HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

It has taken a lot of work on the part of sponsors to get the Youth Activities Days project off the ground, but as of the middle of this week it appeared that the idea was beginning to jell—to snowball and gather increased interest.

Having never been confronted with such an idea before, some of the young people have wondered what it was all about, but they're beginning to catch the drift... and will, if we know our young people, take the ball and run with it themselves.

At first, some of them may have taken the whole idea with a grain of salt; they may have figured that it was just a form of "play-acting"—an election of teenagers to City offices and the like. But then they realized the fun they could have with such an idea... and, well, it seems to be rolling right along now, with a lot of interest. In addition to the enjoyment they'll get out of it, most of them see a chance to "communicate" a little better with their elders, and perhaps show that they have the interests of the community at heart, too.

Now there is even talk—and a good bit of it—that this should be made an annual affair. Some are already talking about what could be done next year—an enlargement of the whole idea. Which, it seems, would be a good idea. We need to pause at least one time a year and relax just a bit.

Here are some of the things some of the candidates for office will be stumping for in the election Friday night:

—A computer dating program in Winters (with turn-around rights, of course).

—A special drag strip for those who feel they must race, to keep them off the streets so others will be safe.

—Drinking fountains on every (Continued on page 8)

Mrs. Lloyd Bentsen To Visit Winters Next Wednesday

Mrs. Lloyd Bentsen, wife of the Democratic nominee for U. S. Senator, will visit Winters next Wednesday, July 29, and will be honored at a coffee and reception at Huffman House from 8:30 to 9 a. m.

Mrs. Bentsen, campaigning for her husband this summer, will be on a two-day tour of Texas Forts Trails, and will visit twelve towns located on the Trail, which winds over a big section of West Central Texas.

Mrs. Floyd Sims is chairman of the committee sponsoring the local coffee and reception. She has invited everyone to come by Huffman House for the informal reception and talk with Mrs. Bentsen.

Mrs. Bentsen, long interested in tourist development over the state, is making a tour this summer of all the "Texas Trails" developed by the Texas Tourist Development Agency.

"Traveling Texas Trails is allowing me a golden opportunity to see the beauty of Texas' wild flowers and wild life, as well as many historic spots," Mrs. Bentsen said.

"But I'm equally interested in meeting the people who live in the towns along the Trails," she added.

Mrs. Bentsen will be accompanied by her press secretary, Miss Kelle Snyder.

Towns to be visited on this tour of Texas Forts Trails will include Brownwood, Comanche, Stephenville, Ranger, Breckenridge, Albany, Abilene, Winters, San Angelo, Ballinger, Coleman and Brady.

Financing Available Through FHA For Construction Of Local Housing

Most families with annual incomes of $8,000 (adjusted) or lower have a clear field for financing purchase or construction of new homes—or repairs on existing homes—through the Farmers Home Administration. This financing could be at a below-commercial rate of interest also.

E. L. Foster of Coleman, district director for FHA, a few weeks ago explained to a group of Winters businessmen that the FHA is "ready and eager to begin building projects for housing for low and moderate-income families," and made arrangements to open a part time office in Winters to assist anyone who is interested in obtaining loans through the administration. Foy Brown of Coleman, county FHA supervisor for Runnels, Coleman and Callahan counties, is in the office of the Winters Chamber of Commerce every Tuesday afternoon to talk applications and assist in other ways those people who are eligible and interested in the FHA loan program.

Foster has explained that FHA is interested in helping finance housing for families with up to $8,000 adjusted annual income, at interest rates of about

Two Golfers Make Aces At Winters Country Club

Two Winters golfers have joined the "Hole-In-One" club at the Winters Country Club recently, one of them for the third time in five years.

H. M. (Jiggs) Nichols aced No. 6 at the local course last Friday, using an 8-iron to drive across the creek and into the hole—140 yards.

Witnesses to Nichols' hole-in-one were John Edward McAdoo, Pat Wood and Lloyd Gilbert. On July 6, John Edward McAdoo hit an ace on No. 2, using a 2-iron for the 210-yard distance. Playing with McAdoo were Pat Wood, and Ed Lowe and Al Imhoff, both of Abilene.

This was the third time in five years McAdoo has holed-out from the tee at the Winters Country Club. He hit a hole-in-one on No. 5 about five years ago, and about three years ago, again on No. 5.

Civic Groups Hear Report On Status Of Elm Creek Water Control District

The current status of Elm Creek Water Control District was explained to representatives of county, city, civic and service groups Tuesday night in a meeting in the office of the Winters Chamber of Commerce.

W. M. Hays, chairman of the board of directors of the District, explained to the group of interested persons from Winters and Ballinger, that planning on future construction of water retaining structures on Elm Creek and its tributaries in Runnels and Taylor counties was going ahead, and requests for a priority hearing with the Texas Water Board would be made "as soon as feasible, and as soon as certain qualifications are met."

It was explained that the land area under jurisdiction of the Water Control District must have at least 50 percent soil and water conservation practices "working," in order to get a priority hearing. At present, Hays said, 60 percent of the land in the district has conservation practices underway. This percentage should be increased to get a better showing at a hearing, it was explained.

The District is working closely with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, Hays said, and progress is being made toward a hearing, and further planning.

Runnels County Judge W. H. Rampey gave a short resume of the history of soil and water conservation work in the county

WASHINGTON
"As it looks from here"
OMAR BURLESON
Congressman
17th District

Washington, D. C.—Comments in this space last week dealt with the court case in Minnesota holding that Federal Reserve Notes (our greenbacks) was illegal tender and a loan obligation on advances of such notes was not collectable.

In 1913 the Congress delegated full control over money of the United States to the Federal Reserve System. Under the System 12 banks, located at various places in the Country, issued notes on what amounts to the faith and credit of the United States.

For years it has been said that one qualifying as an expert on our monetary system has to be a little bit "teched in the head." There is about as wide disagreement among the monetary experts on theory and philosophy as there are experts. Some are now saying that the cause of high taxes and ever increasing, never ending, inflation can be blamed upon the System. Some contend that the privately owned Federal Reserve Banks issue notes, whether $1,000 or $10-000, which cost a half cent to print. The value changes when the purchaser or borrower of those notes assumes an obligation for the amount printed on its face.

The Federal Reserve tends to the United States Government and the interest on this and all other sources of borrowed money, now amounts to more than $17 billion annually. A bill has been introduced in the Congress to vest in the Government of the United States the absolute, complete and unconditional control over our money through Government ownership of the Federal Reserve Banks. The report of the United States Treasurer of January, 1970, showed the total coinage in circulation to be about $6 billion. The total currency was around $47 billion. If the reasoning holds that Federal Reserve Notes are nothing more or less than faith and credit, established by the Federal Reserve System, then only $6 billion in currency backed by coins, really belongs to the people. The $47 billion is put into circulation on loans on which everyone pays interest.

Needless to say, high interest rates and inflation are becoming an unbearable burden on everyone. Some are led to believe that the only answer lies in higher wages and higher prices. Some consumer groups seek relief through price controls. One begets the other, often coupled with a fear that more inflation is coming, which means a further lessening of the value of the dollar. This is another way of saying that inflation is a sort of a lack of confidence in our ability to stabilize the price of money. Even money responds to the law of price and demand.

The legislation referred to, which is not likely to catch on in the foreseeable future, would supposedly shore up the breakdown of confidence in our financial system. Those who adhere to the idea say that with the return of the Federal Reserve System to the control of the Congress, it would be back in the hands of the people, since only the Congress is elected by them. The author of the bill intended that the power to issue and control money was only to be entrusted to elected officials who are constantly accountable to the voters.

The decision of the court cited in last week's column was based on the Constitution, which says that the Congress shall have the power "to coin money, regulate the value thereof . . . and fix the standard of weights and measures." (Article I, Section 8, Clause 5). This idea is not a new one by any means. It has cropped up in every monetary crisis since the Act of Congress in 1913. It has lain dormant during periods considered normal. Not even everyone can agree on what is "normal" and what is otherwise but probably there are more prevailing doubts at this time than since the great depression of the early '30's.

There are no simple solutions and certainly none to be effective overnight but the issuance of Federal Reserve Notes not backed by anything more than faith and credit becomes the central question.

There is nothing more complicated than our monetary system and doubtless this was a part of the reason for the Congress to have delegated the power of money management to the Federal Reserve in the first place. Since our economy and entire society has increased to the extent of its present day complexity, it would, of course, again raise the question even higher as to whether or not the Congress in all the wisdom it could muster, would be able to manage a monetary system. Indeed, the Legislative and Executive Branches of the Government are now paralyzed in many instances in controlling their own spending operations. It is doubtful if it would be able to again manage a system so intricate and complicated. Just maybe there is an in-between somewhere.

State Dove Survey Getting Underway

Austin—More than 44,000 Texas hunters will be receiving questionnaires from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department this week as part of the first statewide mourning dove harvest survey slated for this September.

Ted Clerk, project leader for the survey, urged that hunting license holders who receive the questionnaires complete and return them as soon as possible so the final sampling can be compiled.

No postage is required on the computer-keyed questionnaires, and the only information requested is whether or not the respondent plans to hunt during the season Sept. 1 in the north zone and September 26 in the south zone. The hunters who indicate they plan to hunt will form the test group for the day-by-day survey.

The survey actually began several months ago, Clark said, when Department officials took every fifteenth hunting license issued in the last year as a random sampling. The hunters' names and addresses were transferred to computer tape for use in addressing the current questionnaire phase of the survey.

This September, each hunter in the survey group will receive 10 numbered IBM cards on which he is asked to record daily the county he hunted, number of hours spent hunting, number of doves bagged and the date of the hunt.

"We want to determine when, where and how many birds are killed in the State each year," Clark said. "Information from the harvest survey added to our ongoing banding program should give us an indication of the total mourning dove population."

The harvest survey should determine the number of birds killed during the season and, in turn, provide the basis for assessing the effects of hunting pressure on the dove population. Hunters picked at random for the survey are encouraged to

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

Austin, Tex. —Eighteen-year-olds will be registered to vote in Texas this year unless the U. S. Supreme Court, in the meantime, invalidates the new federal voting rights act.

State officials plan to give federal authorities this assurance in reply to an inquiry of U. S. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell asking all governors to report on steps they will take to comply with the new provision and other sections of the federal bill effective January 1.

Texas, reportedly, already is in compliance with the act, except for the lowered voting age. This state has no literacy test and "good character" requirements for election participation such as those outlawed by a bill signed into law by President Nixon on June 22.

When the Texas voter-registration period opens on October 1, 18-year-olds will be signed up if the expected court test is not settled by then. Local registration officials will be advised by state election authorities to register them pending a court decision.

According to election division director Randall Wood, the Secretary of State's office proposes to suggest that teen-age registrations be kept separately from those of voters 21 and above. This would simplify subsequent invalidation in the event the Supreme Court should rule the federal act unconstitutional after state registration already is under way.

Test case probably will be in Washington State. There the 18-year-old vote-referendum already is set for the November ballot. Washington officials are in a better political position to state that they will not comply with the federal law until their voters voice approval of the lowered age proposition.

Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. figures the federal act would add about 395,000 under-21 voters to Texas' registration rolls—if it survives the court test.

COURTS SPEAK
Federal court suit has been filed against the City of Tyler by the U. S. government seeking to end school segregation by this fall.

Court of Criminal Appeals held that a driving while intoxicated conviction is invalid if the defendant was on private property at the time of arrest.

State Supreme Court refused to upset a lower court denial of damages to the widow of a man killed in an auto-train crash near Edna. Jury found negligence on the part of both the man and Southern Pacific Railroad employees.

High Court also held that a Potter County couple was not entitled to damages from a doctor because the woman could no longer have children after an operation.

Harris County district court granted an injunction against Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, prohibiting it from discharging industrial wastes into Sims Bayou in greater amounts than that permitted by the Water Quality Board. Court ordered a $20,000 fine, the largest civil penalty in Texas pollution case history.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES
Wichita Falls school board is without authority to adopt a resolution or policy providing for recall elections of its members, says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

Martin ruled in other recent opinions that:

"A county treasurer is the proper official to make delivery of county warrants to payees."

"County attorney who resigns as of a future date may not withdraw his resignation after it is duly accepted by the commissioners court even though the effective date has not arrived. However, until a successor is appointed, it is his duty to serve."

Martin said a Spring Branch real estate developer (Cypress Lake Gardens) gave assurance of voluntary compliance with directives to discontinue misleading advertising and sales practices.

APPOINTMENTS
Barney McCoy Davis was named by Gov. Preston Smith to the Board of Regents of Pan American College at Edinburg.

Jerry Brock and Lynn Scott were appointed assistant state consumer credit commissioners. Also B. Crow Jr. is the new general counsel to Commissioner Sam Kelley.

Members of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Commission are the most Reverend Francis J. Furney of San Antonio, George Ozuza of San Antonio, William D. Cox Jr. of Dallas, Dr. Edward W. Guinn of Fort Worth, Thomas J. Murphy of Dallas, Lee A. Lewis of Houston, Willard H. Green of Temple, Raymond D. Nasher of Dallas and Bernard Rapoport of Waco.

R. L. (Bud) Reed, formerly of Paris, will be the East Texas region consultant for Texas Industrial Commission.

BUDGET REQUESTS SOARING
Major state agency budget requests continued to prompt speculation of a huge tax need next year—perhaps as high as $700 million.

Board of Public Welfare finally officially approved a $2.1 billion biennial spending plan which is $347.6 million above present spending levels. Mental Health, Mental Retardation request of $314 million is $139.7 million above the current level, and colleges and universities want an increase of $258.9 million. Combined with public schools biennial operating proposals of $377.1 million, major agencies of education, mental hospitals -retardation schools and welfare want more than $1 billion more than they now are getting.

SHORT SNORTS
State Banking Board approved charters for Bank of Commerce at Point Comfort, Seaport Bank at Seadrift, Colonial Bank of Greenville and Hillside Bank and Trust Company of Dallas; declined charters for American Bank of Lovelady and Citizens Bank and Trust of Iowa Park.

Allegations of sex abuses, drinking, drug taking and patient mistreatment at Austin State Hospital were confirmed in part and refuted in part by a staff investigation report.

FROM RANKIN
Mrs. Mike Gray and Michael of Rankin spent last week with her mother, Mrs. Gene Virden. Mr. and Mrs. Don Davis, Bryan and Gena of Paducah are visiting in the Virden home this week.

IN KRUSE HOME
Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kruse, Jr., over the week-end were their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Kruse and Greg, of Midland. Greg remained for a longer visit.

FROM POST
Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Mayo were Bailey Mayo and Bernard Ramsey, both of Post.

Continued Dry Weather Cutting Milo Production

Thousands of pounds of milo are being lost daily in this area due to the hot, dry weather. The area has not received a general rain in about two months, even though a few grain-saving showers fell in isolated sections a few weeks ago.

There still will be a pretty fair crop of milo in the area this year, but production will be varied, and local farm economy will experience a serious setback because of the dry weather. Some of the early-planted milo will produce fair returns, but that planted at middle-time is being hurt to a great extent. Late-planted grain is hurting desperately, it is reported. Rain at this time would be a tremendous help, but much grain already has been lost, it has been stated.

Harvest is still a few days away, even though a few patches have been cut into. More combines will be pulling into fields within a few days to get the early-planted grain.

Check Your S. S. Record

"How do I know my work under social security is being credited to my record, and how do I find out about it? This is one of the questions most frequently asked," says J. M. Talbot, social security manager.

In explaining the process involved in reporting social security, Mr. Talbot said, "When you work for wages, your employer deducts social security tax from your paycheck each pay day. At the end of each calendar quarter, he submits your name and number with payment for these taxes to Internal Revenue. Internal Revenue forwards copies to social security's main office in Baltimore, Maryland. Your wages are then posted to your record. The same process is followed for a self-employed person except that his earnings are recorded yearly."

Mr. Talbot states that the possibility of an error being made in this process does exist. He recommends that you request a statement of your earnings at least every three years. All you have to do to secure

Take Care In Loading Boat

Austin — Improper loading of boats account for many boating accidents each year, according to the Water Safety Division of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

"Overloading is foolish and easy to avoid," says George Cook, director of the Division. "I guess the temptation to get one more person in the boat overcomes good judgment sometimes."

Cook says common sense demands that boat owners make sure they know their craft's capacity and never exceed it.

This is simple to do, according to Cook, since most boats have a manufacturer's capacity plate in the boat. If the boat doesn't have such a plate, then the boat's marine dealer can advise him of the boat's load capacity.

"Passengers and gear should be evenly distributed on either side of the centerline," according to Cook. "This will make steering easier and will help keep the boat on an even keel in the event of rough water."

Cook says a trim boat is also easier to keep on a compass heading.

Aoudads Doing Well In Palo Duro Canyon

Austin — Sportsmen who have stalked the sharp-eyed aoudad sheep over Palo Duro Canyon's cliffs and ledges still may be subject to skinned knees and sore muscles — but this year frostbite won't likely be one of the hazards.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has moved the open season from January to November and has increased the length of the season by two days.

This year, hunters may take one sheep by permit only from November 14-20 in the Panhandle Regulatory District.

The hardy sheep were first stocked in the canyon area in the winter of 1957-58, when 44 animals from a New Mexico ranch were released.

The exotic sheep, which are natives of the Atlas Mountains of North Africa, apparently found the rocky landscape to their liking. Census efforts have indicated a stable population of at least 600 animals in the half-million acre area.

The season change was not made entirely for hunter comfort, however. Pierce B. Uzzell, wildlife coordinator for the Department, said the November hunt will provide more biological information about the population and food habits of the herd. In addition, the aoudad sheep appears to be one species which reproduces virtually all year, although a few more lambs than usual have been seen during March, April and May.

Helicopters have provided a means for counting the animals with accuracy which would have been impossible otherwise. The aoudads unerringly seek the most rugged and inaccessible portions of the available habitat for their home, the census efforts have shown.

★ MOVIES ★

"The Great Bank Robbery"

America's frontier between 1865 and 1895 has become identified with the image of gunfighters, bank and train robbers combating sheriffs and lawmen who attempted to tame the barbaric wilderness. The penny dreadful and popular border ballads were the first media to make heroes of the barbarians.

Now, the Warner Bros.-Seven Arts hilarious mad-cap comedy western, "The Great Bank Robbery," showing Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the State

Theater, succeeds in crumbling the images of the West's hallowed heroes—perhaps forever. Comedian Zero Mostel is the master bank robber disguised as the religious leader who always manages to outwit his victims not because he is so smart, but because everyone else is so dumb.

Kim Novak, appearing in her first western, proves to be a deft comedienne as Mostel's mistress and one time coo dancer.

The train robbing gun slick (Claude Akins) is a psychotic; the Texas Ranger (Clint Walker) is a square; and the Mexican bandito (Akim Tamiroff) with his son and aide-de camp (Larry Storch) are splendidly beguiling stumble bums.

A major prop for the Technicolor film is the world's largest passenger-carrying hot-air balloon. The balloon is ten stories high and 130 feet around. Its egg-shaped interior contains close to 250,000 cubic feet of hot air which is manufactured by four liquid-propane gas burners.

Season Begins September 10th For Bowhunters

Bow hunters will again hunt deer on the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge in Texas, it was announced today by Acting Regional Director W. O. Nelson, Jr., of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

The season for archers will begin at noon on September 10 and will continue through September 30, said Nelson, with a bag limit of three deer, one of which must be antlerless. Hunters will again be allowed to take all the feral hogs they are able to and will be allowed one javelina.

Aransas Refuge Manager, Gordon Hansen, expects 12,000 to 13,000 bow hunters will converge on the 47,000 acre Texas Gulf Coast wildlife refuge, based on past experience with this very popular form of recreation. No special permit is required to hunt on the Department of the Interior installation, Nelson said, but stressed the fact that all hunters must possess a valid Texas hunting license.

Baptist Church To Show "His Land" Movie Sunday Nite

"Across a barren land, scarred of war and neglect, the spectres of ancient Israel appear, hover, and fade away. Suddenly there is movement of a different sort, and slowly, steadily, a startling transformation begins to take place . . ."

Thus begins "His Land," the thrilling story of Israel from ancient to modern times. "His Land," a one-hour color feature motion picture, takes you on a journey through space, time and current events. You see graphically, the fact that Israel today is a living testimony to the words of the prophets when they proclaimed that Israel would take her place among the nations of the world.

"His Land," rich in color and authentic sights and sounds, with a popular musical score composed and arranged by Ralph Carmichael has been called a musical journey into the soul of a nation, and will be shown Sunday, July 26, at 7 p. m. at the First Baptist Church.

The public is invited to attend this screening of "His Land," as words of Scripture come to life as the events of recent years come to life and confirm much of the ancient prophecies.

—Later sunrises, for the same reason.

—At least one very beautiful young policewoman, with authority only over the boys; one handsome policeman, with authority only over the girls.
