HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

A special, Red Cross fund drive in Winters is in the planning stage. We should all give it much consideration.

In 1969, following the devastating hailstorm, the Red Cross paid out more than $3,000 to help local residents repair their homes—those who, because of age, low pension payments and low income, could not pay for the repairs themselves. Following that help by the Red Cross, a special drive raised about $800; very little has been done since that time in the way of raising money for this organization.

We cannot afford to ignore this; we cannot afford to say we won't or can't help the Red Cross, and then turn around and ask for help when disaster strikes.

So when this Red Cross fund raising ball starts rolling, we should all pitch in and at least give it a little boost. And we believe we will . . .

The Texas Constitution is a patchwork affair, with amendments tacked on amendment. Since adoption, 331 amendments have been proposed (including the four which will be voted on next Tuesday). The Constitution of 1876 has now been amended 200 times.

With all that, and even though there may be need for an overhaul as claimed in many circles it's still in pretty good working order. And it remains a pretty good tool with which the people of Texas can still to a large extent manage their own public affairs, even though in some instances the situation may seem hopeless. That old patched and worn Constitution has prevented many a hog-wild end run on the part of some lawmakers, and some of the amendments which have been proposed bear out the suspicion that there are some who would like to demolish some of the restrictions which maintain some sort of control in the people.

Of the four proposals which will be up for consideration by the people next Tuesday, two—concerning welfare appropriations and issuance of bonds for water development—will hold water. The other two . . .

Amendment No. 2 to be voted on Tuesday would provide that the legislature may propose amendments to the Constitution in called as well as regular sessions. In special sessions the legislature now must act only on those matters submitted by the Governor. Frequently, the call is for the purpose of solving legislative deadlocks on such matters as appropriations and taxation, and the submission on controversial proposed amendments during the short 30-day period of a called session could certainly be a further complication and could lead to more bitter controversy. Anyway, if an amendment is worth its salt and worthy of consideration by the people, a few more months of waiting could do little harm—and probably do more good by allowing more time for discussion on the proposal.

Amendment No. 1 on the ballot is the wildly controversial one. It would provide for not only the establishment of a State Ethics Commission empowered to set rules of ethics for members of the legislature and other state officers, but for the commission to recommend legislative pay levels. In other words, the people would lose their direct power of setting pay scales for those they send to Austin to make their laws.

NEW SANCTUARY — This imposing structure, the new sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church of Winters, was built on the site which was used for a Methodist church continually since the early 1890s. The new building was completed in late 1970, and first services were held there January 10.

The church building which was replaced by this structure was built in about 1924, and was demolished in the spring of 1970, with the exception of a three-story section which contained class rooms, kitchen, parlor and dining rooms. A basement was filled in when the new building was begun. The new structure includes the sanctuary proper, a choir room, utility rooms, rest rooms, hallways and organ-access area, and a large foyer or lobby separated from the main sanctuary by glass walls. The sanctuary proper contains 426 square feet, with the entire new area totaling 7284 square feet.

Builders were Bently-Ray & Associates of Cleburne, and consulting architect was Joe V. Line of Cleburne.

Officers of the church during construction of the new building included Gattis Neely, chairman of the administrative board; B. J. Joyce, chairman of the building committee; and Sam Jones, chairman of the board of trustees.

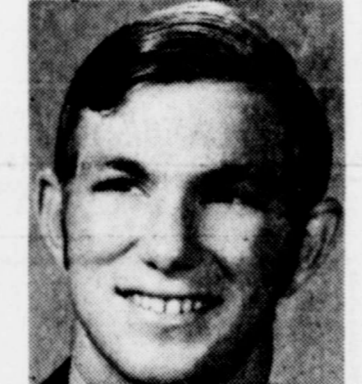

Building committee members were B. J. Joyce, the Rev. Glenn Bowman, H. M. Nichols, Gattis Neely, T. A. Smith, Sam Jones, David Ledbetter, M. L. Dobbins, LaDell Davis, F. R. Anderson, W. M. Hays and Don Vinson.

Members of the board of trustees were Sam Jones, Garland Shook, M. L. Dobbins, Dr. Z. I. Hale, Griff Brown, LaDell Davis, Buford Baldwin and Melvin Mapes.

After demolition of the old building, and before completion of the new church building, the services were held in the First Presbyterian Church building on North Church Street.

Top Honor Students Of Class of '71 Named At Winters High School

Madelyn Bryan has been named as valedictorian of the 1971 graduating class at Winters High School, and Hudson White Jr., has been named salutatorian.

Miss Bryan has a grade average of 94.76, and White, 93.30. Commencement exercises for the Class of 1971 will be held Tuesday evening, May 25, in Blizzard Stadium.

Miss Bryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bryan of the Norton community, transferred to the Winters School for her sophomore year. At Norton, in her freshman year, she was class president, listed in Whos' Who in the Future Homemakers of America, and was a member of the basketball team.

At Winters High School, Miss Bryan has been a member of the FHA, was on the basketball team during her sophomore and junior years, was junior class reporter, in the junior play, member of the Future Teachers for three years, in the National Honor Society during her junior and senior year, having the highest class average as a junior.

Miss Bryan also is a member of the Quill and Scroll, and of the Library Club, and has been featured editor of The Gale staff. She plans to attend Angelo State University following graduation.

Hudson White Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson White, the salutatorian of the 1971 graduating class. He has been a member of the Student Council for four years, and has been president of the Council during his senior year. He was class president during his sophomore and junior years, played football four years, and was captain of the football team in his senior year. He was named All-District guard in football two years, and has been on the track team during his high school years.

White is a member of the Future Farmers of America, and was on the FFA quiz team, chapter conducting team, and radio team. He has been a member of the National Honor Society for two years, and received the Merit W award during his sophomore and junior years. He had the highest class average during his sophomore year.

White plans to attend A&M University.

Meeting With Phone Reps Will Be June 7

The second meeting of the City Council with representatives of General Telephone Company, to discuss rate increases, which originally was scheduled for Monday, May 17, has been re-scheduled for Monday, June 7, the City Hall announced this week.

The telephone company has requested authority to increase local service rates, and met with the Council for a public hearing May 3. The Council took no action on the matter at that time, and tabled the request for further study, and scheduled another meeting with the company for further discussions.

IN HONOR SOCIETY

Cassie Awalt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dalvin Awalt of Kilgore, was inducted into the National Honor Society of Kilgore High School recently. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Bedford and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Awalt of Winters.

Drama Class To Present Rural Comedy May 20

"Aaron Slick From Punkin Crick," a rip-roaring rural comedy that shows how old Aaron outsmarts the city slicker and saves "poor Widow Berry's Oklahoma farm," will be staged more than 50,000 times and has been seen by more people than have seen all Broadway productions put together.

The Drama Class of Winters High School will present "Aaron" on the stage of the high school auditorium next Thursday evening, May 20, at 8 p. m. Admission will be 50 cents. Daytime performances are planned for elementary and junior high students. The public is invited to the evening performance.

Director of the play is Joe Erkel. Cast includes Danny Reel as Aaron Slick; Janice Mills, Widow Berry; Kei Bedford as Sis Riggs; Freddy Richards as Mean Ole Merriedge; Judy Foster, Sweet Gladys May; Von Byrd, Handsome Young Man; Cynthia Brown, Girl in Red.

Isabell Torres and Shirley Huback are set designers. At the piano will be Mrs. Caroline McKenzie.

Mrs. Mary Louise Bauer is director of the Drama Class and producer of the play.

Red Cross Disaster Worker Here Thursday, Friday

Miss Betty Moody, disaster worker for the Central Mid-West Regional Office of the American National Red Cross, arrived in Winters Thursday and set up office in the Chamber of Commerce to take applications for disaster relief following the hailstorm which hit the Winters area Saturday evening.

Residents who need assistance in repairing homes may make application for that assistance Thursday and Friday.

John W. Guckian, disaster representative of the Red Cross, West Texas Division, was in Winters Tuesday afternoon and made arrangements to send a disaster worker here.

Following the June, 1969, hailstorm which struck Winters, the Red Cross spent more than $3,000 in disaster relief here.

Local workers are planning a special drive to raise funds for the Red Cross.

City Lake Caught 18 Inches Water Over Weekend

Winters City Lake caught an additional 18 inches of water from the rains over the weekend, Mayor Wade White said the first of this week.

The mayor said this would add another nine weeks water supply for Winters.

Because of the low water level in the City Lake, the City Council announced several days ago that effective June 1, certain restrictions would be placed on water usage in Winters, and rates would be doubled, "unless a sufficient amount of water was caught before that time."

Mayor White said this week it was not certain what action the Council would take following the increase in the water supply.

Bob Browning Pharmacist At Main Drug Store

Bob Browning, formerly of Menard, has been employed as a pharmacist at Main Drug Co. He will work with Raymon and Ralph Lloyd in the pharmacy department.

Browning, a native of Gorman, is a graduate of the University of Texas, where he earned a bachelor of science degree in pharmacy. He has been in the drug business in Menard for the past two and a half years.

His wife, Mary, also is a native of Gorman, and attended the University of Texas. They have a daughter, Jennifer, two and a half years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Browning are affiliated with the Baptist Church. They are living at 108 North West Street.

Residents Warned To Check Permits Of Roofers, Others

Winters City officials have warned all residents who are having roofs repaired, and other repair work done on buildings following the hailstorm Saturday, to check the credentials of those soliciting such repair work.

Officials said there is in effect a City Ordinance requiring out-of-town repair firms to obtain permits from the City before soliciting such jobs.

Most of those companies doing repair work are reputable officials pointed out, and are glad to comply with the ordinance for the protection of their own reputations; they do not mind presenting their credentials and permits. However, officials warned, "There are always those persons who show up in towns following this type of disaster, who are questionable."

The best course to follow, officials said, is to ask to see city permits and other credentials before contracts are made for any repair work.

City Swim Pool To Open May 27

Winters' Municipal Swimming Pool will open for the season Thursday, May 27, according to Kirke McKenzie, who will operate the pool for the City this summer.

Lifeguards will be Tandy Medford and Susan White, who has recently completed a special course at Tarleton State College and is a Certified Senior Lifeguard.

Swimming classes are being planned for the summer, and announcement will be made at a later date, McKenzie said.

Hours of operation for the municipal pool will be announced later.

Conservationist Speaks To VA II Class At WHS

Woodrow Hoffman, soil conservationist with the Runnels County office of the Soil Conservation Service, spoke to the Vocational Agriculture II class of Winters High School last week.

Hoffman spoke on pasture management and weed control, and presented the class a copy of the soil survey of Runnels County.

Consecration Service For Methodist Church To Be Held Sunday, May 16

A formal "Service of Consecration" for the new sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church will be held during the regular morning worship hour Sunday, May 16, the Rev. Glenn Bowman, pastor of the church, has announced.

Dr. W. Kenneth Pope, Bishop of the Dallas-Fort Worth Area, United Methodist Church, will conduct the consecration service, assisted by the Rev. Gordon Dennis, District Superintendent of the Brownwood District, and the Rev. Bowman.

The church choir, under the direction of Kirke McKenzie, will present a special program of music. Randy Stevens is organist.

Homer Hodge Named Lions Dist. Governor

Homer Hodge, Winters businessman and past president of the Winters Lions Club, Saturday was elected Governor of Texas District 2A-1, during the district convention held in Midland.

District 2A-1, one of the largest districts in the state, not only geographically but in membership, has jurisdiction over 63 clubs with a combined membership of 3,000, in 26 counties.

The new District Governor will visit each of the 63 local clubs during his term of office.

Hodge has been a member of the Winters Lions Club for more than 25 years, and recently received the "Quarter Century Club" award. He has served in all offices in the Winters club except as secretary, and as a director for the past ten years. He served as president of the local club in 1969-70, and was recipient of the perfect attendance award for the past seven consecutive years.

Hodge has attended three International Conventions as a participating voting delegate of the Winters Lions Club, and was Deputy District Governor for Region 2, District 2A-1, in 1970-71. His father, the late Homer Hodge Sr., was a long-time member of the Winters Lions Club, and was president of the local organization.

The new Lions Club District Governor has lived in Winters many years, and is a graduate of Winters High School. He attended the University of Texas and John Tarleton College (Tarleton State College), where, militarily, he attained the highest rank, that of Cade Colonel. His education was interrupted by the outbreak of World War II, and he served four years in the U. S. Army, much of that time in the Pacific Theatre of Operations.

Following his discharge in 1946, Hodge married Floy Hood. She is an Abilene Christian College graduate and former school teacher, and is now associated with her husband in business. They are members of the Church of Christ.

Hodge's business interests include accounting services, co-owner of motion picture theatres, cable television, ice cream stores, farm and ranch interests and recently retired as a manufacturer of electrical signs and displays. He is a member of the National Allied Theatre Owners and the Motion Picture Pioneers Association, Inc.

Hodge is serving a third term (Continued on page 8)

Special Election Tuesday To Decide Fate Of Four Proposed Amendments

Texas voters will have a chance to further amend a much-amended Statute, in a special election called for next Tuesday, May 18.

Four amendments are being proposed, dealing with ethics of elected officials and their pay; proposal of amendments in called as well as regular sessions; welfare; and water development.

In Runnels County, all voting boxes in all precincts will be open at the regular hours, from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m., according to County Judge Elliott Kemp.

The four proposed amendments being presented to the people are:

Amendment No. 1: Establishing a State Ethics Commission empowered to set rules of ethics for members of the legislature, state officers, and legislative officers; and to investigate violations; to recommend compensation for members of the legislature and the Lieutenant Governor; and to recommend improvements and economy in the legislative process.

Amendment No. 2: Providing that the legislature may propose amendments to the Constitution in called as well as regular sessions of the legislature.

Amendment No. 3: Removing the limitation on the total state appropriations for assistance grants for the needy aged, the needy blind, and the needy disabled, and setting a limitation of total state appropriations during a fiscal year for assistance grants for needy dependent children and the caretakers of such children.

Amendment No. 4: Authorizing the issuance of $100 million in bonds to provide financial assistance to cities and other public agencies for water quality enhancement purposes; providing for the improvement and continuance of the water resources program and establishing an interest ceiling on Water Development Bonds at 6 percent.

Amendment No. 5: Authorizing the issuance of $100 million in bonds to provide financial assistance to cities and other public agencies for water quality enhancement purposes; providing for the improvement and continuance of the water resources program and establishing an interest ceiling on Water Development Bonds at 6 percent.

Amendment No. 6: Authorizing the issuance of $100 million in bonds to provide financial assistance to cities and other public agencies for water quality enhancement purposes; providing for the improvement and continuance of the water resources program and establishing an interest ceiling on Water Development Bonds at 6 percent.

Amendment No. 7: Authorizing the issuance of $100 million in bonds to provide financial assistance to cities and other public agencies for water quality enhancement purposes; providing for the improvement and continuance of the water resources program and establishing an interest ceiling on Water Development Bonds at 6 percent.

Amendment No. 8: Authorizing the issuance of $100 million in bonds to provide financial assistance to cities and other public agencies for water quality enhancement purposes; providing for the improvement and continuance of the water resources program and establishing an interest ceiling on Water Development Bonds at 6 percent.

Amendment No. 9: Authorizing the issuance of $100 million in bonds to provide financial assistance to cities and other public agencies for water quality enhancement purposes; providing for the improvement and continuance of the water resources program and establishing an interest ceiling on Water Development Bonds at 6 percent.

Amendment No. 10: Authorizing the issuance of $100 million in bonds to provide financial assistance to cities and other public agencies for water quality enhancement purposes; providing for the improvement and continuance of the water resources program and establishing an interest ceiling on Water Development Bonds at 6 percent.

Amendment No. 11: Authorizing the issuance of $100 million in bonds to provide financial assistance to cities and other public agencies for water quality enhancement purposes; providing for the improvement and continuance of the water resources program and establishing an interest ceiling on Water Development Bonds at 6 percent.

Amendment No. 12: Authorizing the issuance of $100 million in bonds to provide financial assistance to cities and other public agencies for water quality enhancement purposes; providing for the improvement and continuance of the water resources program and establishing an interest ceiling on Water Development Bonds at 6 percent.

Amendment No. 13: Authorizing the issuance of $100 million in bonds to provide financial assistance to cities and other public agencies for water quality enhancement purposes; providing for the improvement and continuance of the water resources program and establishing an interest ceiling on Water Development Bonds at 6 percent.

Amendment No. 14: Authorizing the issuance of $100 million in bonds to provide financial assistance to cities and other public agencies for water quality enhancement purposes; providing for the improvement and continuance of the water resources program and establishing an interest ceiling on Water Development Bonds at 6 percent.

Amendment No. 22: Authorizing the issuance of $100 million in bonds to provide financial assistance to cities and other public agencies for water quality enhancement purposes; providing for the improvement and continuance of the water resources program and establishing an interest ceiling on Water Development Bonds at 6 percent.

Hailstorm Rakes Winters and North Runnels Saturday, Damage Said High

Hail and high winds Saturday evening did a tremendous amount of damage to homes, crops, livestock, utility lines and farm buildings in North Runnels County.

Insurance people said Wednesday the damage to homes and buildings in Winters would run "from $350,000 to $400,000." Extent of damage will not be known until insurance adjusters complete surveys.

Winters schools were hit hard as most windows on the north side and some on the west side of practically all buildings were knocked out by the hail. Water and wind-pressure damage was also extensive in the school buildings.

BUSINESS and the STOCK MARKET

TWILIGHT OF TAX-EXEMPT UTILITY DIVIDENDS

By Babson's Reports, Inc.
For many years investors in certain common stocks have had the advantage of receiving dividend payments which were entirely or partially exempt from ordinary federal income taxes. This has, of course, been an especially useful feature for investors in high tax brackets. It should be noted that the tax-exempt portion of the dividend is treated as a return of capital, thereby reducing the cost of one's investment and creating a possible capital gain liability realized at the time the shares are sold.

UTILITIES BENEFIT

The bulk of the companies able to employ this tax-free feature are found in the utilities group. Essentially, the non-taxable payments represent dividends which were earned from sources other than operations, such as certain amortization, depreciation, or construction credits permitted for tax purposes.

This type of tax windfall, however, will for the most part be coming to an end in mid-1972. Included in the terms of the Tax Reform Act of 1969 is a requirement that after June 30, 1972, utility companies must adopt certain accounting practices which will eliminate the major portion of the tax-free feature. There will be, in some instances, vestiges of tax exemption remaining, but it is difficult to predict the degree of change. For example, Consolidated Edison has long enjoyed a high rate of tax exemption on its common dividend. For 1970 it is again estimated at 100 percent. The company has stated that in the first full taxable year after the tax shelter ends, approximately 35 percent of its dividend will be exempt.

FUTURE LOOKS BRIGHT for Muddy, Ill. Muddy's 100 residents are looking to new industry to bring their coal-mining town, on the decline since closure of its mine, back to life. Picturesque post office, however, will remain unchanged.

ALTERNATIVE INVESTMENTS

If tax-exempt income is important, especially in the case of high-bracket taxpayers, holders of utility issues which will lose the exemption might consider a switch to municipal bonds as appropriate to individual portfolios. Income from municipals is now free of federal income tax and generally of taxes in the state where issued.

However, for investors who would prefer to remain in common stocks, the utility sector contains many companies of good quality which may be retained on the basis of criteria other than the tax-exempt feature. There are many utilities with excellent growth characteristics, two of which we will discuss briefly.

Citizens Utilities is a multi-product utility serving a geographic area ranging from Vermont to Hawaii, with its major concentration in Arizona and California. Revenues are derived primarily from electricity, telephone, water and gas service. Common stock is in two Series—"A" pays dividends in stock only and is convertible at any time, share for share, into Series "B", which pays dividends in cash. This arrangement appears ideal for investors seeking a holding for changing investment goals. In 1970, Citizens Utilities posted its 26th consecutive annual per-share earnings increase, an 11 percent gain over 1969.

Florida Power Corporation could be a major beneficiary of the Walt Disney World, scheduled to go into operation this year. This windfall, however, would only reinforce a sound mix of industrials and agricultural facilities service. With its outstanding record of growth in revenues, earnings, and dividends, Florida Power would appear to offer sound prospects for appreciation.

While we have discussed only two utilities, there are few investment sectors offering such a wide choice of reliable investment opportunities tailored to the needs of almost any portfolio.

True, the utilities group as a whole has felt the pinch of last year's high money rates, and soaring demand for power has— for certain companies—strained generating capacity. Nevertheless, with an improving economy and lower rates of interest, most utility stocks may be expected to resume a pattern of solid growth.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

PROFIT ON YOUR HOME

Every five years, assuming you are an Average American, you will give up one residence and move to another. If this involves selling your home, and if you make a profit, do you have to pay income tax on the amount of the gain?

Generally, no— provided that you buy another house within one year. The federal government will usually allow you a tax deferral, on the theory that the sale is not an ordinary business deal but a matter of personal necessity.

But in order to qualify for the tax deferral, you must fully meet the conditions that the law lays down. For example, your second house must be not only bought but actually occupied within the one-year limit.

In one case, a man moving to another city bought a house that needed remodeling. The work took considerable time, and his family was still living in a rented apartment by the time the year was up.

Nevertheless, he tried to get a tax deferral by arguing that at least his intentions were clear by the time of the deadline.

But a court turned him down. The judge said the law was based not on what a person intended to do but on what he did. In another case, a man failed to buy a second house within the year solely because of a sudden illness. Was this an acceptable excuse? Again, a court said no. The court said the law "is unambiguous and leaves no room for interpretation because of unfortunate circumstances," adding: "We are powerless to rewrite the statute."

What if you decide to build a new house, instead of buying one already in existence? In that case, the law does give you an extra six months' leeway, so long as you have at least started construction within the 12-month period. One would-be builder bought a lot, arranged for a loan, and obtained a building permit—all within the year. But actual work on the house had not yet begun. Had he started "construction" in time to qualify for the tax deferral?

Yes. The Treasury decided that, with so many tangible steps already taken, it could not fairly turn him down.

Gory Story

Witness by witness, exhibit by exhibit, the prosecutor was building his case against a woman accused of slaying her husband. But when he tried to bring in the victim's blood-blotched garments, the defense attorney raised a vigorous objection. "Your Honor," he said, "there is no question that the man was murdered. The only issue in this case is whether my client did it."

I see no justification for bringing in all this gruesome clothing."

The court saw no justification either, and held the evidence not admissible. The judge said: "These blood stained garments could in no manner identify the murderer. We can conceive of no other purpose than to excite the passions and inflame the minds of the jury."

It is on this ground that courts generally take a dim view of gruesome evidence. Nevertheless, the fact remains that trials often must deal with dreadful events. Evidence is not disqualified by gruesomeness if it is really useful.

Another case involved manslaughter by automobile. Here, the prosecutor wanted to show the jury a battered shoe—its laces torn—that had been ripped from the victim's foot when he was struck by the car.

This time, one of the issues was how fast the car had been traveling when it hit the victim. Since the shoe did cast light on this issue, it was held to be admissible evidence. Even if it was inflammatory, said the court, it could still help the jury reach a just verdict.

A similar rule applies to photographs. In another murder case, the prosecutor wanted to show the jury a picture of the victim's body, lying on a table at the mortuary. Over defense objections, the court allowed the prosecutor to go ahead—because the picture gave valuable assistance in showing the location of the fatal wound.

As one judge put it: "Courts and juries cannot be too squeamish about looking at unpleasant things, especially if truth is on trial."

Routine Chores For School Board Tuesday Night

The Board of Trustees of Winters Independent School District accepted resignations of three teachers, hired teachers, and conducted otherwise routine business at the regular meeting Tuesday night.

Superintendent of Schools Carroll Tatom reported that twelve Neighborhood Youth Corps slots have been assigned for summer youth work at the school.

The board studied the possibility of addition of a Vocational Agriculture Pre-Lab program in the Winters school. In new business, the board authorized filing an application for Federal funds under Titles I and II of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, and Title III of the National Defense Education Act, and approved continued participation in all programs of the Regional Education Service Center. The Pupil Transportation portion of the budget was amended, made necessary by the purchase of a new school bus and an increase in insurance premiums. The board also accepted a bid of $136 on an old school bus.

The board also authorized appointment of W. E. Elkins, County School Superintendent, as an authorized representative of the Winters ISD to receive USDA commodities for the school cafeteria.

Austin, Texas. — Texas lawmakers wrapped up their toughest job, that of writing a record $873.3 million tax bill, thus hopefully clearing the way for adjournment of their session by the May 31 deadline.

Top legislators say they feel that with the tax issue out of the way (assuming Gov. Preston Smith signs the bill), they can complete congressional and legislative redistricting and other "must" duties this month. Few legislators claimed to be entirely satisfied with the huge tax bill, but the House voted 100-46 to concur in Senate amendments, bowing to the argument that a conference committee would only delay the inevitable.

Tremendous sentiment for lawmakers to wind up the bitter, complex session and get home as quickly as possible was apparent in the House vote.

Here are key provisions of the tax bill which will become effective July 1 if signed by Governor Smith:

—Sales tax increase from 3.25 to four percent.

—Auto sales and rental tax at four per cent.

—Franchise tax rate increase from $3.25 to $4.50 per $1000.

—Cigarette tax raise from 15.5 to 18.5 cents a pack.

—Gasoline tax raise from five to seven cents a gallon (and diesel fuel increase from 6.5 cents to seven cents a gallon).

—Beer tax boost from $4.30 to $6 a barrel.

House Speaker Gus Mutscher, who pushed for concurrence in the Senate changes, indicated an agreement has been reached to roll back the beer tax increase to $5 a barrel in subsequent liquor-by-the-drink legislation which will be voted on later.

SMITH VEToes 10-2 JURY VERDICTS

Governor Smith, in his first veto of the current session, rejected a bill to set up a comparative negligence in personal injury lawsuits and 10-2 jury verdicts.

In a strongly-worded veto message, Smith claimed the bill would throw the judicial system "into utter chaos" and subsequently increase auto insurance premiums.

Little chance was seen for overriding the veto.

GOVERNORS BLAST NIXON ON DROUGHT

Governors of Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma in statements here blasted the Nixon administration for failure to provide complete aid to their drought-stricken areas.

Governors said they will ask their congressmen to press harder for disaster relief.

Meanwhile, Texas House members on the drought committee visited Washington officials and found "some hope" of low-interest federal loans. Committee reports that farmers and ranchers are not adequately informed on the types of loans available to them and asked for special meetings with the Farmers Home Administration to explain aid which can be provided.

Panhandle legislator, Rep. Dean Cobb of Dumas, introduced a bill to allow the governor to declare a county a disaster area due to "serious deficiency in normal rainfall and chronic lack of storage water." Local agencies would be authorized under the proposed emergency act to revalue property for tax purposes on designation of the area as a disaster zone.

COURTS SPEAK

U. S. Supreme Court ruling upholding a jury's right to levy the death sentence may mean early execution of many convicted murderers in Texas. There are 43 on death row at the state penitentiary and others in county jails. Most of them are appealing sentences.

State Supreme Court refused a defeated Palestine city council candidate's bid to force his way to election by legal action. Texas Supreme Court set June 2 for arguments in opposition complaints over granting application for a new savings and loan association in Bay City and a branch office in Hallettsville. Court of Criminal Appeals upheld an 800-year prison sentence given a Fort Worth man for rape in 1969.

AG OPINIONS

A bill allowing banks to have drive-in facilities 1,850 feet from the main unit may or may not be held constitutional, depending on facts in each case, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held. Question is whether the bill permits banks to engage in business "in more than one place."

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that: —Legislation to permit a bank to increase its capital stock without issuing same is unconstitutional, since authorized capital stock must be subscribed and fully paid in cash.

—A barber inspector who practices barbering on weekends may be eligible for appointment to the State Board of Barber Examiners if he has performed "substantial practice continuously" for five years or more.

—Two proposed constitutional amendments concerning the Teacher Retirement System of Texas are offsetting. If both are adopted, no constitutional change would be made. If one (SJR 2) passes alone, the 10-year minimum service requirement would be cut to five years.

WELFARE INCREASE

When Social Security payments increase next month, most aged, blind and disabled in Texas will also get a slight income boost.

Social Security recipients will get $4 more a month, as will those on Old Age Assistance who have no Social Security benefits.

State Welfare Board has authorized a $1 monthly increase in standards for blind and disabled programs.

Texas public assistance recipients will not have Social Security increases retroactive to January counted against state grants.

STATE LAND LEASED

Texas School Land Board accepted $784,381 in high bids for leases on 13,436 acres of state-owned land.

Highest bidder was Humble Oil and Refining Company with a $167,942 bid for 640 acres in Ward County.

Six bids were submitted on 70 upland tracts and 30 riverbed tracts. Total bids came to $1.17 million. Forty-five high bids were accepted by the board.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong said the Board was pleased with the $58.38 average price per acre.

Another state lease sale for submerged lands is set for July 6.

18-YEAR-OLD VOTE NEARS

Governor Smith signed a legislative resolution giving formal Texas ratification to a federal constitutional amendment extending full voting rights to 18-year olds.

Texas is one of 23 states which has ratified the proposed amendment. A total of 38 must approve it by legislative action to put it into effect.

Smith said he has "every confidence" that the required number of states will ratify and "that by 1972 all citizens over the age of 18 will have the right and the responsibility to vote. It is a likelihood to be cherished by all and feared by none."

SHORT SNORTS

Dr. Elmer Baum of Austin resigned from the State Banking Board the day before the Senate nominations committee hearing.

Senate State Affairs Committee approved a bill calling for the state to assume 100 percent of the state foundation school program cost.

Cigarette tax revenue increased nearly $1 million—from $14.8 to $15.8 million — from April 1970 to last month.

Home Town Talk--

If the oath of office and the oldest Code of them all, dating from the time of Moses — The Ten Commandments — is not enough to hold an ambitious politician in line, then a railroad car full of "Codes of Ethics" would not even present a stumbling block. If a man lives by the oldest Code, and takes his oath of office seriously, he knows what he should and shouldn't do.

As for the people giving up their right to determine the pay scale for their lawmakers—that is a dangerous step. Granted, and most people will agree, that the present pay may be too low, and perhaps some thought should be given toward an increase. And perhaps it is true, as some claim, that we could get better politicians and better laws if we paid more money. But it is doubtful. Some of the most financially independent ones come up with some of the harshest schemes. And few people have ever seen a political office holder needing a haircut because he didn't have a dollar in his pocket to get one. The same cannot be said of most of the taxpayers who foot the bill.

If the lawmakers are truly sincere in their claims of wanting the best for their state, let them start cutting away some of the fat around the middle of the vast network of tax-money demanding bureaucracies; let them demand that those eating at the public trough perform profitably or stop eating. If the lawmakers will show some positive action toward easing the ever increasing burden on the taxpayers, perhaps the public will then see its way clear to giving them a raise.

Rubella Vaccine Given To 216 Children Friday

Rubella (German measles) vaccine was administered to 216 school children and pre-school age children Friday afternoon in the program sponsored by the Winters Lions Club.

George M. Beard, Primary and Elementary School principal, said almost as many received the shots as received some time ago in a similar program. He felt that many who missed the shots before were vaccinated this time.

The Lions Club expressed thanks to those who helped in the Friday afternoon program, including Mrs. O. J. Murray, Mrs. Tommy Russell, and Mrs. George Davis; of the Junior Culture Club; Mrs. R. C. Thomas, RN, and Mrs. Carlton Parks, LVN; Mrs. Fred Young, school nurse; and Bobby Mayo and the Rev. Richard Nelson.

Alcohol blood content of more than .05% is illegal for drivers in Norway, Sweden and Iceland. This is half the allowed alcohol blood content in Texas.

Winters Woman Named President Of Dental Group

Mrs. Fanny Burleson of Winters was installed as president of the 17th District Dental Assistants Society at the annual installation dinner Tuesday night at the Abilene Woman's Club. Dr. Tommy Russell of Winters installed the officers. Other officers installed were Mrs. Alva McCoy of Abilene, president-elect; Mrs. Mary Wetzel of Abilene, vice president; Mrs. Norma Popp of Abilene, secretary; Mrs. Mavis Gainey of Anson, treasurer; and board members, Mrs. Benibelle Hunter, Mrs. Conceal Page and Mrs. Helene Pence, all of Abilene.

... about your SOCIAL SECURITY

A Medicare patient now pays the first $60, which is "an amount related to average hospital costs across the nation," according to J. M. Talbot, social security manager. "The deductible amount paid by the Medicare patient makes him responsible for the equivalent of the average cost of one day of hospital care," Mr. Talbot said. "That cost may change substantially over the years. Medicare administrators are required to review hospital cost once a year to determine whether or not the deductible should be changed, Mr. Talbot said. The rate of increase (or decrease) is based by law on the ratio between hospital costs in 1966, the first year of Medicare, and hospital costs in the year before a change in the deductible amount is effective. The present deductible is based on the ratio between average 1966 hospital inpatient service rates of $37.94 per day and average 1969 rates, which were $55.70 per day, Mr. Talbot said. "The ratio figures out to be 1.468, and that figure was multiplied by $40, the original Medicare hospital deductible in 1966. The product — $58.72 — was rounded to the nearest $4, as the law requires. The result was $60, the present Medicare hospital deductible." After a patient pays the deductible, Medicare pays for all of his covered hospital costs for up to 60 consecutive days.

For up to 30 more days, the patient pays $15 a day and Medicare pays the rest. In addition to that, a patient may draw on a lifetime reserve of up to 60 days, for which the patient pays $30 a day and Medicare pays the rest. The full bill for the average hospital stay by a Medicare beneficiary is now about $750, according to Mr. Talbot. People 65 and over who are entitled to social security benefits are automatically eligible for Medicare hospital insurance. Medicare is administered for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare by the Social Security Administration. For more information, contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas.

Volunteer Workers Held Down Damage To Schools Following Hail

School officials estimate that damage to Winters schools from the hailstorm Saturday would have been much higher had it not been for the many volunteer workers who worked long hours Saturday night cleaning up. Teaching aid materials also ruined in most rooms on the north side of the buildings, it was stated. Many books were damaged beyond use. Although the roofs of all buildings of the school were judged to be completely ruined by the hail, it was too early Wednesday to make an assessment of the amount of damage, it was stated. Water damage to tile and wood floors in some of the buildings may show up later, but school officials felt that this would be held to a minimum because of the work of volunteers in getting the water out as quickly as they did. School officials and administrators expressed a great appreciation to those people who volunteered their services in getting the schools cleaned up following the storm. Even though many of them had suffered damage to their own homes and businesses, they dropped everything to work at the school. This type of cooperation and concern probably saved the schools a great deal of expense, officials said.

WASHINGTON
"As it looks from here"
OMAR BURLESON
Congressman
17th District

Washington, D. C.—Mae West reportedly once said it seemed that anything worth doing was either immoral, illegal or fattening. It appears that these first two concerns are not as great as they were in Miss West's heyday. There must be, however, a continuing worry over being too fat. Weight-reducing gadgets of numerous varieties have reached sales of over a billion dollars a year and new methods are being advertised in each issue of national magazines. Then there are all the weight-reducing diets and exercises. (The exercise not mentioned is the one of placing both hands firmly on the edge of the table and pushing back). According to reports on such things, reducing pills have declined in sales. Some were found ineffective and some proved to be dangerous. Many were forced off the market by Federal regulation. The treatment of obesity in hospitals, under medical supervision is however, big business. Certain hospitals around the country have become specialists centers for this type of treatment. Probably as never before the American people have become more health and safety conscious. It must be the case since here in the Congress there is a Committee on about every conceivable subject of safety: foods, drugs, medicines, pollution, industrial-automobiles. This last one is really big too. In trying to help us stop killing each other on the highways at the rate of 55,000 a year, the Government decrees setting rigid standards for autos. The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration proposes that no car may be sold after July, 1973, without "passive restraints." Passive restraint does not mean belts of any kind, since these require the cooperation of the driver and/or passenger. (Incidentally, how many people are seen using the overhead breast straps?) What is meant by passive restraint devices are air bags that explode all around the automobile occupant in three-hundredths of a second on impact and bumpers that can absorb the shock of a 30 mile per hour collision. Not entirely "passive" but somewhat, is an idea of a gizmo that is supposed to prevent the drunk from starting his car. This would provide a combination of numbers which must be dialed in correct sequence before the ignition could be turned on. (Would ministers and strict teetotalers have to be out this extra charge?) All these things are going to cost money and you know who is going to pay. The air bags, says the government's representative should cost no more than $50. The automobile makers say they may come to $500. A manufacturer's representative says the bags, to be effective, must explode with the force of about seven times as strong as a football kicked by a professional. They further point out that if only 1 percent should be faulty and explode on the road accidentally, 50,000 drivers would be able to step on the brakes but could not reach the steering wheel. Then there's the howler at 75 miles per hour and the thing-umajig that won't let the ignition be turned on until you're trussed up in belts and harness. (Anyone handy with a screwdriver could probably remedy this). There are lots of other ideas—maybe some good ones, too—like a rear-view periscope set in the roof in order to see all around; a spill-proof gas tank and no-fade, no-skid brakes. An interesting addition would be a gadget mounted on the rear bumper that by pressing a button would spit in the eye of the guy driving too close. The best of all, of course, is to do something about the nut behind the steering wheel. TO SELL those extra odds and ends, use The Enterprise Classified Columns.

FIX-IT TIP
Picture frames tend to come loose at the corners. Pry open the corner carefully to prevent damage to the frame. Use a thin knife or similar tool. Scrape out all the old glue. Use a stain-proof glue over the cleaned wood, working it well down into the joint and wiping away the excess. Press the joint tightly together and hold in place by tying or taping until the glue dries.

FOR COLOR IMPACT TRY PORTULACA

This colorful, easy to grow annual provides more color and requires less care than almost any other plant. It can be grown from seed or you can purchase started plants in your favorite garden center. It comes in a variety of colors with both single and double plant forms.

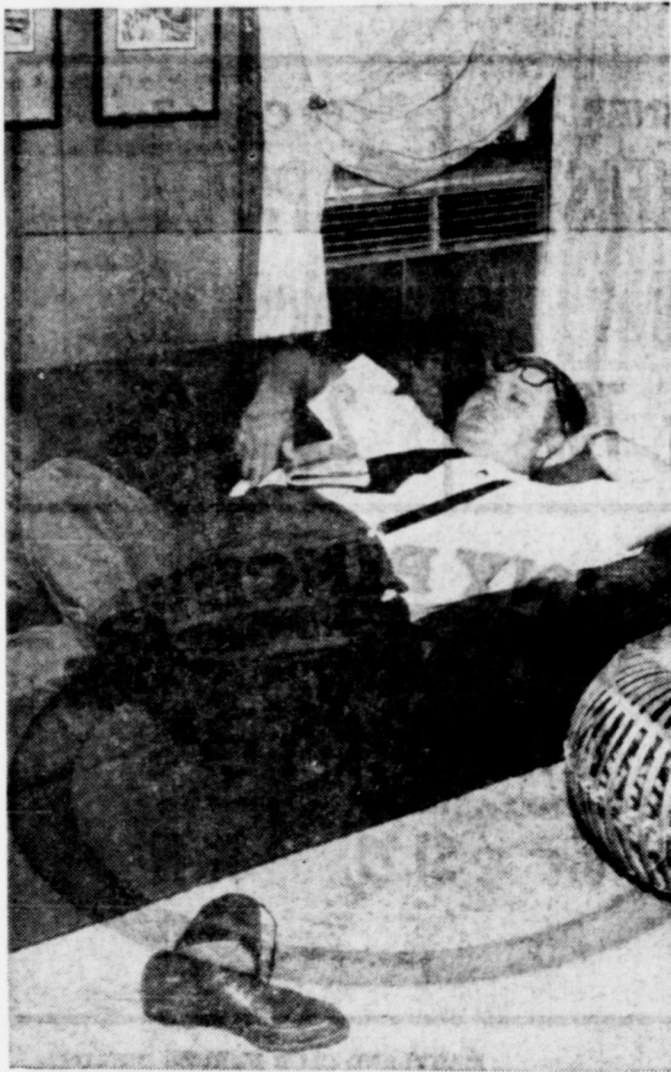

The portulaca will succeed in a wide range of garden soils. It does best in a rich loam soil, but will do reasonably well even in poor soils. Its chief requirement is sunlight, preferring a location in full sun for optimum flower production.

Since it is low and compact in growth, it can be used for massing, edging flowerbeds, used on walls and rock work, as a cover for sunny banks or for a colorful hanging basket in an open area. Seed can be planted anytime after frost until early October. It has been known to bloom within 35 days after the seeds germinate. Several crops can be grown within a season.

When planting, a more even distribution of the fine seed can be obtained by mixing with sand before sowing. The plants should be thinned to 4 to 6 inches apart for best results. The extra seedlings can be easily transplanted if a small amount of soil is moved with the roots. When the plants are an inch or less in

School Board Hires Teachers For 1971-72

Five new teachers to fill vacancies on the faculty were hired by the board of trustees of Winters Independent School District at a regular meeting Tuesday night, and resignations of three teachers were accepted.

Employed for the 1971-72 school year were Mrs. Brenda Jan Brown, Miss Rita Mae Miles, Miss Diana Marie Wilde, Randy Craig Loudermilk, and Randall D. Causey.

Resignations were accepted from Mrs. Neva Carter, Mrs. Carolyn McKenzie and Mrs. Mary Louise Bauer.

There are still two faculty vacancies, according to School Superintendent Carroll Tatom, a Special Education teacher and a kindergarten teacher.

Mrs. Brenda Jan Brown has been employed as a kindergarten teacher. She has a bachelor of science degree in elementary education from Hardin-Simmons University, and has taught at Midland three and a half years and at Buffalo Gap a year and a half.

Miss Rita Mae Miles was employed as high school librarian. She is a May graduate of North Texas State University, where she earned a bachelor of arts degree in library service. She is from Fort Worth.

Miss Diana Marie Wilde, who will be a May graduate from Angelo State University with a bachelor of science in math, will be a Junior High math teacher next year.

Randy Craig Loudermilk will teach Junior High science next year. He is a 1969 graduate of Tarleton State College, with a bachelor of science degree. He has been teaching in the Poteet Junior High School, Poteet, for one and a half years.

Randall D. Causey, a graduate of McMurry College with a bachelor of science in physical education and a minor in English, will be high school basketball coach next year, and teach high school English. He has been teaching and coaching at McCamey for a year.

"Mail Box Week" For Improvement Of Rural Boxes

The Postal Service designates a week each year when customers on rural routes are encouraged to examine, and improve where necessary, the appearance of their mail boxes. The week of May 17-22 has been selected this year. Winters Postmaster H. M. (Jiggs) Nichols has announced.

The purpose of "Mail Box Improvement Week" is to call attention to the need for providing mail receptacles which are designed to protect the mail from the weather, and which are neat in appearance, conveniently located and safe to use, Nichols said. Neat, attractive mail boxes will make a significant contribution to the appearance of the countryside, he said.

The name of the owner and the box number must be shown on the side of the box visible to the carrier as he approaches, rural route patrons are reminded. Mail boxes that meet the above important requirements contribute to a more efficient delivery operation, and the result is improved service to the entire route, Nichols said.

HEALTH FOR ALL

ASH I WAS SAYING

Some people who quit smoking feel the greatest urge to light up again when they have an alcoholic drink in hand, psychological reasons involved. But there may also be chemical ones.

According to Dr. Budh Bhagat an associate professor of physiology and pharmacology at the St. Louis University School of Medicine, alcohol causes an increase of a hormone called norepinephrine. This hormone is produced throughout the body normally and is essential to such functions as blood pressure, blood sugar, and metabolic rate. In the brain, one of the roles of the hormone is maintenance of emotional balance.

Although alcohol initially causes an upsurge of norepinephrine in the brain, persistent drinking leads to a breakdown of the hormone and a sharp reduction of its level in the blood. Emotional balance is disrupted. The results are depression and anxiety.

For people who want to stay off cigarettes but not alcohol, Dr. Bhagat has some advice: keep the drinking to a minimum. This allows the body time to adjust to the decrease of norepinephrine caused by drinking and also diminishes the likelihood of a sharp nicotine hunger.

Baptist Youth Rally At Robert Lee

The monthly Runnels Association Youth Rally will be held at the First Baptist Church in Robert Lee, Saturday, May 15, at 7:30 p.m.

MODERN TECHNOLOGY

Since the beginning of time, man's best friends have been four-legged creatures—cows included. Envision, if you will, what American history would have been like without cows trailing behind the covered wagons, or pioneer women slaving at the butter churn. Not only did the cow provide the settlers with a built-in container for milk, it provided a source of nourishment for America's children and adults since the founding of Jamestown.

The family cow was essential to the health and well-being of the pioneers, and many wagon trains set their pace not by what distance the horses or oxen could cover in a day, but rather by the number of miles the cow tied to the back of the wagon could do.

The loss of a family cow on the trail was a tragedy and the birth of a calf, a cause for celebration. The cow was important because it could provide an excellent source of food for the entire family without any feeding problems. It could forage on natural grasses while the family was occupied with the business at hand.

Since 1860 when ice came into general use to prevent milk from souring, things have steadily improved for the homemaker—and the milk.

The family cow was replaced by a local wagon that laded milk out of a can at your doorstep. Soon mechanical refrigeration eliminated the wagons, too. Modern technology has eliminated the old-fashioned butter churn and provided butter in handy measured sticks, milk in plastic cartons and hundreds of cheeses to choose from at the dairy section of your market.

The speed and techniques with which milk and dairy products are handled from the cow to the consumer make the modern dairy industry big business, and gives the homemaker confidence that she is getting wholesome, quality food for her family.

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture lists milk and dairy products on the plentiful foods list for May, according to the Consumer and Marketing Service. So think back to that old woman with the butter churn as you scoot your cart past the dairy foods, and stock up on butter, cheeses, cream, ice cream and milk this week.

CHEESE

Whether it's made deep in a cave, secretly behind locked doors or in a modern processing plant, it all ends up with the same name: Cheese — it's a food that never runs out of variety.

If hamburgers aren't complete unless they have a melty layer of cheddar dripping down the side—if picnics aren't picnics unless there's a bottle of wine and a large chunk of Swiss cheese along—if pizza just isn't perfect unless the Mozzarella bubbles over—then cheese is a necessary part of your family meals.

In unlimited sizes, shapes, consistencies and textures, cheese is a booster for any drab menu. The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service says that dairy products are on the plentiful food list for May. That means cheese, so try these on your family:

Cheddar Cheese Biscuits

2 cups flour
1 T. baking powder
½ c. shredded cheddar cheese
One-third c. shortening
¾ tsp. salt
About one-third cup milk
Sift dry ingredients together 3 times. Add shredded cheese. Cut in shortening until well blended. Add enough milk to make a soft dough.

Turn out on a lightly floured board. Roll to ½ inch thickness and cut with a biscuit cutter or into squares with a knife. Place on a baking sheet and bake at 425 degrees F. (hot oven)

Frosty Pumpkin Pie

One-third c. butter
2 T. sugar
¼ tsp. nutmeg
¼ c. graham crackers, crushed
1 c. canned mashed pumpkin
One-third c. brown sugar, packed
¼ tsp. salt
½ tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. ginger
½ tsp. nutmeg
1 quart vanilla ice cream, softened
½ c. whipping cream, whipped
Candied ginger slivers if desired
Stir butter, sugar and ¼ tsp. nutmeg together in a saucepan over low heat until butter is melted. Blend in cracker crumbs and press evenly into an 8-inch pan. Chill. Combine pumpkin, brown sugar, salt, cinnamon, ginger and ½ tsp. nutmeg; mix well. Stir ice cream just until smooth. Stir pumpkin mixture into ice cream, mixing just enough to blend. Pour into graham cracker crust. Freeze until firm. Garnish with whipped cream and slivers of candied ginger if desired. Makes one 8-inch pie.

Bride-Elect Was Honored At Tea Recently

Carrol Jacob, bride-elect of Michael F. Kozelsky, was honored with a bride tea at the Mount Carmel Parish Hall, from 2 to 4 p.m. May 2.

In the receiving line were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Walter Jacob, and Mrs. Joe Kozelsky, mother of the prospective bridegroom.

Mary Beth Jacob registered guests.

Table decorations were arrangements of yellow and white spring flowers in a milk glass vase, forming the centerpiece. The table was laid with white lace mint green. Appointments were of crystal.

Mrs. Ted Meyer ladeled punch and Mrs. Olen Weishuhn served cake squares. Mrs. Stuart Lehrof of Eola, served coffee from a silver service.

Four months of picnic food is no picnic.

Get central gas air conditioning and bring back meat and potatoes.

Some days you wouldn't even boil an egg. Let alone cook a meal. But with central gas cooling you can cook a banquet. Without heating up your home.

With central gas air conditioning, it only costs a little to add a lot to your living.

First of all, you'll save in installation costs. Because you just add a cooling unit to your existing central gas heating system. But that's just part of the savings.

Gas costs less to use than electricity. And we give you a special low rate for central gas air conditioning during those sweltering summer months. When you need central air cooling the most.

So go ahead. Have central gas cooling installed. And save the picnic food for the great outdoors.

County Judge Is Seeking Homes For Juveniles

Runnels County Judge Elliott Kemp is seeking Foster homes in the county for several boys and girls, 12 to 16 years of age.

Judge Kemp said one of the biggest problems in dealing with youngsters of this age group, on the verge of becoming absolute delinquent, is finding suitable foster homes for them instead of waiting until they are forced into institutions. At the present time, the judge said, Runnels County has six such children with no family to support them, and the county is paying about $300 per month to keep them in foster home in another county.

"Every boy and girl needs individual love and attention as well as responsibilities," the County Judge said, and he is concerned about the welfare of many from broken homes and without support. "If there is a farm family or any family who could keep a boy or girl in the 12 to 16 year age group and give them some useful work to where they could receive good food and be in pleasant surroundings, it would be better than what we now have to offer—the eventual commitment to some type of correctional institution.

Judge Kemp said, "Surely we have families in our area who could keep a child, at least for a time and at least give that child a sense of security and being needed and wanted." Such people can contact the County Judge's office in Ballinger.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Hatler Note Golden Wedding Date Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Hatler, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary May 7, were honored by friends and relatives with a tea in their home Sunday, May 9.

Guests were greeted and registered by the couple's grandchildren. The two-tiered cake and coffee were served from a table laid with silver and China appointments, and decorated with a floral arrangement of gold mums and silver candelabras which held gold candles.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatler were married in Erath County May 7, 1921. She was the former Edna Lorane Toney. The couple resided in Glen Rose until 1924 when they moved to Roscoe. They lived in Brady from 1929 until they moved to Winters Jan. 1, 1932. Mr. Hatler was in the barber business in Winters for 38 years before his retirement in August, 1970.

They have one son, Jack William, of Pittsburg, Texas, seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Soil Stewardship Week To Be Noted By Runnels Dist.

Soil Stewardship Week, a nationwide observance which places emphasis on man's obligation to God as stewards of the soil, water, and other related resources, will be observed locally May 16-23, according to Kirby Robinson, chairman of the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District.

"The World and They That Dwell Therein," the theme of this year's observance, underscores the responsibility which each citizen has in fulfilling his or her role as caretaker of the realm. The Runnels S&WCD and some 3,000 companion districts throughout the nation along with their State and National Associations are sponsoring the event for the 17th consecutive year.

Runnels S&WCD will distribute upon request to churches of all faiths, bulletin inserts and booklets created particularly for this year's observance.

Materials were prepared by the National Association of Conservation Districts, in consultation with a Soil Stewardship Advisory Committee composed of leading church men in the nation.

Directors of the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District are Kirby Robinson, Norton; W. F. Minzenmayer, Winters; Jake Presley, Crews; Grider Hays, Ballinger and Arthur Eggemeier of Miles.
