"Takes Two To Tango," goes the saying, and likewise, it takes more than two to form a Congo line. The same can be said in regards to planning and promoting to successful conclusion something like the upcoming Winters 85th Birthday Jamboree.

There has been, is, and will be, a lot of work connected with production of this Jamboree . . . two or three people—or even half-a-dozen—cannot get the job done.

In the beginning, the directors of the Chamber of Commerce appointed a Jamboree steering committee; then separate committees for the several facets of the proposed celebration were named. These separate committees are working only on their part of the celebration.

But time is growing short, the big committee says. They are anxious to receive the final plan reports.

This is going to be one of the biggest celebrations to be held in Winters, according to the steering committee — perhaps equalling the Diamond Jubilee whoopeedoo of 10 years ago. All the work connected with the celebration will get done, but it will be much easier if we all pitch in and help to put it over. The working committees need our help, and if the rest of us are the least bit interested, they'll get it.

If blue ribbons were handed out for the most ridiculous legislative effort, H. B. 560 (Texas Legislature) would, without a doubt, take top honors. It's to laugh, really!

According to a bulletin from the Texas Press Association, "most of the act relating to false, misleading and deceptive trade practices makes sense. However, the language in sub-section (21) of the act must have been written without any thought being given as to its effect on advertisers, advertising and consumers," (who the legislators are supposedly trying to protect):

"(21) attaching a quantity limit, time limit, or condition that additional goods or services be purchased to an advertised offer for goods or services, including a free offer, without disclosing the limits and conditions in the advertisement in close proximity with, and in the same type size, lettering, or writing as the prices or the mention of the free offer." [Emphasis ours.]

The bill has passed the house and has been referred to the senate's Human Resources Committee.

What this means, simply, is that if an advertiser places a quantity limit on an advertised item, such as "Limit 1," this item must be in the same size type as the price of the item! For instance, the headlines on this page are in 60-point type. If the price of an item in an advertisement is in that point size, then the "Limit 1" line must be in the same size type.

Hooooooo, boy!

RECOGNIZED—Mrs. Frank Carter of Winters and Arnold Frerich of Rowena were recognized as the Runnels County Outstanding 4-H

Leaders at the District 7 banquet held in San Saba recently. They received plaques.

Plans Made for Tour of Runnels S&W Conservation District

Final plans have been completed for the 1975 annual Conservation Tour of the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District, Arthur Eggemeyer, chairman of the district, has announced.

The tour will be held Tuesday, June 3, beginning at 9:30 a. m. at the C. H. Wylie Estate (Chadbourne) Ranch headquarters, located near Bronte. Several stops will be made along the tour route to observe conservation practices in various stages of completion on rangeland, pastureland, and wildland, which are being applied to improve, protect, and maintain our natural resources, Eggemeyer said.

In connection with the tour, the West Texas Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts will hold their meeting at the ranch. In addition, the Texas Section, Society for Range

Small Grain Prospects Are Looking Good

Prospects for a small grain crop for North Runnels are "very good" at this time, barring some unforeseen natural disaster such as heavy hail or hard wind-blown rains. Some of the wheat crop in the area already has been damaged to a great extent by hail, however, according to reports.

Farmers and grain men expect that harvest of this year's wheat crop will begin in about two weeks. Some sample cuttings have been made in this area, but moisture still is too high to be profitable. Some oats have been cut.

This year's production of small grain, in this area is expected to surpass that of last year, when lack of rainfall throughout the growing season caused a disaster for farmers.

Railroad grain cars already are being sidetracked in the Winters yards, in anticipation of the coming harvest.

City Orders Paving Of Several Streets

Winters City Council, in a meeting Monday of last week, approved an ordinance ordering paving of several streets in Winters, with the City to pay one-tenth of the costs of such paving, and the property owners to pay nine-tenths.

It could not be determined how many square feet of paving will be done, but portions of at least 15 streets and alleys will be affected, City Hall spokesmen said.

The ordinance calls for excavating, raising, grading and filling and paving of asphalt and stone, of the several streets included in this project.

In the past, in many instances, paving of streets was done on a voluntary basis, with property owners depositing the funds to pay for the work, and the City paying for pavement of intersections. This ordinance calls for an assessment against the property, with payment to be worked out between the property owners and the city.

City Hall sources said Tuesday that true costs of this paving project had not been fully determined, but that this information would be available within another week, and published. It was understood that payment terms will be worked out between the property owners and the City, when all information is available.

Several property owners already have deposited some monies with the city to have certain portions of streets adjacent to their property paved. These payments will be honored and credited against the total costs, it was stated.

Pictures of the Winters High School Blizzard Band while the band was at Six Flags recently have arrived, and will be at The Enterprise office for those who ordered.

Cost of the pictures will be $3 each, and they may be picked up any time during business hours.

The paving projects will include portions of the following streets and alleys:

Broadway, east and west from Main to Church.

Parsonage, east and west from Murray to Rogers.

Van Ness, east and west from Rogers to Cryer.

City Receives $6,341 Taxes

The City of Winters has received $6,341.45 from the State Comptroller, collected through the 1 percent sales taxes for the second round of monthly sales tax payments from the state.

Total city and state sales taxes are collected locally, and forwarded to the State Comptroller, who in turn returns the city's share, less specified service charges.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said

May payments for the state were up from the $16.1 million returned April 15 when the monthly system replaced the old quarterly system with its 60 to 90-day lag time.

Bullock said the big payments will come in June when city allocations are made of the quarterly returns paid by merchants since April 30. The great bulk of that money hadn't reached the Comptroller's office by the May 2 cutoff date for the May payments.

Summer Home Ec Program Scheduled

The summer phase of homemaking, an extension of homemaking education, will be in progress through the month of June, Mrs. Pat Hambright, Winters High School homemaking teacher, announced this week.

The program is for both youth and adults in the community.

An organizational meeting for youths will be held in the Homemaking Building at 2 p. m. May 30. High school students who have had one year of homemaking are eligible for credit if they choose to carry out a home experience.

Adults who are interested in furthering their homemaking skills are invited to attend an organization meeting in the Homemaking Building at 7 p. m. May 30. Mrs. Hambright said those attending are asked to bring suggestions as to types of classes or workshops preferred.

Rains Soak Countryside

Thunderstorms have walked across the North Runnels area several times during the past few days, soaking farm and ranch lands, and sometimes leaving a trail of damage as they dropped crop-destroying hail, as they left welcomed moisture.

Hail damage has not been extensive—as of Tuesday night—overall, but in some sections, near complete loss has been experienced. Some what located in South Taylor county north of Drasco was about 80 percent destroyed, as two hailstorms hit within a few days. Lighter hail has been reported from almost every section of North Runnels, but damage has been light, according to most observers.

Heavy rains fell in the Winters section over the weekend, bringing the monthly total to 3.54 inches. In the Drasco community 0.40 inch was received Saturday, and 1.20 inches Monday and Tuesday of this week. Wayne Hunt at Bradshaw reported 2.4 inches last week, 1.2 inches this week, with some light hail. Year's total for Bradshaw now is 10.4, Hunt said.

In the Pumphrey community, 4.7 inches of rain has been received since the beginning of the rains a few days ago.

At Wilmeth, 5.00 inches had been received to Tuesday noon, since the rains began, with 1.80 falling Monday and Tuesday, E.F. Albro reported.

In the Wingate, 2.5 inches had been received Monday afternoon and early Tuesday, to bring the rain-season's total to 5.5.

In the Crews area, east of Winters, 1.6 inch of rain had fallen Tuesday morning, and a total of 2.5 received over the weekend.

SPLASHINGLY REFRESHING—Nothing feels as good to kids as water running down a street gutter after a shower. But mothers who have to wash the muddy clothes . . . they'd sometimes like to see the rain fall and gutters run full any place not handy for younguns to splash through. These kids took advantage of the full gutters after last Saturday's heavy showers in Winters.

Mrs. Robert James Moore

Miss Smith, Mr. Moore
Married In Lubbock

Deborah Kay Smith and Robert James Moore were united in marriage in an early morning ceremony at 9 o'clock Saturday, May 24, in the courtyard of the Garden and Arts Center in Lubbock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.H. Smith of Lubbock. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Z. Moore of Winters.

The Rev. Jimmy Hardy

officiated for the double ring ceremony before an arch entwined with white roses and greenery.

Harpicordist Charles Gunn and soloist Mrs. J. Mark Hardy provided wedding music, and Mrs. Pat Hammonds, sister of the bridegroom, presented a reading on marriage from "The Prophet."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length Victorian gown of peau de soie combined with Chantilly lace to form bishop sleeves which fastened at the wrists with satin buttons, and a rounded yoke with high neckline, accented with hand clipped lace. Her veil of illusion fell from a lace band. She carried a bouquet of white roses, carnations and baby's breath.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Ron Stricklin of Bossier City, La., sister of the bride. She wore a floor length floral pink and orchid gown.

Ben Shoemaker of Amarillo was best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was hosted by the bride's parents on the terrace of the Garden Center. Guests were registered by Lisa Smith, cousin of the bride. The bride's table was decorated with an arrangement of white gladiolas, and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, which was made and served by the brides aunt, Mrs. Ralph Smith of Lubbock. The orange punch bowl was centered with a multiple fruit ring, made and served by another aunt, Mrs. Glenn Smith, also of Lubbock. Mrs. Garlin Hankins of Suipher Springs, also an aunt of the bride, served fruit and melon balls, miniature sandwiches and rolls.

The bride is a graduate of Monterey High School in Lubbock, and is a senior at Texas Tech University. She is employed by the College of Engineering.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Winters High School, and received a bachelor of arts degree in sociology from Texas Tech, where he is a graduate student in family studies and is a teaching assistant.

Following a wedding trip to South Texas, the couple will be at home in Lubbock.

The bridegroom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at K-Bob's Steakhouse in Lubbock.

Attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E.Z. Moore, Mike and Marvin of Winters, Sylvia Moore of Denton, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hammonds and Shannon Zane of Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Autry Jr. of Temple, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gehrels and family of Winters.

We were all pleased last Monday afternoon when Karlene Eastman brought her 4th grade music pupils to our home. They each played an instrument, sang songs, and when our residents joined in on one of the numbers, we felt that we had a good rhythm band.

Four new residents have come to make this their home. They are Mrs. Linda B. Evans, who is a sister of Mrs. A.L. Crockett. Mrs. Hazel Bradley comes from Ballinger, and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Proctor from Stamford, we hope these people will enjoy their home here.

The Rev. Steinburg brought the 4th Sunday afternoon message. Mrs. Steinburgh played the piano. Homer Hodge and J.W. Bahlman led the singing, when the Church of Christ brought the 3rd Sunday message in song.

Mrs. Birdie Nicholson was transferred to North Runnels Hospital, we hope she can be back with us soon.

Our thanks to Mrs. Jack Harrison who brought the beautiful dried flowers, lace, and other materials for us to work with in our crafts. We hope to begin working with these nice things very soon.

A Prelude To WINTERS' 85th BIRTHDAY JAMBOREE

EARLY DAY COTTON GIN—Cotton was coming into its own in the Winters area, and this scene of Duncan's Gin in about 1911 was typical of the times, before the mechanical cotton stripper was known, and before cotton became a crop of the past for many present-day farmers.

DRY GOOD STORE—This picture of a "modern" dry goods store, operated in Winters in the early 1900s. The "drummers," salesmen of those long-ago days, traveled by hack, wagon, stage, and later by train, to serve their customers. Quite often, the arrival of a "drummer" was cause for some little extra excitement about town, and ladies of the area soon made some excuse of some kind to visit the store after the salesman had been around, to see what was being offered, and what were the latest styles.

CONFECTIONERY—The people of young Winters had a sweet tooth, too. Court Meeks and John Jackson operated this confectionery about 1905. In addition to Coca-Cola, cherry Cider apparently was a most popular drink, as indicated by the rows and rows of bottles on the back bar.

H. D. Agent's Column

Pennywise Is Not Always POUND Foolish

Try to answer this question from the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA): What do poundwise, pennywise shoppers gain by buying nonfat dry milk?

Poundwise, there's little to gain. Pennywise, lots.

So said Joe Rubis, chief of the Standardization Branch of the Dairy Division in USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

His Branch is responsible for establishing federal grade standards for manufactured dairy products like cheese and butter. He explained that nonfat dry milk is made by removing nearly all the fat and water from pasteurized liquid milk.

As a result, when reconstituted with water, nonfat dry milk has about half the calories of whole milk and has the same nutritive value as fresh skim milk.

That's a real plus for poundwise weight watchers. Besides being low in calories, however, nonfat dry milk is economical. Rubis pointed out that nonfat dry milk costs considerably less per serving than whole milk and is in abundant supply these days.

USDA figures indicate that the supply of nonfat dry milk for May will be 103 percent above the national supply a year ago.

And that's a real plus for pennywise budget watchers. According to Rubis, there are even more advantages in buying nonfat dry milk. First, in powdered form, nonfat dry milk can be stored for up to several months without refrigeration. Just make sure to keep it in a cool, dry place.

Second, nonfat dry milk can be used both for drinking and cooking.

Rubis offered some tips on how to use nonfat dry milk: -Always use cool water when reconstituting nonfat dry milk.

-When using it as a beverage, reconstitute the nonfat dry milk several hours before serving, to allow enough time to chill.

-After it is reconstituted, nonfat dry milk should be refrigerated and handled like fresh milk.

When buying "instant" nonfat dry milk (which has larger particles more easily dissolved in water than regular nonfat dry milk), look for the U.S. Extra Grade shield on the package label.

According to Rubis, the shield means that the milk meets high quality requirements, and was produced under strict sanitary conditions.

To receive the "U.S. Extra Grade" designation, instant nonfat dry milk must have a sweet and pleasing flavor and a natural color. It also must dissolve easily when mixed with water.

Mr. Pena is a graduate of Ballinger High School, and is a junior at Angelo State University.

A December wedding is planned.

Fisher Named To ACA Trustee Board

Former Congressman O. C. Fisher of San Angelo has accepted an invitation to become a member of the board of trustees of the Americans for Constitutional Action (ACA), which is headquartered in Washington.

A 32-year veteran in Congress prior to his retirement at the end of 1974, Fisher becomes one of 10 ACA trustees, and shares the position with such distinguished personalities as John Wayne of Hollywood and Bill Tuck, a former Congressman and former Governor of Virginia.

Non-profit and non-political, ACA is devoted to the preservation of constitutional government, and to the practice of fiscal sanity in the Congress.

Widely recognized as a conservative-oriented organization, ACA gathers and disseminates vital facts and information regarding current issues. At the end of each session it publishes a report showing how each member of Congress voted on important and decisive issues. Based upon recorded votes, the analysis is generally accepted by both conservatives and liberals as a fairly accurate reflection of each member's philosophy.

In accepting a position as an ACA trustee, ex-Rep. Fisher said he considers it an honor and a privilege to serve.

"ACA is a highly prestigious organization which engages in no witch hunts but simply tells it like it is. It serves a very useful purpose by providing the public with facts and information they can depend upon," Fisher said.

KRUEGER'S KOLUMN

By CONG. BOB KRUEGER 21st Texas District

While travelling in the district last weekend, I was struck by two repeated refrains. One was the strong support and respect for the President's decisive action in recovering our sailors. I commend the President for that action. The second was the echo of what I have been hearing for a long time: the desire of the American people for strong leadership.

The task of providing sustained national leadership is not demonstrated in a single action, but is a long-term undertaking. The nation leaders we have most respected, in our nation and other nations—people like Lincoln, Washington, and Churchill—have asked their fellow countrymen not to give less, but to give more than they would normally give to their nation. Leaders must speak from a strong sense of their own inner spiritual resources, and they must tap that well of inner spiritual strength that allows them to hold firmly to basic principles when confusing events would tend to distract others. Leaders, in our nation and in other nations, who have succeeded have done so because they responded to an awareness of their inner potential, and the potential of all mankind. Moreover, because they recognize an inner bond among all mankind, they are able to call out our best hopes and our finest action.

The reservoir of goodness is waiting in the American people. If, instead of asking our people to consume more, our leaders at the national, state, and local levels will help people to discover what they can offer their nation, our country will be propelled in new and positive directions as we look toward our Bicentennial year. That would be to our shared advantage.

The next meeting will be in the fellowship hall of the Methodist Church with Mrs. H.O. Polk and Mrs. Mabel Bagwell as co-hostess.

SPILL BROS. CO. Winters, Texas

MR. FARMER:

Small grain harvest is upon us and we wish to remind you that you have several choices as to the way your crop can be marketed.

1. Cash Sale

We pay you top market price load by load as the grain is delivered.

2. Grain Bank Storage

Oats and barley can be stored in our grain bank to be milled out to you later as cubes or mixed feed. There is no charge for this storage service.

3. Commercial Storage

The grain is stored in our elevator or forwarded to terminal storage for later sale. You have complete control of when this grain is sold and may sell all or any part of it at any time you wish. This method is superior to on-the-farm storage in that you are protected against shrinkage and deterioration of grade. We must know in advance of unloading if you want your grain to go commercial storage. This is because we will be hedging the crop daily as received. Grain not so marked will be considered sold for cash.

The crop looks good at this point and we pledge our best to assist you in selling it for top value.
