HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

This week's football game between the Winters Blizzards and the Ballinger Bearcats—an annual "shootout"—emphasizes an important anniversary for the Winters team.

1973 is the 50th anniversary year for football in Winters School, and also the 50th anniversary of the first game between Winters and Ballinger.

In her book, "Rannels Is My County," published in 1970, Charis Poe of Winters, relates that "the year 1923 saw the introduction of football in (Winters) high school. The first touchdown by the Winters (team) was by Jim Fields in a game at Ballinger November 8. That first team was coached by Mack McComb and O. D. Sandeford. Team members included Floyd Sykes, Gattis Neely, Gerald Knight, Otha Hillyard, Fannin Lowe, George Key, Charley White, John Barnett, Bailey McCaughan, Howard Rankin Pace and Jim Gardner."

We have no record of how that first game ended, but we do understand that the two teams met twice during the same season for some years. Also, we understand that the Ballinger school had started a football program a couple of years earlier.

Gattis Neely and Rankin Pace are the only two members of that first team still living in Winters. The others are either deceased or are living in other localities.

A summary of Amendment No. 9, which will be voted on at the General Election, November 6:

The proposed amendment adds a new Section to Article VIII, of the Texas Constitution, and gives the legislature the authority to exempt from property taxation certain personal and real property of nonprofit corporations and nonprofit cooperatives, which supply water in the state. The exemption is limited to the property of the corporation or cooperative which is reasonably necessary for, and used in, the acquisition, storage, transportation, sale, and distribution of water. The amendment, if passed, would have to be implemented by a statute allowing the exemption. The exemption applies only to property taxes and includes both state and local property taxes.

Argument for: Nonprofit water supply corporations perform a vital function in many parts of the state that might not otherwise have adequate water supplies. The amendment would encourage the formation of such corporations or cooperatives and thus help develop water resources. In many ways nonprofit water supply corporations and cooperatives are similar to public water utilities which are tax exempt. In many areas water supply corporations are required to have miles of pipelines in order to supply their customers, and these pipelines are laid at great expense. The collection of property taxes on these pipelines only increases the cost of water to customers who are far from the water source and who often need it the most.

More Than 1,000 Attended Hospital Open House Sunday; Moved This Week

More than 1,000 people toured the new North Rannels Hospital Sunday afternoon during the open house event. The ribbon-cutting was held at 2 p. m., and the open visitation continued until after 5 p. m. Several hundred persons were present for the ribbon-cutting.

Moving of equipment and supplies from the old hospital was started Monday, and patients were moved Wednesday of this week, after which the new hospital became fully operative.

State Representative Lynn Nabers of Brownwood cut the ribbon officially opening the new hospital Sunday afternoon. Nabers had sponsored the bill through the Texas Legislature in 1969, authorizing creation of the North Rannels County Hospital District, which built the new hospital.

Carroll Tatom was master of ceremonies for the opening ceremonies Sunday afternoon. He introduced John W. Norman, chairman of the board of directors of the hospital district, who spoke briefly. Winters Mayor Homer Hodge also spoke, recognizing the board and others for their work in organizing the district and building the new hospital.

Jim Shook, hospital administrator, spoke briefly, expressing thanks to the public for their assistance in opening the new hospital. Ted Meyer received special recognition for leading the drive by the special committee to raise funds to purchase equipment for the hospital. More than $70,000 already has been voluntarily contributed or pledged to this project.

Opening of the new hospital and closing of the old hospital marks the end of an era of several decades of service in the old building, which was built in

Constitutional Revision Committee Completes Text For New Document

The Constitutional Revision Commission has completed the text of the new Constitution they will propose to the Legislature November 1.

The completion of the proposed document ended nearly seven months of intensive work by the 37 members of the Revision Commission.

The Legislature will meet at a Constitutional Convention Jan. 8 to consider the Commission's report and propose a new Constitution for the State of Texas. The Convention's recommendation must be approved by the voters at an election.

The Revision Commission was directed by Senate Concurrent Resolution 1 to study the existing Constitution, written in 1875, and recommend changes to the Legislature.

The new document contains a number of substantive changes, a great many of them aimed at increasing the flexibility and responsiveness of state government.

The present Constitution was written in turbulent times. Texas was emerging from the bitter period of Reconstruction, recovering from martial law, disenfranchisement and autocratic rule by a Scalawag governor. In addition, Texans were outraged by the corruption in government wrought by land speculators, stock manipulators and railroad promoters.

The delegates to the 1875 Convention were not in a mood to grant their elected officials

Cancer Society District Held Basic Orientation

District 4 of the American Cancer Society held a basic orientation for volunteers and the public in San Angelo recently. Three meetings were held, on October 3, 10 and 17.

George Harrison, vice president of the Tom Green County Unit, presided for the first meeting. Dr. Robert Grant presided for the October 10 meeting, and Jim Kramer showed a film. A panel of doctors discussed cancer diagnosis and treatment. Making up the panel were Dr. Sam Chunn, Dr. Johnny French and Dr. Grant.

Correlation of care for cancer patients within the community was the topic for discussion on the Oct. 17 meeting. Panelists included Dr. Stoebner, Carlene Karlin, RN, Rev. Jesse Long, Lorene Touchstone, a physical health nurse; Don Hulse, rehabilitation counselor; Bruce Coates of the Social Security Administration; Daniel Caus, State Welfare representative; and Hershel Shelby, ACS volunteer.

UIL School Districts Assigned, 6-AA Loses One Member, Gains Two

The University Interscholastic League school districts in the state have been named for the 1974 and 1975 school years, and schools reclassified and districts reshuffled.

District 6-AA, of which Winters is a part, has been reclassified, with one member school reclassified to 1-A, and two schools added. There will now be seven schools in District 6-AA.

Haskell has been reclassified as a 1-A school, and moved to another district.

Colorado City, which has been a 3-A school, has been reclassified to 6-AA. Coahoma has been assigned to District 6-AA. District 6-AA schools, for the next two school years, will be Winters, Ballinger, Hamlin, Coahoma, Stamford, Colorado City, and Anson.

Winters Superintendent of Schools this week announced the football game schedule for 1974, according to the new district alignment. Winters will

"Time To Run," a new Billy Graham film that is a mixture of problems and solutions, is scheduled to show at the State Theatre one night only, Monday, October 29. The full-length feature, was filmed in Eastman-color by World Wide Pictures.

Shot on location in the Southern California area, "Time To Run" stars Ed Nelson, Randall Carver, Barbara Sigel, Joan Winmill and Gordon Riggsby. Ed Nelson is perhaps best known for his portrayal of Dr. Rossi on television's Peyton Place. In "Time To Run," Nelson plays Carren Cole, a hard driving success-oriented industrial and scientific engineer who, because of over-involvement with his work, has failed to communicate with his wife Fran, played by Joan Winmill, or their son Jeff, played by screen newcomer Randall Carver.

"Time To Run" allows the viewer to become involved on any one or more of three different levels. Viewed purely as entertainment, it's the suspenseful story of Jeff's attempts at Sabotage in the nuclear generating plant, conceived, designed and managed by his father. Jeff strongly feels that the plant is a threat to the environment, and he puts his feelings in action.

Viewed on an emotional level, "Time To Run" is the deeply moving drama of the conflicts that are tearing a family apart—conflicts that develop between husband and wife, and between father and son. In an attempt to find freedom from the ever-growing hostilities, Jeff takes to the road, hoping to discover some meaning in his confused life.

Approached from a religious perspective, "Time To Run" is also a story of friction between Jeff and his girlfriend, Michelle, played by Barbara Sigel, who is a familiar face to television viewers. Michelle has discovered a spiritual dimension in her life, and this aspect is very confusing to Jeff, who has little time for "a God who would allow war, hatred, and suffering on earth." But his life is shattered by an avalanche of personal problems, and he finds himself at a Jesus people gathering with Michelle, where he glimpses the possibility of a new life-style based on love and understanding.

Regardless of what the viewer draws from the film, "Time To Run" is a film that can help strengthen love relationships between people. It's a film that was made for families to attend together.

Mr., Mrs. Hays Note 25 Years In Business Here

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hays this week are observing their 25th year in business in Winters, as owners of Western Auto Associates Store.

They are holding a special sales event beginning next Monday, in observance of the silver anniversary event.

Mr. and Mrs. Hays came to Winters in September, 1948, and opened the Western Auto Store in October, with the official opening held on October 22. They are now in their fourth location, on South Main Street. The original store was in the center of the 100 block on North Main Street, and they occupied two other buildings on that block before moving to the present location in 1965.

Prior to coming to Winters, Hays was territory sales manager for Snap-On Tools at Carlsbad, N. M. He is a native of Novice, where he went to school. He graduated from Santa Anna High School. Mrs. Hays also graduated from Santa Anna High School, and attended the University of Texas.

Hays attended Allen Military Academy at Bryan, and later Texas A&M. At the start of World War II, he went into the U. S. Navy, where he served as a naval pilot for almost five years. He flew from the Aircraft Carrier Intrepid in the Pacific Theater. A few years ago, he retired from the Naval Reserves, with the rank of Commander.

Active in civic affairs, Hays has served as a city alderman, mayor, is presently on the school board, and has been active in the Chamber of Commerce. He is presently chairman of the board of Elm Creek Water Control District.

Mr. and Mrs. Hays are members of the United Methodist Church. They have four children. W. M. Hays Jr., a band instructor at Holiday; Mike Hays, a law student in Houston; a daughter, Mrs. Jerry Simmons, of San Angelo; and a daughter, Chris, a senior in Winters High School; and three grandchildren.

Sam Jones Opens Water Purifying Business Here

For the benefit of the many rural residents of this area whose well water has gone "bad," Sam Jones has opened a new business in Winters to sell and install equipment for purifying, softening and filtering water, for household use and stock use.

The new business, Jones Water Purification is located in the McMillan Building at 138 West Dale Street.

Jones will be the regional distributor for equipment manufactured by X-L Laboratories of Des Moines, Iowa. His is the first outlet in Texas for the Iowa company, which has outlets throughout the Midwest.

The new water purification will offer several types of equipment, including that which will remove nitrates from well water, a chlorination system, and a filtering system.

Jones said that with the new X-L purification system, nitrates can be removed from well water. This condition has been of growing concern locally in the past few years, with many wells becoming so contaminated that the well water cannot be used for either household or livestock. He said the equipment he will offer for installation will remove the nitrates. Jones said the process has been tested with good results in various parts of the country.

Jones Water Purification also will offer a high capacity filtering system, which includes a softening process in one unit.

Blizzards Play In Ballinger Friday

League standing and won-lost records go out the window this week, as Winters travels to Ballinger for the annual no-holds-barred Blizzards-Bearcat confrontation. This game will pit the cellar-team—Winters—against the district third-place team. Kickoff at 7:30.

The annual football meetings between Winters and Ballinger began 50 years ago, when Winters first began to play football. Although the Blizzards have a string of losses behind them for this season, and will be crippled to some extent from injuries received in past games, Coach Chili Black said this week their spirits were growing for the Ballinger game. In fact, the coach said, the spirits of the young and light Blizzards have never waned this season, in spite of their setbacks. "They still display a lot of pride, and keep playing strong," the coach said. They were defeated badly at the hands of a team obviously heading for extra-season playoffs—a team "out of their league"—but they "can play Ballinger," Black said.

Coach Black said the entire team did good work Friday night against Hamlin, but singled out Donald Rogers and Glenn Colburn in the line, and Ricky DeLaCruz and Bill Pendergrass, a sophomore, for outstanding action in the backfield. Pendergrass went in for Bobby Poindexter Friday night when the latter was injured out this week, however.

Winters and Ballinger have played two common opponents this season. The Blizzards lost to Brady 14-0, and came close with Coleman, as the Bluecats edged out a 21-18 victory. Ballinger defeated Brady 14-0, and field-kicked a 9-7 win over Coleman, in pre-district contests.

The Blizzards will feel the loss of two more this week on account of injury and illness, Coach Black said. Mike Moore, who was out for several weeks with a case of mono, and came back in for the Hamlin, probably will not start Friday night against Ballinger. Joe Ray DeLaCruz, who received a badly sprained ankle last Friday night is doubtful for this week.

The Ballinger Bearcats are big, and have considerable experience. Although the coach expects the Blizzards to be more evenly matched this week than against Hamlin last week. The Bearcats primary threat will be Frederick Snell, a 192-pound junior fullback. He's used

Susan Poe, WHS Senior, Named Football Sweetheart Friday Night

Susan Poe, a senior Student in Winters High School, Friday night was named Blizzards Football Sweetheart, in halftime ceremonies at the Winters-Hamlin football game.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Poe. Other nominees for the Football Sweetheart honor were Chris Hays, senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hays, and Linda Sneed, also a senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Q. Sneed.

Miss Poe is a member of the National Honor Society, serving as secretary. She is parliamentarian of the Student Council, having represented her class on the council during her freshman, sophomore and senior years. She was escorted by David McAdoo, a member of the Blizzards squad.

Miss Hays was escorted by Lonnie Briley, a football team member, and Miss Sneed was escorted by Blizzards Captain Stan Tatom.

Will Wait Until Spring To Top New Runway, Other Work Continues

City officials this week said a decision has been made to wait until early next spring to top the new runway at the Winters Airport. The work originally had been scheduled for this fall.

Meanwhile, officials said, the flashing rotary beacon and wind cones have been received, and will be installed as soon as possible. Boundary lights for the new runway have been ordered, but have not been received. They will be installed when they are received, before the topping is applied, it was stated.

An access road from FM 53 south to about halfway of the old runway has been completed, and service facilities probably will be moved from the old location on the north end of the field to the new location within the new runway.

The new runway is already being used, as well as the old runway, it was stated.

in traps and power plays, and on sweeps from the "I" formation.

Another Bearcat who has done outstanding work this season is Robert Bukemper, a tailback. Frank Mata, a back, also is a threat on running plays.

The Bearcats do considerable passing, with Tommy Parrish, a junior quarterback, throwing good. His favorite receiver will be Randy Hutchins, a 162-pound split end.

In the line, the Bearcats are heavy. Fermin Rodriguez, a junior, tips the scales at 205, and started on the varsity squad as a sophomore. Eddie Yocham, left guard, is another threat the Blizzards will have to contend with.

Cranberry Quality Standards

If any of our pioneer forebears were to return as ghosts, they would be amazed at the homemaker who had never seen a cranberry bog in its radiant readiness for harvest. What kind of housewife is it who doesn't have a scoop (cranberry) as part of her kitchen equipment, and who doesn't even know when the cranberry is ready to harvest? The answer of course, is the modern housewife. She doesn't have to know about harvesting, but she does have to know lots about quality. Here are some tips on how to make these standards work for you:

Fresh Cranberries

These are usually packaged in one-pound film bags or in boxes with windows for viewing. Since quality grades are not usually marked on the package, look for plumpness, good color, and uniformity in size. Avoid cranberries that are crushed and leaky. These will be off-flavor.

Frozen Cranberries

These are packaged in 12 oz. or 16 oz. packages. The berries are frozen, with no sugar added and after defrosting should be used exactly like fresh berries. U. S. Grade A (or Fancy) indicates premium quality cranberries that are practically free from defects and have good color and texture. U. S. Grade B (or Choice) berries are of very good quality. U. S. Grade C (or Standard) berries must have fairly good color and texture and must be fairly free from defects. To rate any of the three grades, cranberries must have at least normal flavor and color.

Canned Cranberry Sauce

May be bought in either jellied or whole-berry styles. A top quality jellied sauce is tender, but firm enough to hold its form for serving. In whole-berry sauce, the skin particles and semi-jellied portions are reasonably tender and the fruit, seed and skin particles dispersed uniformly. U. S. Grade A or Fancy is the top quality for canned cranberry sauces. In addition to firm gel, Grade A sauces have good color and flavor. In lower grade sauces, the color may not be as bright as in Grade A. But lower grades are good and often a thrifty buy.

The U. S. grade name or grade shield may be shown on the label of frozen cranberries or canned cranberry sauces that have been officially graded. If the label is simply marked "Grade A" or "Fancy" without the U. S. prefix, the product must still meet the requirements of the U. S. grade.

If there's no indication of quality on the labels of the frozen cranberries or cranberry sauce you buy, check the product against the U. S. grades described here, so you can see what quality you're paying for. And try different brands to find the quality you like. Top quality usually costs the most.

The cranberry has the distinction of being a native American fruit. Long before arrival of the Pilgrims in 1620, the Indians were combining crushed cranberries with dried deer meat and melted fat to make pemmican — a convenience food, which could be kept safely longer than most foods of the day. History credits the Pilgrims with giving the fruit its modern name. To them, pink cranberry blossoms resembled the heads of cranberries, so they named the fruit "Crane berry." It was later shortened to cranberry.

Legend has it that the bounce so unique to cranberries was first noted by "Peg-Leg John" Webb, and early New Jersey grower who used his wooden leg to punch planting holes in the ground when setting out the cranberry vines.

ARE LOW PRICE/EARNINGS RATIO STOCKS GOOD BUY?

Wellesley Hills, Mass. — Any follower of the stock market knows that 1973, thus far, has been a bad year for most stocks. In the first half of the year alone, 1,357 issues on the New York Stock Exchange declined while only 100 showed advances. Up to this time in the second half there has been only moderate improvement in most stock prices. Thus, a tremendous number of securities, especially those of medium to lower grade, are priced very low relative to earnings. It would be safe to say that the P/E ratios of quite a few companies are near the lowest levels since they began trading on a major exchange. This is disheartening, of course, not only for owners of such stocks but also for the managements, which are usually extremely stockholder conscious.

For example, there are currently hundreds of common stocks priced at from 6 to 9 times earnings; and recently there were more than 150 issues on the New York Stock Exchange selling at 5 times earnings or less. Of these, one was priced at 2 times earnings, seven at 3 times earnings, and a great many more at 4 times. Not many years ago such low P/E ratios were practically unheard of. When a stock did get very depressed, it was usually regarded as a real bargain and thus attracted considerable buying interest. As a result it did not as a rule remain in the low P/E category for very long.

Many of the stocks that were recently priced at 5 times earnings or under are well-known issues. Among these were such substantial firms as Ford, Chrysler, Goodrich, City Investing, Avco, U. S. Industries, White Consolidated, General Tire, Trans World Airlines, Manhattan Industries, McCrory Corporation, and others.

ARE THEY REALLY BARGAINS?

Although there may be some outstanding buys among the low P/E stocks, they should certainly not be bought indiscriminately. Each one should be thoroughly investigated. There are usually some valid reasons for their being priced so low. It could be that future earnings are expected to turn downward, so the present depressed P/E's of some stocks may not look so low in the future; the company may be in a highly cyclical industry; the firm may be in for serious labor troubles; a company's major customers may be on a downswing, etc. It must be recognized, of course, that the price/earnings ratios are listed in most financial papers are based on earnings for the latest twelve months. There is no consideration given to probable future earnings. In other words, they are figured solely on past results. Furthermore, a stock's P/E ratio is only one part of the picture when an investor is seeking "buys." There are many other factors which are often of equal and sometimes of even greater importance.

While corporate earnings have been on the rise this year, the stock market for the most part has been in the doldrums as a result of the rampant inflation, high money rates, the Watergate scandals, a weak dollar in foreign financial markets, government controls, concern about the economy of 1974, and absence of the small investor from the marketplace. This special combination, therefore — good earnings in a downtrending market — has made for some very low P/E ratios.

WHAT TO BUY

At the present time the Research Department of Babson's Reports does not happen to be recommending for purchase any issues that are priced at five times earnings or less. While we may do this sometime in the future, it will of course depend on the general outlook for the company as well as on a number of other relevant factors. As of now, we are recommending many promising issues which are at present carrying comparatively low price/earnings ratios of from 6 to 9. Included in this group are such highly regarded stocks as PPG Industries, Rockwell International, Woolworth, Champion International, Texaco, and Firestone Tire & Rubber—all on the New York Stock Exchange.

In a special session Monday, the Runnels County Commissioners Court accepted a check from Royal Indemnity Company and authorized County Judge Elliott J. Kemp to sign an assignment of claims to the bonding company for the shortage in the County Tax Assessor-Collector account, which was revealed some months ago.

The check was for $15,453.97. After discussing an assignment of any and all claims the company may have against Pannell Legg Jr., who was County Tax Assessor-Collector during the time an audit showed that the shortages occurred, it was agreed that "Runnels County shall not be held liable for any expense incurred should a lawsuit of any kind occur in regard to this action," according to Frankie Berryman, County Clerk and clerk of the Commissioners Court.

Present for the special meeting were County Judge Elliott J. Kemp, and County Commissioners Charles Bradshaw, Melvin Mapes, Pat Pritchard, and Marvin Sailing, and the County Clerk.

The shortage in the Tax Assessor-Collector's account was uncovered several months ago, after Jack Farmer, present Tax Assessor, requested a complete audit of the books of the office. He assumed office in January, after defeating Pannell Legg Jr. in last year's election.

The Commissioners Court authorized an audit of the records by an outside auditing company, and subsequently received a report from the company that a shortage in the funds did exist. Records for only the years 1971 and 1972 were audited, it was stated.

The report from the accounting firm of Ben M. Davis, Kindard and Co., of Abilene, alleged the following shortages in the Tax Assessor-Collector's funds:

- Ad valorem taxes, $8,563.25
- Auto registration, $4,523.33
- Beer and Wine tax, $1,277.50
- Liquor license tax, $1,089.89

Parker Cabin History Marker Found In Trash

Perhaps it was a nudge of conscience, or the realization that vandalized and stolen property of this type had no monetary value, or could not be displayed in any manner.

Whatever the reason, the historical marker torn from the wall of the Nancy Parker Cabin, located about 16 miles northeast of Winters, has turned up.

Mrs. Charlsie Poe of Winters, a member of the Runnels County Historical Survey Committee, reports that the marker plate was found last week in a trash can near the Winters High School, where it had been dumped, probably by the vandal or vandals who had removed it from its proper site.

The historical medallion which was installed along with the metal information plate is still missing, however, Mrs. Poe said.

Mrs. Poe said the County Committee is grateful to the unknown person who placed the historical plate where it could be found, and hopes the press of conscience will help in the recovery of the medallion, and the markers from the Simmons grave, located in the same vicinity as the Parker Cabin, which also were stolen.

More than 2,000 gathered in Austin Tuesday (Oct. 23) for a Governor's conference on rural development.

Cotton Stripping Underway, 297 Bales To Winters

The cotton harvest in North Runnels County is underway, with stripping activities expected to increase quite rapidly within the next few days.

Winters Warehouse reports that as of Tuesday morning of this week, 297 bales had been brought in from the three gins of North Runnels County. The breakdown of receipts was as follows:

- Winters-174
- Wingate-21
- Wilmeth-102

B. B. Manly Jr., in charge of the USDA Cotton Division, Abilene Classing Office, reported that two-thirds of the gins in the Abilene area have submitted samples for classification, and considerable acreage has been defoliated and is now ready to harvest. Harvest is most advanced in Runnels, Tom Green and Howard counties, according to the report of Oct. 19. To date, 19,000 samples have been graded in the Abilene office; with 10,000 samples graded during the week ending October 19.

The quality of the crop is varied, depending on the area of production, the Abilene office said. Howard County is producing the highest grades, with more than half of their cotton grading 31 or higher. Bark content is high for this time of the season, with 22 percent of the samples being reduced in grade because of bark. There may be some confusion concerning bark reductions, the office said. There are no changes in the classification of cotton in regard to bark. Grade reductions will still be shown on class cards. The only change is that cotton will no longer be discounted one-half cent per pound if it enters the government loan. If prices are based on "cents above loan rates," this may affect the open market price of bary cotton. However, individual buyers will discount bark at their discretion.

Cotton prices ranged from 57 to 66 cents per pound for grades as low as grade 52 and as high as grade 21. Low micronaire cotton was usually discounted at loan rates. The price for "free" cotton grading 4131 ranged from 60.25 to 61.55 cents per pound. These are probably the highest prices ever paid for cotton in this area. Cotton prices were higher during the Civil War, but that was before cotton was produced in this area, it was said.

Hearing on plans for first phase development of Mustang Island State Park is set by the Parks and Wildlife Department for November 15 in Austin.

Sub Deb Club Is Seeking Product Labels For Unicef

Winters' Sub Deb Club has embarked on a project which may have far-reaching and long-lasting effects. They are collecting labels, box tops, and empty packages.

The project is one connected with UNICEF (United Nations Children's Fund) — "Treat of Life" — and the companies making the products from which the labels, etc., come have pledged to provide a given amount of vaccine, dry milk, and food supplements to underprivileged children all over the world, for a given number of labels or box tops.

The Sub Debs have left boxes at Sonny's Grocery & Market and at Piggly Wiggly to collect the labels, and are asking area residents to leave these items in the boxes. The club members then will pick up the labels and forward them to UNICEF.

The products from which labels and box tops are collected include Kool-Aid, Welch's, Royal Dessert, Chocks Vitamins, Blue Bonnet margarine, and Dentyne or Trident chewing gum.

According to the Sub Debs, UNICEF can buy enough vaccine to protect one child against smallpox for two empty Kool-Aid packages; enough dry milk to make five glasses of milk for one front panel from any Royal Dessert package; enough antibiotic to save one child from blindness due to trachoma for one label from any Welch's label; 100 servings of a high-protein food supplement for one front panel from any Chocks brand vitamins; enough BCG vaccine to protect one child against tuberculosis for the large picture of Blue Bonnet Sue from any Blue Bonnet margarine package; and enough triple vaccine to protect one child against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus for five empty outer pack wrappers from Dentyne or Trident chewing gum.

supply corporations which are operated for profit and which are in competition with non-profit supply corporations. The passage of the amendment would give the nonprofit corporations a competitive advantage since they would be relieved from paying property taxes. Only four years ago the voters rejected a similar constitutional amendment and there has been no significant change affecting water supply corporations since that disapproval. Costs of government and dwindling sources of revenue require the maintenance of a complete tax base. Further special tax breaks are not in order at this time.

... about your SOCIAL SECURITY

Applications are now being taken by the San Angelo Social Security Office for the new Federal assistance program from needy aged, blind, or disabled persons, according to J. M. Talbot, District Manager.

The new program, called Supplemental Security Income, provides for the Federal takeover beginning January 1, 1974, of the adult welfare categories previously run by the State Welfare Department.

People now receiving welfare will not be required to file a claim. These benefits will continue after January 1 at approximately their present rates, Mr. Talbot stated.

Although administered by the Social Security Administration, the program differs from the Retirement, Survivors, and Disability Insurance program in many ways, primarily because Supplemental Security Income payments are paid based upon a person's needs.

Mr. Talbot added that the payments to blind and disabled persons under the new program have requirements similar to those for the original social security benefits.

As with the social security program, the blindness or other disabling condition must be so severe that it prevents the individual from performing any substantial gainful activity. It must be a condition that has lasted, or is expected to last for at least a year, or one that is expected to end in death.

People who are not now entitled to State aid to the disabled benefits should apply for SSI benefits at local social security offices. When making an application, applicants should be able to give information about the doctors and hospitals who have treated them.

Because the benefits are based upon need, income limitations apply to all beneficiaries under the program; however, these limitations are less severe for the blind and disabled and are designed to encourage them to return to work, Mr. Talbot said. For example, the work expenses of a blind beneficiary may be excluded from the income limitations.

Mr. Talbot concluded by stating that the new program allows people to receive benefits they can receive the new benefit, and are not receiving public assistance at present, should get in touch with the San Angelo Social Security Office located at 3000 West Harris Avenue.

Applications are now being taken by the San Angelo Social Security Office for the new Federal assistance program from needy aged, blind, or disabled persons, according to J. M. Talbot, District Manager.

The new program, called Supplemental Security Income, provides for the Federal takeover beginning January 1, 1974, of the adult welfare categories previously run by the State Welfare Department.

People now receiving welfare will not be required to file a claim. These benefits will continue after January 1 at approximately their present rates, Mr. Talbot stated.

Although administered by the Social Security Administration, the program differs from the Retirement, Survivors, and Disability Insurance program in many ways, primarily because Supplemental Security Income payments are paid based upon a person's needs.

Mr. Talbot added that the payments to blind and disabled persons under the new program have requirements similar to those for the original social security benefits.

STATE Capital NEWS

By BILL BOYKIN

AUSTIN—Future development of major Texas water projects will come to a halt unless new standards laid down by the National Water Resources Council are reversed, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby says.

Hobby, joined by State Sen. Max Sherman of Amarillo, and serving as spokesman for four Texas water advisory councils, urged President Nixon and Texas congressmen to alter the regulations.

"Unless this policy is reversed," said Hobby, "Texas stands to be harmed very substantially."

The new principles and standards for planning water and related land resources are effective October 25.

While acknowledging that they have merit, Hobby said, they would destroy "the long-established partnership between federal and state governments for development of water resources."

For all practical purposes, the thrust of "principles and standards" wipes out the present day mechanics for use and control of water, and falls short of practical substitutes.

A proposed "discount rate" feature, claimed Hobby, precludes federal participation in traditional development of water projects. The standards, he maintained, would further force impractical planning for projects on an in-state basis.

In the last five years, more than $850 million have been invested by the local, state and federal governments in Texas water projects. About a fourth of that was federal money.

Refusal by the federal government to finance in the future "non-reimbursable" features such as fish and wildlife, recreational benefits and flood control provisions would ban parts of water projects that "tend to enhance the environment," said Hobby.

DOUBLE-HEADER CONVENTION PLANNED

Legislators are being polled on a proposal to split next year's constitutional convention into two sessions—one from January 8 to April 6 and the second after mid-June.

Sen. Bill Meier of Euless offered the suggestion, contending that the convention may be poorly attended just before May and June primary elections. Many legislators, who are delegates to the convention, will face opponents for re-election.

The recess, as proposed by Meier, would give legislators nearly a month to campaign before the May primary and another month before the June runoff.

Meanwhile, House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. urged lawmakers to set a 90-day flexible and extendable timetable for the convention and try to finish the job of rewriting the constitution by early April. He said legislators can do it by making use of the research of the Constitutional Revision Commission as a beginning point. Daniel said taxpayers will be saved nearly $2 million if the convention winds up in 90 days rather than extending over the full 170 days allowed.

ALLOWABLE STILL AT 100 PERCENT

For the 20th straight month, the Texas Railroad Commission set the November statewide oil allowable at 100 percent.

Uncertainty of supplies for winter months and possible cuts in imports from the Middle East were cited by Chairman Jim Langdon.

Exceptions again were made for the East Texas field, Kelly-Snyder, Tom O'Connor and several others, where the allowable was retained at less than 90 percent of potential.

APPOINTMENTS

Netum Steed and G. L. Vinson of Wichita Falls and Jack Warren of Tyler were named to the national Petroleum Council.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe appointed Hugh Half Jr. of San Antonio to San Antonio River Authority board of directors; John A. Mehos of Galveston to the Gulf State Marine Fisheries Commission; and Alcus Greer of Houston and William H. Sharp of Lubbock (reappointments) to the Commission on Fire Protection Personnel Standards and Education.

State Insurance Board has extended the appointment of Clay Cotten of Austin as state insurance commissioner for two years.

AG OPINIONS

Counties may use federal revenue share funds to contract with private non-profit corporations to construct recreational facilities for the aged, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

—There is no authority and no appropriation for paying state employees who resign or are dismissed (except in case of death) in lieu of accrued, unused vacation time.

—A California non-profit dental service corporation is not providing dental service in Texas by entering a contract to pay for dental services of a Delaware corporation, including its Texas facility employees, where dentists are not chosen by employees.

—The state comptroller must pay statutory witness fees for out-of-state witnesses into the court registry on certification by the judge that fees are necessary to compel attendance. A county can advance funds and be reimbursed by the state.

—A State Insurance Board order authorizing companies to set unusual risk rates subject to later board approval is not authorized.

—A reduction in appropriations for the State Board of Pardons and Paroles in event of refunding Justice Council of "continuing programs" during the fiscal year which ended August 31 is not required where a new program is funded September 1.

—Status of an area from dry to wet can only be accomplished by a "for" vote on a legalizing proposition, and transformation of a wet area to a dry area can only be accomplished by an "against" vote on a prohibitory proposition. A city prohibitory election which does not result in a vote unfavorable to the sale of alcoholic beverages has no effect at all upon the status of the city or any part.

—The owner of a title to a fractional interest in a patented survey less than total is not entitled to purchase only his proportionate share of the excess acreage of the survey.

COURTS SPEAK

A three-judge federal court in Dallas adopted the so-called "Plan B" for Texas congressional reapportionment, which will require some readjustment of existing boundaries. Attorney General Hill said he has no plans for further appeals. Motions to intervene in the case were rejected as not "timely."

A Corpus Christi district judge set an October 26 hearing on a state motion to cite Roloff Evangelistic Enterprises for contempt in operating two youth care facilities without state licenses.

The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld four convictions, including two life sentences, of a Dallas man in the shooting of three.

BOLLWORM PLOWUP EXTENDED

Agriculture Commissioner John White extended the cotton stalk destruction deadline "according to individual needs" in 14 rain-soaked South Texas counties.

An earlier extension had set the plow-up deadline for October 15 in zones 1 and 2 of the pink bollworm control area. Counties affected are Cameron, Hidalgo, Willacy, Starr, Zapata, Jim Hogg, Brooks, Kenedy, Webb, Duval, Jim Wells, Kleberg, Nueces and San Patricio.

AIR POLLUTION CONTROLS TO BE CHALLENGED

Texas will challenge new federal air pollution controls in the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals.

The controls seek to limit use of autos in Houston-Galveston, Dallas-Fort Worth and San Antonio. Austin-Waco and El Paso areas are also affected by the Environmental Protection Agency proposals.

The state contends EPA has failed to show any need for controls more stringent than the state's own and that the federal regulations may worsen pollution.

SHORT SHORTS

Texas Water Quality Board set a second hearing in Uvalde October 25 to determine what regulation will be necessary in Bexar, Kinney, Uvalde, Medina, Kendall, Comal and Hays counties to protect the Edwards Underground Reservoir against pollution.

Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission took in more than $1 million for the first time in a single month from beer, whiskey and wine permits during September.

Blizzards Drop First District Game To Strong Hamlin Team Friday Night

The Winters Blizzards dropped their opening district football game to the talented Hamlin Pied Pipers 50-0 here Friday night.

The Blizzards faced one of the strongest 2-A teams in the state—if not the strongest. Winters was unable to generate any scoring threats during the game because of the very stubborn Piper defense.

The scoring started midway through the first quarter when Hamlin's speedster Johnny Jones broke off tackle and raced 70 yards. On Hamlin's very next possession, Fullback Greg McAfee broke a trap play and raced about 60 yards to give Hamlin a 14-0 lead.

On the Blizzards' next possession, Hamlin's defensive halfback, Bill Cork picked off a Mitch Davis pass and returned it 30 yards to make the score 21-0.

Later in the second quarter, after a long Pied Piper drive, fullback Greg McAfee raced to the end zone from three yards out to give the Pipers a 28-0 halftime lead.

Early in the third quarter, again Johnny Jones broke loose off tackle and went 45 yards to stretch the Pied Piper lead to 35-0.

Hamlin scored two additional touchdowns later in the game which were due mainly to Blizzards mistakes.

The Blizzards, in spite of a lopsided score, did not at any time quit and give in to the opponents. The Blizzards defense played well for the most part but fell prey to the tremendous overall speed which the Hamlin Pied Pipers displayed.

By Congressman O. C. Fisher
21st District

Rep. Gerald Ford, a 25-year veteran from Michigan, was a popular choice for Vice President. Highly respected by both Republicans and Democrats in the Congress, Ford's nomination should be promptly approved by the House and Senate. I was one of those invited to the White House to witness President Nixon's announcement of Ford as his choice.

Gerald Ford is already being groomed as a possible presidential candidate in 1976. But much will depend upon the image he develops during the months ahead. In any event, he will have to compete with such men as Gov. Rockefeller, Gov. Reagan, and John Connally who in terms of sheer capability and capacity for leadership is generally considered preeminent at this time on the national scene.

But history has taught that the best man is not necessarily the choice for nomination by either party. Bloc votes in the big pivotal states under our outmoded electoral college system often influence the actions taken at national conventions.

Whether the Democrats, still plagued by the fallout from the abortive McGovern campaign, can come up with a strong candidate in 1976 remains to be seen. A good many hopefuls are already emerging. For example Senator Walter Mondale of Minnesota has been making noises. But his colleagues rate him low on the totem pole in terms of qualifications. Senator Edward Kennedy, rated by polls as a front runner at this time, if nominated would probably be another disaster. Senators Muskie and Humphrey, standing by in the wings, are both rated rather low by seasoned political observers. Senator Jackson, of Washington, probably possesses the best credentials among the Senatorial prospects.

But a lot of things can happen during the next two years. New names may emerge in both parties. The old American political maneuverings will be churning a way during the months ahead, as various candidates seek the limelight and court public favor.

District 6-AA teams opened conference play Friday night, with all three games played counting toward the final UIL district title.

Hamlin, still going strong without a loss this season, led the way into conference play, defeating Winters with a resounding 50-0. There was nothing spectacular about that win—in fact, Hamlin probably was harder put to hold Winters than in some of their previous outings with non-district opponents. It was simply a case of weight, speed, and experience, against the lack of the same for the losing team. Even though the scoreboard may have groaned with the one-sided score, the Blizzards were not a whipped team when it was over, even though they were beaten. The Blizzards still were raring to go, even on the last play of the game, as outdistanced as they were; they never gave up during the entire one-sided contest. The Pipers had experienced some long droughty periods for the past couple of years, and are making up for it this season. The Hamlin bunch is state champion material, and if they continue to play as they have thus far this season, they'll go a long way in the overtimes.

Hamlin hosts Haskell this week, and perhaps some indication of Haskell's strength may be seen.

The Haskell Indians, who have experienced two losses in pre-conference outings, came on strong against Anson Friday night, defeating the Tigers 29-13, to take the second chair in district.

The Ballinger Bearcats, also with two losses under their belt in pre-district trials, knocked over Stamford 27-20 at Stamford last week. Yardage gained in that contest was about even, with Stamford making more in the air and less on the ground than Ballinger.

Ballinger hosts the Winters Blizzards this week, in the annual renewal of an age-old rivalry. So anything can happen, as past records do not count so far as predicting this game. The Blizzards will be up for this contest, not only because of their try for a comeback from last Friday's loss, but because of the "Runnels County Championship" game.

Stamford hosts Anson this week, but because of the difference in records and past performances of the two teams, the result may not give much of an indication of anybody's strength.

It will take a couple or three more weeks before any kind of prediction regarding second place in the district can be made.

Fall is an ideal time to start a compost pile. There's a ready supply of grass clippings and tree and shrub leaves now, but more importantly, the rotted compost will be ready for use come spring. Following are several tips to help you get started in the compost business.

1. Construct some type of retaining wall to prevent blowing and to keep the organic matter from drying out. It can be either a temporary wood or wire framework or a more permanent brick or concrete structure.

2. If possible, divide the bin into two compartments, one for current use and one for decaying compost.

3. Begin by placing a 4- to 6-inch layer of organic matter on the ground, followed by 4- or 5-inch layer of topsoil.

4. Continue to place alternate layers of organic matter and topsoil on the pile, always ending up with a layer of topsoil in the middle to hold water.

5. Keep the piles moist at all times to hasten decomposition. During periods of dry weather, water it on a regular schedule. To speed your summer composting, you may even want to keep the pile covered with a sheet of plastic film to reduce evaporation.

6. Fertilize the pile every four or six weeks to hasten the bacterial activity. Apply at the rate of a half pound of balanced and complete fertilizer (having all three elements) per 10 square feet of compost.

7. Turn the pile, mixing organic matter and topsoil, every two or three months. After four to six months, the material should be ready for use.

As organic matter is worked into the soil, it will perform many valuable functions. Water penetration and drainage both will be improved. It will bring with it essential nutrients to add to the soil's fertility. Moreover, organic matter will help trap fertilizers which you apply to the soil and hold them for plant use.

Composts are becoming increasingly popular with all types of gardeners, organic or otherwise. They're a good investment in time and effort, and they're certainly worth a try in your gardening program.

GARDEN CHECK LIST FOR OCTOBER

1. Apply a complete fertilizer to the lawn in early or mid-October at the rate of 15 to 20 pounds of 8-8-8 or equivalent per 1,000 square feet of area. In areas where cool season grasses are used they are in active growth at this time. The warm season grasses (Bermuda and St. Augustine) will be better prepared for the winter dormant season.

2. Repair that sagging fence gate by installing a wire and tumbuckle from the upper corner of the hinge side to the lower corner of the latch side. It will save your temper as well as the gate as you carry leaves and do other fall garden chores.

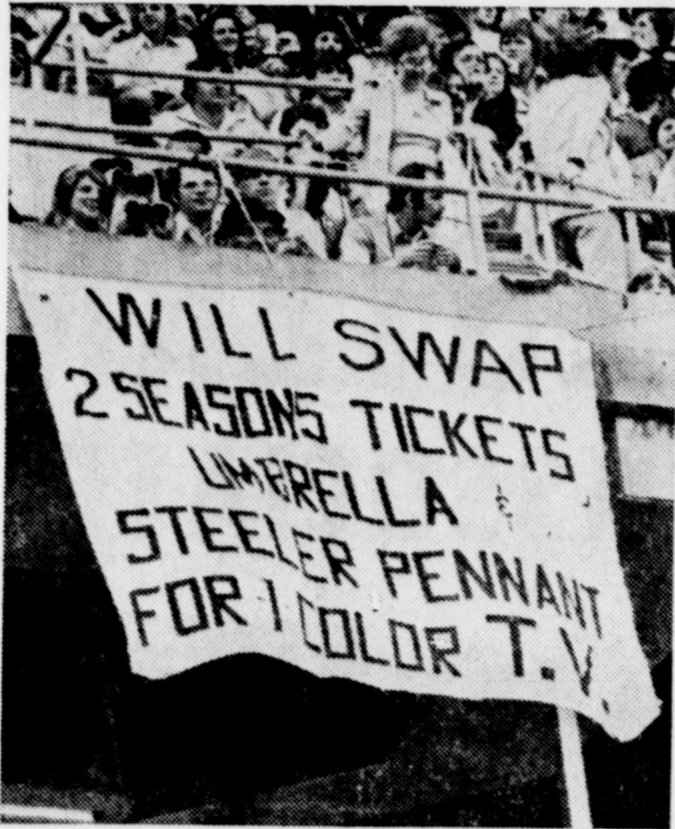

3. Take time to observe the brilliant colors of many of our native plants. Consider including several of these in your landscape where adapted and suitable.

4. In the mild-winter areas of Texas plant petunias now for a bright splash of color during the winter and spring.

5. As October brings the gardening season to a close, give thought and attention to gardening equipment. As you clean tools and implements mark those needing repair so you can either do it yourself or take them to the shop during the slow season so it will be ready when needed next spring.

6. A bucket or tub of dry sand, to which a small amount of oil has been added, provides an excellent means of cleaning soil working tools.

7. Re-pot house plants. Use a rich garden soil or better yet, purchase one of the packaged soil mixes from your nursery or garden center. This will help eliminate many insect and disease problems.

8. Plant spring flowering bulbs and bulb-like plants in late October through November. Precool tulip bulbs for 45 to 60 days at 40 degrees F. The vegetable drawer in the refrigerator makes an excellent chilling area.

9. Check broad-leaved evergreens as Camellia, Gardenia, Holly and Evonymus for scale insects. If present they can be controlled by spraying with dormant oil, Malathion, or Diazinon. Do not use oil if temperatures of 85 or higher are predicted within a few days.

10. Dig and store Caladium Tubers if they are large and healthy.

11. Continue to rake leaves and add to compost pile. Moisten all leaves thoroughly as they are placed in compost bin.

12. Prepare tulip beds for those bulbs being chilled for November planting.

13. Control brown patch disease on lawns.

14. Flowering annuals to sow in October include: Cornflower, Larkspur, California Poppy, Sweet Alyssum, Blue Bonnets, and Drummond Phlox.

15. Prepare pansy and sweet-pea beds.

16. Be ready to plant pansies and calendulas as soon as the started plants are available in Ever take binoculars with you on a fishing trip? No, I don't mean a hunting trip—I mean fishing.

Most everybody takes a pair of binoculars when hunting deer and other big game—but very few use them while fishing, unless it be in the Gulf of Mexico. Even there the use is rare.

We highly recommend binoculars to anglers—even if they have keen eyes and can spot fish feeding, see a school of minnows swimming, or shad jumping—from quite some distance away. Most of us can use that extra boost that binoculars give to vision while fishing, even more than in hunting.

In hunting you look for the animal itself, but in fishing you're seeking "signs" of fish—evidence that they are in the area even though out of your sight. You look for movement on the water, or of the water, as well as activities of the live food that fish seek.

Birds circling are a definite sign of food directly below them. Quite often it proves to be a school of whites chasing shad, but black bass can be located the same way.

A heron standing statue-still in the shallow waters of a gulf bay, close to shore or perched atop a submerged rock in deep water, means (if it stays there any length of time) that there are small fish nearby. And where small fish are, big fish soon will be—come feeding time.

A reliable dealer can guide you in selecting the right binoculars. Mainly it's a matter of personal preference as to quality, power and weight.

One thing for sure—a sharp pair of binoculars can, quite often, increase your fishing success immeasurably.

Try 'em—you'll like 'em.
