... IF ... IF ... IF—The "ifs" are big and numerous for the 1975 milo crop. "If" it rains within a few days; "if" all conditions remain favorable ... this should be a good milo year for North Runnels. At the present time, conditions are such that many grain men and farmers are expecting as good a milo crop as this year's wheat crop, now mostly harvested.

Extent of Cotton Damage Unknown

The extent of damage to cotton by herbicides on several thousand acres in the northwestern section of Runnels County still has not been determined, C.T. Parker Jr., County Agriculture Agent, said last week.

Some 6,000 to 8,000 acres of cotton are affected, he said.

Some type of herbicide has fallen or flooded onto the affected areas, Parker said, resulting in damage to the young cotton. Cotton plants affected take on a peculiar appearance, with long leaves resembling okra leaves, it was said. A team of experts from A&M inspected the affected cotton several days ago, and the results of their tests indicated that a "hormone" type herbicide had caused the damage, Parker said.

The amount of damage really depends on the weather, the county agent said. If rains come at the right time, there may be no long-lasting ill effects, he said.

Parker said personnel of the State Department of Agriculture made an inspection tour of the area Tuesday of last week, and they also said that indications were that a herbicide had damaged the young cotton.

County Agent Parker said last week that this incident may be a prime factor in causing county regulations concerning use of herbicides within the county. At present, he said, there are no regulations for the county. He said that setting up such regulations would be the responsibility of the County Commissioners. With regulations, he said, there would be "a lot of red tape," and there would be some expense to individual farmers.

Champ Keeps Title

Mary Bauer, Ladies City Golf Champion in 1975, retained her title in the championship tournament held at the Winters Country Club Saturday, finishing in with a first place. Marlene Wood was runner-up for the championship flight.

In the first flight, Louise Davis and June Marks were tied for top honors, with Mrs. Davis winning on the second hole of the sudden death play-off.

Tina Geistmann was first place winner in the second flight, with Vinnie Knight runner-up.

In the third flight, Patsy Rogers won the honors, and Mickie Gann, runner-up.

In the closest-to-pin contest, Beth Whitlow was winner. Most accurate drive on No. 7 contest was won by Joanie McAdoo. Peggy Jackson won the low-putt contest. The "oops" award went to Janice Merrill.

School Cafeteria Newly Decorated

Extensive renovation of the school cafeteria has been completed, Bill Graves, superintendent of schools, said this week.

Walls of the cafeteria have been completely paneled, and the woodwork has been painted.

Work was done by the school maintenance crews, at a cost of about $800, Supt. Graves said.

Gospel Meeting At Church Of Christ Begins July 6

Reuel Lemmons of Austin will be the evangelist for a series of gospel meetings at the Winters Main Street Church of Christ, beginning Sunday, July 6, and continuing through July 11.

Services will begin at 7:30 each evening, with Sunday services at 10:30 a. m.

Paul Wallace, minister of the church, said the public is invited to attend these meetings.

Reuel Lemmons is a native of Pocahontas, Ark. He was reared in Oklahoma, and preached his first sermon in his home town of Tipton in 1930.

Lemmons was graduated cum laude from Abilene Christian College in 1935, and preached at Tipton eight years. He served as minister of Central Church of Christ in Cleburne 12 years. In 1955 he became editor of the Firm Foundation, one of the leading journals of the Church of Christ, and continues in that capacity. He also has served on the staff of 20th Century Christian for 20 years, and is the author of two books, Abundant Living, and The King and His Kingdom. He edited the Majestic Hymnal, a hymn book widely used by Churches of Christ.

He has been a member of the board of trustees of Abilene Christian College since 1950, and a member of the board of Pepperdine University since 1971.

Housing Start In 3 Weeks

"We hope to begin work in three weeks" on construction of a 12-unit rental housing project in Winters, Roy Clark, president of the Bright Co., Fort Worth, told The Enterprise Monday.

The two-section project, with six two-bedroom rental units in each, will be constructed on the property north of Huffman House, between Huffman's and the Winters Housing Authority project.

Originally, plans were made to build across East Dale south of Huffman House, but these plans were changed some time ago, Clark said.

This is a private-enterprise project, as opposed to a similar project which the Winters Rental Housing Corporation, a non-profit organization, has been investigating for two or three years.

Clark, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark of Winters, said construction of the Winters project will begin about the same time a similar project will be started in Colorado City by the Bright Co.

All units of the project will front a private street which will be built from North Grant east, to include the entire area. Clark said these units will be of the "garden type," with private car-ports and patios, and will be of brick construction. Each individual rental unit will have two bedrooms, and all kitchen appliances provided. There will be ample storage space, he said, and rooms will be carpeted and decorated individually. The area will be landscaped, he said, and all bills will be paid.

Clark said response to the announcement several months ago that the Bright Co. would build the rental units has been good, and after construction of this project is completed, the company may build another in Winters, if the need is indicated. The Bright Co. has similar projects in Fort Worth and Arlington.

Pony Show July 12

Planning is being completed for staging of the 11th annual Shetland Pony Show, to be held here Saturday, July 12, at John W. Norman's Lazy "N" Stables.

The show is sponsored by the West Texas Shetland Pony Breeders Association.

It is expected that ponies from a large area of Texas, and some from Oklahoma, will be entered in the show.

Paving Will Begin July 7

Paving of several streets in Winters' residential sections is scheduled to begin next Monday, July 7, according to Buford Baldwin, City Secretary.

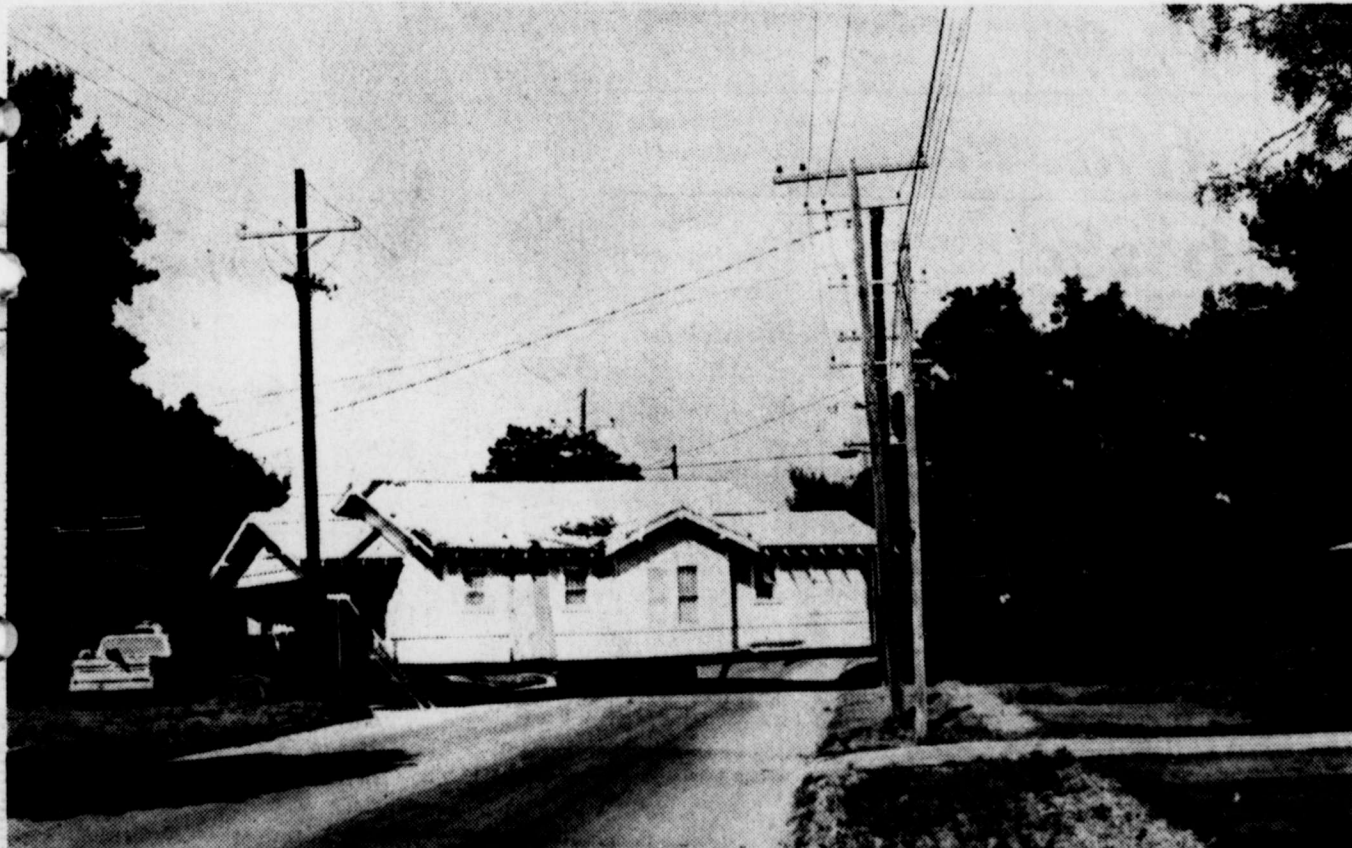

Reece Albert Co. of San Angelo has been awarded the contract for the paving, at $1.70 per linear foot.

This paving project originally was scheduled to begin earlier in the spring, but because of several factors, was postponed until July 7. At the beginning of working up the project, the City had solicited property owners who desired to have paving done on their streets. Several property owners had deposited funds to pay for their paving, before the City Council voted to go the "assessment" route and pave more of the street than would have been paved under the original plans.

This "assessment" plan as adopted calls for many blocks to be paved, with the cost of the paving to be assessed against the property owners. Details are being worked out on an individual basis for payment, it was understood. Some owners will pay all of the amount at one time, while others will pay on an instalment plan, it was stated.

A complete list of the streets to be paved and the adjacent property involved has been published in The Enterprise some time ago.

TRAFFIC STOPPER—This house, the old Benson place, which had been located on the southeast corner of State and Frisco streets, stopped traffic on West Dale Street late last Friday afternoon, as it was being moved. The house was so big it became virtually "wedged" between utility poles and trees as attempts were made to turn west on Dale. It required two big trucks with winches to pick it up and turn it into position so it could be towed on its journey.

NON-HEROIC ENDING—The Atlas missile base about five miles east of Winters was, for a short time in the early Sixties, one of a network of defensive retaliatory space-weapon firing stations. In the deep underground silo rested, for a time, a supposedly, nuclear war-headed missile, kept ready for instant flight against an enemy. A close-guarded unit of the U. S. Air Force, the missile was manned and armed for only a few months, to public knowledge. For several years, the base has been vacant, and grass and tumbleweeds almost obscured the heavy doors and the crew entrance. The base was sold some time ago to a private individual. Above is shown some of the "innards" of the several-stories-deep silo—the catwalks and metal walls, and air conditioning ductwork frames, being pulled out for scrap ... and the big steel and concrete doors again sealed over the top of the empty hole remaining. The base served its purpose for a time, and then was retired ... hopefully never to be needed again.

WEEKLY COLUMN

Getting the Freezer Ready

Freezers need defrosting and a thorough cleaning before storing the new crops of fruit and vegetables, Mrs. O'Connor stated. She suggested consumers should consult their freezer use-care booklet. But, if it's misplaced here are some suggestions:

Unplug the freezer and remove all frozen food. Store the food in a cardboard box or wrap newspapers around it to prevent thawing. Place clean towels in the bottom of the freezer. Pour cold tap water along the sides to thaw the frost. Using a wooden spoon may help loosen the frost, but don't use metal, because it will scratch the lining of the freezer, Mrs. O'Connor cautioned. As the towels absorb the water, wring them out and replace. When all frost has been removed, wash the inside one quart warm water to which one tablespoon baking soda has been added. Rinse with clean water and wipe dry. Replug the freezer and wait about 30 minutes before replacing the food. Turning to other freezer use reminders, she said to take an inventory of food and place the packages which have been stored longest at the top or front.

Now is a good time to match up polyethylene freezer boxes with their lids. Then when it is time to package the food, this job is done. Most homemakers prefer using the plastic freezer bags with cover boxes. This protects the bag from getting holes in it during storage and freezes in a uniform shape for a better fit. This season may be a good time to purchase a blancher. Since it's necessary to use one gallon of water for each pound (pint) of vegetables, a large blancher may be the best kind to buy. A

LEGAL NOTICE

ABILENE & SOUTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY, NOTICE OF PROPOSED ABANDONMENT

Notice is hereby given that the Interstate Commerce Commission is being requested to issue a certificate of public convenience and necessity permitting abandonment of the entire line of railroad of Abilene & Southern Railway Company extending from railroad milepost 0.0 near Abilene, Texas, in a southerly direction to milepost 39, the end of the line at Winters, Texas, a distance 39.0 miles, in Taylor and Rannels Counties, Texas. This line includes the stations of Abilene, Tuscola, Bradshaw and Winters. In a related application The Texas and Pacific Railway Company is seeking authority to acquire and operate Abilene & Southern Railway track from milepost 0.0 to milepost 7.31 near Abilene, Texas.

The interest of the employees will be protected by "the Burlington conditions" as set out in Chicago, B. & Q. R. Co. Abandonment, 257 I.C.C. 700.

REASONS FOR PROPOSED ABANDONMENT:

The reasons for this proposed abandonment are that the stations located on this section of line do not produce sufficient inbound or outbound traffic to allow the Applicant to operate these stations profitably. In 1974, the Applicant incurred significant losses on this section of line and does not anticipate any conditions which would allow profitable operation.

The line requires extensive embankment restoration and additional ballast. Five timber bridges require reconstruction or replacement in the near future.

The name and address of Applicant's representative to whom inquiries may be made is:

William R. McDowell, Vice President and General Counsel, Abilene & Southern Railway Company, 505 North Industrial Boulevard, Dallas, Texas, 75207.

In the opinion of the applicant, the granting of this authority sought in this application will not constitute a major Federal action having a significant effect upon the quality of the human environment.

The Interstate Commerce Commission will rule on this application without hearings unless protests are received which contain information indicating a need for such hearings. In accordance with the Commission's regulations (49 CFR 1100.250) in Ex Parte No. 55 (Sub-No. 4), Implementation National Environmental Policy Act, 1969, 340 I.C.C. 431 (1972), any protests may include a statement indicating the presence or absence of any effect of the requested Commission action on the quality of the human environment. If any such effect is alleged to be present, the statement should include information relating to the relevant factors set forth in Ex Parte No. 55 (Sub-No. 4), supra, Part (B) (1)-(5), 340 I.C.C. 431, 461.

Any protests referred to this notice (NO. AB-21) shall be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C. 20423, not later than September 1, 1975.

AUSTIN — Gov. Dolph Briscoe's veto of 136 college building projects (which he estimated would cost more than $1 billion) may be the subject of a court case.

University of Texas Board of Regents Chairman Allan Shivers said UT regents will defy the veto and go ahead with at least two of the rejected projects.

Shivers claims the veto is unconstitutional. He said the attorney general long ago held the governor cannot veto appropriations bills which do not call for specific expenditures.

The chairman further contends that UT projects will be financed with constitutional funds which cannot be controlled by an act of the legislature.

Briscoe maintains that UT, like other schools, must get College Coordinating Board approval of its construction projects under a law—or specific legislative approval. He voted the projects, in the first place, because he interpreted them as an effort to bypass the new statute by a subterfuge prior legislative approval through the appropriations riders.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock has indicated he will approve none of the UT building project vouchers in controversy without an attorney general's opinion. It has been hinted regents may seek a declaratory judgment in court to uphold their position.

Campaign Begins

Campaign for adoption of the proposed new state constitution November 4 already is shaping up.

Former Texas Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert will lead the drive for voter support.

Top officials who are supporting the new charter include Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, House Speaker Bill Clayton, Atty. Gen. John Hill and Supreme Court Chief Justice Joe Greenhill.

Governor Briscoe did not attend the initial meeting to kick off campaign plans. He made clear later that he has not made up his mind whether or not to support the revision. He has never been a supporter of annual legislative sessions, Briscoe reminded. The new constitution would provide for annual legislative sessions.

It also would broaden powers of the governor considerably.

Committee Recesses

A House committee studying possible impeachment proceedings against 229th District Judge O. P. Carrillo recessed until July 9 to allow its staff time to catalogue evidence.

Chairman Rep. De Witt Hale of Corpus Christi said he is hopeful the committee will complete its work and vote on its recommendations by August.

If the committee recommends impeachment, the House will convene three weeks later to hear the case. Should the House vote articles of impeachment, the Senate then must "try" the case. A two-thirds majority would be necessary to impeach.

Courts Speak

The State Supreme Court upheld an intermediate court judgment dissolving an injunction by Judge O. P. Carrillo against oil operations on the Clinton Manges Duval County ranch.

The Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed a life sentence given a Laredo rancher in the 1972 shooting of five Mexican aliens on his ranch.

A $535,866 judgment for a truck driver who was disabled when he ran into a train on a foggy night was upheld by the Supreme Court.

Truckers' $363,646 breach of contract suit verdict against the Houston Chronicle was affirmed by the Supreme Court. At issue was an agreement to transport newspapers.

An Austin district judge stopped Austin and Dallas commercial colleges from enrolling new students until they refund $230,000 in tuitions to former students. The judge also restrained an Indiana truck driving school from violations of the propriety school act.

Atty. Gen. John Hill held records on suspension or revocation of alcoholic beverage licenses, except those excepted by statute, are public and should be disclosed.

Patience is a quality that we hear little of these days. We take pills for immediate health, turn on TV for instant entertainment, and live in a society that often expects instant gratification and instant solutions. But government and legislation require patience and time.

People frequently and legitimately complain of regulations handed down by government agencies. Oftentimes representatives have drawn their legislation so hastily that they leave rulemaking authority entirely to the agencies which then sometimes act in high-handed doctrinaire and obtuse fashion.

One check in our system against badly drawn legislation is the Presidential veto.

Equally the legislative branch must act to control the excesses of the Executive Branch. Democracy is not a speedboat going swiftly and directly to its destination, but it avoids the submerged obstacles that can sink swifter totalitarian governments. Democracy is much more the raft which goes from side to side making its progress slowly, but which seldom sinks and can carry large numbers of drivers and passengers safely.

This past week the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee on which I serve reported out what is probably the largest bill dealing with energy ever written in the Board of Insurance to fix workmen's compensation coverage rates is public.

An applicant for an occupational driver's license must offer valid proof of having an auto liability insurance policy.

A private club license fee can be paid under protest. Texas Private Employment Agency Regulatory Board can prescribe fees for private employment agencies where an applicant loses a job found for him in 30 days of employment.

Appointments

Uvalde District Judge Ross E. Doughty was appointed by Governor Briscoe to succeed State Supreme Court Associate Justice Ruel C. Walker who resigned after 21 years' service.

Jack Woodley of Sabinal will replace Doughty as 38th district judge. Former State Rep. Terry Doyle of Port Arthur was named legal counsel to a special legislative impeachment study panel.

Governor Briscoe named members of the revamped Texas Board of Health Resources and selected Dr. Robert D. Moreton of Houston chairman and William T. Foran of Amarillo, a citizen member, as vice-chairman.

William M. Rugeley of San Marcos was designated by Briscoe to serve as criminal district attorney for Hays County.

Mike F. Frost of McAllen was appointed to the Texas Water Quality Board, succeeding Clyde Johnson of San Antonio, who resigned. Tom McFarling of Austin is interim Insurance Commissioner.

John H. Garrett of Deer Park was moved to a vacancy on Texas Amusement Machine Commission.

Major Gen. William Allen Harris of San Antonio succeeds Dr. Billy Mac Jones of San Marcos on the Texas Historical Commission.

this country. I voted against reporting out the bill from committee in spite of the fact that I had spent a good part of almost every day for the past five months working on this bill. It has some good provisions but it seems to me to have even more bad ones.

The oil pricing provision which is the keystone of the bill is one that I had written which passed in subcommittee 8-7. It was defeated 22-21 in full committee and I will now need to work to restore it on the floor of the entire House. My provision would encourage exploration and development in this country. The provision that narrowly defeated mine, in my judgment, would guarantee higher imports. I believe we can defeat it on the floor and if not, it will be vetoed.

On the other hand, I was successful in committee in introducing an amendment that removed a major section of the bill which would have treated our section of the country and many other Americans very unfairly. That section would have required that refiners of oil charge substantially more of their costs against gasoline in order to raise its price, but must charge substantially less for fuel oil. Such a move would have benefited people with access to mass transit and people in New England who spend heavily on fuel oil. But it would have discriminated unfairly against people who must drive long distances such as those who live in West Texas, people who do not have access to mass transit, and people who unavoidably use their cars for extensive transports. Further, since many people in rural areas who travel long distances earn less than commuters who use mass transit, it would have placed

BLACKWELL NEWS

W.F. (Fletcher) Pinckard, 71, a long time resident of Blackwell, died Thursday June 26, 1975 in the Bronte Hospital after a short illness.

Services were Saturday in the Blackwell United Methodist Church with Rev. G.K. Corely, retired Baptist Minister, Rev. Joe Bentley, pastor of the Blackwell United Methodist Church and Rev. Harold Ely, pastor of the Blackwell Baptist Church officiating. Burial was in the Blackwell Cemetery.

an unfair burden a regressive tax, on many of the people of our area. The amendment that I offered successfully removed that offending section.

All of this will again be debated in the full House and will be worked on by both the House and Senate and may, in the end, be vetoed by the Executive. Somewhere in that process, however, we will hope that legislation leading to better energy supplies and better energy conservation will be achieved. Although it requires great patience, there are few opportunities more gratifying than those given to one allowed to serve as a representative of the people of the United States.

A BICENTENNIAL DOUBLE HEADER—The hand flips a coin. Heads I win. Tails you win. The eyes light on the head of a colonial drummer. Did you win or lose the toss? You won! That head is really a tail. You can take the word of Mary Brooks, Director of the U.S. Mint. She's our nation's coinmaker and says the colonial drummer was chosen in a national design competition to appear on the back of the new Bicentennial quarter. George Wahsington, she insists, still heads the coin over a new date—1776-1976—and it was all done to celebrate our country's 200th birthday.

"I know big decisions, like whether or not to walk the dog in the rain, rest on the flip of a coin," Mrs. Brooks says, "and I want to warn the nation's big decision makers about the coming big change in their small change."

In all, the Mint is changing the designs on the backs of three coins in honor of the Bicentennial. Along with Washington on the quarter, those famous faces of Kennedy and Eisenhower, with the new twin date, still head the half dollar and dollar. Again, it's the backs that carry the new Bicentennial designs. Independence Hall won its place on the back of the half dollar. And the moon and Liberty Bell was chosen for the dollar reverse.

By July 7, 1975, your friendly neighborhood bank should begin receiving the first of the circulating Bicentennial coins to be released—the Kennedy-Independence Hall half dollar. Before the end of the year, the Federal Reserve System will have had the time to supply the nation's commercial banks with the newly redesigned quarter and dollar.

"To me, these coins—like all our coins—are symbols of our nation's 200 years of freedom," Mrs. Brooks says. "They are small links with our historical and cultural heritage that will touch the hands of every man, woman and child in America."

"Liberty! was the rallying cry of the American Revolution—and 'Liberty' has been proclaimed and inscribed on each and every coin since the creation of the U.S. Mint in 1792."

Launching a national coinage was a big step in the formation of our young nation. "Now," Mrs. Brooks says, "we are launching the most significant coinage change in the history of the Mint."

The new coin designs are expressions of the patriotic sentiments of grassroots America.

Groomsmen were Ray Garza of Abilene, Blas Lugo of Stockton, Calif., Herbert Cortez of Lake Hurst, N.J., Larry Alvarez of Abilene, Hector Romero of Eldorado, Andy Gann of Abilene, Jessie Valencia of Abilene, Johnny Garza of Ballinger, and Ruben Puentes of Chicago, Ill.

Witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Arispe of Eldorado.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a queen-fit formal gown of alemode silk and Venise lace in princess silhouette. The gown had tucked panel outlined with Venise lace from the bodice to the hemline with high neckline of lace. Candlestick sleeves were accented with lace at the wrists. Lace also rimmed the hemline of the slender skirt that flowed to fullness in the back to form a chapel train.

A reception was held at the Winters Community Center following the ceremony. In the house party were Mrs. Ray Cortez, Mrs. Jay Allen of Winters, and Mrs. Emma Ramirez of Abilene.

The bride is a graduate of Winters High School. The bridegroom attended Ballinger schools. They will live at 60 N. Trinity, Winters.

Miss Aguilar and Mr. Fernandez Married

Miss Benina M. Aguilar and Mr. Ismael Fernandez were married Sturday, June 28, in Mt. Carmel Catholic Church. Father Kennedy performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miguel Aguilar, of Winters. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fernandez of Ballinger.

Church decorations included baskets of pastel carnations with pastel colored ribbons.

Candlelighters were Luis Lugo of Stockton, Calif., and Tony Garza of Abilene.

Flower girls were Sylvia Fernandez, of Ballinger, niece of the bridegroom; Michell Baker of Winters, cousin of the bride; and Michell Cortez, of Lake Hurst, N.J., niece of the bride. Trainbearers were Larry Alvarez of Abilene, nephew of the bride, and Anna Marie Cortez, of Abilene, niece of the bride.

Lina Cortez of Lake Hurst, N.J., and Lawrence Cortez of Abilene, were ring bearers.

Johnny Fernandez of Houston was best man. Danny Cortez of Abilene and Luis Ramirez were ushers. Groomsmen were Ray Garza of Abilene, Blas Lugo of Stockton, Calif., Herbert Cortez of Lake Hurst, N.J., Larry Alvarez of Abilene, Hector Romero of Eldorado, Andy Gann of Abilene, Jessie Valencia of Abilene, Johnny Garza of Ballinger, and Ruben Puentes of Chicago, Ill.

Doris Waldrop of Winters was maid of honor, and Ana Puentes of Chicago, sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Janie Garza of Abilene, Mrs. Jessie Lugo of Stockton, Calif., Mrs. Dandy Cortez of Lake Hurst, N.J., Mrs. Randi Alvarez of Abilene, Mrs. Mary Romero of Eldorado, Mrs. Elvia Gann of Abilene, Miss Becky Cortez of Abilene, and Miss Diana Patino of Abilene.

Witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Arispe of Eldorado.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a queen-fit formal gown of alemond silk and Venise lace in princess silhouette. The gown had tucked panel outlined with Venise lace from the bodice to the hemline with high neckline of lace. Candelstick sleeves were accented with lace at the wrists. Lace also rimmed the hemline of the slender skirt that flowed to fullness in the back to form a chapel train.

A reception was held at the Winters Community Center following the ceremony. In the house party were Mrs. Ray Cortez, Mrs. Jay Allen of Winters, and Mrs. Emma Ramirez of Abilene.

The bride is a graduate of Winters High School. The bridegroom attended Ballinger schools. They will live at 60 N. Trinity, Winters.

A rehearsal dinner was held at Mr. Carmel Catholic Church Friday.

A BICENTENNIAL DOUBLE HEADER—The hand flips a coin. Heads I win. Tails you win.

The eyes light on the head of a colonial drummer. Did you win or lose the toss? You won! That head is really a tail. You can take the word of Mary Brooks, Director of the U.S. Mint. She's our nation's coinmaker and says the colonial drummer was chosen in a national design competition to appear on the back of the new Bicentennial quarter. George Wahsington, she insists, still heads the coin over a new date—1776-1976—and it was all done to celebrate our country's 200th birthday.

"I know big decisions, like whether or not to walk the dog in the rain, rest on the flip of a coin," Mrs. Brooks says, "and I want to warn the nation's big decision makers about the coming big change in their small change."

In all, the Mint is changing the designs on the backs of three coins in honor of the Bicentennial. Along with Washington on the quarter, those famous faces of Kennedy and Eisenhower, with the new twin date, still head the half dollar and dollar. Again, it's the backs that carry the new Bicentennial designs. Independence Hall won its place on the back of the half dollar. And the moon and Liberty Bell was chosen for the dollar reverse.

By July 7, 1975, your friendly neighborhood bank should begin receiving the first of the circulating Bicentennial coins to be released—the Kennedy-Independence Hall half dollar. Before the end of the year, the Federal Reserve System will have had the time to supply the nation's commercial banks with the newly redesigned quarter and dollar.

"To me, these coins—like all our coins—are symbols of our nation's 200 years of freedom," Mrs. Brooks says. "They are small links with our historical and cultural heritage that will touch the hands of every man, woman and child in America."

"Liberty! was the rallying cry of the American Revolution—and 'Liberty' has been proclaimed and inscribed on each and every coin since the creation of the U.S. Mint in 1792."

The new coin designs are expressions of the patriotic sentiments of grassroots America.

Thoroughly Modern Milk
Nonfat dry milk has all the qualifications to place it high on the list of convenience foods. It has multiple uses, requires little storage space, has long shelf life, and instant availability. One added advantage—it's inexpensive.

Right now it's also plentiful. The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) reports that commercial stocks are more than double those of a year earlier. In total volume it represents nearly 115 million pounds.

Mrs. O'Connor defines nonfat dry milk as "milk from which only the fat and water have been removed." As to its nutritive importance, she states that "it contains all the proteins, minerals, and water soluble vitamins of the nonfat portion of milk."

As a result it works well for weight watchers looking for high nutrition and low calorie count, and for those requiring protein or other nutritive boosts. It can be added to fluid milk and other foods to increase protein, mineral, and vitamin content.

You can buy it by the box, mix it by the quart or gallon, drink it by the glass, whatever your family milk requirements are, you mix only what you need, when you need it. "Once it has been reconstituted, freezing is not recommended," Rubis says. However, once reconstituted it should be refrigerated.

Proper storage requires only that it be kept in a dry, cool spot in your pantry. It should be tightly covered to avoid absorption of any moisture. Shelf life is about 6 months.

It has many uses other than as a beverage. Nonfat dry milk can be substituted for fluid milk in baking. When used this way, it should be added to the dry ingredients of the recipe, it should not be sifted. To fill liquid measure, use given recipe amount in water.

Mixed with equal amounts of ice water, nonfat dry milk can be whipped up to the consistency of whipped cream and served as a low-calorie dessert topping. It can also be whipped with frozen juice concentrates for a dessert in itself.

Instant nonfat dry milk can be taken around the clock for recipes appropriate to every meal. A good breakfast muffin will provoke praise for the cook.

C. T. Parker's Weekly News Column

If you bought more seeds than needed to plant your spring vegetable garden, store them properly and they will remain viable for a number of years.

Properly stored seeds can be used for fall gardens as well as for plantings next spring, points out C.T. Parker, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Saving seeds is especially important since some varieties are often difficult to find. Furthermore, seeds are becoming more expensive so they should not be wasted.

Most vegetable seeds can simply be stored in the home refrigerator for periods of two to five years, says the agent. Seeds should be packaged in an air-tight container such as a glass jar with a tight-fitting lid. Before storing seeds, make sure they are free of moisture.

If seeds are to be placed in packets or envelopes other than the ones they came in, be sure to note the variety and source of seeds on the packet as well as the date seeds were stored.

Most seeds can be stored at least three years except for corn, okra, onion, parsley and parsnip, which can be stored up to two years without losing viability. Seeds of vegetables belonging to the cabbage family as well as cucumbers, squash and watermelons can be kept in cold storage up to five years.

It's best to purchase only the amount of fresh seeds you need for a particular planting points our Parker. However, surplus seeds can be stored safely if they are kept dry and refrigerated.

Sooty mold is a fungal disease frequently occurring in the spring on evergreen shrubs such as azaleas, camellias, laurels, gardenias, ligustrum and other ornamental plants.

The mold is a black, powdery coating that develops on leaves and twigs during cool, moist, cloudy weather, explains Parker, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. There are several fungi that grow in the sugary honeydew left on plants by insects such as white flies, scale insects, leafhoppers and aphids. Also, this honeydew or sugary substance may occur on lower shrubs on which insects are not feeding simply by falling from larger shrubs and overhanging limbs or trees.

The fungi that cause sooty mold do not directly attack plants but derive their nutrition from the honeydew itself, points out the agent. This can destroy the beauty of plants if the mold concentration is heavy enough to shade out light, causing plants to become yellowed and stunted. This fungi will also grow on honeydew which has fallen on walls, sidewalks, fences and automobiles.

Control of sooty mold is indirectly achieved by controlling the honeydew-producing insects. Several in-secticides are available to control these sucking insects. Select a material recommended for use on the plant to be treated, emphasizes Parker. Insecticides may have to be applied periodically throughout the growing season, depending on insects to be controlled and the plant on which they are feeding. Follow label directions carefully as to the use of these materials.

Once sooty mold has become established, it is not easily removed. Generally, the mold will gradually disappear after the insects have been controlled, adds Parker.
