How about that big Winters High School Blizzard Marching Band? They'd be a credit to any small or medium-size college!

During the band's performance at halftime of the Winters-Ballinger game Friday night, we heard a man exclaim proudly, "Gives a man a good 'tingly' feeling to watch those kids perform." And he doesn't have a son or daughter in the band! But that's the feeling of most everyone around here—everybody's proud of that band.

As of Wednesday morning, there were 300 students registered in Winters High School. AND MORE THAN ONE-THIRD OF THAT NUMBER ARE IN THE BAND! There are 116 in the Marching Band. . . . there'd be more than that, but some of the 125 regular band members play football! Band Director Kirke McKenzie has built the biggest band in the history of Winters High School!

One realizes, too, as he watches that big band go through intricate maneuvers and marches on the field at halftime, that this band doesn't just MARCH in well-ordered lines, circles, and what have you—they play MUSIC while they're doing it!

This big WHS Blizzard Band deserves something . . . they oughta be on television! . . . like in the Cotton Bowl Game, or some other big bowl game!

There's more to come, too. Director McKenzie is working in the lower grades, preparing students for some future high school band. He has a Fifth Grade Band, a Sixth Grade Band called the "Cadets," a Junior High School Band!

The band program in the Winters Schools says something for the value of schools the size of this. Where else can more than a third of the students in high schools take part in the band program? This does for other programs as well. In fact, when the band is on the field, the football team is lined up, and students working in various stands and performing other duties at football games, there are few high school students left!

Old Boll Weevil is "Lookin' For A Home"—and he's just about found it in Runnels County, according to reports from farmers. But it won't be permanent, if C. T. Parker, County Agricultural Agent, has anything to do with it.

Parker has announced a special meeting to study ways and means of ridding the area of the boll weevil—he calls it a "Boll Weevil Eviction Meeting"—to be held in the Winters High School auditorium next Thursday, October 21, beginning at 8 p. m.

Cotton farmers and others interested in the production of cotton are urged to attend the meeting, where special speakers will suggest ways of getting rid of the weevil. It will take an area-wide cooperative effort to get the job done, Parker said, and now is the time to get started—before the next planting year rolls around.

Farmers Union Convention Here Monday, Oct. 18

The annual county convention of the Runnels County Farmers Union will be held Monday, October 18, in the Winters Community Center.

Jay Naman, state president, will be guest speaker.

A free barbecue supper will be served beginning at 7 p. m.

Clean-Up Week October 18-23

The week of October 18-23 has been designated "Fall Clean-Up Week" in Winters, and has been so proclaimed by Mayor Wade White.

The special effort is being sponsored by the Winters Chamber of Commerce, and will be spearheaded by the recently formed Women's Committee of the chamber.

All residents and property owners are being asked to make a special effort to remove trash and debris from their premises, and cut all grass and weeds. In addition to enhancing the appearance of the town, the Women's Committee pointed out, cleaning up all trash and cutting of weeds and grass will help in a big way to eliminate the mosquito problem.

Residents are asked to gather trash and place it in the regular pickup areas. They may call the Chamber of Commerce office — 754-5210 — and special trucks will be dispatched to pick up the trash. Home owners are reminded that trash may not be picked up on the day they call, but pick-up will be scheduled.

The Women's Committee will

Cemeteries To Be Worked On Saturday, Oct. 16

A special "cemetery working" has been planned, sponsored by the Women's Committee of the Winters Chamber of Commerce, to be held Saturday, October 16, as a beginning gesture to Clean-Up Week, October 18-23.

It is planned to cut all weeds and high grass in the cemeteries, with two work sessions scheduled, the first to be from 9 a. m. to noon, and another from 2 to 6 p. m.

Those interested in helping in the cemetery work are asked to bring mowers, grass cutters, clippers, hoes, rakes and other tools.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, The week of October 18-23, 1971 has been designated as Special Beautification and Cleanup Week by Civic Groups and Citizens of Winters; and

WHEREAS, A neat appearance in your city is of value to all citizens as well as our visitors; and

WHEREAS, It is in the Texas tradition of pride that Civic Groups and Citizens of Winters are sponsoring this Special Beautification and Cleanup Week; now

THEREFORE, I, Wade W. White, Mayor of the City of Winters, Texas, do hereby urge the public to take an active part in the observance of this week,

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have herewith signed my name officially and caused the Seal of the City of Winters to be impressed hereon, this 12th day of October A. D., 1971.

WADE W. WHITE, Mayor, City of Winters, Texas.

ATTEST: BUFORD BALDWIN, City Secretary.

Winters' 1972 Phone Directory Being Compiled

The new February 1972 Winters telephone directory is now being compiled, J. B. Goss, division manager for the General Telephone Company of the Southwest announced today.

All business telephone users in Winters will be contacted by a representative of the General Telephone Directory Company within the next few weeks regarding changes in listing.

Salvation Army Drive To Begin Tuesday, Oct. 19

The annual Salvation Army Fund Drive will begin with a kick-off dinner in the Winters Community Center, at 7 p. m., Tuesday, October 19, Ted Meyer, local Service Unit Chairman, has announced.

Manuel Esquivel will be campaign chairman for this annual drive. Goal for this year will be $1200, he said.

Major J. W. Straucher, of Abilene, area supervisor for the Salvation Army, will be present for the dinner meeting and will assist the committee and workers in planning the drive, Meyer said.

Meyer said the fund of the North Runnels Salvation Army Unit has been depleted, because of the help extended to an unusual number of servicemen and their families this year. In addition, the money is used to purchase food, clothes, shoes, medical aid and other items for local people, and to help support the Salvation Army, Home and hospital for unwed mothers, summer camp for boys, rehabilitation centers for alcoholics, and for disaster services.

In addition to Chairman Meyer, the local committee is made up of F. R. Anderson, vice chairman; Wes Hays, treasurer; Chief of Police Joe Stevens, Welfare secretary; Dr. H. H. McCreight, Marvin Bedford, W. H. Craven, Mrs. Emma Marks, Mrs. Lillie M. Young, all from Winters, and Mrs. W. W. Wheat from Wingate, Mrs. Chester McBeth from Crews, and Miss Opal Hunt from Bradshaw.

Meeting Set To Plan Battle On Boll Weevil

A meeting to draw up battle plans for a concentrated fight against boll weevils in next year's cotton crop has been called for Thursday, October 21, in the Winters School Auditorium. The meeting will begin at 8 p. m.

County Farm Agent C. T. Parker is sponsoring the meeting, and said plans and suggestions will be made to begin now in the fight against boll weevils next year. This year, the cotton crop has been badly damaged by boll weevils, and the pest has become more prevalent in this area, he said. Now is the time to plan for next year, he said.

Emory Boring, entomologist of Vernon, will be a featured speaker at the meeting next week, Parker said. Also, Charlie Neeb of Fort Stockton will be present. Neeb helped to organize a county-wide effort to rid that area of boll weevil about five years ago, Parker said, and that program has been very successful.

All farmers and others having an interest in cotton production are encouraged to attend the meeting next Thursday night and join in planning to rid the area of boll weevils.

Norton Homecoming Planned Saturday In Civic Center

The Norton Homecoming will be held Saturday, October 16, in the Community Center at Norton.

Food will be sold by the Norton Lions Club.

All ex-Norton students and residents are urged to attend. Mrs. R. T. Cope is secretary of the homecoming committee.

ERNESTINA DE LA CRUZ Homecoming Queen

MRS. GEORGE POE Coming-Home Queen

Homecoming Queen, Coming-Home Queen, Crowned At Football Game

Miss Ernestina De La Cruz was crowned Homecoming Queen, and Mrs. George (Charlies) Poe was crowned Coming-Home Queen, during halftime activities at the Winters-Ballinger football game Friday night.

The halftime activities were a part of the homecoming celebration for ex-students of Winters Schools, and was sponsored by the Ex-Students Association.

Miss Brenda Byrns, Homecoming Queen of 1969, presented the crown to the 1971 Homecoming Queen, and Johnny Key, president of the Ex-Students Association, presented a bouquet to the new queen. She was escorted by Oscar Torres, a member of the Blizzard football team.

Mrs. Poe was introduced and presented a bouquet by Johnny Key.

Miss De La Cruz is a junior student in Winters High School. She is the daughter of the late Rev. Juan and Bertha De La Cruz, and now of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe De La Cruz. She has been active in many high school activities, and has served as class treasurer. She is a member of the Future Homemakers of America, the basketball team, the Spanish Club, and served as vice president of the pep squad. She was a candidate in the Miss Winters contest last spring.

Mrs. Poe, the new Coming-Home Queen, moved to the Winters Community in 1915. She graduated from Winters High School, and attended Hardin Simmons University in Abilene. She was married to George Poe in 1927; they have two children, Jeannine of California, and Dennis of Winters; and four grandchildren.

Mrs. Poe has been active for many years in the community. She has been superintendent of the Intermediate Sunday School Department of the First Baptist Church for 25 years, and taught American government and general math in the local school.

She is the author of two books, "Angel To the Papagos," published a few years ago, and "Runnels Is My County," a history of Runnels County, published in September, 1970. She has written feature articles for The Winters Enterprise, the Abilene Reporter-News, Home Life Magazine, and the Baptist Standard.

Mrs. Poe is a charter member of the Runnels County Historical Survey Committee, and is presently secretary of the committee. She has also worked with several civic organizations.

Other high school candidates for Homecoming Queen were Cheryl Drake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Drake, a senior student. She was escorted by David Grohman, a member of the Blizzard team, Brenda Smith, a senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Bob Smith, escorted by Blizzard Mike Smith; Trish Hill, a junior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Hill, escorted by Blizzard Wayne Schwartz.

North Runnels Hospital Bond Election Tuesday

About the New Hospital

The hospital being operated by the North Runnels County Hospital District was formerly the Winters Municipal Hospital, built in the mid-1930s. It was operated and maintained exclusively by the City of Winters, but served the entire area of North Runnels County until two years ago, when it was transferred to the Hospital District.

Special legislation in 1969 had authorized creation of a hospital district, to be comprised of the two County Commissioners Precincts—2 and 3—in the north half of Runnels County. A special election in 1969 created the district, and a board of directors was elected at that time, and what had been the Winters Hospital became the responsibility of the hospital district.

According to members of the board, the old hospital, although it had been adequate in the past, does not meet present State and Federal requirements. It was felt, they stated, that the old structure could not be remodeled to meet these requirements.

Following several months of extensive study of the needs of the district, and a survey of the desires of the residents of the district, the board of directors last August approved architects' plans for a new hospital, and began to make plans for calling a special bond election.

According to the architects' plans, the new hospital will contain a gross area of 14,800 square feet, and a net area of 14,030 square feet. There will be 16 patient rooms, six of which will be built to accommodate two patients, plus a two-bed intensive care room immediately adjacent to the nurse's station, and a nursery. Patient room would occupy one wing of the H-type building, with private bath facilities for each room.

The operating room, obstetrics room, laboratory, X-ray, lab, and emergency room would occupy half of the other wing, and kitchen, dining room, administrative offices and maintenance and mechanical rooms the other half.

The hospital structure itself, along with equipment planned to be installed, would meet all requirements of State and Federal agencies regulating operation of hospitals, it is pointed out.

Site of the present hospital is not adequate to accommodate the proposed structure, it has been stated. The board of directors of the hospital district have acquired an option to purchase another site.

Above all, the directors have stated, the proposed hospital will be as modern and offer facilities and services to match any small hospital in the country.

Scott Billups Won First Place In Zone PP&K

Scott Billups, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Billups of Winters, won first place in the Ford Motor Company Punt, Pass & Kick competition in San Angelo Saturday, and is eligible for district competition to be held October 16 in Dallas.

Winners in the district contest will compete in Area trials, from October 18 to December 13. In this area, winners will go to the National Football Conference Division contests in Dallas December 18. National finals will be held during the Super Bowl game in January in New Orleans.

Local PP&K contests were sponsored by Dale's Ford Sales of Winters.

Pentecostal Church To Have Fellowship

An all-day Fellowship Meeting will be held at the Winters Pentecostal Church of God Saturday, October 16.

Featured speakers will be from Austin and Brownwood.

Donations $46,861

Twenty-four more families have expressed their desire for a new North Runnels Hospital, by adding their names to the list of contributors to the special Hospital Equipment Fund since the last report, pledging or contributing $1125.

By Wednesday morning, 226 contributors had built the fund to a total of $46,861.00, according to Ted Meyer, chairman of the special citizens' committee conducting the drive to raise money to purchase equipment for the new North Runnels Hospital. A bond election will be held next Tuesday, October 19, to build the new hospital.

Resident qualified voters of North Runnels County Hospital District will vote next Tuesday, October 19, on a proposed $475,000 bond issue to build a new hospital in the district.

Voting boxes will be at the Winters Chamber of Commerce office, and at the Wingate Independent School in Wingate. Polls will open at 7 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. Election judge for the Winters box will be Howard Worthington, with Mrs. Truett Billups as alternate. Mrs. M. B. Folsom will be judge at the Wingate box, and Mrs. Lena Wheat, alternate.

North Runnels County Hospital District includes all of the areas of County Commissioner Precincts 2 and 3, as the precincts were situated prior to the redistricting in August.

Voters will vote to authorize issuance of bonds up to $475,000, to be used for the purchase, construction, acquisition of a hospital building for the district. Bonds would mature serially over a period not to exceed 40 years. Redemption of bonds, and interest, would require an additional levy of only 30 cents on each $100 valuation of taxable property within the district, making the total rate 50 cents.

The board of directors of North Runnels County Hospital District has approved plans for a new hospital, and indicated that after passage of the bond issue, work would begin immediately on adopting final plans, procurement of a site, and calling for bids for construction. No one could estimate when construction would be completed.

Babs Tatum In Play Cast At Wayland College

Babs Tatum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walker Tatum, was in the cast of the play, "Dark of the Moon," presented by the Speech and Theatre Department of Wayland Baptist College in Hanal Auditorium in Plainview recently. She played the part of the old woman of the mountain.

Miss Tatum also is pledging Alpha Psi Omega national honorary dramatics fraternity. She is a junior at Wayland, where she is a member of the Student Senate, representing her class.

Mr. and Mrs. Tatum attended the stage presentation Saturday night.

Blizzards Meet Coleman Friday

The Winters Blizzards, following their 27-14 win over Ballinger last Friday night, take on another tough District 8-AA competitor Friday night, traveling to Coleman for a game with the Coleman Bluecats.

This will be another crucial game for the Blizzards, as they attempt to keep their standing in the league. Coach Chili Black said the coaching staff was well pleased at the way the Blue team moved the football against Ballinger Friday night, especially in the second half. The Coleman game will be a tougher outing, it was expected, but the Blizzards are slated to hold their own.

Winters now has a 2-0 record for District 8-AA play, having defeated Clyde 7-6 two weeks ago, and Ballinger last week, and a 4-1 season record. Only loss has been to Anson, in pre-conference play, with a 21-16 win over Hamlin, and a 29-28 win over Merkel.

Coleman also owns a 2-0 district record, downing Comanche 34-12 two weeks ago, and Hamilton 56-7 last Friday night, and a 2-1 pre-conference record. The Bluecats won 7-6 over Ozona, 16-7 over Anson, but dropped their other pre-district game to Brady, 6-13.

Winters and Coleman have played only one common opponent, Anson.

Coleman was listed in No. 11 spot in the Top 20 A teams in the state, until their defeat by Brady. They now are listed 18th in the Top 20.

Strong man for the Bluecats is expected to be Mike Maars, the big running fullback who has been the workhorse for Coleman this year. Randy Warwick, HB, also has been a touchdown maker for Coleman this year. Quarterback Jimmy Alcala, who was out of action the first part of the season because of leg injuries, is expected to be in the Winters-Coleman game. He capped one TD for the Bluecats against Hamilton last Friday, on a six-yard run in the second quarter.

Danny Birdwell, playing offensive and defensive tackle at 206, is one of the Bluecats returnees from last year. He was all - district lineman last year, but - district offense and defense.

There probably will be no change in the defensive lineup.

Soil Conservation Directors Attend State Meeting

The role of conservation district in environmental improvement is the theme of the 31st annual statewide meeting of conservation district directors to be held in McAllen October 19-21.

Bill Minzenmayer, chairman of the board of the local Rannels Soil and Water Conservation District, said plans are being made to send a delegation from the local district. The annual meeting is sponsored by the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board.

"Our district is involved in a wide range of activities which benefit the environment," Minzenmayer said. "Conservation measures reduce sediment, the state's biggest pollutant. Sediment fills lakes, streams, bays and estuaries; it kills fish and

... about your SOCIAL SECURITY

"Alexander Graham Bell knew he had a great thing when he was able to transmit voices over a wire," said J. M. Talbot, social security manager.

"Since Mr. Bell's invention," Mr. Talbot continued, "the telephone has improved so that our voices can span continents. We can dial direct and within seconds converse with a loved one or a business acquaintance on the other side of the world." It would be difficult to imagine these days a business without a telephone. Most homes are equipped with telephones. Fingers do the walking through the yellow pages to save time and money.

Social security has recently started a new service to take advantage of the speed and convenience of the telephone. Now, beneficiaries can notify the social security office about death or marriage of a person receiving social security benefits. They can report a change of address by telephone, which is then transmitted to the payment center by teletype so that the check will be sent to the new address earlier than it would if it went by mail. A person can even apply for a social security number by telephone.

Best of all about the new tele-service is that many applications for benefits can now be handled by phone.

The completed form will be mailed for the claimant's review and signature. The signed claim and the documents requested by the claims representative should be mailed back to the social security office in the special self-addressed envelope provided. The documents will be returned to the claimant. Generally, a personal contact must be made with a disabled person, but people who are unable to leave their homes because of a disabling condition may use the new tele-service to arrange for a representative to come to their homes to obtain the disability application and supporting documents.

sources for maximum benefit of all citizens.

The meeting at McAllen will feature a "Night in Mexico" event staged by the host group, the Southmost Soil and Water Conservation District. Ladies attending the meeting will also be treated to a luncheon and a tour of homes in Reynosa, Mexico.

Conservation districts are local sub-divisions of state government. They utilize and coordinate assistance from the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and other local, state and federal sources. Their goal is to conserve and develop land, water, forests, wildlife and related re-

COUNTY AGENT PARKER'S COLUMN

Now is a good time for producers to consider mechanical shredding of whitebrush (beeweed or beebush), says the County Agricultural Agent Parker. Shredding is an excellent mechanical control method since the soil surface is not disturbed.

The whitebrush forms dense thickets that shade out forage plants and compete with them for water and plant food. The brush is also poisonous to horses.

Field demonstrations in several areas of the state have shown that whitebrush can be almost eliminated with a systematic shredding program, points out Parker. This includes shredding in the spring after the brush is fully leafed and before it has time to restore food reserves to the root system. A second shredding should follow in the fall after the brush has sprouted from the spring shredding.

A similar shredding program should be followed the next year for effective reduction of whitebrush plants, adds the agent. After the initial infestation is controlled, several years of maintenance control will be required to keep seedlings and sprouts from developing into mature plants.

Farmers today face greater legal liability risks than they did a few years ago, and they need enough personal, employee and vehicle liability insurance to cover possible court action.

"Insurance as a hedge against risks is becoming more important because of the capital outlays needed to equip and maintain a farm business." "A sizeable judgment resulting from an accident due to carelessness might reduce a farmer's capital severely or even cause him to lose his farm."

Farms are becoming such large investment businesses that farmers have higher asset valuations and are subject to large liability suits than before he points out. And as additional power equipment is used, machine-caused accidents and exposure to these hazards increase.

"Because risks in an individual case are so unpredictable, a farmer should do everything possible to prevent accidents," Parker explains. "But accidents do happen on farms, and adequate liability insurance is a must, especially since laws are making it easier for injured persons to collect damages."

A farmer risks several kinds of liability. As an individual, he may be held liable for his negligent acts. As the head of a family, he may be held liable for the negligence of family members. As a landowner and property owner, a farmer may be held liable for negligence in the upkeep of his property or for damage done by his livestock. As an employer, he may be held liable for harm to employees or injury to other persons by them. A farmer also may be held liable for negligent business use of his farm machinery, cars and trucks, adds Parker.

The hardy chrysanthemum, a member of the large Composite or daisy family with complex flower structures, can bring spectacular fall color to the yard or garden. There are about 1,000 varieties to choose from.

Every year many new mum varieties are introduced and many old ones are discontinued. This is the "survival of the fittest" for our garden pleasure. Mums can be seen in many sizes including the cushion, medium and tall sizes.

Colors vary from white to yellow, bronze, burnt orange, rust red and dark crimson. Flower sizes vary from half an inch to three inches in diameter. Flower shapes are described as button, pompom, spoon, daisy flowered, decorative, anemone and so on.

Just for fun, try growing a few of your own new mum varieties from seed, suggests Parker. The daisy flowered ones are probably easiest to grow from seed. One plant can offer a wide variation in color and type.

Chrysanthemums grow best in the full sun. Many florist chrysanthemums sold as pot mums are unsatisfactory as garden flowers as they bloom too late in the fall. The flowers are usually damaged by frost before they have a chance to open properly.

When ordering mums for your garden, be sure to specify the early flowering varieties, advises Parker. If you have a large area to plant, a few of the mid and late season bloomers will prolong the flowering period if you are willing to take the chance of damage from a heavy frost.

In December of 1970, the Plant Variety Protection Act became law. This law makes it possible for plant breeders, companies or institutions to obtain a certificate of Plant Variety Protection for varieties that are novel and were developed after the above date. The owner of a plant variety protection certificate has the right to control the production and sale of seed covered by the certificate. He may exclude others from selling seed of the protected variety or he may charge a royalty for all seed of the variety that is sold. Legally, the Plant Variety Protection Certificate is the same as a patent.

One provision of the Plant Variety Protection Act specifies that a variety may be sold by certified seed. All seed sold by the variety name must be either registered or certified seed.

There is a very important exception to the above restrictions of protected varieties. Any farmer may save seed of protected varieties and plant it on his farm or sell it to other farmers provided there is no advertising by the variety name and the sale complies with the State and Federal Seed Laws.

This year there are at least two varieties of wheat for which plant variety protection has been applied and each specifies the certified seed option. These varieties are Centurk and Tamwheat 101. Centurk was developed by the Nebraska Station and the USDA. It was released jointly by eight states including Texas. It has an outstanding record in both dryland and irrigated tests. Tamwheat 101 was developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and has performed well in irrigated tests on the High Plains of Texas.

Garden Check List for October (Busy Gardening Month):

1. Dig and store only disease free Caladium tubers. Store in dry peat or in perlite packed in boxes so the tubers do not touch each other. Store in a dry warm area where temperatures remain between 55 to 60 degrees.

2. Scale insects on Camellia, Gardenia Holly and Euonymus can be effectively controlled with dormant oil, Malathion or Diazinon. Use oil only when temperatures are sure to remain below 85 degrees and above 40 degrees F. for at least 48 hours after using.

3. Keep fallen leaves raked from lawn area. Leaves make excellent material for composting, but must be moistened thoroughly to hasten decomposition.

4. Plant spring flowering bulbs and bulb like plants from now through November. Make sure Tulip bulbs are pre-cooled or chill them yourself for 60 days or more at 35 degrees F.

5. Prepare the beds for those tulips being chilled for later planting.

6. Those areas in the lawn with previous history of brown patch should receive an application of PCNB (Terraclor) if you haven't already done so.

7. Fall caterpillars can be controlled with Sevin.

8. For spring color plant seeds of Drummonds, Phlox, Cornflower, Lockspur, California Poppy, Bluebonnets, and Snapdragon in early October.

9. Prepare pansy beds to receive transplants in late October or early November when plants become available.

Davis Reunion In Abilene Sunday

Ten children, 17 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren attended the annual reunion of the family of Mrs. P. C. Davis, 605 Bowen St., Winters, Sunday October 10, at 1717 Butternut, Abilene. The affair was also a celebration in honor of Mrs. Davis' 81st birthday.

Sons and daughters introduced their families which had come from different cities in the state, with Bill Davis and family coming the longest distance, from Mission.

Charles Mitchell, a grandson of Pecos, was master of ceremonies and gave the invocation. Names of members of the family who had died during the past year were read, and a moment of silence was observed in their memory. They were two sons, George Davis of Sanger, Jessie Davis of Ovalo, and a son-in-law, Troy Rice of San Antonio, and a grandson, James McGaugh of Oklahoma.

Children and families present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. James Mitchell, Winters; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Davis and P. C. Davis Jr., Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Allen, Adrian; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Davis, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Townsend, Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davis, Mission; Mr. and Mrs. John S. Davis, Rowena; Mrs. Ida Stafford, Abilene, and Mrs. Addie Johnson, Robert Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Davis had charge of arrangements.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation for all of the many things that have been said and done following the loss of our loved one. —The Family of J. O. Smith. Itc.

Waddell Named To Chevrolet
Dealer Council

John F. Waddell of Waddell Chevrolet Company has just returned from Dallas where he served as spokesman for this District's fellow Chevrolet dealers at a meeting of the Dallas Zone Chevrolet Dealer Council.

John F. Waddell was elected to the Council by Chevrolet dealers of his district under a nationwide program which the country's leading automobile and truck producer pioneered in the industry in 1937. The purpose of the Chevrolet Dealer Council is for Chevrolet and its Dealer Organization to better communicate, and to plan for mutual progress.

The Chevrolet National Dealer Council is organized at district, zone, regional and national levels. Dealers in each of the nearly 500 Chevrolet districts in the United States elect from their group a dealer to represent them at the zone level. These district representatives then meet in a zone location to formulate dealer recommendations which they present to Chevrolet Motor Division Management. Each of the 48 zone councils throughout the country then elects a dealer to represent them and to carry their recommendations forward to a regional council, of which there are nine. At the conclusion of each regional council meeting a dealer is again elected to serve as spokesman to present to Chevrolet executives in Detroit the recommendations indicating—the thoughts, concerns and suggestions of all the dealers in that particular region.

Waddell has been the Chevrolet dealer in Winters since 1949.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By BILL BOYKIN, Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—A new year-round voter registration law went into effect for Texans on October 1. Predictions are that it will make sufficient changes in the political structure of the state. New rules governing the operation of political party conventions also will begin operating next year.

These major provisions in the new voter registration act are noted:
—Voters can register at any time (except for a temporary cutoff 31 days before each election). Registration is good for three years, and is automatically renewed by participation in an election during that period. The old registration period, one of the shortest in the nation, was October 1-January 31.
—Eighteen-to-21-year-olds may register and are eligible to vote in local, state and federal elections under a new U. S. constitutional amendment.
—Roving or resident registration deputies may sign up voters anywhere—apartments, union halls, club rooms, dormitories, industrial plants, office buildings, supermarkets or private residences. The law provides that "no voter registrar shall refuse to deputize a person." This is expected to increase sharply the use of deputies to round up voters.

Predictions range upwards of five million total eligible voters in 1972, an increase of a million over 1970.
—Voters must have resided in the state a year and in a county for six months to qualify for local election participation. Those who have lived in Texas more than 30 days but less than a year before the November 1972 general election can vote for presidential and vice presidential candidates under special residency registration with county clerks.

APPOINTMENTS

Gov. Preston Smith named former Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo to membership on the Texas Water Rights Commission, a $22,500 a year post. Hardeman will succeed Leslie Neal of San Antonio who resigned.

In other recent appointments, Smith picked:
—Jimmie Joe McCuan of Pasadena to the Industrial Accident Board.

—Marshall Formby of Plainview and Richard S. Slocomb of Galena Park to the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System. He reappointed Harvey Weil of Corpus Christi, Newton Gresham of Houston, Jack Arthur of Stephenville and Wayne E. Thomas of Hereford (chairman).
—Jimmy Powell of Ft. McKavett to the State Senior Colleges, Board of Regents.

—C. C. Bentley Jr. of Abilene (reappointment) for a new term on the Finance Commission of Texas, Building and Loan Section.

Doug Crouch to succeed Frank Coffey, who resigned, as Tarrant County (Fort Worth) district attorney.

—Dr. Walter H. Fischer of Temple, Sterling H. Pruitt of Fort Worth and Harvey H. Kennedy of Longview to the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners.

—Lt. Col. Belisario D. J. Flores of San Antonio as chairman of statewide Veterans Day activities October 25.

John W. Cardwell, former Georgetown newspaperman, was named director of the Texas Office of Economic Opportunity.

Lawrence Miller Jr. of Dallas is real chairman of the Texas Real Estate Commission.

Joe Teller, Texas Water Quality Board deputy director, was selected for Water Pollution Control Federation of America executive committee.

STATE TO FIGHT FOR TREASURE

The state is prepared to go to the U. S. Supreme Court to get title to all artifacts recovered from Spanish galleons which sank off Padre Island more than 400 years ago.

Texas Antiquities Committee was told a decision is near by Brownsville federal court in a long legal dispute over the treasure. Plato Ltd., a Gary, Ind., salvage firm, recovered the valuable items in 1967 and proposes a 50-50 split with the state which demands the entire treasure.

Meanwhile, Committee learned an underwater archaeologist has agreed to help set up a program to recover artifacts from another Spanish galleon near Padre Island next year.

COURTS SPEAK

The Supreme Court dismissed the appeal of relatives of Clyde Barrow who lost a suit against Warner Brothers Studio claiming character defamation in the movie "Bonnie and Clyde."

In a pile of other decisions released after a summer recess, the High Court:

—Set a November 17 review of a San Antonio district court ruling which the Alcoholic Beverage Commission maintains would rob it of its power to suspend dealers' licenses for violations.

—Upheld an injunction against a Tarrant County dentist who allegedly claimed he could diagnose and treat cancer.

—Said the Texas Railroad Commission has power to change natural gas prices covered by contracts between cities and pipeline companies when it finds a change is in the public interest. The case grew out of High Plains Natural Gas Company's effort to get a price increase for gas sold to the city of Perryton.

—Turned down city of Azle's appeal from the 1969 incorporation of Sanctuary in Parker County, holding Azle had not proved its jurisdiction over the property.

—Booked November 3 hearing of Denton County case in which a father sued his son who backed a car into him for negligence.

—Held parents can collect damages for pre-natal injuries to an unborn child hurt in an auto collision.

—Scheduled a hearing on an appeal from granting of a charter to Modern Savings and Loan Association, Pasadena.

Court of Criminal Appeals reversed and sent back for a new trial the conviction and 100-year sentence of a Dallas man for robbery by assault.

AG OPINIONS

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held a new statute attempting to exempt churches and veterans organizations from lottery laws is unconstitutional.

In another recent opinion, Martin interpreted incidental expenses which the comptroller may pay state employees in connection with their travels as those "reasonably necessary to performance of official duties" while away from their desks. A $35 a day limit is set for travel outside state boundaries.

Special rangers hired by state-wide organizations to promote cooperation with law enforcement agencies are peace officers and must meet minimum standards of selection and training established by Texas Com-

UM Churches To Observe Laymen's Day On Sunday

The United Methodist Churches of the Winters Parish will observe Laymen's Day Sunday, October 17, with laymen filling the pulpits and conducting services.

Jerry Lawrence of Sweetwater will be the speaker in the First United Methodist Church in Winters. Other laymen participating will be Joe Emmert, Gary Boyer and James Brown.

Herman Baker will be speaker at the Wingate United Methodist Church, and Dr. T. L. Russell will be Laymen's Day speaker at the Crews church.

Sunday night, Mrs. F. R. (Phil) Anderson will be the speaker in the Winters church, as the WSCS sponsors the services. Services begin at 7 p. m. mission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education.

TRIAL DATES SET

House Speaker Gus Mutscher pleaded "not guilty" to bribery charges, and a jury trial has been set for January 10.

Rep. Tommy Shannon and S. Rush McGinty, close friends of Mutscher who were also indicted for conspiracy to accept a bribe, will be tried at the same time. John Osorio, former State Insurance Commissioner and one-time president of National Bankers Life Insurance Company, pleaded "not guilty" to making false statements to the State Board of Insurance and has a January 24 trial date set.

Mutscher tried to get a trial setting in November. He will apparently continue, for time being at least, carrying out his duties as speaker, although the House "Dirty 30" liberal-Republican coalition is urging a special session for his removal as presiding officer.

SHORT SNORTS

State Board of Education adopted guidelines for regulating privately-owned business, technical, vocational and home study schools.

Texas National Guard units are conducting a reorganization. Former Postmaster General Marvin Watson keynoted the Governor's Conference on Industrial Expansion Wednesday and Thursday (Oct. 13-14) here. Five industries received special expansion awards.

Veterans Day is being observed October 25 for the first time this year. Banks and public offices will close under federal law.

Pink bollworm precautions were urged by Agriculture Commissioner John C. White in 22 South Texas counties — Bexar, Atascosa, Bee, Calhoun, DeWitt, Dimmitt, Frio, Goliad, Jackson, Karnes, Kinney, LaSalle, Live Oak, Maverick, McMullen, Medina, Refugio, Val Verde, Victoria, Wilson and Zavala.

Largest numbers of requests in a single month for Veterans Loan Program participation were recorded last month—614 warrants totalling $6,051,000.

Texas Medical Association protested the new state vendor drug (welfare) program imposes restrictions that place doctors in an "enforcement" position.

Manufacturing firms announced plans to locate 244 new industrial plants in the state and to expand 181 existing installations during January-September.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will present an award and cash prize of $1,500 to the outstanding highway department maintenance man October 15.

Our heartfelt thanks to all who extended comforting sympathy and help in our recent sorrow. For the beautiful service, floral offerings and other kindnesses, we are deeply grateful. —The Family of Miss Mildred Gooch. 1tp.

Former Resident Gets National FFA Award In K. C.

Weldon Holbrooks, vocational agriculture teacher in the Stamford school, was one of 67 teachers from throughout the nation to receive the Honorary American Farmer Degree at the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Mo., October 14.

He was one of four teachers from the State of Texas to receive the award. There are approximately 1100 vo-ag teachers in the state.

Holbrooks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Holbrooks of the Pumphrey Community. He graduated from Winters High School in 1944, and received a BS degree from Texas A&M in 1949, and a master of education degree from A&M.

He has taught vocational agriculture for 23 years, two years at Wharton and 21 years in Stamford. During those years, he has had two students receive the American Farmer Degree, 68 students to receive Lone Star Farmer Degrees, one student to be State Lone Star Farmer of Area II, and one student who served as an officer of the State FFA Association. The Stamford FFA chapter has received national ratings of bronze and silver emblems from the National FFA Association, and has received a gold emblem rating on a state level for 20 years.

Holbrooks married Peggy Ruth Jones in Stamford in 1952. They have three daughters.

Texas petroleum industry employs some 197,000 persons, about one out of every 16 Texas workers, with wages of $1.4 billion annually.

...about your SOCIAL SECURITY

A 28-minute color film, "After the Applause," produced by the Social Security Administration, has won the Red Ribbon for excellence in the consumer education category at the 13th Annual American Film Festival in New York City, according to J. M. Talbot, social security manager.

The film dramatizes in terms of circus performers the protection offered individuals and families by the retirement and disability provisions of the nation's social security program. The San Angelo Social Security Office has a print of the 16mm motion picture for showing to schools and organizations in the community without charge, as well as on public service television programs.

Mr. Talbot said that "After the Applause" was among 350 films selected for final judging among 1,000 entries in the festival, sponsored by the Educational Film Library Association.

Of Texas wells, 82 percent must be pumped rather than flowing from their own pressure.

Texas has 6,000 oil producing firms.

Carl F. Bahlman Died Monday In Local Hospital

Carl Fred Bahlman, 84, died at 4:30 p. m. Monday in the North Runnels Hospital in Winters following a long illness.

Funeral was held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday in the First United Methodist Church, with the Rev. Glen Bowman of Coleman officiating.

Burial was in Lakeview Cemetery under the direction of Spill Funeral Home.

Mr. Bahlman was born at Cuero, September 16, 1887. He came to Runnels County with his parents in 1904, settling west of Winters. He married Elizabeth Stehle, November 11, 1914, at Cost, in Gonzales County.

In 1929 he moved to a farm in the Drasco Community twelve miles northwest of Winters, where he had lived since.

Survivors are his wife; two sons, George Bahlman of Littlefield and Elder Ray Bahlman of Winters; one daughter, Miss Hilda Bahlman of Winters; three brothers, Willie Bahlman of Encinitas, Calif.; Joe Bahlman of Seguin, and Rudolph Bahlman of Winters; a sister, Mrs. A. H. Stehle of Gonzales; and one granddaughter.

Pallbearers were O. C. Hill, Floyd Condra, Elmo Mayhew, M. L. Dobbins, R. Q. West, Robert Conner, Rankin Pace and D. W. Williams.

Miss M. Gooch Died In Ballinger Hospital Thursday

Miss Mildred Gooch, 70, died early Thursday morning of last week in the Ballinger Memorial Hospital. She had been ill for several months, and was taken to the hospital Wednesday afternoon.

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Friday from Spill Memorial Chapel with the Rev. Chester Wilkerson officiating. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery.

She was born in Bell County near Nolanville, Oct. 29, 1900, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wylea Gooch. At the age of five, she came to Runnels County with her family, settling on a farm in the Wilmeth Community. In 1927 the family moved to Winters where she had lived since.

Survivors are one brother, Doyle Gooch of Electra; two sisters, Mrs. Lois Wheeler of Winters and Mrs. C. P. Gibson of Electra; and several nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers were Harry Jones, Ralph Burns, Bill Hendrix, E. F. Albro, J. B. Denson, Garland Shook, Vernon Wright and J. T. Sprinkle Jr.

CARD OF THANKS
My thanks go to all the many friends and neighbors who showed thoughtfulness and kindness in many ways during the three months I spent in the hospital at Ballinger and Winters, also to the hospital staff, Dr. Rives, Ted Meyer, the Ladies Bible Class, and Bro. Bobby Bates. It was the kind loving care that each of you gave that helped me recover. May each of you be blessed.—Lela Parrish. ltp

Implanting Medication

Taking medication is a daily routine for millions of people. Some of these medications may be implanted internally.

Today some TB patients must swallow as many as 30 pills a day to treat active disease. Some diabetics take insulin daily. People with allergies get weekly shots before each pollen season.

Now researchers are developing devices that can be implanted in the body to release chemicals at a steady rate over long periods. An ingenious, implantable pump about the size of a hockey puck has been developed by Perry J. Blackshear, a pre-med student at the University of Minnesota, who worked on the project with the departments of mechanical engineering and surgery. The pump, which is made of light stainless steel, releases the medication through special tubes directly into a blood vessel or organ.

Tested successfully on dogs but not yet on humans, the device, researchers predict, will be useful to administer potent anti-cancer drugs and insulin.

At the Alza Corporation in Palo Alto, California, researchers have already tested on humans a plastic wafer the size of a teardrop that is placed inside the lower eyelid of glaucoma patients to release medication. Tomorrow the medication for many diseases, including TB, may be implanted directly in the body. But tomorrow may be far off. In the meantime, TB patients can help treat active disease and even prevent an outbreak of the disease by taking pills. To find out more about TB and how to treat it today, check with your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. They have the facts.

BUSINESS

STOCK MARKET

WHICH WAY FOR TEXTBOOK PUBLISHERS?

A few short years ago when the textbook industry was represented on just about everyone's "growth" list, stocks of textbook producers sported some fancy price-earnings ratios. It was, in fact, not uncommon for a leading publishing issue to show a multiple of forty or fifty times earnings. Last year, however, some of the leaders in the educational publishing field were selling under fifteen times earnings. Quite a comedown for a so-called "growth" group!

What happened was that, in addition to the unfavorable impact of the severe 1969-1970 general market shake-out, the textbook industry suffered from a drastic re-evaluation of its "growth" label. In fact, in retrospect we can see that 1966 marked the end of an era.

HIGH WATER LEVEL

At that time a number of beneficial factors came together to produce peak earnings for textbook firms. Government aid to education provided a sizable boost to sales, school enrollments were expanding vigorously, and the national economy was booming. But 1966 was followed by less favorable years when a reshuffling of national priorities resulted in greatly increased spending for the Vietnam war and less for education. School enrollment growth began to slow down, and inflation bit more deeply into school budgets everywhere.

ELEMENTS OF GROWTH

Despite the problems which afflict the producers, textbook stocks have rebounded sharply from their lows. Reasons for optimism are based on factors vital to the industry's growth:

(1) Although enrollments in elementary schools are projected to decline moderately through the mid-1970s, high school enrollments are projected to rise from an estimated 14.6 million in 1969 to 16.3 million in 1975. College enrollments are slated to increase from 7.4 million to 9.5 million for the same period.

(2) Especially important to textbook publishers' revenues is the long-term rising trend in textbook expenditures per student. Despite some leveling off in 1969, average dollar sales of textbooks per student historically have shown a strong upward tendency. Federal funding programs contributed to large increases in 1966, and it is believed that federal aid to education will be sharply expanded when the Vietnam war is finally concluded.

(3) The national economy, recovering from the recession of 1970, is gradually expanding. This factor along with the reduction in interest rates should aid schools in financing their capital budgets.

(4) Also expected to contribute to future sales of the educational publishers is the increasing use of textbooks and educational materials at every level of business and government. As technologies change and society becomes more complex, demand for educational materials grows. Furthermore, publishers are carving out markets for themselves in promising non-book educational areas such as closed-circuit television, audio-visual systems, and computer-assisted techniques.

INVESTMENT ADVICE

Among the important publishers of textbooks whose stocks are continuously supervised by the Research Department of Babson's Reports are Crowell Collier & MacMillan (also producing encyclopedias, miscellaneous educational materials, and musical instruments), McGraw-Hill, Addison-Wesley, and Western Publishing Company. We maintain a "hold" position on the first three of these concerns. The speculative-grade common stock of Western Publishing Company may be purchased (up to a buying limit of 20) by aggressive investors who are seeking capital appreciation. The company is a significant factor in the rapidly expanding pre-school market; publishes and distributes children's books, games, and activity materials; turns out textbooks for secondary schools and colleges; and handles commercial and educational printing. Future gains in sales should be substantial.

ing drivers and pit crews, and are expanding their market by adding firemen's gear, military, space, and industrial uniforms. Further growth into other apparel uses is expected.

OTHER AREAS

In coming years, greatly increased utilization of fire-retardant materials is anticipated in construction (currently the largest user) and in the electrical industry (the second largest user). In the construction field it is expected that there will be constantly wider usage in building panels, wall coverings, duct work, etc. In the electrical industry there is a market of tremendous potential in electronic data-processing equipment and other business machines, wire and cable, TV sets, and many other appliances.

MANY MAKERS

At present there are at least forty major suppliers of flame-retardant chemicals, including such sizable firms as duPont, Dow Chemical, Alcoa, American Cyanamid, Stauffer Chemical (which holds a particularly strong position), Diamond Shamrock, NI Industries, and a host of smaller chemical concerns. There are also many others that have an interest in the field, including Carborundum, Union Carbide, National Gypsum, Thiokol, Celanese, and F. M. C.

Although flame retardants occupy a growing area, they are still only a small factor for most chemical firms. Hence we would not recommend the purchase of a company solely because of its participation in this field. But for those with an interest in such stocks, the Research Department of Babson's Reports currently looks with favor on Union Carbide, Dow, and Thiokol.

LOOK OUT FOR LICORICE ADDICTS

Ex-smokers switch to all kinds of substitutes. Like licorice drops. It sounds harmless enough. But sometimes it isn't.

According to a recent United Press International report, one man was rushed to the Byrn Mawr Hospital in Pennsylvania as an emergency patient. He has most of the signs of a heart attack, but diagnostic tests showed no attack had in fact occurred. However, the heart muscle was behaving badly.

The man's body chemistry was too alkaline, and the potassium in his blood was at a critically low level. There were also symptoms of kidney failure.

After 24 hours of tests, the patient happened to mention that he had quit cigarettes three months earlier and now ate licorice drops instead. Surprised by the serious interest of the examining physicians, he said he had been eating about a quarter of a pound every day for months.

As a result of this case, the word is being spread through the medical world to watch out for licorice addiction among ex-smokers. Licorice depletes the amount of potassium in the blood that is necessary to keep the heart pumping.

Once the diagnosis of "licorice intoxication" was confirmed, it took 33 days in the hospital to restore the normal level of potassium in the man's blood. But at the end of that time, all his symptoms were gone.

Too much of any one substitute for cigarette smoking can have ominous repercussions. But quitting smoking, accompanied by sensible substitutes, is an essential step toward health.

Weather, Weevils Cut Cotton Crop

An extra-heavy infestation of boll weevils, combined with wet weather at the wrong times, stands to cut the 1971 cotton crop to about one-third of normal production, according to C. T. Parker, Runnels County Agricultural Agent, and cotton farmers of the area.

Wet and abnormally cool weather at the wrong times has helped to increase the boll weevil population, causing a much greater loss in the cotton crop. The problem has been widespread throughout the county, Parker said.

Children of the couple serving as hosts were Mr. and Mrs. James Duke of Corpus Christi; Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer R. Balkum of Winters; and Mrs. Alene Duke of McCamey.

While many farmers have been waiting for dry weather to defoliate, many others have abandoned plans for defoliating and will wait until frost to kill the cotton. Also, many have already shredded cotton, it was said.

Ras Gideon, manager of the Winters Warehouse, said Tuesday only 66 bales from the 1971 cotton crop have been brought in from the North Runnels gins, a much lower number than is usual for this time of year.

Parker also said the milo crop has been reduced by as much as 50 percent in this year, mostly because of the wet weather. He said much of the grain is sprouting in the head, and is falling down.

Permanent Voter Registration Open

First so-called permanent voter registration period opened throughout Texas with the beginning of October. This will also be the first regular registration period open to pre-21 voters, with the 18-, 19- and 20-year-old voters to be registered without any voting restrictions for the first time.

Prior to passage of a United States constitutional amendment, Texas' pre-21's had been registered for voting in federal elections only.

There will be no termination point to voter registration this year, with potential voters to be registered on any business day throughout the year at the county tax office, or the sub-office in Winters. Registration forms will be enclosed in envelopes containing Runnels County tax statements, it was stated by county tax officials. Those not receiving tax statements may register at the tax offices.

However, there is a time limit as far as voting is concerned, with the voting registration certificate valid for voting after the expiration of 30 days following sign-up. Thus, a person who wanted to vote in an election would need to register at least 31 days prior to the election.

With the registration, the voter is now legally entitled to vote in any election for the following three-year period, unless the registration is invalidated for one of the reasons stated under the law.

For local elections, voters must have resided in the state a year and in a county for six months to qualify. Those who have lived in Texas more than 30 days but less than a year before the November 1972 general election can vote for presidential and vice presidential candidates under special residency registration with county clerks.

Automatic renewal for a three-year period is made by voting in any primary or general election. Renewal is not made through voting in school, city, bond or similar elections. It was pointed out.

"Bunny O'Hare" Coming to State Theatre Sat.-Sun.

Veteran dramatic stars, Bette Davis and Ernest Borgnine headline the cast of "Bunny O'Hare" American International's new comedy release showing Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre.

A mod adventure which features the venerable pair as a couple of hippie-costumed bank robbers who baffle the police of a southwestern border community, the film is marked by exciting motorcycle and helicopter chases, ingenious hold-up schemes, picketing hippies, and the hilarious frustrations of a bedeviled police lieutenant played by Jack Cassidy. The springboard for the story stems from the determination of an aging but still agile little lady to recoup the money she had contributed to local banks by hold-ups after they foreclose on her mortgage. With the help of her buddy, an ex-con played by Ernest Borgnine, their raids soon have the entire state constabulary on a hunt for the pair.

Ut. William Lantow Completes Training At Naval Air Station

Marine Second Lieutenant William L. Lantow, husband of the former Miss Kay Lynn Rives of Winters, has completed Environmental Induction School at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

During this first phase of flight training he received instruction in aerodynamics, aviation physiology, and land and sea survival techniques.

Lantow will now proceed to the next stage of flight training and after a total of 18 months of ground and in-flight instruction he will be awarded the "Wings of Gold" of a Naval aviator.

He is a 1971 graduate of Western Texas State University, Canyon.
