THREE LEAP FROM RUN-AWAY BAG

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Headquarters of the Third Naval District here today sent out a general alarm for a runaway balloon that left the station early this afternoon. Three occupants of the balloon landed safely with parachutes leaving the balloon drifting Northward unmaned at a rapid rate.

Partly Cloudy, But Mighty Hot
The weather forecast for the next twenty-four hours says partly cloudy, continued warm. The temperature at Ballinger registered one hundred at two o'clock today.

FIRST 1921 BALE MARKETED HERE

The Cemetery Association received a nice contribution Friday when Mike C. Boyd purchased the first bale of cotton brought to market here this season and immediately ordered same resold and the proceeds turned over to the Cemetery Association.

The cotton was raised on the G. H. Dierschke farm ten miles South of Ballinger, and comes on the local market earlier than usual. The bale arrived here from the farm early Friday morning, the seed cotton weighing 1570 and turned out a 565 pound bale, ginned by the Day gin.

The wagon containing the bale of cotton was parked near the curb in front of the First National Bank and about two o'clock Farm Agent Eaton mounted the wagon and sold the cotton to the highest bidder. About a half dozen local buyers bid on the cotton and the bale was knocked off to Mike Boyd on a 14:25 bid. Mr. Boyd immediately instructed Mr. Eaton to resell the bale and give the proceeds to the Cemetery Association. Bidding was a little faster on the second sale, but the cotton went at the same price—14:25 to W. L. Golden.

Mr. Boyd writes a check to Mr. Dierschke for the cotton, and Mr. Golden writes a check to the Cemetery Association.

Dierschke stated that he picked over fifty acres to get the bale and that he estimated that he would make about twenty bales off of 150 acres or it would, require about eight acres to yield a bale. He said that he had two more bales open, and that unless it rained in a few days the entire crop would be opened and picked before the first of September.

The crop in the Southern part of the country is maturing fast, or at least is burning fast, and immature bolls are popping open. The crop will be ready to pick and will be out of the way early this fall, unless it should begin raining and a second growth develop.

Mr. Eaton went out after selling the bale and in a short time raised a nice premium for the first bale marketed here. He was busy raising the premium when The Ledger went to press, which with the price paid for the cotton will make the bale bring Mr. Dierschke considerable over $100.

Hero Laid to Rest with Military Honors; Large Crowd

With all business in Ballinger suspended, at least two thousand people gathered on the court house park, Thursday afternoon to pay a tribute of honor to the memory of Pat C. Williams, who fell on the battlefields of France.

The crowd began to gather one hour before the remains were removed from the home of the parents of deceased on Ninth street, where they had lay in state since arriving here the day before, to the place where the funeral services were held, and with bowed heads the large crowd solemnly stood throughout the impressive ceremonies.

Under the command of Capt. F. M. Pearce, more than one hundred ex-service men, soldiers, sailors and marines, some in uniforms and some in their civilian clothes, assembled in the park and formed in line. Following the band the legionnaires marched to the residence and escorted the remains to the park where they were placed in the pavilion and surrounded by the relatives and friends, the speakers paid a beautiful tribute to the memory of the young man who sacrificed his life for American liberty.

After the remains had been placed in the pavilion the Baptist choir sang a hymn. Dr. Alvin Swindell, pastor of the Baptist church made a short talk, and read a brief biography of the outstanding facts of the life of the deceased. Dr. Swindell first stated that the occasion had brought the people together in military, civil and religious capacity, and it was with deepened sadness that such a meeting had been called, "but there is a great comfort which comes to us all," said Dr. Swindell, "in having the body of one whom we all loved with us and having the great privilege to perform these last rites and laying the body away to rest in our native land."

Dr. Swindell read a paper which referred to Pat Williams' life, and which was written and read by a friend at a former memorial service held in his honor.

The paper read stated that Pat Williams was born in Gonzales county, Texas, on August 24th, 1895, and was at the time of his death 23 years, one month and nineteen days old. He came to Ballinger with his parents in 1905 when he was about ten years old and lived here up to the time he enlisted in the cause for which he gave his life.

On July 17th, 1917, Pat volunteered for service and joined the Texas National Guards, becoming a member of Company H, which organized at San Angelo. He was immediately given the office of sergeant and served in that capacity until he fell on the battlefield. At the time of his death he had been recommended for promotion.

The troops composing Company H, were held at San Angelo for two or three weeks and then transferred to Camp Bowie for training. Many friends in Ballinger will remember seeing Pat for the last time when the special train carrying the troops to Camp Bowie passed through Ballinger. All business houses closed and friends gathered at the station to say good bye for the last time. Pat waved a last farewell from the train as it pulled out from the local station on Sept 19th, 1917.

After training through the winter of '17 and '18 at Camp Bowie Pat Williams was ordered overseas and sailed from New York on July 18, 1918 just a year and one day from the time he enlisted, becoming a member of the famous Thirty-six Division.

Arriving overseas, Pat's company was immediately ordered to training behind the battle lines and were ordered into action on July 8th, 1918. After five days of hard fighting he was killed.

Dr. Swindell paid a beautiful tribute to the consistent Christian life Segt. Williams lived after he was converted in a revival here, telling of his devotion to his church and Sunday school work.

Rev. Bion W. Adkins, for six years pastor of the Williams family, and who is now pastor of the Baptist church at Hobart, Okla., delivered the funeral message. Rev. Adkins divided his message into two parts, speaking first a long patriotic lines and closing with the religious lessons contained in the life of the soldier hero and the cause for which he died.

Rev. Adkins appealed to the large crowd, and addressing himself more particular to the American Legion members, urged them to keep the object for which they fought and for which their fellow soldiers died ever before them. Magnify the moral worth of the great lesson taught us by the war, and love our country more as the example given us by the life of Pat Williams.

The speaker paid a beautiful tribute to the dead soldiers and the ex-service men who threw up a "living wall" between anarchy and American liberty. He referred to the religious life of Pat Williams, and the great motive which prompted him to lay down his life for his country.

Dr. Swindell offered a prayer, and the choir sang, "We Shall Gather at the River."

By far the longest funeral procession ever formed here followed the remains of Pat Williams to Evergreen Cemetery, where they were laid to rest with military honors. Nearly two hundred autos, carrying sorrowing friends followed more than one hundred ex-service men who formed in line and proceeded to the cemetery.

The firing squad of the American Legion Post from Eden participated in the funeral services, and many legionnaires from neighboring towns were here.

The large floral offerings which were sent to the home where the remains lay in state partially attested to the high esteem in which Pat Williams was held, and served as a token of appreciation for the life of such a young man.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Williams sympathize with them in their sorrow, and at the same time rejoice with them in the privilege of having their son's remains returned to them and laid to rest in his native land.

This was the first military funeral held in this city, and the first in which the local post of American Legion had participated, and the successful way in which it was conducted was the occasion of much commendation for those who had it in charge. Troy Simpson, post commander of the local American Legion Post, which was named for the soldier whom the legionnaires were laying away, as well as those who assisted in the funeral arrangements, deserve credit for the successful way in which the funeral was handled.

The pall bearers were Diaz Wood, Bill Holland, Carl Jeanes, George Smith, L. Cohen and Will Mountz.

FOUR DIE IN NEW YORK FIRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Four children were buried to death and seven other persons were seriously injured early this morning, in a fire which swept three tenement houses in Bronx. The fire started on the top floor of the building and quickly spread to the adjoining tenements.

When the firemen reached the scene, they found more than a score of panic-stricken women and children crowded before the windows crying for help. Aerial ladders were run up to the windows and the scantily clad women and children were brought safely to the ground.

BANDITS GET MONEY ROBBERY

DURANT, Okla., Aug. 5.—Robbers last night dug under the walls and into the vault of the Farmers & Merchants Bank at Achille, South of here, and escaped with an unknown amount of money and bonds. A posse headed by officers are searching for the robbers.

HACKENSACK, N. J., Aug. 5.—The county prosecutor's office here today was notified that six armed bandits held up the pay master of the Barrett Manufacturing Co., at Shadyside, about eleven o'clock this morning and escaped with the pay roll amounting to nearly $50,000. The paymaster was accompanied by five guards and were traveling in an automobile when the hold up occurred, the hi-jackers stepping in the road and getting the drop on the guards, forced them to disarm and step aside while the robbers got the money and guns and made their escape in a high power car.

ANOTHER IRISH PEACE MEETING

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Another meeting of the Ulster cabinet will be called to discuss the Irish peace negotiations, was the announcement made today in London, although it is reiterated in Belfast. No message was received there from Eamond De Valera, who is in London.

It was added that no overtures would be entertained which would diminish the powers in the Northern parliament. Nevertheless the imperial government continued optimistic regarding the outcome, if it can get the opposing leaders together for a conference.

THE CHATAUQUA COM. IS NAMED

If the music lovers and the show going people of this city do their duty the citizens who placed their names on the dotted line to bring a three days chautauqua program here this summer, will not have to dig up. If the people of Ballinger do not do their duty the committee will not only have to work like smoke to put the proposition over, but will have to go down in their pockets and dig up the guarantee money.

Miss Ethel Abbott, advance representative of the Radeliffe Chautauqua System, met with a number of the guarantee committee Thursday night, and organized the committee for the coming entertainment which will be staged here on Aug. 18, 19 and 20.

Following are the names of the various committees:

Chairman, E. D. Walker; Secy. Treas. W. C. McConver; Tickets R. E. George, Advertising, A. W. Sledge; Decorations, Miss Melva Walker; Junior Work, Miss Fannie Wilmeth; Tent, D. F. Eaton.

There are fifty names on the guarantee, but two of those have moved away, leaving forty-eight to get behind the proposition and help put it over.

The program is an unusually good one this year, and the tent should be packed for each performance. Season tickets for the six attractions will be sold for $2 each, and a committee is being perfected to handle the season ticket sale.

U. G. Thomas, of the M country, had business in Ballinger Friday.

PEN. AND SCHOOL BILLS OFFERED

AUSTIN, Aug. 5.—Governor Neff's refusal yesterday to submit matters to the legislature which were recommended in the penitentiary investigation committee's report does not necessarily mean that the laws recommended by the committee can not be considered at this session, according to Senator Hertzberg. Mr. Hertzberg is preparing a bill creating a board of advisors as recommended in the report, the board to be composed of the lieutenant governor, the speaker of the house and the land commissioner.

AUSTIN, Aug. 5.—A bill was introduced in the senate today by Williams and other members of the penitentiary investigating committee, providing for the specific method of removal of prison commissioners by filing suit against them in Waller county, or county where the residence of the defendant is located.

AUSTIN, Aug. 5.—Two resolutions concerning the university were introduced in the House today. One by representative Hard in proposing that the House favor a resolution at the next regular session amending the constitution so that adequate source of revenue for the university be fixed. By this means it proposes to take from the legislature the authority to provide for the institution and thus freeing it from politics. The resolution was referred to the constitutional amendment committee.

Ballinger is going to have a "she-talker."

Did you ever notice that it refuses to rain when we need it the most?

State Health Officer Carrick became riled up because a "stranger in a black hat" tried to give him $1800. Some people are easy to make mad.

A former Ballinger Citizen moved to Ireland to get away from the "drouth" and now he writes back that Ireland is experiencing the worst drouth in one hundred years.

Since saloons have been voted out of the U. S. perhaps the members of the senate feel that the anti-saloon league is a waste of motion, hence the head of the league was invited off the floor of the senate.

It appears ridiculously strange that the law makers should be asked to pass a law enforcement law, or a law to enforce the law. What Texas is suffering for is law enforcement officers. Give us that and the Ku Klux would lose its job.

Secretary Mellon says government expenses must be put down or taxes put up. Uncle Sam can come nearer keeping peace in his family by placing his living on a cheaper scale. People have been paying taxes liberally for the past few years, and of course can be forced to dig deeper, but the wiser plan would be to cut expenses.

DRY IN IRELAND

Uncle Johnny Fox was in the city Thursday from Pony Creek to attend the funeral of Pat Williams, and informed the editor of The Ledger that he had just received a letter from Godfrey Massey, and that Mr. Massey stated in his letter that Ireland was experiencing the worst drouth in more than one hundred years. Mr. Massey was formerly in the cattle raising business in Concho county, and made Ballinger headquarters, living in this city prior to moving back to his native country. He writes that he is engaged in stock raising in Ireland, but fortunately he was not overstocked when the drouth struck the country and he is getting by in much better shape than other stockmen in Ireland who were caught with more stock on hand than they can take care of.

Same Old Story But a Good One

Mrs. Mahala Burns, Savanna, Mo., relates an experience, the like of which has happened in almost every neighborhood in this country, and has been told and related by thousands of others as follows: "I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy about nine years ago and it cured me of flux (dysentery). I had another attack of the same complaint three or four years ago and a few doses of this remedy cured me. I have recommended it to dozens of people since I first used it and shall continue to do so for I know it is a quick and positive cure for bowel troubles."

D. E. Sims and Mrs. Sims were over from Paint Rock Thursday to attend the Pat Williams funeral.

HUMOR AND PATHOS HAPPILY BLENDED IN "THE ROUND UP"

Rosecoe Arbuckle, long a favorite in short comedies, makes his bow as the star in feature pictures as "Slim Hoover, the fat sheriff, in George Melford's production producing of "The Round Up" for Paramount, which will be shown at the Maeroy Theatre tonight. In it he has a role which not only offers him every opportunity for the expression of his individual type of humor, but presents him as an actor of varied talents hitherto unsuspected by his admirers.

"The Round Up" written by Edmund Day, was produced in New York in August 1907. A highly dramatic story of Indians and rough and ready plainsmen, the big scene of the stage play was a battle in a narrow Arizona canyon. In the screen version, this scene, staged in natural surroundings with hundreds of Indians, frontiersmen and soldiers, gains tremendously in its melodramatic appeal.

Supporting Mr. Arbuckle is an unusual cast which includes Tom Forman, who also wrote the scenario for "The Round Up," Mable Jullienne Scott, Irving Cummings, Wallace Beery, Jane Acker, Edward Sutherland, Guy Oliver, Lucien Littlefield and Jane Wolf.

NO SUNDAY BALL FOR BEARCATS

"We refuse to play Sunday baseball at Abilene next Sunday," said John Weeks, president of the club. Mr. Weeks stated that the Sunday game had been offered to Ballinger, but as long as he had anything to do with the Bearcats they would not play Sunday baseball at home or on the road. Abilene recently decided to lay Sunday baseball, claiming that the Sunday game was necessary to meet expenses of the club. "If Ballinger can't finance her club without Sunday baseball we will cut out the club," said Mr. Weeks. We understand that a majority of the players of the Ballinger club are opposed to Sunday baseball. They want to keep the game on that plane where it will receive the support of all the people, and we believe that Ballinger fans will give them better support for their stand against Sunday games.

MULE DRAGS A BOY TO DEATH

COLEMAN, Aug. 4.—Cecil Cliff Ford, 12 year old farm boy of Silver Valley, was dragged to his death today when he became entangled in a long rope with which he was leading a mule to pasture on the I. P. Burroughs farm, where his parents reside. The lad's body was badly mangled and was recovered only after the animal had been given a frantic chase over the farm, finally being corralled in the barn lot. Parents of the boy and the whole community where the family reside are grief stricken at the horrible tragedy.

After the lad had been gone from the house longer than his parents thought necessary for him to make the trip to the pasture and back, a member of the family was sent out to look for him. The mule was soon discovered running about the farm with the lifeless form of the lad dragging near the animal's heels.
