HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Some events come about as if by definite purpose.

Mrs. John (Verlene Gideon) Anthis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Gideon of Winters, operates a Poodle Shop in Mineral Wells. Mrs. Blanche Welch, also of Mineral Wells, came into the shop one day recently. In the course of conversation, Mrs. Anthis mentioned she was from Winters and had attended Winters High School. It was the answer to a year-old question for Mrs. Welch.

About a year ago, Mrs. Welch found a Winters High School class ring in a dryer in a Mineral Wells laundry. She had kept it hoping to eventually find the owner. Mrs. Anthis provided the link.

Mrs. Anthis wrote to The Enterprise, describing the ring—1967, with the initials "GEW" inside—and asked if the owner could be located. Mrs. George C. Hill, editor of The Enterprise, researched the files and found that the only person with the initials "GEW" graduating from Winters High School in 1967 was Glenn Edward Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Wright, formerly of Winters and now operating a dairy farm at Hico. This information was forwarded to Mrs. Anthis.

Mrs. Welch contacted Glenn Edward, who was about to go into the Marines. It seems he had removed the ring one day more than a year ago, to help with work around the dairy. The ring disappeared and he had long since considered it lost forever.

However, within a week from the time Mrs. Anthis had written to The Enterprise, the ring was returned to Wright, before he went into the Marines.

The circle becomes more pronounced—Mrs. Welch, though now living in Mineral Wells, was reared in Hico.

North Runnels Hospital Board Is Organized

Ballots cast in the April 4 North Runnels County Hospital District director election were canvassed by the board Monday night, and the seven-made slate of candidates officially announced as elected and given oaths of office.

The board was organized with John Norman re-named as president, George R. Hill, vice president, and Bobby Rogers, secretary.

The four candidates receiving the highest number of votes in the April 4 election will serve for two years, with the other three to serve one-year terms. Elected for two-year terms were Gilbert Smith, Audra L. Mitchell and Lynn Billups. Three candidates received tie votes—132 each—and a drawing was held Monday night to determine which one of the three would serve the two-year term. Bobby Rogers was named to the long term, with John W. Norman and E. F. Albro to one-year terms. George Hill is the other one-year director.

In the past, proceeds from the broom sale have been used to help finance the sight projects, assistance to the needy, a special student projects of the Lions Club, President Hodge said. However, he said, because of the great need for funds for operation of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, a non-profit and non-grant institution which serves all West Texas, the Lions decided to channel all profits to that project this year. The local Lions Club also makes a monthly contribution to the Center.

Elm Creek

Water District Seeks Priority

"Progress of land involvement (re: soil-water conservation) means a lot to the State Board" when the Board is holding hearings to determine priority status of water control districts seeking to make application for assistance in developing flood control projects. Also, the Board will want to know the "facts" regarding flood damage in specified areas.

Joe Antilley, South Taylor County rancher, and member of the State Soil and Water Commission, told 64 area residents last Wednesday night that the State Board will hold hearings in May to determine project priorities, and if Elm Creek Water Control District meets all requirements, this district will receive high consideration toward a priority rating.

The meeting of area water and soil conservation district officials and board members was held at Huffman House on Wednesday night, sponsored by the board of directors of Elm Creek Water Control District. Attending were members of the Soil Conservation of Runnels and Taylor counties, Runnels Soil Conservation District, Runnels County Water Authority, Upper Colorado River Authority, Runnels County Commissioners and other county officials, Antilley, and Lonzo Stewart of the State Soil Conservation Board.

W. M. Hays, chairman of the board of Elm Creek Water Control District, welcomed the guests and introduced Woodrow Hoffman, Runnels County SCS, and Bob Price, Taylor County SCS, who made reports on the progress of soil and water conservation practices within the District.

Lonzo Stewart reminded the group of the "importance of communications" all the districts, and made suggestions regarding action to be taken by Elm Creek directors during the (Continued on page 6)

"BYE BYE BIRDIE"—Shriner's surround Rose (Maria Rodriguez) in a scene from the Broadway hit musical, being staged by the Winters High School Junior class Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. Tickets for the show are going fast, according to Director Jerry Neely. The first night is sold out, Friday's performance was almost sold out this week, and special permission was received to run into the third night.

"Bye Bye Birdie," Broadway Musical By Juniors, Will Run Three Nights

To meet the overwhelming demand for tickets to the first Broadway musical ever to be staged in Winters, "Bye Bye Birdie," produced by the Winters High School Junior Class, will run three nights, April 23, 24 and 25, it was announced this week.

Originally scheduled for Thursday and Friday, demand for tickets forced a holdover through Saturday night. The first night was virtually sold out several days ago, and requests for tickets were coming in from all over the Big Country and even from points as far away as Houston, according to Jerry Neely, football-basketball coach, turned musical production director.

The play, which enjoyed a long run on New York's Broadway, is the first such production to be staged in Winters and one of the few in this section of the country, and demand for tickets is evidence of an appetite for top-notch musicals, Neely said.

"Bye Bye Birdie" is a giant production, and all members of the Junior Class, and others, are involved in the play, along with a full orchestra. Kirke McKenzie, WHS music director, will direct the orchestra. Extra stage space has been provided for the play.

"Bye Bye Birdie" is a "now" production, according to Director Neely. It concerns Conrad Birdie (played by Danny Reel), the swivel-hip singing idol of America's millions of teenagers, who has been drafted. To get the most publicity possible out of his last appearance before induction, his manager, Albert Peterson (played by Ronnie Wilson) arranges for a national television broadcast from the "heart of America." Sweet Apple, Ohio. There, Kim MacAfee, (Patricia Hill) is to be Birdie's host. Although Peterson has managed Birdie to the pinnacle of his profession, he has trouble managing his personal affairs... especially his mother, Mae. Mae objects to his friendship with his secretary, Rose (Maria Rodriguez). While Albert is trying to straighten out his own affairs, Conrad Birdie is causing havoc with his fondness for the girls and a warm beer for breakfast.

The teenagers of Sweet Apple will never be the same... The MacAfee household will never be the same... in fact, television will never be the same after young America says, "Bye Bye Birdie!"

All seats for "Bye Bye Birdie" are reserved, and are selling for only one dollar. The crowd will be limited to 400 per night in accordance with terms of the contract with Tams-Witmark of New York, from whom the show was obtained. Neely said the contract was for two nights run, and special permission had to be granted by the New York firm to go into the third night.

The morning session was given to reports from local organizations. In the afternoon, Mrs. James Strother, of Abilene, Diocesan president, gave the president's address, and introduced Bishop Leven, who spoke on the five basic commissions; Church, family, community affairs, international affairs and organization services.

Presiding over the days assembly was Mrs. Ann Ryan of Brown, president of the Brownwood Deanery.

Father Patrick Ryan, OMI, is pastor of the local church.

Mrs. Verlene Anthis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Gideon, and Mrs. Blanche Welch, both of Mineral Wells, were weekend visitors in the Gideon home.

The meeting began at 10 a.m. and lasted until 3 p.m. A chicken dinner was served at noon by the ladies of the local church.

Sparks Infant Buried Friday Afternoon

James Edwin Sparks, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sparks, died at birth early Thursday morning at North Runnels County Hospital. Services were held at 2 p. m. Friday at Babyland in Lakeview Cemetery under direction

Good Grassland Management Pays

The infant's father is an employee of the City of Winters. Besides the parents, the infant is survived by maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barnes of Winters, four brothers and five sisters.

Good Grassland Management Pays

Good grassland management pays. The landowners in the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District hear statements like that from the Soil Conservation Service month after month, year after year, said Ronald Rugh, Range Conservationist with the local SCS. And we have many years of experience working with farmers and ranchers to back up our statements.

One example of this is a rancher on a 1,324 acre ranch located just south of here. He was carrying out a heavy grazing program with 103 cows or 1 cow to every 13 acres, when he decided to reduce his herd and improve his grassland. This rancher sold down to 60 cows or 1 cow to every 22 acres, and over the next 8 years averaged 8,000 pounds more beef sold from his ranch, each year.

Most people would not believe this, Rugh said, but when this rancher reduced his herd he increased his calf-crop percentage and individual calf weights simply by growing more grass and harvesting it efficiently.

As compared with too-heavy use, the proper use of grassland plants results in: (1) Higher gains per head of livestock; (2) More wool and mohair per animal; Higher calf or lamb crop percentage; (4) Higher calf and lamb weaning weights; (5) Better livestock condition at marketing time; (6) Fewer nutritional problems; (7) Lower veterinary costs; (8) Lower investment in livestock; (9) Fewer pest plant problems; (10) Less labor and equipment needed; (11) Lower feed costs, and (12) More Net Profit.

These benefits, Rugh concluded, along with improvement in yield and quality of forage on well managed and properly stocked grasslands far outweigh any temporary gains from too heavy grassland use.

STATE CAPITAL NEWS

AUSTIN—State Welfare costs may go up sharply next year if Congress passes a new Medicaid bill.

State Senate Committee on Welfare Reform heard estimates that Medicaid amendments alone will require at least $25.9 million in additional state outlays during the coming biennium.

Burton G. Hackney, State Welfare Commissioner, predicts President Nixon's Family Assistance Plan of legislation might cost Texas a minimum of $22 million more each year and double the number of children on state aid rolls.

Senate committee heard estimates that Medicaid changes will add more than $6.2 million to the state's obligations for the present biennium.

While welfare officials are now optimistic over being able to continue present program levels until the next legislative sessions, they will, at best, be in debt $13.5 million come January. That's the amount Gov. Preston Smith transferred to welfare from medical school construction funds to head off the scheduled April 1 cut in payments.

If rough estimates presented the committee are correct, the legislature will be looking at an increase of $70 million for new programs during the next fiscal period—not to mention another $20 million "catch-up" money carrying over from the current biennium.

If Congress places mental retardation under new limitations for inpatient services, the state could end up with another $9 million a year in new obligations, plus $8.2 million in unexpected expenses for the present fiscal period.

SHORT SNORTS Aeronautics Commission staff has recommended that 28 cities in the state be provided intrastate cargo-only air service and approved four companies to serve them.

Mrs. Charles Kruse Attended TCTA Meeting Recently

Mrs. Charles Kruse, Jr., president of Winters Classroom Teachers Association, attended the Fourteenth Annual Texas Classroom Teachers Association held at Fort Worth recently. Mrs. Kruse served as voting delegate from Winters.

Of major concern was the unification of the two education organizations on state level: Texas State Teachers Association and Texas Classroom Teachers Association. The Task Force Committee of TCTA reported proposals designed to form a coordination council or over-all organization which would oversee both TCTA and TSTA.

Also, a plan designed to improve teacher training and certification in Texas was approved by the delegates. Among items included in the plan is one that will require college and university teachers involved in teacher education programs to return periodically, at least once every five years, to teach in public schools. Such a plan will help college instructors to remain aware of changes in attitudes and abilities of students, as well as public schools themselves.

New officers elected and installed include the following: president, Oather E. Raynes of Dallas; president-elect, Mrs. Jackie Blackstock of El Paso; vice president, Mrs. Vivian Bowser of Houston.

Convention site for 1971 will be at Corpus Christi.

surveys and priority hearings. He said that the State Board would want to hear much evidence of flood damage, and should be shown that damage while on tour of the area. Stewart also said that the District seeking assistance priority should "have as many people as possible" present at the hearing, and that at least 50 percent of the land involved in applying districts must be under soil conservation practices, with satisfactory planning.

Antley said the State Board will hold priority hearings in May, and would consider Elm Creek if the district is ready.

Woodrow Hoffman of Runnels County SCS said that at least 50 percent of the land situated in Runnels County, affected by the Elm Creek District, will be under soil conservation programs by June 1. Bob Price of Taylor County SCS said that 64 percent of the affected land in Taylor is now under soil conservation programs, and that the combined percentage within the District would meet the 50 percent requirement at the present time.

Walter Grubbs, of Abilene, district office manager for Congressman Omar Burleson, brought regrets from the Congressman that he was unable to attend the meeting because of pressing legislative business in Washington. Grubbs said that soil conservation and flood control were of high interest to Congressman Burleson, and that he would extend his assistance in any manner to districts seeking help in beginning projects.

W. M. Hays, chairman of the Elm Creek District, said he was gratified at the interest of the residents in the district toward development of flood control measures. He said he felt sure that when time for the priority hearing came farmers, ranchers and businessmen would support wholeheartedly the actions of the District. He also said that the gathering of members of the several districts, authorities and boards suggested that all are seeking close cooperation in promoting conservation and flood control.

high priority—probably at the May meeting—the District then will make formal application for Federal assistance in planning and building floodwater retaining structures on the tributaries of Elm Creek in South Taylor and East Runnels Counties. Much needs to be done before actual surveying and planning begins, Hays said, but the board of directors is confident that tangible progress can be made within the next few months.

Ag Agent Says Local Pecan Trees Threatened By Scab, Urges Spraying

Pecan tree owners are urged to spray their trees for control of Scab, C. T. Parker Jr., Runnels County agricultural agent said this week.

This disease has been serious in the county, Parker said, and has caused many trees to die, others to shed leaves prematurely and to cause a black spot on the pecan nut. If this disease is not controlled, the county agent said, there will be many trees to suffer and more to die.

The first time to spray will be from one to two weeks from now—when the leaves are one-third grown and the blooms are nearly in full bloom. Parker said his office has received many calls concerning Scab in the fall—after it is too late to control the disease.

The most effective spray to use is Du-Ter, Parker said. Use 4 tenths of a pound to 100 gallons of water. At this time, also put 3 pounds of zinc in the water, he said. Be sure and follow the directions on the label of this insecticide.

Big Country TB Association Meeting April 18

The first annual meeting of the Big Country Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association will be held Saturday, April 18, at 1 p. m. in the Angelus Room of the Central National Bank in San Angelo.

April 1, 1969, 32 counties combined forces to fight tuberculosis and respiratory diseases. Counties involved are Andrews, Coke, Coleman, Concho, Crane, Crockett, Fctor, Edwards, Howard Glasscock, Irion, Jones, Kimble, Loving, Martin, Mason, McCulloch, Mer-1, Midland, Mitchell, Nolan, Reagan, Real, Runnels, Schleicher, Sterling, Sutton, Taylor, Tom Green, Ward and Winkler.

Presently serving from Runnels county on the board of directors of the Big Country Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association are Mrs. Raymond Lloyd, RN, of Winters, and Mrs. Doyle Condra of Talpa.

San Angelo was selected as headquarters and D. C. Moore as executive director. Two directors from each county compose the board of directors.

Saturday's meeting completes the first year's work of the newly organized 32-county area. Reports from the program and budget committee for 1970 will be given, and the nominating committee will make their report. New officers and board members will be installed at this meeting.

Dr. Travis Smith of Abilene, a director at large on the Texas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, will be guest speaker.

Be Patient, The Census Taker Is Coming

Robert C. Ford, district manager, reports that the 1970 Census of Population and Housing is nearing completion in the area, that in about another week the census takers should have visited every residence on their lists.

Census takers began visiting households on April 1 and have been working continuously to cover their territories. The district manager asks that householders hold their questionnaires which were delivered prior to April 1, and have them filled out, ready for the census taker to pick up. This will save time for both the householder and the census taker and speed up the completion of the census.

For every fifth household, the census taker will have a longer questionnaire which she will fill out by interviewing a member of the household. The district manager asks householders to welcome these census takers when they call and to give them full cooperation in getting the required census information.

Most of the census takers are women. Each wears a red white, and blue identification badge which is her official credential. It bears her signature and certifies that she is authorized to perform the duties of a Census Enumerator, and has sworn to keep confidential all census information given her.

TSgt. Billy J. Hall Completes Non-Com Officer Academy

Technical Sergeant Billy J. Hall, son of retired U. S. Army Master Sergeant and Mrs. Luther S. Stout of Johnson City, Tenn., has graduated from the U. S. Air Force Noncommissioned Officer Academy at Barksdale AFB, La.

Sergeant Hall, who received advanced military leadership and management training, is a supply supervisor at Fairchild AFB, Wash. He is assigned to the 92nd Supply Squadron, a unit of the Strategic Air Command, America's nuclear deterrent force of long range bombers and intercontinental ballistic missiles.

The sergeant is a 1955 graduate of Science Hill High School. His wife, Shirley, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Scott of Winters.

Javelina Esteemed By Out-of-State Sportsmen

Austin—The Javelina, scoffed at by many Texas deer hunters, apparently still has the esteem of many out-of-state hunters.

Eugene A. Walker, director of wildlife for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, said hunters from outside the state are taking advantage of the no-closed season and no-bag limit situation in many counties.

The javelina, or collared peccary, is numerous in South Texas, parts of the Trans-Pecos and, to a lesser degree, the Hill Country.

The diminutive "pigs" furnish sport during a period of the year when most other seasons are closed. Regulations for each county are found in the Texas Hunting Guide and supplements distributed by the Department.

Javelinas range northward only as far as Llano and Mason Counties in the Hill Country, Walker said, but they appear to be increasing in the southern portions of those counties.

This increase, however, does not necessarily mean the javelinas are moving significantly northward, Walker said.

WHS Girls Won District Tennis, On To Regional

Debra Carroll won the district tennis singles championship, and Carol Jacob and Tandy Medford won the doubles in district tennis play.

The Winters students will represent Winters and the district in regional play.

In district shorthand contests, Betty Nichols won and will go to the regionals contest.

Student Council Officers Named Recently At WHS

Officers and class representatives were elected to head the student body of Winters High School during the next school year, at an election held recently.

Hudson White was elected president; Mike Smith, vice president; Ginger Fairry, secretary-treasurer; Tandy Medford, song leader; and Lesli Bishop, pianist.

Class representation rules were changed this year. Three girls and three boys were elected to represent each class, instead of two, which has been the custom in the past. Also, each candidate had to pay a filing fee and present a petition signed by students.

Representing the seniors will be Cynthia Brown, Brenda King, Rhonda Sneed, Joe Eckols, David Harrison and Don Magee.

Junior representatives will be Nora Ann Carpenter (Debbie Eoff, Debbie Lloyd, Mark Harrison, Cliff Poe and Steve Tatom.

Sophomore representatives are Trish Hill, Benjie Lee, Landa Walker, Fred de la Cruz, Scott King and Rickey Mathis.

Freshmen, Lisa Bishop, Barbara Fairry, Susan Poe, Mike Fowler, Stanley Tatom and Jim West.

The new student body president will be a senior next school year. He has served as a student council representative, president of his class, member of the Winters Chapter of the FFA, and is a member of the varsity football team. He also is a member of the National Honor Society. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson White Sr.

Mike Smith, vice president for 1970-71, is active in all phases of school life. He will be a junior at WHS, and has represented his class on the student council. STOCK MARKET

BUSINESS FOR SECOND 1970 QUARTER

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass. — As a result of anti-inflation monetary and fiscal measures, industrial activity, building, and retail trade have been in serious straits for many months. Moreover, corporate profits have been less satisfactory, and unemployment is now a source of concern. When fiscal tally is made for this second quarter of 1970, a further period of lackluster economic conditions will doubtless be revealed. Here is how the key economic areas for this quarterly period will shape up, according to the staff of Babson's Reports.

Watch the Federal Reserve

The prime prerequisite for an improvement in the economic picture is a further shift in monetary policy. Although the reduction in the prime rate by many of the commercial banks reflects the less restrictive attitude on the part of the Federal Reserve Board, the credit easing thus far is grossly inadequate to expand business. However, with new wage boosts and with prices still trending upward, it is very doubtful that the money managers will turn on the credit spigot to a great degree all at once.

But despite the determination of the Administration and the Federal Reserve Board to quench the fires of inflation, they cannot ignore the sag in business and the jump in unemployment. Just as considerable time was required for the dampening monetary and fiscal moves to take hold, the nation's leaders are well aware that anti-recession stimulants must be applied without waiting too long. Hence, it would not be surprising to see further credit easing moves. But, with the pent-up demand for long-term credit, it is unlikely that long-term interest rates will ease abruptly and substantially.

Industrial Production

Factory output slipped lower in March, marking the eighth successive month of sub-seasonal performance. With new business inflow to manufacturers reflecting inventory retrenchment, odds now favor a downward trek in factory activity.

Building and Construction

With mortgage money available only at very costly rates, new building and construction expenditures will do well to match seasonal norms in the second quarter. Nothing definite has yet emerged in regard to assistance for home building, and any stimulus applied over the next three months will be of little help until after midyear.

Employment and Income Climate

Despite the rise in unemployment and the reduction in manufacturing employment, total employment has remained very high. However, the expected further ease in industrial activity should exact a greater toll in coming months. The unemployment rate is likely to approximate 5 percent of the seasonally adjusted civilian labor force by midyear. Though still trending upward, personal income has already commenced to level off. However, new pay boosts should forestall any downturn in personal income during the period from April through June.

Price and Profit Outlook

Price tags are expected to be marked up further, but due to the letdown in production and consumer resistance to high prices, hikes are likely to be selective and less steep than in the past year. Corporate profits after taxes have been declining since the second quarter of 1969. Prospects are dim for a reversal of the downward trend in corporate earnings in the second 1970 quarter. Lack of vitality in the economy and rising casts will cause the squeeze on profit margins to continue over the near term.

SAGGING AUTO INDUSTRY

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass., March 19, 1970. Detroit's "babies" for this model year debuted in grand style with well-equipped and accessory-loaded cars. But as a disappointing sales pattern evolved and inventories became burdensome, production adjustments became necessary much earlier than has been the case in previous years. The car industry, being highly sensitive to sales rates and keenly aware of the disadvantages of overstocking dealers when the cost of carrying inventories in high, began remedial action as early as last November.

FACING REALITY

Revisions of sales estimates and projections led to the adoption of cutbacks amounting to some 10 to 12 percent in output plans for the year as a whole. However, even with these production adjustments, by January 31 inventory holdings were at a record high for that time of year—enough autos to cover about 75 selling days. January and February, by and large, were dismal months for sales. Never the less, toward the end of January and continuing thru February, moves to regulate inventories produced a somewhat better balance between output and sales. Thus, the situation, while still tenuous, gradually became less vulnerable than it had been earlier in the model year.

QUESTION MARKS

Inventory figures are now running at approximately 60 selling days and sales have started to perk up slightly, aided by dealer contests. In this stormy year, however, car dealers have two giant dark clouds looming before them: (1) The introduction of the sub-compacts; and (2) a potential strike by the auto workers, with a costly settlement probable. As to the subs, the fact that they offer cheaper transportation (per pound) makes for greater appeal for auto purchasers in a year of tight money and spiraling costs on all sides. It should be remembered, though, that the subs are a less lucrative product.

LABOR DEMANDS

The labor problems coming in September will cause much concern during the interim. Early signs are that the union's primary aims are more than substantial. For example, the UAW wants an "unlimited" cost-of-living allowance to replace the present maximum of 8 cents per hour each year, a minimum pension of $500 a month after 30 years; and year-end bonuses, vacation bonuses, and a company-sponsored stock option plan.

THE FIGHT FOR SALES

To combat the buying hesitancy of the cost-conscious consumer, the car market is focusing at present on the lower price factor, via dealer incentive programs and removal of certain luxury equipment. With production figures down, the advent of the mini-priced sub-compacts may be a blessing for the car manufacturers. It is hoped that the emergence of these small autos may bolster overall production totals, especially if they can help reduce the encroachment of foreign cars and thus prevent even more drastic output curtailment and layoffs in the U. S. auto industry. While the issue is still in doubt, it will be very important to watch the spring automobile market. Should sales take an upturn, the economy could be given a much-needed assist and tide the industry over the pre-strike spring and summer period.

"CASTLE KEEP"

In "Castle Keep," his new film in Panavision and Technicolor presented at the State Theatre by Columbia Pictures in association with Filmways, Burt Lancaster plays an American Army major who defends a 10th Century castle in a 20th Century War. The setting is Belgium; the time is just before, and during, the Battle of the Bulge.

"Castle Keep" is based on the best-selling novel by William Eastlake, and it offers Lancaster a role he has wanted ever since he read the book before publication. He involved himself in every phase of planning and production, including the set designs, the screenplay, the casting. "No film I've ever been associated with," he once said, "has excited me more than 'Castle Keep.'" Considering the Lancaster record of successful performance, that's high praise indeed!

"THE COMPUTER WORE TENNIS SHOES"

Walt Disney Productions' latest film release, "The Computer Wore Tennis Shoes," is an imaginative "Now" generation comedy that takes a jovial jab at the generation gap and the establishment.

It is a story that literally turns on when a failing college student is accidentally shocked into a solid state of genius by a backfiring computer that leaves him with all the memory and split second calculating abilities of the mechanical marvel.

In giving our computer oriented world the needle, Disney mixed together a refreshing sprinkle of screen newcomers with a polished set of pros led by Kurt Russell, as the student who finds a new "thing" from the "machine"; Cesar Romero playing a gangland gambling czar hiding under a cloak of respectability; and funny-man Joe Flynn as an upright college dean.

It is complete with an up-beat jazz-rock musical score featuring the newest in electronic music making, the Moog Synthesizer, and a title song from the talented team of Belland and Somerville.

In color by Technicolor. "The Computer Wore Tennis Shoes" also co-stars William Schallert, Allan Hewitt, Richard Bakalyan and Debbie Paine.

WASHINGTON
"As it looks from here"
OMAR BURSELM
Congressman
17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The 14th Amendment to our Constitution has been the launching pad for many controversial Supreme Court decisions in recent years.

Just a few days ago it entered another dimension unheard of or imagined. It embraced the extraordinary idea that an individual can claim welfare payments as a "property" right even when his eligibility to receive payments from the Government is under question.

The 14th Amendment provides that no entity of government can deprive persons of life, liberty and property without due process of law. The Court by a 5 to 3 vote decided that welfare payments were a part of the individual's "property" and they can not be removed from the welfare rolls without a court hearing. There is little doubt that a Government attorney will be furnished to represent the individual, although in other instances it is illegal for those in Government to represent a client having a claim against the Government.

The ruling strikes at the heart of the concept that welfare programs are an instrument of charitable support. Instead, the decision portrays the collection of welfare benefits as an established property right.

In a dissent, Justice Hugo Black said "Government's promise of charity expressed in our welfare programs considered to be a property right, strains credulity."

An immediate consequence of the ruling will not only add to the already staggering cost of welfare but will lead to endless hearings before courts already burdened with overloaded dockets. In the meantime, those found ineligible by those responsible for such a determination will continue to be paid.

The elevation of public welfare into an obligation of the Government to support every citizen is in danger of being written even more explicit into our laws when the Nixon Administration's "Family Assistance Plan" is enacted by the Congress.

The Administration's proposal assures every family that its income, for whatever reason, will not fall below a specified level. Once people are on the welfare rolls, under the Court's ruling will be extremely difficult for them to be removed, even though it is determined by local welfare administrators that their eligibility has ceased to exist. It will discourage efforts to remove those found to disqualify for whatever reason.

It is not a matter of not being responsive to the genuine needs of unfortunate people. The American people have always responded in helping those who cannot help themselves. Cities, counties, states, the Federal Government—plus countless private agencies, groups and organizations, provide aid to genuinely needy people. True charity is one thing but a Court's decision which says it is guaranteed under the Constitution removes the moral concept of charity and places those who are unwilling to work in a position to claim public money as a property right. It gives the lazy and shiftless a right alongside those in genuine need and who are unable to support themselves.

The Court's decision is a violation of the property rights of the American taxpayer who is required to contribute a goodly portion of his earnings to those who have no inclination to better themselves. The decision denies property rights to men and women who get up every morning and go to their jobs. The Court's action has the effect of confiscating property through taxation to be handed out in the name of charity which brings us to the point where there is no charitable duty or obligation except that of the Government — no conscience but state conscience. Perhaps the latter is even more serious to us as a people.
