Ballinger Says Au Revoir, Not Good Bye to 70 Men

At eight-thirty this evening 69 men will entrain here and leave for Camp Travis. One man, Edward Spill, who has been on the editorial staff of the Houston Post for some time, was permitted to report to Camp Travis without returning to Ballinger, making seventy men furnished on this call by Runnels county.

The men were mobilized here Sunday, and were permitted to return home under instructions to report Monday and be ready for entraining at the above hour. The men will leave Ballinger in charge of Barton Wells, assisted by U. S. Heavenhill.

Friends of the drafted men and their relatives have been gathering here all day, and despite the bad weather, they remained with them throughout the day, and some will be at the train this evening to see them off. With few exceptions the men are cheerful and enthusiastic over the work before them. They go with a determination to get the kaiser, and will be ready to cross the Atlantic for that purpose when the word is given.

(By C. C. Walsh of San Angelo.) Don't you hear the bugle sounding
On the quiet evening air?

Don't you hear the cheers resounding

From the people everywhere?
Don't you see Old Glory streaming
In the golden sunset sky?

We can be no longer dreaming—
"Au revoir—but not good-bye."

For the train is at the station,
While our boys are marching down

To be soldiers of our nation,
In their natty Khaki's brown.
Every man so brave and daring
With a steady nerve and eye;
Naught for any danger caring—
"Au revoir—but not good-bye."

You can see the wives and mothers
You can see the fathers, too;
While the sweethearts of some others

Are vowed to be true—
All assembled at the station
With an effort not to cry.
Each one claiming some retaliation—
"Au revoir—but not good-bye."

While the friendly crowd is cheering
For the boys to march away;

While the loving mothers fearing
That the enemy will slay;

While the sweethearts, never caring
For the blushing lover's sigh;

Let's wish them Godspeed farin'—
"Au revoir—but not good-bye."

If the efforts of the good ladies of this city count for anything, the soldiers entraining here Monday evening will not go hungry while journeying to Camp Travis. While seventy young men were busy winding up their affairs at home, telling loved ones and friends good-bye, the ladies of Ballinger were busy preparing boxes of good things to eat. Early Saturday morning phones were busy, the committee calling the army of good ladies to duty in preparing lunches for the boys, and these will be placed on the special train, and will be ready to appease the appetites of the men leaving home to fight our battles. When the last increment of men entrained here, each was presented with a round box of candy. The train did not arrive at the training camp until noon the following day, and the men were compelled to do without breakfast, and something more substantial than candy is being furnished this time.

They have lined up for the parting—
Watch them as they are keeping step!
See their lover's glances darting
As they march off with a hep;
See the falling tears half hidden
On the maiden's cheeks so shy;
See them falling now unbidden—
"Au revoir—but not good-bye."

Thus we give a farewell greeting
To a million youth so strong.
Thus the days and weeks are fleeting

When they will try to right a wrong.

Thus the army of our nation
Will be mustered low and high.
Each man bidding some relation—
"Au revoir—but not good-bye."

When the men were assembled Monday morning, Capt. Cohen took charge of the men and instructed them further in military tactics. The boys were told that the government would furnish them with clothing consisting of socks and three suits of underwear, two pair of shoes, two pairs of pants, a blouse, two shirts and a hat, and they were instructed not to carry any clothing except what they had on and could carry extra underwear if they wished to do so. The men will not be permitted to wear any kind of jewelry in the army. Sexret order emblems are not allowed, and soldiers wearing watches and chains must wear the chains concealed. The District Judge J. O. Woodward came in from his home at Coleman Monday morning, and at ten o'clock, convened court for the fall term of 1917. The forenoon of the first day's session was consumed in sounding the docket and outlining a program for the term.

The first week will be jury civil docket week, all civil cases to be tried before a jury being called for this week. The second week will be criminal docket week, and as a three weeks' jury has been summoned it is probable the criminal work will be carried over into the third week, if necessary. The non-jury civil cases will be passed as set by order of the court and on agreement between counsel in cases.

Four weeks are allotted to Ballinger, but it is hardly probable that court will hold over into the fourth week, and the term promises to cover about the usual period of time.

men were given dinner and supper at the City Cafe, instructed to assemble at 7:30 tonight and remain together thereafter.

On account of the cold wind and rain prevailing Monday morning, the Woodmen hall was secured for drill work, and Capt. Cohen had the boys under drill for a couple of hours.

Rowland J. Shaw and Gilbert Allen, two of the men called to report for duty at this time, were out of the state, but permission was granted to them to report for duty to the training camp in Arkansas, and the local board instructed accordingly. This takes all men called for service at this time, and leaves the record clean without a single slack.

The remaining number of the first quota of 169 men required from this country, are expected to be called about the 18 or 20 of this month.

MAN ARRESTED

FOR FORGERY

Pat H. Coleman, for some time employed in a local blacksmith shop, was arrested Monday on a complaint charging him with forgery.

W. C. Barrett, of the Norton country, an uncle of Coleman's wife, filed the complaint, which alleges that Coleman forged Barrett's name to a note given at a local bank and secured a loan of fifty dollars on same.

The note was made last April, and when it came due the maker of the note, including the surety, W. C. Barrett, were notified. This was the first time that Barrett knew his name was on the note. Mr. Barrett called at the bank and denied signing the note, and immediately filed a complaint against Coleman for forgery.

Citizens Pay Tribute of Honor to Runnels Co. Soldier Boys

"We Appreciate It"

Judge Woodward charged the grand jury to join in the "clean-up" campaign, and stated that he stood ready to appoint a finance committee to audit the county's books and keep the records straight. In this part of his charge Judge Woodward stated that he did not know that this work was necessary in this county, but said that the people had a right to know, and the county officer, from justice officers to county judge should be gladly welcome an investigation and a report on same.

The usual charge was made to the grand jury, the judge instructing them along the usual lines, and insisted that prejudice be left behind when the men went in the jury room to hear evidence and ballot on indictments. He instructed them to investigate and ballot on cases that had been filed and in which the defendants were out on bond first, and to report these to the court just as fast as they were disposed of either by indictment, or by failure to find

After impaneling the grand jury Judge Woodward called the civil jury docket. He announced that there was only one case on this docket, that of Jones Webb vs. C. A. Doose. Counsel for defendant filed an answer to plaintiff's petition and plaintiff asked for time and the case was continued until Tuesday morning. This is a boundary suit case in which six acres of land is involved.

MANY CHEER AS SOLDIERS LEAVE

At least two thousand people crowded around the passenger station Monday night, and a hearty cheer went up as the train carrying the drafted men pulled out from the station. Amid the cheers there was also weeping, wives and mothers giving away to their emotions.

The special train arrived here from the west at 8:20. The train consisted of only three coaches, and a baggage coach. The contingent from Tom Green, Concho and other counties west of here were aboard the special and were enthusiastic on the mission just assigned to them, and with flags waving they sent up a yell that could be heard all over the city when the train pulled into the station.

The down town streets were crowded for an hour or more before train time, notwithstanding that it was unpleasant and very dark. The soldiers formed in line and marched to the station, followed by the crowd of friends who seemed eager to cheer them on to victory. Many ladies were at the station with boxes of good things to eat. These were either given to the boys before they got on the train passed in through the windows, and it will not be necessary for the men to go hungry on the trip to the training camp.

With the going of the boys Monday night Runnels county has furnished 148 of the first quota of 169 men called for. The remaining 21 men will probably be called during this month, and the county's quota completed. Of the remaining 21, 15 are negroes.

and "Mama's Little Pumpkin Colored Coon."

Rev. J. B. Curry, pastor of the local Methodist church, was the speaker of the occasion. The soldiers and the large concourse of friends who occupied seats on the lawn around the speaker's stand, listened with intense interest at the splendid address of Rev. Curry. The speaker paid a beautiful tribute of honor to the best manhood of the county, and pointed out to them the great good that would result from the sacrifice they were making for their country. Rev. Curry emphasized the fact that every one must make a sacrifice in this war, and those left at home had a part to play. He reviewed the atrocities credited to the Germans and predicted success for the Americans in the greatest conflict for right the world has ever experienced.

Rev. H. M. Bandy, former pastor of the Christian church of this city, and who is here visiting his daughter, was called to the stand and the meeting adjourned with a prayer delivered by him.

CAPTAIN COHEN GETS ANOTHER GIFT.

As a token of appreciation and for the faithful work done in drilling them, the soldiers who have been drilling here for the past two weeks, presented L. Cohen with a handsome ivory brush set Thursday. The set consisted of hat, clothes, hair and other brushes. It is needless to say that Mr. Cohen was made to feel good when the boys presented him with the gift.

RED CROSS RECEIVES KNITTING MATERIAL

Mrs. George Pearce, in charge of the knitting class, announces the arrival of a quantity of yarn and needles, but not a sufficient amount to be distributed among all the ladies who have volunteered to help in the knitting. Mrs. Pearce says that the material received has been distributed and that other ladies will receive material just as soon as it arrives. She states that some of the ladies who had volunteered to help in the work were at a loss to know why they had not received material when their neighbors had, so she had been informed, and she asks that they just be patient, and all will be given something to do just as fast as the material arrives.

Mrs. Pearce says the ladies of the city are co-operating nicely, and that only delay in getting material is causing the work to lag just now. The Red Cross Society reports that there is such a demand from chapters all over the country for material that it will require time to supply all chapters. The Ballinger chapter has only received a small supply, but has been assured that another supply will be forthcoming.

Womanless Wedding Brings Red Cross Society $61.40

It was a nice "clean up" for the Red Cross Society Friday night, when under the direction of Mrs. Jno. W. Weeks and Miss Fanny Wilmeth the "Womanless Wedding" was presented to an overflow house at the Queen Theatre. For their part of the receipts the Red Cross cleared $61.40, the picture show man receiving an equal amount. The wedding took place immediately following the picture show.

For the wedding the moving picture screen was slipped aside revealing stage decorations with white columns draped with vines and flowers, with evergreens, flowers, pot plants, etc., forming a setting most appropriate for the wedding scene. A large white wedding bell hung directly over the stage where the bride and groom stood facing the parson and when the knot was tied, the ring bearer and flower girl, holding white ribbons extending from the "clapper" of the bell, rang the bell and an arm full of old shoes showered down upon the newly weds.

With Passur's orchestra playing the wedding march, the bridal party marched down the aisle and took their place on the stage. Preceding the arrival of the bridal party, friends of the contracting parties occupied seats on the stage, reserved especially for them, and roped off with white ribbons, and W.A.Bridwell and Elmer Simpson both representing the mother of the bride. "Miss" Dan Moser. The maid of honor was played by Mr. Orbeck.

The gentlemen participating in the event were U. P. Melton, W. J. Wheeler, Ira Thurman, Claud Stone, Bryan Beck, Jno. A. Weeks, Mr. Weeks representing the father of the bride, and the groom, Archibald Crews, accompanied by his best man, Oscar Williams. Colis Brandt was the flower girl and Robt. Coggins the ring bearer, both of the boys setting new styles for the girls to follow by in both "togs" and paints.

The gentlemen were attired in evening suits of "Conventional Black" while the "ladies" appeared before the foot lights in evening gowns of various colors, supported by background of paint that won't wash off, and despite that great desire to appear graceful before the large audience, the extravagant use of LaCamilles, Gossards and other makes, caused an awkwardness that almost hurt.

The ceremony was performed by the parson, A. W. Sledge, and was in substance as follows:

"Dearly beloved: We've gathered this crowd together after much hard labor to witness a spectacle—yea, such a sight as will probably never again come to pass. Beloved, these two trusting and unsophisticated young things have decided to commit matrimony: for lo! they had told to them that ancient fairy tale that two may live as cheaply as one. Yea, they have presented themselves before those present to be tied together in a true lovers knot."

Verily, verily, I say unto you, if any person present knoweth that which he hath long yearned to impart, yet lacketh the nerve to tell the same, let him seize this opening for are not the contracting parties at the mercy of their friends?

"I require and charge you both if either possesseth knowledge which might prejudice ye, one against the other, verily, the time has passed to unburden thyself—for lo! ye will soon discover each other's shortcomings anyway; and of this ceremony be not pursued to the end, the wedding gifts will returneth to those from whence they came—yea, even to the last pickle fork."

Archibald Robinson Crews, wilt thou take this clinging vine draped on thy left arm to be the guiding star, and forsaking all others, love and obey her till thy dying day? Wilt thou solemnly swear to glanceth neither to the right nor to the left—yea, not even should Amette Kellerman come to town—but always take this prize you have drawn to the movies, whenever she so desireth; give freely to the Red Cross as often as they

OIL WELL CAPACITY IS UNDETERMINED

The latest reports received here indicate that Colmean is experiencing an oily excitement as the result of striking oil sufficient to flow out the top of a 3400 foot well. The Coleman Democrat in reporting the strike says:

"The second oil well on the Morris lands eight miles northeast of Coleman, indicates rich pay and practically proves the field. The caprock was pierced Sunday afternoon at a depth of a little over 4500 feet. A plug was immediately placed in the hole in order to assure control. During Sunday night the plug, together with tools, was blown from the well and oil spread over the premises.

"The well has been capped because of lack of ample provisions to care for the oil. A partial test has been made and the well flowed 58 barrels in seven hours when it was cut off.

"Oil men who have flocked here since the strike and investigated the premises, with one accord say there is a wide and undeveloped field here. Mr. J. P. Morris, on whose lands the two wells are located, states there is enough oil already in sight to demand the laying of a pipe line to take care of the product.

"The initial well on the Morris tract was at a depth of approximately 2350 feet when the cap rock was pierced and the oil sand encountered. The well was capped and the drill moved five hundred feet. In the second well the drill passed through the cap rock and punctured the oil sand at a depth of a little over 3400 feet. Provisions will be immediately made to care for the oil of number 2 and the rig moved to another location, it being the purpose of the operators to drill a circle of wells around number 1, which is a producer, before exploring the oil sands.

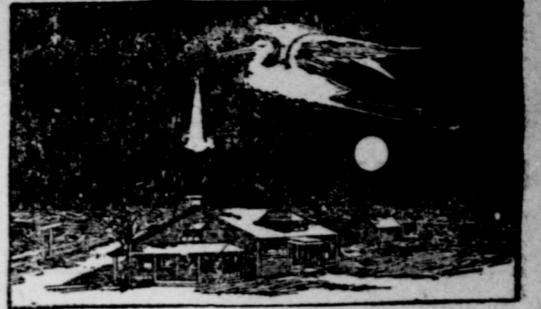

The Magnolia Petroleum Company of Texas and the Elizabeth Oil Company of Pennsylvania are operating jointly on the Morris lands.

Drill Operating in Brown County.

The Empire Oil & Gas Company yesterday began actual drilling on a deep test well on the Fuller property northwest of Bangs, where material has been assembled during the past few weeks. The drillers are beginning the test with a twenty-four inch hole, apparently with the intention of literally punching the bottom out of the earth before abandoning the hole. It is customary to make test wells of much smaller diameter, according to local oil operators.

The new well of the Empire company is only a short distance from the producing gas wells on the property of Mrs. W. H. Fuller. These wells are now providing natural gas to the town of Bangs and to several gins in that vicinity, although their capacity is not great enough to justify piping the gas to this city. The Empire company proposes to make further tests of the gas field, and also to drill deep enough to find oil if there is oil in that vicinity.

The Oil State Petroleum company announces that it is now ready to begin drilling in the Grosvenor community. Timbers for the derrick were hauled to the site of the new well some time ago, and the drilling machinery has all been assembled. This well will have a diameter of about eighteen inches at the surface, and will be drilled to a depth of some three or four thousand feet if necessary to thoroughly test the field.—Brownwood Bulletin.

50 YEAR TERM
FOR WINCHESTER

San Angelo, Oct. 10.—The jury in the case of the State of Texas vs. Gene Winchester, after being out for fourteen hours, brought in a verdict of guilty and assessed his punishment at fifty years in the penitentiary. The case went to the jury Monday night at eleven o'clock and the verdict was brought in this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The case was called for trial last Thursday and has been one of the hardest fought legal battles in the district court of this county for several years.

Winchester was brought into the court room a few minutes before the jury filed in with the verdict. When it was announced that the jury had reached a verdict the defendant was sent for. He was visibly affected. Walking a little unsteady to the bar of the court, he took a seat and awaited the coming of the twelve men who had his case in their hands.

Judge Cornell read the verdict of the jury. The defendant shifted in his seat, but did not look up. The jury was excused, and the defendant returned to the Tom Green county jail.

Winchester was charged with murder in connection with the killing of George Parramore, a Knox farmer. Parramore's decomposed body was found behind cat-claw bushes near the road a short distance from Harriett on Monday, July 30. Winchester was arrested a few hours later in Knox county. He admitted on the witness stand that he shot Parramore and dragged the body where it was found. He said that he shot Parramore in self-defense and that the trouble came up over a crap game, in which Parramore won some of his money.

District Attorney Early came in from San Angelo Tuesday morning. He had been assisting the prosecution in the trial of Gene Winchester at San Angelo, and the case went to the jury before Mr. Early left that city.

Winchester is on trial on the charge of killing a man by the name of George Parramore, the killing taking place on the Ballinger-Angelo road west of Miles on or about July 28. Winchester took the stand in his own behalf and plead self defense, and did not plead insanity as was announced some time ago that he would do.

Winchester testified that he and Parramore were shooting craps. He said that just before the shooting Parramore claimed he threw seven when he had not. Parramore, Winchester claimed, took his money anyway and argument resulted. He declared that Parramore said he would get his gun and beat Winchester up. Thereupon, according to the witness, Parramore started for the automobile where his gun was. It was then that Winchester shot him.

Winchester testified that he then wrapped the body of Parramore in a quilt and dragged it, feet first, to a little clump of bushes where he stretched it out. He said that he did it because he was frightened. He did not know just why he took the body behind the bushes. He said that afterwards he started back to the road and got lost. He lay down and went to sleep and about daylight got in the car and drove to Ballinger, where his brother lived.

Questioned by attorneys as to what disposition was made of Parramore's gun, the witness answered that he threw it into the river near Ballinger. He said he did not know why he did this.

The attorneys for the state failed to shake his statements as to the cause of the killing: namely, that Parramore threatened to kill him and went to the car where his gun was.

Winchester was plainly affected when he took the stand today. At times it was hard to understand what he said.

The arguments in the case are expected to be concluded Monday and the case placed in the hands of the jury.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR, DOUBLES ITS BEAUTY

Try this! Hair gets thick, glossy, wavy and beautiful at once.

Immediate? Yes! Certain—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggly, faded, dry brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

KILLING FROST
COVERS COUNTRY

The temperature dropped to 34 Tuesday morning, according to the government gauge located at the home of E. M. Embanks in South Ballinger, while frost sufficient to kill tender vegetation in the valleys formed. The frost, like the rains we have been receiving this year, was "spotted." Some sections of the county report no frost while others report considerable frost.

Telegraph reports indicate that a general frost prevailed over a large territory. North, East, Central and West Texas report clear weather and light frost. Clear and no frost is reported on Gulf coast, Oklahoma and Arkansas reports clear weather with heavy to light frost.

Sour Stomach.

Eat slowly, masticate your food thoroughly, abstain from meat for a few days and in most cases the sour stomach will disappear. If it does not, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper. Red meats are most likely to cause sour stomach and you may find it best to eat them out.

BALLINGER BOY IN NAVY
BUYS LIBERTY BOND

Not contented with doing his bit as a sailor, being in the United States Navy, Robt. M. Lowry, son of Mrs. W. E. Branch, of South Ballinger, has made application through the F. & M. Bank of Ballinger for a Liberty Bond, the money he has saved in the navy being invested in a loan to Uncle Sam. There are not many boys who are using their time and money too in helping to win the war. Other boys might get a lesson in sacrifice here.

JURY REVIEW CUTS OUT CROOKED ROADS

A road review jury, composed of Chas. Ferguson, G. W. Dunlap, J. A. Williams, C. R. Stephens, and R. W. Bruce, went over the Tex-O-Kan highway Monday and cut out the crooks and sharp turns on the road leading from Winters on thru Ballinger to the Concho county line on the Paint Rock road.

The jury was appointed to straighten the road at Elm Creek, selecting a new right-of-way just west of the old road which passes through the slough just north of the creek at the Runnels crossing. The jury selected a route which necessitated cutting off about 12 acres of land owned by L. P. Wood. They allowed Mr. Wood $20 per acre for the land, and retained the old road bed and the land cut off for a gravel bed, and this land forms a bed of good road building material.

The road machinery is at work on the Tex-O-Kan highway south of the city, leading out over the causeway. Commissioner Kirk says his section of the road thru this county will be put in good shape before the machinery is transferred to other road work. It is expected that the state highway commission will send representatives over this road in the near future with a view of approving it and recommending that state aid be given. An effort is being made to route the highway west of Ballinger by way of Sweetwater, and to avoid this the road should be put in good shape at once.

The Year $1.50

A. W. Sledge.....Editor

Uncle Sam is shipping wheat to the allies, and hot led to the kaiser.We are rapidly approaching the season of the year, when the coal
man can claim more friends than the ice man.The more we see of this war we are in, the more we are impressed with the truthfulness of Sherman
when he said "War is Hell."A prohibition for Tom Green county has been ordered. Congratulations are in order, judging from the forecast sent over from that city.Uncle Sam has begun the campaign to get the people to mail
their Christmas packages early.
Of course that calls for early shopping. We are also reminded that Santa Claus will not stock up
very heavy this year, and the first come, first served.After losing out in the campaign
to land the West Texas A. & M.
College, Sweetwater is posing as an ideal site for the new insane asylum. We are willing for the new "bug house" to be located at Sweetwater, but would object to it being located any closer to Ballinger.The second month of the city schools is rapidly passing by, and so far as we are able to learn perfect harmony prevails, and the pupils are doing good work. With good health prevailing, everything points to a most successful
term.The Sweetwater Reporter says,
"City order more walks." There is no question but what walks are inductive to good health. Those who spend most of their time
stooped over a desk in a closed office would have better health if they would walk more and not hang on the corner and wait for an auto to come along.We regret very much that Uncle Sam did not get Villa when he sent his boys after him. We are afraid that the kaiser has formed a false opinion of our strength because we did not make a good job
on the Mexican expedition. It is up to Perishing to make good this time.We are told that we have German sympathizers in America, and the I. W. W. and F. & L. P. A.
members have attempted to thwart the administration in its war plans, but American cash, industries and public utilities of America is on the job, and every agency moving like clock work
in organizing an army that will blaze the way for a democratic world and a permanent peace. The American aim in this war is for right and right will reign because America is in it.The men warned out to work the streets under the street working
ordinance, and who are on the job,
must be given credit for being good financiers. Under the law a man could pay sixty cents per day
in lieu of working. Four men reported for duty on Monday morning, paid their sixty cents and are working on the streets at $1.75 per
day. The street crew began work on Seventh street leading south
from the Santa Fe depot, Monday morning.That bunch on trial at Abilene
for conspiracy are certainly ignorant, if they were led to believe the Government could be overthrown
in three days. One company of regulars would have put the whole
League to flight.—Santa Anna News.It would have been a waste of army energy to call out a company of regulars for that bunch
when a Boy Scout patrol armed with negro shooters could do the work. The leader of that gang have no back bone, if so they would have been rearing to go to Germany and catch the kaiser.

His mother objected to our boy playing foot ball because another boy got his leg broke in the game. Next day son came home from school with his nose smashed as the result of coming in contact with a base ball. This worried the boy's mother and said she could see no sense in boys playing such games. "Well, what can I play, mama?" asked the boy. "Why don't you play ring-round the roses," said his mother. The boy who does not experience some of the hardships of his teen age is not prepared to face the hardships that is certain to confront him as he grows older.

Some people seem to think that the object of this war is to give them an opportunity to get rich. Such people are not patriotic but selfish. War calls for sacrifice and no man can do his duty without making a sacrifice. Some men are giving up their sons. Some are giving up their money. Some are not giving anything but a lot of time trying to manipulate schemes that will put them on easy street. Every man should try to make money legitimately, but it is his duty to use some of that money for something besides satisfying his own selfish greed. The man not voluntarily doing his bit to help win the war should be made to do his bit. It's no one man's job we are up against.

CARELESS AUTOMOBILE DRIVING.

So much has been said, and so
very well said, about careless auto
driving that we hardly feel enthusiastic in enlarging on the subject.

At the same time, notwithstanding,
etc., it would seem that what has been accomplished is very inconsiderable compared to what has been said.

It may indicate that the talk is all to no avail, or that there is still room for more talk, but one thing is certain, and that is that there is no room for the present amount of carelessness.

The Chronicle does not pretend
to know what is the proper or the most effective remedy.

We have tried fines, limitations,
license, advice, scolding and other
odds and ends, but haven't made much headway.

Possibly we have given too
much attention to speed rates and not enough to some other factor.

Possibly we have put too much confidence in the printed rules
and have given too little thought to the qualifications of those who were expected to carry them.

It would seem that everybody
is not capable of driving an automobile, and it might be a good idea of adopting some method of separating the goats from the sheep before too many children
and old people have been killed.

Under the present arrangements
anybody who has the money to buy one can get a license to drive
a car.

Only those who act as hired chauffeurs are required to prove qualifications.

Occasionally we doubt whether ownership should be accepted as proof of ability or not, and sometimes
we wonder if everybody
shouldn't be called upon to prove
some degree or common sense and capability before being permitted
to run a 4-d horse power engine
through the streets of a congested city—Houston Chronicle.

Too much can not be said about careless automobile driving. Something must be done for public safety.

The officers can reduce the hazard to a minimum by enforcing the traffic laws. We regret to note that the laws governing auto
traffic are violated open and above
board, and only occasionally is a man arrested and that generally for breaking the speed limit when other sections of the law just as important are violated. The officers tell us that the law governing the lighting of cars, the law
prohibiting blinding lights, etc.,
will be enforced in the near future.

It seems that here was a flaw in this feature of the law, but it has been amended and will soon become effective. If the officers don't enforce the law they should resign.

ing by using Cole's Hot Blast Heaters. They prevent colds and sickness.

MRS. VIOLA IVES HAS GAINED 40 POUNDS
BY TAKING TANLAC

Was Almost Helpless for Three Years and Was in Hospital Five Months—Now Well and Happy Again.

"I have actually gained forty pounds in weight and all the people who have been benefitted by Tanlac believe I have the most
cause to be thankful," said Mrs.
Viola Ives, living at 315 Cross St.
Little Rock, Ark., recently.

"In May of 1913," continued
Mrs. Ives, "I suffered a complete breakdown of my nerves and my entire system gave way. About six weeks afterward I was carried to the hospital but was never told the cause of my trouble. I could give and nothing that was done for me did me any good, I became perfectly helpless—couldn't move
any part of my body, and I just lay there in bed for five months
knowing anything or anybody.
I was brought home in October,
1913, and tried all kinds of medicine and everything I was told about. I finally got so I could walk a little by holding onto the furniture, I had to learn how to walk again—but still I didn't get well. I was in this condition and almost helpless for three years.

"I read about so many getting relief by taking Tanlac and my husband got me a bottle in June of this year, and after taking three bottles I began to feel better. I have taken seven bottles of Tanlac
now and I can walk anywhere and sleep like a child at night. When I took my first dose of Tanlac, I weighed only one hundred and twenty-two pounds. I now weigh one hundred and sixty-two—an actual gain of forty pounds since I started on Tanlac, and I am very grateful for what it has done for me. I am feeling perfectly well
now, better than in five years, and my family and everybody else who knows me is talking about the wonderful change Tanlac has made in me."

MEN TRANSFERRED FROM COMPANY H

Company H, Sixth Texas Infantry is no more. It is now Company
M, 144th infantry, or at least the majority of the officers and enlisted men of the old Company
H are now assigned to the 144th
infantry. This is the information brought to the city by George E.
Webb, who has just returned from Camp Bowie, who has just returned from Fort Worth and other points. Mr.
Webb says that in the reorganization of the national guard many of the old units lost their existence,
but that the members, generally speaking, are still together. The changes are due to the fact that all the units had to be recruited to the full war strength, under which 250 men compose a company, and hence combinations and temporary elimination of several of the officers.

Mr. Webb stated that he understood all the commissioned officers
of Company H will be assigned to places as soon as units are organized. His understanding is that the "non-coms" of Company H have lost their designations, or will lose them for the present, but that recommendations now being arranged will care for them.

That the officers and enlisted men from San Angelo are in the best of spirits and are working hard every day was the way Mr.
Webb sized up the situation at Camp Bowie.

BALLINGER BOYS
READY FOR FRANCE

Dear Friends:

We do not know when we will get to see you, we will just write.
We are still enjoying life. We get plenty to eat and are kept pretty busy. We haven't been working very hard this week, only working our brain. Our major and captain have given us instructions in bomb throwing and ditch digging. When the boys from the west get in the ditch to dig, the eastern soldiers holler, "prairie dog, now dig."

We don't have much time we call our own, but when we do get off for a little while we have a good time. The corporals and sergeants are great for society.
Especially Sergeant Williams and Corporal Starkey. They have been receiving letters from Fort Worth
girls, and quite a bunch of girls
came out to see Sergeant Williams
last Sunday. He received a letter to come to the Methodist church
and bring a bunch of his friends.
He selected Corporal Arnett, Corporal
Starkey and myself to go with him.

We get to see lots of Ballinger people. Nearly every one who comes to Fort Worth comes out to see us, and we are always glad to see them. Bob Miller was out to see us last night. We met one of our old Ballinger friends, Neil McMillian, who we didn't know
was here. He sends his regards to Ballinger.

We feel sorry for Corporal
Holland, Corporal Mountz and George Smith; they can't get the Fort Worth girls to notice them.

All the Ballinger boys are getting along fine and seems to be well satisfied with army life, but
are in a hurry to go to France.
With few exceptions every man
enlisted in the army under the volunteer system are anxious to go to France, and will be disappointed if the war ends before
they get to cross the waters.

With best regards to all,
Private Singletary.
Camp Bowie, Texas.

"CASCARETS" FOR A
COLD, BAD BREATH
OR SICK HEADACHY

Best for liver and bowels, for biliousness, sour stomach and constipation.

Get a 16-cent box now.
Furred Tongue, Bad Colds, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels
which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food,
which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—
indigestion, foul gases, bad
breath, yellow skin, mental fears,
everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels
a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent
box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels
regulated and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need
a good gentle cleansing, too.

HE MAY NEED THE SMOKES.

R. L. Clayton, of the Talpa country, was here Monday, and while in the city dropped a dollar
in The Ledger's Tobacco Fund.
Mr. Clayton is in the draft age,
was recently called for examination,
and some day may be caught
in the trenches without a smoke.
He says he knows how to sympathize
with the boys who are in the trenches and can't get a smoke
when they want it, and he pays for four kits of smokes to be sent to the soldiers in France.

S. H. Spence of Talpa returned home Monday, after visiting his daughter, Mrs. R. P. West, here
for a few days.

PREPARE FOR THE CRISIS

Every mother awaiting motherhood
should get in condition for the crisis.
There is just one thing to do—give nature a helping hand throughout the waiting period.

No time should be lost in beginning

the use of the penetrating external preparation, "Mother's Friend". By its use

the abdomen are made pliable and elastic;

they can then expand with ease when

baby is born and pain at the crisis is naturally less. Ask for a bottle of "Mother's Friend" at the drug store

today and do not go a single night without applying it. Write The Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. D, 500 Lamar Building, Atlanta, Ga., and they will send you a book of scientifically prepared, practical information, without charge. "Mother's Friend" is composed of such penetrating
oils and other ingredients as to make it entirely indispensable to expectant mothers.

"I am not going to give you anything for your tobacco fund for soldiers in France," said W. A.

Esmond, "but I want to contribute to a fund to be used in subscribing for the home paper to go to the soldiers in the training camps." As Mr. Esmond made

the above statement he handed

in the cash for a subscription and instructed that the Ledger be mailed to Roy E. Tyre at Camp Travis.

"I rolled up my last week's paper," said Mr. Esmond, "and mailed

it to Roy and he wrote me a four-page letter thanking me for the paper, and telling me how glad

he was to get the news from home.

I don't know of anything that the boys who have left this country

would appreciate more than

they would to them than the 'smokes.'

An over-stock of modesty keeps us from saying that Mr. Esmond is eminently correct, but everybody knows that he is. We are sending quite a bundle of both
daily and weekly Ledgers to Camp Travis and Camp Bowie, but what we send only represent a small percent of the boys who have gone
from here, and any one wishing to second Mr. Esmond's with a three months' subscription and have no particular soldier they wish to send it to we will furnish the name.
We have the name of all the men
sent from this county. The price of the weekly for three months is only 3$ cents. If you don't want to furnish the smokes, kick in for the paper.

Well Expanded Lungs not Enough

Pure blood is indispensable to the health and strength of the lungs. The delicate structure of these organs makes it necessary.
When the blood is impure the lungs lose their tone, and even if they are permitted to expand freely,
they have not the power fully
to perform their important work.
The fact is,

All Traces of Scrofula Eradicated from the System

By the greatest of all purifiers. A common mistake in the treatment of scrofula has been the use of mercury and other mineral mixtures, the effect of which is to bottle up the impurities in the blood, and hide them from the surface.

The impurities and dangers are only added to in this way.

For more than fifty years S. S. S. has been the one recognized reliable blood remedy that has been used with highly satisfactory results for Scrofula. Being made of the roots and herbs of the forest, it is guaranteed purely vegetable, and absolutely free from all mineral ingredients.

You can obtain S. S. S. from any drugstore. Our chief medical adviser is an expert on all blood disorders, and will cheerfully give you full advice as to the treatment of your own case. Address Swift Specific Co., Dept. F Atlanta, Ga.

RED CROSS WORK STARTED IN WINGATE

Mrs. C. R. Stephens, chairman of the Runnels county Chapter of the Red Cross, and Mrs. R. L. Harwell chairman of the membership committee, went to Wingate Saturday in the interest of the Red Cross. They did not organize an auxiliary because there were not enough members in Wingate, but a number of new members were received, and sewing and knitting classes were started under the direction of the Ballinger ladies.

Fifteen new members were added, making a total of twenty-one members in Wingate. They come under the Ballinger Chapter, and until an auxiliary can be organized will be considered as members of the Ballinger branch. It is hoped that enough members can be secured to organize an auxiliary at an early date.

The Girl Who Was a Soldier Boy

How I Went "Over There" With Pershing's Division

By HAZEL CARTER

Mrs. Hazel Carter of Douglas, Ariz., is a young woman, twenty-two, whose young husband, Corporal John J. Carter of the United States Army, was ordered to France with the Pershing expedition. During the trip he wrote to her, telling her she obtained a soldier's uniform and fell in as a private on his departure. She was five days at sea on the transport before she was discovered and was returned home against her wishes.

CHAPTER III.

"Spotted" by a Bluejacket.

Of course we ran at night with all our portholes masked, and no smoking was permitted either on deck or below after dark. If the guard caught a soldier sneaking a "fag" he tagged him and forced him to do guard duty until he in turn caught another at it. The system worked pretty well. The boys could smoke all they wanted to on deck in the daytime. After the lights were out our sleeping quarters were absolutely dark, and there was a severe penalty for lighting even a match. The portholes were open to keep the men from suffocating.

Before dark I carefully located my husband's bunk since I knew I would have to travel by dead reckoning, and I couldn't afford to stumble over something, because that would get Smithers and my husband in bad and lead to my discovery. Before going to bed I took off my heavy shoes and carefully hid them. I was going to make the trip in my stocking feet.

Shortly after lights out I felt a gentle push on my arm, and Smithers whispered:

"All right, kiddie. Go up forward." I sneaked out of the bunk and reached my husband's berth without mishap. He was glad to see me, and for awhile we forgot the ship and the war and the dangers and were ourselves. But, soldier-like, he suddenly came down to cases.

"I've got to report you, kiddie," he said. "You can't go on or you will get us all in bad."

I pleaded with him. He insisted that he owed it to his country and his uniform to report me.

"Forget you have seen me," I urged, "and let me go along. I will join the Red Cross as soon as I get ashore in France."

Alarm Interrupts Talk.

He finally agreed he would not report me until just before we arrived, if I got away with it that long, but he insisted he must do it then. However, we agreed to see each other the next night to have another talk, and I thought, with the whole Atlantic between us and France, I could persuade him in the meantime. Just as I was getting ready to go back the submarine alarm sounded which broke all the boys out of their bunks, seasick as most of them were.

I ran back to my place just in time to hear the rookie quartered over me arguing with the sergeant.

"Get up out of there!" shouted the non-com. "That's the U boat alarm."

"I don't care whether we sink or not," answered the poor boy. "I hope she does. Don't bother me."

The sergeant roused out the rookie without much ceremony, and I followed along to a place assigned to me on a life raft, putting on my life belt. All the men had orders to don their life preservers first and then go in an orderly manner to their places. Already there had been two or three drills in the daytime, and the disiplined man soon catches on.

When I reached the deck there was no confusion and no excitement in the pitch black darkness. The men were proceeding quietly to their places, fastening on their life belts, although most of them had been wakened out of snoring sleep, and I was proud of the behavior of the soldiers. Uncle Sam was sending to the trenches.

If all our boys who are going to France obey instructions as well as that shipload did there will be no excuse for the loss of a life. It all moved like clockwork. No one lost his head.

My seasick rookie, however, climbed into the wrong boat and got a call from the corporal.

"Don't you know," bellowed the corporal, "that lifeboat is reserved for officers? Get out of there!"

"I don't think this is a very democratic army," grumbled the youngster.

"If they're fussy what boat you get in at such a time, I'm going to Russia to enlist, where there's some freedom, if they don't drown me, and I don't care if they do."

The alarm was only intended as a night drill, and we were soon ordered back to quarters. I trudged along with the rest, almost boldly, because there was little danger of detection in that inky darkness. I rolled into my bunk and was soon as sound asleep as anybody. As I dozed off I knew I was not afraid of submarines, for the alarm had not scared me at all, and I thought we had sighted a sure enough U boat.

After that we had many of these drills at all hours. Most of the men soon became calloused to the danger of submarines, and some of them got so they would sleep through the alarm—that is, they would sleep until the sergeant, whose duty it was to see that every one was out, came along and stirred them none too gently from slumber. A few began to think they would miss one of the sights of the trip if they didn't meet a Dutchman and looked forward hopefully to the prospect.

Disappointed Through Failure to See U Boats.

However, these optimists were doomed to disappointment, for our ship did not see a "German porpoise" the whole voyage, nor did we hear a gun fired.

Since returning to the United States I have heard of the attack on some of the ships of the transport fleet, but it was not on the part of it we were with. It would have been impossible for us to have been attacked and not to have known of it. As I say, lots of the boys were disappointed because they could not write home to the folks about the narrow escape from the subs, and the doughboys are great letter writers. Perhaps some of them did, anyway, so as to let those at home know they weren't missing anything.

By this time I felt almost like a soldier and had learned to smoke "tailor-made" cigarettes, although I had tried it only once before this trip as an experiment when I was at school and had abandoned it after a couple of puffs. In the privacy of my bunk I devoted a whole lot of time to trying to roll them with as much carelessness and real economy of tobacco as are shown by the U. S. soldier. I had acquired the "makin's" and spent hours at the task.

About the third or fourth day out I felt I was pretty proficient and got out my brown papers and tobacco on deck and went to it. Near me was a sailor off one of our biggest battleships who was in the gun crew assigned to defend the transport from attack. He was off duty, and I saw him watching me closely as I rolled the pill. Finally he sidled up.

"Say," he asked, "you're a Jane, ain't you?"

"What are you doin'—kiddin' me?" I asked him.

"I guess you're kiddin' me," he answered. "I pegged you by the way you wrap up one of those pills. No recruit is so raw he can't roll one better than that. They wouldn't let him in the army if he couldn't. But what you're doing on this joy ride is none of my business, sis. Don't be afraid I'll tip you off. I'm in the navy, and what the army does ain't my affair so long as we get you over there all O. K."

I didn't admit I was a girl, but we knew. He was a nice boy, who had come from Iowa originally, and I got real well acquainted with him later. He was one of the few people on the transport on the way back, sad and lonesome trip for me, and we became quite chummy. I saw him only the other night here in Hoboken.

"Well," he remarked, "it's hard luck they got you. The other two girls aboard could roll them better than you and slipped through all right."

"More power to them if they did." I answered. "I hope they made it."

Of course there were no more girls on board. He was trying to kid me and get my goat.

Life on Shipboard.

I was pretty happy and contented for the next couple of days, and I guess I became too sure of myself. Most of the boys were getting over their seasickness by this time, and the inevitable crap game that follows the army was in progress. You could hear the men calling for "Little Joe" and "Jim Hicks" after they got out the "hot and colds," and they made plenty of noise.

The officers were not very strict aboard ship and let the crap game run with all the noise necessary to the successful playing of this national pastime. One of the boys had been particularly hard luck and had only a thin dime left to put up for a future margin when he copped a big pot. Just then the submarine alarm sounded. We knew we were near the danger zone.

"Hurry up!" shouted one of the players as we all broke away from our places.

The winner calmly collected the pot.

"They may shoot me, and I will tell the world so," he announced, "before I will leave this 'sugar' for a blooming Dutchman to put a torpedo into. That would be just my luck. If it ever rains soup I will be caught with a fork."

It was another drill alarm, so the calamist returned to the game only to be "taken" for his roll.

"It would have been better for me if we had been torpedoed," he said after he had been cleaned.

And don't think the doughboy is a piker. Many a time I've seen $1.00 in a single pot.

Besides craps, the men sang and played Black Jack, a favorite card game of campaigners and one in which they win and lose big. It wasn't long before a few of them had all the money.

The youngsters wrote letters until I thought some of them would never be able to handle a gun on account of writer's cramp. One young fellow didn't slight a girl in the state of Texas, and I suppose he told each she was the only one. He ought to get lots of mail "over there."

Because of the breaks in the sleep on account of submarine drills and for other reasons I am ordered not to discuss some of the boys slept in the daytime a good deal. There were not many duties aboard ship, and the officers let all hands take it as easy as they could. They knew there would be plenty to do in France.

That is why the American soldier is fighting for his captain and not to make the world safe for democracy. He knows his captain as the fellow who looks out for him. I speak of the regular, the neat, soldierly looking fellow you can always tell from a guardsman, when I say this. And I don't mean that as a reflection. Soldiering is the regular's business.

The PERUNA Family

has three members you should know if you desire to enjoy life.

1. The popular liquid form of Peruna—the reliable tonic of the American household, with a long history of success in treating all catarrhal difficulties.

2. The tablet form, which is made after the same formula and is more convenient for many.

3. Manalin, the ideal laxative, by the regular use of which constipation may be overcome. Manalin has no habit-forming drug, but is an aid to nature. Your druggist has all three. So many thousands have received benefit from the use of one or both of these remedies that they are a recognized part of the equipment of every careful household.

CAR MISSES BRIDGE MAN BADLY HURT

An oil well driller from Coleman oil fields, was painfully hurt Saturday night in the Ballinger-Angele roads, when the car in which he was traveling at a pretty rapid clip, missed a culvert.

We failed to get the man's name or learn full details of the accident, further than that the party of travelers were returning from San Angelo Saturday night, and the auto in which they were traveling missed a wooden bridge, the car straddling the railing of the bridge. The railing of the bridge or a piece of the timber crashed through the bed of the car, striking the man under the chin, leaving away part of his mouth, painfully disfiguring him.

According to the report received here the man was carried to Miles and given temporary medical attention and later returned to San Angelo.

SAYS SOLDIERS SHOULD HAVE THEIR TOBACCO

F. T. Sherman of Winters was here Monday, and says that if the soldier boys like their tobacco as well as he does, he wants them to have it and he paid for two kits of smokes for the soldiers in France. The tobacco fund is growing. 25 cents buys 45 cents worth of smoking tobacco, the tobacco company making up a kit for the soldiers at less than the regular wholesale price.

CLIP THIS AND PIN ON WIFE'S DRESSER

Cincinnati man tells how to shrivel up corns or calluses so they lift off with fingers.

Ouch ! ? ! ? ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callus stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callus dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says freezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freezone tell him to order a small bottle for you.

Mrs. R. H. Shoeler and daughter Miss Willie, went to Brady Saturday where they will visit and will accompany Miss Jane Shoeler home, who has been in that city on an extended visit to her sister, Mrs. Frank Norton.

F. & M. BANK ON LIBERTY BOND LIST

Liberty Bonds are not going beginning in Ballinger. The Farmers & Merchants State bank subscribes for $5000 worth of the bonds. This bank also bought heavily of the first issue.

Applications have also been filed through the Farmers & Merchants bank for more than $2500 more of the second issue of Liberty Bonds, and parties are expecting to place applications for $2000 more before close of business today.

The second subscription made to the present campaign for Liberty Money was made Thursday when the First National Bank of Ballinger filed its application for $5000 worth of the second issue of Liberty Bonds.

Four days of the twenty in which the bonds will be offered for sale have passed and $5100 worth of the bonds have been subscribed for or more than $1000 per day. If Ballinger can keep that rate up the government will have no complaint against the old town which is experiencing a little drouth.

The bonds are being taken fast in the financial center, $100,000 subscriptions being common, but the government desires to distribute the bonds to every part of the country and prefers to issue more small bonds and not so many big ones. The man with $50 to invest will be given a chance, and the millionaire will not be given opportunity to gobble up the whole issue of $3,000,000,000. At four per cent interest, free from taxes, there are many heavy investors who would like to place their entire wealth in these bonds, and then they would enjoy life, with no worry about the safety of their investment, tax paying, etc.

Mrs. J. Y. Pearce is a liberal subscriber to the Liberty Loan fund. Mrs. Pearce placed an order for $250 worth of the bonds Friday, and her application was the third one filed with the First National Bank.

The following orders for Liberty Bonds have been made through this bank:

NEXT DRAFT TO COME IN FEW DAYS

Washington, Oct. 9.—A conference between Secretary of War Baker and Provost Marshal Crowder was scheduled for this afternoon, and it is expected that the announcement of the calling of the remaining 7,000,000 registered men for examination will follow.

The war department has definitely decided to order the examination of all the men who are registered, and the conference to be held between the war leaders is for the purpose of working out details. The date of the next draft will come soon, and with the completion of the first draft the second draft will be made much quicker.

It is broadly hinted that some of the drafted men will be sent to France much quicker than was at first expected, and the training camps will be used for the training of the second draft. The plan for calling the men in series of 100,000 instead of 500,000 will probably be adopted, and in this way the new army will be kept moving.

ALMOST HUNDRED KITS SMOKES READY TO GO

The soldiers' tobacco fund is gradually growing and within the next few days The Ledger will report the names of the parties who have paid for one hundred kits. We will make the report just as soon as one hundred kits of smokes have been paid for, and up to date the fund provides for 87 kits. 25 cents buys a kit of smokes, and the kit contains tobacco sufficient to make smokes for one soldier for a week. The tobacco company is putting the kits out at less than wholesale cost, just as a patriotic work, and nothing would please a smoking soldier more than one of these kits of tobacco. Don't argue with yourself as to whether it is right or wrong to smoke, but place yourself in the soldier's uniform and think what you would do if you had been using tobacco all your life, and on account of being away from home could not get it. It is not necessary to say that the soldier in France will appreciate your gift, and in due time you will get a postal card from him acknowledging receipt of the tobacco and telling you how he appreciated receipt of the tobacco and telling you how he appreciated receipt of the tobacco.

Major George W. Littlefield will purchase $200,000 additional Liberty Loan Bonds. He already has $300,000 worth, and the total amount will make him the largest Liberty Bond holder in Texas. The importance of the new purchase will be considerably enlarged upon by Fred W. Hoopes of Dallas, vice general of the Federal Reserve bank, who will speak here Saturday night. Mr. Hoopes will bring with him Captain Sear of the Canadian field artillery, back home on sick leave after three years on the fighting front. It is believed either the First Baptist church or the county courthouse will be used as a meeting place.—Austin American.

Will Fuller and Will Benge sold a flock of sheep to a man from Colorado who shipped them out Thursday. They sold the lambs of their flock to Arch Benge. This flock of sheep has a remarkable record because of changing owners so often the past year. They were first sold by Mr. Tieckle to T. A. Shultz, Mr. Shultz sold them to W. C. Fuller. Will sold a half interest to his brother Fred Fuller then, later Fred bought out Will, and still later Will and Bill Benge bought the flock who last sold them this week to the Colorado sheep man. Each sale brought a little more money than the preceding one.—Paint Rock Herald.

C. D. Farmer, of Eugene, Oregon, is here visiting his brother, W. W. Farmer. Mr. Farmer is street commissioner in his home city, a city of about 18,000 people. In watching the boys drill on the streets in Ballinger Friday he took occasion to compliment Capt. Cohen for the work he was doing for the boys, and said that the instructions given the boys here would be worth a great deal to them when they reached the training camp. Mr. Farmer claims for his home state the most patriotic state in the union and says that Oregon did not have to furnish a single man for the present draft and would not have to furnish any men for the next draft if it did not exceed 500,000, as a sufficient number of men had volunteered from that state to give the state credit for its quota in making up the first million men army.

PASTORS' CONFERENCE MEETING HERE

Dr. Sam Thompson, presiding elder of the Brownwood district of the Methodist church, is here today to meet with the Methodist pastors of this end of the district. The meeting is being attended by half a dozen Methodist preachers, representing those in this county and part of Coke county.

"Are you acquainted with the parts of your rifle?" he asked sternly.

"Yes, sir," the recruit replied. "Well, where is the balance located?" "I don't know, sir," said the Marine, glancing nervously at his rifle. "It was all here this morning."

46 YEARS OLD AND HIS SECOND OFFENSE.

Ed. P. Eason, editor of the Winters Enterprise, was called before the grand jury this week and forced to tell of the meanness he knows about. Friend Eason says he is forty-six, and this is the second offense. We have been admonishing him about his frequent auto trips west and tried to point to him the straight and narrow path. Mr. Eason is accompanied in his mission here by other good citizens from Winters, and of course this is some consolation.

COURT HOUSE MAN TENDERS RESIGNATION

E. D. Haden, the man who keeps the "Sunday Clothes" on the court house park and attends to the court house work, walked into the commissioners' court room Tuesday morning and asked the court to release him, stating that he had received an offer for doing the same kind of work at Bonham at a better salary. The court declined to accept the resignation, but increased Mr. Haden's salary from $65 to $75, and understood that he would accept the raise and remain on the job. Mr. Haden appeared before the court again Wednesday with a telegram from Bonham court showing that the court there offered him $100 per month, and he again asked the court to accept the resignation, and it appears now that Mr. Haden goes to Bonham and will do so regardless of the court's action in the matter.

In addition to the salary paid here, Mr. Haden is furnished help, convict labor being used when such labor can be had, while at Bonham he must employ his own help. He says that the trouble with the work here is that there is no convict labor to be had when he needs it, and he is compelled to take chances on this, and the local park being a large one and almost covered with grass, that one man cannot do the work. We trust the matter can be adjusted and Mr. Haden kept on the job.

LOOK AT A CHILD'S TONGUE WHEN CROSS, FEVERISH AND SICK

Take no chances! Move poisons from liver and bowels at once.

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well of the playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath, remember a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

RAILROAD MAN WRITES FROM FRANCE

Harry Phillips, well known in Ballinger, former superintendent of the A. & S. railroad, is now doing service for his Uncle Sam in France, having volunteered in engineers corps. Read the following from the Fort Worth Star-Telegram:

Letters dated less than two weeks ago have arrived from U. S. soldiers in France, and some of them are older. After the censor's shears have clipped a paragraph from page one and another from page two, mother, sister, wife or friend is left to puzzle over what they might have known but never will.

Capt. Harry S. Phillips, with the 12th regiment of engineers, writes to his wife: "A few lines tonight before I retire. It has been raining for the past two or three days. I am still busy from 6 a. m. until late at night (here the censor disapproved and his shears played havoc) and I am anxious to begin work."

"I moved through France so fast that I hardly had a chance to see any of the fabled beautiful French women. I haven't seen any women in either France or England who will compare with our American women."

Last Sunday morning about 10 o'clock the Canadians called and asked us to get a ball team to fill an engagement forfeited by the New York regiment. I was selected to pick and handle the team. We beat them 9 to 8 and afterwards learned that this was the crack nine of Europe. After the game I was dined by the colonel of the Canadian regiment and spent a delightful evening."

(While a resident of Fort Worth Phillips, whose nickname is Chick, was famed as an amateur ball player—a catcher.—Editor's Note.)

Another letter from Phillips, who at one time was with the Rock Island and later superintendent of the Abilene and Southern in Abilene, was received by his mother, Mrs. Blanche Phillips of Canyon avenue.

"I am somewhere in France," it said. "The censor laws will not permit me to say where. This portion of France is destroyed and devastated beyond the conception of the human mind. In the forest trees are sawed down and hacked by the vandals, who they tell you in America, are the inhabitants of the 'Kultured nation.' Not a building has escaped the destruction."

Beautiful churches and priceless treasures and relics have all been destroyed. Beautiful cemeteries, vaults and tombs have been opened and ransacked for treasures, jewels and gold. Where they are left officers and men are billeted in them for quarters.

"I was in charge of a detail of trucks and motor cars and drove 120 miles through country, a portion of which is known as 'No Man's Land.' There was not a country home for miles; the area was covered with barbed wire entanglements and the earth was seamed with trenches and torn by shell-craters".

J. J. YERBY GETS FIRST LIBERTY BOND

Liberty Bond No. 1 for this country, so far as we have been able to learn, goes to J. J. Yerby. Mr. Yerby subscribed for a hundred dollar bond through the First National Bank of this city, Wednesday afternoon. In doing this he invested his money where the "moths nor rust can not corrupt it and where the thieves can not break through and steal," and he will receive his interest coupon annually at the rate of four percent.

But the best part of it all is, Mr. Yerby is doing his bit in helping to carry on the war. The people are beginning to learn there is duty for all to perform. Some can give their lives, while others can give their money. The government is now calling for $3,000,000 in cash, and to get this the government is issuing four percent bonds. These bonds are sold on the same basis as the first issue, except the interest has been increased.

SECOND SMASH BRINGS BIG ADVANCE TO BRITISH

With the British Armies, Oct. 9.—More than one mile advance into German lines was achieved in the second British smash made within the past week, when the British launched a fast drive early today. The penetration of one mile was reported from several places, with the offensive move centered around Passchendaele. The Germans left dead in their retreat and the British are prepared to withstand and counter attack.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—Germany's general staff sought in 1916 to have the Canadian Pacific railway wrecked, by conspiring with laborers and German spies to plant bombs at important places.

The German general staff also plotted a sabotage in the United States and Canada to ruin and wreck factories which were supplying munitions of war to the allies.

These points were brought out by the state department as revealed in correspondence forwarded to Bernstorff from Germany in January 1916. The efforts were designed to work through laborers in American factories and intended to cripple the plants by reducing the efficiency of the munitions turned out and by creating labor troubles.

With British Armies, Oct. 5.—The latest reports point to the enemy in the greatest British victory won since the war in Europe began. The Germans were not only completely driven off of a long front, and compelled to give up important territory, but their dead left on the battlefield numbers thousands.

London, Oct. 5.—The Germans have given up their hopeless counter attack against the newly won British positions in Passchendaele, and have fallen back in an effort to retrench. The British are in complete control and today hold a large strip of territory gained in the drive yesterday in the Passchendaele ridge sector.

Washington, Oct. 6.—It was learned here today through reports received by the navy department, that American destroyers have sunk a considerable number of German submarines. The date of the first encounter, or the names of the destroyers engaged in the attacks and other details are withheld from the public.

Washington, Oct. 6.—An American patrol vessel, on duty in foreign waters, has been lost, according to information received by the navy department today. The crew of the patrol was saved.

Washington, Oct. 6.—In reviewing war legislation definitely completed by congress when congress adjourned at three o'clock today, President Wilson said America's legislative body had left no doubt as to the spirit and determination of this country. Congress has assured the effectiveness of American arms and the safe guarding of the rights of the American people. The work of carrying on the war successfully has been planned so there will not be a hitch during recess and before congress convenes in December. The president is well pleased with the work done by congress.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Contracts which were recently awarded for American destroyers totaling many millions of dollars, will be ratified today, and the construction of the vessels rushed to completion.

Washington, Oct. 8.—The supreme court has set December 10th for hearing the opening arguments on the draft law case to decide the constitutionality of the draft law.

London, Oct. 8.—The German infantry renewed its counter attack against the British in their newly gained positions on the Flanders. The enemy was successful in the attacks and were repulsed with little effort on the part of the British.

MELBOURNE Oct. 8.—American marines captured a boat load of German sailors and members of crew of the German ship, Sea Adler, near Fiji Islands, according to reports being sent to Washington.

London, Oct. 10.—The Germans launched a powerful counter attack south of Ypres on the Staden railway today and succeeded in pushing the British advance troops back a short distance on a two thousand-yard front.

Paris, Oct. 10.—The French troops continued in their progress today, capturing Popergoet Farm for less.

A German Bomb that Failed to Explode Found Near City

There was no little excitement created in railroad circles Thursday morning when a runner came to the city and reported that he had discovered a deadly bomb at the Santa Fe trestle near the sand pit south of the city. The report spread like wild fire and a posse was almost in the forming to make chase after the German spy or bomb thrower, when the bomb was resurrected by a man experienced in handling bombs, and brought it to the Ledger office and will be used by the fighting editor and against bill collectors.

The officers and railroad men are under lasting obligations to the man who found the bomb and reported his find, but hereafter parties finding bombs should remove them from the railroad the first thing they do, test them out by applying a match and see if they are of the "Made in Germany" kind before giving the alarm.

Bomb experts tell us there is no danger in a railroad safety signal fuse, especially if the fuse has been used to illuminate the pathway of an oncoming train and to prevent a rear end collision. If you never saw one of these little harmless sky-rockets, drop around to the Ledger office.

HERE TO ATTEND SON'S WEDDING

Capt. and Mrs. H. H. Luckett, of Toyah, Texas, arrived Wednesday at noon, and are the guests of their daughter, Mrs. C. P. Shepard, and are here to attend the Luckett-Rasbury nuptials, which takes place next Wednesday night and at which time A. P. Luckett, of Kirkland, City Clerk Lusk, Police Pilcher and Deputy Sheriff DeMolle, visited the scene of the bed of bombs. They experienced no trouble in locating the weapon that is so popular with the spies during this particular age, and after much coaxing one of the number—the bravest, thing else you could bestow upon them.

CENTRAL TEXAS HIGHWAY EXTENDED

Secretary Thos. F. Owens of the San Angelo Board of City Development, announces that the Central Texas highway, which was recently authorized between Sabine and San Angelo by the Texas highway commission, will be extended to Fort Stockton in Pecos county. Upton and Pecos counties have circulated petitions asking for an extension of the highway, and these petitions are now enroute to Austin.

The route of the highway is from Sabine in east Texas direct to Waco, Angelico, and through from Waco to Brownwood, Coleman and Ballinger to San Angelo. The route between Waco and Brownwood has not yet been determined upon, the selection being in the hand of the secretaries of the chambers of commerce in Brownwood, Coleman and San Angelo. The route through Goldthwaite is being considered in the one hand, and that through Hamilton is proposed on the other. The final selection will depend upon a number of considerations, not the least of which will be the attitude of the county commissioners in the various counties through which the highway proposes to run.

The Farm Paper of the Southwest

Senator Willacy's sensational story "The Heavy Hand of Invisible Rule" will begin in the Oct. 20 issue of FARM AND RANCH. ELECTRICITY FOR IRRIGATED FARMS

The extending of the electric transmission line that now provides Miles, Rowena, Ballinger and Winters with current and power for commercial purposes, thereby making possible the further development of the Concho country through irrigation is being contemplated by the Texas Electric & Power Company of San Angelo. Information to this effect has been obtained from R. J. Irvine, manager.

It is planned to run a line from Miles south to the Main Conejo river, a distance of four miles, in order to supply electric power to seven or eight pumps located within a distance of about four miles. Eventually this branch would be lengthened to Paint Rock and thus serve the big ranch of D. E. Sims.

The second line will be run north from Ballinger a distance of nine miles. There are a number of irrigation plants along the river in this section which would be greatly benefitted by the extension.

The cost of the contemplated improvements is estimated at between $18,000 and $20,000. The work depends entirely upon the securing of materials, which is at present difficult matter. The transmission line of the Texas Electric & Power Company is one of the longest and most powerful in the State carrying a voltage of 23,000. The extensions planned would use only 2,300 volts.—San Angelo Standard.

AGAINST LAW TO SELL SOAKED BEANS

Washington, Oct. 4.—The officials in charge of the enforcement of the Food and Drugs Act are again calling attention to the practice of soaking dried peas and dried lima beans until they have the appearance of the fresh articles and then canning them, such products are then in many instances sold as the canned fresh article.

Unless soaked peas and lima beans are plainly labeled as "soaked"

or in some other manner so as to show their character, they are regarded as in violation of the Food and Drugs Act.

There is no denial that soaked

peas and lima beans are a wholesome article of food. They are,

however, admittedly inferior in quality to the products prepared

from the fresh vegetable. Furthermore, the dried peas or beans may

themselves be purchased by the

housewives quite cheaply and

while in the dried condition may be commercially and satisfactorily stored for future use.

The housewife will also do her bit in the conservation of our limed supply of tin plate by soaking and cooking her own dried peas and lima beans in the kitchen and thereby releasing a proportional amount of tin cans for use in the packing of perishable foods where they are greatly needed.

Consumers are urged to read labels of canned peas and lima beans carefully in order to see whether or not they are getting a fresh or a soaked dried product.

TEXAS CAN'T GET ARTILLERY RANGE

San Angelo, Abilene and in fact, every other city in Texas, applying for the big artillery camp which the government is planning to establish, has been eliminated from the running. Abilene was making a strong pull for the camp which it was estimated would cover 250,000 acres of land, and had sent a committee to Washington to go before the war department and urge their claims. Congressman Blanton was working for Abilene, and on Wednesday of this week he wired Abilene that Texas had been eliminated from the prospective places offered. Here's his telegram:

"Report just filed and recommends location on public lands. Secretary of General Staff advises that Texas is eliminated because Texas has no government lands

PAST THREE SCORE AND ENJOYING LIFE

After the average man passes the three score mile post in life he does not object to telling his age, but before that age we would not dare tell how old a man is without getting permission to do so. Hence we are taking the liberty to tell the age of three of Ballinger's prominent citizens on this their birthday.

On Oct. 8, 1843, in the good old state of Mississippi, J. A. Demoville first saw the light. Yes, '43 is right, and don't get the idea that we have made a mistake in reporting his birthday, for this good veteran is not seventy-four years old, but seventy-four years young, and steps higher than most of the young men in "milling" around town and traveling over the country serving citation and carrying on his work as deputy sheriff. Mr. DeMoville has seen much in life and enjoys an experience that would make a big book of interesting history. He was on the firing line in the Civil war, and he would be on the firing line now, if Uncle Sam would take the boys of his age. Mr. DeMoville is no newcomer in Runnels county, having located here in 1891.

On Oct. 8, 1853, J. W. Powell came into this world in Louisville, Kentucky. Things did not go just to his notion in that blue grass country and when he was 30 years old he pulled out for Texas, landing in the town of Runnels, Runnels county, said State, in 1883, and has done his part toward developing this country. Judge Powell was present when Ballinger was placed on the map, and has been active in the life of the city, serving for many years as mayor. He is enjoying good health and bids fare to get through the world war and live to enjoy permanent peace for many years.

On Oct. 8, 1849, H. G. Stokes took his abode in England. He remained with the British until 1871 when America became his adopted land, and at the age of 18 Mr. Stokes landed in Austin, becoming a Texan and an American at the same time. When the notorious train robber Bass was making life rocky for the express companies, and for passengers, Mr. Stokes was running on the Texas Central railroad as a messenger and train guard. He will complete his forty-one years with the Wells Fargo & Co. express, next January, and judging from appearance he is good for several years more, or until the company sees fit to retire him. For many years Mr. Stokes was express agent at Austin and was transferred from that place to Ballinger about three years ago. He has relatives on the firing line in Europe's war and receives interesting letters from the old home.

There may be other birthdays today, but we know of no more prominent men than these three who have passed the three score mark, who are celebrating their birthday.

Croup.

If your children are subject to croup get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and when the attack comes on be careful to follow the plain printed direction. You will be surprised at the quick relief it affords.

Most Old People Are Constipated

The wear of years impairs the action of the bowels. As people grow older they restrict their activity, neglect to take sufficient exercise, and indulge a natural disposition to take things easy. The digestive organs become more sensitive to the demands made upon them and rebel more quickly.

It is of special importance to the health of elderly people that the bowels be kept normally active. A mild, yet effective, remedy for constipation, and one that is especially suited to the needs of old folks, women and children, is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It costs only fifty cents a bottle, and should be in every family medicine chest. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 456 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

FIRST COUNTRY MAN TO HELP TOBACCO FUND

S. D. Williams of Hatchel, was the first man from the country to contribute to the Ledger's tobacco fund, and supply the smokes for the soldiers in France. Mr. Williams called at the Ledger office Saturday and ordered at kit of tobacco to be sent to France with his compliments. The tobacco fund is growing and those who wish to contribute must do so with in the next few days, as we will make our report and discontinue receiving subscriptions.

UGH! ACID STOMACH, SOURNESS, HEARTBURN GAS OR INDIGESTION

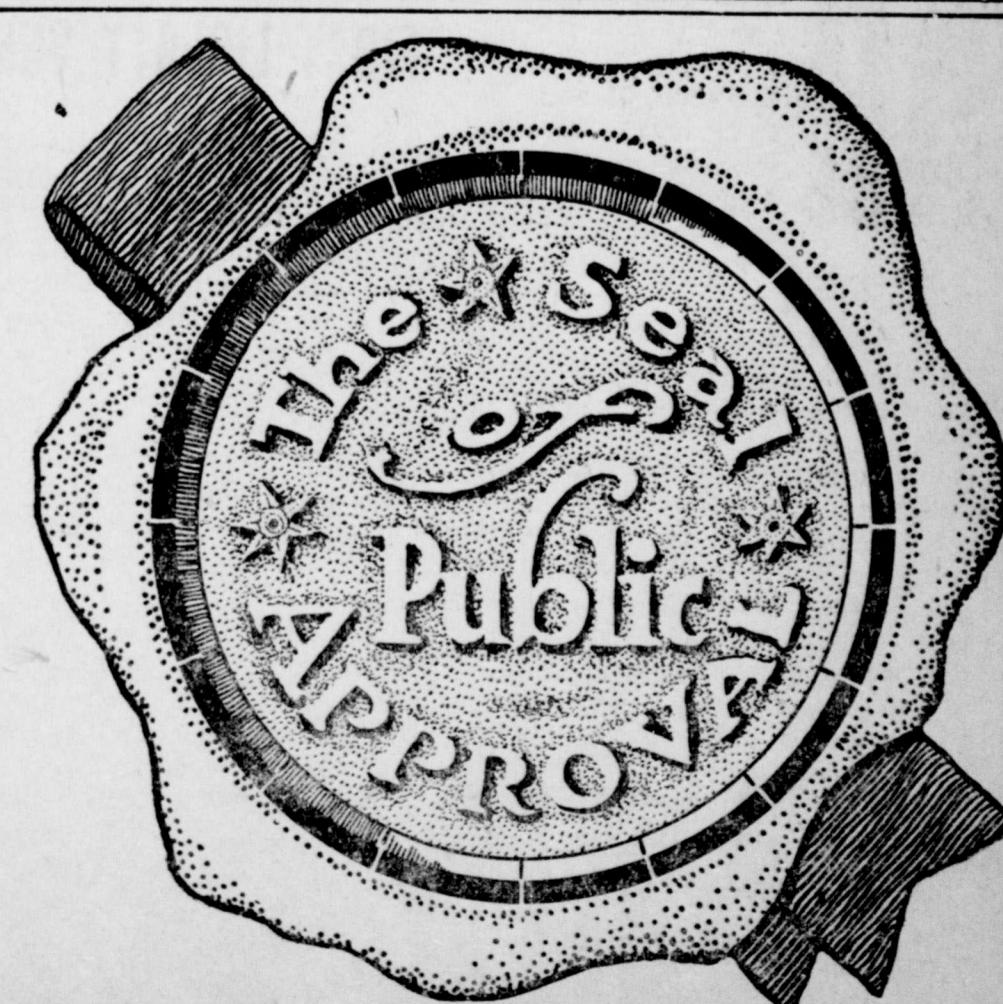

The moment "Pape's Diaepsin" reaches the stomach all distress goes.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into acids and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diaepsin helps neutralize the excessive acids in the stomach so your food won't sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is upset you usually get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it helps to regulate your stomach so that you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diaepsin" is positive in neutralizing the acidity, so the misery won't come back very quickly.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diaepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diaepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia, or any stomach disorder, due to acid fermentation.

Former Runnels Co. Girl Attempts to Kill Husband

The first news of a tragedy at Houston, in which a former Runnels county girl figured, was received here in an account of the tragedy published in the Houston Chronicle. The woman was formerly Miss Annette Asa, daughter of G. A. Ash, of the Crews country. She shot her young husband, Tom Heynie, who formerly lived in this country, Coke county and Taylor county. The Houston Chronicle gives the following account of the shooting:

"I am going to pack my suit case and leave you," is the reported statement of Tom Heynie, aged 22, of Tenth Street and the street car line, Studewood, at 6 o'clock Friday morning as he arose from bed. He was talking to his wife.

At the same time Mrs. Anette Heynie, his wife, aged 20, arose and said she would get breakfast, and Heynie laid back down on the bed. His wife then unlocked a suit case and took from it a calibre revolver and approached the bed. She fired one shot into her husband's abdomen and he jumped up and tried to take the revolver from her.

In the scuffle she shot him a second time in the abdomen. The husband is at St. Joseph's Infirmary and doctors say there is no possibility of his recovery. The 20 year-old wife is in the county jail, held on a charge of assault with attempt to murder, pending the outcome of the husband's injuries.

The couple came here from Lawn Texas, a few days ago. He came one day and the wife followed the next day. In a statement the wife made to Frank Williford, assistant district attorney, she said both of them had been picking cotton near Lawn, which is about 25 miles south of Abilene. She said a few days ago he took the money she had earned and came to Houston, and she came here the next day and found him living at the home of a relative.

She went there and had been living with her husband only a few days. She said he had mistreated her and was constantly threatening to leave.

The deputy sheriff who has the pistol with which Mrs. Heynie shot her husband says she purchased the pistol yesterday.

The husband made a short statement to Mr. Williford, but would not discuss any motive for the act of his wife. He said his wife told him before six o'clock that she would get up and wash the dishes of the night before and get him some breakfast. He says he told her he could get a little breakfast but she insisted on getting up and he paid no more attention to her until she stood over him with a pistol and fired one shot into his body.

A deputy sheriff, who resides across the street, was attracted by the sounds of the shots and arrested the woman. Westheimer's ambulance took Heynie to the hospital, where an effort was made to take a dying statement, but Heynie insisted he would get well, although doctors held out no hope for him. An examination showed that the intestines had been punctured in 10 places.

When Mrs. Heynie was taken to jail she became hysterical and Dr. Ernest Wright, county health officer, was called to attend her. She is a small woman and jail officials says she is comely.

The father of Mr. Heynie resides at Tuscumbia, Texas. A telegram from him Friday said he had left there for Houston. The couple were married five months ago at Lawton.

SAYS METEOR FELL NEAR BUFFALO GAP

The Abilene Reporter has solved the meteor mystery and reports that the big ball of fire buried itself in the ground near Buffalo Gap. One meteor fell near Hillsboro and one near Buffalo Gap, but the one passing over Ballinger was not traveling in the direction of either of these places, and it is the opinion of those who saw it that it fell some where between Ballinger and Mexico. The following meteor story comes from the Abilene Reporter:

"The Reporter after several vain attempts to locate the place where the meteor, which passed over the city Monday night about 10:30 o'clock, struck the earth, learned that it fell on the Evan Butcher place near Buffalo Gap, from Mr. Butcher Wednesday afternoon.

The meteor struck the earth about 200 or 300 yards from the Butcher house. Mr. Butcher said,

"We were all pretty badly frightened at first," Mr. Butcher said in telephonic conversation with the Reporter Wednesday afternoon. "My wife screamed when the meteor suddenly burst into a thousand pieces about twenty feet from the earth. The explosion was not very loud but the scattering of parts of the big stone into the air scared us all at first."

"I should judge that the tail of the meteor was about twenty feet long and that it was about three feet wide. There was a sudden flash of light as we were in our house and it became as light as day."

Mr. Butcher stated that he did not know the depth the meteor had buried itself as he had not made a personal investigation of the place where it hit.

Scarcely has there been anything that has caused more interest here than the meteor which crossed the sky Monday night being thought by many to be simply a flash of lightning but when upon investigation it was seen that there was no clouds in the sky and therefore it must be some unusual phenomena.

At 10:30 Monday night hundreds of people in Abilene say a large and brilliant ball of fire shot across the sky. W. D. Girard of Abilene, who was at the depot in Buffalo Gap, stated that the meteor when seen by him was going almost straight down, apparently toward the southwest. He said it seemed to him that it fell only a few hundred feet from where he was. Others of Abilene saw the meteor stated that it was moving in a westerly direction in which case it would seem that it was a different meteor from the one which fell in Hill county, which is east-southeast of Abilene.

Mr. Girard stated that the light of the meteor blinded him for a time. Telephone calls to Tuscumbia and Ovalo developed the fact that it was also observed there.

WINTERS DOCTOR GETS COMMISSION

Right on the eve of being sent to the training camp, Dr. Thomas V. Jennings, of Winters, receives his commission as first lieutenant in the medical section Officers' Reserve Corps.

Dr. Jennings was drafted for service, passed the examination and was accepted and scheduled to entrain here with seventy-odd other drafted men next Monday. He had offered his services to Uncle Sam, but had failed to receive what he applied for, and was in line for a place in Camp Travis, with the rest of the boys, when on Wednesday of this week he received his commission.

The county gets credit for Dr. Jennings in making up its quota, notwithstanding that he has been taken out of the draft list.

CITY EQUALIZATION BOARD HEARS COMPLAINTS

The city equalization board, composed of J. McGregor, E. Shepherd and J. M. Garlington, met Friday to receive callers from tax payers who wish to register complaints and to submit causes why their property rendition should not be increased. The city is increasing property values about twenty per cent in an effort to make the city's revenue take care of the expenses of the city government and take care of the city's indebtedness of long standing. While many notices were sent out very few property owners appeared before the board, and those who did appear could have saved the time. The board spent several days working out what they considered an equal assessment of property and tried to do their duty in equalizing the proper rendition.

BALLINGER MAN RECRUIT FOR CAVALRY BRANCH.

James A. Warren of Ballinger was the only recruit accepted in San Angelo Wednesday by either the army or navy recruiting station. Warren enlisted in the cavalry and left during the day for El Paso, where he will undergo a final examination.

Scores of men for railway service should enlist in the San Angelo country, says Sergeant William Carney of the local army office.

"Two hundred and fifty men have been secured in and around El Paso, Raton and Roswell, N. M.," said Sergeant Carney this morning, "and we haven't had one here. The pay offered by the government is as good as that paid by any railroad in the United States and the hours are practically the same. Any railroad man wanting full information on the subject should call and see us, room 334, federal building." —San Angelo Standard.

LIKES WAR AND HAS

DECIDED TO STAY

"Somewhere in Texas," 10-2-17
The Daily Ledger,
Ballinger, Texas.

Dear friends:

Just to let you all know that we are still thinking of the last time you all did for us, and especially to thank you again for those water melons that were loaded on our train, will drop you a few lines.

We are all doing fine and we are having a great time. We do not have much to do; only stay on the drill grounds from eight to ten hours each day. We have all the rest of the time off. Some vacation, don't you think? Our average day's walk is about twenty miles, and then some.

We are now studying ditch digging, and bayonet exercise. Of course this ditch business is easy. All there is to it, is one man slings the pick and the other fellow the shovel. Corporal Starkey is right there with the peanuts when it comes to military ditch digging, and handing out military "dope," for you know he always did walk like a general.

Our company went on guard Sunday evening and the officers tell us it was the best guard mount that had been pulled off. The Ballinger boys are always on the job and ready to go when the word is given.

On Saturday afternoon and Sunday most of the company go to town, and you can bet Ballinger is well represented in Fort Worth.

Corporal Starkey, George Smith, and Walter Singletary are in society up to their eyes tonight. Of course you know how I stand, so I don't do anything like that.

This is not such a hard life; in fact, it is the best war I was ever in. I like it and think I shall stay awhile.

Tattoo has sounded, which means I must be in the bay and under cover and lights out by taps which comes in fifteen minutes. All of the boys sends best regards.

PAT.

WILL PUBLISH HIS PAPER AT WOCO.

T. A. Hickey, editor of the suppressed Rebel, appeared yesterday in Abilene. Attorney Odell told him that his case was put on or until April 1, 1918. Mr. Hickey arrived in Waco this morning. He stated that the first issue of his new magazine, which will be called Hickey's Magazine, would appear on the first of November. It will be printed here. The editorial policy of the new magazine will be the land question in Texas in particular and the nation generally. —Waco Times-Herald.

The End of Your Corns

SCOUTS DRILLING UNDER HOMANN

A. C. Homann deserves credit for the splendid work he is doing with the Boy Scouts. Mr. Homann is devoting an hour or two three afternoons during each week in instructing the boys in drill work and military tactics. The boys meet on the school campus after school closes and quite a number are taking an interest in the work.

The scout work carries with it advantages that every boy should be quick to profit by. It is up to the parents to encourage the boys and assistants in every way possible. Rev. J. H. King, the scout master, meets the boys every Friday night. The boys are making arrangements for a hall to carry on their work during the winter.

The parents should see that their boy keeps his scout engagements and encourage him in every way possible in the work.

J. H. Crowson of Winters was in Ballinger on business Saturday.
