Lions Club.

This vaccine is a different type than was given in the Head Start program and in the program last February, it has been explained. The earlier program was for the regular type measles, and children who received that vaccine should also be given this vaccine for the German or three-day measles.

The clinic will be held from 1:30 to 4 p.m. Special registration forms, which must be signed by parents or guardians, have been given to all school children in the 1-10 age bracket, to be taken home and signed and returned. Registration forms also are printed in this issue of The Enterprise. Parents of pre-school children may obtain the forms at the clinic or use the one reproduced.

School children will be taken to the cafeteria by classes; parents may take younger children at any time during the clinic hours.

P. O. To Close On Thanksgiving

The Post Office will be closed all day Thursday, November 27, Thanksgiving Day.

Box mail will be distributed, but city and rural routes will not run. Postmaster H. M. (Jiggs) Nichols said. The windows will be closed.

Mail Early To Avoid Rush And Disappointment

"Don't take a chance on disappointing someone you love. Send your gift parcels and cards early enough to insure their delivery before Christmas, not after," Postmaster H. M. (Jiggs) Nichols has advised.

"On the day after Christmas a post office building can be the most depressing place in the world," Nichols added, "If it still contains a mountain of messages of love and cheer that didn't make it because they were mailed too late."

Such disappointments can be avoided if Christmas mailers will observe a mailing schedule, Nichols said.

Gift parcels going to distant states should be mailed by December 1. Parcels going to local and nearby areas should be mailed not later than December 13.

The name and address of both the sender and addressee should be enclosed in each gift parcel to permit identity in case of damage or loss of the outside address label. The outside label should be placed only on one side on each parcel.

Greeting cards going to distant states should be mailed not later than December 10. Cards going to local and nearby areas should be mailed by December 15.

Postmaster Nichols also emphasized the importance of using ZIP codes and adding a return address to all Christmas mail. It only takes a couple of extra seconds, but pays big dividends.

ZIP Codes enable postal employees to sort and handle the mail faster. A return address insures that the mail that can't be delivered because of an illegible or incomplete mailing address will be returned to the sender.

"A return address might not seem very important," Nichols noted, "but last year over 32 billion pieces of mail went to postal dead letter branches because the mailing address couldn't be read and there was no return address on the envelope. If you estimate the worth of each of these pieces at twenty-five cents, including postage, postal customers lost over $7.5 billion last year to dead letter offices. And none of this would have happened if the envelopes had contained a return address."

1444 Bales To Warehouse

Ras Gideon, manager of Winters Warehouse Co., reported Tuesday morning that 1444 bales of cotton had been brought in from North Runnels County gins.

Light showers over the area slowed harvest somewhat, but winds and sunshine the first of this week were drying cotton fields so that mechanical pickers can return to the fields. High winds Tuesday morning were hindering those who were stripping into open trailers, but pickers with baskets could operate without much difficulty.

It is expected that with fair weather, gins in the area will be working at capacity within a few days.

Baptist Youth To Have Grid Game Sunday

AUSTIN—Gov. Preston Smith turned from reading political polls to Indian signs last week and came up with a proposal for a new park in the Amistad Reservoir area near Del Rio. Smith made a day-long inspection by air, car and boat, primarily to view 8,000-year-old Indian pictographs in Seminole canyon. Impressed, the governor said the area must be developed as a recreation site and necessary steps taken immediately to protect primitive art from elements and vandals. Smith said he personally favored state park development but noted that legislation already has been introduced to create Amistad National Recreation Area covering some 63,000 acres of land and water. Parks and Wildlife Department Director J. R. Singleton said state funds could come from future sale of bonds from the $75 million Texas recreation and park development bond program. However, Singleton favors waiting on federal action to establish a national recreation area and determination of funds that U. S. agencies will provide for access roads and other facilities. Smith said he plans to consult with Singleton and request the PWD chief to call appropriate state department heads together at an early date to explore the state's role in area development.

CRIME AND NARCOTICS
An anti-crime and narcotics education package is being drawn up by the Texas Education Agency for classroom use beginning in September, 1970. Detailed proposals for a statewide attack on crime and narcotics will be drafted. State Board of Education has authorized the agency to develop proposals requesting funds through the federal Juvenile Delinquency Prevention and Control Act of 1968, plus state and private sources. Program was initiated by the 61st Legislature, which directed the agency to develop "a course on the evils of crime and narcotics" which will be required of all students. Next planning step will bring 100 educators and other interested persons together in Austin for the first National Leadership Methods Laboratory on crime and narcotics. Laboratory will be directed by R. T. "Sonny" Davis, Austin attorney. Scope of the problem the legislature is trying to solve is illustrated with the latest figures compiled by the Department of Public Safety. During February through August, 1969, a total of 1,035 students in Texas in the 11 to 18-year-old bracket were arrested on narcotics and drug charges. This includes 519 arrests for possession of marijuana, 243 for dangerous drugs, and 273 for narcotics.

COURTS SPEAK
Harsh editorial criticism of a university professor's anti-war demonstration activities did not constitute libel, since the man was a public figure subject to criticism, Supreme Court has held. A Corpus Christi contractor must pay $127,700 damages to the widow and children of a man killed in collision with one of the firm's heavy highway construction machine units, high court said. In other recent decisions, court concluded that: —A new hearing should be granted in the state's suit for more than $10,000 in telephone taxes from a McAllen firm which installs and services auto telephones. —No commission is owed a newspaper broker who said he had arranged for the sale of two Corsicana newspapers, since he had no written contract.

HOSPITAL FUNDS APPROVED
Texas' Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation has approved more than $6.3 million in new construction projects. Included is $1.5 million for Corpus Christi State School, phase 3; Lubbock State School, $915,000, phase 3; and Richmond State School, $2.5 million, phase 3. Major expansions at three schools will provide 766 beds for retarded. Additional projects will be at Big Spring State Hospital, Rusk State Hospital, Vernon Center, Wichita Falls State Hospital and San Angelo Center. Wichita Falls, Plainview and Midland received first-year grants for community MH-MR centers.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES
Deposit-type accounts may be accepted by state-chartered savings and loan associations under the Texas Savings and Loan Act, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held. In other recent opinions Martin ruled that: —A county depository contract is not assignable by a liquidator of a defunct bank to a successor bank, and successor First State Bank of Aransas Pass, therefore, is not subject to terms of a depository contract with a defunct bank. —Texas Board of Licensure for Nursing Home Administrators consists of seven appointed members and two ex-officio members, completing nine-member boards. Members appointed to this board and the State Board of Examiners for Psychologists serve for two years except for initial appointees. —Ex-officio members of the Texas Civil Judicial Council do not hold separate and distinct offices. Terms of appointive members are six years, one third appointed every two years.

MILITARY LIQUOR SALES EYED
Liquor Control Board is reassessing its tax collection-enforcement limitations on federal military posts, apparently with intentions of increasing state revenues. LCB ordered a staff study to determine those posts on which state jurisdiction has been yielded and those which have not. Members seemed to have an eye on collecting the state's new five cents-a-drink service charge at clubs on military bases. At the same meeting, Board turned down for the present the idea of a master club card which would create a system of guest reciprocity in participating private clubs. Proponents were offered a chance to get an attorney general's opinion on the subject, however, if they would officially request a permit in writing. MEDICAL ASSISTANCE UNIT TO FUNCTION State Department of Public Welfare's first medical assistance unit will begin field operations from San Antonio December 1, serving a vast 48-county area of South Texas. Team, headed by a doctor, will have responsibility for medical review and utilization review of services provided by physicians, nursing homes and state institutions participating in Medicaid. Unit will also offer consultation to nursing homes on patient care and social services and medical record keeping. Its consultation services will be available to state mental hospitals and schools for retarded. Unit is due to be the prototype for similar services in 16 welfare regions.

as bus with players on the way to practice. Texas beer sales rose 6.7 percent for the first nine months of 1969, but the Liquor Control Board reported an October decline in its overall tax take from $5 million to 4.1 million for month. APPOINTMENTS Gov. Preston Smith appointed Hidalgo County Court-at-law Judge J. R. Alamia of Edinburg to serve as 92nd District Judge until the next general election. He succeeds the late Judge Tom L. Hartley. Smith also made these selections: State Antiquities Committee—Dr. W. C. Holden of Lubbock and Dr. Fred Wendorf of Dallas. Good Neighbor Commission—Mrs. James Day of Brookshire, Earl William Gammage of Houston and James Weldon Thomas of Dallas. Polygraph Examiners Board—Henry LeBroze of Austin. ## Support Your Local Sheriff

Gold, we are often reminded, is where you find it, and when Prudy Perkins, the Mayor's little girl finds it in a grave but recently dug to receive the remains of the guest-of-honor at a recent boot hill necktie party, things start moving with zest and vigor.

The result is Cherokee Production's hilarious "Support Your Local Sheriff" which United Artists, A Transamerica Corporation, bring to the State Theatre in Color by DeLuxe Fri, Sat., and Sun.

It stars James Garner in the top role, and its stellar cast included Joan Hackett as the mayor's little girl aforesaid, and Walter Brennan, Harry Morgan and Jack Elam are co-starred in support.

Handsome Garner essays the role of the sheriff in the title, the role in fact which caused William Bowers to call his highly successful story "The Sheriff" when it first appeared in print. Bowers adapted his story for the screen and was also the producer of the picture which was directed by Burt Kennedy.

While still a frequent and popular performer in pictures, Garner has been most recently engaged in putting his production company Cherokee on the road, and his present vehicle is his first fully independent venture under that banner.

"Support Your Local Sheriff" also marks a giant step forward for lovely Joan Hackett. Already regarded as one of Hollywood's most popular feminine stars, Miss Hackett burst upon the film scene and captured it immediately and unconditionally with her incisive portrayal of "Dottie" in United Artists' recent "The Group."

"Support Your Local Sheriff" marks the 110th film role for durable Walter Brennan, who has been in show biz now for 46 years without a sign of a let-up.

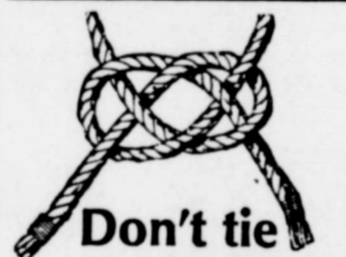

Joan Hackett and James Garner share stellar honors in Cherokee Productions' "Support Your Local Sheriff," which United Artists, a Transamerica Theatre Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Color by DeLuxe.

The Cyclamate Story

By JANE MARTIN
Home Economist

College Station.—The last of October, foods containing cyclamate, the artificial sweetener, were ousted from the market, disrupting a $1 billion-a-year industry.

Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert Finch removed cyclamates "from the list of substances generally recognized as safe for use in foods." His reason: an amendment to the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act requires removal from the market of any food additive shown to cause cancer when fed to humans or animals.

Finch said new evidence indicates cyclamates cause cancer in animals. Experiments on rats showed malignant bladder tumors in those fed heavy doses (50 times normal adult intake) throughout life.

The concern about cyclamates is not sudden. But it is alarming.

For one thing, use of the sweetener was zooming: U. S. consumption had increased six times in the last seven years. Estimates predicted Americans would consume 20 million pounds of cyclamates this year. Nearly 70 per cent of this would be in soft drinks.

Now the sweetener used in most diet foods and low calorie beverages which twice passed Food and Drug Administration criteria will no longer be used in soft drinks by January 1 and in foods by February 1.

Many manufacturers already have replaced cyclamate sweetened beverages. They now are combining saccharin and sugar for low calorie items at the rate of 30 calories for an eight ounce soft drink rather than the previous one or two calories. Saccharin, an artificial sweetener 300 times sweeter than sugar, has a bitter after taste when used alone. Cyclamate is 30 times sweeter than sugar.

Finch referred to only one experiment. Additional research has claimed cyclamates caused other abnormalities but a special committee from the National Research Council found inconsistency in many findings.

Others were concerned because the human body can change cyclamate into cyclohexylamine during digestion. Cyclohexylamine has been implicated in destruction of animal fetuses and damage of chromosomes which pass traits from one generation to the next.

This change happens to about a third of the population.

In April the Federal Food and Drug Administration (FDA) proposed that foods containing cyclamates be labeled to tell the amount of the sweeteners in a normal serving. Labels warned that the product should be limited to those who must have few calories. But this wasn't strong enough.

FDA considered 1.2 grams a day safe for children and 3.5 grams a day safe for adults. Higher amounts had laxative effects on volunteers. A can of diet cola averaged about 450 grams.

FDA scientists have pointed out that, in any case, cell research is so new that there is little agreement over methods or findings.

Cyclamates have been used widely for 10 years with no reports of medical or congenital problems in man.

But research is continuing.

Britain, Sweden, Denmark, Germany and Finland have followed to ban cyclamate which was discovered accidentally in 1937 by a University of Illinois graduate student. He noticed that a cigarette which had been laying on a lab bench tasted strangely sweet.

Cyclamates flavor such foods as puddings, salad dressings, jelly, ice cream, "cured" bacon, pickles, dog food and flavored children's vitamins.

A product's label will tell if it contains the sweetener.

Progress Reported On Grass Testing At Texas A&M

Texas A&M University plant scientists have found disease resistance to the virus lawngrass killer, St. Augustine Decline (SAD), through a new technique of screening for resistance.

Fifteen types have been discovered from a check of 185 St. Augustine-grass cultivars (varieties produced by breeding), clones (vegetative propagation), and seedlings.

Dr. R. W. Toler, A&M plant virologist, and Norman L. McCoy, assistant Extension plant pathologist, detected these disease-free kinds through a method they developed for rapid determination of resistance to the virus disease.

First, they grind diseased plant tissues by a special process and extract the virus in a buffered plant sap solution. The buffer acts as protection for the virus against destruction by enzymes present in plant tissues. The virus is then inoculated into healthy plants in the laboratory and the greenhouse.

After 21 days they examine the inoculated plants for disease symptoms. Comparisons are made with control test plants given distilled water inoculations to determine whether damage to the plant is caused by the disease or by inoculation technique.

Plants showing virus symptoms are discarded as being susceptible. These apparently healthy or symptom-free plants undergo inoculation onto an indicator host, Proso millet, to determine if they are symptomless carriers or are truly resistant.

Toler and McCoy discovered that Proso millet is highly susceptible to the virus and develops diagnostically optimum symptoms in only six days. This speeds up reverification of disease resistance considerably. To eliminate the possibility of "escapes," resistant plants are re-inoculated at least three times. This is done to confirm non-appearance of symptoms as true resistance rather than from changes in environmental conditions, errors in inoculation or other interactions which may mask virus symptoms.

The 785 types checked for resistance by Toler and McCoy were obtained from the world collection of St. Augustine varieties at the University of Florida in Gainesville; Big B Ranch, a part of King Ranch, Inc., of Belle Glade, Fla.; Texas collections from badly infested lawns; and Texas A&M's St. Augustine grass breeding program.

Additionally, the A&M researchers are further evaluating resistant St. Augustine strains found by two commercial lawn grass breeding companies. Commercial firms have joined the search for resistance since Toler and McCoy's screening technique has been shared with them and other public and private grass breeders.

"With discovery of a good nucleus of SAD resistant source material, our next step will be field testing," Toler said. "It will be a matter of determining if these sources will stand up and have desirable quality in actual lawn trials. Those that retain resistance, even though of poor quality, will serve as genetic sources for St. Augustine breeding programs," he concluded.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

For a number of years we have visited your homes by appearing regularly in your local paper. One of our themes that we repeat once or twice a year, has been—"It pays to look over those tax records before the end of the year."

Sometimes you need to consider buying or selling some property, equipment, or taking some other action that would affect the amount of income tax you would owe. Keeping good records and planning your tax affairs is just plain good business.

Another theme repeated over the years has been "Don't wait until April 15." There won't be any better time between now and December 31 for you to look over your records, decide what your tax situation is, and take whatever business actions you feel are needed. If you wait until January 1 it will be too late because you will be in a new year. If you wait until April 15 you probably won't even be able to find your records to take those deductions. NOW is a good time.

Cotton Classing Rate Is Picking Up

Receipts picked up considerably as the weather stayed clear and farmers were able to resume activities, says B. B. Manly Jr., officer in charge of the USDA Cotton Classing Office, Abilene.

The office has added five classifiers to the staff, and has still developed a one day backlog of samples, Manly said.

The office classed 13,500 samples for the week ending November 14, compared to 63,400 for the same period last season. Season's total now stands at 37,000 samples classed, compared to 222,000 for a season's total a year ago.

Grades were down somewhat this week with 12 percent in the white category, 51 percent in the light spotted category and 6 percent in the spotted category. One percent were below grade and 17 percent were bark bales.

Staple lengths were 14 percent, 28; 51 percent, 29; 22 percent, 30; 6 percent, 31; 3 percent, 32; and 3 percent were longer than 32.

Micronaire readings were about the same with 86 percent in the 3.5-4.9 range. Ten percent were 5.0-5.2 and 4 percent were 5.3 and above.

The Consumer and Marketing Service, Abilene, reports that cotton is bringing producers from 300 to 325 points above the government loan. Some prices, listed by grade and staple code, are: 4228-17.90c; 4229-18.30c; 5229-16.85c; 5230-17.35c; and 5239-15.85c.

how can Lone Star Gas help you get rid of wrinkles?

We know all wrinkles are not due to aging. Some are due to drying. And dryers. Some dryers affect clothes the way sun affects skin. They not only dry out moisture. They bake in wrinkles. Even in permanent press. But gas dryers are more sensitive to your family's clothing. And more sympathetic to your work load. Most new gas dryers have a special cool-down cycle that turns off the heat before your clothes become overheated. That means your clothes have fewer wrinkles. And you have less ironing. You also have less expensive utility bills. Because gas dries for about a penny a load. See your gas appliance dealer or Lone Star Gas Company. Find out how to take it a little easier. And avoid wrinkles.

1969 Yearbook Of Agriculture Is Announced

College Station. — "Food For Us All" is the title of the 1969 Yearbook of Agriculture recently released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin said "it provides basic, solid nutrition information needed by every consumer."

The 400-page book joins the popular editions of years past which have and are serving as valuable reference and information sources relating to the great advances made by the agricultural industry.

"This new Yearbook," noted the Secretary, "will help us to choose better the foods we need for health and vigor along with hints on how to get more for our food dollars."

It describes how the wholesomeness, quality and purity of our foods is safe-guarded and outlines the role of the farmer and describes the food industry's contribution.

Three major sections, "Food From the Farm to You," "Buying and Cooking Food," and "Food and Your Life," make up the Yearbook. Also included is a color photo section and many illustrations.

Members of Congress have a limited number of the books for distribution or it may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402, for $3.50 per copy.

Car Inspections Running 30% Behind Last Year

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said this week that motor vehicle inspections in Texas are running almost 30 percent behind the inspection rate at this time last year.

"Unless the inspection rate increases, there are going to be some awfully long lines at inspection stations prior to the April 15 deadline," Speir said.

During the year which ended August 31, some 6.3 million vehicles were inspected in Texas. Since September 1, only 538,000 have received the required inspection.

The State Motor Vehicle Inspection Act was amended by the Legislature to provide that inspection stickers issued after September 1 will expire 12 months from the date of issue. However, the law requires that all motor vehicles display a new sticker before April 15, 1970.

Speir noted that the new stickers are being placed on the driver's side of the windshield and contain a number tab showing the month of expiration. The old stickers are on the passenger or right-hand side and have no number tab.

"The inspection program is intended to discover vehicle defects which may lead to an accident. We urge all Texans to have their vehicles inspected soon to make sure they are safe for winter driving," Speir said.

If there is one thing more than any other that characterizes the average American, it is his eagerness to learn almost anything at almost any age.

He who wants to do everything will never do anything.

Blizzards Lose Final Game To Coleman Bluecats

The Winters Blizzards were defeated 14-13 last Friday at Coleman in their last game of the 1969 season.

The Blizzards' first score came in the first quarter when quarterback Ronnie Wilson hit end Bill Baldwin for five yards and a touchdown. David Harrison kicked the extra point.

The Bluecats evened the score in the second quarter as fullback Sal Andrade went over the last yard to score. Joe Boatright kicked the extra point to tie the score 7-7.

In the same quarter the Blizzards scored their second TD as Ronni Wilson went into the end zone from 2 yards out. The PAT attempt failed. But this six-point lead lasted only a short time as the Bluecats' quarterback Tommy White hit Bob Snodgrass for 65 yards and a score. Again Boatright's kick was good and gave Coleman a lasting one-point lead.

Trying to come back and score in the second half, the Blizzards were held on several long drives. A Bluecat named Danny Birdwell was largely responsible for the Blizzards' scoreless second half. Their closest point at changing the scoreboard came with a minute left in the game as David Harrison attempted a 25-yard field goal. The ball veered to the right and the Bluecats ran out the clock with a one-point lead and their third district win.

Seven seniors ended their Blizzards careers in this game. Bill Baldwin, Arlon Barnes, Wesley Crouch, Mike Emmert, Tommy Jones, Alton Pierce, and Jimmy White as well as Ray Cooper will not be wearing the Big Blue next year. All the Blizzards played their last game in District 7-AA, as they will be competing in District 8-AA next season.

San Souci Club Met In Home of J. W. Bahlmans

Members of the San Souci Club met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bahlman Tuesday evening, with Mr. and Mrs. George Poe as co-hosts.

An arrangement of bronzes centered the dining table from which a Thanksgiving dinner was served buffet style. The Thanksgiving theme was used in place cards and centerpieces at the foursome tables where guests were seated.

Following dinner, games of forty-two were played by Messrs. and Mesdames Bill Minzenmayer, Bernice Gardner, Gattis Neely, Fred Young, Harry Herman, Raymond Lloyd, LaDell Davis and the hosts.

AROUND THE 7-AA FOOTBALL LOOP

Haskell finished the regular season with an unblemished record—10 wins and no losses—and will carry the District 7-AA standard into extra-season play. The Indians will meet Eastland in bi-district at 7:30 Friday night, at Breckenridge.

The Indians clinched their district championship last Friday night at Hamlin, clobbering the second-place Pied Pipers 33-7. Hamlin went into that game with only one loss in district this season, and that one to Anson.

Haskell has one of the strongest teams to come down the 7-AA pike in a while. They've had some fairly strong opponents, yet have held them off all season. In pre-conference they racked up 106 points to 19 for opposition. Then in seven games of district play, the Indians chalked up 277 points while holding their opponents to 70. They should be worthy representatives of the district when they go against outsiders.

All the other teams in 7-AA played their last games Friday night, and now will begin concentrating on basketball.

Stamford played host to Ballinger last Friday, and tromped them in a very one-sided 39-7 win, to clinch third place in the conference.

Anson took an easy win over cellar-place Merkel, 33-7, at Anson, to end with a 3-4 district and a 3-7 season record.

Once again it was a cliffhanger for the Winters Blizzards. At Coleman Friday night, the Blue team outdistanced the Bluecats in all departments, but saw a win slip away in a final 14-13 decision to Coleman. Close scores have been the highlight of the Blizzards' games this season. In district contests, except for the 48-0 Haskell score, it has been nip and tuck for the Blizzards every Friday night. Anson was the only one beside Haskell to really outdistance Winters—25-12. All the other conference games were edgers: Hamlin, 3-2; Stamford, 7-6; Ballinger, 9-6; and Coleman 14-13. Their win over Merkel was a 14-7 affair. The Blizzards have been a never-say-defeat team this season and have come out playing football every Friday night, and have kept that spirit throughout until the final run in every game. The experience they gained this year should make this young Winters team something to be reckoned with come another season. Winters, along with Coleman and Ballinger, has been drawn out of 7-AA, and will play an entirely new slate of teams for the next couple of years, in 8-AA.

Farm-City Week Objectives Are Important To All

College Station. — Americans work less to eat better than ever before. They spend less of their disposable income, now down to 16.5 percent, for food and get the best quality in the world, reminds John G. McHaney, Texas A&M University Extension economist.

And, he adds, Farm - City Week, November 21-27, is mighty good time for American food consumers to take note of this fact and express their appreciation for this "miracle of production."

It's true, notes the economist, that America's agricultural abundance is the result of teamwork. From the research and scientific laboratories of the nation comes the information which has been utilized by producers, processors, distributors, the transporters, storers, suppliers and finally the sellers to build the great American agribusiness team; a team which, points out McHaney, interlocks farm and city people and continues to make each increasingly dependent upon the other. Cooperation and mutual understanding benefits both groups, he says, and their improvement is a prime objective of Farm-City Week.

From field to factory to family use, food and fiber are the basis of a facet of the American economy that furnishes jobs and income for a third or more of the Nation's working force. And, says McHaney, this is big business by any definition.

America's farm efficiency, one farmer produces enough food and fiber to feed and clothe himself and almost 50 others, benefits every consumer every day throughout the year in lower food costs and a steadily declining percentage of earnings required for family food needs—a record, emphasizes the economist, unmatched by any other industry or nation in the world.

And, concludes McHaney, Farm-City Week is a nationwide effort aimed at helping rural and urban people to better understand and appreciate the problems of each and to give each a clearer image of the other.

SS Representative Will Speak To Clubs On SS Matters

"If your club needs a program tonight, next week, or later, pick up your telephone and dial 949-4608," Ted F. Moellering, social security district manager, said today.

"Social security wants to keep the public informed and your call will be received with pleasure," he continued.

One or more professional people from your social security office will prepare and present the program based on any part of the social security activities you prefer. Free literature may be distributed and questions will be answered. A color film may be available to present as a part of the program. There is no charge for these services.

"If you are a program chairman and you do not need a program at this time, clip this item and save for an emergency or for future planning," Moellering concluded.

For further information, contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area.

Goodwill is the mightiest practical force in the universe.

Home Town Talk--

of things to come: The advanced knowledge of electronics, for example, propulsion fuels, communications, and even medical techniques which was accumulated especially for the space program has been used for non-space programs, for the good of everyone, and more are bound to come. Without the space program and its urgent call for special talent and knowledge and achievement, not to mention the courage of the men participating, many of the things which have been done already as a result probably would not have been done within the lifetimes of our children's children—some of them maybe never.

In light of that, the actual landing on the moon could be said to be only one of many by-products of the entire space program. There'll be more to come, and in spite of the loud outcry of some for an end to the space program, it will be for the good of all mankind. And we should feel proud that it was American knowhow which caused the American flag to be placed on the moon.

Real problems can be overcome; it is only the imaginary ones that are unconquerable.
