"AS HARD TO DO DUTY WHEN MEN SNEER AS WHEN THEY SHOOT"

President Wilson at Navy Yard Makes Speech in Which He Says, Sneers of Populace Wound Heart While Gun Wounds Take Only Natural Life.

(By United Press.)
NEW YORK, May 11.—In an address at the navy yard, on the occasion of the ceremony held in honor of the dead marines and blue jackets, President Wilson said in part today:

"I know which feelings characterize the whole nation at this hour are not feeling which can be expressed in terms of oratory. For my own part, I have a singular mixture of feelings. The uppermost is one of profound grief that these lads had to go to their death. Next is one of pride and a touch of envy for those who were permitted to do their duty so quickly and nobly."

The President clearly indicated that the nation is ready if needed to make further sacrifices for the same cause.

"War is only a sort of dramatic presentation," said the President, "sort of dramatic symbol of a thousand forms of duty. I never went into battle. I never was under fire but I fancy there are some things just as hard to do as to go under fire. It is just as hard to do your duty when men are sneering at you as when they shoot at you. When they shoot at you, they can only take your natural life; when they sneer at you they can wound your heart."

IT'S SENATOR UNDER WOOD AFTER TODAY

(By United Press.)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 11.—Alabamans today went to the polls to ratify the choice of Oscar W. Underwood, Democratic floor leader of the House of Representatives, and framer of the tariff law as United States Senator. Underwood is chosen to fill out the unexpired term of the late Senator Joseph F. Johnson. He was nominated over former Representative Richard Pearson Hobson at a special primary election on April 6. The actual election of a United States Senator for the long term beginning March 4, 1915, and of state and county officers will be held next November.

Occupation of Island Right Says U. S.

(By United Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 11.—Occupation of Lobos Island between Tampico and Tuxpam was justified by international law was the contention of the state department in a reply to a protest of General Huerta filed with the A. B. C. Mediators.

The island was seized by Admiral Badger because he received information that the Mexicans intended to destroy the lighthouse on the island.

Dietator Huerta's protests indicate that he intends to take every advantage to accuse the United States of bad faith so that he may charge mediators with discriminating against him and withdraw.

There is a feeling of apprehension here over the proximity of the bandit Zapata's forces at Mexico City. Should he capture the capitol and execute the threats to kill all foreigners and hang Huerta, United States troops in all probability will be rushed from Vera Cruz to Mexico City.

Kyle R. Dickinson, of our city and R. B. Worthington of the Wingate country, came in Saturday at noon from Houston where they had been attending a meeting of the Farmers' Union the past several days.

LABOR LEADERS WIN OUT.

(By United Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 11.—The Supreme Court today set aside the sentence against Samuel Gompers, Morrison, Mitchell which grew out of the celebrated Bucks case. Gompers and the other leaders were convicted and given a jail sentence of thirty days and a fine of $500 for contempt of court, and the case was appealed to the supreme court. The supreme court held that the statute of limitations bar prosecution of these parties for contempt.

(By United Press.)
EL PASO, May 11.—Rebel headquarters at Juarez are today awaiting the confirmation of the report that General Pablo Gonzales has captured Tampico. NEW YORK, May 11.—Honor was paid here today to the seventeen blue jackets and marines who died in the Vera Cruz battle with the Mexicans, April 21. President Woodrow Wilson and Secretary of the Navy Daniels were the chief mourners.

Every possible military pomp and ceremony was given the arrival of the dead American sailors. More than a million people joined in the testimonial of the honor to be paid the dead. Broadway was jammed with thousands during the parade.

President Wilson's presence in the parade was a distinct surprise. It was reported he would only appear at the memorial services at the navy yard.

The bodies were taken from the funeral ship Montana and placed on gun caissons. The sailors of the Montana and the Wyoming and the Ninth regiment of the National Guard formed the escort of the dead bodies.

The procession stopped momentarily at the city hall where Mayor Mitchell, greatly moved, delivered a short address and laid a giant wreath of orchids and bay leaves on the caisson of the New York dead.

 LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Mr. Editor:

Raising Money For The Church.

There has been quite a good deal of comment of late about whether or not it is right to give entertainments for the purpose of raising money for the benefit of the church. I do not believe that there is anything in the bible that would justify such a course. Neither do I find in the bible anything that would justify a ladies aid or a society of any kind in the church other than the church itself. So I do not think any of these things ought to be done in the name of the church, or under the supervision of the church. I find no way given in the bible by which the church may be supported except by a free will offering. If this is true I do not think money should be given to the church in any other way.

If the ladies of a church see fit to band themselves together in any way and make money honestly, they have a perfect right to do so, and then they can appropriate that money to any cause they may see fit, but I don't think the money should be made in the name of the church, or the church should not be used to induce people to patronize the entertainment. This is also true with men. They have a right to make money by organizing in an honest way, and use the money for the church if they see fit. But it should come as a free will offering.

We find that there is a difference in opinion along this line and we feel sure that the good ladies of the church would not do anything that they felt was not right or for the best interest of the church, and this is only my personal views on this question, and I would be glad to hear from others.

Second Primary Not Logical.

In regard to this second primary of which we hear, will some one give the advantage that will accrue to a double primary? Will a majority vote demonstrate that the most competent and reliable man has been nominated. Will not the friends of the defeated candidates lose interest and fail to vote in second primary? If this be true will a fortunate candidate receive a majority vote of all the voters of Runnels County?

The result of having a second primary will be that, at least, several boxes will hold no election, should no appropriation be made to pay the election managers. We acknowledge that patriotism is a cardinal virtue but the necessity in this instance, does not justify a test of this virtue. Will the advocates of this move tell us what can be gained? For many years we have selected our officers by the old way and filled our offices with good men, with only a few exceptions.

Who shall dare to say that, by this second primary, better officers will be selected? Majorities are not always right.

IS CHEAP MONEY A POSSIBILITY?

EDITOR'S NOTE.—This is the first of a series of Articles on AGRICULTURAL PROBLEMS prepared by Judge S. A. Lindsey, chairman of the Texas Farm Life Commission.

I am to write a series of short articles relating to agricultural problems. In this one I shall show that it is possible for money to be had by Texas farmers on good land security at 6 per cent and on cotton at 5 per cent. It is only a question of arranging the security and taking down the bars which keep money from land securities.

All will agree that there is much money in the world to be had at 4 and 5 per cent if the security is satisfactory; that there is no better security than agricultural lands and cotton, if the land is good, well improved and kept in that condition, and the cotton is first-class staple, well ginned, baled, wrapped and dry, securely housed in a warehouse and insured.

If evidence is required here it is: All over Europe land security gets money at from 3 to 4 1/2 per cent. Money is not chained down in Europe and a difference of 1 per cent will bring it here provided the security is the kind that the investor is accustomed to. In many Northern and Eastern states money is seeking investment in good land securities at 5 and 6 per cent. The cotton warehouse people in Memphis borrow money, all they want, at 4 per cent. I have seen apples 25 cents a bushel in Missouri and $2 a bushel in Texas; peaches 40 cents a bushel in Texas and $3.75 in Colorado. Why? For the same reason that money is 4 and 6 per cent in other states and countries and 3 and 10 per cent in Texas, which is that fruit growers and fruit consumers have no means of dealing directly with each other and the agencies that bring the two together take the difference.

Last summer while discussing the subject of rural credits with Messrs. Wolf and Cahill of London, the two best authorities in the world on the subject, one of them said: "Money talks to such only as understand its language. All one has to do to get cheap money is to learn to speak its language and go where it is. Money has no home affections. It hunts security and interest rate. The first thing one thinks of when contemplating rural credits is, where is the money to be obtained. This is an unwarranted uneasiness. Arrange the security so it speaks the language that money understands and it will come."

The other day a Texan giving testimony before the congressional committee having before it the subject of rural credits mentioned "vendor's lien notes"; the discussion that followed showed that congressmen, senators and financiers had never heard of a vendor's lien note. The only ones who understand the Texas vendor's lien security are Texans, and they would be foolish to lend money at 5 and 6 per cent when they can get 8 and 10 per cent. German money understands the meaning of Landshaf ten debentures; Austrian money the bonds of the land mortgage banks and the French money the language of the credit Foncie. If we want German, Austrian or French money at their interest rates, or Eastern money at rates prevailing there, we must arrange our securities so they can speak the language of these monies.

In my next article I will tell how this may be done. I will also point to an abundance of cheap Texas money which would save cross the barrier to the farms of Texas if we do not by law keep the fence up.

THE SOURCE OF CHEAP MONEY

EDITOR'S NOTE.—This is the second of a series of Articles on AGRICULTURAL PROBLEMS prepared by Judge S. A. Lindsey, chairman of the Texas Farm Life Commission.

Suppose one wishes to borrow on land security, $10,000. It is not easy to find one person who has that sum to lend. When he does, he finds a man of affairs who will lend the money only on such rates as prevail in that community. It is easier to find twenty persons with $500 or a hundred with $100 each. In Eastern states and in European countries working people and persons of small means put by their savings in saving banks which pay 3 and 4 per cent on time deposits. The savings banks assemble many hundred millions of dollars. The deposits in the Postals Savings Bank of this nation already amount to $40,000,000 although they pay only 2 per cent interest. People of small means are the greatest source of cheap money. Their money builds sky-scrapers, factories, ships, railroads, telegraph, telephone systems and so on, which is assembled in this wise: The enterprise is incorporated and issues mortgage bonds. A million dollars may be put into bonds of $50 each, bearing 4 or 5 or 6 per cent interest. Concerns which make a business of selling such securities furnish the money desired and sell these bonds to investors in such securities among whom will be clerks, book-keepers, laborers, school-teachers, preachers, professional people, and all kinds of non-business persons. Thus is capital assembled which finances big enterprises. The rich do not, as some suppose, furnish cheap money; they borrow and use the money of non-business people.

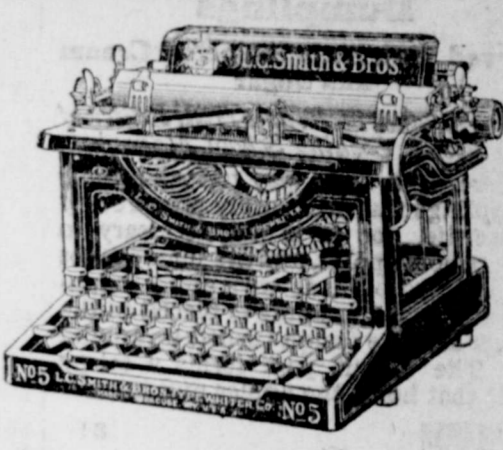

Every one of Uncle Sam's industries except his greatest, agriculture, has worked out methods of getting to the source of cheap money, and he has decided to work out a system for that neglected industry. He sends his agents to all parts of the world. Some of these in the countries of Continental Europe have reported that the people there have systems of rural credits which manage to tap this great source of cheap money just as other industries do, and receive copious streams of finance which give new life and vigor to agriculture, causing the fields to bring forth five-fold. Desiring to see what light these systems might shed on our agricultural problems President Wilson sent a Commission last year throughout Europe to investigate the systems there. This commission saw that land mortgage securities when issued in small denominations so that people of small means could purchase them with their savings were the favorite of all securities. People every where love the soil; they dwell upon it, from it comes their food and raiment, and they have faith in it above all things else, even above the government itself. Hence they who went on this investigation found that land securities everywhere commanded cheaper money than the bonds of the governments, and these securities have stood the test of a hundred years.

The methods are so simple and the benefits so great and widespread that one seeing them wonders why we should not long ago have adopted some similar method suited to agricultural conditions here. This Commission has prepared a plan which is now before Congress and which I will explain in my next article.

Ben S. Long returned home Saturday from an extended business trip to Fort Stockton and reports the irrigation district in that section doing fine. We are glad to report our friend, his brother, J. A. Long, enjoying fine health in his new location and well pleased.

How Much Service Can You Get From Your Typewriter?

The L. C. Smith & Bros. ball bearing, long wearing typewriter.

It's What a Machine Does, Not What It Costs, That Is Most Important. All Typewriters Do, Not Have The Same Efficiency and The Same Operator Does Not Get The Same Results On Every Writing Machine will produce ten to twenty percent more work than any other typewriter ever made.

How is this possible? Here are a few reasons:

1. It is ball bearing throughout--others are not.
2. All operations are controlled from the keyboard.
3. It is the lightest touch machine made.
4. It does not "smut" the carbon.
5. The ribbon reverses automatically.
6. The type is so protected that it is not battered by collision.
7. One motion of the hand returns the carriage and operates the line space.
8. It has an inbuilt biller and tabulator.
9. No trouble to write on paper as small as a postage stamp
10. It is built for service.

New Way to Make Apple Dumplings

Served With Hard Sauce or Cream and Sugar

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Here is a new way to make apple dumplings that will surely please every housewife, for it is not necessary to have whole apples, and the juice cannot run out and burn as in the old dumplings where the apple is placed in the center and the dough turned up around it. The biscuit part forms a crispy shell that holds the apples and juice.

K C Apple Dumplings

One and one-half cups sifted flour; 1/4 teaspoonful salt; 3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; 1/2 cup shortening; about 1/2 cup milk; apples.

Fill the cups of a buttered muffin pan with pared and sliced apples, sprinkle with salt and turn two or three tablespoons of water into each cup. Sift together, three times, the flour, salt and baking powder; work in the shortening, and mix to a soft dough with the milk. Drop the dough from a spoon with the apples in the cups, giving it a smooth exterior. Let bake about twenty-five minutes. Invert the pan on a large serving-dish. Put a spoonful of hard sauce above the apple in each dumpling and finish with a grating of nutmeg.

This is only one of the many new, delicious and appetizing recipes contained in the K C Cook's Book, which may be obtained free by sending the colored certificate packed in every 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the JAMES MRS. CO., Chicago. Be sure to get the 25-cent size—smaller cans do not contain Cook's Book certificate.

noon refreshments were served on the card tables. Those present were: Misses Bettie Miller, Bertha Van Pelt, Winnie Trail, Nell Alexander, Ada Allen Lucey Minor, Crofford, Mammie Gregory and Florence Westbrook.

DEATH OF MRS. J. B. NANCE AT COMANCHE.

In giving an account of the death of Mrs. J. B. Nance, mother of W. A. Nance of our city, the Comanche Vanguard says: "Mrs. J. B. Nance died Tuesday, May 5, at her home near Board Church. She was a sister of 'Uncle' Jim Hicks. Nancy L. Hicks was born in Whitfield, Ga., December 26, 1857. She made a public confession of her faith in the Christian religion at 16 years of age, joined the Missionary Baptist church and was through life a consistent member. She was married to J. B. Nance November 23, 1876, and became the mother of eleven children, two of whom are dead and nine living. Those who knew her for a lifetime as well as those of briefer acquaintance all alike esteemed her as one of the finest of Christian characters. Her remains were tenderly and lovingly laid away in the Board Church cemetery Wednesday, the funeral services being conducted by Elders W. M. Scott, her pastor, and J. E. Milton, Comanche county missionary. One of the largest crowds ever seen at a funeral in the community was in attendance, showing the high regard of the neighborhood for her excellent character and reputation."

We desire to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the splendid courtesy and kindness shown us by the Farmers & Merchants State Bank. Bank came to our rescue and cashed this script at face value. We appreciate the favor and desire to publicly express our thanks to the officers of this bank.

SILOS RAPIDLY INCREASING IN THIS COUNTY

The Higginbotham, Currie, Williams Co., loaded out four more Crown silos last week, making about one solid car of silos sold since they put in this line.

There is no longer a doubt as to whether a silo is a paying investment in this county. There may be a difference in opinion as to which is the best make, but the farmers are showing their good judgment by building silos, and it is foregone fact that several hundred new silos will be built this summer.

(By United Press.)
ST. Week end bathers from St. Louis, who heretofore persisted in shocking the good people by walking down the "main street" clad only in their dripping suits, will this season be forced to stay near the water or suffer penalties for contempt of court.
