Directors of the Winters Livestock Association will meet in the school vo-ag building Monday, September 29, at 7:30 p.m.

In addition to other business, the directors will discuss the membership drive, now underway.

PP&K Competition For Youngsters Set

Registrations for the area's 15th annual Punt, Pass & Kick competition for youngsters 8 through 13 years of age will remain open through October 3, Dale Whitecotton, of Dale's Ford Sales, said this week.

This year's PP&K contests are being co-sponsored by Dale's Ford Sales and the Winters Jaycees. Competition will be held on Blizzard Field Saturday, October 4.

STREET WORK—Machinery begins preparing the surface of unpaved streets to receive the coats of primer and asphalt, in the current project to pave many of Winters' streets. The contractors, Reece Albert, Inc., of San Angelo, moved into Winters last week to begin the project, which has seen several postponements during many months.

Street Paving Started

Machinery was moved in to Winters last week, and work is in progress on the current street paving project.

Many blocks of city streets will be paved during this project, with financing through an assessment plan. Property owners will be responsible for paying the cost of the paving, and will be assessed. Some property owners will pay cash for the work on streets adjacent to their property, while others will have an opportunity to pay by installment.

Reece Albert Contractors of San Angelo has the contract for the work.

Lions Club Is "Service Club"

The public's image of the Winters Lions Club varies. To some, perhaps, the organization is only a weekly "meet and eat" club. Others picture the membership as door-to-door salesmen of mops and brooms and Halloween candy.

But to many of the community, the Winters Lions Club stands for assistance in many ways. To these many, the Lions are a group of men to whom they can turn when there is need—no matter what kind of need—and get help.

A review of the financial picture of the Winters Lions Club indicates that the second image is the most true, and the total monies spent for service to individuals and groups in the community underlines this description.

During the organization year just past—ending June 30, 1975, the Winters Lions Club made a profit of $1919.72 from various fund-raising projects. For the same club year, the Winters Lions Club paid out $1829.36 for service and assistance to others. Even in an inflationary era, when money is worth only a fraction of what it was worth a few short years, this amount spent on service to a community is not insignificant. The impact was felt mostly by those who have received—and voiced appreciation for—the assistance offered.

The several projects sponsored by the Winters Lions Club during the past year include a golf tournament, candy sales, turkey shoot, chili supper, Miss Winters contest, mop and broom sales, and a hamburger supper. The club made an after-expenses profit of $1919.72.

The "service to others" list is much longer, and the amounts spent have meant much to the recipients: Winters Public Library, $120; WT Rehab Center, $216; Crippled Children's Camp, $449; Texas Lions Eye Bank, $55.80; Winters School, supplies for needy, $50; glasses for children $59; World CARE, $46; assistance to two individuals, $41; purchase of High School National Honor Society pins, $42.50; Christmas dinner for senior citizens, $125; purchase of gas range for Community Center, $199.95; Boy Scouts, $88.90; Little League basketball, $97.01; contribution for Winters' 85th anniversary, $239.20.

Rural Water Bids Dec. 1

A call for bids for construction of the first phase of the distribution system for North Runnels Water Supply Corp. probably will be made about December 1, LaDell Davis, recently named manager of the non-profit corporation, said Tuesday.

In a talk to the Winters Lions Club Tuesday noon, Davis said engineers' plans are about completed, and plans at this time are for issuance of a call for bids as early as the first of December.

This will be for the first phase of the project, originally called Phases 1 and 2. Work on getting loans and grants for the second half of the project will begin once construction on the first phase begins.

Davis said landowners in the area to be covered by Phase 1 still are signing up. He said there have been close to 500 requesting to sign up, but that about 400 outlets will be available for the project. There are some areas of the county which cannot be reached by the pipeline because of the distance between outlets, he said.

Davis said it will cost about $4600 per meter for the system.

The new manager of the non-profit corporation, who had been president of the board, said an office will be opened in Winters within the next few days.

Girls Scouts Will Sponsor "Harvest Carnival" Saturday

Troop Leaders and mothers of girls in Junior Girl Scout Troops 234 and 235 will sponsor a "Harvest Carnival" at the Scout Hut, Saturday, September 27, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Proceeds from the carnival will benefit all Girl Scouts.

Fifteen booths have been planned, including haunted house, tire bounce, ring toss, ten pins, billboard, marriage booth, bean bag toss, numbers game, and many others.

Winters Team Won Lions Golf Tourney

For the fourth consecutive year, the team from Winters won the trophy in the fourth annual Winters Lions Club Golf Tournament, held at the Winters Country Club Saturday. The tournament had been postponed from the previous Saturday because of rain.

Thirty-one players were entered in the tournament, from Winters, Ballinger and San Angelo.

The $7 per player entry fee will be used by the Winters Lions Club for the several service projects the organization sponsors.

Kirke McKenzie, president of the local Lions Club, accepted the team trophy for the club.

Armed Service Tests To Be Given At School Tuesday

Mrs. Lee Harrison, guidance counselor at Winters High School has announced that junior and senior students will have an opportunity to take the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery Tuesday, September 30. There will be no charge for the two and one-half hour test.

The test will be administered by U. S. Army personnel, but there will be no recruiting activity, nor does the test have anything to do with military obligation, Mrs. Harrison said.

An aptitude test of this type is beneficial in deciding career areas as it indicates the probability of success in one or more occupational fields, Mrs. Harrison said. The five aptitude areas to be tested are: electronics, general mechanical, motor mechanical, clerical administrative and general technical.

the Winters Lions Club, who accepted the trophy on behalf of the winning Winters team. Back row, Jiggs Nichols, Winters, 3rd place handicap; James Hall, San Angelo, 1st place handicap; R. D. Travis, Ballinger, accepting the trophy for Alvin Holbrook of Ballinger, 1st place scratch; Dub Davis, Winters, 2nd place handicap.

In their last game before entering the District 6-AA football war, the Winters Blizzards Friday night will host the Eldorado Eagles. Kickoff at 8 p.m.

Ranks of the Blizzards were whittled to 16 players during the game with Coleman last Friday night at Coleman, but Coach Jimmy Stubblefield feels that injuries sustained in that game will be healed by Friday night, and the squad will return to former strength. Some players have been brought up from the Junior Varsity to build the size of the club.

The Blizzards now have a 1-2 record for the pre-conference season, losing to Clyde, beating Merkel, and then falling to Coleman.

The Eldorado Eagles have played two games, losing 61-8 to Ozona, and 48-6 to Iraan.

Probable Blizzard starters for Friday night's game will be:

THE FIRE PLUG—Several days ago, someone knocked over the fireplug at the corner of Lamar and South Arlington. Before City Water Department employees could put it back, someone picked it up. A picture of the empty spot where the fire plug was supposed to be was published in last week's Enterprise. Friday morning, Jim Hamner, superintendent of the Water Department, found the missing plug—whichever had borrowed it had returned it and left it in the area behind the City Hall. End of story.

Garden Check List For October

1. Don't be tempted to cut back canna plants until after the first killing frost. If cut back before this it may promote new growth and possible damage to the rhizomes. Just put up with the trashy looking foliage for a few more weeks.

2. October through November is an excellent time to purchase bulbs while you still have a good selection in the garden shops. They may be planted at any time with the exception of tulips and hyacinths.

3. Chill tulip and hyacinth bulbs in the refrigerator until mid or late December before planting.

4. Plant bulbs in well prepared beds so the base of the bulb is at a depth that is three times the diameter of the bulb. In sandy soil, set slightly deeper and in clay soil less deeply.

5. Start collecting those leaves for the compost pile. Be sure to have extra soil available so that each 6 inch layer of leaves may be covered with several inches of soil. Always wet the layer of leaves thoroughly before adding the soil.

6. Add about one pound of a complete lawn or garden fertilizer to each layer of leaves to provide the necessary nitrogen for decomposition.

7. In addition to bulbs, check your nursery or garden center for started plants of snapdragons, pinks, and calendulas. Planted now they will usually provide a riot of spring color.

8. If you have room to adequately care for them, cuttings of geraniums, alternanthera, begonias and impatiens should be taken within the next few weeks before frost has damaged the plants.

9. If it has been over eight weeks since you last fertilized this is an excellent time to fertilize winter lawns, fall gardens and winter annuals with about one to two pounds of a complete fertilizer per 100 square feet of area.

10. Year end specials of container grown nursery stock are frequently offered at this time of the year to make room for Christmas merchandise. Be sure you have a need for the item and check the condition of the plant before buying. Unless you have a need or if the plant is in poor condition, it is no bargain at any price.

11. Watch lawn areas for brown patch. Areas with a previous history should be treated with Terraclor (PSNB) at the rates shown on the container.

12. Strawberries planted now and cared for properly will produce a good crop of berries next spring.

13. Keep that Christmas Cactus in a sunny spot where night temperatures can be kept below 65 degrees F. Buds will drop if you allow night temperatures to go above 70 degrees F. or if you allow the plant to become excessively dry. They should also be kept in total darkness from 5 p.m. until 8 a.m. for about 30 days in October to initiate flower buds.

14. If you have saved seed of your favorite plants, allow them to become air tight then place in an air tight container and store in the refrigerator. Be sure to label each packet carefully. Remember seed from hybrid plants will seldom resemble the parent plant.

15. If African violets leaves are tending to curl up around the edges, the humidity in your growing area is probably too low.

16. Still thinking of building that hobby greenhouse?

DESPITE FIRE from other Arab leaders, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat continues to express pleasure over the conclusion of the interim peace agreement between Egypt and Israel.

The USDA has an excellent publication called Building Hobby Greenhouses that may be ordered from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington D. 20402 for 25 cents.

17. You have a new yard and nothing to hold the soil in place until you can plant grass next spring? Try sowing winter rye grass in October, planting about six pounds per 1000 square feet.

MRS. O'CONNOR'S WEEKLY COLUMN

Wasted Food Takes Toll of Family Food Dollars.

Wasted food may account for nearly 10 per cent of a family's total food resources, Mrs. O'Connor, county extension agent, says.

And this figure doesn't include scraps fed to pets, used in compost piles or ground up in garbage disposals, she added.

In the garbage of the sampled city, more than half of the 'straight' waste was significant quantities of food items such as whole, uncooked portions of meat or partial loaves of bread.

Scrapings from plates—unidentifiable remains of cooked dishes—made up the rest of the findings.

Liquid foods—milk, fruit juices, sauces—that are poured down a drain rather than put into the garbage were not evaluated in the study, she said.

Consumers who are concerned about where their food dollars go should check more carefully to be sure they aren't 'wasting' money, she said.

Leisure Suits Fashionable For Businesswear Now Leisure suits—especially corduroy—will make fashion news in the business world this fall, one stylewatcher reports.

Solid color mix and match tops in different fabrics extend leisure suit possibilities from "funwear" to "businesswear", Mrs. O'Connor, county extension agent, added.

Gabardines, twills, flannel, homespun (hopsacking or linen-like weave), and cords in wools and textured polyester, polyester-cotton blends, and double and warp knits are hitting the top of the line for men's fashions.

Solid colors reflect the interest in Americana rustics—and the newest are naturals. Bone and rust, browns and green team with heather colors of slate blue, clay and gray.

Looking to the future for leisure suits, the agent said windowpane plaids, mini plaids shepherds, gingham and pinchecks are patterns to look for.

Consumer 'Zingers'

(1) Looking for an inexpensive substitute for whipping cream? Mrs. O'Connor, county extension agent, suggests try whipping chilled evaporated milk. Before whipping, the milk should have ice crystals formed, and beaters and bowl should be well chilled also.

(2) We live in social, emotional and physical environments. Individuals need to be aware of all their environments and how each affects their attitudes and personal development, Mrs. O'Connor, county extension agent, says.

(3) Cinch waistlines with a wide obi style sash are an alternative to the big, loose chemise, suggests the agent.

(4) Proper ironing sequence saves energy because an iron heats more quickly than it cools. Start with a few pieces that require low temperature settings. Work up to heavy, damp items needing higher temperatures. Then turn off the iron and finish the job with items that require less heat, the agent advises.

Change Eating Habits for Permanent Weight Loss

Chronic figure trimmers can prevent those five or 10 pounds from creeping back on—by changing their eating habits.

It's the only way to permanent weight loss, Mrs. O'Connor, county extension agent, says.

Since the dieter is really the only one who knows exactly how much he eats, a personal "food diary" is one way to record each day's eating, she suggested.

Write down what and how much was eaten or drunk, where it happened, and what was going on at that moment.

Then analyze the records and change whatever seems to be an unwise eating pattern. For example, if most eating was a result of boredom, try a new hobby or get started in some enjoyable project, she advised.

Another situation the "diary" may show is cleaning up the kids' plates.

Try serving them a little less—let them ask for seconds. Then freeze the leftovers for future meals, casseroles and soups.

Tasting food while cooking is another temptation. And, although it's usually necessary dieters should take small bites—only after flavoring the food, the agent advised.

Also consider what amount of food was eaten. If a snack was two cookies or crackers, next time eat just one. Ration snacks on a plate or napkin—don't sit down in front of the television with a whole bag of chips or goodies.

Turning to the "do's" for keeping weight off, she said, try substituting lower-calorie snacks, such as crisp celery and carrot sticks. They can be filling but are low in calories. Cut up an ample supply, store them in cold water in the refrigerator—they'll be crisp and ready for the next hunger pang.

Changing eating habits takes motivation, will power and probably a change in lifestyle, she said.

It takes more than optimism!

The farmer/rancher is an eternal optimist. He must be—to contend with such imponderables as weather, prices and costs. Yet, it takes more than optimism in today's high cost agriculture. It takes an organization the farmer/rancher knows he can count on. Farm Bureau is such an organization. That's why four out of five farmers in the nation are members of Farm Bureau.

Farm Bureau works for agriculture on three broad fronts—

1. TO INCREASE ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY—Through effectiveness in Public Affairs (policy development & legislative activities)
2. TO STRENGTHEN FARMERS' COMPETITIVE POSITION IN MARKETPLACE—Through marketing programs, commodity activities, market expansion
3. TO CONTROL PRODUCTION COSTS—Through group purchasing (tires & batteries), insurance protection (fire, life & casualty), group insurance (medical care)

Cong. Krueger Releases Info On Cyanide

Congressman Bob Krueger of Texas has released information from the Environmental Protection Agency which explains restrictions on the use of the M-44 Sodium Cyanide gun. The original ban on the use of sodium cyanide in the M-44 has been modified to allow use of this means of predator control under certain circumstances.

Among the restrictions to be imposed on the M-44 are:

- 1) The M-44 can be used only by personnel of the Fish and Wildlife Service or State agencies until private applicators have been trained.
- 2) It is to be used only in instances where actual livestock losses are occurring or may be reasonably expected to occur. It will also be excluded from areas where exposure to pets or the public is likely.
- 3) Warning signs in English and Spanish must be placed in areas of M-44 use.
- 4) The use of the devices is limited to 10 per 100 acre pastureland and 12 per one square mile of open range.

5) Records must be kept on animals killed and human and animal accidents.

Krueger reiterated remarks made in an earlier statement concerning the use of the M-44, saying, "I think that this announcement will be welcomed by the sheep and goat raisers of Texas. I am pleased that the ban on the M-44 has been modified, and I hope this will aid our ranchers in the production of livestock."

Krueger also noted that Russell Train, director of the Environmental Protection Agency, had been convinced to lift the ban by "new evidence on the safety and selectivity of the M-44." "Selectivity" refers to the fact that the M-44 controls such animals as coyotes and foxes rather than unintended animals such as opossums or raccoons.

Builders' Supply Co. Celebrating

Observance of the 75th year at Foxworth-Galbraith is drawing to a close. Bud Lisso, manager here in Winters, comments "it is sort of like an important personal birthday because you hate to see it pass".

The lumber yard established in Stratford, in 1901 was the forerunner of today's Foxworth-Galbraith Building Materials Centers now serving a 4-state area. The recently published company brochure points out that lumber deliveries in those days were either in ox-drawn or mule-drawn wagons.

Today's employees of Foxworth-Galbraith call themselves "people-helpers" and that seems to be a large part of their success story. Lisso notes "the customer demand during the first oil boom created the initial surge of expansion for the company, and we have stayed to serve those and other communities with building materials". "We opened a yard in Arizona as early as 1919", says Lisso.

Currently there are over 50 Foxworth-Galbraith Building Materials Centers from East Texas to California and their 75th anniversary celebration will soon be concluded. Special merchandise features continue at present, and copies of the company pictorial brochure "The 75th Year" are still available at the local store.

"Anniversaries pass quickly" says Lisso, "so we'll just start working on the next 75 years".

Blizzards Lose To Coleman

A short-rostered Bizzard football squad took a 49-0 drubbing from the Coleman Bluecats Friday night at Coleman, to chalk up their second loss in three games in pre-conference football play.

Along the line, the Blizzards received some injuries, which may have an effect on the starting lineup for Friday night's upcoming game with visiting Eldorado. No serious injuries were received, according to information, but Darrell Kurtz, a back on the Bizzard team, received a badly sprained ankle which may keep him out of this week's game.

Coleman's Friday night win over the Blizzards was the Bluecats' first victory of the season. The Bluecats scored 21 points in the first period, 14 in the third and 14 in the fourth, to walk away with the win. Both teams are now 1-2 for the season.

Blizzard fumbles seemed to make a difference in the outcome of the game, with the Winters team failing three times to keep a firm grip on the handle. Two blocked punts and a pass interception led to three of the Bluecats' touchdowns.

In Friday night's game, Jimmy Chapman carried 16 times for 50 yards; Jeff Russell, 7 times for 40 yards; Marvin Moore 6 times for 26; Tony Johnson, 6 times for 47 yards; and Tye Rougas, 6 times for 24 yards. The Blizzards racked up 229 yards, which should have been enough for several points, except for mistakes.

Jack Fairey was credited with the most tackles for the evening, with 9. Best grades on offense, scored by the coaching staff, were:

Darrell Kurtz, 79 percent; Leroy Jones, 78 percent; Doug Rogers, 70 percent; Jack Fairey, 73 percent; and Marvin Moore, 70 percent.

Gas Priced Like Apples*

"How much are your apples?" only 29 cents, too." asks the housewife of the grocer, so
 "Forty-nine cents a pound," the grocer replies.
 The housewife registers surprise and exclaims: "Henry's apples are only 29-cents."
 "Why don't you buy your apples from Henry?" responds the merchant.
 "He doesn't have any apples," she says.
 "If I didn't have any apples," the grocer explodes, "mine would be

Which is a long way, perhaps, of getting around to the point.
 Natural gas in Texas sells for up to $1.90 per 1,000 cubic feet. And Texans have gas.
 But in non-producing states, where the price of imported gas is controlled at 51 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, there is no new gas to be bought.
 If we didn't have gas, our price would be 51 cents, too. But we couldn't buy gas either.

KRUEGER'S KOLUMN

By CONG. BOB KRUEGER
21st Texas District

Foreign aid has long been a controversial topic. Certain foreign aid which this country provided, such as the Marshall Plan after World War II, has proven a wise investment for this country. That plan helped save the European countries from starvation and economic destitution following a horrendous war. It prevented the expansion of communism, and stimulated American exports. At the same time, it created a reservoir of good will by showing the capacity of American people both to fight victoriously in war and to assist magnanimously in peace.

Since the time of the Marshall Plan, however, foreign aid has often been confused and unproductive. Some foreign aid has simply proven to be money slipped into the hands of unscrupulous politicians. Other aid has been used to help support dictatorships operated on principles contrary to our democratic traditions. Still other aid has been badly spent because of a misunderstanding of the needs of other nations.

The International Development and Food Assistance Act of 1975, which the House of Representatives passed last week, represents a new and useful departure. Its main thrust is to help the people of foreign countries to feed themselves. Americans with experience in good agriculture—farmers, ranchers, experts from the agricultural departments of our colleges and universities—will share their knowledge and experience with people in underdeveloped countries. Our better grains, our improved land management techniques, and our knowledge of animal genetics will be used to help them produce the food and fiber they need for their own people.

Beyond this, we will make medical knowledge, family planning information, and assistance in basic health habits available to people in lands where millions still go hungry because of overpopulation and poor use of land resources.

The Congress substantially reduced the expenditures requested by the President for foreign aid this year, and I supported those reductions. While the new program undoubtedly continues some of the faults of the old, it still represents a useful departure from previous practices. It recognizes that military assistance is a different need from that of developing productive capacity in agriculture, and it presents these two matters in separate legislation, rather than in one bill, as in the past. The amount to be spent on this bill, only one-thousandth of our total national production, should be a good investment for the American people.

FB Will Name Directors At Next Meeting

Farm Bureau policies for next year will be adopted, and directors will be elected at the annual meeting of the Runnels County Farm Bureau, scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Thursday, October 2, in the FB office in Ballinger.

Adopted resolutions on county matters become policies for the county FB for 1976. Approved resolutions dealing with state and national issues become recommendations for the Texas FB convention.

O'Connor's Column

Proper Fit Important for Women's Pants

Women in pants can look really good—or really bad—depending on how the pants fit! Selecting styles that suit her body type has much to do with a woman's overall appearance in pants, Mrs. O'Connor said.

As an example, for the woman with a small waist and large hips, pants featuring a separate band at the normal waistline usually are better than bandless styles. This style is more flattering because the eye travels vertically along the pants legs and horizontally at the waist—minimizing the difference between waist and hip sizes.

Mrs. O'Connor said other devices creating vertical lines for the eye to follow are a fly front zipper, pleats or sharp creases.

Deciding whether to have a front or back zipper is also important for figure flattery. Pants with a fly front add inches to the tummy, while back-zipper styles help fill in a hollow or sway back, she explained.

Jeans and other pants with bands designed to ride on the hips rather than at the waist are generally flattering to the short-waisted figure. In contrast, natural waistlines or even high rise waists and bib front styles flatter the long-waisted build.

After determining the most flattering styles, be sure the pants legs are long enough. Too-short pants look awkward and are never flattering, the agent said.

Remember, too, that pants should never fit so poorly or be so tight they "smile" in front or form creases under the seat in the back.

Antilittering device: hand-cuffs for kids in station wagons loaded with pop cans and potato chip sacks.

Snow Bound

Snow arrived in Mississippi and Texas on railroad cars in 1967. When 27 inches of snow fell in Chicago that February, the Chicago River became so clogged with dumped snow that city officials had the snow loaded onto southbound railroad cars, where the sun would dispose of it.

Patriotic Shows Theme of Blizzard Band

Patriotic shows and the Bicentennial will be the main theme used by the Winters High School Blizzard Band during football half time shows this year, Kirke McKenzie, band director, said. The band already is working on some of the shows, and football fans who attend games this year will be in for some patriotic thrills, the director said.

AUSTIN—Campaigns for and against the proposed new state constitution already are generating lots of heat.

Texas Press Association, Texas Daily Newspaper Association and Texas Association of Broadcasters got a broad introduction in a day-long pro and con seminar here last week.

A day later, Citizens for the Texas Constitution, leaders of the revision change, held their statewide kick-off meeting launching a six-weeks public information effort before the November 4 election.

The opposition group, Citizens to Preserve the Texas Constitution (the present one, that is), already was doing lots of kicking. Its statewide steering committee broadened steadily, picking up such members as former Gov. Preston Smith and Court of Criminal Appeals Presiding Judge John F. Onion Jr.

Former Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert, head of the revision forces, summarized arguments for the new constitution.

Eight proposals on the November 4 ballot modernize Texas' basic laws and "provide benefits for the people which cannot be achieved under the old document."

Further, argued Calvert, the revision submitted by the legislature would "go a long way to stop wasteful spending in state government and provide equity and relief for the individual taxpayer."

Not so, countered Sen. Peyton McKnight of Tyler for the opposition. The new document would "lead to new taxes on an unprecedented scale," contended McKnight. Further, he maintained, it would give the legislature "power to do about anything it wants at the expense of the people."

Much opposition, as anticipated, centered on proposed annual legislative sessions and a commission to pass on legislators' salaries. Tax provisions also came under heavy opposition fire.

Highways Slated

If costs keep going up and income doesn't, the State Highway Department says in another six or seven years it may have barely enough money to maintain the present 71,000-mile road system.

Major new construction could be out of the question if the state hasn't the cash to match federal building funds. Gasoline tax and motor vehicle registration income, which traditionally increased at six or seven per cent a year, is no longer growing much. Meanwhile, construction costs have doubled since 1967.

The Highway Department, as explained here previously, is studying its manpower needs with a view to reduced payrolls. Some districts already have reduced their work forces.

Mowing along highway rights-of-way also has been reduced to save money.

Discount Expiring

Ten percent discounts on auto insurance premiums for 35,000 Texans may be lost this fall unless they re-take defensive driving courses.

Those who passed the National Safety Council course in accident avoiding three years ago can renew their discount eligibility for an additional 36 months by completing another eight-hour course.

New films and visual aids, new information on traffic laws, driving habits, road design and engineering innovations are available, according to State Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie.

More than 400,000 Texans have completed the course during the last three years, and statistics indicate they have 32 per cent fewer accidents. Christie said. The discount is also available to motorcycle operators.

Courts Speak

A federal judge in Washington, D. C. refused to block publication of Census Bureau statistics which will bring Texas under punitive provisions of the federal Voting Rights Act. Further appeals are under consideration.

A Belton man who shot another because he feared a karate chop lost an appeal from a 99-year prison sentence for murder.

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a 199-year murder sentence in a San Antonio robbery-killing. The Court granted a new trial in a controversy over sanity of an Odessa man convicted and sentenced to 10 years for the fatal shooting of his wife. It upheld 99-year sentences of two men in a Dallas murder and rape case.

AG Opinions

An unsuccessful job applicant has no special right of access to personnel-type information about his application under the open records act, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: Students who are residents of Mexico are not entitled to reduced tuitions under a new law providing bargain rates for certain neighboring-state commuters.
