Local High Gets Away 12 to 3

In the game played this morning between Ballinger and San An gelo, the home talent won, 3 to 2. Penn pitched for the locals and acquitted himself in grand style. The game was a distanct contrast to that of Friday afternoon. What Teddy will do to the toll repeol bill when he arrives home, will be nothing compared to what the Ballinger High did to the San Angelo High yesterday after noon at Wooden park. The score was 12 to 3.

The visitors asked for the big end of the score in a manner that would cause the Mexican federals to turn red with envy in demanding the waterworks station at Vera Cruz. At the start of the game, or to be more exact in the second frame, they sent in their formal announcement that they must get away with the joy-producing end of the score, by tallying twice, all ready yet so soon. Along about the eighth session they fired a lone shot into the Ballinger camp, running the total up to three. They then turned up their toes to the winds and withdrew to the shelter of the boarding house on the outskirts of the city.

The local delegation of ball players were in their usual form. For the past three months the members had been anxious to arrange a game with the San Angelo erowd, thinking that some kind or decent show would be arranged.
