MARJAYOUN, Lebanon (AP) — Iranian-backed guerrillas killed six Israeli soldiers in an ambush in south Lebanon on Sunday. The bloodiest attack this year raised fears of Israel retaliation along the last active war front with its Arab neigh-

At least one Israeli soldier was also wounded in the attack, which took place in the same central area of the Israeli-occupied border zone where three soldiers were killed Thursday.

The Shiite Muslim Hezbollah claimed responsibility for both attacks. Two of their guerrillas were killed in clashes Friday.

Lebanese security sources said Sunday's dawn ambush wiped out an Israeli patrol on a narrow road near the village of Aishiyeh. The guerrillas detonated a roadside bomb, then raked the Israelis with rocket-propelled grenades and automatic weapons fire.

Israeli artillery shelled suspected guerrilla hideouts and infiltration trails in ravines near the attack, the sources said.

but most estimate 950 could get a break. And it all depends on the amount of marijuana grown. The determining factor in prison sentences is equal to the amount of marijuana grown.

With current standards, if a grower has 50 plants, he or she is saddled with a narcotics substance weight of 100 grams.

If the number of plants is more than 50, the weight is labeled 1,000 grams about 2.2 pounds.

The numbers of years to be served increases with total weight grown. Last time I checked, marijuana was still an illegal narcotic.

That means against the law — it's illegal to grow, sell and light up and

Not really — unless you consider smoking pot a form of raping good brain cells. The U.S. prison system crunch is affecting all criminal offenders, from murderers down to petty thieves, and pot growers fall somewhere in the gap. Now they're being freed — and unrehabilitated marijuana growers will be ready to cultivate and peddle more weed.

Is there anything that can be done?

Legalizing pot is not an answer — although some Democrats and Libertarians may disagree.

The "positive" aspects of growing and smoking pot certainly don't outweigh the drawbacks, which includes some serious addiction problems. And counseling and drug therapy is not an option. Do you have to be an addict to a grow a plant? Keeping growers' prison sentences on par with other offenders certainly isn't right. Keeping a marijuana grower cooped up in a cell with a sadistic murderer doesn't seem exactly fair but freeing them without proper rehabilitation isn't either.

He'll be back to possibly grow more, possibly smoke more and possibly increase the acceptance of pot as a harmless drug that should gain widespread popularity.

No thanks.

However, some of the schools that Tech fans have a beef with are well deserving of that honor. Three incidences come quickly to mind. Two years ago, when Tech beat TU in Austin, elderly TU fans gave Saddle Tramps vivid descriptions of where to

Cowboys beat Chargers, 23-9

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Gale Gilbert's shot at glory kept ending up in the hands of the Dallas Cowboys.

The career backup quarterback had a miserable day in relief of the injured Stan Humphries, ending San Diego's first four drives with turnovers, including three interceptions. Two of them set up touchdown runs by Emmitt Smith as the Cowboys beat the Chargers 23-9 on Sunday.

Smith, the NFL's leading rusher, was held under 100 yards for the second time in three games, but it hardly mattered. He finished with a season-low 68 yards on 22 carries, and set the club record for career touchdowns with 88.

Smith had been tied with Tony Dorsett at 86.
