The importance of education in our world today and tomorrow cannot be overemphasized. The kind of education our children receive is vital to their intellectual development. Winters—and Texas—are very fortunate in having a splendid system of public schools, and during the week of March 1-5, citizens will take time out to thank teachers for their contribution to the excellence of our public school system and to encourage parents to maintain an active interest in the schools.

The role of the parent is a significant one and can be a deciding factor in the way the youngster feels about school.

Your child needs encouragement. Provide this encouragement by explaining why he needs an education now more than ever before. Teach him the value of self-discipline and help him to appreciate the joy and excitement of gaining knowledge.

This year, visit him in his classroom during Texas Public Schools Week, March 1 through March 5. It's a celebration of Texas' 117th year of public schools. But it's more than that. It's a celebration of your child's opportunity of an education.

Be sure to visit the public schools this year. It's your duty. It should be your pleasure.

When two or more of Winters' volunteer firemen get together over coffee, or for any other reason, the conversation sooner or later is likely to turn out like this:

"Somebody's gonna get killed one of these days!"

"Yeah, or somebody's going to see their own home burned to the ground some day because they heard the fire alarm and rushed to follow the fire trucks, blocking traffic so that firemen can't get to the fire!"

The firemen are worried about conditions and the reaction of much of the general public when a fire alarm is sounded—they have been worried for some time. And they have a right to be worried—there have been some very close calls involving fire trucks and private vehicles. Not to mention the many close calls experienced by volunteer firemen in their own cars answering alarms.

It seems that many people are always ready for a little extra excitement—from a spectator viewpoint—and a good fire, or even prospects one one, or an automobile wreck, or just about any unusual happening, offers a fine chance for them to take part in that excitement. Most people know better, the firemen admit, but it seems that all self-restraint is thrown of force the fire siren is sounded.

Firemen have observed many persons, normally considered by themselves and others as law-abiding and cooperative citizens, become dangerous fire truck followers: they drop everything and anything they happen to be doing at the moment to jump in their cars and rush pell mell down the street in search of the fire, or looking for the fire trucks so they can follow them to the fire. Firemen even report whole families piled into a car so they all can go to the "excitement." Many of these fire-followers have been observed driving directly to the fire station, firemen say, causing traffic jams in the vicinity—waiting to see "which way did they go?" There have been instances when spectators have driven to the fire station, and parked almost in the driveway, sitting with engines racing, waiting for the trucks to roll so they can follow!

Volunteer firemen, of necessity, must use their own vehicles to drive to the scene of a fire. (Continued on page 8)

TED MEYER... "MAN OF THE YEAR"

Ted Meyer—"He Hit Town Working"—Named Winters' Man of the Year

A man "who hit town working"—Ted Meyer—was named Winters' Man of the Year Friday night during the annual membership banquet of the Winters Chamber of Commerce.

Carroll Tatum, last year's award recipient, described Meyer as a "man who has truly devoted himself to the service of his country, his community and his fellowman."

"Ted hit this town working and has served the community in many different capacities," Tatum said in presenting the award.

Meyer, an employee of Spill Funeral Home, moved to Winters from Abilene in 1956. He is presently serving as president of the Winters Lions Club, and is a past commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and serves now as service officer of that unit.

He also is a member of the American Legion, and the Knights of Columbus, is a director of the OEO and serves on the Winters Housing Authority. Meyer is also local service officer for the Salvation Army.

Meyer was born in the Bronx, New York City, and came to Texas at an early age as the adopted son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Meyer and grew up in Caldwell.

After graduation from high school, Meyer joined the U. S. Navy in 1942, serving until 1945. He graduated from Landig College of Mortuary Science in Houston in 1946 and was employed in a Dalhart funeral home. While in Dalhart, he married the former Ellen Crabtree and they moved to Abilene in 1953 where he was employed by Kiker-Warren Funeral Home before moving to Winters.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer have one daughter, Mrs. John (Theresa) Patterson, and two sons, Tim, a junior in Winters High School, and Mike, an eighth grader, and one grandson.

Other students making first division in Class II or Class III solo or ensemble competition were Jay Henderson, Mary Jacob, Rickey Mathis, Randy Miles, Tandy Medford, David Carey, Brenda Smith, Brenda Blackberry, Rae Brown, Denise Carroll, Brenda Easterly, Barbara Fairry, Diane Marks, and Susan Poe.

Band Director Kirke McKenzie expressed much satisfaction on the outcome of the contests.

The band is preparing for the Brady Band Festival, March 5-6.

Mrs. Maye Bell Shelton, 608 Commerce, said the roof of her house "slid off" as the wind hit the building. She had just stepped through the door when the roof came down, she said, missing her by about half a foot. She also said a television antenna was torn up.

A sign on the front of the building occupied by Riess Radio-TV on West Dale was demolished, and some automobiles on Main Street were damaged by flying objects. Lawn mowers and garden tillers were sent rolling from in front of Higginbotham Hardware on Main Street, north about half a block.

Observers in the downtown area reported seeing a car on Main Street completely lifted off the ground by the wind and set down again.

A barn on the Gene Virden place five miles north of Winters was also reported destroyed, and roofs of several sheds on the outskirts of town were reported torn off.

No injuries were reported.

Last Day For Candidate Filing Fast Approaching

March 3 is the last day on which prospective candidates for the Winters City Council and the Board of Trustees of the Winters Independent School District may file. Filing deadline is 30 days prior to the election in both instances; elections will be held Saturday, April 3.

Voters in the Winters Independent School District will elect three members to the Board of Trustees, to fill Place 1, Place 2, and Place 6, for three-year terms.

A contest has developed for Place 1 on the school board. Delbert Kruse, stock farmer, filed as a candidate for this place several days ago. Tuesday of this week, Dennis Poe filed for Place 1. Jake Presley, incumbent member of the board, Place 1, is not seeking return to the board.

J. W. Bahlman, president of the board, has filed for re-election to Place 2.

Billy Joe Colburn, Place 6, has filed for re-election.

In the City election, Mayor Wade White has filed for re-election, as has Alderman E. E. Vaughan. Woodrow Watts has filed as a candidate for the City Council. Nolan Bahlman, incumbent alderman completing a term of office, will not be a candidate, he announced.

Prospective candidates for both elections may obtain filing information from the City Hall and from the School Business Office.

Twisters, High Winds Do Some Damage Here

At least one twister, spawned by a fast-moving front which hit Winters Thursday afternoon, did some surface damage. But no rain fell.

The one twister which hit Winters evidently was a small one, or had not hit ground fully when it made its trip across town. Many thought it was a jet aircraft flying low over town, until the dust filled the air and objects began flying through the air. After the center of the twister had passed over downtown, observers saw sheets of what appeared to be tin roofing being twisted through the air, along with dirt and other debris.

The roof of one house was torn off, air conditioner equipment atop one building was turned over, and signs received damage as the high wind twisted through the town. Also a barn on a farm near Winters was demolished.

Mrs. Maye Bell Shelton, 608 Commerce, said the roof of her house "slid off" as the wind hit the building. She had just stepped through the door when the roof came down, she said, missing her by about half a foot. She also said a television antenna was torn up.

A sign on the front of the building occupied by Riess Radio-TV on West Dale was demolished, and some automobiles on Main Street were damaged by flying objects. Lawn mowers and garden tillers were sent rolling from in front of Higginbotham Hardware on Main Street, north about half a block.

Observers in the downtown area reported seeing a car on Main Street completely lifted off the ground by the wind and set down again.

A barn on the Gene Virden place five miles north of Winters was also reported destroyed, and roofs of several sheds on the outskirts of town were reported torn off.

No injuries were reported.

School Seeking Count of Children For Head Start, Kindergarten, First Grade

Winters Independent School District is in a program of enumeration of pre-school children for a possible summer Head Start program, kindergarten enrollment for September, and first grade enrollment.

School officials said this week that this information must be obtained as soon as possible so that programs may be planned according to the number of students who will be enrolled in each classification.

The Head Start program, if again sponsored this year, will be for children who are eligible to enroll in kindergarten or the first grade in September. Children now in kindergarten are not eligible for the Head Start program.

Wallace-Murray To Offer College Scholarships

Wallace-Murray Corporation has announced that a number of scholarships for first year college students will be made available to divisions of the corporation through its education and welfare fund.

High school graduates who will graduate in June, 1971, are eligible. To qualify the student must meet the following requirements:

- Be a child or ward of a full time employee (at least one year) of Dry Manufacturing Division of Wallace-Murray Corporation.

More Vocational Training Needed In Schools, Lions Club Told Tuesday

There is a great need for more vocational training in local school systems, and the Distributive Education and Vocational Industrial programs offer one route to solving the problem, the Winters Lions Club was told Tuesday noon.

Robert Stathem, coordinator for the Distributive Education and Vocational Industrial training programs in Winters High School, said the program has been quite successful in the local school during the short time it has been in progress here—despite the small scale of operation—but there is danger that the whole project could "fold" before the next school year begins.

The present program is barely meeting the minimum state requirements, in numbers of students participating, Stathem said. If the number should decrease for the next school year, the program could be discontinued, he indicated.

Both DE and VI programs are cooperative, wherein local merchants and businesses provide training sites or situations for students on a part time basis, while the students continue with their studies in high school during Public Schools Week, Principal Beard said. Schedule calls for visitations in the first, second and third grades on Monday; in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades Wednesday, and in the seventh and eighth grades on Thursday.

The Winters Lions Club will hold the regular weekly luncheon meeting in the school cafeteria at noon Tuesday.

School heads are urging parents and the public to visit the schools during Public Schools Week, and to especially attend the open house celebration Tuesday evening.

Walker Tatum To Rome, Italy, Next Monday

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Tatum will leave Dallas by jet Monday for Rome, Italy, on an eight-day vacation tour.

The tour is an award given super market managers by Affiliated Foods for meeting certain quotas during the year. Tatum is manager of Winters Piggly Wiggly store.

Mr. and Mrs. Tatum will be among 170 other persons making the Affiliated Foods tour. From Dallas, they will fly to Detroit, Mich., and then on to Rome, on the "top of the world" air route.

While in Rome, the group will visit the Vatican and other places of interest, and will make a side trip to Switzerland. Enroute home, the group will visit Ireland, and return to Dallas the following Sunday.

Winters Track Teams Have Full Schedule

Track and field teams of Winters High School have a full schedule of competition within the next few weeks.

The annual Blizzard Relays have been planned for Saturday March 6, followed by track meets at other schools on each weekend for several weeks.

Tracksters will take part in meets at: —Ballinger, March 13 —Eldorado, March 20 —Albany, March 27 —Comanche, April 3 —April 10, to be announced —District Meet at Ballinger, April 17.

Winters 4-H Club To Meet Monday

The Winters 4-H Club will meet Monday, March 1, at 7 p. m. in the Winters City Hall.

A program on different phases of fishing will be presented. All members are urged to attend.

In introducing Stathem to the Lions Club, High School Principal Jake Joyce pointed out that only a small percentage of students finishing high school and going on to college ever complete college work. Not enough emphasis has been placed on vocational training on a local school level for those who do not plan college, he indicated, when there is a big shortage of sales and service personnel in the business and industrial community.

Hearing Set For Hardeman County State Park Site

Development plans for a park in rugged West Texas are scheduled for comments from the public in an Austin hearing, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The hearing on the master plan and first phase development of Hardeman County State Park site will be held at 10 a. m. Feb. 26 in Room 117 of the Sam Houston State Office Building.

The master plan may be viewed prior to the hearing at the John H. Reagan State Office Building.

The Hardeman County land is representative of the stark and rugged beauty common to many parts of North and West Texas, the Department said.

To appreciate this beauty, one must possess an eye for the forms created by natural erosion processes and for the visual effects created by Permian red beds and their color complements in the green of the red-brown juniper, the Department said.

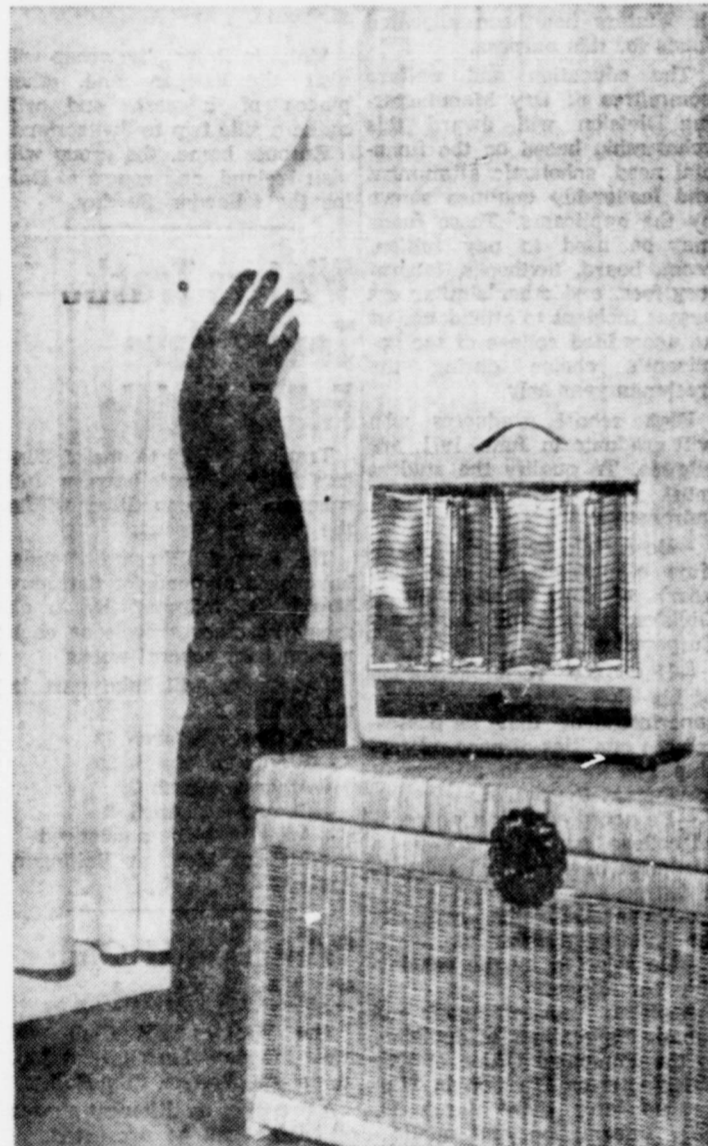

Development in the part will be designed to isolate, as much as possible, the overnight user from traffic created by transient day use.

First phase development includes shade shelters, restrooms, showers, residence, picnic sites, camp sites, roads, parking areas, utilities, dump station, selective clearing and trails, reforestation, landscaping and playgrounds.

LIFE'S A SONG for 90-year-old Frank Foss. The St. Petersburg, Fla., man makes banjos out of pans. He plays and sings when not operating his fix-it shop.

Mrs. Juanita O'Connor's Weekly Home Demonstration Agent's Column

Clothes Dryers:

Homemakers can usually get better results from their automatic clothes dryers if they simply follow the care and use instructions that come with the machines, explains Mrs. O'Connor, county home demonstration agent.

To assure good drying results, Mrs. O'Connor offers some reminders. Use recommended drying heats and time settings for the various fabrics to get best results.

Overloading can hamper effective drying. Items should have space to tumble freely to achieve wrinkle free results.

Wrinkling can also be prevented by removing clothes from the dryer as soon as they dry. This is especially important if you want to avoid touch-up ironing for durable-press articles.

Avoid overdrying clothes, especially in coin-operated laundries where you have little flexibility in drying time. Every fabric has a natural moisture content, which can be removed by overdrying and wrinkles and harshness can result.

To determine whether an article is dry, stop the machine and remove the garment to check for dampness. You must remove the garment completely from the dryer or you will be influenced by the moisture within the dryer.

If durable press garments are allowed to cool in the dryer, wrinkles will set. They can be removed, however, by dampening or sprinkling the article tumbling it briefly in a heated dryer.

Turn pile-prone garments inside out to dry; piling is the formation of small balls of fibers on the surface of the fabric.

Do not dry items cleaned at home which have been cleaned with drycleaning fluids as they become fire hazards when put directly into a dryer. Articles containing foam rubber also create a fire hazard in a heated dryer. Dry only articles which have been washed in water.

When excessive lint accumulates on the dryer lint screen, drying time is lengthened. Clean the screen regularly to help shorten drying time.

Season in and season out, cabbage should top the shopping list as a budget stretcher. Cabbage is not only flavorful and convenient, but versatile too, Mrs. O'Connor adds. Served raw, it is a salad treat. Cooked, it becomes a main vegetable item with an entirely different flavor. Either way, it is easy to prepare, easy to serve and easy to eat.

Choose heads that are solid and heavy for size, she says. Look for fresh green leaves that are firmly attached to the stem. Be sure the cabbage is free from bruises, decay and yellowing leaves.

To keep cabbage crisp, remove any withered leaves then wash and dry the head, she advises. Store in a covered container in the refrigerator. To keep for several days, put the cabbage in a film bag or wrap in a damp cloth before storing in the refrigerator.

Delectable Onions:

When you're running short on conversation topics, think onions! This international vegetable favorite is a treasured part of the folklore of half the world—not to mention its universal importance in food tables and cooking secrets.

Onions, sleep and dreaming are connected with many legends, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. To dream of an onion is said to mean good luck, just as to cook with them promises good eating.

The French believe the onion promotes restful sleep. Too, the French are the best known explorers of the onion's many cooking uses. Onions are a "must" in most French soups. In fact, they're indispensable in the best French cuisine.

In somewhat simpler fare, we Americans prepare this versatile, flavorful vegetable in a variety of ways—as a side dish, or main dish when stuffed with a hearty filling. And onions are used to accent other foods, such as potato dishes, casseroles, souffles, salads and meats.

About the only reason for running out of onions this month is to forget to put them on your shopping list. Supplies are especially plentiful.

If you like skillet-fried onions to be limp, cook them in butter until they're golden brown, then cook them in a covered skillet until they're soft. Use onion rings or thin onion strips for this dish.

Onions give added flavor to this Hot Barbecue Sauce:
2 T butter
1-2 tsp. Tabasco sauce
1 medium onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
1-2 cup catsup
2 T vinegar
1 T. brown sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. dry mustard
1-4 cup water

Combine all ingredients in a saucepan, then bring to a boil. Store in covered jar in refrigerator until needed.

Creamed Onions may be served with a buttered topping, cream sauce or cheese sauce. To prepare, allow 1 medium-size onion or three to four small onions per person. Peel and boil until tender. Drain. Add onions to seasoned medium-thick white sauce and simmer together for about five minutes. Serve as a vegetable.

To make 1 cup of medium-thick white sauce, blend 2 tablespoons of flour with 2 tablespoons butter. Then combine with 1 cup of milk. Add 1-4 teaspoon salt. Cook, stirring constantly, over low heat until thickened.

The stars still shine on Texas

In the beginning, the stars shone all over America. Then something happened. As the air slowly got dirtier and dirtier, the day came when you couldn't see the stars. First in Pittsburgh. Then Los Angeles. Then New York. Then Detroit. Then Cleveland. But the stars still shine on

Texas. Because Texas air is clean. And at Lone Star, we're doing our best to keep it clean. One thing we're doing is supplying the cleanest burning fuel known to man. Pure natural gas. And we've equipped 400 of our service trucks to run on liquefied petroleum gas. (This means 97% less pollution than if these same trucks were running on gasoline.)

And we're going into factories and plants and working with manufacturers to develop incineration systems that will drastically reduce industrial pollution. The stars still shine on Texas. Let's all work to keep the stars in the sky.

Austin, Texas.—Gov. Preston Smith placed a new $470 million revenue-raising program before the Legislature, and prompt action toward consideration in the House was promised by Speaker Gus Mutscher.

Governor proposed raising the general sales and auto sales tax rates to four per cent and boosting tuitions in state supported colleges and universities.

He stuck by his original recommendation to appropriate welfare funds for only 10 months of the biennium, meanwhile trusting that the federal government will take over 100 per cent of welfare costs. Latter assumes a shift of the nearly $300 million state lead to Washington.

Smith, addressing a joint session of the House and Senate, served notice he is again insisting on a biennial (two-year) budget—except for welfare—and hinted he would veto a one-year appropriations bill favored by Lt. Governor Ben Barnes, as he did in 1969.

Here's how Smith calculates the yield on his revenue plan which replaces the spend-now-pay-later scheme he outlined on January 20:

Boosting general sales tax rate from 3.25 per cent to four per cent, $300 million for the biennium.

Raising auto sales tax rate from three to four per cent, for a $70 million gain.

Hiking Texas student tuitions from $50 to $125 a semester and out-of-state-student fees in state institutions of higher education from $200 to $500 a semester, estimated to yield another $100 million.

While lawmakers found the new plan more realistic than the no-new-tax message, many expressed the view it would not pass unless coupled with some form of business taxation. Some legislators labeled it insufficient to meet budget needs. Most criticism on "lack of balance" between consumer-business levies and the stiff tuition increase recommendation.

EMERGENCY BILLS PASSED

Legislature completed action on emergency bills to avert the threatened March 1 cut in medical assistance and aid to needy families with dependent children.

Final bill cleared by the House and sent to the Governor would divert $35 million of teacher retirement fund income from April through August. An earlier bill made the appropriation to welfare purposes.

Surprisingly, a bill to create a $185 million bond fund for building new colleges and universities, which sailed through House and has backing of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor, bogged down in senate committee. Measure now is in subcommittee, but Lieutenant Governor Barnes still predicts passage.

LIQUOR BILL EMERGES

Long-awaited bill to legalize sale of liquor-by-the-drink on a local option basis was introduced in the Senate by Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso and in the House by Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi.

Legislature was empowered to pass such an act by the constitutional amendment lifting the

Congressman Burleson Introduces National Healthcare Legislation

Washington — Congressman Omar Burleson today re-introduced a bill to make comprehensive health care insurance accessible to all Americans and strengthen the organization and delivery of health services in the United States.

Twelve congressmen joined the Texas representative in co-sponsoring the National Health Care Act. They are: Shirley Chisholm (D-N.Y.); Don Fuqua (D-Fla.); Cornelius Gallagher (D-N.J.); Edward Garmatz (D-Md.); Alton Lennin (D-N.C.); Ray Roberts (D-Texas); Watkins Abbott (D-Va.); Gus Yatron (D-Pa.); Robert L. F. Sikes (D-Fla.); Tim Lee Carter (R-Ky.); James Byrne (D-Pa.); and Bob Casey (D-Texas).

The legislation, with minor technical variations, parallels the Healthcare Bill which Burleson introduced in the closing days of the 91st Congress.

"My bill is a middle-of-the-road approach to resolving one of our most pressing domestic problems, financing and providing for the delivery of adequate medical care to all our citizens," Mr. Burleson said.

"It is an effort to make certain that all Americans will be cared for in times of illness—and at a price this nation can afford to bear."

"The Healthcare approach retains the best features of our existing voluntary insurance plans, seeks to control costs in health delivery while extending health care to all Americans regardless of their ability to pay."

"My bill aims at remedying shortages and poor distribution of health manpower by improved student loan programs for doctors, nurses and allied personnel. My bill also calls for a study of existing loan and grant programs. It provides for grants to schools to facilitate training additional personnel and to foster ambulatory care. Personnel agreeing to serve in areas short of critical medical services could also qualify for grants."

"To increase ambulatory care, the bill would extend hospital loan programs and provide grants to encourage development of ambulatory centers. Ambulatory care benefits would also be covered in all health insurance plans."

"Financial support for state and local health planning would also be made to encourage priority-ranked community plans which can be coordinated with other health programs."

"To hold down spiraling costs and assure quality care, the plan would tie all federal loans, grants and contracts to certification of need by a comprehensive health planning unit."

"Other safeguards would call for review of capital expenditure proposals and incentives to encourage cost-saving programs. Payment for health care would be tied to prevailing fees, with review of cost of other services that fall outside regular guidelines. Payment to hospitals or other institutions would also be supervised by a state-appointed commission."

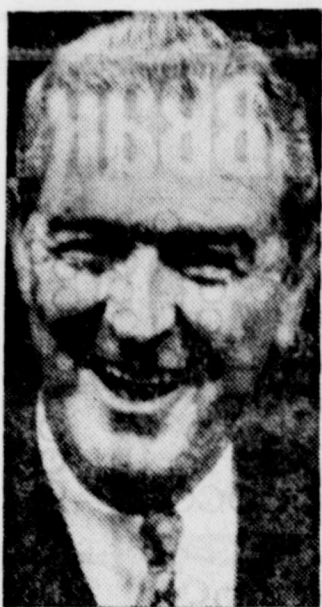

"Nationally, the bill would seek an annual health report from the President and create a national health policy advisory board which, in turn, would recommend procedures to coordinate health programs, conduct research and provide guidelines and policy suggestions."

"To improve financing of health care, the bill would set federal standards for minimum ambulatory, preventive and institutional care benefits. Benefits would be phased in on a time-table basis. Existing private health insurers would provide the benefits."

"Tax incentives would be provided to assure comprehensive benefit levels and state pools of private health insurers would be established to provide standard benefits for the poor, near-poor and previously uninsured. Benefits for the latter would be subsidized by federal and state funds."

"Minimum Standard Health Care Benefits would be set by the government. These standards, effective in 1973 for private group and individual plans, would cover diagnostic X-ray and lab examinations on an ambulatory basis; all surgery and radiation therapy in ambulatory care centers; three visits per year per family member to a doctor or to an ambulatory center; well-baby care for up to six visits with in six months after birth; charges for physician services while institutionalized; the first 30 days of semi-private general or psychiatric hospital care; the first 60 days of nursing home convalescence, and the first 90 days of approved home health care per illness."

"State benefit pool plans for the poor and others would begin July 1, 1972, and would provide additional benefits in these areas: six visits per year per family to a doctor or ambulatory care center; well-baby care for up to 12 visits during the first

J. S. Wheelless, Former Resident, Died At Meridian

James Seth Wheelless, 81, a former resident of the Winters area, died at Meridian Sunday evening following an illness of several years.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday from Spill Memorial Chapel with the Rev. Harry Grantz, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial was in Northview Cemetery.

Mr. Wheelless was born Aug. 18, 1890, in Washington County. He had lived in the Winters area for more than 60 years, farming for a number of years in the Pumphrey-Drasco Community. Since 1968, because of ill health, he had lived at Iredell near his son.

He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Surviving are one son, J. E. Wheelless of Iredell; a brother, W. O. Wheelless of Winters; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Jewell Wheelless of Winters; and several nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers were J. C. Belaw, George Lloyd, Audra L. Mitchell, J. T. Sneed, Barney Puckett and Joe Awalt.

CONFIRMATION hearings on John Connally's nomination as secretary of the Treasury were snarled by payments from a foundation he received while governor of Texas. The state constitution bars outside income.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank the wonderful people of Winters who at the time of our sorrow were so kind. Especially the ladies who brought and served food at the Community Center. During this time of sorrow we learned how much our friends mean to us. Your thoughtful kindness will always be remembered by the family of Eugene Holder. —Robert Holder Family, Willie Jonas Family, Harry Jonas Family, etc.

Former Wingate Resident Died In Houston

Woodrow William Kirby, 58, of Houston, a former resident of Wingate, died Tuesday of last week of a heart attack.

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Thursday, February 18, with burial in the Veterans Cemetery in Houston.

Mr. Kirby was born in Wingate and finished school there. Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Tina Kirby of Houston; his mother, Mrs. Eula Kirby of Corpus Christi; four brothers, J. D. Kirby, Lynn Kirby and Fred Kirby, all of Corpus Christi, and Billy Kirby of Los Angeles, Calif.; four sisters, Mrs. Margaret McCauley, Alcoa, Tex.; Mrs. Georgia Livingston of Port Lavaca, Mrs. Allene Burnes, Corpus Christi, and Mrs. Rene Anderson of Los Angeles.

"It is estimated, at current costs, that the National Health-care Act would add $3.2 billion to federal outlays for health programs in the first year the plan would be in effect," Mr. Burleson said.

The best time to hold on is when you reach the place where the average person gives up.

Illness is only the refuge of weak minds.

Gutters and downspouts jammed with ice can cause water to back up under the roof shingles as thawing occurs later on. Electric heating cables installed ahead of time avoid this problem. Meanwhile, use chemicals to thaw the ice or lay a heating cable over the ice. Start with the downspout, so the water will have some place to go. If you use chemicals, be sure to flush them out later to avoid corrosion.

COUNTY AGENT'S WEEKLY NOTES

Most hay containing adequate protein has sufficient energy and other nutrients to take care of the needs of dry cows, but when cows are calving higher quality hay may be required, advises County Agent Parker. But he adds, in most cattle enterprises, high quality hay can be used as a sole source of nutrition during the winter months.

Hay feeders can determine the quality of the hay they are feeding by two methods, visual and chemical analysis. To estimate the value of hay by visual observation, open a bale and examine several sections. The leaves should be abundant. Leaves, reminds the county agent, contain many more times the amount of nutrients than do stems and should remain on the stem when bales are opened. Stems should be fine, soft and pliable. High quality hay usually feels soft to the hand. Poor quality hay has stiff stems and is objectionable to the touch when the hand is rubbed across the side of the bale.

Color indicates the hay has been harvested and cured under favorable conditions, but has little to do with the chemical components necessary for Texas livestock, says the county agent.

A chemical analysis is the best way to accurately estimate the protein, energy and other constituents of good quality hay. Forage analyses are available from many of our laboratories throughout the state, including Texas A&M University Forage Testing Laboratory. This facility has adopted new techniques and procedures which give a more accurate estimate of the feeding values of hay, says Parker.

With livestock now spending more than the normal amount of time around feed troughs and hay racks, they may have more opportunities to pick up bits of metal, mostly nails and wire. And, warns County Agent Parker, it could lead to what is commonly termed "hardware disease."

One of the best preventive measures, he adds, is to keep the pasture, feedlot, and barnyard free of stray bits of metal. In other words, a good "house-keeping" program as it concerns the livestock operation will pay good dividends.

The problem is most common among cattle, especially dairy cattle, says the county agent. Sheep and goats, being ruminants, are also subject to the disease. The food is swallowed or gulped to be chewed later as cud. Small foreign objects may pass unnoticed into the stomach.

Sharp bits of metal may work their way through the wall of the animal's stomach. This may cause only a temporary digestive upset if the metal becomes embedded in the stomach wall and surrounded by scar tissue. But the trouble is more serious if the metal penetrates the wall into other organs. The result may be infection, or often death of the animal.

Some symptoms of hardware disease are similar to those of other diseases. For this reason, a veterinarian should be called to diagnose the trouble so treatment can begin as soon as possible.

The continuing dry weather is favorable for mesquite control with oil. Too, labor is perhaps available for doing the job and because the temperature is on the cool side, the work can be done in relative comfort, reminds the agent.

Oil treatment works well on strands of larger trees — no more than perhaps 100 per acre but also can be used on small single stemmed trees.

A two to four gallon compressed air sprayer equipped with a three-foot length of quarter-inch copper tubing is all of the equipment needed. The sprayer tank should be filled with a low grade of diesel oil, and the operator should spray enough oil completely around the tree trunk to soak into the bark and run downward into the soil at the base of the tree. One pint is usually sufficient to kill the tree. If done properly, the tree will be dead by spring.

Studies made in Arizona have shown that 25 mesquite trees per acre can cut grass production by 50 percent. The county agent notes that most livestock producers would like to have that extra grass now.

...about your SOCIAL SECURITY

Did you sign up on the doctor bill part of Medicare when you were 65? Did you sign up on the doctor bill part of Medicare and then later decide to drop it? These questions J. M. Talbot, social security manager, asked persons age 65 today.

If you didn't sign up, or dropped your Medicare, there is something you need to know. It's called a "General Enrollment Period."

What's a general enrollment period? To put it one way, it's the first three months of the year. January, February, and March, 1971, is the next "General Enrollment Period." During these three months, folks who didn't sign up for Medicare the first time or those who dropped Medicare can enroll.

If you are already signed up on Medicare, you don't need to do anything. Your monthly premium will be held out of your check each month as before. If you get a bill in the mail and send your premium in, there will be no change.

There are some people who can't enroll because they passed up too many enrollment periods. Medicare is too important for guess work. If you dropped your Medicare or didn't enroll when you were 65 — don't guess. See or telephone the folks at the Social Security Office during the general enrollment period. They will be glad to talk with you about your case. If it is found that you aren't able to sign up on Medicare, you'll be told exactly why. Persons signing up on the doctor bill part of Medicare will have the Medicare coverage beginning July 1, 1971. For further information, contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area. Persons who are unable to meet with him are encouraged to call the office in San Angelo. The telephone number is 949-4608.

ported fire. Many of them have equipped their cars with flashing lights and sirens, in hopes the public will give them a better chance. Most people do, it is true. But there are so many, say the firemen, who seem to have the attitude that each fire run is a contest to see who can get to the scene first, the spectator or the fireman. Firemen have been blocked out of traffic, almost rammed, and literally stopped by the excitement seekers.

Such reaction can be not only annoying, but can be downright dangerous, firemen say. It's not that people do it to purposely hinder the firemen, they say—it's just that they do it unthinkingly. Which does not make it any less dangerous. The predictions of our two firemen could come true, to the sadness of everyone involved.

Firemen point out that there is a local ordinance—No. 209—which prohibits interference with progress of fire trucks, and provides for fines of up to $100 for each offense. There also is a State statute prohibiting interference with emergency vehicles, they say.

Firemen like to tell about an incident which took place in another town: After an alarm had been sounded, and fire trucks had gone to the scene of the fire, streets were blocked off by police and drivers of every car in the block who had no legitimate business in the vicinity were issued tickets and fined.

Firemen don't think anything

Mrs. James Cagle, Native of Winters, Died In Angelo

Mrs. James (Lena Mae) Cagle, 45, former resident of Winters and sister of two Winters residents, died Sunday afternoon at her residence in San Angelo.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday from Massie Funeral Home in San Angelo, with graveside rites at 3:30 p. m. at the Wilmeth Cemetery in North Runnels County.

A housewife, she was born Oct. 31, 1926, in Winters, and had lived in San Angelo 14 years.

Survivors include her husband; three sons, Billy Wayne Cagle of Minden, James Cagle and Leslie Cagle, both of the name; three daughters, Mrs. A. L. Seabourne of Odessa; Jo Ann Watson of Odessa; and Mrs. Bobby Clevering of Snyder; four brothers, Clifford Crenshaw of Fort Stockton, Curtis Crenshaw and James Crenshaw Jr., both of Roswell, N. M., and Hubert Crenshaw of Winters; three sisters, Maude Kuykendall of Haskell, Ruth Perry of Brownwood, and Mrs. Ben Lindley of Winters; and five grandchildren.

Personal soundness is not an absence of problems, but a way of reacting to them.

like that is going to happen here because they don't believe it will have to be done. Firemen believe that if the people are asked kindly not to get in their way, they'll see the folly and take heed. Anyway, the firemen are asking, "Please don't follow us. We just might be saving your home. And you might kill yourself or some of us."
