Bailey County Junior Livestock Show Set

BAILEY COUNTY'S FIRST BABY FOR 1989--A very proud Sam Watkins holds his brother, Tye, just a few hours after he was born at West Plains Medical Center at 2:02 a.m. Wednesday, January 4, to be Bailey County's first baby for 1989. Sam is snuggled beside mother, Richelle Watkins, and looking on with pride is father, Randy Watkins. The newborn and his parents received several nice gifts from local merchants for being the 'star' of 1989. (Journal Photo)

It's almost time for the annual Bailey County Junior Livestock Show, and area 4-H and FFA youngsters are busy getting their animals ready to show.

This year, the show is scheduled for January 19, 20 and 21 at the Bailey County Agricultural and Civic Center Arena and everything officially gets underway on Tuesday, January 17, when sand will be placed on the arena floor.

On Wednesday, beginning at 9 a.m., panels will be set up and pens built to hold the animals.

Check-in time will be 4-8 p.m. on Thursday, January 19, when animals will be checked in and classified.

Then, at 5 p.m. on Friday, January 20, the swine show gets underway. Saturday morning at 9 a.m. will be the sheep show, followed by the cattle show at 1 p.m. The Jimmy Dale Black Showmanship Award will be presented at the end of the cattle show.

Any boy or girl who is a member of 4-H, FFA or FHA whose projects are supervised by the county Extension agent or vocational agriculture teachers of Bailey County and attend school in Bailey County, is eligible to show in the Bailey County Junior Livestock Show. An exhibitor must be nine years of age by the day of the show, or in the third grade, in order to participate in the show.

All animals who have qualified as exhibits must arrive between 4-8 p.m. on January 19 and will be removed at the completion of the show. The only exception will be made by the Division Superintendent for the removal of animals from the show. The show board requests that no exhibitor remove their animals or tack from the building during judging.

Something new in the show this year is that there will be a Junior and Senior Showmanship winner. The three overall winners will compete for a buckle in each of the three divisions -- cattle, swine and sheep.

Also, the Livestock Show Board has made arrangements to purchase a new speaker system which will be installed in the coliseum, not only for the benefit of this event, but also for community-wide events that take place in the future.

This year, judges for the show are Eddie Puckett, ag teacher from Sweetwater, swine; Ron Lamb, County Agent, Silver City, NM, sheep and Jim Jenkins, South Plains College, Levelland, cattle.

Superintendents for the show are Mac Brown, steers (beef); Gaylon Black, lambs and Jim Crawford, swine.

Members of the Grievance Committee are Mac Brown, Gaylon Black, Jim Crawford, Travis Bessire and Donald Harrison.

Travis Bessire is chairman of the Bailey County Junior Livestock Board for the 1989 Stock Show. Other officers include Jack Dunham, vice chairman; Herman Morrison, secretary-treasurer; Lyndon Huckaby, publicity chairman.

High Wind, Smoke Cause Highway 214 Pile-Up

A smoldering pile of cotton burs, stored at the Bermea farm just south of Hub broke into flames in high winds Thursday morning.

Heavy smoke blowing across the highway cut visibility to 0, forcing motorists traveling on SH214 to slow down in the smoke.

One three vehicle accident sent three persons to hospitals in Friona and Muleshoe after a cattle truck slammed into a slow-moving car in the smoke.

After the large cattle truck slammed into the rear of the car, the truck was in turn hit by a pickup pulling a horse trailer.

Responding officers and ambulance personnel found they could not find the wreck in the smoke, and could not breathe without assistance.

The Muleshoe fire department took trucks and Scott Air Paks to the site for the emergency personnel to be able to breathe to administer emergency first aid treatment and remove the wreck victims.

None of the persons injured in the accident received serious injuries.

From late Monday morning until nearly 5 p.m. on Thursday, officers closed Highway 214 in the area of the fire, re-routing traffic to avoid further accidents, while fire departments from several area towns and communities fought the stubborn blaze in wind and whipping sand.

By 7 p.m., firemen reported the fire under control.

FIRE FORCES CLOSING OF HIGHWAY FOR SEVERAL HOURS--After a three vehicle pile-up in heavy smoke near Hub forced the closing of Highway 214 approximately 14 miles north of Muleshoe Thursday morning, firemen were really concentrating on extinguishing blazing cotton burr piles at the Bermea farm. Three injuries were recorded in the fire that sent three injured persons to hospitals in Friona and Muleshoe to be treated. High wind and sand hampered rescue efforts for some time, until Scott Air Paks were taken in for emergency personnel to use. (Journal Photo)

Creative Living

by Sheryl Borden

Information on dinner off the shelf, building your child's decision-making skills, and using aluminum foil in the microwave oven will be presented on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, January 10 at 12 noon and repeated on Saturday, January 14 at 2 p.m. on KENW-TV. (All times are mountain.)

Judith Olney, Canned Food Information Council, Chicago, IL, will demonstrate how to prepare an entire meal using items from the pantry. This not only saves time, but can result in very nutritious meals. Quality and variety have not been sacrificed either. Convenience is still the biggest plus and Judith will explain how we can come home from work and have dinner prepared and ready to serve in just 35 minutes. Dr. Jane Bluestein is with Instructional Support Services in Albuquerque and will talk about how to structure choices for children and explain the rationale behind helping the child make decisions and how this also helps the parents. She will discuss what sorts of decisions are appropriate for different ages and stages in a child's development.

Dr. Jane Bluestein is with Instructional Support Services in Albuquerque and will talk about how to structure choices for children and explain the rationale behind helping the child make decisions and how this also helps the parents. She will discuss what sorts of decisions are appropriate for different ages and stages in a child's development.

The flashback segment will be on using aluminum foil in the microwave oven. Cathy McCree-ry, home economist with Reynolds Metals Co., Dallas, TX will tell and show how to effectively use aluminum foil for shielding, defrosting and even in some microwave cooking processes.

On Tuesday, January 10 at 9:30 pm and on Thursday, January 12 at 12 noon, "Creative Living" will feature segments on using convenience foods and making homemade pita bread.

Bonita Snyder is with Bama Pie, Ltd. in Tulsa, OK and she's going to share a variety of pie recipes and tips which will emphasize quick and easy preparation. All of these recipes makes use of convenience foods, the microwave oven and some easy recipe adaptations. Her demonstration is called "Pronto Pies Plus."

The flashback segment on making homemade pita bread was first aired in 1983 and Bobbye Woodul was the guest. Bobbye will show how to prepare the pita dough, demonstrate cooking and storing the cooked pita bread 'pockets.' Also, she will share a variety of delicious fillings that can be made to eat at home or prepared and taken as a brown bag lunch. Bobbye is from Portales, NM.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden.

The show is carried on more than 100 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico and is distributed by Pacific Mountain Network, Denver, CO. Viewers can request copies of printed materials offered on the show by calling or KENW-TV's toll-free telephone lines between 8 am and 5 pm. Yield: 20 to 24 pitas

PITA BREAD (Syrian Bread)

Yield: 20 to 24 pitas

10 cups all purpose flour
2 pkg. dry yeast
1 Tbsp. sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 Tbsp. vegetable oil
1 Tbsp. softened butter or margarine

Put 1/2 cup lukewarm water in cup and sprinkle with yeast. Let stand a few minutes, then stir off until dissolved. Put remaining ingredients into a very large bowl and add 3 cups warm water and yeast mixture. Beat at low speed until mixed, adding a little more water, if necessary. When a firm dough is formed, turn out on floured board and knead until smooth and elastic, 8 to 10 minutes. NOTE: If you have a heavy duty mixer, let the mixer do the work.

Put in a greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover and let stand in warm, draft free place about 1 hour. Punch down, then on lightly floured surface knead a dozen times to press out air bubbles. Form into a 20 to 24-inch evenly thick roll (pinch off 20 to 24 equal pieces) the size of a small orange; and shape each piece by hand into very smooth ball, smoothing the cut edges to the bottom. Let rest while you cut 24 6 1/2 to 7-inch squares of foil. Put balls of dough on piece of foil and roll to 1/4-inch thickness.

Start at center of ball, which has been flattened by hand, and roll to the edge, about 1/4-inch thick; turn and repeat. Do not roll back and forth and do not stretch dough or it will not puff. Place pita covered foil on baking sheets - 4 to 6 on each sheet. Let rise uncovered. They will be twice the thickness in about 1/2 hour at room temperature.

Bake one sheet at a time in a preheated 450 degree F. oven on the bottom shelf for 8 minutes or until lightly brown or "biscuit color." NOTE: Some will puff out more than others.; To keep pitas soft, pull out and drop into a double large paper bag, crunch top of bag between batches and continue baking 4 to 6 at a time. Let bread cool in paper bag. Place in airtight paper or plastic bags and freeze extra pitas, removing number needed for a meal as needed. Warm in microwave oven or conventional oven for a few seconds. Split and fill with your favorite salad or filling. NOTE: There are no preservatives in this bread and it needs to be frozen and used as needed. Otherwise, it will mold within a few days.

Importance Of Setting Family Financial Goals

If the month lasts longer than your money, a money management system could help reverse your situation. You are not alone in needing to plan more carefully. Gone are the days when income increases enough each year to allow most budgets to balance automatically.

This is the first of a four part series on financial planning and money management.

The first thing you need to do to start your financial planning process is to gather the members of your household together for an open, noncritical discussion about money--feelings, problems, needs and wants. Be sure to discuss long enough to reveal trends in the way everyone feels and thinks about money.

Remember that this is an information gathering session. Your current money management system probably just happened. You can now start putting together a new system in a more organized manner.

Next, think about what you want to achieve. These are your goals. You need to identify both personal and economic goals and objectives and determine priorities among them. Once you have prioritized your goals, you will have completed the first step in improving your money management system. Goals direct your spending and your savings.

When you have finished this task, you have a good start. You will probably be aware that getting control of your money takes time and effort. Do not forget that it also took time and effort to earn money, and if you make it go further, you will, in a sense, be creating more income.

It is important to remember that to have a successful financial plan for your family, you must include all family members in the planning process from the very beginning. This even includes your children. Their wants and needs should be included in this plan also.

To close, let me remind you that you need to have a family discussion about money needs and wants to begin your financial planning process. The next step is to rank order the wants and needs of all family members. Next you must establish your goals and set approximate dates for accomplishing these goals.

The next article in this series will be on the importance of setting up a regular system for saving.

Rebekah Lodge News

Muleshoe Rebekah Lodge No. 114 met Tuesday night, Jan. 3 with 14 members present. Adele Tompkins, acting Noble Grand, was in charge of the meeting. Opening prayer was given by Pat Langfitt and the flags were presented by Sandi Robinson and Terrie Snell.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by June Green and they were approved as read. Ina Wilemon gave the treasurer's report and it was also approved.

"We were glad to hear that Audrey Langfitt continues to improve" said Adele Tompkins. "We hope she will soon be able to attend lodge again."

Ona Berry, Fern Davis and Linda Tush undraped the charter in a beautiful ceremony, Mrs. Tompkins reported. It had been draped in memory of Margaret Chase, past President of the International Rebekah Association.

Everyone was reminded to go to Friona on the 9th for installation. The group will be leaving the lodge hall about 6:15 p.m. Cars will be available for all who want to go.

Happy birthday was sung for Sandi Robinson, who celebrated her birthday on the 5th. "The Evening Prayer" was sung and lodge was dismissed by June Green.

Refreshments were served by Novella Price, Ruby Garner and Opal Talley.

MICROWAVE TIPS

Can one use the glass jars food comes in, at the grocer, for microwaving?

Some are good to use and can be saved—they are heat-tempered. Some which are not should not be used to heat food to high temperatures.

One should remember to remove metal caps if glass jars are used. And it's best—as a general rule—to remove contents from glass jars and to cook them in plastic or other microwave cooking utensils.

Remember that glass jars which contain meat and egg mixtures should not be used in the microwave.

But many can—such as jars baby foods come in and those in which some vegetables, entrees, syrups and salad dressings are sold in.

It's best just to warm foods in glass jars one isn't certain about.

Not Needed Then

The only part of a man that doesn't function briskly while he is in pursuit of a dollar is his conscience.

Hospitality, Prize Money Make Unbeatable Combination

Hospitality is the prime ingredient in each year's Texas and National Beef Cook-Offs. Of course, there're also two top cash prizes--$3,000 and $15,000--that add some spice to the whole affair.

Texas CattleWomen host the Texas Beef Cook-Off and the American National CattleWomen host the National Beef Cook-Off, the nation's only national cooking event run by a volunteer network of 10,000 women associated with the cattle industry. This huge volunteer contingent consistently puts on one of the best organized--yet most friendly and congenial--annual series of state and national contests in the entire food industry.

This year's Texas Beef Cook-Off will be held April 27-28 at Prude Ranch in Fort Davis, Texas. Ten finalists will be selected to receive VIP treatment in the true Western style and will compete for the $3,000 top prize. Second and third prizes will be $2,000 and $1,000, respectively.

The Texas winner will join 62 other contestants at the 16th National Beef Cook-Off, to be held Sept. 17-19 in Portland, Oregon. Approximately 300 CattleWomen will host outdoor barbecues, banquets, and working ranch tours, provide gifts and designated assistants to aid contestants throughout the contest, and generally make contestants feel like pampered guests.

And if that's not enough, the CattleWomen are offering a top prize of $15,000 for the year's best beef recipe, one of the highest cash awards on the contest circuit.

Previous two-time Cook-Off judge Julia Child has commended the CattleWomen not only for their professionalism, but their ability to maintain such a relaxed and friendly atmosphere for such a large event. The late James Beard, also a two-time Cook-Off judge, said the CattleWomen's extra-mile efforts were one of the primary reasons for the Cook-Off's tremendous success.

And several weeks after last year's event, Microwave category winner Janet Hill wrote a thank-you note to the Cook-Off's organizers: "Never in my dreams have I been treated so royally...I really did have the time of my life."

The 1989 National Beef Cook-Off will again feature three separate entry categories--traditional indoor, outdoor barbecue and microwave. Contestants may enter recipes (utilizing any cut of beef) in any category as often as they wish. To advance to the national contest, contestants must first win state and/or regional contests.

To enter, send a typed copy of your recipe(s) (specifying the appropriate category) to: Mrs. Elizabeth Horwood, P.O. Box 724, Sterling City, Texas 76951.

Winners of each category at the national level will receive $5,000 in cash plus appliances from Tappan and premium charcoal from Kingsford, official sponsors of the 1989 National Beef Cook-Off. An additional $10,000 cash award ("Best of Beef") will be presented to one of the three national category winners.

Last year's prize winning recipes, along with information on how to enter the 1989 contest, are available in a handy, free brochure from Texas CattleWomen. To obtain a free copy of "Win $15,000 With Beef," send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Texas CattleWomen, 9132 Elm Tree Circle, Tyler, Texas 75703.

The Texas Beef Cook-Off is sponsored by Texas CattleWomen, the National Beef Cook-Off is sponsored by the American National CattleWomen in cooperation with the Beef Industry Council of the Meat Board.

High Water Levels Cut Tax Break

Rising water levels in the Ogallala Aquifer throughout most of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 service area have eliminated cost-in-water income tax depletion allowance claims for many irrigation farm landowners in tax year 1988.

According to tax rules, persons owning land from which groundwater is used in the business of irrigated farming may claim the deduction only if water depletion actually occurred. Since the aquifer water levels increased,

Annual Meeting For Corn Growers Set At Dimmitt

On Tuesday, January 10, the Texas Corn Growers and Texas Corn Producers Board will conduct their 16th Annual Meeting at Dimmitt.

It will be held at the Exposition Building in Dimmitt, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Prior to a free lunch, speakers will include Kika de la Garza, United States Congressman; Mike Moeller, Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture; John Ford, Ford Communications; Fred Potter, Information Resources (Ethanol) and Carl King, Texas Corn Growers Association with the president's report.

During the business session, speakers are Weldon Davis, chairman, Texas Corn Producers Board; Jerry Glover, treasurer's report; Dr. Pat Morrison, Texas A&M Extension Entomologist; Allan Knutson, Castro County Entomologist and Bob Glodt, Hale County Entomologist.

no depletion occurred and therefore, no claim can be made.

Irrigators in Armstrong, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock and Lynn Counties will not be able to file cost-in-water income tax depletion allowance claims due to substantial water rises in these counties during 1986 and 1987.

"Only small areas in the remaining 11 counties served by the Water District had water level declines during the past year," says Water District Manager A. Wayne Wyatt. "Taxpayers who own land in those isolated areas will still have basis for their claim," he says.

In some areas where substantial rises in water levels occurred, Wyatt notes that it may be several years before the cost-in-water income tax depletion allowance may again be claimed. "The water level must decline below the last water level where a claim was allowed before the landowner will again be eligible to claim the water depletion allowance," says Wyatt.

For more information regarding the cost-in-water income tax depletion allowance, you may contact Bobbie Bramblett, High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas, 79405, or call (806) 762-0181.

Continuous movement makes a big difference in T-L performance.
Does each tower on your pivot system move continuously? They do on a T-L. And, that's important, especially with the concentrated water patterns of low-pressure systems for irrigation-applied fertilizer, herbicides and pesticides.
With a T-L system, a constant flow of hydraulic power keeps each tower moving continuously in unison with others. Water application is more uniform and efficient. The drive system lasts longer without the stress of frequent stops and starts. In addition, the steady pull of a T-L gives better traction through wet spots and over rough terrain.
The choice is simple.

More Moisture Needed Across State To Assure Production

"What much of the state needs most to get 1989 off to a great start is a good general rain." This statement was made by Roy G. Wheeler of Pleasanton, the immediate past president and currently a member of the board of the Independent Cattlemen's Association of Texas. He also is an auction market operator and a rancher in Atascosa and McMullen counties. Adequate water is a concern of many Texans, including homeowners, municipal leaders and producers. The continuing dry weather in many areas is causing concerns about aquifer recharge zones, lake and reservoir levels, soil profile moisture and survival of winter pastures. Wheeler, and many other cattlemen in areas that were largely skipped by moisture throughout 1988, worry that rains may be scant in early 1989 as well. Consumers also have concerns that some food prices will continue to climb in the months ahead if timely rains do not

Fire Department News

by: Alton Parker

The latest meeting was called to order by H. E. Reeder and the minutes of the last meeting were read by Larry Rasco.

On Saturday, January 7, firefighting personnel met in Sudan in a planning session for the Sudan Firemen's Training School.

A planning session was held on what needs to be done when the emergency helicopter lands at the hospital. There are a couple of things we would appreciate of the people of Muleshoe.

Please stay back from the landing area and the hospital area due to the hazard of fire or crash.

We are in one emergency and do not need more by someone getting hurt.

We would like to thank you for your help in this matter.

Motion was made by Alton Parker and second by Mickey Tosh to adjourn, motion passed.

FIREMAN OF THE MONTH
Fireman for the month of January is Scott Churchman. Scott is married, and he and his wife, Becky, are the parents of two children, Scott and Penny.

Scott has been on the department five years and three months. He has attended Texas A&M Fire School, has approximately 110 hours training at Lubbock and Canyon, has firefighting rescue, aircraft familiarization and attended the Emergency Squad Training School at Sudan.

If you see Scott, give him a hearty THANKS for a job well done.

In southwest Texas, the drought in many counties continues to set records for severity.

Drought conditions began in that area in August of 1987 and have not abated, according to Joe Pena, agricultural economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Uvalde.

"In south and southwest Texas, we are completing 17 months of dry weather, which may set records as the second driest period recorded in the 98-year history of weather records here," Pena said.

He said the period from August through mid-December of 1988 also may go down as the second or third driest comparable period on record.

"As we look back on national droughts and weather records, the drought of the 1950s was extremely severe for about 80 percent of the nation, including Texas. In fact, 1956, 1953 and 1971 all set new records for this part of the state," Pena said. He has been recording weather data for the official weather station at the TAMU Center at Uvalde for 10 years.

Pena said the drought of the 1930s also was severe for Texas and the nation.

"What we have going now--although affecting only about 38 percent of the nation--is of equal or greater severity than the droughts of the '30s and '50s. The unfortunate part is that much of the current drought is impacting a large part of Texas," Pena said.

Grant Given For Energy To Texas Tech

The Center for Public Service at Texas Tech University has received a $73,000 grant to fund an Energy Extension Service field office for the Panhandle and South Plains area.

The Energy Management Center, an agency of the governor's office in Austin, has funded the field office which will be responsible for informing groups about energy conservation and renewable energy sources, said program coordinator Mikell Bollinger.

"People don't worry about energy as much as they once did during the energy crisis of the 1970's. Energy conservation has become a low priority because oil prices have declined and gasoline costs have remained fairly stable," Bollinger said. "We want to reawaken awareness about energy conservation by creating an energy network and hotline that provides answers to energy questions."

Field office representatives will present workshops about energy efficiency and conservation to building contractors, owners of small businesses and residents. Training sessions will be provided to social workers who can inform their low-income clients about low-cost energy techniques. Presentations will be made to civic groups and business associations in the 82-county area served by the Energy Extension Service field office.

Bollinger said some evidence indicates that energy usage is gradually increasing. Data from the Southwestern Public Service Company in Lubbock show an average increase of about three percent in electrical usage for residential customers during the last 11 years.

"Energy conservation doesn't have to be expensive or done on a large scale for renters and homeowners. For example, weatherizing homes generally doesn't cost much, but can save enough energy to substantially reduce utility bills," she said.

The basics of energy conservation include eliminating or reducing air leaks, reducing losses through windows and insulating walls and ceilings. Other cost-effective techniques include using renewable or alternative energy sources, such as solar, wind and hydroelectric power.

Buying Farms

Seminar Set

At Dallas

A special seminar on "Buying More Farmland" will be held February 3, 1989, at Texas A&M Research and Extension Center, 17350 Coit Road, Dallas, 9:30-4:00.

The seminar is designed to explore the "best" way of buying more land for Texas farms and ranches, says Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist and attorney with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Even if there is not a "best way," maybe we can keep people from making mistakes that were common in the past.

Discussions will center on economies of scale, projecting cash flows financing alternatives and tax planning.

Farm purchase agreements include many clauses, notes Hayenga, and many of these will be discussed at the seminar. Benefits and restrictions to both sellers and buyers will be addressed.

One major consideration is projecting income from both the existing operation and the additional land. Dr. Ken Stokes, extension Economist from Dallas will discuss this topic.

Financing alternatives will be covered. Price and interest trade-offs will be calculated with a look at the tax situation of both the buyer and seller.

Ways to take title to the new farm to save both income and estate taxes will be the highlight of the afternoon program.

This is the first time Extension is hosting this program. As many of Texas farmers and ranchers are thinking about selling land because of the current financial situation, others will want to buy land. We hope to help buyers buy the land "right."

A registration fee of $75.00 will be charged, which includes the cost of meals and materials. For registration information call Wayne A. Hayenga (409) 845-2226 or Kenneth Stokes (214) 231-5362.

THE SPLENDOR OF THE

Snow

Snow falls and puts a beautiful white blanket over the mountains, and even before this one is gone, others will fall. It will become deeper and deeper until the spring, when it begins to melt and provides life giving waters to many streams. These streams meet with others and become rivers and provide water for irrigation and lakes throughout our land.

Our Lord, Jesus has said that He will give to any that seek Him... "a well of water springing up into everlasting life." — John 4, 14

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
