Work Is Started On Carbon-De Leon Highway

The State Highway Department has started work on raising, widening and leveling of shoulders on highway 6, from Carbon to De Leon. This is preliminary details of an $80,000 project, which when completed will give a wide, first class highway from here to De Leon.

First part of the work is being done from De Leon to Gorman. It is unofficially estimated by the engineer in charge that approximately six weeks will be required to complete the preliminary project.

Eastland To Have Softball Field; Fire Dept. Sponsoring

The Eastland Fire Department announced last week that they had raised sufficient funds to repair and fix up the Eastland softball field for playing this summer. The playing field, which attracted large crowds of softball fans in past seasons, has been unused since the summer of 1941 and is in no shape to be used now.

The department said a number of Eastland people, including returned veterans of World War I, are contributing to the fund.

The field is located on Seaman Street. Glen Justice, who was recently discharged from the Army, and his wife have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Justice of the Flower community and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Greer.

A. A. Edmondson of Eastland was visiting in Carbon Tuesday.

To Tax Away All Jap War Profits

MacArthur Orders 100 Per Cent Levy; Directive Strongly Worded.

TOKYO.—In a stern "war does not pay" directive General MacArthur has ordered the Japanese government to tax away the war profits of all Nipponese firms and individuals and make the capias levy ranging up to 70 per cent on corporate and private fortunes — including the imperial household's.

Accompanying the directive was a statement that said it would "result in a more equitable distribution of wealth than Japan has ever had."

In the most strongly worded order of the occupation to date, the supreme commander prohibited all government credit or subsidy activities pending sweeping reorganization of government finances, and directed the Japanese to submit a complete war profits tax program to the first session of the Diet in 1946.

Reaching down to the very soldiers and sailors who fought the war as well as the generals and admirals who directed it, the Zaibatsu (big family concerns) who supplied it, General MacArthur also ordered the government to terminate by February 1 the payment of any discharge allowances or service pensions to Japanese veterans "except compensation for physical disability limiting the recipient's ability to work."

Funds are Blocked.
General MacArthur told the Nipponese "certain Japanese interests have used unjustified and aggressive war to illegally enrich themselves for many years. You will demonstrate to all Japanese that war is financially unprofitable by insuring that the tax includes the period not only dating from the perilous attack on Pearl Harbor but includes the period to that date to the maximum extent possible."

The directive blocked government funds intended for payment of war allowances to Japanese firms and individuals, on which the war profits tax is levied.

Under the new war profits tax, the supreme commander said, "certain Japanese interests have used unjustified and aggressive war to illegally enrich themselves for many years. You will demonstrate to all Japanese that war is financially unprofitable by insuring that the tax includes the period not only dating from the perilous attack on Pearl Harbor but includes the period to that date to the maximum extent possible."

Generally the tax program contemplates a 100 per cent war profits tax on all war industries and a graduated tax up to 100 per cent on all other corporations and individuals, supplemented by a graduated capital levy up to at least 70 per cent. No Exemptions.

The imperial household is included, since the directive specifies that there must be no exemptions.

The recapture of war profits and the yield will over 100 billion yen, thus providing "the financial basis for the reorganization of government finance toward peaceful ends."

General MacArthur described the directive's termination of all service war lightning the deadweight burden which Japanese militarism forced the rest of the country to Supreme headquarters estimated that the abolition of military pensions would remove a yearly burden of 1.5 billion yen.

The ministry of finance informed the government had assumed war indemnity insurance liabilities totaling 50.3 billion yen, of which 50.3 billion yen has claims for 13.5 war risk insurance and 4.1 billion for cancellation of war contracts.

First Atom-Driven Auto Is Reported in Britain
LONDON.—The Daily Sketch driver an "atomic-powered" engine of London at ordinary speeds. No report in authority could confirm the report.

The newspaper identified the inventor as J. Wilson. It said the vehicle's mechanism consisted of a ratchet in diameter three inches in diameter which had been fitted into the place ordinarily occupied by a gasoline engine. An available stream of atomic energy flowed from the box, the newspaper added. Mr. Wilson has submitted blueprints of his invention to the ministry of fuel, the Daily Sketch said.

Use Jet Buzz-Bomb For Landing Craft

New Twin Fuselage Fighter Plane Is Announced.

LOS ANGELES.—Development of a jet-propelled buzz bomb that could be used aboard landing craft and a twin-fuselage military fighter with a range of 2,500 miles was announced recently by two aircraft firms.

Northrop Aircraft described its buzz bomb as a single jet creation with a 30-foot wingspread, much like a small fighter in appearance, and revealed that it has been making such bombs for the army since the summer of 1944.

Designated the JB1A, it succeeds a twin-jet machine which Northrop built first for the army, patterned after its flying wing.

The company's announcement said it had no information as to how or where the army used the bomb. It added:

Improvements to the launching platform cut the length of the tracks for the airplane's installation on an LST. The backbone of each launching sled is a 14-foot aluminum tube with the bomb resting on cradles within the tube. It is catapulted into the air at 220 miles an hour with the aid of four rockets.

In contrast to the earlier twin-jet craft, which carried its bombs on either side of the engine, the JB1A's explosives are in magnesium cast housings within the wing on either side of the fuselage.

North American Aviation made public details of its P-82 twin Mustang—latest in the series of Mustang fighters which saw action on many war fronts. The company said the P-82 will replace the P-51H on production lines.

The new craft houses a pilot in each fuselage, and, North American's statement says, culminates five years of research. It has a 2,500-mile combat range, carrying full armament. Two 2,200-horsepower, 12-cylinder engines give it speeds in excess of 475 miles an hour, the company added, with efficient operation up to 45,000 feet.

Armament includes six .50-caliber machine guns, which are mounted on the wings.

College Teachers' Origin

CINCINNATI.—Americans from the Midwest, South and East tell way they mind their "p's" and "q's" but their "r's."

At least Miss Ruth Dowden, speech instructor at the University of Cincinnati, says she can spot the way he rolls off his "r's."

A midwesterner is a sure bit, she says. He pronounces all his "r's" alike.

An easterner or southerner gives the "r" the go-by—and "party" becomes "partly." The speaker is pegged an easterner if he clips the "ah" sound short, Miss Dowden explains, and a southerner if he drags it out.

But an easterner also adds "r's" where they aren't needed — like "idea" for "idea."

If "r" gets proper treatment, Miss Dowden says, the person will toss off the "r" in "red" and "strong" one way and the "r" in "very" and "bird" another.

CHEYENNE, WYO.—Next time secretary man gives his stamps, he's going to be more explicit in his directions. He handed her to buy some stamps.

She addressed an envelope to the local postmaster, put the check in it and sent the letter on its way. She explained later that she thought the postmaster "would know what stamps."

Baby Daughter Presented To Rope Skipper Aged 86

DEX MOINES.—Luis Carrizales, 86, who says he keeps in physical trim by skipping rope, chopping wood and chinning himself 40 times a day, is the father of a baby daughter.

His 21-year-old wife gave birth to an 8-pound, 2 1/2-ounce baby to Carrizales, half Cherokee Indian and half Spanish, is the father of seven other children by a previous marriage. He works for a Des Moines threshing company.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Before replacing a broken pitchfork handle or anything similar, rub the end of the new handle for about five minutes. Then the fork is easily driven in.

No squeaks if you make oiling your sewing machine a habit. To oil a sewing machine properly, put the oil on every place where one part rubs against or turns within another.

To restore the gloss of dark furs, rub lightly with a brush which has been dipped in brilliantine.

Even an old funnel can be glamorous. Paint it to match your kitchen color scheme and hang it on the wall as a holder for a ball of twine.

Susie's hair bows will keep their color better if you add a tablespoon of vinegar to the first rinse water when they are washed.

To remove old glue from furniture easily and quickly, wash it off with hot vinegar. Let wood dry thoroughly before applying fresh glue.

Freeze, Can or Cure Meat for Varied Farm Menus

Bernice Knutes, left, slices a round of partially thawed sausage for dinner. All seasonings except the salt were added before the meat was frozen. Bernice is a 4-H girl in Platte county, Neb.

In preparation for storage in a freezer locker, this 1-meal piece of meat is wrapped in moisture-vapor-proof paper and inserted in an elastic stockinette which will be tied shut at both ends.

Cured salt pork can be sliced and fried, then combined with slices of apple and cooked sweet potato.

ALTHOUGH fall is still the popular season for butchering, freezer-locker facilities make it possible to store meat for a month, according to Marjorie Griffin, Rural Home Editor of Capper's Farmer. "Farm homemakers like to use their home freezers and freezer lockers to hold beef, pork, lamb, poultry at its best until needed," she writes in the magazine read by 1,250,000 farm families. "The old standby methods of curing and canning meat continue to be used. A plan often followed is to freeze tender cuts from rib and loin; can shoulders, shanks and tender cuts; cure sides and hams of pork and the inside round of beef. Young chickens are frequently frozen; hens may be canned. Poultry should be frozen before freezing." The length of time meat can be frozen successfully depends on the temperature at the points cut. It would be kept at 0° F. or lower. In general sausage and ground meat can be frozen for 3 to 6 months; fresh pork, veal and lamb from 3 to 6 months; beef and lamb 6 to 12 months.

WHAT MAKES A PEOPLE GREAT - RELIGION IN THE HOME

LESSON TEXT: Deuteronomy 6:4-12. MEMORY SELECTION: Every day will I bless thee...

Home, church, school and the state--these are the four institutions which determine the greatness of a people...

What a child becomes under the nurture of the home will determine his interest in the church...

The religious life of the home is the most important element of its activity...

I. Worship (cv. 4, 5).

Twice a day the orthodox Jew repeats the words of these verses; namely, at the time of prayer, morning and night...

So important is the complete devotion of man--and that brings in the whole family--to God that when Jesus was asked what was the greatest of all commandments...

It instructs (cv. 6-9).

It was not enough that these words should be repeated in a home regularly or formally in church...

But our vital point is this--it is the business of the home to teach and to religion, to do regular and natural part of daily life.

This is a matter of great significance. The faith which we profess in the church must be effectively brought into the home...

The family altar has gradually disappeared, and it is regrettable that it has, for the testimony of generations indicates...

III. Remembrance (cv. 10-12). Israel had a history full of the magnificent mercies of God.

There are few, if any, more powerful incentives to faith and courageous living than the remembrance of past blessings.

possess good judgment and discernment and know when and where and how to use force and arms in enforcing the laws of the state. These means should be used sparingly and not at all if possible to avoid them. At the same time, should their use become necessary, the sheriff should not hesitate to use all means at his command to combat crime.

I have had several years experience as an officer of the law and I believe I am old enough and have judgment and experience enough to fill the office easily and to your entire satisfaction.

I am 36 years old, married and own and maintain my home in Gorman and have spent my entire life in Eastland County, with the exception of the time I served in the Navy during the war. I was born near Gorman in 1910, where my father, R. B. Williams, lived from 1900 to the time of his death in 1943.

If elected, I pledge a strict enforcement of all the laws and a faithful observance of their man-purpose to make an honest and shall try to govern personally and not by influence. I will ask a careful study of myself and of the office and put your confidence in me.

What should be done in this case is to visit Minnie Traylor to his home in Gorman.

Seatrunk visited Mrs. Buchanan, of Gorman and his mother in law in Dublin Sunday and returned home with them.
