WINTERS, TEXAS 79567, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1975

PRICE 15 CENTS

NUMBER 34

DOCTOR AND FAMILY—Dr. Robert G. Holston and his family have moved to Winters, where Dr. Holston will begin practice at 142 West Dale November 3. Dr. and Mrs. Holston have two children, Robbie, 2½ years, and Michelle, 5.

RETURN TO WINTERS—Dr. Yung Kee Lee and his family have returned to Winters, where Dr. Lee will open his office at 142 West Dale Street. Shown in the accompanying picture are Dr. and Mrs. Lee and children, Jim, now 5½, John, now 22 months old, and Mike, now 8 years old.

Election Next Tuesday

North Runnels County voters will join other Texans next Tuesday as they trek to the polls to consider a proposed new State Constitution.

Voters in the northeast section of the county will cast their votes at the Winters fire station. Wingate area voters will vote at the school.

Those voters who were qualified by October 3, 1975, will be eligible for the Constitution election.

Voters of Texas will vote on eight separate amendments, which, if all are adopted, will revise the Texas Constitution, except for Article I, the Bill of Rights.

Proposition No. 1: The constitutional amendment revising the Separation of Powers, Legislative, and Executive Provisions of the Texas Constitution.

Proposition No. 2: The constitutional amendment revising the Judiciary Provisions of the Texas Constitution.

Proposition No. 3: The constitutional amendment revising the Voting and Election Provisions of the Texas Constitution.

Proposition No. 4: The constitutional amendment revising the Education Provisions of the Texas Constitution.

Proposition No. 5: The amendment revising the Finance Provisions of the Texas Constitution. (Sets out provisions for assessment and collection of taxes for the State. One of the most important items in this proposition concerns property taxes. The new proposal would require that all real and tangible personal property be taxed on the basis of market value. Present constitutional requirements are that all property (real and tangible and intangible personal property) be taxed on the basis of value.)

Proposition No. 6: Amendment revising the local Government Provisions of the Texas Constitution.

Proposition No. 7: Constitutional amendment revising the General Provisions of the Texas Constitution.

Proposition No. 8: The constitutional amendment revising the Mode of Amending Provisions of the Texas Constitution.

Proposition No. 9: The constitutional amendment revising the Mode of Amending Provisions of the Texas Constitution.

Proposition No. 10: The constitutional amendment revising the Mode of Amending Provisions of the Texas Constitution.

Proposition No. 11: The constitutional amendment revising the Mode of Amending Provisions of the Texas Constitution.

Proposition No. 12: The constitutional amendment revising the Mode of Amending Provisions of the Texas Constitution.

Two More Doctors

Winters will have three doctors in practice effective Monday, November 3, and by mid-November a fourth will begin practice here.

Joining C. T. Rives, M. D., who has practiced here for many years, and Henry McCreight, M. D., who has been here for about 20 years, on Monday, November 3, will be Robert G. Holston, D. O., formerly of Mabank. In mid-November, Yung Kee Lee, M. D., who practiced here from last November until the last of September, will open his office and resume practice.

Dr. Holston and Dr. Lee will occupy the offices at 142 West Dale, the same offices Dr. Lee used during the months he practiced here.

Dr. Lee, a native of Korea, is a physician and surgeon and formerly with the Veterans Administration Hospital in Big Spring, came to Winters and opened his office last November. In September he moved to Rusk, but during the past few days decided to return to Winters.

Dr. Holston, a Doctor of Osteopathy, is a native of Borger. He has been practicing in Mabank since last spring. He took his pre-med training at Frank Phillips Junior College at Borger and at West Texas State University at Denton. He attended the Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine, Fort Worth, and is a member of the Texas Osteopathic Medical Association, American Association of General Practitioners.

Dr. Holston will open his office for family practice and obstetrics November 3.

Dr. Holston is married to the former

Sharon Mitchell of Roby. She attended Texas Tech University and West Texas State University. They have two children. They were to move to Winters this week.

Dr. Lee and his family moved to Winters last weekend. He is attending a surgical seminar in Chicago, and will open his office here November 17.

Shot Clinic Set

An immunization clinic, for school and pre-school children, will be held in the school nurse's office, Thursday, November 6, from 10 a.m. until noon.

Shots will include the DPT series, measles, rubella, and polio, Mrs. Bonnie Hood, school nurse, said. This program is for starting new series of shots, or for booster shots.

Blizzard Band To Contests Saturday

The Winters High School Blizzard Bicentennial Marching Band will be seeking an eighth consecutive First Division rating in marching, as they participate in the UIL sanctioned marching contests in Brady Saturday. The Blizzard band has been rated First Division seven consecutive years, and has won the Sweepstakes award for three consecutive years, and for four years of the past five.

Band Director Kirke McKenzie said about 108 band members will take part in the contests.

These marching contests are the first step in the Sweepstakes competition; the sight reading and playing contests will be held next spring.

The Winters High School band will march at 4:12 Saturday afternoon. The Ballinger band will be the last band to perform in the Class AA division. There will be 14 Class AA schools participating, and 37 bands with about 2700 band students, in all divisions.

Contests will be held at the Brady football stadium.

In addition to the marching contests, twirling solos and ensembles will be judged. There will be 10 girls from Winters entered in these twirling contests.

Last year, only two Class AA bands, Winters and Brady, won the Sweepstakes award, and only one Class AAA band, Lampassas, won the coveted award.

The Winters band will have a practice-preview at 11 a.m. Saturday, to which the public is invited. They will not be in uniform for this practice. The band will leave by bus at 1:15 p.m.

Judges for the marching contests will be Tim Jones, Hamlin; Ron Smith, Monahans; and Bill Woods, Seagraves.

Twirling contest judges will be Pat Hooker and Mary Hooker of San Antonio and Larry Raybeck, Grand Prairie.

Winters Will Be Bicentennial City

Winters has been approved as a Bicentennial City by the State Bicentennial committee, and only a formal approval by the American Revolution Bicentennial remains, before a date is set for the official presentation of the credentials and the Bicentennial Flag, Mayor Homer Hodge said this week.

The application for Bicentennial approval was made some time ago, and set forth the several requirements which must be met by cities before official recognition is received.

Activities required for official approval include at least one for each of three thematic areas—Heritage '76, Festival USA, and Horizons '76. Winters has met the "festival requirement, with the Diamond Plus 10 Jamboree held in June. At least one "Lasting Reminder" is required, and the community is planning two: restoration and preservation of an old gazebo type bandstand, one of the first to be built in this part of the state, under the Heritage theme, and efforts are being made to secure from the Abilene & Southern Railway the old depot to be restored and preserved as a museum for the community, also under the Heritage theme.

Under the Horizons theme, the community proposes to improve all areas of parks and secure bluebonnet seeds for planting along highways, along with other wildflowers.

Under Festivals and Horizons themes, the community proposes to organize picnics, air shows, style shows, to be presented by students and others.

Emma Marks, secretary of the Winters Chamber of Commerce, has been named chairperson of the special Bicentennial committee in Winters.

Date for presentation of the official Bicentennial will be set and announced in the near future.

The Bicentennial Group of the Winters community will be as follows: R. C. Thomas, Charlsie Poe, Pam Connor, Bill Graves, Emma Marks, Mel Swoyer, Gary Don Pinkerton, Kirke McKenzie, Rankin Pace, James West, Earl Roach, Rosemary Bennie, J. E. McAdoo, J. A. Henderson, O. J. Murray, Ms. Zula Mae Lacy, Marvin Bedford, Lanny Bahlman and Ollie Lou Cole.

BAND LEADERS—Becky Bryan, left, and Teresa Wright, will lead the Winters High School Blizzard Band in the marching contests to be held in Brady Saturday. Miss Bryan is the head drum major; she is a senior. Miss Wright is the junior drum major.

Livestock Barbecue Monday

The annual membership barbecue sponsored by the Winters Livestock Association will be held in the Winters Community Center next Monday night. Serving will begin at 7 p.m.

The barbecue signals the end of a concentrated membership drive by the organization, and membership cards will entitle all individual and family association members to attend the barbecue. For those who have not yet obtained their membership cards, they will be available at the door on the night of the barbecue.

Funds from the sale of memberships in the association go to finance the annual Junior Livestock Show, to be held in January. This year, the show will be held on Monday, with a horse show added to the activities, to be held on the Sunday before the stock show.

C-C Members To Elect Five Directors

Postcard ballots were mailed during the past few days to members of the Winters Chamber of Commerce in the annual election of directors for 1976-77.

There are eight persons listed on the ballot. Members will pick five and mail the postcard ballots to the Chamber of Commerce. Results of the postcard election will be announced at a future meeting of the board of directors.

Those listed on the ballot are Jimmy Smith, D.V.M., Margaret Bell, Rev. Mel Swoyer, Mrs. G. F. (Jerry) Lloyd, Chane Bishop, Louis Johnson, Mrs. Freddie Bredemeyer and Mike Tuggle.

Jaycees To Hold Trap Shoot Sunday

Winters Jaycees will sponsor a target and trap competition Sunday, November 2, at the Winters City Lake. Competition will begin at 1 p.m.

All proceeds realized from the shoot will be used for community projects sponsored by the Jaycees.

Those who had birthdays in October were the honorees at a party last Monday afternoon. Six members from the Friendship Circle of the First Baptist Church brought the birthday cake, and helped with the party. Those having birthdays this month were Myrtle Wilbanks on Oct. 1, Grace Key Oct. 2, Josie Overman Oct. 7, Mollie Phillips Oct. 17, and Vellie Irving on Oct. 27.

This group will be visiting us periodically as a part of their community outreach program. They are Adriane Edwards, Donna Barker, Rodrick Bredemeyer, Doug Williams, Rita Cooper, Lewis Eubank, Gloria Cortez, and their teacher Mrs. Hambricht. We are looking forward to the next visit from these young people to help us with games, and various other activities.

Gattis Neely conducted the Wednesday morning Bible study, and Rev. Steinburg brought the Sunday afternoon message.

Members from the High School Homemaking Department made their first visit to our home last Tuesday

The Winters String Band will not be here on Friday evening, but we expect lots of goblins, witches, and skeletons to come by for treats.

If you are tired of bigger government and higher taxes, vote NO on the proposed new constitution November 4.

Don't give future Legislatures a blank check.

The Houston Chronicle calls the new constitution "a dangerous document." Governor Dolph Briscoe warns it will "lead us down the road to a state income tax."

Governor Briscoe says: "It is my personal view that the current Constitution under which Texas has grown and prospered for a century is preferable to the proposed new constitution. Accordingly, I believe it is in the best interest of Texas that all eight propositions on the ballot be rejected."

Play it safe. Keep our present Constitution by voting NO on Tuesday, November 4.

Bullock Says Property Tax Could Be Higher

Comptroller Bob Bullock said Monday that Texas are entitled to know the possible effects of taxing real property at true market value as required by the finance article of the proposed constitution.

"The backers of the constitution keep telling us that taxing on a basis of true market value is a good thing—and it is—but property owners have a right to know what this means in plain English," Bullock said.

"What would this re-evaluation mean to the average property owner? It means that on a statewide average their houses and lots could increase more than 60 per cent on the tax rolls," he said. "It would then be up to local taxing authorities, such as our cities, counties and school districts, to reduce their tax rates and/or assessment ratios or property taxes would go skyhigh."

Bullock pointed out that "in the 10 years between 1963 and 1973 local government spending and local property tax bites both more than doubled." He cited Texas Research League statistics showing that local property taxes were increased more than $1 billion during that period.

"The required re-evaluation could add $75 billion to the $125 billion in property values now 'claimed' on the tax rolls. That's a 60 per cent increase any way you cut it, and at today's tax rates that would be approximately $750 million in new property taxes each year," he said.

"I think most homeowners believe that all real property should be taxes in an equal and uniform manner. However, it's been my experience that they are referring to the other fella's property because they believe theirs is already over valued and over taxed," Bullock said.

Wallace-Murray 3rd Quarter Earnings Up 93 Percent

Wallace Murray Corporation has reported that its third quarter earnings were $3,073,000 or 93 percent above the $1,593,000 earned in the same period last year, despite a 5 percent drop in sales volume.

Sales for the third quarter were $72,989,000 as compared with $76,996,000 in the third quarter of 1974. Earnings per share on an outstanding basis were 86 cents versus 38 cents, and on a fully diluted basis earnings per share amounted to 62 cents compared to 32 cents in the prior like period.

For the nine months ended September 28, 1975, sales volume amounted to $224,819,000 compared with $224,604,000 in the first nine months of 1974. That is a decrease of over 7 percent. Net income, however, was $8,303,000 as against $6,763,000 for the same period in 1974. This represents a 23 percent increase for the year to date and exceeds the Corporation's total earnings of $8,094,000 in 1974. Nine months earnings per share on the outstanding stock amounted to $2.29 as compared with $1.78 the prior year, and on a fully diluted basis were $1.69 versus $1.37 last year.

According to Charles V. Myers, president and chief executive officer, this continued improvement in earnings in the face of declining sales can be attributed to the accelerating impact of the Corporation's programs of cost reduction, selective selling, and cash management.

He said that the industrial gear and heavy duty, off-highway equipment sectors of the Company's business continue strong. Its industrial and residential metal chimney and fireplace businesses are rapidly increasing in volume, and the demand for the Corporation's industrial fiberglass products in the United States has improved significantly. Mr. Myers noted that while the other building products divisions are still feeling the influence of low housing starts, there is an encouraging trend in incoming orders

Blizzards To Colorado City

The Winters High School Blizzards, without a win in District 6-AA competition this season, and the Colorado City Wolves, the other 6-AA cellar team, will meet at Colorado City Friday night. Kickoff at 7:30 p.m.

The Blizzards, who began the season with few sideline reserves and lack of experience, will be further handicapped by the loss of at least one more player Friday night. Darrell Kurtz, who received a concussion in last week's game with Stamford and will not be on the field against C-City this week. Bobby Joe Poindexter, who started the season but was injured in the first game, may see some action this week, as he did go onto the field for a few plays last week. Marvin Moore, quarterback, who was out of action last week because of a "hip pointer" injury, will be ready for play this week. Coach Jimmy Stubblefield said the first of the week.

Winters and Stamford played no common opponents in pre-district activity. However, in district 6-AA competition, each team has met Coahoma and Stamford. The Blizzards lost 35-7 to Ballinger; 59-8 to Hamlin;

37-8 to Coahoma; and 31-14 to Stamford.

The Colorado City Wolves lost 14-6 to Coahoma; 27-20 to Stamford and 12-0 to Anson. In pre-district play, the Wolves won 14-13 over Slaton; 3-0 over Sweetwater; lost 30-0 to Post and 43-6 to Reagan County.

This week's game will be the last away game for the Blizzards; they return home next week to take on the Anson Tigers for their last game of the season. Winters has an off week the last week of District 6-AA play.

KRUEGER'S KOLUMN

By CONG. BOB KRUEGER
21st Texas District

Last weekend I had the opportunity to visit with constituents across the district and talk with them about their concerns. One of the repeated questions that they asked was "What can be done to protect our older citizens in this time of high prices and unemployment?"

There are two activities in the District that are addressing these problems particularly well. One is in San Antonio where the Foster Grandparents Program got its start. This program uses federal funds to pay the minimum hourly wage to retired or unemployed older citizens who work with young people who do not have much opportunity for contact with adults. Many children come from families where only one parent lives at home. These children have a particular need for guidance and examples from adults. Through the Foster Grandparents Program they do have that chance. Some Foster Grandparents visit children who are sick in hospitals, others engage in recreational programs with them, still others help them with hobbies or their work at school. In many cases, what they do is less important than the fact that they are doing something together and that the children can assess their own growth by the examples of their elders.

Blizzards Lose To Stamford

Still seeking their first win in District 6-AA competition, the Blizzards beat Stamford in every department except the scoreboard last Friday night, coming away 31-14 loser in that game played on Blizzard Field.

The Blizzards out-ran, out-passed, out-punted, and out-everything against the Bulldogs, but managed to get only two TDs and one PAT on the board. In the process, Darrell Kurtz received a head concussion, and will be out of action at least for this week's encounter with Colorado City. Tye Rougas also received a shoulder injury, and is doubtful for this week.

Stamford scored a TD in the first, but failed to convert; another 6 in the second, and again failed to convert; and then hit for three TDs in the final, and PATed once.

An intercepted Blizzard pass about halfway through the first period set the Bulldogs up for their first TD, and in the second quarter, the Bulldogs' Farley Peters snagged another Winters pass for a counter.

The Blizzards got on the board with 1:52 left in the half, as Jimmy Chapman ran from four yards out to score. Russell went across for the two extra points.

Cancer Unit Reports $460 Made At Sale

North Runnels Unit of the American Cancer Society realized a total of $460 in the rummage sale held recently, and has announced plans for another rummage sale to be held November 21 and 22.

Members of the local unit met Tuesday and heard reports on the sale, and also announced that they would have a space in the Arts & Crafts Show during the Harvest Days festival here November 14-15.

Frank Ford gave a staff report and showed a film during the meeting.

The third quarter was scoreless, and then the Bulldogs came back to score on a 15 yarder; and on a QB keeper; and then scored their final TD on a 29-yard pass play with 1:58 remaining in the game.

With only 29 seconds left in the contest, Blizzard QB Jeff Russell hit Tony Johnson with an aerial for a 25-yard TD play. Try for extra point failed.

In the contest with Stamford, Chapman had 159 yards to his credit on 34 carries, including the TD run. Flent McNeill had 79 yards on 15 carries, and Tony Johnson had 54 yards on 4 pass receptions.

Jack Fairey had the most tackles for the game, 13, and also received the coaches' "Big Hit" award.

Offensive grades for the evening were: Jimmy Chapman, 90 percent; Gary Schwartz, 88 percent; Doug Rogers, 85 percent; Jack Fairey, 82 percent; and Tye Rougas, 78 percent.

Junior Culture Club Will Present Style Show November 10

The Junior Culture Club of Winters is sponsoring their annual style show on Monday, November 10, at 8:00 p.m. in the Winters High School Auditorium. All garments are home-sewn and the models are women of the community. Everyone is invited to participate. There will be three categories: Sportswear, Street Dresses, and Evening Wear. Names and descriptions must be turned in by Nov. 1, to Gail Swoyer.

Commentator will be Jim McCurdy, of KRBC-TV. Entertainment will be by Belinda and Melinda Hill. There will be door prizes given. Tickets are available from members at the cost of $1.00 or at the door. All proceeds go to the Community Improvement.

Defensively, Jack Fairey was graded 70 percent; Bret Guy, 63 percent; Doug Rogers, 61 percent; and Leroy Jones, 61 percent.

Arts & Crafts Show November 14-15

The annual Arts & Crafts Fair, sponsored by the Women's Committee of the Winters Chamber of Commerce, will be held November 14-15, during the Harvest Festival days in Winters.

The show will be held on North Main Street. Entry categories will be arts, crafts, foods and plants.

Those wishing to enter the fair may call the Chamber of Commerce office, 754-5210, or 754-5201.

The town of Kerrville also has a center for the elderly of which that town is very proud. "Dietert Claim" provides numerous services for the elderly. Dietert Claim is an organization of older citizens who work together to assist one another and to provide services for themselves and for the community. On a plot of land given by the Dietert family is a recreation center for older citizens from Kerrville and the surrounding area. These citizens find assistance there for their needs in transportation, a meals-on-wheels program, and recreation. While I visited with their members, their choir was singing patriotic songs of which they have done a recording. The group was begun out of local stimulus and of substantial local and state participation and planning. The federal role is minor and the sense of shared commitment and of self-direction which the members of the group enjoy has prevented the program from becoming impersonal and distant in the way that many federal programs can. Those who wish to find examples of good self-help, welfare programs with minimal interference by the federal government would do well to look at these two programs. Any program that genuinely assists our older citizens in sustaining and maintaining their dignity and sense of work in our fast and fast-changing society deserves our attention and appreciation.
