HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

While gathering information for articles on the Winters Lake recently, the thought occurred that too many of us too much of the time take for granted those things which have been done to improve the community, or to make the community possible in the first place. We see the lake dam, for example, and we see the streets, the roads, the public buildings, the schools, and other community improvements, but we give little thought to their beginnings... for all we know, these things, just like Topsy, just grew...

We forget there have been people — personalities — behind every one of these projects. These people have been the "They" spoken of when we all say, "They" ought to do something. The "They's" saw the need for all these things, and instead of parroting the rest of us, they got busy and did something about them.

For instance, back in the late 1930s and early 1940s, when it became apparent that the Winters Lake north of town would no longer be adequate to supply the needs of Winters, "They" didn't sit on their hands and moan that "They" should be doing something about the water supply. They organized and pooled their talents, went to work, even to the point of self-sacrifice, and when they had finished handed a new Winters Lake to the town.

In every community, there are more "non-They's" than there are "They's"—the ones content to sit around and watch the work done by someone else. It's a natural human trait, everywhere, and the "They's" are many times overworked and under-appreciated, because the rest of us just take it for granted that someone else will do what needs to be done. As the saying goes, there are those who make things happen, and those who wonder what happened!

The age of self-starting initiative and private enterprise is not over, contrary to what many of us may think at times. And Tommy Cowlshaw, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cowlshaw, is here to prove it.

Tommy is operating the newest business in town, and is a prime candidate for the Chamber of Commerce. He saw an opportunity to open a new business in Winters, and got after it. He has opened a mobile shoe enterprise, and it seems that business has been brisk. Overhead is low, and he can go where the trade is; and we understand he will even make office calls.

Everything should be all right in that new business—if some bureaucrat doesn't decide to load him down with so much paperwork he has to get a secretary.

Seriously, Tommy, we wish you luck... you've got the spirit, and it's the spirit that made this country. When you've gone on a few more years, and have become head of your own company, or become a well-known doctor or lawyer or whatever, or even President, we'll all be proud to say, "We knew Mr. Cowlshaw when..."

If Ballinger businessmen had only known down through the years and kept all their stores and offices and stations grouped in a tight wad around the courthouse square, instead of spreading up and down the highway, the courthouse square could have been included in a "study" of courthouse square towns now being conducted by students of an Oklahoma university, working under a grant.

The Runnels County seat had been chosen to be included in a

Winters Lake Built In 1945

Sedimentation In Old Lake, Growing Town Made New Lake Necessary

When sedimentation reduced the capacity of the Winters Lake north of town in the late 1930s and early 1940s, and a growing population and an increase in water consumption further pointed out the inadequacy of Winters' water supply, the people, through their City Council, began to cast about for a new storage facility, or source for water.

The Council picked a location on Elm Creek about five miles east of Winters as a likely spot for a dam, and began to make plans. T. A. Smith, mayor of Winters at that time, and members of the Council, "walked out" the area, and marked the area where the dam was to be. They were accompanied by Chamber of Commerce Manager W. H. Rumpy, who was a State Representative and later was to become Runnels County Judge.

Surveys were made, and on April 24, 1944, a bond election was called to issue $200,000.00 in bonds with which to build the dam and lake, build the water plant, and to lay the water lines from the lake to the plant. Located on the east edge of Winters, the election was held May 18, 1944, and carried 271 for, and 5 against, according to Council minutes.

Members of the City Council during the planning and building years included Mayor T. A. Smith, and Alderman C. F. Pumphrey, Howard Baldwin, Raymond Lloyd, H. J. Hodge, Sr., W. L. Pratt and J. S. Bourn.

The dam was completed about October, 1945, and normal use began in January of 1946. The dam caught little water during the first few months, and long lines had to be built from the pumping station to the channel of Elm Creek, in the middle of the lake area. However, on April 11, 1946, the upper watershed of Elm Creek received a 10-inch rain, and at about 8 a. m. the following morning, April 12, water went over the spillway for the first time, according to T. A. Smith. Since that time, water has flowed over the spillway sometime most every spring—until 1971.

Control of First Savings Bought By Dallas Firm

Oak Cliff Savings, Dallas, the state's third largest savings institution, today (July 16) purchased controlling interest in First Savings and Loan Association of San Angelo at a public auction in Houston conducted by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, liquidator and receiver for the Sharpstown State Bank.

The purchase was made thru The 8.8 Corporation, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Oak Cliff Savings whose holdings include Fort Worth Savings with nine offices located principally in Tarrant County as well as several other corporations involved with apartment and real estate development and insurance operations. Oak Cliff Savings operates 11 offices, mostly in Dallas County.

"First Savings will be operated as a separate entity with local management backed by Oak Cliff Savings' nearly 25 years experience in the savings and loan business," John L. Ingle, Oak Cliff Savings' president said, adding that all but one member of the board of directors will be from the San Angelo area. He emphasized further that there are no present plans to alter the existing staff of First Savings.

Oak Cliff Savings also purchased controlling interest in Lubbock Savings and Loan Association of Lubbock at the auction, Ingle stated.

Ingle explained it is difficult to attach monetary value to the purchase because, in addition to the $400,000 cash paid for the two blocks of stock, Oak Cliff Savings is required to make certain capital contributions to assure the continued financial stability of both associations.

The sale of both institutions was approved by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, as required by Savings and Loan Holding Company regulations, Ingle added.

Oak Cliff was the highest bidder for 112,761 shares of permanent reserve fund stock of the $400,000 cash paid for the two blocks of stock, Oak Cliff Savings is required to make certain capital contributions to assure the continued financial stability of both associations.

Both associations encountered problems in recent months due to a small number of loans and other investments made at the instruction of controlling stockholders who are no longer connected with the institutions, Ingle explained.

He noted that both associations are members of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation and through that agency each saver's funds are insured to $20,000.

Oak Cliff Savings is recognized as one of the most progressive savings institutions in the state. When it was chartered by the State of Texas in May 1946, it had resources of about $35,000. Today, Oak Cliff Savings and its subsidiaries have total resources of more than $420 million.

In June 1969, Oak Cliff Savings became one of the first savings institutions in the state to offer its stock on the public market. The stock is traded over the counter.

In its latest earnings report, issued Wednesday (July 14) Oak Cliff Savings had net income of $679,920 for the second quarter ending June 30, 1971, compared with $490,567 for the same period of 1970, Ingle said.

Earnings per share for the year 1970 totaled $1.87.

"Based on progress to date, we are projecting earnings of $2.15 per share in 1971," Ingle said. "We have paid 10 cents per share quarterly dividend in the first and second quarters and plan to pay the same amount in both the third and fourth quarters of 1971."

Oak Cliff Savings consistently pays savers the highest interest rates permitted and offers a wide range of other services. These services include all types of consumer, construction, and real estate loans.

Construction and installment loans accounted for more than half of Oak Cliff Savings' $40,718,345 increase in assets for 1970 over 1969.

Oak Cliff Savings and its subsidiaries employ more than 200 persons. In addition, Oak Cliff (Continued on page 6)

County Agent C. T. Parker said Tuesday morning that area veterinarians have received supplies of the VEE vaccine, and that all horses must receive the vaccine, regardless of age. There is no charge for the vaccine, he said.

All horses had been quarantined to their farms or ranches until Monday night, Parker said. However, permission was granted by the federal animal health commission to transport horses to vets' offices for the vaccine, but they must be returned home immediately. Horses vaccinated and certified by a veterinarian after 14 days may be moved from the county, it was stated.

Parker said the county is being organized this week to check all areas for horses which have not received the vaccine. Instructions from Austin and Washington are being received daily, it has been reported, and the situation may change overnight, regarding movement of horses.

The disease, which is deadly to horses, but rarely fatal to humans, is carried by mosquitoes. Humans become infected when a mosquito that has sucked the blood of a horse transmits it to the human victim.

The Air Force has completed spraying operations in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, where the disease is epidemic, and had prepared to move to the Houston area for a new attack. However, new mosquitoes have hatched out, it was reported, and spraying will have to be resumed in some areas.

The City of Winters has had a mosquito spraying project in progress for several weeks, and activity has been increased within the past several days, it was learned.

Parker said he knew of no cases of VEE in horses or humans in the county. The U. S. Department of Agriculture's animal health division reported that 820 horses had died in Texas thus far, with an additional thousand reported sick.

Horse owners are being urged to contact veterinarians of the area to obtain the vaccine. The vaccine, given free to the public under a $5 million federal program announced by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin when he declared a national emergency last Friday, is being administered by veterinarians who are paid $4 per shot by the government.

County Agent Parker said the public would be notified immediately in regard to any change in requirements in combating VEE.

VEE Is Spread By Mosquitoes; Health Department Urges Control of Insects

The role of the mosquito in spreading disease has been dramatically emphasized by the movement of Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis in Texas.

In just a short time the disease has crossed the Rio Grande into Texas and resulted in a statewide alert. While its primary victim is horses, VEE can affect humans with a flu-like illness, says the Texas State Department of Health.

Villain in the spread of Vee is the mosquito. If a mosquito bites an infected animal, it can spread the disease by biting another horse—or a human. All mosquitoes should be looked on as possible spreaders (vectors) of VEE; however, a mosquito first must have bitten an infected animal or human before it can spread the disease. Even if it isn't carrying some disease, a mosquito still is a pest to be eliminated.

With mosquitoes as the target in controlling VEE, you can do a lot to help yourself.

The simplest and most effective method of cutting down or controlling the mosquito population is to eliminate the breeding places.

Mosquitoes cannot hatch unless they are in water, so all standing water around your premises should be eliminated. Water can be caught in discarded bicycle and automobile tires, tin cans or old jars, in bird-baths, unused fishponds, shrubbery or a flat roof. Eliminate these water traps, being careful to check behind shrubbery.

Septic tanks, cisterns and tubs provide excellent breeding places unless they are tightly covered. Recent rains may have left stagnant ponds where mosquitoes can breed. If there is standing water on your premises, spraying it with an insecticide or a small quantity of Kerosene will kill the larvae—sometimes called wigglers. To check for larvae, dip up a cupful—preferably with a white cup—weekly and look for the larvae.

Residual spraying of human habitations, screening sleeping and living quarters (or use of mosquito netting), will help control mosquito bites.

If you are in the open, especially at dusk, dawn or during the nighttime, use a repellent to lessen the risks of mosquito bites.

A vaccine has been released through the United States Department of Agriculture for horses, and aerial spraying has taken place in South Texas. Halting the movement of horses, mules and donkeys from the affected areas will further limit the spread of the disease. By containing the disease in small areas, or pockets, more effective control measures can be employed in a shorter length of time.

But, says the State Health Department, an individual can play an important part in this activity by practicing good vector control in his own environment.

Persons with further questions on vector control may contact their local health departments.

STATE Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN—Back-to-school time isn't too far off for more than two million young Texans, and State Board of Education has approved a record $302.4 million statewide available school fund allotment.

Board set $121.90 as the state allocation for each pupil in public schools this year. Figure is based on the average daily attendance during 1970-71, or 2,479,400, although actual enrollment was over 2.7 million.

Local school districts may use their allocation to help pay annual operating expenses, including teacher salaries. Available school fund draws investment earnings from the $835 million permanent school fund.

In other preparations for the upcoming school year, Board of Education also:

- Approved an $887,500 contract with Southwest Educational Development Laboratory for a bilingual teaching program tailored for four-year-old children of Mexican-American farm workers. Ten bilingual specialists will work with 100 youngsters in McAllen and Hereford to develop an experimental project next school year and field test it in 1972-73.
- Approved a new accreditation plan to provide computer data to warn of developing weak points in school systems. Data will provide scientific analysis on information needed to decide which schools should be visited by accreditation teams. Such teams visit about 200 of more than 1,100 Texas school districts each year.
- Entered an agreement to link Texas Education Agency and U. S. Office of Education in a $1.8 million program to evaluate new special education pilot projects expected to have national impact on the teaching of handicapped children.
- Allocated $23.2 million to buy new textbooks (see below).

ment within state or out of state of horses not vaccinated at least 14 days earlier.

Several persons were hospitalized in Brownsville with VEE symptoms. Cases in horses increased sharply, though laboratory confirmation lagged behind discovery of symptoms.

Disease, described as 'flu-like' among humans, is deadly to horses, and concern was expressed for the equine population. Emergency situation stopped all rodeos, horse shows, race meets and other activities involving horses.

TEXTBOOKS AVAILABLE FOR REVIEW

Textbooks considered for 1972-73 school adoption can be looked over by interested citizens at 20 regional education service centers over the state.

Texas Education Agency, the largest single buyer of textbooks in the world, has $23.2 million available for the next school year. New books cost an average $8.10 for each of 2.7 million pupils. Proposed new textbooks can be reviewed at Edinburg, Corpus Christi, Victoria, Houston, Beaumont, Huntsville, Kilgore, Mount Pleasant, Wichita Falls, Richardson, Fort Worth, Waco, Austin, Abilene, San Angelo, Amarillo, Lubbock, Midland, El Paso and San Antonio education service centers.

1.5 MILLION NEW VOTERS?

Texas may have 1.5 million new voters in 1972 largely as a result of 18-21-year-olds becoming eligible for all elections, according to a state senator's forecast.

New law goes into effect September 1 which permits registration of a Texas voter for a three year period instead of annually as at present. Registration will also be open year-around except for a 30-day cutoff before an election.

Dallas Sen. Mike McKeel, author of the new registration, sees youngsters as accounting for a large part of the 1.5 million increase in eligibility rolls and predicts they will vote as well as any age group.

DISEASE SPREADS

A sleeping sickness-like disease spread among horses (and in a few humans) in the South Texas-Rio Grande Valley area.

U. S. Agriculture Department which originally had scheduled an experimental vaccine against Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis in 13 counties, later released it statewide and slapped an embargo on Texas horses.

Later, a state Animal Health Commission order halted movement.

AG OPINIONS

All Texas counties must adopt the jury wheel system and terminate selection of jury panels through use of commissions. Attorney General Crawford Martin has held.

New state law providing for waiver of indictment in non-death-penalty cases is constitutional, Martin said in another opinion.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

—Commissioner of Bureau of Labor Statistics has no authority to promulgate rules and regulations limiting the number of boxing and wrestling promoters in cities within certain population brackets.

—Bridges between Corpus Christi Bay and Gulf of Mexico to Mustang Island when accepted by Texas Highway Department becomes part of the state highway system.

—Comptroller of Public Accounts may issue a warrant to a contractor or seller of supplies and/or services purchased through State Board of Control without seller's certification of correctness of invoices (correcting an earlier opinion).

—Governor is authorized to make six appointments to Texas Board of Licensure for Nursing Home Administrators — two initial appointees to serve until January 31, 1973, two until 1975 and two until 1977.

APPOINTMENTS

Gov. Preston Smith named E. Byron Crozier of Cleburne as district judge of 18th judicial district, to succeed Judge John A. James Jr. whom he named Tenth Court of Civil Appeals chief justice.

Smith selected Rex Sullivan Jr. of Quanah district judge of the 46th judicial district, replacing Judge Tom Davis who resigned.

Charles D. Kirkham Jr. of Dallas, a native of Cleburne, was placed by the Governor on the Legislative Property Tax Committee, along with Sen. James Bates of Edinburg, Rep. Richard Slack of Pecos, Jack L. Hart of Midland and Carl S. Smith, Harris County tax assessor-collector.

Charles R. Barden, acting chief of the air control section of the Texas State Department of Health, was named to the advisory committee to Federal Environmental Protection Agency.

COURTS SPEAK

District judge in Midland ordered the lawsuit attacking constitutionality of the new Texas House of Representatives redistricting transferred to Austin where it may be tried this month.

Texas libraries were refunded nearly $500,000 as a result of the Attorney General's price-fixing suit against children's book publishers.

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a Texas 1969 statute on possession of LSD, but a new challenge was filed here on changes in the law this year. Court again upheld sodomy statute.

PASS BIDS IN

A low bid of $1.4 million on the long-delayed second phase construction of a water exchange pass across Mustang Island apparently was submitted by Brown and Root Construction of Houston.

Brown and Root bid, including construction of a two-lane bridge across a 100-foot wide channel on Park Road 53, was the lowest of five opened last week by Parks and Wildlife Department. Bids were studied before a recommendation on letting the contract.

HUNTERS IRED

A state proposal to turn Canadian River Bottom into a wildlife refuge stirred protests of hunters from the Panhandle at a hearing here.

Panhandle hunters wanted no part of the Parks and Wildlife Commission's closing of state-owned river beds, streams and railroad rights of way to public hunting.

Disabled Vets Will Get Free License Plates

Austin — Details of a new program which will provide free 1972 automobile license plates to some disabled veterans were revealed this week by the Texas Highway Department.

The program was set up by an act of the 62nd Legislature.

To qualify, an applicant must:

- Be a Texas resident;
- Be a veteran of the armed forces of the United States;
- Have a disability rating of 70 per cent or more;
- Be drawing compensation from the federal government as the result of service-connected disability.

A qualified veteran is entitled to register one passenger car or light commercial vehicle with a manufacturer's rated carrying capacity of one ton or less for his own use without paying the prescribed registration fee. There is a statutory fee of $1 which must accompany each application.

The specially designed license plates will be issued with the letters "DV" appearing as either a prefix or suffix to the license number. The words "Disabled Vet" also will appear on the plates.

Vehicles with Disabled Vet plates will be exempt from paying parking fees charged by any governmental authority other than the federal government. This includes parking meters.

The license plates will not be available until the beginning of the 1972 registration year. The law provides that the disabled veteran must make application by October 1 preceding the registration year for which the plates are requested.

All Disabled Vet plates will be issued directly from the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department in Austin.

As a prerequisite, the veteran's disability rating must be verified by the Veteran's Administration or the branch of the armed forces from which he draws his disability compensation.

Also, the Texas title to the vehicle must be issued in the name of the veteran.

Application forms and instructions may be secured from Texas Highway Department, Motor Vehicle Division, 40th and Jackson Avenue, Austin, Texas 78703.

The forms also will be available from Motor Vehicle Division district offices in Houston, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Port Arthur, El Paso, Fort Worth, Dallas, Lubbock, Amarillo and Longview, as well as county tax offices; county veteran service officers; American Legion headquarters in Austin and veterans of Foreign Wars headquarters in Austin.

NEWS for OUTDOORSMEN

Confidence helps you catch fish. Maybe it's the "power of positive thinking." But, whatever it is, it works.

A man who is bored or really isn't expecting a strike seldom lands a lunger.

It's true that many a man has caught a fish when he least expected it—when lighting a cigarette, looking the other way, or talking to a buddy. More than likely the reason for his surprising success is in the change of pace in his fishing.

Chances are he had been erratic in his fishing methods. Or fishing too fast. When he turned his attention elsewhere, he forgot his lure and quit thrashing it around in the water. He was actually giving the fish its first appealing look at his lure.

This man can thank our expert lure manufacturers for his catch—for the strike was not due to the angler's skill but largely to the built-in attractiveness of the lure.

There's no doubt in my mind that the most successful angler is the fisherman who is really enthusiastic, who sincerely believes that every minute his lure is in the water a whopper is looking at it trying to decide whether or not to gobble it up. Usually, the intent, enthusiastic angler is by far the better fisherman—all other things being equal.

This enthusiasm comes to fishermen in various ways and for various reasons. Some are just naturally enthusiastic about everything. Others get pepped up because they have been so successful in fishing in the past they actually seem to think that fish are everywhere at all times. Others are enthusiastic about a particular spot where they have had good luck before. Their favorite spot remains their favorite for one good reason—they fish it better. They're enthused over it. They know they have full confidence that they can do it again.

Too often we are "doubting Thomases." We feel the fish must have moved on to greener pastures. This doesn't mean we won't catch any fish... simply that we can catch more with positive thinking.

Just how does one acquire this confidence, if it doesn't come naturally? Generally, by concentrated effort. Many anglers don't like to concentrate because it boils down to just plain work. Most people fish for fun and don't want to make work out of their fun.

You should watch some of the professional fishermen. Those who make their living selling fish... or those who sell fishing lures and equipment... or by observing the fishing guides. Those fellows take fishing seriously. They work hard at it all day long, day after day. They catch lots of fish. They concentrate on what they are doing. They plan every cast. And they react the instant a fish strikes. They will bring a fish to boat while the average angler is still toying with his catch.

But how does the average fisherman get this confidence, this positive attitude? Of course one way is to start catching fish. This not only gives you confidence that the fish are there but also that you have the ability to bring them in.

Wildlife Department Officers Receive Safety Awards

AUSTIN—Two Texas Parks and Wildlife Department game management officers have been cited for their efforts in water safety.

John Gerganess of Corsicana and Louis H. Clymer of Whitney were recipients of water safety awards from the National Safety Congress.

Clymer was given the organization's highest award, the presidential citation, for his water safety work since 1948 when he joined the department.

He has taught water safety classes in schools, sportsmen's clubs, civic groups and youth organizations. He organized several rescue squads and has taught water safety, safe boat operation and law enforcement in four high schools.

Gerganess received a certificate of appreciation for his promotion of all phases of water safety in the Navarro Mills Reservoir area during the past eight years. Only five drownings have occurred there in eight years, despite heavy use of the lake.

Gerganess also conducts water safety classes in schools and public service organizations.

... about your SOCIAL SECURITY

This time of year the Social Security Administration begins to receive questions about increases in monthly benefits from persons who believe recent earnings will increase their monthly benefit. J. M. Talbot, social security manager, said, "Barring the unforeseen, the Social Security Administration will begin the annual recomputation of benefit amounts in July." Since 1965, a yearly review of each earnings record is made to determine whether the monthly benefit amount can be increased. The earnings of all beneficiaries are "automatically" screened for possible increases, and payment of such increases is made without application. It takes several months for all records to be checked.

According to Mr. Talbot, only a very small number of beneficiaries will receive an increase in benefits since social security benefits are based on average earnings over a period of years, and the number of years used to compute benefits does not change.

There is no need to apply for the recomputation of benefits. Social Security does this for you

Trotline Tags Now Necessary

AUSTIN—Due to recent action by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, those who fish in freshwater with trotlines in regulatory counties must tag their lines with something at least as durable as the trotlines.

There are quite a few materials which fit this description, but the most practical material to use for trotline tags, which must have the name and address of the owner and the date the line was set out, is plastic, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Plastic tags can be custom made by the fisherman with an embosser costing less than five dollars and available in most variety stores.

The embosser can also be used to make name tags for other things so the owner can keep up with his possessions.

automatically. If you have questions, contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area. Persons who are unable to meet with him are encouraged to call the office in San Angelo at 949-4608.

Fork Soil and Water Conservation Districts, assisted by the SCS work units in Taylor and Runnels Counties. The work units have assisted farmers and ranchers in preparing soil and water conservation plans on 33,540 acres, or 83 percent of the watershed. To date, approximately 60 percent of the land treatment measures have been applied.

The Elm Creek Water Control District, which was authorized and formed by the State Legislature four years ago, has plans for construction of several water retardation dams along the tributaries of Elm Creek. When this project is completed, according to W. M. Hays, chairman of the board of the District, sedimentation of Lake Winters will be decreased considerably.

According to the Sedimentation Report issued by the Soil Conservation Service following the 1970 survey, Lake Winters has lost 25 percent of its original capacity, from 2618.2 acre-feet, to 1886.3 acre-feet, in the approximately 25 years since construction.

In view of this report, and an ever-increasing consumption of water, civic leaders of Winters—as have leaders in most other sections of the state and country, have become concerned over the possibility of an inadequate water supply in the years to come. All possible sources are being searched out and surveyed, with an eye toward future development. Without adequate water, the future of Winters and other towns of like size and economy, would be unbright.

study of "Courthouse Square Towns," and notification was sent out some time ago that the students would be in town on a certain date. And the good people of Ballinger and the county got ready to receive them. But it seems that when the surveyors showed up, they apparently were horrified—Ballinger wasn't a "typical" courthouse square town (whatever this is) but a modern town built to accommodate modern transportation and modern ideas of building and doing business. Perhaps if they only parked a few wagons and teams and buggies around the square . . .

It would have been nice if our county seat could have been included in that study. But it should be a lesson to all who plan to build county seats in the future—stay as close to the courthouse as you can. Of course your town may stagnate, and tumbleweeds may be the major attraction, but it just may be included in a future study of "Courthouse Square Towns."

WASHINGTON

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman
17th District

Longfellow.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — For some reason there has been an increasing interest in family genealogy. People often inquire how to trace their family tree—where their family originated and why the name.

Occasionally the National Archives here in Washington can give some reference but it takes quite a bit of assembled evidence before they can give any real help.

Numerous organizations are in the business of family history research but some have been known to manufacture a history to please the circumstances and hardly the evidence on which an oath can be applied. A great many people have been duped. Some of these activities are rackets to play on the unsuspecting.

Of course, there is a degree of egotism when we learn our ancient family had a coat of arms and why our names came out as they have. On the other hand there is satisfaction and information that we know our origins and have an appreciation of them.

Until about 1100 A. D. most people in Europe, the only people with whom we were familiar at that time, had only one name. This continues to be true in some primitive countries today.

As the population increased, it became confusing to live in a village where perhaps one-third of the males were named John a sizeable number named William and so on.

To distinguish one John from another, a second name was needed. Four primary sources furnished these second names. There was, for instance, a man's occupation, his location, his father's name or some peculiar physical characteristic, which identified him from others.

On the side of occupation, the local house builder, food preparer, grain grinder, and suit maker may be named respectively: John Carpenter, John Cook, John Miller and John Taylor.

Location identified John who lived over the hill as John Overhill, the one who dwelled near a stream might be John Brook or John Atbrook.

Then the suffix on the father's name gave William's son the surname of Williamson, Jack's son became Jackson.

In some of the non-English speaking nations of Europe, the designation of a son had other spelling. In Armenia, the "ian" identified a son. In Scandinavia—Denmark, Norway and Sweden—the "sen" stands for son. In Finland, it takes the name of "nen" an din Greek "pulos." In Czechoslovakia and some of the Baltic nations "wicz" identifies the son and in Poland it is more likely to end with "ski." Spanish is often "ez."

Booklet Outlines Help Available In Drouth Areas

What kinds of federal assistance are available to farmers, ranchers, farm workers, small business men, and others hit by the severe drouth in parts of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico?

Answers, in general terms, have been consolidated in a 16-page pamphlet prepared in English and Spanish by the President's Interagency Drouth Committee, Dallas. It's called "Guide to Federal Emergency Drouth Help Available," with separate versions for each state.

Copies of the pamphlet are available at county offices that handle U. S. Department of Agriculture drouth assistance programs and information, including County Extension Agent, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Farmers Home Administration (FHA), and Soil Conservation Service (SCS).

"Information on federal assistance in the pamphlet has to be general because all programs are not effective in all counties of the state," points

CARD OF THANKS

Words cannot express our thanks to our wonderful friends who were so thoughtful and kind in our sorrow, for each expression of sympathy at the passing of our dear husband and father, for the food and lovely flowers; to Spill's for their loving care; to Bro. James for his comforting message; for the pallbearers; nurses at Ballinger hospital; and Twilight Acres Nursing Home; and Dr. Chandler. We are indeed grateful. May we be such comfort in your time of need.—Mrs. Ed Brandon and family.

out George Hastings, chairman of the Interagency Drouth Committee.

Specific types of assistance have to be requested, county by county, depending on need, Hastings said.

Martin Garber, USDA representative and committee vice chairman, suggests that any farm operator or owner who needs assistance through the federal government should discuss his needs with his county ASCS, SCS, or FHA office. These offices know which programs operate in each county and can place requests for additional assistance that may be needed.

prevent friend from attacking friend during the heat of battle, it became necessary for each to identify himself. They accomplished this by painting colorful patterns on their battle shields. These same patterns were woven into cloth surcoats worn over a suit of armor. Thus was born the term "coat of arms."

As this practice grew, it became more and more likely that two friendly knights, unknown to each other might be using the same insignia and attack. It finally worked out to prevent this records were kept that granted a pattern to a particular knight and his family shared his right to display this evidence.

In some instances these records have been preserved and are in book form. Interest in heraldry is increasing. Perhaps some of the interest comes from a family pride to resent attempts of our society to reduce each individual to a series of numbers stored somewhere in a computer.

In some large libraries one might find in the genealogical department some leads on family history.
