HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Several farmers and ranchers of the area, who spend a lot of time and energy promoting the annual Junior Livestock Show, have come up with an idea to help take care of expenses of the show, provide meat for the annual membership barbecue of the Winters Livestock Association, and in addition to furnish a live project for the feedlot program which has been added to the Vocational Agriculture Department of Winters High School.

The idea would work this way: Two—or maybe three—calves would be donated to the vo-ag program each fall, to be turned over to the students in the feedlot program. The group of students would feed out the calves as a class project, maintaining growth and gain records, cost records, and other requirements of the course.

Milo farmers would be solicited for voluntary contributions of say 200 pounds of milo each at harvest time, to be stored locally and used in the feedlot program.

The following fall, the finished steers after serving their purpose in the feedlot program, would be slaughtered, part of the meat to be used for the annual barbecue and the rest to be auctioned to raise funds for the stock show.

One rancher already has donated a calf to the project, and there are others who have indicated interest.

A lot of mileage could be had from a couple or three steers in this manner. Proponents of the idea say they've received a lot of favorable comment on the proposal.

Regulations and red tape got you down? Do you think someone else is pulling the strings to keep you jumping? Do you think things have come to a pretty pass? Are you hanging around just to see what happens next? Relax, cousin, chin up... things could be worse. Think of the guy in Turkey who was recently sentenced to three months in the clink for wearing the wrong kind of hat! Seems that in Turkey, it's unlawful for a man to wear a headpiece without a brim... turbans, fezes, etc., are out... and this chap was caught wearing what was claimed to be a skull-cap!

Last Friday, September 22, at precisely 4:33 p. m. CDT, the sun crossed the equator on its journey south, ushering autumn into the Northern Hemisphere. The Fall Season is now with us. This time of year, like nearly everything else, has different meanings for different people, depending on their outlook on life. To the pessimists with their negative viewpoint, autumn is nothing more than a prelude to the winter just around the corner with its threat of cold harsh weather. How sad it is to have such a dreary opinion of earth's wonder of season change.

The fraternity of pessimists would do well to take a lesson from the optimists in their midst. (Continued on page 8)

Blizzards Play In Eldorado Friday

The Winters Blizzards, now with a 2-1 record for the season, will travel to Eldorado Friday night for a non-conference game with the Eagles.

The two teams are even in the won-lost columns for the season. The District 9-A Eldorado Eagles have defeated Iran and Rankin, and lost to Ozona. The Blizzards have wins over Clyde and Merkel, and a loss to Coleman.

Coach Chili Black said the Blizzards played a good defensive game against Coleman last Friday night, in spite of the one-sided score. The Bluecats capitalized on every mistake made by the Winters offense, and outgained the Blizzards through sheer weight and experience, he said. The Blizzards refused to quit Friday night, the coach reminded, and played tough football right up to the final gun. They received much encouragement from fans. Coach Black said, who also refused to quit even in the face of certain defeat.

Saturday Deadline For Rural Water Sign-Up

Saturday, September 30, is the last day rural residents of North Runnels County will be able to join the North Runnels Water Supply Corporation, if they have not already done so.

LaDell Davis, president of the rural water corporation, said those rural residents who do not sign up prior to the deadline may experience difficulty when they try to join the system once plans are in the hands of engineers and after the distribution lines are laid.

Sponsors and organizers of the corporation, which proposes to build a water distribution system throughout the rural areas of North Runnels County, have been quite optimistic regarding response to plans. They reported that as of the first of this week, there were about 450

He has served as class officer and student council representative. He is also a member of the Blizzards football team and track team, and a member of the Blizzards Band, Sno Men, and Jubilee Road, a country and western combo group from the band. He attended Boys State during the summer, sponsored by the American Legion and the Winters Lions Club.

Elm Creek Directors Call Bond Election For Oct. 31

The Elm Creek Water Control District is calling for a bond election to authorize Elm Creek bonds to the amount of $300,000, to be used for engineering planning, right-of-way and easement for construction of flood-retaining dams in the district and authorization to levy to defray cost of maintenance of the project, has been for Tuesday, October 31.

The election order was approved by the board of directors in a meeting in Winters Tuesday night.

M. Hays, chairman of the district, said the election order was approved by the board of directors in a meeting in Winters Tuesday night.

Winters Livestock Association Barbecue Monday

The annual membership barbecue of the Winters Livestock Association will be held in the Community Center next night, October 2.

The barbecue is the highlight of the annual membership drive, which sponsors the Junior Livestock Show each year.

Elm Creek Water Control District Next Tuesday

The annual conservation field tour of the Runnels Soil Conservation District will be held Tuesday, October 2, in the Community Center.

The election of a director from Zone IV will be held in conjunction with the tour. Voters of the zone, which includes all the area north of the Bronte-Winters-Novice Highway, will elect a director during the noon stop at the Winters Community Center Tuesday.

All desiring to make the tour, and to take part in the election of a director, are asked to bring sack lunches. The Runnels SWCD will provide drinks.

Minzenmayer is the representative from Zone IV.

Members of the board of directors are W. M. Hays, chairman; Charles Hambrick, vice chairman; John Purifoy, secretary-treasurer; David Ledbetter, Malcolm (Swede) Holliday, Noble Faubion, Walter Spill and J. E. (Buck) Smith.

BLIZZARDS OF THE WEEK

The Winters Blizzards Booster Club each week names "Blizzards of the Week," based on performance during the football game of the previous week. Nominations are made by the coaching staff.

Blizzards recognized for performance during the Winters-Coleman game last Friday night are: Offense: Jerry Mack Jackson. Defense: Joe Ray DeLaCruz.

through the sale of bonds will be used for engineering plans for floodwater retaining structures on Elm Creek and its tributaries, obtaining right-of-way and easements for the structures, and for legal and administrative costs connected with the project.

Cost of actual construction of the dams will be paid by the Soil Conservation Service, Hays said. It is estimated that construction costs will be in the neighborhood of $2.5 million.

The entire $300,000 bond issue will not be sold at one time, Hays said, but will be used as the money is needed and the project progresses.

Although no tax rate has been formally established for repayment, Hays said, it is estimated that for a 20-year payoff, a rate of only 16 cents per $100 (County) valuation will be needed.

The board of directors of the district is also asking for authorization to levy an annual tax of not exceeding 5 cents on the $100 valuation to pay the cost of maintaining the project.

The District, in the issuance of the bonds, will reserve the right to issue additional parity bonds payable from the next revenues of the District, Hays said. This means, he explained, that in the event a multiple-purpose dam is built—to supply municipal water and for recreational purposes, in addition to water control—the District can issue bonds to be repaid through sale of water.

Elm Creek Water Control District is composed of most of the land area in the watershed of Elm Creek and its tributaries, north of the Colorado River in Runnels County, including a big portion of the city of Ballinger, and extending into South Taylor County to the north.

The District proposes to construct a series of floodwater retaining dams on the creek or its tributaries, to eliminate loss of topsoil, fences and farm and ranch property. The dams also would help to eliminate sedimentation in the Winters Lake and the old Ballinger Lake, and would help to provide good water for a multi-purpose lake on Elm Creek, if such a project is found to be feasible.

Plan Meetings To Explain Elm Creek Bond Election

The board of directors of Elm Creek Water Control District is planning a series of public information meetings to explain the proposed $300,000 bond issue to be submitted to the voters of the district October 31.

At the meetings, members of the board and representatives of the Soil Conservation Service, and others, will discuss the proposed project to build floodwater retaining dams in the district, and the bond issue which will be voted on October 31.

All residents and property owners in the district are invited to attend these meetings.

Meetings will be at: Crews—Saturday, October 7, 7:30 p. m., in Community Center (old gymnasium). Bradshaw—Tuesday, October 10, 8 p. m., Methodist Church. Ballinger—Thursday, October 19, 8 p. m., District Courtroom. Winters—Thursday, October 26, 8 p. m., Community Center.

Members of the board of directors are W. M. Hays, chairman; Charles Hambrick, vice chairman; John Purifoy, secretary-treasurer; David Ledbetter, Malcolm (Swede) Holliday, Noble Faubion, Walter Spill and J. E. (Buck) Smith.

"Conquest of the Planet of the Apes," the fourth feature in 20th Century-Fox's engrossing and imaginative productions that started in 1967 with "Planet of the Apes," will show Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre.

This one has the benefit of the experiences in the making of the other three and therefore has even greater excitement with greater realism through improvement of the science-fiction suspense. In fact, the picture shows that in the very short time since the first of these features, science-fiction has become, to an amazing degree, science-fact.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In this space of September 14, 1972, reference was made to visits to North Vietnam by Jane Fonda and others whose radio broadcasts have no doubt given comfort and encouragement to the communists we are fighting in South Vietnam.

Those of us here in the Congress who are incensed and deeply concerned with these actions are introducing legislation for the purpose of preventing unauthorized travel by United States citizens to any country engaged in armed conflict with our military forces.

the door in an effort to prevent these future harmful actions.

There are existing prohibitions on U. S. citizens receiving a United States passport to travel in countries considered enemies but they have been interpreted as not effective. Jane Fonda and others used a special travel permit issued by the government of North Vietnam to travel to that country without the necessity of being issued a United States passport.

There appears reluctance on the part of the Justice Department to seek an indictment against her and others for sedition and treason for their pernicious broadcasts to U. S. servicemen over Radio Hanoi. The Justice Department may be right in view of the fact that evidentiary requirements for successful prosecution are no doubt difficult.

Other U. S. citizens, including Ramsey Clark, engaged in activities in North Vietnam which are inimical to the interest of our nation.

In view of this situation, it seems the only way to prevent such future excursions is to prohibit travel to any nation with which the United States is engaged in armed conflict.

The bill being introduced, which amends the Internal Security Act, simply says, "The President may restrict travel by citizens and nationals of the United States to, in, or through any country or area whose military forces are engaged in armed conflict with the military forces of the United States. Such restrictions shall be announced by public notice which shall be published in the Federal Register. Travel to such restricted country or area by any person may be authorized by the President when he deems such travel to be in the national interest. It shall be unlawful for any citizen or national of the United States willfully and without such authorization to travel to, in, or through any country or area to which travel is restricted pursuant to this subsection."

If this measure can be enacted into law, it would limit the right of travel by American citizens but only in a very limited way. Flexibility is provided to authorize the President to grant exceptions should he find that it serves a useful purpose to the nation. It is recognized that there might be unusual circumstances when restrictions imposed could be relaxed for a specific purpose.

Jane Fonda and others who broadcast from Hanoi upheld the communists' side with no criticism for the wanton murders of South Vietnamese by the North Vietnamese communists. Both Miss Fonda and Ramsey Clark testified that our bombers had intentionally brought destruction to dikes and dams in North Vietnam, which are necessary to protect their land and people. Evidently they were led around by the communists and shown broken dikes controlling the flood waters of the Red River. Other people who have been there, including reporters from reputable newspapers, call attention to the fact that thousands of peasants drowned or died of famine in 1954. The dikes are in worse shape this year because of a shortage of manpower which has been diverted to rebuild roads to South Vietnam over which war supplies are routed.

Robert Hotz, editor of Aviation Week magazine, noted in August, 1971, that there were broken dikes where there had been no bombing in more than three years. In a recorded interview in Hanoi, Ramsey Clark reported that air strikes had caused massive destruction and deplored American air strikes. But Mr. Hotz writes, "the easiest explanation for the population that will die and suffer in the ensuing floods which occur in September and October is that the disaster is caused by American bombing." He ended his article by saying, "This is another enormous lie."

Austin, Texas — The special session of the Legislature got off to a bumpy start last week with Gov. Preston Smith's proposals facing tough criticism.

Critics of the governor's competitive insurance rating bill charged it repeals some of the best provisions of the Texas insurance code.

Sen. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas and others insisted on a state-set ceiling if competitive rating is passed. Senate sponsor, Sen. Mike McKool of Dallas, indicated he would go along with that.

The governor's budgetary control bill met a mixed reaction in its first committee test. Proponents said it would help put "fiscal responsibility" in state government, but opponents said it would make the governor a fiscal "czar." The latter were particularly critical of a provision that would let the governor alter agency budgets when he found "evidence that the expenditure is not necessary."

Smith assured another lively appointments hassle in the Senate when he nominated his secretary of state, Bob Bullock, to the State Board of Insurance.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes denied reports that he was trying to line up votes to block Bullock's confirmation by the Senate.

Bullock's name was sent up as a replacement for Smith's longtime friend, Larry Teaver, who was rejected for Insurance Board membership last July by unfriendly senators.

Harmony prevailed at both Democratic and Republican conventions, although there was enough controversy at both to make them interesting.

Democratic gubernatorial nominee Dolph Briscoe got his choice for State party chairman (Calvin Guest of Bryan) and was allowed to write the platform about the way he wanted it. In return, he agreed to accept a liberal, Sen. Barbara Jordan, as State Democratic Executive Committee chairman. Sen. Joe Bernal of San Antonio and Mrs. Billie Carr of Houston (liberals and George McGovern backers) and Hall Timanus of Houston (a George Wallace supporter at the June convention) were named to new Democratic National Committee posts. Briscoe may, or may not, have control of SDEC. Some counts evaluated the breakdown 26-26 liberals and conservatives with 10 moderates as the balance of power.

Republicans had little to squabble about. They wrote their own state platform and re-elected Dr. George Willeford and Mrs. Malcomb Milburn of Austin as state chairman and vice-chairman.

Accepting resignation of Robert W. Calvert as chief justice of the State Supreme Court, Governor Smith said he would designate Associate Justice Joe R. Greenhill chief justice. Smith legal aide, Hawthorne Phillips, will fill the vacancy on the High Court from October 4 (date of Calvert's resignation) until January, Smith said.

Terry Townsend of Austin was appointed by Smith to the governor's Commission on Physical Fitness.

Secretary of State Bullock finally got around to issuing a commission of office to Dallas County Commissioner Roy Orr—after Orr was replaced as state Democratic chairman. Bullock contended Orr couldn't hold both offices.

County clerks are not authorized to issue marriage licenses to two persons of the same sex, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held in a recent opinion.

In other new opinions, Martin concluded: —A Texas water corporation and public utility has the right to lay its pipes along the right-of-way of county roads, subject to conditions fixed by law.

—A sheriff's food bill for feeding prisoners (submitted to county commissioners) must show the name of each prisoner and each item of expense incurred on the individual accounts.

—Those who are not licensed registered nurses would be violating the law to use identifications such as "SRN" or "RN". —Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches has the authority, without city consent, to close a portion of Raguet Street constructed over school property within the campus in 1938.

—Texas Board of Examiners in Fitting and Dispensing of Hearing Aids is not authorized to impose on an applicant for a reciprocity license a requirement that he have a residence or a place of business in Texas.

ANIMAL DISEASE FIGHT FUNDS CLEARED

Texas will receive a $120,414 federal grant to fight animal diseases.

Money will supplement Texas Animal Health Commission's eradication programs aimed at screwworms, scabies and fever ticks.

This year Texas is suffering its worst tick outbreak since 1941, according to Commission Executive Director Dr. H. Q. Sibley. Parts of Jim Wells, McMullen, Duval, Live Oak, Kent, Nueces, Leon and Dimmit counties are under tick quarantine.

Governor Smith also noted Texas is facing its worst scab worm epidemic since 1961, and scabies has struck in several areas.

ENROLLMENTS GROWING

Texas college and universities are still climbing, though not so fast as in the early 1960's.

About 454,000 students enrolled in public and private, junior and senior colleges by September 14. This compares with about 438,000 at the same time last year. The Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System concludes there will be about a three and a half

HEALTH LETTER

IMMATURE LUNGS

While the fetus is still tucked safely within the womb, tests can detect respiratory disease. The next step? Delaying birth until the tiny lungs are better developed.

A California research team has developed a quick and inexpensive test to determine which babies might have hyaline membrane disease, a respiratory ailment that takes the lives of 28,000 infants each year. The disease, an immaturity in development of the lungs, afflicts premature babies.

Normally, a special chemical lines the air sacs in the lungs and prevents the sacs from sticking together and collapsing. But in hyaline membrane disease the chemical is missing. The collapsed sacs cannot hold air; the infant cannot take in enough oxygen.

The necessary chemical lining comes when the fetal lungs mature. The chemical itself is similar to agents in detergents that help sustain the foamy bubbles. If the chemical is in the lining of the lungs of the fetus, it will also be present in samples of the amniotic fluid that surround the unborn child. Mixing the fluid with a small amount of alcohol in a test tube and shaking it to produce bubbles is a way to spot the chemical. If bubbles are still present at the end of 15 minutes, the lungs have proper lining.

Dr. Alan J. Margolis, an obstetrician at the University of California, says in cases of spontaneous premature labor, delivery of the baby might be postponed by certain drugs if the test shows that the infant would have hyaline membrane disease if born at that time.

Women who smoke have more spontaneous abortions and premature births than women who don't smoke. See your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association for facts about lung disorders as well as smoking.

per cent increase in enrollments this fall over 1971.

Enrollment in all segments of higher education last year was more than 475,000, and projections by the Board point to about 493,000 this year. While senior college enrollments are up less than one per cent, the community colleges have an increase of more than 11 per cent in their student bodies.

Gubernatorial nominee Dolph Briscoe promised top priority efforts to secure a deep-water superport for Texas.

Briscoe said it is vital to the economy to get a port capable of handling ships with drafts of up to 100 and 120 feet. He said the state is "blessed with having several desirable locations."

SHORT SNORTS

Texas Air Control Board has been approved for a $2.1 million federal grant from the Environmental Protection Agency.

Texas industrialists are offered exhibit space on the Queen Elizabeth 2 for a floating trade fair to North Africa, the Middle East and Europe in 1974.

An application has been filed for a state bank in Fulton.

A new study of the role of motor vehicles in air pollution is underway in the Houston-Galveston area, one of 14 national air quality control regions to be checked.

There are more Texas voters over 64 than in the much publicized 18-20 bracket—16 per cent for the senior citizens, 10.4 per cent in the youth bracket.

This is Texas Highway Week—with speeches and observances marking the event over the state.

A House study committee has been set up to review water district legislation passed during the last two legislative sessions and determine if it was in the public interest.

Texas Highway Commission is accepting bids this week to facilitate traffic movement in South Texas.

Seven hundred and 54 new Texas lawyers were licensed in ceremonies here Monday.

BAKING INDUSTRY

For thousands of years the baking industry has been linked with religion, customs, superstition and governments.

In the Middle Ages, Henry VII of England beheaded any baker whose bread did not conform to the fixed weights for bread loaves. Bakers, to avoid this hazard, added an extra loaf to deliveries of 12, making the number 13 — the well-known "baker's dozen".

In Sweden, the bride and groom eat a whole wedding bread to symbolize a faithful and happy marriage. So you see — long before Madison Avenue advertising — despondent Swedish housewives were saying, "I can't believe I ate the whole thing."

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service reports this year's wheat crop is one of the largest ever recorded and will help provide ample quantities of grain for bread, spaghetti, noodles, and other wheat products consumed by the American public.

Here are some delicious recipes featuring wheat products to entice your family into eating the "whole thing" without any coaxing:

POUND CAKE

1 1/4 c. butter
1/2 tsp. mace
Grated rind of 1/2 lemon
1 1/2 cups sugar
6 eggs, separated
3 c. flour
1/4 to 1/2 tsp. salt
Cream the butter until soft, add the mace and lemon rind, and then the sugar gradually, stirring until the mixture is light and fluffy.

Cool fruits and sour cream dressing are delightful combination for your next bridge club meeting, particularly if there's a dieter in the crowd. Sour cream has only one-fourth the calories of mayonnaise, besides having such an affinity for fruit. Arrange the fruits in a glass bowl lined with the frilly outer green leaves from a head of western iceberg lettuce, and serve it at the table so everybody can see how pretty it is.

Easiest way to make lettuce cups for the salad plates is to core the head and run cold water in it. This makes the lettuce swell and the leaves easy to separate. Drain thoroughly and chill in a plastic bag or "Crisp-It" in the refrigerator until ready to use.

FRUIT BOWL POTPOURRI

1 large head western iceberg lettuce
1 can (11-oz.) mandarin orange segments, well drained
1 can (1-lb.) pitted dark sweet cherries, well drained
2 c. pineapple tidbits
1 tsp. olive oil
2 tsp. lemon juice
1 tsp. paprika
2 c. dairy sour cream
4 tsp. prepared mustard
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. sugar

Reserve outer lettuce leaves to line punchbowl. Shred remaining lettuce and add to bowl. Arrange mandarin oranges, cherries and pineapple attractively in sections over lettuce. Chill. Blend sour cream with olive oil, mustard, lemon juice, salt, paprika and sugar; serve with salad. Makes 6 servings.

Jr. Culture Club Meeting Thursday

Everett Grindstaff, Ballinger attorney, presented a program on Women's Rights and Responsibilities at a meeting of the Junior Culture Club in the Baptist Church Fellowship Hall last Thursday.

AROUND THE 6-AA FOOTBALL LOOP

District 6-AA came a cropper last Friday night! Two teams—Haskell and Hamlin—had open everybody lost to somebody. Ballinger was the only member team to get on the scoreboard—the others had to settle for big round zeroes.

The Winters Blizzards took the roughest drubbing around the loop. Outweighed and outplayed by a powerhouse Coleman Bluecat squad, the Blizzards had a punt blocked, had a pass intercepted, and lost the ball on fumbles several times. Although the Blizzards played some spunky football, their lack of weight and experience showed up against the Coleman team which has been ranked high in Class AA ranks about the state this season. Final score was 42-0. This had been billed as the top AA game of the area for the week. The Ballinger Bearcats and the Colorado City Wolves battled head-to-toe at Ballinger Friday night, with no score during the first half. C-City came back in the third period to go over from three yards out, and then ran a two-point conversion. Ballinger scored first in the fourth, but failed in a try for a running PAT, and dilted later in the final. C-City ran across and PATed to make the final score 15-12.

Probably the biggest surprise of the week came in the 22-0 loss by Stamford to Clyde. The Clyde Bulldogs, who previously had lost 20-16 to Winters, and tied Hamlin 6-6, completely dominated the field against the Stamford Bulldogs, as they scored in every quarter but the first—a safety and three TDs. Anson, who failed to come up with a winner in their first two outings this season, duplicated Friday night as Class A Albany rolled over them 18-0 at Anson. The Lions outpassed, outran—and even outfumbled—the Tigers, to take home the win, leaving Anson in the 6-AA cellar. The No. 1 game around the circuit probably will be the Ballinger-Coleman contest at Coleman this Friday night. Both teams have dumped Brady—a fact which used to have some meaning, but this year, who knows. As usual, this will be a renewal of a rivalry of long long standing.

Solve the Case of the Disappearing Sock by trying this laundry method: keep a cotton drawstring mesh bag near the washing machine. When you sort the wash, drop all-cotton socks in the bag. After washing, take out hose without mates or with unmendable holes, and use as polishing cloths.

'72 Milo Crop Yield Beats '71, Harvest Over

The big tonnage of the 1972 milo crop in this area has been harvested, and only a few fields remain to be cut, it was reported by grainmen Tuesday. There still will be a few loads brought in for a while, but for all practical purposes, the harvest is over, they said.

Yield from this year's crop has been very good, too, according to reports. Although acreage planted to milo this year was considerably below that for 1971, overall receipts of grain from this year's crop have been equal to or possibly a little higher than last year, it was estimated. The late-planted grain outdid the early grain yieldwise, it was said.

Quality of this year's grain also has been better than that of last year's crop, grainmen said.

U-MW Meeting At Church Tuesday

The United Methodist Women of First United Methodist Church met Tuesday morning at the church. Mrs. Paul Gerhardt led the opening prayer, and names of workers and projects in Nigeria, Panama, Rhodesia, Mozambique and the Philippines were read from the prayer calendar.

Mrs. Betty Sanders, who has just moved to Winters, was welcomed.

The date for the district meeting has been changed from Tuesday, October 5, to Wednesday, October 4.

Mrs. Frank Mitceni was leader for the program on World Missions. Situations in three countries were highlighted in three skits. Mrs. T. C. Stanley led a group telling of a new law in Rhodesia affecting churches and racial relations. Mrs. Roy Crawford led a group which pointed up work with college students and their witnessing in Japan. The group led by Mrs. Mitchell brought out the importance of autonomous churches in other countries and the changes in types of missionary work needed. A devotional on Faith was given by Mrs. H. O. Abbott to conclude the program.

There were 24 present at the meeting.

Blizzards Overpowered By Bluecats, 42-0, For First Loss of Season

The Coleman Bluecats rolled up a lopsided 42-0 victory over a mistake-prone Winters team at Blizzard Field Friday night.

The first quarter of play was very nearly a stand-off. The Blizzards took the kick-off and had to punt after three plays. On Coleman's first offensive play the ball was jarred loose and Rex Pritchard recovered for Winters. Again the Blizzards were unable to make a first down and were forced to punt. Coleman couldn't move the ball either, and the Blizzards had the ball again, this time at their own 22. Kichmann's punt after this series of plays was blocked; the Bluecats gained possession on the Blizzard 10 yard line. They pushed across the score in four plays, and the kick was good for a 7-0 score with 1:12 in the first quarter.

In the second period Coleman was in scoring position after a pass covering 17 yards, down to the Winters five. Rickey Mathis recovered a Bluecat fumble, but the Blizzards fumbled it right back on the second play of the series, and it only took one play for the Bluecats to score again. The PAT was good for a 14-0 score. On their possession after the TD the Blizzards made their only first down of the half on an eight-yard carry by Oscar Torres and a Torres to Jerry Mack Jackson pass. The drive was cut short by a Blizzard fumble on the Coleman 35.

Coleman scored early in the third quarter on a screen pass to Nunez, making it 21-0. Pritchard intercepted an Adian pass to thwart another Coleman drive, and the remainder of the quarter was a see-saw battle with few results. The brightest moment for the Winters offense was a pass completion covering 15 yards from Torres to split end Scott King.

The Bluecat went into the fourth quarter 21-0 over the Blizzards. Adian and company duplicated that in the final period, scoring three more touchdowns and three PAT's, for a 21-point quarter and the final score of 42-0. Their touchdowns were set up by a pass interception and two fumble recoveries.

Good defense was put in for the Blizzards by Torres, Ricky de la Cruz, Pritchard, Jackson, Rickey Mathis, Joy Ray de la Cruz, Wayne Schwartz, Rodney Richards, and Glen Hoppe.

Grant Approved To Help Fight Cattle Diseases

Washington, D. C.—Congressman Omar Burleson announces approval of a $120,414 grant by the Economic Development Administration, to help demonstrate methods of eradicating diseases threatening the production of cattle in Texas.

Funds from EDA will go to the State of Texas for a one-year program.

State officials have reported cases of screwworms, tick fever and scabies increased during 1972, resulting in a Federal quarantine on cattle from several Texas counties and threatening the entire cattle production in the State.

Through the Texas State Animal Health Commission and the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation at Mission, Texas, the State plans to pinpoint the extent of the parasites within counties and to demonstrate on-the-spot eradication measures.

The funds will allow the State to hire additional animal health inspectors to conduct the program.

Cattle now in production in Texas have been valued at about $2 billion. Without treatment, the cases of screwworms and tick fever infestations during the last year would have resulted in a direct loss estimated in excess of $32 million.

The State of Texas will add $131,742 in other funds to meet the $252,156 total cost of the demonstration program.

Officials of EDA have pledged to continue to work with local and State officials to help assure the maximum benefit of this program for residents of Texas.

HD Clubs Offer New Ideas On Homemaking

"If you like to learn new and better ways to do things, then try joining a home demonstration club," said Mrs. O'Connor, Extension county home demonstration agent in Rannels County.

The agent said that home demonstration clubs offer an opportunity for the homemaker to learn the latest information about home and family life.

Anyone may join a club. Any person interested in improving home and community life is eligible for membership, according to Mrs. O'Connor.

"A home demonstration club is a group of homemakers who learn together," Mrs. O'Connor said. "Members help determine and develop ideas for programs."

Members take part in discussions, workshops, special meetings and tours sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service," she said.

A less formal group is the Extension home economics study group which meets fewer times annually. It often has a single subject matter area. An Extension home economics study group may either have elected officers or only a chairman who directs business that arises.

"There are no required dues for membership," Mrs. O'Connor explained. "Your major investment is your time to learn and share new information. Clubs have fund-raising projects to support special activities. And no charge is made for instruction from the county home demonstration agent."

She said that if there's no club in your area, you may form one. A small group with similar interests may either be a regular home demonstration club or an Extension home economics study group.

"If you'd like to form your own club or group, let me know and I'll help you organize one," Mrs. Juanita O'Connor said.

Housing Project Nears Completion, Applications To Be Accepted Soon

The 46-unit housing project of the Winters Housing Authority is near 95 percent completion, Jake Joyce, chairman of the authority, said this week, and plans will be made in the next few weeks to accept applications and begin screening of applicants.

It is hoped, Joyce said, that tenants will be moving into some of the units by December 1, but this date has not been set as a definite goal because of the amount of administrative work to be completed before assignments are made.

Early in the summer, it had been hoped that the 30-unit section designated for the elderly would be ready for assignment by September 1. However, because of the requirements for multiple inspections by Federal agencies, this date could not be met, it was explained. Now, it is understood that the contractor, Alston Construction Co. of Sweetwater, wishes to hand over the entire project at one time. Also, landscaping of the three areas where the project is located will take some time. This work was to begin this week, it was understood.

Oliver Wood, executive secretary for the Housing Authority, is compiling a list of those wishing to make application for the housing. In the future, this list will be screened and persons on the list will be notified to pick up formal application blanks at the Authority office.

In screening applicants and making assignments, the Authority will be guided by a formula provided by the Housing and Urban Development administration, Joyce said. Also, he said, units designated for the elderly will be available to persons 62 years of age or over. Other requirements for eligibility have not been released as yet.

Thirty of the units have been designated as housing for the elderly, and 16 for low-income families.

FB President Is Seeking More Cotton Exporting

WACO—Texas Farm Bureau President J. T. (Red) Woodson of Fannin County on Sept. 18 asked the federal government to help move cotton into export as a means of alleviating current depressed cotton prices.

The president of the 130,000-member farm organization said cotton farmers face a severe hardship because of the present price situation. Cotton prices are now 6-10 cents a pound below the level of one year ago.

"Buyers who contracted earlier for limited supplies are now holding off buying during this current harvest season," Woodson said in a telegram to Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz. "This factor, together with lower grades, resulting from adverse weather, has ruined our domestic market for cotton."

"We urgently request that you undertake immediate steps to increase exports of cotton under Title 2 of the Public Law 480 program as a means of alleviating depressed domestic markets."

"We applaud your recent successful efforts to move wheat into new markets, and trust that you will do everything in your power to help cotton growers," the farm leader said.

In the past nearly all cotton shipped under P.L. 480 has been under Title 1 of that law. This is a program in which foreign countries buy U. S. goods in their currencies. The United States then uses the money to pay its bills in those countries—bills associated with common defense efforts, expenses of U. S. embassies, etc.

Under Title 2 of P. L. 480, all commodities are owned by the USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation. The Title 2 program, which involved shipment of some $350 million in commodities last year, is for such purposes as disaster relief and economic aid.

Grant Approved To Help Fight Cattle Diseases

Washington, D. C.—Congressman Omar Burleson announces approval of a $120,414 grant by the Economic Development Administration, to help demonstrate methods of eradicating diseases threatening the production of cattle in Texas.

The president of the 130,000-member farm organization said cotton farmers face a severe hardship because of the present price situation. Cotton prices are now 6-10 cents a pound below the level of one year ago.

"Buyers who contracted earlier for limited supplies are now holding off buying during this current harvest season," Woodson said in a telegram to Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz. "This factor, together with lower grades resulting from adverse weather, has ruined our domestic market for cotton."

"We urgently request that you undertake immediate steps to increase exports of cotton under Title 2 of the Public Law 480 program as a means of alleviating depressed domestic markets."

"We applaud your recent successful efforts to move wheat into new markets, and trust that you will do everything in your power to help cotton growers," the farm leader said. In the past nearly all cotton shipped under P.L. 480 has been under Title 1 of that law. This is a program in which foreign countries buy U. S. goods in their currencies. The United States then uses the money to pay its bills in those countries—bills associated with common defense efforts, expenses of U. S. embassies, etc.

Under Title 2 of P. L. 480, all commodities are owned by the USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation. The Title 2 program, which involved shipment of some $350 million in commodities last year, is for such purposes as disaster relief and economic aid.
