HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

The Winters High School Student Council has designated their annual $100 college scholarship, given each year, the "Randy Pendergrass Memorial Scholarship," in memory of the late Randy Pendergrass.

Randy Pendergrass, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pendergrass, was a 1969 graduate of Winters High School where he was president of the Student Council during his senior year. He had been attending the summer semester at Texas Tech when he was killed in a tragic traffic accident last summer.

The scholarship is awarded each year to an outstanding student nominated by the Student Council. Final selection is made by a faculty committee.

Johnny Mack Cathey is the 1970 recipient of the "Randy Pendergrass Memorial Scholarship."

Members of Alpha Chi Chapter, Future Teachers of America, have a unique way of expressing their appreciation of their teachers.

Recently, each member of the faculty of Winters Schools found a little note and "ticket" in his mail box at school. The note, "The members of the Alpha Chi FTA would like to show their appreciation by giving you a courtesy ticket which may be used for coffee or soft drinks. There are also cookies for your hungry tummies in the lounge." The ticket, "Courtesy Ticket. Are you thirsty? If you are, trot on up to the lounge and have a drink on me. This ticket is worth 10 cents. Paid for by the Winters FTA." Taped to each ticket was a dime.

According to an article which has come across the desk, there are dangers lurking in common household and garden plants and in common bleaches and detergents. Dangers which many of us never realized or thought about. Bleaches, the article says, if mixed with certain other types of household cleaners, release poisonous chlorine gas which can cause severe illness. Many plants are dangerous mostly to small children who are apt to consume anything. It is surprising to many of us how dangerous an innocent looking plant can be. Children should refrain from experimenting. Many of our medicines come from plants and our ancestors learned their values, and their dangers, the hard way.

Some of the plants listed in the article as dangerous are: Poinsettia—Fatal; one leaf can kill a child.

Oleander—Extremely poisonous, has caused death.

Castor Bean—A single seed has caused death.

Mistletoe—Children and adults have died from eating the berries.

Hyacinth, Narcissus and Daffodil—Cause nausea and diarrhea, may be fatal.

Delphinium—Digestive upset, may be fatal.

Rhubarb—Leaf is poisonous. Large amounts, raw or cooked, can cause convulsions, coma, followed rapidly by death.

Daphne—A few berries can kill a child.

Wisteria—Seeds and pods, mild to severe upset. Many children poisoned by this plant.

Laurel, rhododendron—all parts, causing vomiting, prostration and coma.

Foxglove—Leaves are a source of digitalis, causes digestive upset and mental confusion, may be fatal.

TO THE CHILDREN OF LUBBOCK: When told that the churches and other organizations were collecting food and other items to send to the people at Lubbock who lost their homes when the devastating tornado struck May 11, children of Winters Primary and Elementary Schools wanted to do something to help. At the suggestion of a third grader, the children made up two large boxes of school supplies which were taken to Lubbock Monday to be given to children of a grade school. The supplies were turned over to Linus Wright, Lubbock school business manager, who said they would be given to a grade school there. Children pictured above helped to fill the boxes with supplies. ## City Council Approves Budget For Fiscal Year Following a public hearing Monday night, the City Council approved a budget for the City of Winters for the fiscal year beginning October 1, which had been proposed. Only members of the Council and administrative staff were present for the hearing.

The budget as approved is similar to that for the present year, with small increases in some departments caused by increases in cost of operation, according to City Hall spokesmen. For the General Fund, it is estimated that revenue will be $209,380 and expenses $208,646. Taxes will make up about half—$100,575—of the revenue, with the remainder coming from several other sources. Of the estimated expense, the streets will consume the biggest share—$42,261—according to calculations. Administration expenses will be second, estimated at $31,873.

Revenue for the Electric Department is estimated at $157,000 with expenses at $156,764. Electric sales are expected to hit $148,000, with service charges, merchandise sales and other miscellaneous bringing in the rest. Bonds and interest will account for $29,480, with General Fund engine lease amounting to $12,000. Capital investment expense estimate has been budgeted at $9,000, and plant capital at $1,000.

The Water Department estimates a total income of $64,000 for the fiscal year, with water sales accounting for $60,000. Operating expenses have been estimated at $52,738, with non-operating items such as bond retirement to come to $10,800. For the first time in many years, a hospital department is not included. The Winters Municipal Hospital was transferred to the North Runnels County Hospital District last year and no longer is a part of municipal holdings.

Saturday Service At Post Office Now Discontinued

Saturday window service has been discontinued at the Winters Post Office, H. M. Nichols, postmaster, reports. The Saturday closing will become effective May 23. Effective the same date, there will be no parcel post delivery on Saturday. Mail will be boxed as usual on Saturday, and city and rural carriers will make regular deliveries, Nichols said.

The need for Saturday service has declined, Nichols said, and it is felt that manpower can be utilized more efficiently by discontinuing the service. Stamp vending machines will be available in the lobby of the Post Office, the postmaster said. Saturday mailing should be put in the drop box on the Post Office parking lot by 2 p.m. in order to make the dispatch for that day, Nichols said.

Trucks with coffee and sandwiches are covering the area to feed many volunteer workers and persons who have remained within their damaged homes. More than 30 Red Cross volunteer nurses are on duty to assist with the medical needs, while other volunteers are serving hot meals to the victims.

Robinson said donations may be left at the Winters State Bank, or mailed to him.

Deeds Mailed To Acquire Land For Highway Widening

Winters City Council Monday night authorized mailing of deeds on extra land required for the highway widening project through Winters. Each property owner with land which will be involved in the project will receive a deed to the footage required, City Hall sources said. The City of Winters then will make purchase arrangements through regular procedures.

Most of Main Street—which is US Highway 83 through Winters—will be involved in the project. Only the three blocks in the business section will not require extra footage, it was stated.

Fresh Sweet Corn:

Almost immediately after harvest the fresh ears get an ice-cold shower of air and water. Even after the corn is packed for shipment, it's blanched with a shower of snow-ice.

This cool moist atmosphere keeps the corn fresh and sweet, according to Mrs. O'Connor. And you'll find it wise to continue the treatment right up until cooking time. As soon as possible after buying corn, wrap the ears in a damp towel and refrigerate.

When buying corn, look for fresh, succulent husks with good green color, silk ends that are free from decay or worm injury and stem ends that are not too discolored and dried. Select ears that are well covered with plump, not-too-mature kernels.

Avoid ears with under-developed kernels which lack yellow color (in yellow corn), old ears with very large kernels and ears with dark yellow kernels with depressed areas on the outer surface. Also avoid ears of corn with yellowed, wilted or dried husks or discolored and dried stem ends.

Fresh corn is great for cook-outs. When carrying corn to a cookout spot away from home, have the ears ready for cooking—either in the husks or sealed in heavy-weight aluminum foil. Wrap in a damp towel and place in a food chest, bucket or other container with blocks of ice. Be sure to keep the corn out of the melting ice.

For simple preparation, husk each ear and remove the silk; brush with melted butter and tightly wrap in heavy-weight aluminum foil. Grill over hot coals, turning occasionally, for 15 to 20 minutes or until tender.

For Steamin' Good Corn, peel the husks as you would peel a banana, without detaching the husks from the cob, and remove the silk. Quickly dip the ears in water. Roll the husks back over the kernels, securing the ends tightly with a piece of the husks or string. Submerge the ears in water and soak about 30 minutes. Grill over hot coals, turning occasionally for as you would peel a banana, 15 to 20 minutes—until tender, without detaching the husks from the cob, and remove the silk. Soak ears in water for 30 minutes, then drain. Brush with melted butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper and wrap with bacon strips. Roll the husks back over the kernels, smoothing down the ends, and wrap each ear in heavy-weight aluminum foil. Cook on the hot coals, turn-

MRS. WILLIAM GLYNN CATHEY

Cynthia Ann Antilley, William Glynn Cathey Married At Church Saturday

Cynthia Ann Antilley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Antilley, became the bride of William Glynn Cathey when they repeated their marriage vows Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the First Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cathey of Wingate are the parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. Harry Grant, pastor of the church, officiated for the double ring ceremony. Janice Hardaway of Hamlin was organist and accompanied the soloist, Ruth Cooley of Denver City to sing "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer."

All candelabras entwined with greenery and baby breath, held lighted pink tapers tied with pink bows. Pews were marked with pink carnations, greenery and lighted pink tapers tied with vari-colored pink bows. The couple knelt at a prayer bench before the setting for the bridal party.

Connie Ann Cathey and Raymond Lee Cathey both of Wingate served as flower girl and ring bearer.

Jimmy Adams was best man. Groomsman were Chester Puckett, Richard Puckett of Abilene, Lanny Baker of Desdemonia, Jerry Awalt and Johnny Mac Cathey, brother of the bridegroom, both of Wingate. Seating the guests were Tommy and Gary Antilley, brothers of the bride from Wingate, Baker and Cathey.

Maid of honor was Paula Terry of Haskell. Bridesmaids were Gayla Beall of Iowa Park, Mrs. Jimmy Adams, Cathy Manahan, Mrs. Fred Wright, of Fort Worth and Pam Antilley of Dallas.

They wore shocking pink linen gowns designed with high collars, puffed sleeves, empire waists trimmed with pink and white lace. They wore matching headpieces and veils of pink tulle. They carried nosegays of vari-colored carnations with ribbon streamers of shocking pink.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire gown of ivory organza adorned with petal appliques of alencon lace with semifull skirt. Alencon lace sheered the jewel neckline and short sleeves. English mantilla which extended to train length fell from lace covered head piece.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall at the church. The bride's table was trimmed with satin and centered with tall silver candelabra holding pink tapers surrounded with the nosegays carried by the bridesmaids. The four-tiered wedding cake was at one end of the table and punch bowl at the other.

Margaret Cooper of Hamlin served the cake, assisted by Pat Morgan of Dumas, Marijane McAdoo of Haskell ladelled punch. Kay Menefe of Abilene registered guests. Mrs. B. J. Walker of Wingate, and Mrs. W. M. Miller Sr. of Trinidad assisted at the brides table.

ing once, for 10 to 15 minutes—until tender.

Seasonings add a lot of your corn servings. Try spicing melted butter to serve on corn with cayenne, cinnamon, chili powder, paprika, parsley flakes, salt and cheese cracker crumbs.

A favorite of youngsters is corn-on-the-cob spread with peanut butter. Either crunchy or cream style will do.

Leftover corn never should be a problem. Just cut the corn from the cob, using a sharp knife and cutting downward. You can add the corn to a quick bread batter baked corn pudding or corn relish.

"The Cockeyed Cowboys of Calico County"

Dan Blocker, "Hoss" of the long-running TV series "Bonanza," and Nanette Fabray co-star in Universal's hilarious comedy in Technicolor. "The Cockeyed Cowboys of Calico County," shows Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre. They are ably supported by a bevy of comedy players from television and theatrical films including Jim Backus, Wally Cox, Mickey Rooney and Jack Cassidy.

Written and produced by Randal MacDougall, and directed by Tony Leader, it is the story of a six-foot-seven, 265-pound blacksmith in an early western community who fears the ridicule of the townspeople when his mail-order bride does not arrive on schedule, and the fanciful, imaginative lengths to which his friends go to prevent him from being hurt. As a result, the comedy sustains a fast pace and flirts with pure, humorous farce throughout.

The picture has been rated "G—General Audiences. All ages admitted."

Keep Vegetables Fresh Longer

Fresh vegetables are still alive and breathing, even though they have been harvested and are neatly displayed on the grocery shelf, reminds Tom Longbrake, area Extension vegetable specialist at Weslaco. Consumers should remember that vegetables breathe, or respire, much like other living things. Oxygen is used up in the breathing process. With the help of enzymes, the oxygen combines with plant sugars, giving off carbon dioxide and heat in exchange. This is the reverse of photosynthesis, states Longbrake. The breathing process is a continuous one, but it takes place at a faster rate in certain vegetable commodities such as corn, lettuce and celery. These vegetables are "living the fast life," therefore, they are the most perishable, and require the greatest care from food shoppers, the specialist adds.

As the life processes proceed in fresh vegetables, the commodity ages. It's important to retard these aging rates since hormones derive the same nutrients that gradually are self-consumed by the produce in their own life process. Longbrake lists three major factors in keeping produce fresh:

Refrigeration is the best way to hold down respiration and other life processes. About 50 percent of the sugars in sweet corn are lost in a single day at 70 degrees F., while only 5 percent will be lost during a day at 32 degrees F. Yellowing of green vegetables also is an indication of aging. Moisture loss is the most conspicuous loss of freshness in produce since it causes wilting and shriveling. Most vegetables contain 85-95 percent water. So, unless the humidity around the produce is kept up to 85-100 percent, moisture loss and shriveling will occur. Decay is a third quality factor affected by temperature and humidity. Countless micro-organisms, bacteria and mold spores, which cause decay, are present in air everywhere. Warm temperatures, moisture, and skin damage allow infection to develop and spread. Cool temperatures and careful handling minimize decay. Refrigeration, prevention of moisture loss, and careful handling of fresh produce result in fresher and more nutritious fruits and vegetables in the supermarket and at home, reminds Longbrake.

County Agent Parker Warns That Pecan Trees Should Be Sprayed Soon

Pecan trees in this area should be sprayed to control the pecan nut casebearer, C. T. Parker, Jr., county agriculture agent, has warned.

Parker said the key date for spraying is May 25—residents can spray two or three days before this date, or about ten days after, for best results.

To control the casebearer, Parker said trees can be sprayed with either Malathion—3-lbs. of 25 percent WP to 100 gallons of water; or with Sevin—2-lbs. 80 percent WP to 100 gallons of water.

Also, it is best to include Duster (four-tenths of a pound) and zinc (3 pounds) with one of the above, to control pecan scab, Parker said.

Austin.—In the space of less than an hour, the State Finance Commission accepted the retirement of "Mr. Banking" himself—State Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner; named a new banking commissioner; fired State Consumer Credit Commissioner Francis A. Miskell; and named a new credit commissioner.

These actions brought to an end long-time controversies over Falkner's replacement and Miskell's position.

Commissioner Falkner, who has been with the banking department nearly 50 years (23 as commissioner), has been wanting to retire for some time, but the Finance Commission could not agree on someone to take his place.

Falkner wanted his deputy commissioner (since 1965), Robert E. Stewart, to fill the post, but there was dissension on the board. However, the problems were worked out before the meeting, and Stewart was picked unanimously.

In a surprise move, Commission voted 6-2 to discharge Commissioner Miskell and name Assistant Atty. Gen. Sam Kelley to succeed him immediately.

Miskell weathered one storm threat early this year, when it was rumored segments of the loan industry were out to "get him" because of administrative actions against them. After stern talk, Commission refused to accept Miskell's resignation in February. There was no warning in this latest round. Commission members blamed administrative differences and the fact that four key agency staff positions had not been filled.

COURTS SPEAK

State Supreme Court overturned lower courts and held that Texas Aeronautics Commission had full authority to grant the Air Southwest Company of San Antonio a certificate to operate commuter flights linking Houston, Dallas-Ft. Worth and San Antonio. Three major airlines have fought the application in a two-year-old legal battle.

Court of Criminal Appeals ruled that Amos Gaines of Houston, convicted of murder in Harris County in 1962 and sentenced to 99 years, should have a new trial. Court said the record of his first trial had been destroyed and the only way to make sure no error was made by the lower court was to have a new trial.

AG RULES

A member of the legislature cannot be paid from funds appropriated by the legislature for goods or services the lawmaker or firm of which he is a member sells the state, Atty. Gen.

Crawford C. Martin said in a recent ruling.

Opinion concluded that whether the corporation in which a legislator owns stock is precluded from contracting with the state or county must be determined on the basis of each individual case.

In another ruling, Martin said state agencies may sponsor seminars on appropriate matters and charge registration fees to defray expenses. State employees and officials may be reimbursed for registration expense.

Gov. Preston Smith named Sam Kinch Sr. of Austin and John T. Steen of San Antonio chairman and vice-chairman of American Bicentennial Commission of Texas to plan nation's 200th anniversary program. Other members of the commission include Marcella Perry of Houston, Dr. George Woolfolk of Prairie View, Ina May McAdams of Austin, Dr. Charles Ray Ritchson of Dallas and Frank Tolbert of Dallas. Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. serves as ex-officio commission secretary.

Smith announced creation of Texas Urban Development Commission and named Arlington Mayor Tom J. Vandergriff and Dr. Earl Lewis of San Antonio vice chairman.

He designated James Goodwin of Austin to represent the state in the Southern Regional Environmental Conservation Council of Southern Governor's Conference.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes named Sens. Bill Moore of Bryan, Jack Hightower of Vernon and David Ratliff of Stamford to the Committee on State and Local Tax Policy.

Speaker Gus Mutscher named former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr; Harry Hubbard Jr., Texas AFL - CIO; Houston Attorney Searcy Bracewell; and Reps. James Slider of Naples, Jack Ogg of Houston and Joe Hawn of Dallas to the Committee to Study Alternative Methods of Attracting New Industry to Texas.

CHEMICALS

Agricultural chemicals containing DDT will not be accepted for registration by the Texas Department of Agriculture until a study on their effect is completed, Commissioner John C. White announced.

Suspension of registration "does not mean that any ill effects from the agricultural use of DDT compounds have been

Governor Smith has appointed an advisory committee to study the use and effects of DDT and other pesticides. It will report its findings, probably before the end of August, White said.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — There among the tulips and azaleas was the evidence of the anti-war demonstration held here in Washington a few days ago—paper, beer cans, cigarette butts and other unmentionable debris.

This is a beautiful time in Washington. Tulips are at their height and it is one of the best years for azaleas. Lilacs perfume the air all around them but they had a pretty hard time competing with the other odors around them.

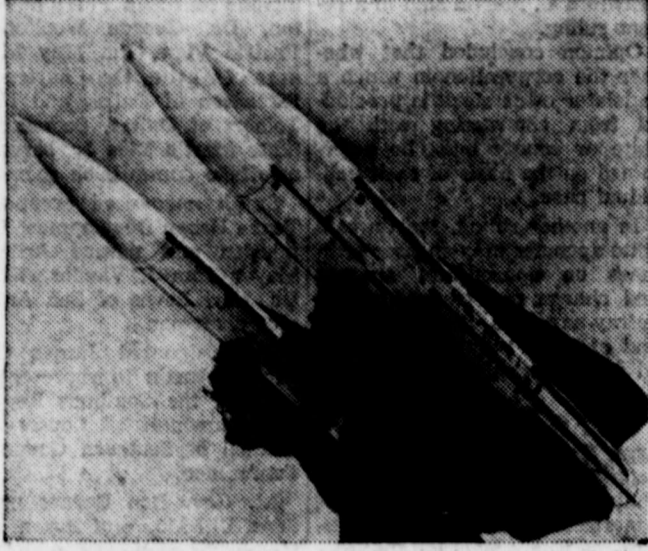

Amid the tumult, it seemed the beauty of things was lost. Dogwood trees in full bloom may have provided a bit of shade for the demonstrators but probably not very many blossoms were appreciated. White and pink blossoms of the dogwood hanging in the air like the fall of gentle snow was meaningless on that occasion.

Remember the President's address in January of last year in which he suggested the "lowering of voices" as a means of cooling frictions? These words were directed primarily at racial difficulties. The harangues used by the demonstrators were everything except quiet and lowered. At times the audio of television had to be cut off because of vile obscenities. A few showed their demand for freedom by stripping naked.

Shortly before extending the South Vietnamese lines into Cambodia, the build-up of voices all over the country was centered around the unwholesomeness of our environment. An immediate build-up on the environmental issue was an outlet and a vehicle for attack against "the establishment." With increased activity in the warefront, pollution was, in a matter of a week or ten days, relegated to the back burner. Looking at the lawns and tulips following the thousands who congregated on the Washington Ellipse and Monument grounds was proof that the matter of abusing our surroundings by all types of litter was not an important consideration. Apparently it somehow denies that nature is able to carry on its beauty for the benefit of mankind. Just possibly some of the rest of us forget this while we are so preoccupied with taxes, riots, protests and elections. Maybe we forget the slow turning of the planets and an appreciation of what it all means.

Out of these demonstrations comes the plan to recess our colleges and universities two weeks before the November election enabling college students to go into the campaigns. Those of us visited by some students during the past week are reminded that unless we support an immediate and com-

Incidentally, a student from a congressman's district who arranged for an interview usually brought 15 or 20 others with him. It was surprising that we had several who represented themselves to be from the 17th district but whose accent was hardly "Texican."

The anti-war and anti-anything else groups are reportedly banded together in efforts to support those candidates for Congress who agree with them and to defeat those who do not. In some of their talk it is a little difficult to really understand what they advocate. Some of the extremists apparently have no positive advocacy of anything. Rather it is a tearing down with really nothing positive to take its place. This, of course, is anarchy.

It is unjust to be categorical and say that every university student joining in demonstrations and in political efforts are anarchists and have no worthwhile motives. Some are sincere and dedicated. Their demonstrations, however, are used by the radicals, many of whom are not students at all, to further their own aims. Numbers and publicity are important to them.

By the time the November elections occur, leaves will be turning and it is again a beautiful part of the year. Now it is all happening among the tulips, azaleas and under the dogwood trees. Whatever happens life goes on—sad and funny, bitter and sweet, the hunter hunted—it being supposed that each doing what he thinks is right and the rest of us doing the best we can.

By BABSON'S REPORTS, Inc.
Wellesley Hills, Mass. — Born right after World War II, Cable TV (formerly known as CATV) has grown into a viable rival of the major broadcasters. It began as a system erected in mountain communities (where reception was poor) to receive and distribute television programs from original broadcasters through a network of coaxial cable and electronic components to the homes of individual subscribers for a nominal fee.

However, the industry's frontier has been extended to the metropolitan centers where an even larger market promises a far more rewarding profit potential. In addition, recent regulatory decisions coupled with Cable TV technology are expected to stimulate expansion far beyond the initial goals of the founders. The FCC now authorizes the organization of programs and the right to sell commercials. Also, the Commission will permit the industry to transmit via microwave — possibly making way for a national Cable TV network. And cable operators have blocked the telephone companies from further controlling the needed physical facilities (pole attachments).

WHAT THE SYSTEM PROVIDES
Besides beaming in TV of adequate quality, the cable system provides reception for far higher fidelity, vastly improving both the picture and the sound. The betterment is particularly substantial in the case of color TV where there are "ghosts" or shadows.

Cable TV means greater program selectivity — many more channels than are ordinarily provided — and offers far more services such as around-the-clock weather information, local educational broadcasts, stock market and financial reporting, public service, and a number of local entertainment programs.

THE INDUSTRY AND COMPETITION
Although this industry is still fragmented, there is a trend toward consolidation by major operators. There are — according to latest available count — some 2,300 Cable TV systems in operation, running their cables in an estimated 3.6 million homes, mostly in small cities and towns. But despite the phenomenal growth in the last three years, only 2.6 percent of TV households are wired for cable systems.

Total industry revenues now stand at about $250 million. Charges for service run around $5 a month, plus an additional $25 one-time installation fee. The ten top operators account for 29 percent of the total industry. As it stands at this time, the contenders in the field are the Cable TV operators, the national broadcasters (many of whom own such systems), and the pay or subscription TV proponents.

PROFIT PICTURE
For most manufacturers and distributors of coaxial cable and electronic components, the industry has offered lucrative opportunities. Except for the component suppliers, many of the firms are involved in more than one segment of Cable TV. Most systems are depreciated on schedules of ten years even though they have a useful life expectancy of 20 years or more. The fast write-off policies produce a substantial cash flow and significant tax shelters. Subscribers pay an average of $60 annually, while operating expenses are around $30. Thus, the pre-tax profit potential can be considerable.

Earnings were adversely affected by temporary problems in Jarrod's activities for the fiscal year ended Feb. 28, 1970, plus production difficulties in semi-conductor operations. Management, however, has indicated that a return to former levels of profitability is in store for fiscal 1971. ### Use Phone To Get SS Information

Your social security office is as close as your telephone. In San Angelo, Texas, the phone number is 949-4608. Thus J. M. Talbot, social security manager in San Angelo, described the latest technique developed by his office to provide more convenient service to residents of the Winters area.

"We are now equipped to handle most social security 'business' by telephone," Mr. Talbot explained. "We can help fill out your application for benefits in many instances over the phone and then mail the form to you for signature. We can accept change of address information from beneficiaries; and, of course, we can answer specific questions about the social security program, including Medicare, over the telephone."

Mr. Talbot suggested that people who have business with the social security office take advantage of this telephone service. "Call first," he urged. "It may save you a trip to the office."

Sites to be dedicated include the Nancy Parker Cabin, northwest of Content on Highway 382; Ranger Peak, near Content; and the grave of Alec Simmons, Civil War soldier, on Highway 382 15.3 miles northeast of Winters.
