WILL ENFORCE SPEED LIMIT LAW

Mayor Powell Directs City Marshal to Arrest All Parties Who Violates Law Governing Autos.

"I believe two or three fines will be more healthful than two or three accidents," said Mayor J. W. Powell, today, "and I have instructed the Marshal to get busy and put a stop to the fast and reckless driving of autos on Ballinger streets, and to also arrest parties caught driving autos after dark without their cars lighted as the law directs. This also applies to motorcycles. We have been fortunate in that we have not had serious accidents and the city is going to enforce the ordinances against fast driving. Please get this in your paper, so the people will have an ample notice, and will have no kick coming when they are called on to pay or violating our ordinances."

Mayor Powell also stated that he was an ordinance against riding bicycles on side walks, and he has directed the marshal, and so see that this ordinance is enforced. Side walks are made race tracks for bicycle riders. I have seen ladies almost crowd off the side walks in the residence district just because they was afraid of the bicycle coming a break neck speed towards her. Mayor Powell is certainly taking the right stand with reference to these matters, and while there will be a few who are suffering with the speed mania, that will kick the majority of the people will endorse him and will stand behind him in enforcing the laws.

$250,000 PECOS LAND DEAL

Pecos, Texas, June 18.—The Cowan Springs ranch, composed of 10,000 acres has been sold by Godeke & Brock to the Cal-Tex Investment company of Los Angeles, Cal., for a consideration of $250,000. There is already water accessible to irrigate about five hundred acres. All the land is tillable. This establishes a new price for raw land in this section of the state.

WOOL GROWERS AND WOOL BUYERS HERE

Many Buyers Here to Bid on Big Wool Crop, Sale Not Closed at Late Hour. Angelo Growers Reject all Bids.

The wool sale billed to open at Ballinger Wednesday morning at ten o'clock brought a number of large buyers here, and also freight agents who are bidding for the hauling of this wool to the mills. The bids are being considered as we go to press, and we understand that one or two growers have accepted the bid offered, but the sales were not closed, and we are unable to give full account of sale in today's paper.

As is the custom of the First National Bank, they entertained the wool growers and the buyers and a few invited friends with a barbecue. A most sumptuous repast was served at 12 o'clock at the City Park on the river and as is the usual custom of R. G. Erwin, representing the First National Bank, a dinner of barbecued mutton, goat and veal with all the necessary ingredients was in evidence for about 100 of the wool growers buyers and representatives of the different railroads, and a splendid hour was spent at this part of the wool growers association, and all left feeling the usual hospitality of this people. Besides the visitors mentioned below we noticed from Talpa, Will Hale, Louis Jameson, C. A. Herring, Albert Livingston, Aug Herring and others. A most enjoyable occasion was reported by all present.

Among the wool growers who have wool stored and who are here today to receive bids on their wool, we noticed the following: Dark & Fowler, M. D. Chastain, R. E. McWilliams, J. W. Clampitt, W. F. McShann, O. O. McWilliams, Robert Spreen, James Clayton, E. S. McWilliams, M. H. Witt, Feb. McWilliams, W. A. Hall, Dee Oliver, Robert Herring, W. P. Hearrell, N. J. Allen, S. A. Hartgrove, W. O. MEXICAN REFUGEES LAND AT GALVESTON

Both Federals and Insurgents, They Declare Robbed Them Until Nothing Was Left.

Galveston, June 17.—The steamer Mexicano, having on board 335 refugees from Vera Cruz and Tampico, Mexico, reached Galveston dock shortly afternoon today and disembarking the fugitives at once began. They were a sorry-looking set among whom were a number of aged people.

At least 60 per cent of the party were women and children, some of whom were very scantily clothed and many with looks of terror still on their faces. Three of the number were Norwegians, who will proceed to their own countries. The rest of the party will go to various parts of the United States.

One hundred and twenty-two of the refugees were taken from Vera Cruz and 213 from Tampico but they had gathered at these ports from all parts of the republic. The Mexicano brought all refugees who were in these two ports but there are still many other Americans in Mexico, who are anxious to get away and who are making their way toward the coast. These will be taken care of by another steamer.

Two Red Cross representatives, one from New York and the other from Washington, were in charge of the party and will aid them to reach their homes.

Only one man in the entire party had sufficient funds to pay his fare from Galveston to his home on arrival here. The refugees tell tales of harsh treatment of pillaging and privation, how the combatants of both sides helped themselves to the property of the Americans and in a number of instances growing crops were abandoned, and the people fled to the coast. Many were on the verge of starvation when the steamer picked them up.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

At a regular meeting of the Maconic lodge at their lodge rooms Tuesday night the following officers were elected: H. M. Jesey, W. M.; John Thurman, S. W.; A. H. Eiecke, J. W.; C. R. Crews, Secretary; D. M. Baker, treasurer; E. F. Elder, Tyler.

Editor Kubela, of the Rowena Review, had business in Ballinger a few hours Tuesday afternoon.

ROBBERS TRAVELING IN AUTOMOBILE

Bandits Traveling in Auto Rob Stores in Bell, Falls and Milam County.

Belton, June 17.—The burglary which occurred at Nolanville night before last is the second case in this county within the last few weeks in which only cash has been taken. A similar one is reported from Copperas Cove, another from near the border line of Falls county and another from Milam county.

It is reported that the details of these petty burglaries have been almost identical.

Small crescent shaped holes just large enough to admit a man's hand have been cut out of the door panels just back of the locks. In two instances the locks evidently did not yield easily to the intruding hand for the doors were sawed through to the edges just above and below the locks, thus allowing them to open.

Nothing but cash was taken in any instance and that was from register or cash drawers. Safes were not molested.

At Pendleton $75.75 was secured. A handsome gold watch and nickel mounted pistol were taken from the cash register of one store and abandoned in another. In one instance the cash taken was that from sale of cigars and was in a closed cigar box in the case with the stock.

At Nolanville nine dollars was secured, one dollar of the amount being Uncle Sam's postal money.

The thieves are supposed to be ridding over the country in their own auto. At one point they left a whiskey bottle.

BROTHER IMPROVING.

G. B. Sleiger, of Shep, Texas, passed through Ballinger Tuesday en route to San Antonio where he goes to visit his brother, a few days. Mr. Sleiger's brother is in the Sanitarium for treatment and is the man who attempted to commit suicide at Brownwood a few weeks ago.

Mr. Sleiger informed us that his brother's mind had cleared up and his general condition was improving and thought before a great while he would be able to return home.

Dr. Gustavus, the dentist returned home Tuesday afternoon from Sterling City where he had been on professional business the past week.

Runnels county is going to have a demonstration farm. It means better crops for the farmers.

It is claimed that the liquor shipping law will increase the traveling habit of some people.

Many a man gets turned down while waiting for something to turn up. Easy jobs are not coming to you; you have to be after them.

The treating custom is a curse to the drinking man, but it will continue so long as a man feels that he must have some one help him make a fool of himself.

Perhaps the sugar lobby which has already spent $217,000, hopes to knock out the tariff in the sweet buy and buy.

Think of the good times in the future when the people select their senators and senatorial election scandals are no more. What will the legislature do?

Wedding bells in Ballinger are rattling like fire alarms and if dame rumor has it down right the coming summer is going to be a prosperous one for the marriage license clerk and the preachers of Ballinger. Let the good work go on.

Auto travel through Runnels county has been heavy this spring and judging from remarks we have heard the tourists make we are not going to get high-class advertising when they talk about Runnels among strangers, and all on account of our bad road conditions.

"If you want to become filled with optimism and imbue real enthusiasm," remarks the Ballinger Ledger just take a trip to the country. Yes, that's where one can also become filled with roasting ears, watermelons, canteloupes and fried chickens. It makes one's mouth water to think of it.—San Antonio Express.

Our present city administration seems to be a little timid, and up to this good hour has not seen fit to place Ballinger in nomination for a place in the Clean Town Contest. We have interviewed quite a number of citizens and all seem to be of the same opinion and that is that Ballinger would have much better chance to win this

We heard a certain merchant criticising farmers for running their harvesters on Sunday, and we know to our own certain knowledge that the merchant devotes considerable time occasionally on Sunday in running up accounts on his ledger and doing other things that do not make quite as much noise as a grain harvester, but are no doubt just as easily heard by the great recorder of all deeds. We do not want to be considered as upholding the farmer who works his team, his hands and himself all day Sunday, but a man should get out of a glass house before he tosses pebbles at the other fellow.

State Press is invited to come to Ballinger if he wants to see a little city built on civic pride. We not only have the prettiest court house park of any town of similar size in Texas, but one block from this park the Santa Fe is maintaining a beauty spot, and the home-loving people of Ballinger are trying themselves on pretty yards. Clean, modern, progressive is the Ballinger way.—Ballinger Ledger.

Three cheers for the Ballinger way. Your report is the best thing we have heard about Ballinger since the year it took the premium as the State's greatest wagon cotton market—and many good things before and since have been said about Ballinger. Ballinger's progress in civic attractiveness shows that it is living while there is life. It hasn't centered all its hopes and purposes on that vague future time when it shall "get rich" and begin to enjoy life. It is enjoying life while getting rich. For a town to forego all the things it needs in its youth under the impression that it is only the old and large centers that can have such, is as bad a policy as for husband and wife to postpone all their golden hours until the children are grown and "settled." There is no more excuse for a town being permitted to grow up ungraced than for a girl to be permitted to grow up without brushing her teeth.—Dallas News.

ALLEGED SLAYER OF JOHN M'KAY IN JAIL

Marathon, Tex., June 17.—The following additional details in regard to Jesus Reyes, who is charged with killing John McKay, a ranchman living near Sanderson, have been gathered.

Jesus Reyes came here from Mexico not long ago.

About 10 o'clock Frank Copeland started for home from Marathon and as he passed around the point of a hill, a Mexican, riding a brown pacing horse, came suddenly facing his team, and only by quick work did Mr. Copeland avoid a collision, as the Mexican drove his horse directly toward him. The peculiar action of the Mexican caused Mr. Copeland to take a better look at him, and it occurred to him that the Mexican was the man the officers were looking for. Driving to Haymond, he telephoned to the officers here, and Deputy Sheriff Jim Shoemaker, Fred Hagler, an officer from Sanderson, and two rangers got Syl Adams to take them in his car in pursuit. They sighted the Mexican about six miles east of here, near the Warwick switch, and headed him off near the Tom Pulliam place.

Deputy Sheriff Shoemaker made the following statement:

"It all happened so suddenly I can hardly tell you how it was, but when we sighted him he was loping along the road and we to where he left the road and ran the car across the prairie to intercept him. When we were within thirty feet of him he stopped and as we stopped the car he jumped off his horse on the other side and at the same time pulled his Winchester from the scabbard. The horse completely hid him from us. There was a volley of shots the horse staggered forward and fell dead and the Mexican threw up his hands and fell on his face, apparently dead. One bullet passed through the horse and lodged in the saddle blanket on the other side another ball passed through and struck the Mexican in the left breast and lodged under the left shoulder blade, while still another struck him in the ankle and tore one of the bones from his leg below the knee, apparently running lengthwise of his leg. Taking the saddle from the dead horse Mr. Adams and one of the rangers returned to town for the legal authorities to view the body. Three of us stayed by the Mexican.

"In a short time he began to move and soon asked for water. We gave him a drink, and he wanted a cigarette which I made for him. Sitting up, he admitted he was Reyes, but said he did not know McKay and had not killed him. About this time the party returned from Marathon. The Mexican was handcuffed and the deputy and two rangers and Syl Adams got in the car and drove the prisoner to Sanderson."

Mrs. J. F. McMillen and two little daughters, left for Brownwood Wednesday morning to visit relatives and friends a few weeks. Miss Hellen Hueben, sister of Mrs. McMillan, who had been visiting in our city for several months, returned home with her sister.

buildings now urgently needed at these institutions. The bonds would be taken care of by the income of the permanent endowment of the University. Without cost to the taxpayers of the State. More than 5000 students are enrolled each year in these two institutions. Additional buildings are imperatively demanded and Texas cannot afford longer to delay their construction. The State constitution at present prohibits appropriations for University buildings and many lawyers, one governor among them have held that this prohibition applies to A. & M. College buildings.

It means improvement of the College of Industrial Arts and the four State Normal Schools It would give the Legislature power to provide for the immediate needs of these schools by the issuance of bonds for the erection of permanent fire proof buildings. More than 3500 young men and young women attend these institutions each year, returning to their communities as homemakers and as teachers of our children.

The construction of buildings by this method distributes the payment over several years for those deriving benefits employing approved business principles now used in erecting courthouses, school houses and other public buildings. The Agricultural and Mechanical College buildings could also be provided under this clause, and the discretion of the legislature.

Neither these two nor any other provisions affect the Constitutional relation of the Agricultural and Mechanical College and the University.

It means a better penitentiary system. It would empower the legislature to authorize, if necessary, the issuance of bonds for permanent improvements at the State penitentiary. These bonds would be taken care of by the income from the penitentiary farms, without cost to the taxpayers of the State. The recent fires indicate the economical waste and the danger to human life of temporary buildings.

It means protection and market for farm products. It would give the legislature power to authorize the issuance of bonds by any county or other political subdivision of the State for construction of warehouses for farm products, the total value of which in Texas each year exceeds $400,000,000. In every instance the issuance of such bonds would be decided by a vote of the taxpaying citizens in a local election.

It means construction of good roads. It would authorize the legislature to enact more liberal laws for the construction of good roads by bond issues. This question would at all times be decided by a vote of the taxpaying citizens in a local election.

A vote for this amendment is a vote for the educational, agricultural and civic needs of Texas.

Respectfully,
VICTOR MILLER.

Wool Growers and Wool Buyers Here

(Continued from first page) responded to the call of the Wool Growers' Central Storage Company of this city for bids on their wool, not a pound has been sold. However, there is a great deal of maneuvering taking place and there are some who believe that sales will be made during the course of the week.

While all the wool buyers have bid on the local supply all bids have been rejected by the wool men as being too low. The buyers declare the tariff bill now before congress will effect wool prices but the members of the local association believe otherwise. There are some who think that the buyers and the member of the association will eventually get together as soon as some of the "bluffs" are called by one side or the other or a concession is made. The members of the association have 1,600,000 pounds of wool stored here.

After conferring with the members of the association all day Monday without results the buyers are today in conference with some of the other commission men, though no sales had been made with them at noon Tuesday. It is the opinion of some that the buyers will go the rounds of the commission men before making any purchases.

In addition to the wool stored here by the General Storage Association, the other commission men have approximately as much in their warehouses.

MOONLIGHT PICNIC.

Last Thursday evening, just as the sun had finished its glorious and illuminous course and had pillared its head upon the fleecy clouds, it beckoned a crowd of merry Ballingerites to go forth under the open sky and enjoy life. The party met at the Carnegie Library at 8 o'clock and started on their joyous ride, with Mrs. C. J. Lynn and Mrs. S. P. Hathaway as chaperons. After reaching their destination, the first thing thought of (of course) was something to eat. Luncheon, consisting of dill pickles and crackers, was spread under the spread of chestnut trees. After roaming around under the thick foliage of the trees all climbed into the Tally-ho, and began their journey home.

Those enjoying this singular event were as follows: Misses Hattie Miller, Edith Miller, Willie Hutton, Willie Whitaker, Jessie Routh Nash, Ruth Chambers, Florence Vinyard, and Ida Penn. Messrs. Harry Lynn, Diaz Wood, Capt. John Phillips, K. V. Northington, Delbert Vancil, Ewing Taylor, Edgar Rasbury, and Bill Chambers, Miss Inez Burns, the only out of town guest, from San Angelo expressed herself highly pleased with Ballinger society.
