Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

A feast was scheduled in a village. To insure adequate liquid refreshments, each villager was asked to pour one bottle of his best wine into a great cask. "If I fill my bottle with water," reasoned one, "the dilution will be so slight, no one will notice." When the feast commenced and the cask was tapped, nothing but water poured out. Everybody in the village had figured alike—MY LITTLE BIT WILL NOT BE MISSED!

The same thing can happen in an election—any election. Some of those who are already registered to vote, and are eligible for the school, city and hospital district elections may figure, "My one little vote will not count for much, and will not be missed," and fail to go to the polls. Multiply this reasoning, and the results can be negatively dramatic—there could be nothing but water in the cask.

For those who are registered, it is very important they turn out for the April 1 school elections. There is little action in the school board elections, for either the Winters or Wingate school districts; but the people of North Runnels have a big stake in the outcome of the voting for a member on the County School Board, to be elected from Commissioner's Precinct No. 3. A light turnout of Wingate voters and Winters voters who reside in Precinct 3, possibly—probably—would mean a complete loss of representation on the County Board for the people in North Runnels County.

For those who have not registered, it is too late for the school, city and hospital district elections; but it is not yet too late to register in time for the May 6 primaries. The deadline is April 6. Again, the people of North Runnels County will have a high stake in the outcome of the primary. Light turnout again—possibly—probably—would mean a loss of County Commissioner representation for the people of North Runnels.

So, if you have already registered, use the right to choose your representative on the County School Board, if you have not registered, make sure you are registered before the deadline for the primaries, and work for continued Commissioner representation.

The "interrobang," a new punctuation mark has been added to the printed language—officially, that is. It's said to be the first new mark added since the quotation mark was introduced in the latter part of the 17th century. It hasn't gained complete acceptance by grammarians and lexicographers, but it has received favorable comments from typographers who recommend it for its ability of expression. The new symbol is a combination of the exclamation point and the question mark—to be used with such phrases as "Do you mean it?(!)" and "How about that?(!)". Printed, the interrobang looks like a question mark superimposed on an exclamation point, or maybe it's the other way around.

Don't believe it'll catch on as a regular punctuation mark for a while, though. Looks too much like the characters and marks the writers and comic cartoonists of a few years back used in place of cuss words.

Folks out in the Sunlawn Addition, and others who live in the "high water" area of Sunlawn Creek, are mighty proud of the way City and County Precinct workers cleared out the creek, and dug and re-routed the main channel. This will prevent waters from backing (Continued on page 8)

RETIREMENT GIFT—Lynn H. Spears, left, of San Antonio, president of Winn's Stores, presents M. G. Middlebrook a gold watch "in appreciation of 43 years of service" with Winn's. Middlebrook retired recently as manager of the Winters Winn's Store. Also present at the presentation were R. V. Spears, a vice president of Winn's, and Frank Shipley, a vice president.

The presentation of the retirement gift was made at the Winters Airport Tuesday morning of last week. The Winn's officers made a landing at the airport during a flight to Colorado. Meeting the company plane and also attending the presentation ceremony were Mrs. Middlebrook, their daughter, Mrs. Tommy Russell and Dr. Russell; Rick Davis, who succeeded Middlebrook as manager of the local Winn's Store; Mayor Wade White, Rankin Pace, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Huffman; City Secretary Buford Baldwin, and others.

Engraved on the back of the watch case, "Presented to M. G. Middlebrook by Winn's Stores, Inc., in appreciation of 43 years of service, 1929-1972."

Cancer Crusade Begins April 1st

The North Runnels Unit of the American Cancer Society will open the 1972 Cancer Crusade April 1, Mrs. Bill Bell, Unit Crusade chairman, has announced.

"The North Runnels Unit has a question for every woman in the community this April, Mrs. Bell says: 'Have you had a Pap test?'"

"We're asking that question here and in communities across the nation as our annual fund-raising and educational Crusade gets underway," Mrs. Bell said. "It's part of a determined effort to motivate every woman in the country to have this important test by 1976," Mrs. Bell said. This goal is also that of the 1972 National Crusade Chairman, Joan Crawford, she said.

Why is the Pap test so important? "It can save lives," Mrs. Bell said, "by detecting uterine cancer before its symptoms appear when it is most curable. Last year about 13,000 American women died of uterine cancer, many of them needlessly. Unless something is done more will die needlessly."

Each year the Crusade features a pamphlet designed to help save lives from cancer. Entitled "Take Time Out for Life," 45 million of these pamphlets will be distributed in April. It emphasizes the fact that the Pap test is quick, simple and painless. A postscript reminds the man of the family to "nag" his wife until she has a Pap test.

The U. S. death rate for uterine cancer shows a steady decline. Whereas once it was the chief cancer killer of American women, the rate is less than half of that 30 years ago.

"Obviously many women know the value of the Pap test," Mrs. Bell said. "We must get our message across to the others and we must remind every woman to have a Pap test on a regular basis. Once is not enough."

She added that the great drive against uterine cancer is consistent with the 1972 Crusade theme, "We Want to Wipe Out Cancer in Your Lifetime."

Mike Smith Gets Scholarship At A&M University

Michael Wayne Smith, the president of the Winters High School Student Council and one of the top ranking students in his senior class, has been awarded a $500 College of Agriculture Scholarship to Texas A&M University.

Michael, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Truett Smith of Rt. 1, Winters, will enter Texas A&M this fall as an agricultural economics major.

College of Agriculture Scholarships are awarded to young men and women on the basis of excellence in high school scholarship, leadership and character. The scholarships are made possible by contributions from the staff, former students, and friends of the college. Recipient selection is made by the College of Agriculture Scholarship Committee.

Michael has been active in student government since his freshman year when he was elected class president. He again served as class president as a sophomore. He had been a member of the student council all four years in high school, serving once as president and once as vice-president.

The scholarship winner is also a member of the National Honor Society and the high school FFA chapter. Michael held the offices of Greenhead officer and reporter in FFA activities.

We Favor the City Sales Tax

Rising costs of materials and labor required by the City of Winters in providing services and facilities have outdistanced income. If these services and maintenance of facilities are to be increased—or even held at the present level—additional income is necessary.

The City Council is taking this problem to the people of Winters: Voters on April 1 will be asked to decide the question of a City Sales Tax of 1 percent, as a source of much-needed additional income. The Council has estimated that a 1 percent Sales Tax would mean an additional $30,000 to $35,000 annually, which is about the minimum amount necessary for what needs to be done.

After a great deal of study on the problem, the Council decided that the 1 percent Sales Tax route to a source for additional revenue would be much more fair and acceptable than an increase in the property tax rates. Most other cities in the State have gone to the Sales Tax as a source for needed revenue; all other sources seem to have been exhausted.

It does not take an expert to see that there is much to be done in Winters, not only in improving services and facilities but to maintain the present position. All streets need to be repaired or rebuilt, and other facilities must be improved and maintained.

There is no such thing as standing still—we either go forward or we go backward; we progress or we regress. Winters is on the threshold of progress and expansion, if we but take advantage of the opportunities already within our grasp. We can do this by providing services and facilities presently needed and sure to increase. If we attempt to stand still, we will in fact slip backward—and recovery would be most difficult if not impossible.

We believe the 1 percent Sales Tax necessary and the only equitable route to follow in raising the funds needed to maintain our present status; we also believe the people of Winters realize this truth, and will vote for the proposal April 1.

Blizzard Band To UIL Contests In Ballinger, Seeking Sweepstakes

The Winters High School Blizzard Band, with a first division rating in marching won last fall, will be seeking additional wins to qualify for the Sweepstakes Award, during the University Interscholastic League contests in Ballinger Saturday.

Thirty-four bands, with about 2300 students, are registered for the contests, which will be held in the Ballinger High School auditorium.

The Winters band will play about 4 p. m. Saturday. The Blizzard Band and the Brady Bulldog Band are the only two Class AA bands entered in the contests to have won marching awards, qualifying for the Sweepstakes Award if they win first divisions Saturday.

Bands in the contests do not compete against one another, Kirke McKenzie, WHS band director, said, but against musical standards set by UIL. They will be judged for group playing and sight reading ability.

Each band will play three concert selections and one for sightreading. The Blizzard band has chosen Drums of America, Slavonic Folk Suite and Introduction to Fantasia, for their concert numbers.

Both the Winters and Brady bands were sweepstakes winners last year.

Judges for Saturday's UIL concert contest are Bill Spencer of Abilene High School; Pete Martinez of Lee High School in Tyler; and Don Craig of Dumas High School.

Sightreading judges will be Richard Crane of Belton High School, Joe Rodgers of New Braunfels, and Jack King of Dalhart High School.

Classes in Winters Public Schools will be released at 3 p. m. Wednesday, March 29, for the Easter holidays.

Regular class schedule will be resumed Tuesday, April 4.

At Farmers Union Convention

Ralph Yarborough Will Speak Here Friday Nite

Former Senator Ralph Yarborough, candidate for the U. S. Senate, will speak at the annual convention of District VIII, Farmers Union, Friday, March 24, in the Winters Community Center.

State Representative Tom Moore of Waco, a candidate for State Senator, also will be on the program.

The convention of the Farmers union will be open to the public, and will begin with a barbecue supper, according to L. B. Watkins of Winters, president of the Runnels County Farmers Union.

Jay Naman of Waco, president of the Texas Farmers Union, will also speak.

Young people from the district, which is made up of eight counties, will provide entertainment during the evening.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m. Tickets for the barbecue supper may be obtained from any director of the Runnels County Farmers Union or at the Winters Tire and Supply.

Counties in District VIII include Dawson, Glasscock, Martin, Midland, Mitchell, Runnels, Tom Green and Concho.

Mrs. Bobby Rogers of Winters is district secretary. Vernon Chandler of Midland is district director.

Yarborough, seeking nomination in the May Democratic primary to oppose Republican Sen. John Tower, during his tenure in the United States Senate, co-authored or sponsored every major educational assistance bill that was introduced or passed by Congress, Watkins declared. "He has been the champion of the needs of the working men and women and of the poor of this nation for many years," he emphasized.

VICE PRESIDENTS—Estella Bredemeyer was named vice president-cashier, and Lee Harrison was named vice president,

April 6 Deadline For Registration For May Primary

April 6 is the last day otherwise qualified voters may register to vote in order to participate in the May 6 Primary elections.

Mrs. Ted Meyer, deputy in the Winters sub-office of the Runnels County Tax Assessor-Collector's office, said there are many people in this part of the county who have not registered, and who must do so by the deadline date if they wish to vote in the primaries. Registration in time for the primaries also will qualify voters to vote in the general election in November, and in any other election.

Deadline for registration before the school elections has already passed, it was pointed out.

Mrs. Joel Butts will be organist, and Mrs. Dennis Rogers, pianist.

There are 25 voices in the First Baptist Choir.

The public is invited to attend this Easter Cantata.

Two Vice Presidents Named By Board of The Winters State Bank

Two new vice presidents were named by the board of directors of The Winters State Bank at a meeting Thursday of last week, according to an announcement by Woodrow Watts, president of the bank.

Lee Harrison, who has been an assistant vice president, was named vice president, and Estella Bredemeyer, cashier, was named vice president-cashier.

Harrison has been associated with the bank since April, 1970. Miss Bredemeyer has been employed at the bank since August, 1944.

Harrison is a native of Breckenridge. He was local manager for Dunigan Tool & Supply for 19 years before joining the Winters State Bank in 1970. He is a past president of the Winters Lions Club, and is current president of the Winters Chamber of Commerce. Active in church affairs, Harrison is Sunday School Superintendent at the First Baptist Church. His wife is a Counselor in Winters High School. They have a son, Mark, and a daughter, Keva.

Miss Bredemeyer is a native of Winters. She was named cashier of the bank several years ago, and has received the Basic and Standard Certificate from the American Institute of Banking School, Abilene Chapter, where she was named Bank Woman of the Year in 1966. She is vice president of the Abilene chapter of the Bank Administrators Institute, and as such, is president-elect. A member of St. John's Lutheran Church, she is active in all phases of church work.

Tennis Courts and Park Playground Will Be Lighted

Lighting will be installed at the municipal tennis courts, near the swimming pool in the City Park, and the park playground.

The City Council Monday night approved recommendations that the lights be installed because of the increasing activity on the tennis courts. Also, activity has increased in the children's playground section of the City Park, since installation of the additional playground equipment provided by the Winters Lions Club recently.

City officials said more and more children are beginning to take advantage of the playground equipment, and it has been noticed they play until and after dark. Lights are needed so more use can be made of the park, it was said.

City Postpones Contract Letting On Generator

The Winters City Council has postponed until March 29 letting of the contract for purchase of a new generator for the City Light Plant. An earlier letting had been planned, but because of some technicalities in price and specifications of a new generator, the council voted to postpone.

Plans are to purchase a dual fuel, 2 or 4 cycle generator of standard design to replace an old generator in the city-owned plant.

The City proposes to issue certificates of obligation in payment for the generator.

Rep. Lynn Nabers Urges Governor To Call Special Session Soon

Representative Lynn Nabers of Brownwood today again urged Governor Preston Smith to call a Special Session of the Legislature immediately to deal with pressing state problems.

Nabers went further to say that the election of a new Speaker of the House must be the first order of business.

"There is," he said, "urgently needed legislation concerning primary election financing, ethics codes, and establishment of a highway beautification act." Nabers pointed out that the state stands to lose $24,000,000 of federal funds this year if something is not done immediately concerning the highway beautification act.

Representative Nabers stated that an Ethics Code is a must for all political candidates running for office and currently holding office. Nabers was the co-sponsor of the ethics legislation this past session of the legislature.

He called again for legislative reform stating that the power of the Speaker of the House must be reduced. Nabers stressed that he will also continue to work toward reducing the power of the House and Senate Conference Committees so that the governmental processes can be returned to a grassroots level.

Unless the Governor calls a session immediately, Nabers said, the confidence of the people of this state in their elected officials will continue to decline. Nabers concluded by saying "Texas is a great state—but cannot continue to be healthy and prosperous unless we take care of many, many problems that are currently eating away at the very roots of our legislative process."

Who Benefits From Devaluation

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., March 23, 1972. The Nixon Administration's bill to devalue the dollar by raising the official price of gold from $35 to $38 an ounce was recently approved without change by the House Banking Committee. The approval at a time when the dollar was again under pressure from foreign currency speculators, focuses attention on the probable effect of devaluation on U. S. companies.

of the dollar in relation to the price of gold is relatively minor and the stock market had been "psychologically prepared" for it for some time. Hence, investor reaction to the move has been generally favorable. After an initial period of indecision, the Dow Jones Averages moved strongly upward and (as of this writing) prices have held their gains quite well.

Longer-Range Implications
Looked at from an investor's point of view, the decision to devalue the dollar and realign other key currencies has bullish long-term connotations. It has been thought that one reason for the slow recovery of the national economy from the 1969-1970 recession was that the flood of foreign merchandise into this country over recent years depressed demand for U. S. merchandise. So, making foreign goods more expensive should increase demand for U. S. goods, thereby boosting domestic employment. And exports of our merchandise should expand because prices to foreigners will be lower in terms of their money.

On the face of it, then, both U. S. firms that derive a sizable portion of revenues from exports and those that have been hard pressed by foreign competition here at home should benefit from a devalued dollar. However, things are not quite that simple. Caterpillar Tractor, for example, could be expected to show significant gains as a result of dollar devaluation since 53 per cent of its volume comes from foreign sales. Yet competitive benefits from lower prices of its equipment in terms of foreign currencies will be restricted by (1) slowdowns in economic activity in many of Caterpillar's customer countries, (2) inelasticity of demand for earth-moving equipment, and (3) the fact that Caterpillar already holds a dominant position in its own particular industry.

Impact On U. S. Companies
In spite of the somewhat muted benefits to Caterpillar from devaluation of the U. S. dollar, the Research Department of Babson's Reports is of the opinion that higher profits are in prospect for this company for 1972 as a whole, and retention of the issue is recommended. There are, of course, a number of corporations with heavy foreign business that could be expected to derive some benefit from dollar devaluation. Those mentioned here all carry "hold" advice.

Particular attention is directed toward those concerns with 50 per cent or more of total sales in foreign markets: Santa Fe International (70 per cent); American Smelting & Refining (65 per cent); Otis Elevator (61 per cent); Colgate-Palmolive (55 per cent); and Columbia Pictures, CPC International, and Reading & Bates (each 50 per cent). Close on the heels of these leaders are some important companies with 40 per cent-50 per cent of their sales made abroad: Pfizer (47 per cent); Ferro (46 per cent); National Cash Register and Standard Oil of California (each 45 per cent); Black & Decker, Chesebrough-Pond's, and Gillette Company (each 43 per cent); Dow Chemical and Texaco (each 40 per cent).

Even those firms with foreign sales in the 30 per cent-40 per cent range are worth considering by investors eager to take

WASHINGTON
"As it looks from here"
OMAR BURLISON
Congressman
17th District

Washington, D. C. —Last year our Government published a map showing the countries of the world most heavily engaged in narcotic traffic.

The map indicated that various states in the Middle East and the Orient were the principal sources of illegal drugs but strangely enough Communist China was not mentioned. Over many years it has been no secret that mainland China was one of the greatest drug producers in the world. When officials of this Administration were questioned on the subject, they replied that Red China decided to stop pushing heroin back ten or twelve years ago. Supposedly it is not exporting any at this time.

This does not match up with extensive investigation by recognized experts who have carefully looked into the matter.

For the past year and a half or so, our Government has been making a big to-do about cracking down on drug traffic and has focused attention on those nations which have been reported to be the big suppliers. We have even subsidized Turkish farmers to take out of cultivation the poppy plant from which the raw drug is made. We supposedly have an elaborate setup with the French Government to clamp down on illicit narcotic plants in France which are a source of the finished drug for shipment to the United States.

There is little doubt that Turkey and Iran, with the co-operation of the drug refineries in France, have been a problem for us in trying to control drug traffic into this Country but, the fact remains that according to what appear to be reliable accounts, Communist China is the largest supplier of hard addictive drugs in the world today.

In years past, the subject has been brought to the official notice of the United Nations by the American Government. Former U. S. Narcotic Commissioner, Harry Anslinger, has written extensively on Red China's "cultivation, manufacture, export, distribution and sale of opium, morphine and heroin" as a means of raising money and snaring recruits for revolutionary purposes. The writer, Stanton Evans, recently called attention to Mr. Anslinger's book entitled "The Murderers," published in 1961. In the book the author cites chapter and verse on narcotics smuggled into the U. S. in all sorts of ways from the China mainland.

The communists use crews of merchant ships, passengers and crews of aircraft, as well as their own couriers and agents for smuggling narcotics into this Country. Mr. Anslinger, recognized authority on this subject, says that over the years the Los Angeles area alone probably received more than 40 percent of the smuggled contraband from China's heroin and morphine plants.

Another authority, professor Possony of the Hoover Institution, notes a disclosure of a high official in the Egyptian Government that Chou En-Lai related to the then Egyptian President Nasser that the "Communists planted the best kind of opium for the American soldiers in Vietnam."

This opinion and calculation is supported by District Attorney John Steinberg of Philadelphia, who conducted a thorough study of drug problems in Vietnam. Attorney Steinberg noted that heroin was sold in Vietnam at prices far lower than the market rate, indicating a more sinister purpose than just the profit motive. It was, of course, for the demoralization of our troops and in some places in South Vietnam and Cambodia it has had that effect. These findings indicate the scheme reportedly revealed by Chou En-Lai.

Another authoritative source, Dr. Robert Baird, asserts that Peking is planning a major narcotic offensive against America proper. Dr. Baird alleges that our Nation is being misled that Turkey, Iran and other sources produce approximately 55 to 60 percent of the world's hard drugs. He says this is simply not the case insofar as the supply reaching the United States is concerned, and, contrarily, the source is Communist China.

Other researchers on the question have revealed in some detail their investigations into the narcotic traffic from Red China into Hong Kong and thence into the U. S. The experts are able to analyze the method of refining drugs and identify their source. They are positive in their conclusion that by far the greatest amount of hard drugs seized coming through Hong Kong and analyzed are obviously from Red China. They can even identify the particular area, down to the state-run farms in China in their identification.

Regardless of improved relations with Red China, if these are real facts, and they appear to be, we are face to face with a situation with Red China that simply staggers the imagination.

Since we are now on speaking terms with Peking, it would seem far better to demand a stop to the filthy drug traffic than to talk about cultural exchanges.

Austin—Texas voters will get a chance to express themselves at the May 6 polls on the explosive issue of forced busing to achieve racial balance in public schools.

Both Democratic and Republican executive committees decided to put a busing referendum on the ballot to encourage voter turnout and demonstrate Texas sentiments to federal authorities. Both ballot items ask Texans to state whether they want a federal constitutional amendment to outlaw forced busing.

Neither party went along with Gov. Preston Smith's suggestion to submit to voters a presidential preference referendum. There isn't much choice for the Republicans, and Democrats dropped the presidential choice poll (which would have had no binding effect anyway) in a scrap over party rules.

Republicans adopted their required new rules routinely, but reform regulations went down hard for the Democrats. SDEC finally adopted rules largely identical with the moderate reform proposals of William R. Anderson, Jr., of Corpus Christi. They are designed to assure a form of proportional representation of minorities, youth and women on convention delegations and to reflect delegates' choices of presidential candidates. Internal operating procedures for parties are also set out.

Loudest opposition to the compromise Democratic rules draft came from Young Democrats who wanted three seats on the senior party's executive committee. Instead, two seats went to SDEC's youth advisory council officers. Young Democrats vowed to keep trying for reconsideration on the point.

The busing referendum may have played a part in Alabama Gov. George Wallace's decision to live up to the conventions by openly seeking Democratic presidential delegate votes in Texas. The issue helped Wallace win in Florida.

VERDICT SHAKES POLITICS Conviction of House Speaker Gus Mutscher and two aides on bribery conspiracy charges left many political figures wondering about effect of fallout on their own futures.

Sharkstown Bank stock-loan scandals already were a major issue in some campaigns. Conviction of Mutscher is expected to increase the chorus of I-told-you-so's, and some incumbent officials fear outcomes may increase removal of everybody who had anything to do with the Sharkstown Bank bills of 1969.

First direct political effect of the trial likely will be felt in the House of Representatives soon. Heading the order of business there—if Mutscher declines to yield his office voluntarily—will be choice of a replacement for the speaker.

Other speakership candidates except Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine appear ready to join in a move for election of an interim speaker (possibly veteran Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi) who will agree not to seek the job next year. Price, who claims a majority of House votes, wants the speakership himself at the first opportunity.

He doesn't care to turn it over to somebody else for safekeeping. Meanwhile, the Sharkstown issue continues to figure prominently in at least four statewide races as well as legislative contests—governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general and treasurer.

Boat Registration Deadline Nearing

Austin — Some Texans have more to think about this month than auto licenses, inspections and income tax.

It's boat registration time. And this year more Texans than ever before are affected by registration laws, since all motor-powered boats to be operated on public waters must be registered.

Formerly, certain types of small craft were exempt from registration even though equipped with motors.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials urge boat owners to get their boats registered as soon as possible if they haven't already done so. The deadline is March 31.

Boat owners who are renewing their registrations are being issued permits of varying duration in order to create a "staggered" system and will receive registration papers for a two-year period.

Applicants can expect to receive their registration papers and decals in two to two and a half weeks from the time of mailing, according to Clayton T. Garrison, department director of finance and data processing.

Department officials offer the following tips for getting boats registered with a minimum of effort:

—If you never registered the craft before, obtain application papers at a department district office or write to Austin headquarters. The district office can issue a temporary receipt when you pay the registration fee. Decals for your two-year permit will be sent to you by mail.

—If you want to renew a registration, you may have received a notice in the mail. If you did not, obtain one from district office or from Austin headquarters. Study the back of the form to determine the correct registration fee for your boat. Send the fee and application to Austin.

—Be sure your renewal form is a 1972 form.

BLIZZARD BAND NOTES

By JAY HENDERSON
Saturday the Blizzard Band travels to Ballinger to concert and sightreading contests. They will be trying for a Sweepstakes award.

Two extra practices were held will be trying for a Sweepstakes and one for concert.

The Blizzard Band would appreciate your attendance Saturday at the Ballinger High School Auditorium.

Several spirit activities were held during the week. Police Chief Joe Stevens came to the band hall and delivered a "Weather Bulletin: "Special weather reports indicate that there are masses of high pressure forming over this area. This pressure is expected to intensify and according to the three-day forecast, a mighty Blizzard will develop. This Blizzard is expected to move in a southerly direction with great force and determination. The frontal winds should arrive in the area of Ballinger High School by early afternoon. The full strength and fury of this storm will be felt by all. This is a well organized Blizzard and records will be set by its piercing winds. Winters residents are warned to be on the alert for the return of the Blizzards with their Sweepstakes win."

FROM SOUTH CAROLINA
Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ligameri and son Mark, of Ft. Mill, South Carolina, have been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Knight.

IN CLARK HOME
Mrs. Gene Dillard and son David of Eden spent Tuesday afternoon in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Clark.

—Try to get the application in soon, as March 31 is the expiration date on registrations of all boats which were currently registered as of December 31, 1971.

Officials remind boat owners that the staggered renewal system creates a varied fee schedule, and most fees have increased as well. So be sure of the correct amount before sending in your payment with the application form.

Another reminder is to those whose boats did not have to be registered under the old system but now have to be registered: You should submit your application as soon as possible, since your craft was technically in violation of the law if it was not registered by Jan. 1.

—Be sure your renewal form is a 1972 form.

Inventory Of Birds Begun by Biologist

Austin — Inventories usually involve commodities such as socks and cans of tomatoes, but the inventory John Smith plans will be a great deal more difficult than counting goods on a shelf.

Smith is the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's non-game biologist, and he plans to count the bald eagles and ospreys left in Texas.

He will have some help. He has mailed 900 letters and questionnaires to department field personnel and 6,000 to conservation organizations such as the National Audubon Society asking for assistance.

Smith wants to determine the status of these endangered birds, and he is asking for reports of both bird sightings and sightings of nests.

Data needed consists of (1) exact location of observed birds, (2) exact location of active or inactive nests and (3) a brief description of the nesting site

"Doctor Zhivago"

Boris Pasternak's novel, "Doctor Zhivago," although suppressed in the author's native Russia, has been hailed by critics throughout the rest of the world as the literary achievement of this century. Its publication, after the manuscript was sent out of Russia to Italy, was followed by the award of the 1958 Nobel Prize for Literature to Pasternak. His "voluntary" renunciation of the prize as an alternative to expulsion from the Soviet Union attracted world-wide attention.

The dramatic story of "Doctor Zhivago" evokes the whole experience of Russia in the past fifty years and is presented through many characters whose destinies are interwoven. Now David Lean's film of "Doctor Zhivago" is brought to the screen as a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer presentation in Panavision and Metrocolor.

The triumphant film, the winner of six Academy Awards, shows Friday, Saturday, and Sunday at the State Theatre.

New Dried Milk Developed By Agriculture Dep't.

College Station — Chemists with the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) have developed a new powdered milk product that tastes good and keeps its flavor.

"When first reconstituted, the powdered milk tastes like fresh milk," said Karen Kreipke, Extension foods and nutrition specialist for Texas A&M University. "The new milk product retains an acceptable flavor for months—even without refrigeration."

Most powdered milk now available tastes different from fresh milk, because dried milk sometimes develops off-flavors. Some of these are an "oxidized" flavor resulting from exposure of the fat to air, a "cooked" flavor from high pasteurization temperatures before drying and a coconut or stale flavor from extended storage.

The new method of milk processing involves deodorizing the milk fat and then combining it with pasteurized skim milk, all the time protecting the fat from exposure to air. Then the milk fluid is concentrated and dried by a foam spray process.

"After refrigeration for six months, only a few experts can distinguish the dried product from fresh milk," Miss Kreipke noted. "Even without refrigeration, the flavor remains good—better than that of regular powdered milk stored under refrigeration."

Miss Kreipke pointed out, however, that milk in any form makes a significant contribution to the diet. "Whether canned, fresh or dried, milk is important for adults, teens and children. The body needs calcium continually to keep bones and teeth healthy. Milk also contains protein which helps build and repair body tissues.

"Regardless of how the milk is processed, it contains calcium and protein essential for health."

County Agent's Column

Bermuda Pastures Need Management

Mismanagement of bermuda-grass pastures may be responsible for certain cattle disorders says County Agricultural Agent Parker.

Improper grazing techniques may result in too much forage remaining in the pasture. Leaves slough off and accumulate on the ground. With moisture, moldy conditions can occur that can cause cattle disorders, he said.

Bermudagrass, especially the common bermudagrass, in much of Texas can produce enough forage for three to four head of beef cows per acre during lush seasons of growth, points out the agent.

Crossfences in bermudagrass pastures enhance grazing management. Thus cattle can be permitted to graze an area when forage is leafy and nutritious, and leaf deterioration and moldy accumulations are reduced. Other areas can be harvested for hay to conserve forage quality and maintain young, tender regrowth.

If crossfencing is not used, Parker recommends that pastures be moved or shredded after grazing to discourage dead-plant material from accumulating in grazed areas.

Judicious use of fertilizer is also helpful. Parker suggests applying a higher rate of plant nutrients on a small area rather than applying a small amount on a large area. When high fertilizer rates are used, forage quality is improved and cattle graze the area closer. The forage also remains leafy and tends to produce less thatch and dead-matter accumulation.

Cut Cotton Diseases—

Plant Good Seed Early

Two key management practices can reduce disease losses and increase profits to cotton farmers, points out the county Agricultural Agent. These are early planting and the use of top quality, acid-deltinted seed.

Five of the nine major cotton diseases occurring in Texas can be controlled or reduced by purchasing high quality, acid-deltinted cotton seed that has been treated with a fungicide. The diseases include anthracnose, ascochyta (wet weather blight), bacterial blight, boll rot and seedling disease. All of these are caused by either fungi or bacteria and are seed borne, explains Parker.

The acid delinting process will eliminate or reduce disease-causing organisms present on the seed surface. Seed treatment will protect the seed and seedling in the soil.

According to Parker, early planting is a step toward maximum production where cotton root rot is a problem. The root rot pathogen requires soil temperature above 80 degrees F. for growth. This means that a crop planted and matured early will have little loss due to root rot, notes the agent. To accomplish this, plantings in South Texas should be made around the first of March and about March 20 in the Blacklands.

Planting early and maturing cotton in 120 days is referred to as the earliness complex, he adds. This can be accomplished by using quality conditioned, fungicide-treated cotton seed to insure a good stand with the first planting.

Ornamentals Need Pruning, Training

Ornamental plants in your home should be pruned annually and trained to insure a more beautiful plant.

County Agricultural Agent, Parker, says that the type and amount of pruning and training will vary greatly. It's important for ornamental plant growers to know how to prune each plant on their property.

His first suggestion is to study the growth habits and flowering characteristics of the plant. Practice removing stems and branches. Then observe the effect of your pruning on the shape, vigor and flowering of the plant. "proper pruning makes for a young and beautiful plant for many years," points out the Agent.

"Think of your plants in groups rather than as individuals. Group plants according to similar flowering habits, growing conditions or those which have similar uses," explains the agent. Each group requires a special type of pruning. It's easier for the grower to remember special pruning methods for particular groups of plants than for each individual group.

All plants can be classified as evergreen or deciduous. Evergreens retain their leaves or needles throughout the year while the deciduous plants drop their leaves in the fall and replace them in spring.

Evergreens are divided into narrow-leaf and broad-leaf plants. Deciduous plants are divided into groups which produce flowers in early spring on stems grown in the past year, and those which bloom later on new wood, explains Parker. He suggests light pruning of broad-leaved evergreens anytime during the year; however, severe pruning should be done during winter. Narrow-leaved evergreens such as pines and junipers should be pruned during the late spring following the first flush of growth.

Spring flowering deciduous shrubs should not be pruned in the winter before flowering as this will reduce their flowering. Summer flowering deciduous shrubs should be pruned during the dormant or winter season, adds Parker.

New Yeast Book Combines Conventional and Modern Techniques:

Another break-through in yeast baking techniques has been made. The newest revelation in yeast baking history is freezer doughs, which can be made at home. This latest technique uses earlier Fleischmann's Yeast developments, such as the development of active dry yeast and the easy no-dissolve Rapidmix Method. All are designed to make yeast-baking better in quality, easier and more convenient.

Freezer doughs are doughs you mix, knead, shape and then put right into the freezer. When you want to have freshly baked breads, rolls or coffee cakes, just take the shaped doughs from the freezer, let them thaw and rise, then bake them. You can keep them in your freezer for as long as a month!

Freezer doughs offer many advantages for every homemaker. Because they are not allowed to rise before freezing, frozen doughs take one-fourth to one-third less storage space.

Freezer doughs save time and energy because the preparation for larger quantities of baked goods can be done at one time.

Both large and small families stand to benefit from the new freezer dough technique. Homemakers with large families will appreciate the time and energy saved in being able to make more yeast bread at one time. Homemakers with small families will be delighted to find that they can make one batch of frozen dough and then have freshly baked yeast breads at all times.

The important thing to remember about freezer doughs is that not all doughs freeze well, nor do all fillings. Only the specially developed freezer recipes which have increased yeast, shortening and sugar content are recommended for freezing.

Pat Paulsen for the FCC?

By RALPH NOVAK

NEW YORK (CEP) Just about everybody knows that comedian Pat Paulsen's campaign for president is not serious. If nothing else proves it, you can tell by the fact that Paulsen has not been lambasted by William Rogers, John Mitchell, Ron Ziegler or Spiro Agnew, President Nixon's shock troops.

But there are some people who actually believe Paulsen is serious, apparently, and enough of them are on the Federal Communications Commission to allow the FCC to rule, common sense, rationality and ratings to the contrary, that a television appearance by Paulsen requires that the equal time provision be invoked.

The equal time rule was designed to prevent the air ways—which are public property—from being exploited by station owners with a favorite candidate to promote. It said that every appearance by a political candidate requires the station or stations that broadcast that appearance to provide an equal amount of time to that candidate's competitors.

The FCC said that because Paulsen was registered in the primary in New Hampshire he was a serious enough candidate to fall under the equal time requirements, even though being registered in the New Hampshire primary is no sure sign of significant commitment, since the New Hampshire field also includes Joe Lex, whose campaign headquarters is a jail; Jacob C. Gordon, who wants to put a million government officials in jail; and Austin Burton, an Indian activist who is also known as Chief Burning Wood.

They, by implication, fall under the equal time provision, too, and if you want to approximate hell on earth, think for awhile about what would happen if all the candidates in the country like Lex, Gordon and Burton exercised their option to claim equal time.

Of course, they don't, most of them because they cannot afford to pay the high cost of television time, which puts a considerable dent in even the best-cushioned of campaign funds.

Even the national Democratic party is making an all-out bid to secure free time from the networks to compensate for President Nixon's appearances on news programs and in addressing the nation. The Democrats have so far struck out with both the FCC and the U.S. Court of Appeals but is going to take the issue to the Supreme Court, which hopefully will clear up some of the murkier aspects of the equal time.

Meanwhile it appears that Paulsen will have to find a new gimmick if he wants to make many more television appearances. Perhaps he should campaign for an appointment to the FCC.
