Possibilities Of Lighted Football Softball Soon

A group of interested patrons met at the local school last night to discuss the possibilities of a lighted football-softball field for Carbon.

The group which met were enthusiastic about the idea and were confident the project could be put over. Carbon has long been in need of a lighted field and now seems the opportune time to get it.

A very good start by public subscription was made last night. Another meeting has been set for Tuesday night, Sept. 19. The public is invited and urged to attend. This is a project that every citizen in the community should be interested in seeing put over.

Present-day educated adults have a vocabulary four times as large as that used by Shakespeare in his writings, reported Dr. Robert Seashore, psychology professor at Northwestern university. Tests of 500 college students showed they had an average vocabulary of 60,000 common words, 1,500 rare words, and about 35,000 derivatives of common words. Shakespeare used about 15,000 common words in his plays.

Break
I was chaperoning a group of young people at a party one evening and noticed that most of the girls was disturbed by the presence of one attractive young thing, the visiting cousin of one of the girls. The youngest was obviously a trial-size Lana Turner, and had most of the boys present positively charmed. Even the lads who were 'going steady' succumbed to the enchanting stranger. All but one, that is. Noticing that this one male was paying her no particular heed, she switched her attentions exclusively to him. There was a wonderful mood, gentle music, and singing closer to the boy the visitor said meltingly, "Do you mind if I put my head on your shoulder?" The boy gave her a theatrical, passionate look and then, in a voice that could be heard a block away, replied, "This I gotta see! You mean it comes off?"

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Mark 3:33-35, 6:3; 1 Corinthians 15:7; Galatians 2:19-21; Acts 17:27.
DEVOTIONAL READING: James 3:1-27.

Brother to Jesus
Lesson for September 17, 1950

THEY WENT fishing together, no doubt; very likely they worked together in the shop; perhaps little James was the nuisance that small brothers sometimes are, but like all small brothers he would tag along when Jesus went walking over the Nazareth hills. As a man in later years he became influential and famous; indeed it was he who probably wrote the book in our New Testament called "James." But as a boy, his neighbors Dr. Foreman says was nothing remarkable in him. So completely commonplace was he, that Mark 6 shows us, the natives of Nazareth couldn't believe that one of James' brothers could amount to anything.

Unbeliever
FOR years and years James grew up with Jesus, boy with boy. They lived under the same roof, ate from the same dish. James may even have worn his big brother's outgrown tunics. All his childhood days he knew the care and love of the same mother Mary that Jesus had. Through all those "silent" years when Jesus lived and worked in Nazareth, James lived and worked beside him.

And yet, the strange thing is that when Jesus left the carpenter shop and went about "doing good" as Peter said, James did not believe in him. It seems clear from the story in Mark 3 that both Mary and the brothers (and James only) had the idea that Jesus was out of his mind. They came to see his ministry "but didn't believe" could. John also mentions the fact that Jesus' own brothers did not believe in him.

It seems strange, yet the reason may not be hard to find. Perhaps it was a case of the old proverb, "Familiarity breeds contempt." Perhaps James had a sort of inferior complex about himself, maybe he agreed with the villagers' low opinion about him, so that he could not believe that his brother could be the Christ. In any case it is plain that if miracles could ever have compelled belief, Jesus' miracles would have convinced James—but he was an unbeliever right through the day of Calvary.

Believer
PRECISELY what changed him was never known. Some anonymous writer in early times wrote a "Gospel of James"—a piece of fiction never accepted by the church as genuine. What we do know is what Paul tells us; that after his resurrection, Jesus "appeared to James." It may well be that James was convinced by the risen Christ as he had never been by the Carpenter of Nazareth. He that as it may, as time went on and Christians began to multiply in Jerusalem, James appeared as the leader of the Christians' Home Church. At the conference held in Jerusalem to decide the church's first great controversy, it was James whose speech was the "last word" before the vote.

Quality of Leadership
JAMES was not an accepted leader merely because he was a brother of Jesus. There were other brothers who remained quite obscure. James was a recognized leader because of his personal qualities. The reader is invited to study these out for himself. But there is one interesting and unusual combination of qualities in this man, strictness with himself, together with flexible generosity in dealing with others.

In Acts 21:17-26 it is clear that James kept all the laws of Moses himself and expected other Jews to do the same. To the end of his life he was personally a rigid conservative. But when it came to other people, he was far more tolerant.
