HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

For more than six years, Mrs. Merle Young, RN, has been an important part of the big picture in the Winters Public School system. She was the first full time School Nurse in the local school, although for a good many years she had worked with the school in the capacity of Runnels County School Nurse.

Mrs. Young retired this week for health reasons, and she will be missed, not only by the faculty and school administration, but by the many students she has petted, pampered, patched up and punctured. All these, and the rest of the community to whom she has endeared herself, wish for her a speedy recovery.

In 1910, when The Winters State Bank was still just a youngun, they handed out some calendar plates (wall plaques) as advertising pieces. They were real nice plates, and beautifully made. (Not to eat from, but to look at). It is believed that there are few—perhaps no more than two—of these plates still around. Estella Bredemeyer, vice president and cashier of the bank, has one framed under glass, and John W. Norman has the other, which was given to him by Mr. Frank Pumpfrey, who had kept it for 62 years. It is still in very good shape, not a chip in it, and as pretty as it was when it was first made. If there are others of these plates still around, it is not known where they are.

An "eagle" on No. 1 at the Winters Country Club may not carry with it the prestige and fame assigned to a hole-in-one on another hole, but to June Marks the accomplishment is equivalent to an ace—especially if the third shot is made from a lie way down the fairway, yet June, who describes herself as a "not too regular" golfer, said her second shot the other day on the 375-yard fairway was "well away" from the green. She didn't "chip" in for the eagle, she said—she "drove" in, hoping to at least get on or near the green on her third shot... and ended up with a sinker and a three on the par 5 hole.

The Winters High School Blizzard Band will present some new ideas during the 1972 football and band season, Kirke McKenzie, director, has announced.

A "Flag Corps" will be organized within the band, to present colors at pre-game and half-time programs. This will be a line or column of eight flags, and should prove popular to fans.

Also, the percussion section, which has drawn considerable notice at home and abroad during the past year or two, will be larger this year.

Director McKenzie said the band will work on and present a "patriotic" program of some proportion again this season. Planning is not complete.

There will be two drum majorettes (Continued on page 8)

Teachers Start Work Monday

The 1972-73 school year will not begin for students until August 21, but teachers will begin their year's work next Monday, August 14, with a week-long in-service training period. All teachers are required to attend in-service training sessions for a specific number of days during the school year.

Winters Schools will cooperate with Taylor County schools in the in-service training program.

Secondary teachers will attend training sessions in Abilene August 14 through 16, while elementary teachers will go to Jim Ned School at Tuscola, along with Taylor County teachers.

An opening program will be held for Winters teachers in the school cafeteria Thursday morning, with the rest of the week given to faculty and department meetings, and room preparation.

Blizzard Band Begins Practice For School Year

Back-to-school band orientation meetings for all Winters High School Blizzard Band members, grades 9 through 12, were to start this week, with meetings scheduled for Thursday at 6:30 p. m., and again Friday, at 6:30.

Playing practice sessions were scheduled for each day, and planning made to the coming school year. Also, members were to be issued band uniforms, Kirke McKenzie, band director, said.

All band members are scheduled to meet Monday, August 14, at 6:30 p. m., to begin a week-long series of practice sessions, Director McKenzie said.

McKenzie urged all members of the Blizzard Band to attend the orientation and practice meetings, except boys playing football. If for any reason members cannot attend, they are asked to contact the director.

Early band rehearsals are necessary to begin preparation for the West Texas Fair parade in Abilene, September 9, and to learn new music for the football season.

An ice cream party will be planned during the practice sessions.

Annual Firemen's Barbecue Slated For Next Thursday

The annual Winters Volunteer Firemen's Barbecue, one of the biggest of its kind in this section of the state, will be held next Thursday, August 17, at 8 p. m. in the Winters City Park.

About 500 invitations have been sent out for the barbecue, and firemen expected to have one of the biggest crowds in the history of the affair.

The meat is provided by friends of the firemen, and is cooked by members of the department. A big barbecue pit recently was completed, located on the southeast edge of Sun-lawn Addition on the west side of Winters, and will be used for the first time to prepare the meat for the barbecue. The new pit replaces an old pit near the city hall and power plant which had been used for many years.

The annual barbecue began many years ago as a picnic and outing for members of the department and their families. Gradually, it grew to include friends of the firemen, and local businessmen, and ex-firemen, until it has grown to be one of the main events of the year in the area. Many ex-firemen and friends of the department, who have moved away from Winters, return each year.

Ground Broken For New Hospital, Plans Call For Completion In 360 Days

Groundbreaking ceremonies at the site of the new North Runnels Hospital were held Monday morning, and construction workers of Rose & Sons Construction Company of Abilene began work on the project. Completion is set for 360 days from Monday, through August, 1973.

John W. Norman, chairman of the board of directors of North Runnels County Hospital District, and Ted Meyer, turned the first shovels of dirt before a group of about 50 interested residents of the area and members of the board. Meyer led a drive to raise about $60,000 in public donations to purchase equipment for the hospital.

Norman said the board of directors of the district last week had deleted some items from the original plans, and cost of the hospital will be $496,011, in line with the $475,000 bond issue which was voted by the people of the district last October.

Rental Housing Board Is Named, Plans Being Made To Incorporate

Shareholders in a non-profit organization to build rental housing in Winters Tuesday night elected ten members to serve as a board of directors, and the board met immediately to lay plans to incorporate and begin the process of applying for long-term loans from the Farmers Home Administration to build housing.

Nelan Bahlman, who headed the steering committee for the Chamber of Commerce to organize the non-profit corporation, explained the project to shareholders attending the organizational meeting, and was subsequently elected president of the board.

Other officers named by the board at the first meeting Tuesday night were Dale Whitecotton, vice president, and Walker Tatum, secretary-treasurer.

Board members eventually will be elected for three-year terms, but first members are divided into three term categories. To serve one-year terms will be Woodrow Watts, Walker Tatum and R. C. Thomas. Two-year terms, Ray Alderman, Gene Wheat and Dale White-

Mansell Bros. To Hold Open House Aug. 19

Mansell Bros., authorized John Deere dealers, has scheduled an open house for all farmers in this area, Saturday, August 19.

G. W. Sneed, manager of the local business, says they will unveil Generation Two, "the biggest advance in tractors since John Deere introduced the New Generation tractors twelve years ago."

Sneed left this week to attend a two-day meeting at Waterloo, Iowa, where the new line is to be introduced to all John Deere dealers. While he cannot discuss specific details until August 19, Sneed said "It will be to every farmer's advantage, especially from a health and comfort standpoint, to attend the open house and learn all the facts about the new John Deere tractors."

The open house will begin at 8 a. m. and will last all day. Refreshments will be served, and door prizes will be awarded.

Planning Meet Tuesday For Elm Creek Project

A "very important" pre-hearing planning meeting, to acquaint sponsors and endorsers, and others, with the plans and purposes, and project status, of Elm Creek Control District, will be held in the Winters Community Center next Tuesday, August 15, at 7 p. m. W. M. Hays, chairman of the Elm Creek board, has announced.

The meeting will be for the purpose of compiling information and evidence which will be presented at the public hearing on the Elm Creek project planned by the State Soil and Water Conservation Board on September 12, Hays said.

"A show of high local interest on the part of residents will mean much to the State Board when they assign a priority rating to the Elm Creek District," Hays said. Therefore, he stressed, it is "very important that all sponsors, endorsers, members of the board, and others interested parties," attend the meeting.

Designs and projected plans for the Water Control District will be presented and explained, and the status of the project will be reviewed, Hays said. Plans will be made to present evidence of need of water and soil conservation measures on the Elm Creek watershed to the State Board. Without proper planning, Hays pointed out, it would be difficult to present the true picture to the State Board at the hearing.

He said that all residents who have evidence of floodwater destruction on their property are invited to present such evidence at the meeting next Tuesday night, to be compiled for presentation at the public hearing.

Sponsors of the project, which covers a wide area of East and North Runnels County, and a large segment of South Taylor County, include the Commissioners Courts of the two counties; the City Council of Winters and City Commission of Ballinger, the board of directors of Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District; the board of Middle Clear Fork Soil and Water Conservation District; Runnels County Water Authority; and Valley Creek Water Control District.

Endorsers of the project include the Winters Lions Club; Winters Chamber of Commerce; Ballinger Lions Club; Ballinger Jaycees; Ballinger Chamber of Commerce; and Ballinger Rotary Club.

PURPOSE OF PROJECT

Elm Creek Water Control District was formed about seven years ago by the State Legislature for the purpose of constructing floodwater control dams on Elm Creek and its tributaries in Runnels County and South Taylor County. It would be similar to the Valley Creek Water Control District project in the west portion of Runnels County.

The district is an outgrowth of a meeting some years ago of leaders of the Winters and Ballinger communities, seeking ways and means of obtaining a water supply for the two communities, and to eliminate destruction caused by floodwaters. Much work has been accomplished by members of the board, representing both cities and the farmers and ranchers of the Elm Creek watershed, in cooperation with the Soil Conservation Service. The board is planning toward obtaining Federal funds with which to construct water dams on the streams of the watershed, and to also look into the possibility of obtaining a municipal water supply for the two cities and the proposed rural water system.

Mrs. Merle Young Retires As School Nurse, Mrs. Shirley M. Hall Hired

After 23 years as a school nurse, six and a half years in the Winters Public School, Mrs. Fred (Merle) Young, RN, has retired, for health reasons.

Mrs. Billy J. (Shirley) Hall, RN, has been employed as school nurse to succeed Mrs. Young. She will start work with the beginning of the 1972-73 school year, August 14.

Mrs. Young has been a school nurse for 23 years, one year at Lamesa, and was Runnels County School Nurse until she became Winters School Nurse six and a half years ago.

Reared in Fannin County, where she graduated from Dodd City High School, Mrs. Young attended Baylor School of Nursing, graduating in 1929. She was surgical supervisor in Shannon Hospital and taught in the Shannon School of Nursing at San Angelo for several years.

Mr. Young is a retired groceryman. Mr. and Mrs. Young have two sons, Garner of Marshall, and Dick of Dallas.

Mrs. Hall is a graduate of Winters High School. She attended Gail Business School, and then Hendrick Memorial Hospital School of Nursing at Abilene, graduating in 1958, and is a Registered Nurse. She worked as a staff medical-surgical nurse, and then as supervisor of the newborn nursery at Hendrick Memorial Hospital.

She also has been a general duty staff nurse at Ballinger Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Hall's husband is in the U. S. Air Force, now stationed in Thailand. They have two children, ages 8 and 9.

Cable TV Franchise Request Set Aside; Council Says Too Few Channels

The request by a Fort Worth-based company for a franchise to operate a cable television service in Winters has been set aside, City officials said following Monday night's meeting of the City Council.

Officials said the company had indicated there would be only one channel carrying programs not already available locally on commercial broadcast channels, and said they did not feel this situation would justify approval of a franchise covering several years.

According to city officials, the only additional channel to be included on the cable would be a special weather and public announcement channel. All other programs are now available without cable, they said.

The cable TV company had requested a franchise to operate here, renting poles from the City of Winters. Cost of the service would be about $7.50 per month per subscriber, it was said.

Mayor Wade White said that if the company making the request would contract to add extra programming not now available on commercial broadcast channels, the Council would probably make another study of the request. He said the Council felt that at least three additional cable channels, with an educational channel, should be offered, to justify granting a franchise.

Applications are now being accepted in the school business office for children to be enrolled in the program. Only children four years old will be accepted, Carroll Tatum, superintendent of schools, said.

The program will run concurrent with the school, opening at 8 a. m. and closing about 5 p. m., and will be for the benefit of working mothers.

The Day Care Center program replaces the Headstart Program in the Winters School, and will be funded through the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Information on the program and eligibility requirements may be obtained at the school. A maximum of 20 children will be enrolled this year, it was stated.

Care Should Be Taken In Securing Hunting Leases

Austin — With Texas suffering under some of the hottest weather of the year, it might be hard for hunters to start thinking about the fall hunting season.

But the smart ones thought about it long ago, and their hunting leases are sewed up. No doubt there are quite a few leases left, but hunters with no place to hunt will have to scramble.

The July issue of Texas Parks and Wildlife magazine made a few suggestions to hunters seeking leases.

The magazine points out that there are four types of lease agreements between landowners and hunters: year-round, limited duration, day hunting and guided hunts for a few days.

The year-round leases usually include hunting privileges on all species and are made by a small group of hunters.

Leases of limited duration vary from an entire season to one week within the season.

Day hunting accommodates large numbers of hunters unable to devote extensive time to the sport.

Guided hunts are usually specialized ones for exotic big game but also include native species.

The best lease agreement is a written one because it spells out conditions of the lease for the protection of both parties and prevents misunderstandings.

A written hunting lease should cover the following points: what is leased, name of parties, description of tract including size and boundaries, the terms of the lease including the amount and time of payment, the duration of the lease, who is to hunt and the species of game animals, fish, game birds and varmints which may be taken.

The landowner should also specify what services or facilities are included in the lease such as blinds, cabins, utilities and doe permits.

A written lease, when properly acknowledged, can be recorded in the county records and is binding on the landowner should he decide to sell his property to another party.

"CHATO'S LAND"

The American South West 100 years ago was the scene of some of the most brutal and violent confrontations between the white man and the beleaguered Indians. This is the background of Michael Winner's new film, "Chato's Land," starring Charles Bronson and Jack Palance, which will show Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre. It is Winner's second film about the West, following "Lawman." The latter, as well as "Chato's Land," is released by United Artists, an entertainment service of Transamerica Corporation.

Bronson portrays an Apache halfbreed relentlessly pursued by a white posse headed by Palance after the Indian has killed a white sheriff. Both actors are seasoned "westerners" —Bronson made his mark some years ago in John Sturges' "The Magnificent Seven," also for UA, and Palance won an Academy Award nomination as the black-clad killer in "Shane." Richard Basehart, James Whitmore and Simon Oakland are also prominently cast.

Garden Check List For August

Plan now for next year's annual flowers. Make notes of the varieties that did well under your growing condition and those that need to be eliminated another year.

Zinnias and portulaca seeds planted now will produce color for this fall.

Gibberellic acid applied to camellias from August 15 to Sept. 15 will force them to bloom earlier.

Dig, cure, and store gladiolus corms about 8 weeks after they have finished flowering. Destroy any corms that show evidence of decay.

Move peonies if they have become too crowded. New plants may be set out from now through October. They are seldom productive South of Dallas. Plant them in rich soil, in full sun, placing the bud or eye from 1 1/2 to 2 inches deep.

Don't allow plants with green fruit or berries to suffer from lack of moisture. Hollies will frequently drop their fruit under drought conditions.

For fall vegetable garden, sow seeds now. Suggested plantings include seeds of beets, carrots, lettuce, mustard, radish and turnips.

Control powdery mildew on crepe myrtle in order to prolong the flowering season. Karathane as a spray or dusting with a fine grade of dusting sulfur will usually control the mildew.

Prepare beds now for September planting of Shasta Daisies, daylilies, and bearded iris.

Time to establish a new compost pile allowing the old one to decompose and be ready for use on flower beds.

Be on the lookout for interesting seed pods and foliage for fall and winter dried bouquets.

Check lawn and landscape plants for insects and follow recommendations given in L-199 for control.

Select and order spring flowering bulbs for planting next month.

Make arrangements for someone to look after the lawn and garden while you are on vacation.

Organic Matter Essential For a Good Lawn

Right now many people are faced with the task of establishing or re-establishing a lawn. Unfortunately many such lawns are placed on soils with poor drainage, aeration, as well as poor fertility. Therefore, to better insure success, why not correct those soil problems before you put down that sod or seed?

If you have a clay soil or a fine textured soil that tends to become tight and restricts drainage, the most appropriate step to take is to add a generous helping of organic matter to such a soil. By organic matter is meant such materials as peat moss, leaf mold, saw dust, cotton burs, manure or compost.

Add the organic matter to a thickness of about 4-6 inches and then roto-till this into the soil to a depth of 6-8 inches. Make sure you work it thoroughly to avoid layering of the soil and organic matter.

Sandy soils create the opposite problem. Usually sandy soils have such large pore spaces that they drain "too well." Again, organic matter added to the soil will greatly increase both the water and nutrient holding capacity of the sand. This will reduce the frequency of watering and fertilizing.

WOULD LIKE TO RENT or lease a house in the country, within a 10-mile radius of Winters. Max August Armbricht, P. O. Box 321, Winters, Tex. 21-2tp

Austin. — A recent statewide survey shows 22 per cent of Texans, or 2.5 million, are poor compared to a nationwide rate of 13 per cent.

Further, Texas accounts for nearly 10 per cent of the nation's poor.

Texas Office of Economic Opportunity submitted the 300-page report to Governor Preston Smith, terming it the most comprehensive study ever taken among the Texas poor.

The Rio Grande Valley area was shown as having the highest incidence of poverty in the state—42.2 per cent of the population. East Texas was next with 29 per cent poverty rate.

The East Texas and Lower Rio Grande Valley areas also have the smallest proportion of persons completing high school.

About 55 per cent of the heads of poor households are employed, and 70 per cent of those have fulltime permanent jobs, according to the study. However, low income levels make it difficult for these persons to bring their families out of poverty.

Guidelines for the report set poverty level for a family of four at an annual income of $3,800.

More than one third of the Texas poor are children under 15, and four out of five are black or Mexican-American.

George P. Taylor, TOEO director, said the report will be the basis of programs to alleviate poverty in the state. Recommendations include bringing in new industry to decrease unemployment, housing expansion and better health care and food programs.

A proposed four-year anti-poverty plan for Texas would seek $6.3 million in aid from national and regional OEO.

REFORM SESSION STUDIED
Governor Smith disclosed he is putting together a "full package" of insurance reform proposals in case he decides to call a special legislative session this year.

Reports indicate the governor was serious when he said he may call such a session on insurance matters. Smith himself continued to lash out at the insurance regulatory board. When members ordered a rate cut for auto insurance averaging 11 per cent statewide, Smith said a 21 per cent reduction was in order.

Smith said he must work closely with legislative leadership to achieve anything in a special session, but Lt. Governor Ben Barnes and House Speaker Raymond Price said he hasn't said a word to them about his plans.

If Smith calls the session, apparently he will propose wholesale reorganization of the board and a controlled competitive rate system for property and auto insurance.

ELECTION BILLS PAID
The state ran out of money before it paid 1972 primary election expenses and fell about $325,000 short of meeting all its bills.

The last $117,000 available was sent to county officials last week. A lot of election workers printers, and suppliers have not been paid for their work.

The money was dispensed on a pro-rata basis, amounting to 26.66 per cent of bills still outstanding in the counties. Remaining expenses will have to go uncompensated until the '73 Legislature can make appropriations. An appropriation of $2.1 million was set aside by the Legislature last spring for the 1973 primaries.

"I can find no other source of funds available at this time," said Secretary of State Bob Bullock. "When we have paid all the county chairmen, we will not have one cent remaining of the $2.1 million appropriated."

AG OPINIONS
Death penalties may be commuted to life sentences at any stage between jury verdict and granting of a new trial. Attorney General Crawford C. Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:
—One convicted of a felony may have rights of citizenship restored and become eligible to hold public office.

—A county clerk may record marks or brands given the same name if the marks or brands are themselves different.

—Podiatrists may not create a professional association under the Texas Professional Act but can create a professional corporation where all shareholders are licensed podiatrists.

—The county attorney of Harris County may investigate election frauds, although the primary duty is that of the district attorney.

—Established procedural rules for parole revocation under a new U. S. Supreme Court decision are not applicable to revocations prior to June 29, 1972.

—Parks and Wildlife Department officers have duty to preserve the peace and disperse riots.

—A notary who continues to meet any one of three statutory requirements has not "permanently removed" himself or created an automatic vacancy.

—A former state employee who was eligible to be a member of the Employees Retirement System is not eligible to receive a Texas Ranger pension.

COURT MERGER URGED
Merger of the Texas Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals, elimination of municipal and justice of the peace courts and non-partisan election of judges were proposed by the Chief Justice's Task Force for Court Improvement.

A series of seminars are being scheduled over the state to hear comments on the proposed revisions.

Under the recommendations, courts of civil appeals would become courts of appeals handling both criminal and civil cases.

The Legislature would be directed to create a system of county courts at law to perform the judicial functions now performed by all courts below the district level.

WASHINGTON

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman
17th District

Washington, D. C.—There's an old saying (if it isn't an old saying, we'll start one) that "give me the power to select a Congress and you can have the Presidency."

Actually, this has been repeated many times over the years by those with political wisdom and knowledge of the governing processes. Even a few Members of Congress—enough to provide a needed responsible majority—can, at any given time, change the trend of things.

After all, it is the Congress which passes the laws and holds the purse strings. The President and his appointees administer the laws and spend the money. True enough he has the power of veto over actions of the Congress but the veto can also be overridden.

It is, of course, a matter of the electorate's judgment as to the makeup of the Congress and we differ in our opinions as to what constitutes proper qualifications for the office. Primarily it is assumed that the Congressman's stand on issues is determining. Quite naturally, we differ on basic philosophies of government, which direct the course of our Nation. We can all agree that any Member of Congress should be able to read and write but beyond that, differences of opinion set in as to other qualifying attributes. Descriptive words such as "intelligence, dedication and integrity" and so forth, have meaning but are sometimes difficult to define. Like the zeal of Saul, it depends on the direction these attributes may take. A dedication of purpose can be anywhere around the 360 degrees of the compass. The fact remains that there are obvious truths which, at this time and place in our history, need to be critically observed. It seems that number one should be the re-establishment of complete integrity of our dollar's value. Many other issues are related to this rather simple proposition—inflation, the erosion of people's savings, investments, pensions or whatever. It relates to the crime rate, which absorbs the time of law and order. It relates to our national defense and our standing with other nations of the world.

Given a Congress which is deeply conscious and thoroughly dedicated to preserving a government which can serve the need of its people and at the same time preserve its integrity, then the Presidency is not the most vital office. It is, of course, the highest office, and has tremendous authority in making appointments to the Cabinet and the various posts under it. The President has the veto power and the authority to withhold funds appropriated by Congress. But, it remains the duty and responsibility of the Congress to enact laws and appropriate money for their administration and execution.

The President of the United States can not veto what is known as "line items" as the Governor of our State is permitted to do. He either vetoes all of an appropriation measure or none. He can lift out certain items to which he objects. On the other hand, he can order the impoundment of funds ap-appropriated for a specific purpose. This is an old controversy and one unresolved. In truth it will never be resolved but only complained about as has been the case throughout the years.

The real answer is for the Congress not to appropriate money to the President for things not needed or in excess of that which is absolutely necessary. This is the real rub and accounts for the conclusion in the minds of many that of the two it is more important to elect a highly responsible Congress than to elect a President of the United States.

Fresh Vegetables
Once or maybe twice a year, if you're lucky, many people go on vacation. Whether vacation means lounging around the house or driving to the ocean or mountains, everyone appreciates the leisure time it provides. Even though daily routines may be different, all vacationers get hungry and eat. So add extra variety during your vacation by using lots of fresh vegetables in leisure-time meals.

Abundant supplies of sweet corn, cucumbers, lettuce, and tomatoes make summer salads economical and add variety to vacation fare. They're ready to prepare and always delicious, whether prepared in the woods or in your air-conditioned kitchen.

Some favorite salad combinations are sliced tomatoes and cucumbers with cottage cheese and diced tomatoes, celery, radishes, cucumber, green onions, and shredded cabbage. Serve with your favorite salad dressing and enjoy their crisp goodness.

Fried Tomatoes With Sour Cream Sauce
1 1/2 cup sour cream
1 egg
Finely sifted bread crumbs
1 T. chopped parsley
Fat
6 firm fresh tomatoes
1 T. cold water
2 T. flour
Wash the tomatoes, remove a thin slice from the stem end, and slice the rest of the tomatoes about one-half inch thick. Beat the egg lightly; add the water. Dip the tomatoes in the egg mixture & roll in the bread crumbs, which have been seasoned to taste with salt and pepper. Allow the coated tomatoes to dry somewhat before frying. Heat fat in a frying pan. Place the tomatoes in the hot fat until brown on one side. Then turn carefully and reduce the temperature, so the tomatoes will have sufficient time to cook while browning on the other side. Lift from the pan onto a hot platter. Sprinkle the flour over the fat in the pan, mix well, then pour in the cream; stir and cook slowly until thickened. Season if necessary, pour over the tomatoes, sprinkle with parsley, serve at once.

Another quick tomato suggestion is to mix chopped tomatoes and green peppers and blend them with a French dressing to which a generous amount of dry mustard has been added. Marinate for a while in the refrigerator and serve ice cold.

Cucumbers are ideal for late summer salads, whether they are combined with other vegetables or served raw on a salad tray. Cucumbers go great with dips too. Try cutting a peeled cucumber into squares and spear each square with a toothpick. Choose your favorite dip or just combine some heavy sour cream with a dash of basil and some fresh dill seed.

Or, for an even cooler summer treat, try a Lime Summer Salad.
1 pkg. lime flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
3/4 cup cold water
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/4 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 medium cucumber, peeled and grated
1 1/2 tsp. seasoned salt
2 T. minced onion
1 cup creamed cottage cheese
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Stir in cold water and lemon juice. Chill until partially set. Add mayonnaise, grated cucumber, seasoned salt, onion and cottage cheese. Blend well. Pour into 5-cup mold which has been oiled or dipped into cold water and chilled until set. Unmold on fresh lettuce leaves. Makes 6 servings.

FAMILY LAWYER
Drag Strips
To hot rodders, the opening of a new drag strip is a cause for jubilation. But to residents of the neighborhood, the occasion may be less joyful. Do they have legal grounds for complaint?

Unless banned by local statute, a drag strip (or other kind of race track) is a perfectly lawful activity. It may become unlawful, however, because of the way it is run. That is, it may amount to a "nuisance"—subject to abatement by court action.

The noise alone may be offensive enough to justify a stop order. Take this case:
Residents living near a suburban drag strip found the noise so unbearable that they had to keep their windows shut. Residents one mile away had to keep their television turned on high. Residents three miles away said the noise "like a saw" could be heard plainly. Impressed by these tales of woe, a court ordered the track closed down.

Even if the noise itself isn't too bad, other factors may tilt the scales against the track operators.

In one case, in issuing an injunction, the court stressed the smell of burning fuel. In another case, the court called attention to the glare of lights, powerful enough to keep the neighbors awake at night. Said the indignant judge:

"To dangle restful sleep before an exhausted mortal and never allow him to taste of its refreshing juices constitutes one of the most torturous experiences of mankind."
Still, if these assorted annoyances are kept within reasonable limits, the mere fact that the track brings some commotion into the neighborhood may be overlooked. Thus:
The main objections to a new midget race track were (1) that traffic in the neighborhood had increased, and (2) that parking spaces had become harder to find. But this time the court denied an injunction, saying that traffic and parking were problems for the city, not for the operators of the track.

The judge said the right to use the public streets belongs to all members of the public—including racing fans.

DRUG STOCKS—ARE THEY TOO HIGH?

By Babson's Reports, Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass.—Many leading drug stocks are currently priced near their all-time highs and several are selling at what appears to be inflated price-earnings ratios. Investors are wondering if the drug stocks are particularly vulnerable to decline or if there is still considerable growth ahead. Naturally, the problem arises as to whether profits should be taken in this group, purchases avoided.

NOT ALL ALIKE

When looking over the issues of the numerous companies making up the domestic drug industry, it may be seen that there is a wide variance in price-earnings ratios of the leading firms. For example, based on expected per-share profits this year, the stock of Schering-Plough recently sold at a generous 42 times earnings while Johnson & Johnson sold at a high 54 times. In view of their exceptional records and promising prospects these issues customarily command premium prices.

On the other hand, the stocks of such firms as Pfizer, Smith, Kline & French, Morton-Norwich, Rorer-Amchem, and several others are priced at much lower levels relative to anticipated earnings.

FURTHER GAINS PROBABLE

The very rapid growth of the drug industry during the late 1950s and early- to -mid-1960s has slowed somewhat. But even at the less intensive pace, sales and earnings and profits margins compare favorably with most other lines. The drug group also has a good defensive record.

Overall profits this year, aided by the stronger economy and high sales from overseas operations, are likely to improve by at least 10 percent over those of 1971. Additional gains are expected in subsequent years as the industry benefits from continued strong worldwide demand for established ethical and pharmaceutical drugs as well as for newer compounds currently in experimental or testing stages. Increased emphasis by the government on health-care spending represents an additional plus factor in the drug field.

HOLD THEM ALL

In view of the still favorable outlook for the foremost drug companies, the Research Department of Babson's Reports is recommending that investors continue to hold such issues for further long-range increases. This advice applies to such well-known companies as Abbott Laboratories, American Home Products, Bristol-Myers, Johnson & Johnson, Eli Lilly, Merck, Morton-Norwich, Pfizer, Richardson-Merrell, Rorer-Amchem, Schering-Plough, G. D. Searle, Smith Kline & French, Sterling Drug, Syntex, Upjohn, and Warner-Lambert.

As for attractive purchases, Babson's Research Department currently favors the common stocks of Morton-Norwich and Pfizer for longer term growth. Income-oriented investors should, of course, avoid these two as well as other drug issues because the yields on stocks in this industrial segment are almost universally low. Pfizer has a fine progress record. A leading drug firm, it has recorded consecutive sales peaks for 22 years, and another new high seems assured for this year. Earnings gains have also been consistent except for a dip in 1967. Last year's profits were $1.38 a share, should reach $1.55 this year. Pfizer gets about one-half its sales from the U. S. and the rest from abroad. The conservative-grade stock is an attractive growth candidate, in the opinion of Babson's Reports.

Morton-Norwich's progress has been restricted in recent years by price cutting on two of its important drug products, plus difficulties with its salt operations. But this year earnings are likely to show good improvement, possibly up to the $1.85-per-share range from 1971's $1.35. Its products line includes Pepto-Bismol, Unguentine, Morton Salt, Fantastik, Simoniz, and Janitor in a Drum. The conservative-grade stock is regarded as a good "comeback" candidate.

Unemployment Increases In State

A jump in the unemployment rate last month was spurred largely by new graduates and summer job seekers, according to Texas Employment Commission.

The jobless rate reached 4.6 per cent statewide, but this was less than the 5.3 per cent rate of June, 1971.

Actually, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports, the Texas economy is getting better and better and 1972 second-quarter and first-half performances of economic indicators ended on a solid upbeat. No boom is yet in sight.

New bank charter applications have been filed for Woodway (McLennan County) and Adicks (Harris County).

Reclaiming Fish Hooks

Recycling is the "thing" of the day. Next best to recycling is reclaiming.

With the price of fish hooks high (and what isn't?) you may want to give tender-loving-care to the hooks you have.

Too many of us take up our trotlines, throwlines, dropines, or whatever, and simply dump them on the garage floor, or on a shelf, or in a box... and there they stay until next season, or the next fishing opportunity presents itself. Result: heavy rust-covered hooks.

Today's hooks are well built, patiently designed and are given all thought possible by the manufacturers. But most hooks still are not rust-proof. Salt water really takes its toll of hooks, including those on lures and especially the all-important barbs.

So, treat your hooks like they are the last you'll ever get. Disconnect them from stagoons when not in use (and disconnect stagoons from trotlines before you start removing the line from the water). Dry the hooks carefully, then store them where they will not be in contact with rusty hooks.

But if you forget, and your hooks gather rust, put the rusties in a small can about three to eight ounces in size (the smaller the better) and spray the hooks with WD-40 rust remover. If you don't have a can of rust remover handy, try Liquid Wrench or anything else that will absorb or loosen rust.

A few sprays and lots of can-shaking later, you'll have bright and shiny hooks again.

If it's a bad case of rust, just leave the treated hooks in the treatment can and shake the can vigorously ever so often to jar loose the stubborn particles of rust.

Pour off the fluid frequently into another container and let the rust in the fluid settle. While waiting for this to happen spray fresh rust remover over the hooks. Repeat this treatment process several times, then pour the residue liquid into the treatment can and leave the hooks submerged overnight.

By morning you will have a usable set of hooks that are almost as good as new.

If any rust still exists a small steel file will at this point remove the remaining rust easily.

jors out ahead of the prize-winning Blizzard Band this year, instead of one.

Many more new ideas are being studied for development for the band which won high honors all over the country last year, and marched away with top awards at the Six Flags Band Festival in the spring. Members of the band who participated in that festival are authorized to wear "Six Flags" patches on their sleeves.

Final count has not been confirmed at this time, but McKenzie said present lists indicate there will be about 128 in the marching Blizzard Band this year.

So band fans—Blizzard Band fans—can look forward to some excitement and thrilling music and capers, to add to the loads of good publicity and honor the band has brought to Winters through the years.

Housing--

as possible and to apply for a non-profit corporation charter. Work will begin immediately to obtain loans from the FHA, and it is hoped that acquisition of building sites and actual construction can begin within a short time.

Bahlman named committees within the board to study building plans and to locate suitable sites for housing. No definite plans have been made regarding the number of units to be built first, or the types of units to be built.

Shares were sold to 50 people at $40 each, to raise the $2,000 recommended by the FHA as a foundation on which to build the organization. Aim of the corporation is to help relieve the rental housing shortage situation in Winters, caused by the ever-increasing work force in Winters' business and industrial community.

Second place team members, with a score of 63, were Dub Davis, Joannie McAdoo, C. R. Pinkerton and Bobby Blackwood.

Third place team shot a 64. Members were Jiggs Nichols, Joe Emmert, James Gehrels and Ricky Dry.

Golf balls were awarded as prizes. Sandy (Mrs. Bill) Griffin won a special prize, a dozen golf balls, in the "closest to hole" contest on No. 6 green.

Another tournament is being planned for Labor Day, September 4.

Present for Monday night's meeting were Lawrence Lockridge, Margaret Huffman, Henry Greet, Wyman Burson, Brenda Easterly, and Mrs. Joe Emmert.

All young people from 14 to 25 are invited to participate in activities of the Youth Council.

Mrs. Douglas Cole, librarian at the Winters Public Library, reported a successful summer youth reading program, at the meeting of the board of directors of the library Monday night. She said 62 youngsters have been participating and will receive achievement certificates. She also said 2110 books had been checked out during the months of June and July.
