HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

This is the time of year when one strain of the malady "generation gaposis" becomes more pronounced. Cold weather makes an ideal climate for an upsurge of the condition, for which there seems to be no known cure. One of the reasons is that activity is somewhat hobbled during the cold weather, and there is more time for the older generation to sit around and manufacture symptoms, thereby widening the gap.

For instance, when a person of a younger generation remarks on the severity of the cold, and the difficulties encountered because of the weather, one of an older generation is bound to come up with, "You should have lived back when I was a boy (or girl)!" Then begins the widening process.

"You have it easy now. You get up in the morning in a warm house, eat a hot breakfast, and ride a warm bus to a warm school, or are driven to the front door in a warm automobile. At lunch you eat a hot meal in a warm cafeteria. Why, when I was going to school, I had to get up way before daylight, chop wood and build a fire, then milk 15 head of cows, wade a creek and cross pastures filled with mean bulls or wild wolves. For lunch I had a cold biscuit with a slice of fat bacon!" Then had to walk home after school, facing the cold north wind!

The account usually goes on from there—about the terrible hardships faced during the earlier years... especially in the wintertime... "But it made men of us!"

Yep, there is a lot of difference in present conditions and circumstances and those of the preceding decades. We've all become used to so many of the creature comforts, and the younger generation has grown up to take them for granted. So in comparison, conditions of former years do stand out like a sore thumb, and each successive thinking on them builds a greater difference. But it is so often that that half-mile to field from school has, as the years have slipped away, grown to a long, cold eight miles! That imaginative-years trek across the neighbor's calf pasture has now become a long journey across danger! The biscuit has become colder and the bacon fatter!

It is a common illness, this special strain of "generation gaposis." All generations are affected, and it is contagious.

If you haven't got your voter registration certificate, you have only three more weeks to get it. Deadline is January 31. Without that certificate you will be left out when election days roll around during 1970—and there will be several times you will want to use it this year: School, city (if you live in town) special districts if elections are called, primaries and general election... in addition to a number of others which could be called during the year.

It costs nothing to register—just a few minutes of your time. Without the certificate you'll have no chance to express your opinion regarding candidates or issues.

City Grants Lone Star Rate Hike

Following several weeks of negotiations, the Winters City Council Monday night authorized Lone Star Gas Company to increase customer rates in Winters.

The City authorized an increase of 7.5 cents per thousand cubic feet, an 8.87 percent raise, according to Buford Baldwin, City Secretary.

Commercial and residential gas consumers will be affected, Baldwin said, but the increase does not include industrial users. Increase probably will be effective with the next billing, he said.

The rate increase authorized by the City is about $1500 per year more at the city "gate" that was authorized by the Railroad Commission last year, Baldwin said. He also said that the amount of increase authorized by the City of Winters was one of the lowest increases received by the gas company, which has been negotiating with many cities and towns over the state for increases during the past several months. Baldwin said there may be some lower basic rates for other cities, but the percent of allowed increase for Winters was one of the lowest.

Lone Star Gas Company last fall had requested authorization from the City of Winters to increase consumer rates, to meet, they said, an increase in the cost of gas. Several meetings between representatives of the company and the City Council have been held during the past several weeks, with the City making detailed studies of the books of the company to determine the need for the requested increase in rates.

In other business, the City Council discussed with a contractor from Arlington a proposal to move or tear down the north water storage tower. No action was taken; further studies will be conducted before a contract is let on this project. According to City officials, the tower must be moved or torn down to make room for widening of Highway 83—North Main Street.

Council also discussed installation of a watering system on the Little League baseball field. No final action was taken.

Cotton Receipts At Classing Office Near Standstill

The new year finds the USDA Cotton Classing Office, Abilene, with about a one day backlog and daily sample receipts are at a near standstill. This, of course, is due to the large amount of sleet and snow which blanketed the area last week. It may be sometime before fields get dry enough to resume harvesting.

Officer-in-Charge B. B. Manly Jr. reports that 23,500 samples were classed for the week ending January 2, 1970 compared to 23,800 for the same period last year. The seasons total is now 202,000 samples classed compared to 441,000 a year ago.

Grades were 20 percent in the white category, 71 percent in the light spotted category, with 42 and 52 the two predominant grades at 54 percent and 15 percent respectively. Eight percent of the samples were in the spotted category, 9 percent were reduced in grade because of bark, 2 percent were reduced in grade because of grass, and 1 percent were below grade.

Staple lengths were good with 1 percent, 28; 27 percent, 29; 46 percent, 30; 16 percent, 31; 5 percent, 32; 3 percent, 33; and 2 percent were longer than 33.

Micronaire readings were 1 percent, 2.7-2.9; 2 percent, 3.0-3.2; 2 percent, 3.3-3.4; 88 percent, 3.5-4.9; 6 percent, 5.0-5.2; and 1 percent, 5.3 and above.

Pressley or strength readings were good with 66 percent reading 80,000 PSI (pounds per square inch) and better.

The Consumer and Marketing Service, Abilene, reports average gross prices, based on limited information available, for some predominant qualities are: 4129 brought 18.55c; 4130 brought 19.25c; 4229 brought 18.30c; 4230 brought 18.85c; 5229 brought 16.95c; and 5230 brought 17.50c.

Mike Smith of Winters To Exhibit Steer At Ft. Worth

Fort Worth.—Mike Smith of Winters will have one Charolais steer competing in the 1970 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, Jan. 30 through Feb. 8.

Poultry, rabbit and pigeon exhibitors have until Jan. 15 to submit entries, but the entry deadline for cattle, horses, sheep and swine already has passed. Stock Show President-Manager W. R. Watt and the other officials now are busily tabulating the large number of entries.

"Early indications are that a fine, competitive show is shaping up, with high-caliber entries in every category," Watt said. Watt said another great show is in store in the Stock Show Rodeo Arena. "We're delighted to have David Canary, 'Candy' on the 'Bonanza' TV series, as our special guest star," Watt said. "He has an engaging personality and he's a fine singer, too, with experience in Broadway musicals."

Canary, accompanied by the popular young musical group the New Establishment, will appear at all 20 performances of the Fort Worth Rodeo.

Other rodeo features include trick roping and riding, and Arthur Allen's Border Collies, performing shepherd dogs that have starred in Walt Disney films.

Over 500 top pro cowboys will compete in the Stock Show Rodeo's action events, where more than $80,000 in prize money and entry fees will be divided.

Exhibitors will receive cash awards for winning livestock in the judging. Funds for the cash awards are being contributed by businesses and individuals in the community who have purchased "shares" in the show. Each share amounts to $10. This system has been used for several years, instead of an auction of stock following the show. The money is being raised by a special committee of the Winters Chamber of Commerce.

Austin, Tex. — Lagging voter registration may spell bad news for Democratic officials, according to no less an authority than U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough. Yarborough called a news conference in the Statehouse the day after State Republican Chairman William Steger of Tyler announced Texas GOP's plan to field strong candidates for both senator and governor this year.

Steger cited a poll as the basis of Republican hopes, but Yarborough said registration statistics, not polls, are the real cause for Democrats to be wary. He said 80 per cent of Republican strength already has registered in such large counties as Harris, Dallas, and Midland, while the sign-up is poor in traditional Democratic strongholds.

On that same day, Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. urged all eligible adult Texans to exercise their constitutional rights by registering. Dies is the state's chief election officer. January 31 is the registration deadline. Dies issued these reminders:

Any citizen 21 years of age or older on the day of an election, who has been a resident of the state for at least one year and a resident of his home county for six months immediately preceding the election, is qualified to register for voting.

Eligible persons may register by personal appearance at the main office, branch office or authorized substitution of the home county tax assessor-collector. Written applications may also be made to the tax assessor-collector.

The husband, wife, mother, father, son or daughter of a voter may act as his agent in registering if the agent is a qualified voter.

A person who moves to Texas after October 1 may register during the regular period or afterward but must have been registered for 30 days before voting. Any person who will meet qualifications before Feb. 28, 1971, may register during the regular period or afterward.

CRIME FIGHT

Department of Public Safety Director Wilson Speir persuaded the Criminal Justice Council to provide $864,638 to enlarge the DPS training academy at Austin. This, subject to availability of funds.

Colonel Speir said the proposed construction and renovation would expand the student capacity of the facility from 181 to 381. Also, space would be made available for the council's proposed Texas Crime Information Center, a bank of computers and Teletypes linked with DPS offices around the state.

Council also voted to consider changing its name at the next meeting. Acting Chairman Harold Dudley said Gov. Preston Smith favors the title "Texas Justice Council," eliminating the word "criminal."

Among the eight local projects given council approval was a rehabilitation program for the El Paso County Jail. Project will involve counseling and a job-training program, starting with a cooking and baking school.

AIR POLLUTION

Texas Air Control Board will set up a regional office in Houston within the next three weeks. But the state board does not intend to duplicate any pollution control services offered by Harris County, the City of Houston

COURTS SPEAK

Texas Supreme Court held Houston must turn over to Harris County hospital district $1.4 million in pension funds contributed by and for Ben Taub and Jefferson Davis hospital employees.

Court ordered new trial in court ordered over ownership of $10 million Turtle Creek Square apartments in Dallas.

Hall County man failed to convince high court his loss of sight was caused by cotton gin accident.

Oral arguments were set for January 28 in Jefferson County man's injury suit against Hudson Oil and Gas Corporation arising from gas line blow-out.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin says in an opinion that County and District Clerks must issue, without cost, as many copies of certified documents as is necessary to make claims for veterans' benefits from the United States Government.

In other opinions Martin concluded that: —Railroad Commission has authority to prescribe safety standards for transportation of gas and gas pipeline facilities owned by a city and the attorney general is authorized to enforce them.

—Provisions of Texas Engineering Practice Act are not applicable to Department of Health in establishing standards for design of hospitals and related institutions. Designs for structures larger than those specified in the act do not have to bear the seal of a registered professional engineer if the designer is exempt.

—State Health Department is obligated to pay half the salary of a pilot for a plane jointly used under contract with the Department of Public Welfare.

—Use of a horn, recording or other device to call or attract wild fowls in Shelby, Nacogdoches, Sabine, San Augustine, Falls or Leon Counties is illegal.

AGRICULTURE

Farm production in Texas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma for 1969 probably will fall a little short of last year's levels. So reports the 11th Federal Reserve District.

Livestock production, with more cattle on feed, will be up about six percent, but crop production, hurt by adverse weather, will experience a 10-percent drop.

Nonetheless, the estimated farm gross of $6.1 billion and net of $2 billion will be slightly higher than last year.

QUARANTINE INVOKED

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Animal Health Division, placed Fayette County under federal quarantine for hog cholera on December 18.

Action is part of a stepped-up campaign to wipe out the costly swine disease. Quarantine will be removed as soon as threat of spread has been eliminated. "Stamping out" activities against cholera involves prompt and complete disposal of all infected and exposed herds. State-federal indemnity payments are made to farmers whose animals must be destroyed.

APPOINTMENTS

Gov. Preston Smith named three members of key joint interim water study committee. They are Robert M. Dixon of Austin, M. P. Anderson of Houston and George Thomas Bradham of Daingerfield.

Smith also announced these appointments: —Texas Board of Public Accountancy—Walter K. Juncker of Beaumont.

—Governor's Committee on Aging—the Rev. Charles Avery Mason of Dallas, Mrs. Printis E. Ellis of Paris, Alan Woods Hastings of Beaumont (reappointment), Dr. Arleigh Templeton of Huntsville and Robert R. Sanders of Amarillo.

—Texas Civil Judicial Council—Dr. Abner V. McCall of Waco, W. St. John Garwood of Austin and Judge Louis Holland of Montague.

State Commission on Fire Protection Personnel Standards and Education—Bart T. Mulhern of San Antonio, Tom D. Pinckney of Austin, Henry Damon Smith of College Station, Mike Bortoni Perez Jr. of Laredo, Alcus Greer of Houston, William Hershel Sharp of Lubbock, Hugh Verner Keepers of Dallas, Troy Standley of Dallas and Richard Russell of Richardson.

OIL LEAK

That four-man team Governor Smith dispatched to make an on-the-spot investigation of an oil slick in Trinity Bay reported to the governor that the nature and extent of pollution had been exaggerated. Committee said that it found evidence of four leaks into Galveston and Trinity Bays, but that they were all minor.

SHORT SNORTS

Capitol Visitor Crew drew 160,000 during last year. A $478,000 federal grant has been approved for 4,778-acre Blanco County State Park.

Frio, LaSalle and McMullen Counties will receive $70,995 federal grant for June-July Summer Head Start program.

Parks and Wildlife Commission slated a January 7 meeting to consider marl, sand and gravel permits and pricing and to review policy for licensing mobile businesses on public beaches.

Last quarter of 1969 showed a slackening in manufacturing man-hours, industrial production and lower-than-usual increases in personal income. University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

"Chitty Chitty Bang Bang"
Caractacus Potts (Dick Van Dyke) is an impoverished, crackpot inventor who enriches the life of his two motherless children with zany inventions ranging from a candy cane that whistles to a magic car, named Chitty Chitty Bang Bang (because of its sound), which not only runs but floats and flies. Miss Truly Scrumptious (Sally Ann Howes), the charming and practical daughter of a candy tycoon, wins over both father and children, and accompanies them in CCBB for a beach picnic, where Caractacus invents a story about the car. His colorful adventure tale sweeps Chitty Chitty Bang Bang off to the mythical land of Vulgaria, where toys are made only for the mean old baron (Gert Frobe) and the Potts children are captured by a villainous child catcher. Both Father Potts comes to the daring rescue of his own little ones and all the other imprisoned children in the kingdom. With the special Dick Van Dyke flair, resourceful Papa Potts is always on hand to sing and dance his way through difficulties. The imaginary adventure—and the picnic—end happily.

"Chitty Chitty, Bang Bang," Ronald Dahl, Ken Hughes, based on the novel by Ian Fleming. Musical numbers staged by Marc Breau and Dee Dee Wood. Technicolor. 160 min. Rated G.

picture was filmed in Panavision and De Luxe Color on the actual locations which enhance the romantic drama.

"Hard Contract"

Against the backgrounds of Spain's Costa del Sol, exotic charm of Tangier and the Gothic splendor of Brussels' Grande Place, James Coburn and Lee Remick, with a cast of international stars, play games of intrigue and passion in 20th Century-Fox's "Hard Contract." The Marvin Schwartz production shows Sunday and Monday at the State Theatre. Lilli Palmer, Burgess Meredith, Patrick Magee, Sterling Hayden and Claude Dauphin co-star in "Hard Contract," directed by S. Lee Pogostin from his original screenplay. The motion

The Family Lawyer

May a person refuse a blood transfusion on which his very life depends? May the law force him to submit? These grim questions, testing the vitals of freedom, law, and morality, have already confronted a number of our courts.

To begin with, this is not the same as the problem of suicide (which some states still consider a crime). Here, the person is not claiming a right to take his life. He is merely claiming the right to refuse a life-saving transfusion, usually on grounds of religious freedom.

But religious freedom, as guaranteed by the Constitution, is not without limits. Although the state must not interfere with a person's religious beliefs, it may indeed interfere with his religious practices if they are sufficiently harmful.

On this basis, one court did order a compulsory blood transfusion for the dying mother of an infant. The court said her act of refusing the blood, in these circumstances, was an act of irresponsibility toward the child.

"The state will not allow a parent to abandon a child," said the court, "so it should not allow this most ultimate of abandonments."

Another justification for a compulsory transfusion may be that the patient is too far gone to make a rational decision. In one such case, the judge said it was part of a hospital's duty to take the initiative when the patient was no longer competent to decide for himself.

But in a third case, the court faced a different set of facts. This time, the dying man had no dependent children to leave behind. Furthermore, he was in full control of his faculties. In this situation, the court refused to order a transfusion that the man did not want. The judge commented:

"It is the individual who is the subject of a medical decision who has the final say."

Were these decisions right or wrong? They have been debated passionately by legal authorities, who have reached sharply differing conclusions. But that isn't surprising. On such momentous issues, unanimity would be too much to expect.

State Laws Affect Income Tax Returns

Dallas, Texas. — Texas has community property laws and married couples living here who plan to file separate Federal income tax returns this year should find the free IRS publication, "Community Property and the Federal Income Tax," especially helpful, Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas, said today.

Mr. Campbell said the IRS booklet features an illustrated worksheet showing the different treatment of income and deductions for a husband and wife filing a joint return as compared to separate returns.

Generally, each spouse must take into account half of the community income and deductions and all his separate income and deductions to determine the proper tax on separate returns.

Mr. Campbell said taxpayers may obtain the publication, "Community Property and the Federal Income Tax," Publication 555, by sending a post card to Supply, Internal Revenue Service, P. O. Box 1738, Dallas, Texas 75221.

It always seemed to me a sort of clever stupidity to have one sort of talent—like a carrier pigeon.—George Eliot.

LIFE INSURANCE INDUSTRY CHANGING STATUS

The concept of the holding company has brought about a revolution in the life insurance industry. After being limited to insurance operations for many years, largely because of compliance managements and ultra-conservative and often archaic state laws, this industry has begun a new life. Through the establishment of a holding company, management now has the opportunity to go beyond the traditional insurance business. Thus, for most of the industry's diversification has been directly related to finance operations. Real estate development and mutual funds are popular diversification areas at the present time. But, more extensive future expansion into computer services, financing, and tax services is likely.

COMPUTERIZATION

The life insurance industry was one of the first non-scientific industries to utilize the computer. Having been a leader in the early stages of this dynamic field, the industry has gained a tremendous amount of experience which it can put to good use. The acquisition of software companies to go along with the expertise and capital resources of the life insurance industry opens up a new, profitable field. The industry has also made a number of changes within its basic internal framework. Mergers and pooling of resources, particularly among smaller companies, is a trend that should continue.

NEW INVESTMENT IDEAS

Changing emphasis in the investment portfolios of the life insurance companies is a prime example of the more aggressive attitudes now pursued by managements. Gone are the days when over half of a company's investment portfolio consisted of government bonds. Today, due in part to recent changes in various state insurance regulations, the trend has been to reduce the amount in fixed-income securities in favor of common stocks and mortgages. The mortgage field has become very complex in recent years, as high interest rates and inflation have brought about some basic changes. Today, the life insurance company has several alternatives when making a large mortgage loan. Perhaps the most common is receiving part of the "action."

A GROWING INDUSTRY

From a fundamental viewpoint life companies are well situated to participate in the expected growth of the 1970's. Population and personal income advances will mean gains for the whole industry. The increase in the younger (under 30) generation should prove to be a bonanza because the bulk of new sales is to this segment of the population. Rising income should mean larger policies.

On the negative side, the public's growing interest in the equity markets in recent years has resulted in the insurance industry's losing the percentage of savings dollars that it once had. People are more conscious of other forms of investment, thus forcing the insurance industry to enter the fields of mutual funds and variable annuities.

Another serious problem facing the industry is the cost of labor. Labor is the prime expense for the life insurance company, even though historically their employees have been one of the lowest paid segments of the population. But, in recent years they have made marked gains in income. The insurance industry has only partly alleviated the increased costs through the expanded use of computers.

Because of their growth prospects, the Research Staff of Babson's Reports recommends the following companies: Republic Life Insurance Company near 20, buying limit 25; and Standard Life Insurance near 22, buying limit 25.

Tax Man Sam Sez: NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS

If you didn't eat your black-eyed peas and hog jaw at 10 seconds after midnight December 31-January 1, you may find it worth while to go back and make a couple of resolves: one of the best resolves that you can start right off with a bang is that you will keep all of your records so that you can take all those income tax deductions and get that refund that you didn't have the records to support this year. On the other hand, it may be just as important to make a mid-January resolution to not let the groundhog catch you asleep on February 2 with all of your tax records and none of your tax forms filed out. Based on your past performance you may need to make a back-up resolution that on February 2, that if the groundhog discovers you out in the cold bright sunshine without your tax return completed and filed, that you will scurry back to your records and not let the Ides of April bring the final gloom and doom down upon you at 11:59 P. M. April 15. You can avoid a whole lot of useless resolving and unnecessary muttering by simply getting those records, reading the instructions for those pretty new red, white and blue forms, and filing your form 1040 now.
