Rev. James Williams, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church said special church services will be conducted tonight, Sunday, honoring the 1979 high school graduating class.

Rev. Williams said all seniors would be welcome to attend the services.

Thursday night, Channel 13 from Lubbock showed an interview conducted with Bailey County Justice of the Peace K.B. Martin. According to the J.P., the television station was in Muleshoe after receiving allegations from a reported Brown Beret member that a former prisoner at the jail had been mistreated.

Francisco Alvarado, 25, was found hanged in his jail cell on April 26.

According to the allegations, Alvarado had not been fed since he had been in the jail for nine days.

Saturday morning, Sheriff Clements said "Alvarado had only been a prisoner at the jail for seven days, and during that time he was a prisoner, had been treated no differently from any other prisoner."

The sheriff said that to his knowledge, Alvarado had been fed his meals just the same as any other prisoner.

Testerman 'Guilty'; Jury Sets 12 Years

Following two days of testimony in District Court, a 12-member jury found L.E. Testerman, 76, guilty of the September 6, 1978 slaying of Berlin Harvey.

John W. Gunter Jr. handed the verdict to district Judge Pat Boone and the judge read the verdict. "We, the jury, find the defendant guilty of murder, as charged in the indictment."

The jury deliberated approximately 40 minutes before finding Testerman guilty, then received instructions to deliberate for the punishment phase of the trial.

Mark Harmon Signs Letter Of Agreement

Mark Harmon, who made 130 tackles for bi-district champion Muleshoe last fall, has signed a letter of agreement with Lubbock Christian College.

Harmon, a 5-7, 160-pounder, was Muleshoe's defensive player of the year and was honorable mention All-District for the Mules, who went 11-2 for the year.

A two year letterman at linebacker, Harmon was president of his senior class, student body president and graduated third in a class of 90. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donharmon.

He is the sixth player signed by the Chaparrals this spring.

hour, the jury again returned to the courtroom with the punishment. Judge Boone read from a paper that the jury had determined that L.E. Testerman was guilty of murder and assessed his punishment at 12 years in the Texas Department of Corrections.

It was explained that in sentences of more than 10 years, no probation can be assessed.

After Testerman's attorney, Billy Hall, of Littlefield, requested the 10 day waiting period before formal sentencing, and indicated there would possibly be an appeal of the verdict, Judge Boone continued the defendant's $10,000 bond.

Judge Boone instructed Testerman to return to the courtroom at 9:30 a.m. on Monday, June 11, for further court action.

Testerman was charged with the September 6 shooting of Harvey, who died several days later at a hospital in Lubbock. The shooting occurred approx-

During a noon meeting Friday, members of the Muleshoe Youth Activities Committee Inc. reluctantly accepted the resignation of President Keith Pate.

In submitting his resignation by letter, Pate cited business pressures as his reason for resigning. He said he would be traveling much of the time and could not devote the time necessary to continue as president of the active youth organization.

Dave Cavitt, SPS manager, has announced that Bill Barker and Reggie Johnson have been transferred from Plainview and Keith Turner has been employed to make up the three-man crew.

Barker is a working foreman -- substation and has worked for Southwestern Public Service Company since December, 1951. He was employed in Plainview as a meter reader and in 1957 was transferred to the substation department where he became a working foreman in January of this year.

Construction Fund Drive Is Planned

He praised the members for their actions in continuing with the plans for the miniature golf course and for their planned activities for youth of this area.

Although the membership voted to accept the resignation as president, YAC voted for Pate to retain his membership as a member of the organization and to remain as chairman of the finance committee for YAC.

Work is beginning on the golf course and lights will be installed during the next week.

Muleshoe Youth Activities Committee Inc. president, Keith Pate, announced late last week that an intensive drive is beginning to obtain funds needed to complete the miniature golf course in Muleshoe.

He reminded that the golf course, to be constructed just east of the Bailey County Exhibition Center and Coliseum, will be for the use of all interested persons at a nominal charge.

Early in the week, the lights arrived to be installed for the golf course, and are presently stored waiting for installation.

A chain link fence will encircle the entire golf course, and plans include the construction of rest-rooms, and a combination ticket office and storage facility.

Members of the YAC have been holding planning meetings and completing plans for the projected fund drive for construction of the new facility.

Trooper Dulin previously was with the DPS for seven years, then resigned to go into farming. He recently reinstated as a DPS officer and Bailey County is his first duty assignment.

Closed Cooperative Proposed For Area

"I am a wheat farmer and I'm looking for $5 wheat," North Dakota farmer Clayton Litchfield told a group at the Bailey County Exhibition Center and Coliseum Thursday night. "If the price was right, there would also be a lot of corn grown here."

The self-proclaimed farmer and president of Grain Products International, along with his vice president, Ken Spitzer, of Kensal, N.D. were in Muleshoe to promote the construction of a closed cooperative to produce fuel alcohol, utilizing cereal grain for production.

Litchfield, of Foreman, N.D. told the group that Grain Products International is constructing a fuel alcohol plant in conjunction with a fructose plant in North Dakota adding, "Alcohol finally came into its own and it is economically feasible to produce it."

He said his group is boosting a minimum size of a 20,000,000 gallon per year plant and told of the large plant at Decatur, Ill., where fuel alcohol sells for $1.40 per gallon and they are selling out.

Litchfield advocated that a multi-million dollar plant would be feasible for this area, and said they are boosting a closed cooperative so that persons who are in the cooperative would benefit, while farmers who do not join the cooperative would be on the outside, missing out on profits.

According to the speaker, they are working with Stevens, Inc., investment bankers, from Little Rock, Ark., and have acquired a pledge of $420 million to construct gasohol plants across the United States.

He added that a national cooperative would keep marketing alcohol and marketing grain under one umbrella, and would be large enough to secure the best prices possible, as the group would control the grain market, as well as have the corner on the fuel alcohol market.

He explained that farmers who join the cooperative would pledge grain to be used in the plants. Using, for instance, 10,000 bushels of corn pledged to the cooperative, the farmer would receive a return of around $3.74 per bushel. This would be through selling the alcohol at $1.25 per gallon, then selling the by-products at export prices.

Litchfield said the grain would not be harmed by running it through the alcohol removal process and would retain 80 percent of the protein it contains.

Reading Club '79 Signup Is Wednesday

Anne Camp, librarian for the Muleshoe Area Public Library, said registration for the 1979 Summer Reading Club will begin Wednesday, May 30, at 10 a.m. at the library and continue for six weeks.

Theme for the program this year will be "In Search of Texas Treasures," and participants may read books to earn a certificate from the Texas State Library. They will also be eligible to continue to earn ribbons and award pins. At the end of the program, an award day will be held to honor the high readers of all ages.

Movies will be shown each Wednesday morning for a full hour, with short features and cartoons for 30 minutes, followed by a 30 minute film for older children.

Mrs. Camp said an added attraction this year will be a poster that all young people can work on at the library; and a scrapbook for children. They may contribute pictures, bits of Texas folk-lore, songs, recipes and other memorabilia from 'Olden Days.'

She said all boys and girls are invited to join the Reading Club Wednesday in order to get an early start.

Members of the Hobby Club will have relics on display for the visiting public to view at the library throughout the summer.

The library will be closed Monday, May 28, in observance of Memorial Day.

From the methane gas produced, Litchfield and Spitzer said the energy for operating the plant could be mostly provided by the by-product methane gas. Only 40 percent of the energy required would have to be from an outside source, and they cited the waste from the area feedlots as possible sources of additional methane gas for energy for operating the refineries.

They explained that 7,000,000 million bushel of corn would be required to operate a 20,000,000 gallon a year fuel alcohol plant and that 80 percent of the $30,000,000 could receive long term, 30 year financing at approximately

Industrialization Cost Is Studied

When a new industry locates in a rural community, there are both benefits and costs, according to a recent Texas A&M University study.

The usual case is that community leaders tend to overestimate industrial benefits while underestimating additional public expenditures needed to serve the industry and its employees. This is the conclusion of three economists who researched the impact of industrialization on rural communities in Texas.

Dr. Lynn Reinschmidt of Mississippi State University, Dr. Lonnie L. Jones, a Texas Agricultural Experiment Station research economist, and Dr. Richard Floyd, a Texas Agricultural Extension Service economist in real estate, conducted the study.

The economists pointed out that industrialization has been tabbed by proponents as a means of improving employment and income as well as a means of reducing a community's tax burden by broadening the local tax base. However, net community benefits may be lower than expected because some of the payroll leaves the community through commuters, residents tend to consume outside the community, local government is unable to convert economic growth into tax revenues, and local government may give too many concessions to new industry. The researchers concluded that industrialization's effect on reducing taxes is minimal.

Ward Funeral Slated Today In Muleshoe

Dale Ward, 64, was pronounced dead by Muleshoe Justice of the Peace K.B. Martin at Franklin Mill Works. JP Martin ruled Ward dead of natural causes. Ward had a history of treatment for a heart condition.

He was pronounced dead at 3:20 p.m. Ward was a retired farmer, and served as bookkeeper for Franklin Welding and Mill Works.

He was born September 28, 1914 in Stamps, Ark., and moved to Bailey County in January 1, 1978 from Plainview, he had lived in Littlefield for 20 years.

Virgil Dale Ward and Hazel Satterfield were married May 21, 1934 in Texarkana, Ark. He was a member of a non-denominational church.

Funeral services will be conducted at 4:30 p.m. today, Sunday in the Chapel of the Chimes with James Walden of Littlefield and Harry McKelvy of Amarillo, officiating. Burial will be in Bailey County Memorial Park under direction of Singleton- Ellis Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife, Hazel, one son, Johnny Robert, Ropesville; two daughters, Mrs. Glenda Witherspoon, Lubbock and Mrs. Jean Crittenden, Muleshoe; three sisters, Mrs. Opal Montgomery, Littlefield and Mrs. Julia Andrews and Mrs. Monie Bell O'Quinn, both of Longview; three brothers, William Ward Longview; Chester Ward, Oklahoma City, Okla. and Hardy C. Graves, Marshall; fourteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Nine plants in six rural Texas communities were investigated in 1975 and 1976 to evaluate their net economic impact. Four of the communities were in East Texas and two in South Central Texas. All communities were at one time predominantly dependent upon agriculture or natural resource based economies. Their populations ranged from 1,260 to 10,646, based on 1973 census estimates. Annual employment of the plants ranged from 20 to 152 employees, and annual payrolls ranged from $144,000 to $1,050,000.

Benefits and costs attributed to new industry were estimated and reported for private, municipal government and school district sectors. Direct, indirect and induced effects were also estimated, with both benefits and costs to determine net economic impact.

All in all, total community net gains averaged almost $300,000. In the private sector, some net benefits were direct income, such as wages and salaries, and increased household expenditures made in the community due to increased salaries.

Some costs for this sector included donations of land, buildings and equipment, expenses incurred in attracting the industry such as advertising costs and travel expenses, and opportunity costs of loans extended at favorable interest rates and repayment plans.

Benefits accruing to municipal government included property tax and municipal service revenues from the industry and new residents and sales tax revenues from the plant payroll.

Among municipal costs were utilities to the plant and new residents, services consumed by commuters, location incentives or subsidies extended to the industry, and indirect and induced expenditures from increased demand on public services.

GSPA Requests Investigation

The Grain Sorghum Producers Association has called for a Congressional investigation of USDA's failure to administer the 1979 Feed Grain Program, according to the law passed by Congress in 1977. The House of Representatives Committee on Agriculture Chairman Thomas S. Foley, was officially requested to conduct a formal hearing into the problem, in a letter from GSPA Executive Director Elbert Harp.

for determining grain sorghum target prices. Grain Sorghum Producers Association is asking that this formula be applied. Dr. Howard Hjort, Director of Economics for USDA recently admitted to the Subcommittee on Livestock and Grains, "There is in fact a discrepancy. The $2.30 will have to be increased very likely to $2.35, in order to be consistent with the law." GSPA contends that the increase should be 10 to 18 cents (depending upon which USDA cost of production figures are used.) Harp told the Chairman, "The grain sorghum farmers of the United States are in critical economic condition at this time. They need all possible help to survive the present low prices. The tenant farmers in the United States produce over 50 percent of the grain sorghum. USDA's latest figures on cost of production to tenant farmers is $5.02 per hundredweight. On May 15, 1979, the average price received by producers throughout the United States was $3.62 per hundredweight, and this is after paying storage and interest on grain from harvest time until the middle of May. This is an average net loss of $1.40 per hundred, plus storage and interest. The 59 cent deficiency payment for the 1978 crop certainly does not bridge that gap.

Inflation is running at 13 percent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices increased another 1 percent in March, led by sharply higher prices for food, housing, clothing and gasoline, the government said today. Prices during the first three months of 1979 increased at an annual rate of 13 percent, the highest quarterly rise in 4 1/2 years and far above the administration's target for this year of 7 1/2 percent. The increase for the 12-month period ending in March was 10.2 percent.

We have to buy the food we sell to you, and like you, we have to feed our families. So we've taken an important step in the fight against the ever-rising cost of living. We have lowered many prices throughout your Muleshoe Piggly Wiggly. Not only on expensive items you buy infrequently, but also on some staple items you buy every week.

We're confident that our new prices (and those we don't change) are as competitive as possible. In fact, we're offering you TRIPLE THE DIFFERENCE if you find overall prices in any other supermarket in town, with our new TRIPLE THE DIFFERENCE POLICY.

And, of course, we are going to continue to give you those valuable S&H Green Stamps. Because we know you like them and save them...and those, too, can help in these times of double digit inflation.

We think you'll appreciate our new, lower prices and our TRIPLE THE DIFFERENCE POLICY, and we know you like S&H Green Stamps. Just three of the many good reasons to shop at your Muleshoe Piggly Wiggly every week!

Sincerely Yours,

In Honor Of Those Who Served Our Country

MEMORIAL DAY

MAY 28, 1979

We are inclined to take for granted the many forms of freedom which we enjoy in this country, perhaps because we have never been forced to live without them; and yet we must remind ourselves of the sacrifices that have been made in order to preserve them for us, by those who were called upon to give their lives in battle. Not only on Memorial Day but throughout the year we should honor those brave heroes, and give our thanks to God for this wonderful free nation we have because of them.

U.S. Representative Kent Hance informed Texas WIFE President June Saylor that he had met informally with agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland and Robert Cutler, head of the National Water Study Task Force and they have begun consideration of importing water to the arid areas of Texas.

WIFE expects the Texas state water authority bill to pass before the session closes. Mildred James, WIFE spokesman, states that wording is being tightened concerning easements and taxation before the final vote. There are many problems to overcome and much work to be done. This new law will allow the water district to legally begin action.

The grain compact bill has passed in Texas. Four more grain producing states must ratify for it to become effective. Each state would then appoint three marketing practices investigators.

The last gasohol bill passed in the Legislature on Thursday. Muleshoe WIFE sponsored an open meeting on gasohol production that night at 8 p.m. in the Bailey County Civic Center.

Representatives of Grain Products International, Inc., a national cooperative, revealed plans for the forming of a co-op to build and operate a 20,000 gallon alcohol plant. The plant would use corn and other cereal grains and also produce by-products suitable for cattle feeding.

10 and one fourth percent interest. Also, the farmer would provide 20 percent of the equity by signing a non-collateral note with a five to seven year payoff.

At the most, the cash out of a farmer's pocket would be the initial $2,000 which would be set aside to get the plant operating, for legal fees, a feasibility study required by the bank and beginning operating expenses.

Spitzer explained that under new investment credit laws, the cooperative owners could claim $25 million as eligible for investment credit, returning 35 cents per bushel, or $3,750 to the farmer in investment credit at the end of the first year of operation. It would require, by law, a five year grower agreement, to be eligible for the investment credit, Spitzer further outlined.

According to Litchfield and Spitzer, the parent company would be GPI who would be responsible for money, management and marketing, if it is formed, would be the South Plains Grain Products International.

The local cooperative would retain their identity with local board members, they explained. They also said one local member would be chosen to be a member of the national board of directors.

In response to a question, they said tentatively, the plans are for an eventual 500 plants, or fewer if larger plants are constructed.

The 500 plants, they stresses, would use one half of the corn, milo and wheat produced in the United States each year.

Also, they said the feasibility study would be conducted within three months of the formation of the temporary board and construction would be conducted within two years.

At the same time, they continued to stress that the main thing for the farmer would be the increase in price he would receive for his crop, balanced out against the minor investment of $2,000 to become a member of the new venture.

A political committee would be set up, they added, who would be representatives in Washington, D.C., and export markets would be sought for the by-products. They said every part of the grain could be used, including nitrogen fertilizer which would be removed from a clean-out approximately every six months and spread back on the fields.

Advocating that this is the time for the farmer to look to his future, then look at higher prices, and a steady market for their products, Litchfield and Spitzer said the oil companies and the large grain companies will fill this gap if the farmer doesn't.

Members of Wives Involved in Farm Economics (WIFE) set up the meeting in Muleshoe, although they said they were neither boosting or against the cooperative, adding, "It is just one alternative we wanted farmers to be aware of."

Lloyd Bentsen, Senator

(D-Tex): "It's time to depart from economic policies followed in this country for the past 30 years."

In accordance with the well-established custom of year-round memorial giving to the Arthritis Foundation, the public is encouraged to make special memorial gifts to the Foundation at this time as a particularly appropriate means of observing Memorial Day, according to Mrs. Dic Chitwood, Memorial Gifts Chairman of the West Texas Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation, Bailey County branch.

Local memorial gifts may be made to Vet Merritt at the Muleshoe State Bank, she said.

"This is the time when many of us give special thought to our loved ones who have passed away," Mrs. Chitwood added, "and what better way is there to put such thoughts into action for the good of the living than to make a gift toward the conquest of arthritis?"

Mrs. Chitwood explained that special memorial gifts made in connection with the Memorial Day of Observance will go into the Memorial fund of the Arthritis Foundation "for immediate use in support of important ongoing programs of research, education and community services."

The chairman also pointed out that the memorial fund is made up largely of gifts sent to the Foundation when relatives, friends or associates pass away. Group memorials also are made by the personnel of plants and offices and by members clubs and organizations. "We are grateful if people find the Arthritis Foundation memorials such a meaningful way expressing condolences a difficult time. We do appreciate any contributions to our memorial fund on this special Memorial Day observance. Such support will be immeasurable help in our day-to-day fight against the nation's number one crippling disease, Arthritis," Mrs. Chitwood concluded. "I hope you will make your memorial gifts to Vet Merritt at the Muleshoe State Bank, now or anytime during the year."

ON CONSUMER PRICES

Consumer prices soared another 1 percent in March the government said. Alfred E. Kahn, President Carter anti-inflation chief, told congressional Joint Economic Committee the March price report was bad and said, "we still have some bad months ahead."

South Plains Is Generating Cotton Dollars

Take a look at the next dollar bill you spend. George Washington's picture will still be there. But a fluffy white cotton boll would be just as fitting. Cotton had a lot to do with putting that dollar in your pocket. Especially if you live in a 20 county area the Texas South Plains.

In these 20 counties cotton provides more than 48,000 jobs, supplies some $1.1 billion in products and services, and contributes better than $36 million in sales and income taxes.

But that is not the whole story. That $1.1 billion revenue attributable to cotton becomes even more impressive when you consider the federal government's estimate that every cotton dollar creates an additional $2.50 to $3 in economic activity.

Cotton is the mainstay of 8,783 businesses in the 20 counties -- including farms, gins, cottonseed oil mills, warehouses, and raw cotton merchandising firms.

These farms and businesses provide for almost one out of every two -- 48 percent -- of all jobs in the 20 county area.

Lynn County tops the list. Ninety-two percent of the jobs in the county are cotton related.

Nine other counties, Bailey, Briscoe, Cochran, Crosby, Floyd, Gaines, Hockley, Lamb and Terry, top the 50 percent mark in jobs generated by cotton.

While Lubbock County falls below the 50 percent mark in jobs related to cotton, it ranks highest in most other measurements.

There are, for example, 1,022 cotton related farms and businesses that create 5,525 jobs in Lubbock County. These farms and businesses generate products and services valued at more than $284 million annually. And the sales and income taxes collected as a result of cotton business in the county total more than $9 million.

So there's cotton in the next dollar bill you spend. And it goes deeper than the cotton fibers used in the paper showing the picture of George Washington.

Government Blamed For Shortage

Congress and the federal government are the major causes of the energy shortage in America today, Congressman Jim Collins of Texas said. "The energy shortage is real and it is government caused," he said.

"When the government decided to regulate the oil industry in 1973 and put price controls on domestically produced oil, that is when the energy shortage began. Price controls are only on one commodity -- oil and gas.

"Government price controls placed a limit on domestic oil at $5.50 a barrel. Arab OPEC oil then increased to $14.50 a barrel. As price controls took effect, domestic production decreased and our imports of oil increased," Collins said.

The Texas congressman noted that since 1973, when Congress placed price controls on the oil industry in the U.S., domestic production dropped from 9.2 million barrels a day in 1973 to 7.6 mbd in 1978. In 1973, the U.S. imported $3 billion of oil and in 1978 we imported $42 billion of oil.

"The way to solve the energy shortage in America is to completely de-regulate oil and gas now. We need to get the politicians and bureaucrats out of the energy business because the way government approaches a problem is to create a new agency.

MIDEAST MEDIATOR

President Carter appointed Texan Robert Strauss, his special trade negotiator and all-around trouble-shooter, as chief U.S. mediator in the next phase of Middle East peace talks on Palestinian autonomy.

created the Department of Energy with a $5 billion budget. In two years DOE's budget has more than doubled in size to $11 billion, and they have not produced one drop of oil. "As a matter of fact, this bureaucratic nightmare's budget is more than what the entire oil and gas industry in the U.S. spent for producing our energy," Collins said.

Working Wives Fuel Buying Demand

Working wives are continuing to play a key role in fueling the demand for homes, a national survey by the Family Housing Bureau, a public information service of Chicago Title Insurance Company reveals.

In 1978, 86.9 percent of home buyers in the survey were married, up from 85.2 percent in 1977. And of these couples, 56.2 percent of the women were employed in 1978, up from 53.1 percent in 1977.

"It's the income of the working wife that makes it possible for many couples to afford homes these days," a Family Housing Bureau spokesman said.

The survey showed that first time buyers had a median income of $19,700. However, those with full time working wives had a median income of $23,880 and those with part time working wives had a median income of $19,750.

As a group, first time buyers purchased homes with a median price of $37,500, up from $36,800 in 1977 and $31,200 in 1976. But if there was a full time working wife, the median price rose to $38,700, and if there was a part time working wife, the median price paid was $46,200.

A couple with a part time working wife probably has children and therefore needs a larger house than a couple with a full time working wife, which may explain why the buyer with a part time working wife pays a higher median price, the Family Housing Bureau noted. Also, the number of buyers with part time working wives in the survey sample was small, which increases the possibility of statistical aberrations.

However, the tendency of buyers with working wives to pay a higher median price is also observed among repeat home buyers. Thus, the median price paid by all repeat buyers who had a median household income of $24,150, was $50,900, a change from $51,700 in 1977 and $44,500 in 1976.

The survey noted that the number of full time working wives is greater among first time home buyers than among repeat buyers.

The difference can be attributed to three factors, the Family Housing Bureau spokesman said. First, repeat buyers can cash in on the equity built up in their present home, so there is less need for a second income to support the home purchase.

Second, repeat buyers have larger families so there is a greater chance for the wife to be a full time homemaker. And third, repeat buyers average 35.5 years old while first time buyers average 28.3 years, a fact which correlates with generally higher income for older buyers.

The survey was made by the Family Housing Bureau of Chicago Title Insurance Company as part of its continuing program to foster interest in home ownership. The company issues real estate title insurance, which insures the existence or non-existence of rights to property for lenders and owners. The insurance defends the policy holder's insured rights and pays for any losses if the title insurer is found to be wrong in its determination.

Not taking yourself too seriously is usually a sign of intelligence.

New Solar Systems Energy Seminar Set

The Texas South Plains has an abundance of sunshine. The potential for harnessing that sunpower for use in your home will be the topic of a solar energy seminar here Tuesday, May 29.

The seminar will be at 7:30 p.m. at the Hodges Center, 41st street at University Avenue in Lubbock. It is sponsored by the Home Energy Program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Heat from the sun can warm your home and produce hot water," said Mrs. Jane Cohen, Extension agent for home energy, who is conference coordinator. "With predictable increases in the cost of energy, using energy from the sun in down-to-earth applications is becoming more economically acceptable."

Keynote speaker for the free seminar will be Russel E. Smith of Austin, executive director of the Texas Solar Energy Society. He will discuss the future of solar power. Smith will trace the history of the energy crisis and of solar power and outline advantages of using solar energy.

Also on the program are several faculty members and researchers from Texas Tech and Texas A&M Universities, architects, a home builder, and an Extension housing home furnishings specialist. Texas Tech, several commercial firms, the Texas Solar Energy Society and Texas Agricultural Extension Service will display exhibits of solar equipment and information, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Dr. Ernst (cq) W. Kiesling, professor and chairman of civil engineering at Texas Tech, will present an overview of solar energy for housing. He will discuss homes as a passive system, designed to make maximum use of existing weather conditions, and as active systems with specially constructed solar equipment.

Dr. C.E. Teske, professor of engineering technology at Tech, will look at energy conservation and solar economics. A specialist in energy conservation and solar design and economic analysis, he will discuss the major factors of building design, operation and maintenance, including such elements as construction, windows and doors, insulation and heat transfer. He also will analyze the costs for the life cycle of a solar home.

Dr. Bill Stewart, agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will provide homeowners some tips on quality standards and ways to evaluate the materials and workmanship of solar companies.

Carl Childers, professor of architecture at Texas Tech, will discuss the home as a solar collector. His presentation will include such subjects as the home site and orientation, direct gain, storage walls, planning concepts, greenhouses, auxiliary fuel requirements, appearance and some of the legal aspects, such as building codes and zoning regulations.

The family as a consumer unit in the implication of lifestyle on energy use will be discussed by Rachal Wortham. She is an instructor and research assistant in the department of family management.

There is a need to look back occasionally to get our bearings for the future. Past experiences often guide future action. What has proved good and profitable in the past will often prove to be the same in the days ahead. Serving God and our country through our churches and through civil and community service has always elevated us as a people and contributed to our image as a free and just country. We will not go wrong in adhering to these practices.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

MARIJUANA & CANCER
LOS ANGELES-The president of the American Cancer Society says doctors should be able to use marijuana as a last resort to relieve the harsh side-effects of some cancer therapies. Dr. LaSalle D. Leff all Jr. said that evidence does support the fact that it (marijuana) can help the patient.

Your electric bill is higher but there's something you can do!

Summer's almost here and you'll be using your air conditioning more. Your electric bill will probably be higher, but by following a few simple suggestions, you can hold down the cost and get more for your energy dollar. Keep your thermostat set at 78° or higher. And when you're planning to leave for a few days, turn the unit off. Keep drapes and blinds closed to reflect solar heat. Check your attic for adequate ventilation. Make sure you have proper insulation in the attic, walls and around ducts. Replace worn and missing weatherstripping and caulking around doors and windows. Make your home more energy efficient ... and your energy dollar will go further this summer.
