HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Make your plans now to attend the Winters High School junior class play. The play will be staged at least two nights, April 23 and 24, in the WHS auditorium.

This is not the ordinary two-act class play, but is a play which enjoyed a long run on New York's Broadway and around the professional show circuit, and the junior class was lucky to be able to bring it to Winters. It is not often we in the hinterlands are given a n opportunity to see such a play, and we can tell you now that this play is being professionally done, even though the cast is made up of junior class amateurs and is directed by a non-professional.

Jerry Nelly, WHS teacher and a sponsor of the junior class, is director of this production, "Bye Bye Birdie," and many long hours of rehearsal are being consumed to put members of the cast, stage hands, and others connected with it, in shape. To give you an idea of just how big this production is, it takes at least 77 people to put it on, and extra wings have to be added to the auditorium stage to accommodate the show. Director Nelly says these students are showing some professional talents they didn't know they had.

Tickets are on sale (see story this issue) and may be hard to come by in a few days, if you don't hurry. Nelly says the first night is practically sold out with reservations coming in from as far away as Houston, Tyler, Kerrville, and virtually every town in this area.

Plan to attend—it'll be an experience you won't want to miss.

The "Fourth Dimensions," the fourth-grade singing and music group from Winters Elementary School, under the direction of Mrs. Kirke McKenzie, provided entertainment at the annual convention of the Texas State Teachers Association in Fort Worth last week.

The group must have been pretty well accepted by the State's teachers. On his return, one of the group asked his mother, "What's a standing ovation?" His mother explained it to him, and he said, "Well, whatever it is, we got it!" There are 28 members of the "Fourth Dimensions."

A columnist for an exchange paper (in another state) has completed research on "phobias," and we didn't know there were so many. Makes good reading dry commercials.

"Just as we were getting used to that new word, ecology, along comes a medical association release that listed all kinds of fears of poor humans have. And those specialists of psychologists claim there are all kinds of fears most of us haven't even thought about yet, like ophidiophobia, which is the fear of snakes. Then there's fear of spiders, arachnophobia; or heat, thermophobia; and we think a lot of Baptists and Methodists have that one: dirt, rypophobia, and one that doesn't bother little boys; of darkness, achluophobia, and that's where a mother stands in the door and yells "rats" while the kids go out in the dark.

Of nudity, bymnophobia; fear of open spaces, agoraphobia; of pain,odynophobia; of being buried alive, taphophobia, and a lot of others. But they thought up one that we didn't know existed and that is chromatophobia, the fear of money. But they admit it is rather rare.

There was another one, gamophobia, which is the fear of marriage and it doesn't show up very early. But we figure it would shore set in after about the third marriage."

Hudon White Jr. President of WHS Student Body

Hudon White Jr., will head the Winters High School student body for the 1970-71 school year. Hudon was elected president in school-wide balloting last Friday.

These five students will make up the executive committee of the student council for the 1970-71 term. Class representatives will be elected by each of the high school classes in elections scheduled for April 11.

Parents of the officers are Mr. and Mrs. Hudon White Sr., Route 2; Mr. and Mrs. Truett Smith, Route 1; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fairie, 300 East Broadway; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Medford, 712 South Main; and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bishop, Star Route, Ovalo.

Mrs. Lee Harrison, high school counselor, is sponsor of the student council.

Main Street Widening Getting Closer To Reality

The seemingly slow-moving project to widen Winters' Main Street (US83) was accelerated a bit Monday night, as a representative of the Texas Highway Department met with the City Council and presented a handful of prepared deeds for the extra footage which will be needed in the widening of the highway.

The City Council now will study the deeds and begin negotiations with property owners in the near future.

Mayor Wade White said the City has received 31 deeds; there will be more than 80, it was estimated, and the rest should be received within the next few days.

Preparation of the deeds was completed by the Highway Department following several months of surveying and appraising the property involved.

When the deeds and land descriptions are presented to property owners, as negotiations begin, they will be accompanied by plats of the areas affected, so that owners will know exactly what footage will be needed for the widening project.

Mayor White stressed the fact that all appraisals were made by the Highway Department. He stated that comparisons of the appraisals of those deeds delivered to the City show that necessary footage will run from 17 cents to 20 cents—an average—per square foot in residential areas, and somewhat higher for commercial property. Some commercial property has been appraised as high as 90 cents per square foot.

The mayor also pointed out that in comparing appraisals of different lots, it appears that some lots were appraised higher than seemingly identical lots. However, he said, the Highway Department explained that these apparent differences are caused by additional "damages" which would be realized on some lots—where others would not be affected to that extent by so-called "damages."

Frank Jordan of the Highway Department explained to the Council Monday night that in most areas involved in the widening project, the actual highway right-of-way extends inside the present curb and sidewalk, and not just to the curb, as is popularly believed. Also, he said, trees and shrubs which are situated next to the curb—in most instances—are on highway property, and are not the property of the lot owners, as many believe. The Highway Department cannot reimburse property owners for trees, etc., he said. The added footage will be measured from the actual right-of-way line, Jordan said.

Jordan also said that the Highway Department will pay for rebuilding curbing and sidewalks, and where driveways and lateral sidewalks exist, will pay for rebuilding into the private property, in addition to paying for the added footage of land. He also said that if buildings or parts of buildings are affected in obtaining the necessary footage, the property owner would be reimbursed for "damages."

In purchasing the added footage, the Texas Highway Department will pay one-half of the costs and the City of Winters will pay one-half. The State will pay for rebuilding curbing, etc. Property owners of Winters voted bonds to cover the City's share about two and a half years ago.

Actual right-of-way for the widened highway will be 80 feet, Jordan said; operating surface will be 64 feet. This will provide space for four lanes of traffic, in addition to space on each side for parallel parking.

No added footage will be needed where the highway extends into the business section, it was explained, as the present right-of-way is sufficient. There may be places where curbing will have to be rebuilt, however.

Plans are to widen the highway from the City limits on the south at FM53—through the city to north of Parkview Addition. Because of the nature of the property, the highway—Main Street—will not be "arrow-straight," Jordan said, but will have slight curves and changes in direction. The thoroughfare will bend slightly to the west beginning at the corner of North Main and Parsonage, and then will veer slightly to the east for a short distance in the vicinity of Northview Cemetery, and then to the west on farther north. The slight variations in direction will not be noticed, however.

Most of the added footage will be within the City Limits, Mayor White said, but some, on the north part of town, will be out of the City Limits, and the responsibility of the County. County Commissioner Melvin Mapes already has begun negotiations on some of the affected county land.

It could not be guessed when actual work on the widening project would begin, because the process of acquiring the needed extra footage will have to be completed before construction begins. Also, City and private company utility lines will have to be relocated in many areas of the project.

Mayor White and members of the City Council explained that the City is working closely with the Texas Highway Department on this project and will do everything possible that property owners affected will be properly reimbursed for land and for any damages which may occur. He also said that all efforts will be made to cause as little inconvenience as possible once actual construction begins. He said that everyone realizes the importance of widening the highway—Main Street through town—to keep the traffic flowing through Winters. The presence of the highway and the traffic is of great economic importance to the city, it was reemphasized.

Lions Club Ladies Night Banquet Scheduled For Next Tuesday

Grant Teaff, head football coach and Associate Professor of Physical Education at Angelo State University, will be the principal speaker at the annual Lions Club Ladies Night Banquet next Tuesday night, April 14.

The banquet will be held in the school cafeteria, beginning at 7:30.

Teaff attended Snyder High School, graduating in 1951. He was All District football and basketball co-captain in both sports, president of his high school student body, and named the Carol Herod Most Outstanding Football Player.

He attended San Angelo in 1951-53, where he played junior football, and was named All Conference. He entered McMurry College in 1953, earning a bachelor of science degree in physical education in 1957.

At McMurry, Teaff played tackle and line backer, and was All Texas Conference in 1955. He worked as a radio disc jockey and television during his days at McMurry.

He is widely known as a banquet and after-dinner speaker, and is also a Baptist Lay Leader. He is the former chairman of the Board of Deacons of the Southwest Park Baptist Church in Abilene, vice chairman, College Avenue Baptist Church, Lubbock, and is past president of the Abilene Optimist Club. American Medical Association, hospital associations, insurance carriers, private physicians and others who give an appraisal of present operations of these programs and make recommendations for change.

About everyone agrees that failures and weaknesses in medicare and medicaid have not resulted from a lack of dollars from the Federal Government.

As has been mentioned here before, the cost of medicare and medicaid has skyrocketed, much of it due to inflation but other factors have influenced it also. The effort is to search out the difficulties in our health care system and seek ways of remedying the faults.

A doctor member of the Congress proposes that the Federal Government purchase annual insurance for each one qualified for medicare. He suggests that the Federal Government pay 85 percent for the average $400 health care expense and the State assume the balance.

Under this system, the cost to the Federal Government would be approximately $1 billion more a year but would not be subject to unexpected escalation as is the present case. The proposal would actually intend to eliminate medicaid, which is a problem to the States, and to operate one program of medicare.

The cost to those who contribute to Social Security for insurance would be 4 percent of their taxable earnings. All others with salaries or earnings would pay on their income tax return. It is estimated that receipts from this source would total roughly $2 billion annually which would go into a pool of funds from which the Social Security Administration would reimburse 90 percent of medical expenses under a prescribed formula. Persons over 65, because they have medicare protection expenses, would apply to the extent of those actually paid by the individual in excess of 25 percent of his gross income.

The present medicare program is heavily burdened with large administrative costs involving processing rather small claims. It takes about as much time and effort to work out a small claim as it does one for catastrophic or high cost illness.

The American Medical Association recommends a type of prepaid insurance shared by the Federal Government and the various States. Some hospital associations of which there are a number recommend a "group practice" system something like a mutual insurance arrangement. In fact there are a number already in operation—some on an experimental basis. The Kaiser Company operating in the northwest States is the largest. Under this type of organization, individuals simply pay insurance in a group and the managers of the group contract with doctors and hospitals to take care of illness when it occurs.

Whatever changes may result from hearings now in progress there is no doubt about the need for some changes. Two very direct problems should be solved. The cost of health care continues to increase at a rate which will soon be beyond the reach of those who need it. The other is more efficiency at less cost to the Government.

Since the Federal government is in the health care business, along with the several States implementing medicaid, it is a matter of trying to find better answers and to try to improve these programs before the country reaches a real crisis in health care for its citizens.

TAX REFORM ACT

Earlier this year the Internal Revenue Service reported a unusual lag in the receipt of tax returns for calendar 1969. This was attributed in part to the number of taxpayers waiting to learn the details of the Tax Reform Act, passed late last year. However, all of the important changes in the tax laws apply only to returns to be filed for taxable years after December 31, 1969. The Tax Act touches on corporations, mineral depletion allowances, charitable contributions, personal income, and a wide range of subjects that have not had tax changes for many years.

In order that readers may be informed on the effects of some of the more widely applicable changes, included here is a brief discussion of these alterations. As with any complex legislation, taxpayers are advised to consult their tax advisers as to the proper application of the new law in complicated situations.

MOSTLY FOR INDIVIDUALS

With the change in the tax surcharge from 10 per cent through 1969 to 5 per cent on January 1, 1970, and its elimination on June 30, 1970, taxpayers will compute the surcharge on their 1970 returns at 2 1/2 per cent for the entire year. The 2 1/2 figure does not relate to withholding during the year.

Personal and dependent exemptions have for many years been $600 for each one claimed. This has been raised to $25 for 1970, $50 for 1971, $700 for 1972, and $750 for 1973 and later.

The minimum income level at which a return must be filed has also been $600 (although a tax was not necessarily due). This has been raised to a generous $1700 for single individuals, $2300 for a married couple filing jointly, and greater amounts for persons 5 or over.

Taxpayers in the past have been able to take a standard deduction of 10 per cent of adjusted gross income up to $1000 in lieu of itemizing deductions. This has been raised to 13 per cent of adjusted gross, with a $1500 ceiling for 1971; 14 per cent, $2000 ceiling in 1972; and 15 per cent, $2000 ceiling in 1973. This, of course, will not affect returns for calendar 1970.

FOR INVESTORS

Until now, capital losses on the sale of securities, whether long- or short-term, could be used to offset up to $1000 of taxable income. This has been changed so that all short-term losses but only 50 per cent of long-term losses may be combined to offset income up to $1000.

As to long-term capital gains, there is an alternative method of computing this tax with a base rate of 25 per cent. For long-term capital gains of $50,000 or more, the rate has been raised to 29 1/2 per cent in 1970, to be lifted further to 32 1/2 per cent in 1971, and to 35 per cent in 1972.

The controversial minerals depletion allowance was generally reduced for rates over 14 per cent. The most debated of these was the rate for oil and gas depletion. Formerly at 27 1/2 per cent, this was reduced to 22 per cent.

FOR OLDSTERS AND YOUNGSTERS

There are several other provisions in the Tax Reform Act that are not directly related to taxes per se. One of these of interest to the retired person increases Social Security payments by 15 per cent. The increase is retroactive to January 1, 1970. The "catch-up" payment and the increase in monthly checks will be made this month.

For part-time workers, notably students and others who do not expect to earn enough to be required to pay a tax and who have not paid a tax in the past, there is a provision in the Act that means more take-home pay.

After April 30 this group may elect to have taxes withheld. This also relieves them from filing a tax return in order to recoup taxes formerly withheld.

CONTINUING GROWTH FOR COMMERCIAL BANKS

Wellesley Hills, Mass.—Commercial bank earnings increased during 1969 because of the strong demand for loans and the high interest rates. However, the same high interest rates also limited and, in many instances, eliminated growth in deposits. This is particularly true in business-oriented banks located in major money centers such as New York City. These banks were forced to find other sources for funds such as Eurodollars which demand interest in excess of the domestic prime rate. The result was a profit squeeze for many commercial banks.

Changes In Reporting Procedures

New regulations have resulted in a basic change in the way banks report earnings. They must now show different sets of earnings—net operating earnings which include loan losses, and net income, which reflects losses or gains from security transactions. In 1969 this tended to

HOW ABOUT THAT! Tami Jo Trabant's future fish stories aren't likely to top this six-pound snook. The 6-year-old St. Petersburg, Fla., girl is justly proud.

Can you toss that fishing lure exactly where you want it . . . and let it gently drop on the water . . . every time you make a cast . . .

Well, if you can, then you're a master caster. But you're one angler in a million, because it isn't easy to do. How do master casters get that way? Just as in all other sports it's achieved by practice. Then more practice and more and more practice.

Give that little rubber casting plug a good workout day after day and week after week and you too can be proficient in the gentle art of casting, or perhaps we should say the art of gentle casting—for that's even more difficult.

Problem, of course, is finding the time to practice. If you're really interested you'll set aside the time, even if it's only 10 or 15 minutes a day.

Consistency is the real secret and determination to master the art is essential. You just gotta suppress earnings somewhat, but in future years the net income figure will be greatly influenced by the securities market.

Thus, banks may enhance or depress their earnings if they desire. Managing the bank portfolio, consisting primarily of bonds, will be more difficult. A decision must be made whether to upgrade the bond portfolio and obtain a better yield for several years and sacrifice reported net earnings for the year involved, or maintain the status quo for the sake of the year-to-year earnings picture. Another factor is the new regulation on bond appreciation now taxed as regular income rather than as capital gains for commercial banks. Regardless of the decision made on investment policy, net income is subject to fluctuations under the new method of reporting earnings.

Country Banks

The country banks, which are consumer banks, fared somewhat better last year than banks in major money centers, but disintermediation prevented even greater earnings growth. During the latter part of 1969 there was a strong run on Certificates of Deposit, and these banks were forced to find other sources of money. One Philadelphia bank circumvented Regulation Q of the Fed by offering $20 million 7 1/4% subordinated notes in denominations of $100 to attract funds from the small investor. This had proven quite successful, and it was visualized that these notes could be further utilized if money remained tight. However, the Federal Reserve Board is considering closing this loophole by imposing a minimum $20,000 denomination and a minimum maturity of five years per note.

The increase in the minimum denomination of Treasury Bills from $1,000 to $10,000 should result in more deposits for commercial banks, as the small investor loses what is considered the safest and most liquid form of savings other than bank deposits. The Fed's ruling in late 1969 to allow banks to pay higher interest on time deposits proved to be too little, too late.

Lower Interest Rates Expected

The Research Staff of Babson's foresees a reduction in interest rates during the year, which should result in expanding deposits for all banks. At the present time there are indications of some easing in the demand for loans. However, this is slight, and the overall demand is still brisk. Many banks would prefer to reduce the expensive borrowing they have done, such as in Eurodollars, than to expand loans. This would improve liquidity and should mean better profit margins. Another advantage of lower interest rates would be found in the bond portfolio of banks, which would gain in value. We are currently recommending for purchase Chase Manhattan Corp., Republic National Bank of Dallas, and Western Bancorporation.

"A Man Called Gannon"

A mature western, exploding with excitement, romance, thrills and drama, starring Tony Franciosa and Michael Sarrazin and co-starring Judi West, Susan Oliver and John Anderson, Universal's "A Man Called Gannon," photographed in Technicolor, shows Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre. Based on the novel, "Man Without A Star" by Dee Linford, the action-packed story centers around a tough cowhand and a greenhorn who hire themselves out to an attractive, widowed rancher and end up in the end and end up in the middle of a range war.

"Strategy of Terror,"

A plot to assassinate an under-secretary to the United Nations is thwarted by Hugh O'Brian in the action-packed, suspense-filled "Strategy of Terror," a Universal picture in color show Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre. Barbara Rush, Harry Townes and Neil Hamilton also co-star.

Bill tells me that he started flipping a plastic plug down the aisles of the stores he called on when he first began peddling outdoors merchandise. "It gave me something to do while waiting to talk to tackle buyers," said Bill.

"Me, Natalie"

An ugly duckling at six, Natalie (Patty Duke), only child of a middle class Brooklyn couple, has always been told that homely children grow up to be pretty. Now, at eighteen, she realizes that this is not so. Her unhappy high school experiences with blind dates, the present lack of any dating experiences at all, confirm her belief, and she hides her injured pride behind abrasive witticisms. Embarrassed by her well-meaning, panicky parents' attempts to marry her off, she moves to a rickety brownstone apartment in Greenwich Village, becomes a waitress in a risqué night club buys a motorcycle and begins to live. Her brief affair with a young married architect shows her that she can be needed and loved, and lets her face the world as a self-assured young woman. Patty Duke is both touching and comical in the title role, and gets excellent support from the recognizable characters in the cast.

Me, Natalie will be showing Sunday and Monday at the State Theatre.

Impala '400' Sale.

You save when you buy it. You save when you drive it.

When you buy any Impala V8 model during our "400" Sale, here's how you can get two popular extras at no extra charge.

You order your Impala equipped with a Turbo Hydra-matic transmission, radio, Comfortilt steering wheel, front and rear bumper guards and white stripe tires. Items you'd probably order anyway.

Then we add our big 400-cubic-inch V8 at 265 hp that runs on regular gas, along with dual exhausts—both at no charge. (The manufacturer's suggested retail price including Federal excise tax for the regular fuel 400 V8 and dual exhausts is $93.75.)

But that's only the beginning. Because your Chevrolet dealer is really anxious to deal these days.

And the Impala you're buying, of course, got to be America's No. 1 car, because of all the value features built right in. Features like flush-and-dry rocker panels that fight rust. Inner fenders to protect the outer fenders. Long lasting bias belted ply tires, steel guard beams in every door for added protection, an acrylic lacquer finish over its solid Body by Fisher.

All of which contributes to Impala's traditionally high resale value, too. You're getting America's No. 1 car on sale. The car more people buy—year after year after year.

How can you beat that?
