Sudan Hornettes Play For State Champions

Sudan is riding high this weekend, as both the Sunday Hornets and Hornettes are in the state playoffs for the 1986-87 basketball season. Friday morning, the Hornettes handily defeated the Roscoe Plogirls 50-39 to win the playoff berth against Moulton for the State 1A championship title on Saturday morning. It was Sudan all the way, as the Plogirls failed to wear out a powerful Joann Wooley, and lost out on a chance to gain the championship playoffs. Ironically enough, Sudan got off to a very slow start, and allowed Roscoe, in the playoffs for the first time, to score first from a tip-in at the basket from Donna Kay Aiken. Melissa Nix started off Sudan's scoring with a 20-foot jump shot with 6:32 left in the first stanza, and from there, it was Sudan-Sudan-Sudan. They quickly added a string of points, adding up to 10, and with 2:24 left in the first, Wooley and Krista Kirkland had widened that edge to 10-2. At 58-seconds of the first, Roscoe's Myra Richburg added two, making the quarter-score 10-4.

Krista Kirkland added four long shots in the second quarter, with more points by Wooley and had widened their lead to 28-13 at halftime in the crucial game.

At the end of the third, Sudan's Hornettes had stretched their lead to 40-18.

In the fourth, the Plogirls outscored the Hornettes, 21-10 to narrow the Hornettes' lead, but to no avail, as the Hornettes held onto their easy victory.

Krista Kirkland led all scoring with 20 points, making 50 percent of her shots from the field at 10 for 20.

The win brought Sudan to 32-3 for the season, and Roscoe closed out at 27-7.

He also said the date to appeal your program eligibility has been extended through March 9, 1987.

PAYMENT LIMITATIONS

Senior Citizens To Enjoy New Social, Meeting Place

Nearly four years ago, a committee was formed to help save the old Santa Fe Depot and find a permanent location for it in Muleshoe. Now, the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation has worked long and diligently on a project that is nearing completion...and the end is in sight. At this time, the Santa Fe Depot is becoming attractive and functional, and almost ready for its new venture -- that of a Senior Citizens Center. At the time the Depot was moved, it had been unused for several years, and now, it has received a noticeable face lift.

Once a ticket office, the large room is called the Gwyn room, dedicated to the memory of the late Byron Gwyn. Velma Gwyn and her daughter, Joyce Walker and her family, have completely renovated and furnished the room in a comfortable and attractive reception area.

It has been painted a soft gray and some structural changes have been made. Ceiling fans will soon be installed, along with gray carpeting.

What was the freight platform at one time is being changed into a dining room to accommodate 8-10 tables. At this time, the Heritage Foundation is seeking donations of tables and chairs, which are badly needed, said Jenne McVicker. During their recent meeting, the AARP voted to purchase a table for the dining room. Several other organizations have also expressed a desire to assist.

During the past week, the kitchen will be on the way to being finished, when oak cabinets will be installed and appliances, donated by Poynor's, will be added.

Mrs. McVicker said lots of volunteers have aided with their expertise and time to get the

First Open Container Legislation Proposed

Sen. Bill Sarpalius and Rep. Bill Blackwood today announced the filing of legislation aimed at giving Texas its first-ever open container law.

Sarpalius, D-Canyon, this morning filed Senate Bill 521, which would make it illegal to open-containers of alcohol while driving a motor vehicle. Blackwood, who earlier filed open-container legislation as House Bill 374, said he would incorporate S.B. 521's language into H.B. 374.

Both men said they were "absolutely confident" this open container bill would become law.

"This is going to be our third straight session now to carry an open container bill. We've been getting a little closer each time, and this time we'll get it passed; I'm sure of it," Sarpalius said in a statement read at a news conference announcing the filing of the legislation.

"Texans are ready for an open-container law, and this will be the year they get one," Blackwood, R-Mesquite, said at the news conference. "We're absolutely confident of it."

Sarpalius and Blackwood said they had high hopes for this year's legislation because Sarpalius' last two attempts at passing an open container law had focused attention on the problems associated with drinking while driving.

"When you've got statistics that show a significant percentage about (about 15 percent) of all highway fatalities involve open containers, than it's clear there's a problem out there," Sarpalius said. "Each time we've pushed this issue more and more people have become aware of Texas' open container problem."

Blackwood agreed, saying, "By now, I think it's clear to everyone that Texas needs an open container law. We've found very little resistance to our bill from any group or organization."

Sarpalius first carried an open container bill in 1983, when most thought such legislation would not be accorded a committee hearing. The senator surprised the experts by actually passing his bill out of the Senate State Affairs Committee and coming within two or three votes of passing it out of the entire Senate.

He followed that attempt with another in 1985 and that year passed his open container bill out of the Senate. The measure died in the House.

The language in S.B. 521 and H.B. 374 is similar to that in Sarpalius' 1985 bill. The prohibitions in the legislation apply only to the driver. New language has been added to insure no one could be cited for an open container violation as a result of police harassment.

"What we've come up with is a bill everyone probably can agree to," Blackwood said. "The probable-cause language that protects against potential harassment should remove the remaining objections on the House side."

Sarpalius said he also believes the open container concept has been refined to the point where the best possible bill now has been introduced.

"We've worked with all interested parties on this bill, listened to their suggestions and complaints and—where reasonable—tried to work those complaints into the bill," the senator said. "What we've come up with is a bill that is tough and enforceable, but fair to everyone involved."

"Most important of all," Sarpalius said, "we've written a bill that will give Texas its long-overdue open container law and make sure the state is completely serious about stopping drunk driving."

Joining Blackwood at today's news conference were Pam Busfield of Austin, state president of Mothers Against Drunk Driving MADD; Milo Kirk, Dallas, MADD legislative coordinator; Major George King, officer, Texas Department of Public Safety; and other supporters of S.B. 521 and H.B. 374.

Mrs. Kirk read Sarpalius' statement at the news conference. The senator still is in Canyon, recuperating from a serious back injury suffered during the Christmas holidays.

Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Acres has some more thoughts on Congressional pay.

Dear editor:

There's been quite a lot of discussion, or maybe I should say outrage, over the salary raise Congress manipulated itself into.

Congress, which on special occasions such as this can hear the voice of the people even over the voice of lobbyists, has begun squirming a little as letters poured in asking why a member thinks he should get a raise from $77,000 a year to $89,000.

One leader, trying to quieten the outcry, suggested that the voters back in a Congressman's home district should be allowed to decide what his salary ought to be. After all, they're footing the bill.

This sounded like a good idea. Aren't lots of people, like car company executives and college coaches and players paid on the basis of what they can produce?

But then the leader explained what he meant was the home folks should decide only where a Congressman's salary should be between $77,000 and $89,000. Should he get $77,000 and 50 cents, or $85,000 or any figure between the lower and the higher amount?

This spoils the whole idea. I thought he was suggesting the voters could decide what a Congressman is worth, regard-

March is traditionally the windy month, with flying kites and skirts, which old and young notice in their respective leagues.

Youngsters should be cautioned to avoid electric power lines, especially against using wire or cord with tinsel wound into it; each year serious accidents occur because of carelessness on this point.

Creative Living

by Sheryl Borden

Information on entertaining ideas, making string art projects, and a demonstration of diet spice recipes will be presented on Creative Living on Tuesday, March 10 at 12 noon and repeated on Saturday, March 14 at 2:00 pm on KENW-TV. (All times are Mountain).

Dian Thomas appears regularly on The Today Show and is an advocate of fun, food and innovative creations and always has such interesting tips for easy living. Her ideas and suggestions will center around special occasion entertaining. Some of the ideas are geared to specific holidays, but all of them can be adapted to fit entertaining needs anytime during the year. Dian is a home economist, a former home ec teacher and is now a recognized television personality. She lives in Salt Lake City UT.

Mike Kelly is another guest on the show. Mike is a former physicist with a major steel company, and he now runs a very successful mail order craft business. Several years ago when string art was so popular, Mike became interested in designing the patterns for string art, and today he will show how to use these patterns to create some beautiful string art wall hangings. Mike is from Cincinnati, OH.

Sally Gilbert is with the American Spice Trade Association. Spices are as low in calories, sodium and fat that they're perfect for seasoning all sorts of diet dishes. Ms. Gilbert will show how to prepare luscious, low-calorie Orange Sauced Chicken with Apples and will also make a no-salt herb blend for use at the table.

Due to the Festival Pledge Drive, Creative Living will not be seen on Tuesday, March 10 or 17th at 9:30 pm., but will return at the regular time on Tuesday, March 24.

Two additional topics will be featured on the show on Thursday, March 12 at 12 noon. Eating "low" is in vogue today. Americans are interested in low-calorie, low-sodium, low-sugar or low-cholesterol diets. Statistics show that we still need to be educated on ways to have delicious, but healthful meals. Connie Moyers, Marketing Home Economist with Southwestern Public Service Co.

in Clovis is going to discuss this topic and share some recipes with us.

Clothes aren't what they used to be! Those bright colors, synthetic fibers, knitted fabrics and permanent press finishes have added another dimension to not only our wardrobes, but to the laundry process. ## Young Health

Helpful Advice from the American Academy of Pediatrics

Teaching Your Child Good TV Habits

The average American child watches three to five hours of television every day. By the time of high school graduation, most children have spent more time in front of the TV than in the classroom.

Because television is such a pervasive influence in a child's development, it is important to know that the potentially negative effects of television can be overcome.

To help your children get the most from television, the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) has developed the following guidelines:

- Set limits. Know how much TV your child watches, and don't be afraid to reduce this time. Many children won't easily give up TV watching, but the AAP recommends that parents limit and guide their children's viewing to one or two hours a day.

- Plan viewing in advance. Don't let your children become "indiscriminate dial turners." Approach TV as you would a movie. Use a TV guide or newspaper to decide which show to see. Turn the set on for that program only, and turn the set off and discuss the program when it's over.

- Don't use TV to reward or punish your children. Practices like this make TV seem even more important to them.

The Super Guard Light protects you all night for pennies a day.

The high pressure sodium light bathes your yard and buildings in a golden glow to protect your property from theft and vandalism. Its 150-foot diameter of light discourages trespassers. The Super Guard Light comes on automatically at dusk and turns itself off at dawn. So you only pay for its protection when you need it.

No installation or maintenance costs. You pay only the very reasonable rental fee that appears on your light bill. SPS takes care of the installation, the maintenance and furnishes the electricity. Get the protection of a Super Guard Light. Contact your SPS office or ask any SPS employee.

Afternoon Ceremony Unites Miss Julia Shain, Diebold

Miss Julia Shain became the bride of Michael Patrick Diebold at 2 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 14th in the All Faiths Chapel on the campus of Texas A&M University. Kenneth Wilkey of the A&M Church of Christ read the double ring vows, which were written by the couple.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shain of Muleshoe, Mrs. Carol Diebold of Chicago, Illinois and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Diebold of Washington, DC.

Vows were exchanged before two-seven branch candelabras accented with fresh greenery and white tapers. On the altar was a silk floral arrangement of red roses, white flowers and lilly-of-the-valley. The arrangement contained three candles for the unity candle.

The pews were marked with white candle rings of white roses and various white flowers with accents of small red roses. Red bows hung from the rings.

Grace Walker of College Station, organist, accompanied Larry Whitlock of College Station, soloist, as he sang "Here Is Love", "Sun Rise, Sun Set", "Faithful and True", and "One Hand, One Heart".

Given in marriage by her mother and father and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a tea length wedding gown of white all-over re-embroidered Chantilly lace over satin fashioned with a full skirt falling from a drooped "V" waistline and ending in a hemline of scalloped silk Venice lace. The same lace was repeated at the wrist of the long fitted sleeves and at the high neckline. There were scattered pearls on the bodice.

Her matching white hat had a brim of Chantilly lace accented with pearls. Her fingertip veil fell from a puff of illusion at the back of brim. Red silk flowers under the brim, carried out the Valentine theme.

Her bridal bouquet contained seven red roses and three gardenias arranged in a teardrop shape with a background of ivy leaves. In addition, the bouquet contained lilly-of-the-valley and red ribbon streamers. As part of the bouquet, a handkerchief made by the bride's grandmother, who passed away six months after the bride's birth. The handkerchief was carried as something old. Pinned into the handkerchief was the bride's fathers' Air Force Blue tie tack of a F102 Airplane.

Something new was her wedding gown, something borrowed was her mother's pear drop earrings, something blue was her dad's tie back.

Janet Shain of Commerce served as her sister's maid of honor. She wore a tea length dress of red lace over satin with scallops at the hemline and the dropped to just the elbow sleeves. A lace ruffle accented the shoulders. The scalloped lace was repeated over the sweetheart neckline of satin. She wore red silk flowers in her hair.

Dan Diebold, brother of the groom, of Madison, Wisconsin served as best man. Ushers were Steve Diebold of Chicago, Illinois and Bruce Diebold of Urbana, Illinois, brothers of the groom.

Before the mothers of the couple were seated they each lit a candle in the unity candle. After the exchanging of vows, the couple lit the unity candle. After being presented as Mr. and Mrs. Mike Diebold the couple exited as "The Wedding March" from Midseemners Night's Dream was played.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the AggieLand Inn, College Station.

After a wedding trip to Barbados (Caribbean Island) the couple will make their home in College Station.

Both the bride and groom are finishing graduate degrees in chemistry at Texas A&M University. Diebold has a post doctoral at Cambridge University, England. The couple will spend a year at Cambridge, beginning in the fall.

Out of town wedding guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shain, parents of the bride, of Muleshoe; Janet Shain, sister of the bride, of Commerce; Mrs. Ursula Shain, grandmother of the bride, of Morgantown, KY;

Mrs. Carol Diebold, mother of the groom, of Chicago; Mrs. Gtrude Cooper, grandmother of the groom, of Ft. Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Robertson, cousin of the groom, of Ft. Worth; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Diebold, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Diebold, father of the groom, of Washington, DC.

Also, Dan Diebold of Madison, WI, Steve Diebold of Chicago, IL and Bruce Diebold of Urbana, IL, all brothers of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Diebold, grandparents of the groom, of Los Lumas, NM.

Lamesa Resident Still Going Strong At 107

One of Lamesa's oldest citizens, Mrs. Rhoda Carter Freeman, attributes her longevity to her good Christian life and clean living. "I never talked ugly to anyone and never did say curse words and I didn't like anyone I knew to use that kind of language. That's not the way nice people should talk."

Mrs. Freeman was born August 29, 1879, in Parker County, near Weatherford and was one of 18 children born to John Wesley Carter and wife, Angeline, who were also born in the same area.

Her great grandparents all lived and died in Parker County, making her a member of the fourth generation of her family living in the Weatherford vicinity. When she attended her school reunion in 1982, at the age of 103, she received an award for being the oldest person present.

She married James C. Freeman, a school teacher from a pioneer family, on July 9, 1899, and they had six children.

The Freemans moved to Dawson County in January of 1923, and began farming. Her husband also taught school in Martin County at the Pleasant Valley Country School.

"We moved into town in the early 1950's and the kids started marrying and moving away. After my husband's death, I remained in our home by myself and I intend to stay as long as I can," she said. And, at the age of 107, she still lives alone, eventhough someone stays with her at night, she still spends the days alone at home and does her own cooking and cleaning. Mrs. Freeman said that she has been lucky and had excellent health. She bragged about how seldom she has to visit the doctor's office and has bypassed any major health problems.

Mrs. Freeman enjoyed the horse and buggy days and said T.V. and a lot of other fancy inventions were useless to her. She made her first and only airplane trip to California, to visit a daughter, when she was 104 years old. The pilot, who found out her age, announced it over the speaker. She said that she had a wonderful time.

Even though her eyes will no longer allow her to read, she enjoys visiting over the telephone and going to the beauty shop as well as talking with her neighbors.

Mrs. Freeman and her children left Parker County in 1922, and moved to Lamesa, where she has resided since. Last August on her 107th birthday, she received a certificate of appreciation from the Lamesa Mayor Don Bethel.

"Mrs. Freeman is a gem. She didn't grow to be large in stature but her good works and positive attitude have made her a giant in her community and Lamesa is indeed lucky to have had her for the last 60 years."

Local Teachers

Attend Annual

State Convention

Two local teachers, Dickie and Ginger Reedy, were among the 800 participants who attended the Annual State Convention of the Texas Classroom Teachers Association in Austin Feb. 27-March 1.

The TCTA organization represents 25,000 teachers with the headquarters in Austin.

Those attending the convention heard Gov. Bill Clements give his first major address to an educational group. Participants also had an opportunity to attend mini-conferences on legal and legislative issues, the teacher appraisal process, education reform, the new tax laws, public relations, and stress management.

The Association presented its annual Friend of Education Awards to Land Commissioner, Garry Mauro, and Ray Ellison a San Antonio home builder. Mauro was honored for his involvement in a suit that saved millions in oil and gas royalties for the state's public school system. Ellison was honored for a billboard campaign that praised Texas teachers.

Other award winners honored at the convention were Tommy Brawley of Littlefield; Maudie L. Gilmer of Edinburg; and Jack Gordon Stone of Midland, as TCTA Administrators of the Year and Wendell Huddleston of Lubbock and Dorothy Alderman, of Grand Prairie, as TCTA Retirees' of the Year. Jodi Ann Viator, KCRS-Midland, received the Silver Apple Award for outstanding education media coverage.

"Educators face more complex issues than ever before," commented Eve Jo Kasinger, TCTA State president. "Along with keeping abreast of the latest developments in all areas of education, they must be informed about new laws, regulations and court decisions. They must be able to anticipate changes before they happen".

"By participating in a meeting such as this, we can assure the people of Muleshoe that they have teachers who are committed and dedication to providing the best education possible for the young people of Texas.

A TOUCH OF HISTORY

Railroad Plays Part Establishing Muleshoe

(Editor's Note: The implementation of the railroad helped establish Muleshoe as 'county seat' and a trade center for this area. So, the history of Bailey County continues--)

The Muleshoe station of the Santa Fe Railway opened for business January 9, 1914. The line from Lubbock to Texico was completed and became a part of the Pecos and Northern Texas Railway Company on March 1, 1914.

Surveying of the line started as early as January, 1907, however, it was 1910 before the route was firmly established, and grading was not begun until July, 1912. The laying of track took place between March and November, 1913, and tri-weekly train service started November 14, 1913, between Lubbock and Texico. The next month the Railroad Commission of Texas ordered regular train service as a common carrier, on a tri-weekly basis.

Completion of this segment of the trackage, a portion of the Coleman-Texico cutoff, closed the gap between the lines running to the Gulf of Mexico and those heading to the Pacific Coast. This placed in service the shortest route between Galveston and Los Angeles-San Francisco.

Original plans provided for a railway station at Janes, with private spur at Muleshoe (first spelled Muleshu before being changed to Muleshoe) for E.K. Warren, but this plan was soon abandoned and a townsite was carved out of portions of Sections 39 and 54, lying just south of and adjacent to the rail line. The land was secured from E.K. Warren by warranty deed dated September 29, 1913.

The townsite of Muleshoe, the county seat of Bailey County, was established by the railway company for the purpose of developing the surrounding country, and not as a speculative venture. Lots were very moderately priced to accomplish this development. Muleshoe was named for the Muleshoe Ranch which was owned by Warren and Sons of Three Oaks, Michigan.

A number of lots were donated by the railroad for religious and municipal use, including 12 lots deeded to the Methodist Church July 19, 1920; 24 lots to the Catholic Church on December 30, 1920; 12 lots to the Baptist Church on February 2, 1925, and two blocks to the Town of Muleshoe for parks in 1932.

A number of men have served the Santa Fe as agents at Muleshoe, beginning with M.H. Rees, 1915; W.C. McCalmont, 1916-17; J.F. Haynes, 1919; L.L. Hall, 1920; D.E. Cox, 1921; E. Pavlicek, 1923; J. Cooley, 1924; D.E. Cox, 1925-26; H.A. Eckler, 1927-37; O.B. Carthen, 1938; J.G. Blair, 1938; H.O. Barbour, 1939-57; H.G. Holt, 1958 to date.

Muleshoe is served by two passenger trains daily, No. 75, westbound, leaving at 9:32 a.m. and No. 76, eastbound, departing at 5:11 p.m. Local freight service is provided by Trains Nos. 85-86, westbound on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, eastbound on alternate days. A minimum of four transcontinental freight trains pass through Muleshoe daily, supplemented by intermediate service as may be needed. The Santa Fe Trail Transportation Company, truck-line subsidiary of the railway system, serves Muleshoe with three schedules per day, increasing this to four on Mondays and Thursdays.

The Santa Fe expended and built lines of railway for various reasons-some to serve oil fields, mining deposits and forest areas. Other mileage was built to provide shortcuts, speed service and reduce expenses. Much new construction was intended to develop hitherto railroadless agricultural areas, such as the lines laid down in the Panhandle. This has developed a far-flung system to serve the nation from Chicago to the Gulf and Pacific Coast.

depot to the present stage, and the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation said they deeply appreciate each one who has been so faithful.

"A large number of people in this area are very generous with donations of cash and also useful items which will be needed when the senior citizens start meeting at the depot," said Mrs. McVicker.

During the past weekend, a group of men from Odessa were in Muleshoe to install a heating and air conditioning system, at no labor cost to the Foundation. The Foundation members said they are deeply grateful to this group from Odessa Junior College, and to Norman Wicher, their instructor, who are members of a heating and air conditioning class, for such a good job, and such tremendous service to the people who will use the depot.

A celebrity auction at the Bailey County Civic Center, will be staged May 2. It is promised to be a day of fun, good food and entertainment...and there will be lots of interesting merchandise to place bids on.

A meeting with representatives from all Muleshoe clubs and organizations is planned in the very near future, in order to show the progress made and to discuss plans for the building and the way each club or organization can become involved.

Mrs. McVicker further commented, "It has taken a long time to get the Santa Fe Depot to this stage, with lots and lots of manpower and much meeting and planning of the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation members.

"But, they are proud of the progress to this point, and the complete face lift of the depot. They are also very anxious to complete it so that it can be used and appreciated by all who choose to make use of it," she added.

"If you would like to have part of this exciting project, you may join the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation by contacting any of the members. They want you to become a member and be a part of the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation."

Extension Service Plans For Farm Computer Training

Farmers and ranchers wanting to learn more about using computers as management tools can select from a wide range of computer short courses being conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in the coming months.

Three-day short courses are being conducted throughout the year at the Stiles Farm Computer Training Center at Thrall, about 6 miles east of Taylor on U.S. 79. Cooperating with the Extension Service in this training are the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Department of Agricultural Economics at Texas A&M University.

"The short courses are designed to provide in-depth subject matter training and hands-on microcomputer use of software available from the private sector and Texas A&M," points out Dr. Jim McGrann, economist with the Extension Service and Experiment Station. "Participants also have an opportunity to see ongoing computer applications in a commercial agricultural environment, so this presents a unique learning situation."

Dates and topics of the upcoming short courses are as follows:

Feb. 10-12---Cotton and Grain Marketing Strategies for Texas Farmers

March 5-7---Records and Management Decision Aids for Range Livestock Producers (Low Rainfall Areas)

March 24 - 26---Electronic Spreadsheets and their Use in Agriculture

April 7-9---Beef Cattle Performance and Health Management Records and Analysis, Nutrition and Economic Decision Aids

May 12-14---Advanced Electronic Spreadsheet Development and Applications in Agriculture

July 14-16---Farm and Ranch Accounting

To register for the short courses, contact McGrann with the Department of Agricultural Economics, Texas A&M University, College Station, TX 77843-2124 or call 409-845-1861 or call Jeff Johnson at the Stiles Farm (512-898-2214).

Former Residents' Son May Get Big Scholarship

Bill Holt, a senior at Gerogetown High School, son of Jim and Wanda Holt, and grandson of Clyde and Mary Frances Holt, of Muleshoe, has reached finalist ranking in National Merit Scholarship.

He emerged from a field of approximately one million students who took the preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test in October of his junior year. It was then narrowed to 15,000 in the semi-finalist ranking last fall.

Of the top 6,600 students nationwide, only 10 percent will receive Nationalist Merit Scholarships. Approximately 1,800 will receive one-time scholarships of $2,000, from a fund of $21 million, while the rest will receive greater stipends from the foundation, channeled through the colleges and universities.

Students will learn in April whether they are to receive a scholarship.

Bill plans to attend the University of Chicago, where he will study either physics or literature.

He plays varsity tennis and is a member of National Honor Society; and also participates in UIL literary criticism and science.

Knowledge is of two kinds; we know a subject ourselves, or we know where we can find information upon it. ---Samuel Johnson.

Nursing Home News
by Joy Stancell

Among those visiting Mildred Nieman this week were Chester Kerby of Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Moore and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Clevenger of Floydada.

Ralph Randolph was visited by Neto Crieg of Friona, and Jack and Polly Tunnell.

Inez Allgood was visited by Dr. and Mrs. Homer Allgood, her good friend Polly Tunnell. Mrs. Tunnell made her a very pretty new gown.

Callie Campbell was visited by her daughter, Betty Jo Davis.

Dora Chaney's daughter, Ruth and Mary, hosted a 98th birthday party for Mrs. Chaney in the Nursing Home Day Room Tues. afternoon. Nursing Home residents, the staff, the auxiliary and other friends and visitors enjoyed birthday cake and punch with Mrs. Chaney.

We are so grateful for all the nice and thoughtful things that you do for us. We are so blessed. Muleshoe is a wonderful place. Our thanks to Ruth McCarty for the big platter of home made doughnuts, the Methodist Church for sharing the pretzels with us on Pretzel Sun. The R.E.A. for the honey buns. Damron Drug for the boxes of chocolates. Thank you all so much.

Curtis Shelburne came Fri. afternoon to sing and share bible scripture. He expanded on the "Lord's Prayer".

Our meals are now being served in a different way. Instead of the food being brought to the residents table on a tray- the food cart is brought to the table and the resident is given choices of meat and veg. We are real pleased how this is working out and feel it will go smoother as time goes by. We think it is important that our residents have this choice in choosing what they will eat.

Glenda Dale, Mrs. Vandiver, and Mrs. Merlyn Neel visited the Nursing Home last week. Gil Lamb visited Wed.

Among those visiting Fluff Baldwin this week were Julia Teel and Mavis Rhoton of Portales.

Ora Roberts was visited by Ruby Clark and J.D. Duncan. Ora helped us make snow ice cream Fri. morning. Geniva from Farwell visited Thurs.

Young People All Need 4-H

4-H, the youth program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, is aimed at developing youth through the involvement of parents and other adults who organize and conduct learning experiences in a community setting.

The United States has about 55 million young people between the ages of 5 and 24, but only one out of three of these now belong to or have belonged to any character-building organization, points out Spencer Tanksley, county 4-H program leader with the Extension Service.

4-H is not just for the farm youngster--it's for everyone, says Tanksley. No matter what your child's interests or hobbies, 4-H has a wide range of activities and projects available to meet those interests. These might include photography, gardening, gun safety, energy conservation or housing plus the more familiar livestock, cooking and sewing projects.

4-H is an activity which parents and children can share, and this is what makes 4-H so special, emphasizes Tanksley. 4-H is one of only a few organizations which promote the parent-child relationship.

Other advantages can be gained from becoming a 4-H member. 4-H provides an opportunity for leadership developed by working with and helping younger members on various projects while learning from older members. Also, 4-H presents an opportunity to serve others in the community. 4-H has a strong commitment to service, which should be emphasized when children are young, Tanksley points out.

To learn more about joining the 4-H family, contact the county Extension office.

EPA will allow use of some banned pesticides.

Gigantic Bluegrass Band To Honor Tom T. Hall

Plans are shaping up to assemble what organizers hope to become the World's Largest Bluegrass Band to honor country music artist Tom T. Hall when he visits South Plains College in Levelland, Texas, March 26 for the dedication of a $500,000 recording and production studio in his honor.

Hall, his promoter, and college officials have decided to make history and go for the GUINNESS BOOK OF WORLD RECORDS. "We are inviting anyone who can play banjo, guitar, mandolin, fiddle, string bass, dobro or any other string instrument that is non-electric to join the fun and come pick in the World's Largest Bluegrass Band," said John Hartin, coordinator of South Plains College's two-year program in country and bluegrass music.

Hartin said his department has already mailed invitations to more than 800 former students who have taken classes in country and bluegrass music at the college since 1975 when the program was initiated. "We are getting some response, but our success will rely on the average guitar picker who wants to come pick with us," he said. Plans call for the group to play bluegrass standards "Fox on the Run," "Cripple Creek," and "Foggy Mountain Breakdown."

Tandy Rice, president of Top Billing, the agency which represents Hall, reports that "we're even talking to the 'Father of Bluegrass,' Bill Monroe, about conducting the band."

According to Guinness, the largest marching band had 3,182 musicians, the largest orchestra ever assembled had 20,100 people, and the largest choir had 60,000 singers.

In addition to the bluegrass jam session, a number of other activities are being planned for Tom T. Hall Day in Levelland. The Country and Bluegrass Music program at the college will host a Country and Bluegrass Music Festival and Open House from 1-5 p.m. Highlights will include informal jam sessions by music groups, a performance by the Maines Brothers Band based out of Lubbock, demonstrations of state-of-the-art recording and video production equipment, and mini-workshops presented by noted banjoist Alan Munde and bluegrass specialist Joe Carr. Carr will also direct a session entitled "Meet the Tom T. Hall Band."

A 6 p.m. dedication banquet is planned to honor Hall and dedicate the recording facility in his name. College officials also plan at that time to award Hall and Honorary Associate of Arts degree in Country Music. Only one other person has ever received such a degree from SPC. Monroe received one from the college in 1979 in bluegrass music as part of the PBS special "Bluegrass Spectacular" hosted by Hall.

Tom T. Hall and the Storytellers will perform a concert at 8:30 p.m. in the Tom T. Hall Recording and Production Studio which can seat about 450 people.

Tickets for the banquet and concert are $10 per person and are not on sale at South Plains College in Levelland and at its branch campus in Lubbock, 1302 Main St.
