ALLIES CONTINUE THEIR ADVANCE

Guion Opposes Call For Help; Says it Will Hurt

College Station, Texas, Sept. 1.—“The people who are calling so loudly for relief for West Texas are doing that portion of the state much more harm than the dry weather is,” declared Judge John I. Guion of Ballinger, chairman of the board of directors of A. & M. College, “and I wish they would desist, tho I recognize that they mean to be friends of the people in need.”

“The harm that they are doing comes from the reputation which they are creating for that section of the state which will make it impossible for the people who own property and want to make a loan for the purpose of improving their holdings to get a loan agent to come within 150 miles of their places. I admit that many people who lived in the west, but had not secured a footing there, have been compelled, as the result of the that we folks find it difficult to go to other portions of the state where employment is more plentiful, and a few men who own their homes there have left their families in the West and gone to other places to work for a season until weather conditions become favorable with us, but the great majority of the people of the west are still there and they are not calling for help, much less charity.

“Ballinger, my home town, is in the center of the dry belt, but there is no sign of poverty there. On Saturday, for instance, the town is so crowded with people that we folks find it difficult to get into the restaurants for lunch, to the picture show, or even to the cold drink stands and as all these things demand ready cash at the hands of those who patronize them I know our people are not in nearly as straitened circumstances as many people in other sections of the state have been led to believe.

“There is some practical, aid promised by the federal government in loaning the farmers money with which to procure seed wheat for fall planting, taking a lien on the crops as security, but there will be enough money raised by personal subscriptions to really count for very much and our people are not ready to accept an outright gift of funds. They do not want or need charity, what they need is rain.”

WINTERS KILLING MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Sheriff Perkins was in Winters Wednesday morning and, walking down town from the train, he saw a dog acting rather queer. He didn't ask any questions, but deliberately killed the dog and set an example worthy of following by others. There are about 25 dogs roaming the streets of Winters night and day that ought to meet just such a fate and every fellow ought to consider himself a committee of one to kill every dog found loose on the streets.

We have the authority from county and city officers to do so, so let's see who can kill the most of them. —Winters Enterprise.

Miss Ruth Curry and brothers, Rodrick and Fulton, came in Saturday from Fort Worth and Santa Anna where they have been visiting relatives, and are at home with their father, Rev. J. B. Curry.

Douglass Hill and family left for the east Saturday, and will locate at some point where they find more rain than in Runnels county.

London, Sept. 2.—The British have captured Saily Sallisel and Salliel. Gen Haig reports to the British war office. The Canadians are making good progress this morning in a new attack south of the Scarpe in the Lys sector.

Paris, Sept. 2.—New progress is being made in the woods west of Coucy-le-Cheateau and east of Pont St. Mar, according to announcement made by the war office to day. Germans violently counter attacked in the Champagne but were repulsed.

London, Sept. 2.—Astride Arras, near Cambri road, the Canadians have broken through Brocourt, and at Quentin have switched the line on a front at least two miles. It is learned through official sources that the allies have captured Douy on the western edge of Cagnicourt and are advancing at other points.

Nico. Lenin Dead?

Copenhagen, Sept. 2.—Lenin is dead, having died from wounds inflicted by a girl revolutionist according to dispatches received here from Moscow.

London, Sept. 2.—Lenin is not dead but is in grave condition, as the result of wounds received at the hands of a revolutionist, according to messages received here

23 Souls Saved in Four Revival Services Sunday

All churches profited from the revival campaign that is in progress in this city, and Sunday was a successful day, as shown by the record kept of the conversions at each service.

Evangelist Evans preached four sermons, the attendance at the eleven o'clock and evening service being the record breaking crowds for the present revival. All seats were occupied under the tabernacle and many remained standing throughout the services.

Singer Bledsoe had under his leadership the largest choir yet to take part in the music, and for the morning and evening hours the music was a great feature of the services.

The first week of the revival closed with about sixty conversions and to this was added twenty-three conversions and reconsecrations Sunday, which according to the names handed in to the committee was divided among the various churches as follows:

Nazarene 1
Presbyterian 4
1st Baptist 4
9th Street Baptist 6
Methodist 8

The evangelist seemed to have been at his best Sunday. He used bible characters to illustrate the practical messages delivered at each of the services, and appealed to the hundreds who heard him to live the better life. To review his sermons here would be seemingly a waste of time, because it has been indicated that most of the people of Ballinger who are interested in religious matters and the upbuilding of everything that stands for church life and a christian community were present and heard the preacher for themselves, and are not depending on newspaper reports for their preaching.

It has developed that a vast majority of the people who are attending these services are already identified with some of the churches of the city, and it is the non-church goers—the man and woman who are shirking their responsibility in such matters who are remaining away from the services.

The second week of the revival campaign begins with cottage prayer meetings held in each of the five designated districts in the city, and with the men's down town meeting held at the usual hour. These services will be held each afternoon, the place to be announced from time to time.

Evangelist Evans preached to an unusually large crowd for the morning services, Monday morning, using as his subject, “German Culture of P'dophaise Fulfilled.” He announced as his subject for Tuesday morning at 9:45, German Conspiracy vs. Christianity. Those who are not attending the morning services are missing the most interesting sermons and the most inspiring services of the revival.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS BEGIN NEW TERM

It will be a day or two before we can give the number enrolled for the 1918-19 term of the Ballinger schools. The children were supplied with enrollment blanks Monday and these will be returned to the teachers properly filled out at once and the roll made up.

The Central and West Ward schools opened without exercises, aside from songs and preliminary assignments to rooms were made. In the High School the work began with a brief opening exercise.

Rev. H. P. Bates, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, read a bible chapter and made a short talk and offered the opening prayer. Scott H. Mack, president of the school board delivered a short address to the high school pupils. Reading by Mamie Jean and Susie Hale and a brief word concerning the years work by Superintendent Skinner were made the starting point for what promises to be a successful school year, despite the drouth and war conditions of the country.

In complying with the law governing the flying of the flag, Old Glory was raised and will fly continually from a flag pole recently constructed on the school campus half way between and just in front of the Central and High School building.

COLEMAN ORDERS

PHONES CUT OUT

At a call meeting at the court house last night and attended by about seventy-five people it was decided to have all telephones removed on Sept. 1st, if the West Texas Telephone Co., persists in the proposed raise in rates.

Those present at the meeting signed the following notice to be delivered to the West Texas Telephone company, and a committee will endeavor to get all telephone users to sign the notice and make it unanimous.

To the Manager of the West Texas Telephone Co.,
City:

Dear sir: If your company persists in sustaining advance telephone rates; as previously stated effective September 1st, you are hereby notified to discontinue telephone connections.

Yours truly,
—Coleman Democrat.

The above action was taken in the telephone scrap at Coleman before Postmaster General Burleson issued orders stating that no changes in rates would be made until approved by the government. Just what steps were taken by the Coleman people following Mr. Burleson's orders is not known.

At the congressional convention held in Abilene recently the returns showed that Blanton was nominated for congress over his opponents by a majority of 15,212 over all three of his opponents.

FATALLY HURT IN

AUTO ACCIDENT

A phone message was received at the Central Hotel, where she had been working up until recently, stating that Mrs. Gertie McMillian had been fatally injured in an auto accident at Brownwood. According to the message the accident occurred Sunday night, and the car turned over. Details were not given in the message but the woman could not live, said the message, and she was expected to die within a short time.

Mrs. McMillian has been with the Central Hotel here for some time as chamber maid. She recently went to Brownwood, and has been with the Harvey House at that place. She was here about a week ago, spending several days here and returning to Brownwood.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Teague, Sunday, a girl, Mrs. Teague is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cockrell, in South Ballinger and Mr. Teague came home from Brownwood, where he is at work, Saturday.

NO FREE PAPERS

The war industries board considers that newspapers sent to subscribers who do not pay for them represent so much wasted print paper. Therefore this unnecessary circulation is prohibited. Any publisher who gives his paper away is flying in the face of direct orders from the Federal authorities and subjecting himself to penalties. The newspaper business is regarded as legitimate and highly essential, of course, but only to the extent that it is conducted on business principles, like any other business. Therefore, to circulate newspapers for the benefit of non-paying patrons is regarded merely as a system for expanding of holding readers for advertising purposes, and the plan will not be countenanced. This departure is a war measure, designed to secure an adequate supply of print paper for all legitimate users, and must be respected by all publishers who do not wish to get in bad.—Dallas News.

AIRPLANES GETTING COMMON OVER HERE

The second aeroplane to sail over this city, went west about noon Sunday, and returned about noon Monday. Just where the aviators were from or where they were going, or who they were was not made known to the citizens of this city, and only a few people in Ballinger saw them as they gave us the go over.

One week ago the first cross country flight was made when two aviators from Carruthers field at Ft. Worth, made the trip from that city to Sonora, stopping at Brownwood and San Angelo.

The plane passing over Sunday and returning Monday was following the Santa Fe in and out of Ballinger, and were probably from the Ft. Worth field. However, the following from the San Angelo Standard tells of the expected arrival of an aviator from the Kelly field at San Angelo.

Another army airplane will visit San Angelo Saturday evening.

Second Lieut. Will Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Gray of 735 Houston street, is to have the distinction of being the first San Angelo man to visit his home town by air route. A telegram received here Saturday morning, advised that he will arrive here about eight o'clock Sunday night, and he is expected to leave here each afternoon at Kelly field San Angelo, Texas, and it is supposed that Lieut. Gray will not leave the city until after that hour.

The distance between San Angelo and San Antonio is thought to be less than 200 miles. By highway, the distance is approximately 220 miles.

Two Lieutenants from Carruthers field, Fort Worth, flew to San Angelo by the way of Brownwood, last Saturday, covering the distance of more than 200 miles in three hours and twenty minutes.

S. AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT PLANS BIG TEXAS EXHIBIT

WIDE SCOPE OF WORK TO BE SHOWN AT THE 1918 COTTON PALACE EXPOSITION

Waco, Texas.—The scope of the work of the Department of Agriculture is so wide and the quantity of its exhibit material is so great that its display at the Cotton Palace Exposition this fall will vary in different sections of the country, but in every case they have been selected to clinch some reason why American agricultural production must be increased and to show some of the numerous ways in which it can be done. These exhibits will not be for the farmer alone. They are for him first, but food production has become the business and concern of everybody in America, and nearly everybody has come to know it. More than that, for the attention of even the novice who cannot tell a solo from a silo.

The Weather Bureau will show how it is able to forecast storms, frosts and floods to protect agriculture, commerce and navigation, and will display its daily weather map showing conditions in the immediate locality of the exhibition. The Bureau of Animal Industry will show how to improve and increase the country's supply of meat, milk and poultry, how it guards the health of the public and our soldiers and sailors through its meat inspection system, and how to drive out the destructive animal diseases that annually take a toll of most worth many millions of dollars. That other great coordinated branch of the Department of Agriculture, the Bureau of Plant Industry, will treat its field in the same manner, with special attention to methods of bettering and stimulating plant production and eradicating plant diseases.

Broad features of the Forest Service work are to be presented in popular and striking form. Models urge the burning of local fuel wood to reduce coal for cities and war expenses and relieve transportation, contract proper methods of logging with the wasteful ways, and to show the proper handling of tree windbreaks for increased crop and animal production. Other Forest Service displays show how forest fires are prevented or checked and fought; how valuable timber can be saved for war use; and the need of retaining forests to retard soil erosion and floods.

Distinctive exhibits of the Bureau of Chemistry illustrate the enforcement of the Food and Drug Act, production and preservation of food products, use of tanning materials, production of colors and other chemical industries. Difference between true and imitation commercial articles are shown, and light is thrown on adulterated or misbranded medicinal preparations, including headache "remedies," "beauty" preparations, asthma, consumption, and other alleged "cures."

Samples of the soils that occur in the United States, including some local to the neighborhood of the particular exhibition, together with information relating to their best use in farming, are among the Bureau of Soils displays. The State's Relations Service shows its work in cooperation with the state Agricultural colleges in spreading farming information through county agents, home demonstration agents and boys' and girls' clubs, and illustrates food conservation by canning and drying.

WORLD'S STOMACH AND ITS DEMANDS TO BE OUTLINED

GOVERNMENT UNDERTAKES GIGANTIC EXHIBIT AT WACO COTTON PALACE

Waco, Texas.—America must not feed itself alone. It must sustain millions of the citizens and fighting men of our valiant allies. The Food Administration, in its exhibits at the Cotton Palace Exposition this fall will drive that fact deep. Feature displays will be decorative panels contributed by representative American illustrators to illustrate twelve points in a recent speech by Herbert Hoover, Food Administrator.

The purpose, scope and accomplishments of the Food Administration, the situation with which it is dealing, and work being done by the Home Conservation department will be shown.

The Bureau of Fisheries of the Department of Commerce has displays to urge the utilization of fishery products now used little or not at all, but that are available to help supply the demand for meat. Samples and posters of whale, shark, grayfish, sablefish, eulachons, burbot, drums, tilefish, skates and rays represent some of the dining table strangers to be shown.

The fisheries exhibit also will display tanned skins of aquatic animals—and most people know that leather is valuable now—with a demonstration of pearl lutton manufacture, one of the industries that Germany dominated before the war.

Programs of moving pictures treating many war-time themes will be shown in connection with the other exhibits. They will screen American soldiers at the fighting front and in camp; farmers striving for bigger crops in the country; methods of conserving as well as increasing the food supply, views of beautiful landscapes in the national parks; reclamation of arid lands, highway construction and other activities, many of them in direct relation to winning the war.

At every fair where the combined exhibits will be displayed the Four-Minute Men—the volunteer speakers who are fighting disloyal propaganda and urging unlimited public support for every war movement—will gather in state conclaves. They will speak the regulation four minutes between the official motion pictures, and will assist the soldiers and sailors and department representatives in explaining displays. The Four-Minute Men will have headquarters of booths to be maintained by the Committee on Public Information.

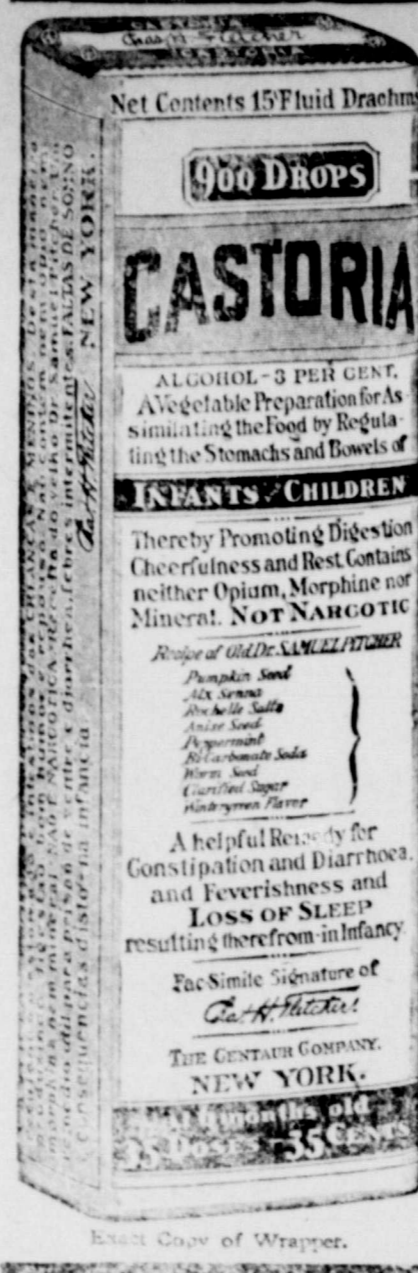

At a number of the fairs where trucking facilities can be provided in or near the grounds, one of the many rescue cars of the Bureau of Mines, Department of the Interior, will be open to the public. Full crews of five men will be on duty to explain the intricate rescue apparatus.

PIGS IS PIGS AT WACO AT COTTON PALACE TIME

Waco, Texas.— McLennan county boys who secured pigs to the number of nearly half a hundred through the efforts of Assistant County Demonstrator W. T. Barbee, are preparing to exhibit these pigs at the Texas Cotton Palace Exposition which begins in Waco, November 2. A comparative estimate will be made, showing what the pig of each boy weighed when bought and the weight of the pig at the Cotton Palace. Prizes will then be given for the greatest percentages of growth and weight.

COTTON PALACE AS WAR BENEFIT PLANNED AT WACO

EXPOSITION DIRECTORS FOLLOW TREND OF TIMES IN GREAT EXPOSITION.

Waco, Texas. — Something more definite in the way of patriotism will be evidenced at the 1918 Texas Cotton Palace Exposition, which opens at Waco, November 2, aside from the flying of Entente flags from exposition buildings and the playing of national airs by the fifteen musical organizations which Cotton Palace directors have contracted for.

Total receipts of the big Texas exposition for one day will be donated to the American Red Cross. Announcement to this effect has just been made by those in charge of the Cotton Palace Exposition, and a telegram to Henry P. Davison, chairman of the Red Cross, has just put the exposition management on record to this effect.

The 1918 Cotton Palace Exposition in Waco this year will clearly be a war exposition. In addition to the war service trend which is being arranged for practically in every department of the Cotton Palace, the government, unsolicited, has informed the Cotton Palace management of its desire to install a War Exhibit at the exposition. The offer has been accepted. Details of this war exhibit just announced, show that it will be replete with showings of war machinery, from the Browning machine gun to the latest type of hand grenade or rifle bullet. Over thirty individual exhibits are included in the war department's bureau which will be established here.

FROM BATTLEFIELD TO TEXAS AT COTTON PALACE

Waco, Texas.—The War Department display at the 1918 Cotton Palace this fall can hardly fail to place Americans more closely in touch with their boys who are making uneasy the heads that wear the crowns. There are Browning machine guns for infantry use and Lewis machine guns of the aircraft type, mounted on a tripod that can be pulled to almost heights, figures clothed in regulation uniforms, including an aviator's flying tags; rifles of the latest model; "over there" and "under there" showing penetration of the old and new bullets; complete equipment of the beloved "dough-boy" and a trench periscope through which he watches for freshness on the part of the "Fritz"; gas masks that he dons when the Hun spreads his favorite poison; the trench helmet that protects him, and the hand grenade he hurds, the shovel with which he digs a trench and the pump that takes out the water.

Then there are models of the various kinds of tents used by the Army, national and regimental colors in silk, storm and post flags, a portable field wireless outfit, heliograph instruments, lanterns for night signaling, day and night rockets and signal flags.

And if any American hasn't learned yet to distinguish a sergeant major from a brigadier general, he can do so from boards which carry the insignia of officers and the chevrons of enlisted men, with the wound and service chevrons authorized for officers and men serving in France.

The Navy display shows more of the tools that are making this an unsafe place for international burglars, and also some rifles captured from German soldiers. The Navy shows a depth charge of the kind whose bubbles often mean the end for some submarine pirate, a naval mine and anchor, and a big torpedo with its track. Projectiles of various sizes are accompanied by bombs that airplanes drop. The clothing display includes some worn in winter weather by the boys aboard our submarine. But it is expected that nowhere will the crowds be thicker than around the models of modern battleships, dreadnaughts, cruisers, destroyers and other vessels that will be shown at all the fairs and expositions.
