Child Victims
Of Jealousy

By Lawrence Gould

Can a boy be jealous of his mother?

Answer: Certainly No one can help being jealous of a person who appears to come between him and someone else he loves, and a boy who gives all his devotion to his father may be very jealous of his mother's "claims" upon him. But many boys begin by being jealous of their fathers' relationship with their mothers (the "Oedipus complex") and the average small boy would be likely to develop an intense attachment to his father either to conceal repressed hostility toward him or because he felt "rejected" by his mother.

old Stone and Mr. Irving Simos report that a "follow-up" of cases in which they had given advice on job seeking and self-confidence showed personal interviews to have been more effective.

Are continuous high winds fatiguing?

Answer: I suppose this is an individual matter, depending on the "association" high winds happen to have for each person, but I think that living where strong gales blow most of the time would be "wearing" to most men and women. Moving about outdoors in a strong wind takes more muscular exertion, and the noise might be hard to shut out of your mind when you're indoors. However, a normal human being can adjust—or as we say, "get used"—to many things which at first seem intolerable, and wind may be no exception.

Is "advice by mail" effective?

Answer: Doubtless it is, but since most people find it so much easier to evade their actual problems or give only one side of a story when writing a letter than when talking to a trained observer that I, for one, don't try to give advice that way. In the Journal of Applied Psychology, Dr. C. Har-

KEEPING HEALTHY

The Challenge of Heart Disease

By Dr. James W. Barton

IT IS A NATURAL feeling of sympathy that we have for the blind, for the victims of infantile paralysis and for those who are crippled—particularly crippled children. What many of us fail to realize, however, is that there is a dread foe of humanity that takes away the young and old, yet we do nothing about it, thinking of it perhaps as just an act of Nature. I have in mind that deadly human enemy, heart disease.

In a pamphlet, "The Challenge of Heart Disease," the American Heart Association presents some startling facts that should make us all do our part in preventing the death of loved and valuable citizens. "Heart disease has been increasing rapidly. Today it is the leading cause of death. One of every three deaths is due to diseases of the heart and blood vessels. Heart disease takes a greater toll than the next five leading causes of death combined."

The death rate from diseases of the heart and blood vessels is three times as high as tuberculosis. The unfortunate fact about heart disease is that it takes the greatest number of lives between ages of 40 and 60, the age of most productivity and the age of greatest opportunity for helpfulness to fellow men.

"The economic cost of heart disease is staggering in terms of loss of life, absenteeism, disability, loss of gainful employment, and care and treatment programs."

What can you and I do to help fight this terrible enemy of mankind? We can join our local branch of the American Heart Association and help research physicians who are doing advanced work and investigation of the causes and treatment of heart disease. We can help employ or place men and women with heart disease so that they can do gainful work and retain their morale.

Star Dust
STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD

SHIRLEY TEMPLE'S ability to mimic did a lot toward making her a child star, and she is still using it as a help in learning the various dialects she's had to master. She has a southern drawl and a Scandinavian accent down pat, but had a bit of trouble with this bit of dialogue needed by Warners' "Always Sweethearts."

SHIRLEY TEMPLE

More than once she has confused her mother-in-law by using one of the three, when answering the phone, even her own mother can't tell sometimes whether a new southern maid, a Scandinavian one or an Irish scullion is on the other end of the wire when she calls her daughter.

John Dall and the King brothers are discussing rights to Jonathan Latimer's novels featuring detective Bill Crane. They would allow Dall to continue the screen life of crime, but on the side of law and order.

The picnic staged recently by the American Federation of Radio Artists was quite a shindig; raised $3,000 for its relief fund. Lum and Abner ran the bingo tables and organized square dances. Frank Nelson, of "Blondie," auctioned off supporting roles on such shows as "Sam Spade" and "Philip Marlowe" to ambitious newcomers who bid high for them.

For years Humphrey Bogart has been longing to get into one of those yacht races to Honolulu. Now he has been thwarted once again. This year's race starts July 4, when he'll be busy at Warners' in "Chain Lightning."

Twelve-year-old Joan Lazer has running parts in several daytime serials, including "Rosemary" and "Portia Faces Life." She also makes recordings. Asked about her plans for the future, she said "Of course I want to be a blues singer and a first-rate actress, but right now I'm trying to improve my writing style by writing radio scripts."

Add two-year-old Barbara Godfrey, daughter of Director Peter Godfrey to the list of women who adore Robert Taylor. Meeting him for the first time recently, she gave him one of her father's silver cups as a token of her esteem for the screen hero.

John Payne, Gail Russell, Jeffrey Lynn, Lon Chaney, Edgar Bergen and Michael O'Shea, all of "Captain China," thought it a fine idea to have a doctor standing by when they saw what they were going to go through on the freighter built in the studio tank. The mere thought of it made them fear seasickness. Those storms they whip up in a studio can be brutal almost as bad as real ones.

Warner Bros. has retained John Halloran, judo expert for the U. S. marine corps during the war, to instruct Edmond O'Brien for a fight scene in "White Heat," in which James Cagney and Virginia Mayo have co-starring roles.

Jane Wyman reports from London that she had her first comfortable voyage recently gets seasick even when canoeing on a smooth lake. This time, on her way to star in "Stage Fright" for Alfred Hitchcock, she had some anti-seasickness pills, developed by Canada's medical corps—evidently they were effective in her case at least.

How It Started . . .

Tippling goes back to the days when barbers performed blood-letting operations. They received no definite fee, but were given what-ever the patient could afford. Payment was sent in a little box with the words "To Insure Promptness." From the initial letters of those three words comes our word "tip."

A junny face is called a mug because in the 18th century drinking mugs were made with junny faces on them. In the course of time, junny faces themselves came to be called mugs.

"Punny" is a corrupt form of a French word meaning "younger," "born junior." It was first used in English courts to mean "of inferior rank," although in everyday language it now means inferior in strength rather than in age.

Highway Gas Demand Up

The interstate commerce commission, reporting on a survey of demand in transportation fields, estimated passenger car use of gasoline in 1946 at from 529 million barrels to 574 million barrels. Motor truck petroleum consumption for the year is expected to be between 198.2 million and 216.6 million barrels.

Real High Balls

The mechanical age finally has come to the familiar weather-cock which has been indicating wind directions atop barns and houses for centuries. The modern weather-vane revolves on at least 10 bronze weather-resistant steel balls of varying sizes, swinging in response to mild zephyrs as well as strong breezes.

He Lives On

Lesson for June 26, 1949

WHAT IS JESUS, after all? A name in a book? A picture on the walls of churches? More than that! A historical character! Founder of a great religion? More than that! He is the one and only Person who can be everywhere. He would be important if he had only lived; he is far more so because he lives on.

But where does he live, and how? Christians would often feel lonely and discouraged, if it were not for one thing. They know Jesus prays for them. In long-ago times the High Priest of Israel used to pass beyond his people's sight into our Holy Hills of Hoies, and when he did, the people knew that in that sacred place he was bearing on his heart the whole people, the people whom he served.

So the writer to the Hebrews, in the New Testament, pictures Jesus as the perfect High Priest, who has passed beyond our sight, beyond the beautiful blue veil of heaven, into the very presence of God, when he lives on to intercede for his people who are ever on his heart.

Jesus lives on today in the life of prayer which we believe is still his. No matter what comes to the Christian, he can remember that One is praying for him who is stronger than all the world of evil.

"Greater is he that is for us than he that is against us," said John the Apostle.

In His Book... ILLUSTRATE this us that Jesus had to show some of his friends his own picture in the Old Testament.

In His People... CHURCHES may argue among themselves about what Jesus meant by this or that. But there cannot be any argument about one thing. When Jesus left his friends behind, he gave them orders to go and tell the world about him.

What is the reason that 120 Christians today don't win 3,000 converts? One reason is that you would probably find those 120 Christians complaining that their church is "vacant," they don't have a pastor. The early Christians might have thought that very funny. How can a church be vacant with 120 people in it? Christ lives in his church.

Into All the World... CHRISTIANITY is the only religion that can stand transplanting into any climate. There is no other religion that can number its people from the Arctic to the equator, and from east to west around the world. But this is not an accident. It would not have happened by itself. Jesus himself in Galilee walked wherever he went, and in all his grown-up life he did not walk farther from his birthplace than you could drive in an afternoon.
